A German Ship Was Captured; Latest in Moroccan Situation

Sailing on Morocco Coast With Cargo of Rifles.

Taken by French Cruiser While Flying Spanish Flag—Sultan's Brother on the Warpath—To Head Moorish Forces Before Casablanca—Tribesmen Continue Fearless Attacks—100 Natives Ambushed.

Casablanca, Aug. 26.—Absolute fearlessness continues to characterize the attacks delivered by the tribesmen upon the French forces encamped here, and Friday bands of Arabs made isolated reckless advances. A detachment of one hundred natives, while stealing in toward the city, were ambushed near the beach by the French. A merciless fire mowed them down. Those who were not killed fled precipitately, but many dead were left behind. Those who face the French shell fire do not return.

Continuing his offensive campaign, Gen. Drude Saturday pushed his reconnoitering parties four miles out from his centre. The main body of the enemy was not sighted.

Mulai Hafig's Plans.

Tangier, Aug. 26.—A courier from Morocco City, who arrived here Saturday confirmed the reports that Mulai Hafig, a brother of the Sultan, Abd Hel Asiz, had been proclaimed Sultan on Aug. 16. After announcing his assumption of the throne by a salute of four guns he immediately formed a court, with Ben Jabbao Oursak, Pasha of Kasbah, as Vizier.

The influence of Abd Hel Asiz in the south is disappearing, and Mulai Hafig has declared his intention to appoint his brother, Mohammed Kalifoffes, and then proceed to take command of the Moorish forces besieging Casablanca.

The Europeans who are leaving Fez have asked that a warship meet them at El Araish Aug. 30.

German Vessel With Rifles.

London, Aug. 26.—A despatch from Tangier to the Central News says the French cruiser Du Chayla arrived there yesterday with a German sailing ship which she had captured off the Moroccan coast.

The sailing vessel was flying the Spanish colors when the Du Chayla sighted her.

The captain of the cruiser did not like the appearance of the ship and sent a party to board her. They found that the vessel, which was a German, was carrying a cargo of French rifles of the Gros pattern. It is stated that the arms are the property of the Moroccan Government, and were being taken to Mogodor.

Few Bills Have Been Passed Slow Progress in the Commons

Session of British House of Commons Barren of Results.

Measures Passed in Lower House Are Thrown Out or Mutilated by the Lords—Liberal Leaders Announce Vigorous Campaign — Question of Curtailing Their Power to Be Forced to an Issue.

London, Aug. 26.—Of the many measures promised in the King's speech at the opening of the present session of Parliament, which will be prorogued next Wednesday, but few have reached the statute books.

Like the education bill and the plural voting bill, the most prominent measures of the last session, and which were thrown out by the House of Lords, the Irish council bill, which was to have been the most important piece of legislation at this session, met with early defeat, but in a different way. The education and plural voting bills gave the Liberals an opening for a campaign against the House of Lords, which as indicated in the speeches of Herbert H. Asquith, former Home Secretary; Richard B. Haldane, Secretary of State for War; Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell, Winston Churchill, at various meetings throughout the country Saturday night, is to be carried on vigorously during the recess.

A licensing bill, the object of which was to have been to diminish the evils of drink—another question on which the two Houses promised to clash, and on which the King's speech intimated would come up during the session—was put off on account of the pressure of work; but the Government found in the Scotch small landholdings' bill, which Lord Rosebery made his reappearance to attack, a substitute which the House of Commons passed by a large majority, but which was withdrawn by the Government on account of the antagonistic attitude of the peers and the antagonism shown in Scotland and throughout the kingdom by the Labor party. This action of the House of Lords becomes a weapon for attack in the campaign for the reform of the Upper Chamber.

The Irish universities' bill, which also was catalogued in the King's speech, was not introduced.

Among other bills which came up was the Irish evicted tenants' bill, which the House of Lords so radically amended that there is little likelihood of the House of Commons finally accepting it in its altered condition.

POWER OF THE LORDS.

Government to Force Question to an Early Issue.

London, Aug. 26.—That it is the intention of the Government to force the question of curtailing the power of the House of Lords to an issue was made apparent in speeches delivered in various parts of England Saturday. Herbert H. Asquith, former Home Secretary; Richard B. Haldane, Secretary of State for War; Chief Secretary of Ireland Birrell, and Winston Churchill, all emphasized in their speeches that the claim of the House of Lords on equal legislative rights with the House of Commons was the most serious political question of the day.

Mr. Churchill, in speaking at Cheadle, near Manchester, said that the bills rejected by the House of Lords would be re-passed by the House of Commons without delay until the time came to ask the country for a verdict.

Speaking at Corsham, Mr. Asquith asked if the people intended to allow the leader of a discredited minority in the House of Commons to strangle their bills and aid the Lords, and Mr. Haldane, at Kippenhouse, Perthshire, declared that the Government proposed to give the ultimate power to the House of Commons, making its will prevail during the course of a single Parliament.

BOY KILLS SELF.

Was Only Eleven Years Old and Blows Head Off.

Fairmont, W. Va., Aug. 26.—Charles, the 11-year-old son of Constable M. M. Lawson, committed suicide at his home at Winfield by shooting.

The boy bade his mother good-bye and walked away, but nothing was thought of it. A little later the report of a gun was heard near the house, and upon rushing out Mrs. Lawson found her son with his head almost blown off.

No cause for the suicide is known.

Pinned Under a Ton of Iron.

London, Aug. 26.—While leading a heavy cylinder on a lorry Saturday afternoon, Charles Rose, son of T. L. Rose, a grocer, was pinned beneath the ton of iron when it rolled toward the part of the way. He was taken out alive, and physicians in attendance say, although his limbs were horribly crushed, he has a good chance of recovery.

The boy was taking the place of the regular man, who was away on an excursion.

Killed Playing Baseball.

New York, Aug. 26.—Arthur Clemens of Brooklyn was killed Saturday while playing baseball at Glencove, L. I. Clemens was playing with the Glencove team in a game against Oyster Bay. He was at bat, when a swift ball pitched by Pitcher McKenna struck him on the head. Clemens fell unconscious and soon died. McKenna was arrested, but was later released by the coroner.

Denver Train Wrecked.

Grand Junction, Col., Aug. 26.—It was reported last night that the second section of a Denver & Rio Grande passenger train, bound from Salt Lake City to Denver, was derailed near Provo, Utah, yesterday afternoon, and that several passengers were killed and injured.

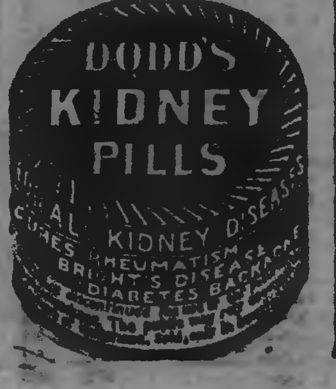
A severe storm prevails and details are lacking.

BANDIT MODIFIES DEMANDS.

Asks Only Guarantee of Life For Release of Caid MacLean.

London, Aug. 26.—It is understood that Raisuli, the Moroccan bandit who is holding Caid Sir Harry MacLean a prisoner, has sent a communication to the British Government, in which he greatly modifies his previous demands for the release of the Caid.

The only condition he makes now is that his own life and the lives of the members of his family be guaranteed. He makes no suggestion of ransom or other concessions.



CANADA'S TARIFF BEST

Mr. Asquith Speaks Concerning Laurier's Pronouncement.

Sir Wilfrid Spoke With Voice of Empire, He Says—No Form of Preference Involving Taaxtion on Corn, Meat, and Raw Material Can Be Adoptedby Great Britain—Colonial Administration.

London, Aug. 26.—Mr. Asquith, speaking on Saturday night, referred to Laurier's pronouncement that none but British would have given autonomy to South Africa. Laurier, he said, then spoke with the voice of empire, not with the voice of the small, disappointed faction at home.

Alluding to preference, Mr. Asquith said the United Kingdom couldn't adopt any form of preference involving taxation on corn, meat and raw material and the colonists, on their part, could give no form of preference which would admit the British manufacturer on level terms nto competition with their own protected industries. That was the principle upon which the Canadian, best of all colonial tariffs, was based.

Its principle is still more conspicuous than the new Australian tariff.

If the Government left office to-day he would wish them to be judged by whether they hadn't justified the confidence of the nation in colonial administration.

UNIONIST WON SEAT.

Bury St. Edmunds Rejects Liberal Candidate by Large Majority.

Bury St. Edmunds, Eng., Aug. 26.—The Unionists scored a triumph here Saturday when their candidate for a seat in the House of Commons, Hon. Walter Guinness, received 1,631 votes as against 741 cast for W. E. Yates, the Liberal candidate. This is a majority of 890 as against the majority of 890 as against the majority of 434 obtained by Capt. F. W. G. Hervey, Unionist, in the last general election.

Capt. Hervey succeeded to the peerage upon the death of the Marquis of Bristol, and the seat consequently became vacant.

The campaign attracted a great deal of interest, and was fought out on the question of tariff reform. Mr. Guinness is an out and out protectionist.

FELL UNDER THE WHEELS.

Man Tries to Jump on Freight Train and Is Killed.

Hamilton, Aug. 26.—J. Culp was instantly killed and his body horribly mangled just east of the G. T. R. station at Beamsville Saturday. The unfortunate young man is about 20 years of age, and his home was in Beamsville.

He, with a number of other young men about the town, were employed for the day by the Woodman Bros., the contractors who have charge of the Cataract Power Co.'s system of wires, the main line of which runs on the G. T. R. right of way. A freight train came along and Culp tried to board it. He fell under the wheels and his body was horribly mangled.

DESPATCHER'S MISTAKE.

Trains Collide — Four Killed and Thirty Injured.

Sapulpa, I.T., Aug. 26.—Four persons were killed and thirty injured Saturday, when two St. Louis and San Francisco passenger trains, both loaded heavily with excursionists, collided head on near Sapulpa.

The wreck is said to have been due to the failure of the despatcher at Sapulpa to issue an order to the eastbound train to take the siding at Bedfork.

CARELESS SMOKER'S FAULT.

Sets Woman's Dress on Fire and She May Die.

Niagara Falls., N. Y., Aug. 26.—Miss Laura K. Sheehy of Pittsburg was fatally burned Saturday night at the Thurecht Hotel on the riverway. She was eating luncheon in the summer garden of the hotel when her dress caught fire from a lighted match thrown to the floor by a careless smoker.

Strike Settled.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—The Valleyfield strike has been settled and the men agreed to return to work this morning. On the whole, the Montreal Cotton Co., has won, as the men have abandoned their demand for 10 per cent. general increase. This was the main dispute in the strike. The company, however, agrees to pay the mule spinners, who are a small part of the strikers, the 10 per cent. advance. The company agrees to submit disputes and claims not properly looked into by foremen to arbitration under the Lemieux Act.

During the strike the cotton mills, employing some 2,600 men, have been closed down.

Douks Causing Trouble.

Kenora, Aug. 26.—The question of what to do with the Doukhobors is growing serious. Saturday the charge of wilfully trespassing on the C. P. R. tracks was brought against the party of 34 at the police court. They pleaded guilty and were remanded in custody until to-day, when it is thought the Government will have to come to some decision in regard to deporting them.

Women and children are allowed their liberty, but they herd around the prison.

Rifle Sight Authorized.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Militia orders notify for the information of all concerned that the use of the Sutherland rifle sight is authorized on the Lee-Enfield rifle and Mark III. sight on the Ross rifles.

Sutherland Withdraws.

St. Thomas, Aug. 26.—F. Sutherland, the West Elgin Liberal nominee for the House of Commons, has intimated that he will not contest the seat.

An elderly lady, before kissing the Testament at the Wandsworth County Court, covered it with a dainty cambric handkerchief.

THE FISHERIES DISPUTE.

Anti-Government London Papers Take Advantage of It.

London, Aug. 26.—The conclusion to submit the Newfoundland fisheries dispute to arbitration at The Hague, and the negotiations pending with the view of a renewal of the modus vivendi to cover this year's fishing season, have called forth little comment here, except in the newspapers opposed to the Government, which attempt to make political capital out of the question, alleging that the Government is prepared to sacrifice the interests of the colony to maintain the good-will of the United States.

Even these papers, however, admit that the submission of the question to The Hague is the best solution available of the "wearisome controversy," and that some temporary arrangement must be made until the arbitrators render a decision.

The other papers apparently are awaiting some announcement from Foreign Secretary Grey, who thus far has declined to be drawn out by the members of Parliament, confining himself to the same reply to all questions on the subject, namely, "the negotiations are proceeding."

The officials of the Foreign Office are confident that an arrangement, covering the present season and acceptable to all parties, shortly will be concluded.

The Newfoundland Premier, Sir Robert Bond, already has shown a more conciliatory attitude toward the proposal to renew the "modus vivendi." with modifications, which the Associated Press is informed, are not of a radical nature. The Foreign Office is now awaiting Sir Robert's definite proposals, which will be submitted to Secretary of State Root immediately after their arrival.

ESCAPES WITH AUTO.

Officers Looking for R. G. Morley of Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—Anxious creditors are looking for R. G. Morley, who is supposed to be somewhere between Winnipeg and the United States boundary, in an automobile, which is not his property.

Morley has been running a garage here, and by representing that he was backed by Premier Roblin, and other influential Winnipeggers, he secured large credit. Suspicions were aroused and writs issued. On the execution of the writ it was ascertained that Morley had left for parts unknown and now the garage is locked up by the order of the sheriff. Morley secured from the American consul a clearance for two autos across the border, but as far as can be learned, one of the machines went bad on him and he got away with only one.

The authorities at the boundary are watching for him.

Congregations Extended Call

Revs. F. D. Roxburgh for Havelock and C. S. Lord for Fenelon Falls

A special meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery is called for Monday, Sept. 2nd, in St. Andrew's hall, Peterborough at 9 a.m.

The business will be to consider calls from Fenelon Falls to Rev. C. S. Lord of Grafton, and from Havelock to Rev. F. Roxburgh, of Smithville, Presbytery of Hamilton. Rev. Mr. Roxburgh is an old Norwood boy, and spends his summers each year at Stony Lake. In case he accepts the call many old friends will welcome him back to the Presbytery of Peterborough. He will succeed Rev. A. F. Camp, who resigned some time ago to become pastor of a Presbyterian church at Sault Ste. Marie.

CONTRACT FOR NEW GALLERY

In Knox Church Has Awarded to McIntyre Bros.

At the last meeting of the Board of Managers of Knox church, a number of tenders for the new church gallery were considered, and the contract was finally given to McIntyre Bros., who will now proceed with the work.

Rev. W. Johnston, of Millbrook, occupied the pulpit of Knox church at both services yesterday, and delivered earnest, practical sermons to good audiences. At the morning service Messrs. Campbell, Burns, McCamnon and Devenport, as a quartette, sang in very good form. Rev. Mr. Johnston, at the evening service, delivered an address from the text question, "Is this the Carpenter's Son?" and from the answer text, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." In the course of his remarks he said it had been argued that only men delivering the gospel from the sacred desk were in holy orders, but he most emphatically contradicted this, as any person at his or her daily occupation who was filled with the Christian spirit doing work faithfully in God's sight, was in holy orders also.

Mr. Campbell and Mr. Devenport sang a duet in good voice. The choir also rendered in an appropriate manner an evening dismission song, after the benediction. Rev. H. J. Keith, the pastor, who has been away for a month's vacation on the Rideau River, is expected home by next Sunday.

DECAPITATED IN ELEVATOR.

Young Man Meets Awful Death While at Work.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—While the body of Thomas Davidson descended down the elevator shaft of the Traders' Bank building, his head rested on a cross-beam on the ninth floor, having been severed as though by a guillotine by one of the heavy weights of the elevator.

Davidson, who had been but a short while in this country, engaged at the Traders' Bank building about two weeks ago, to do general work about the building.

Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock he was washing windows and cleaning about one of the elevator shafts, and to do this had to stand on top of the elevator and move it down as he cleaned.

He had reached the ninth floor, when in some way he stuck his head too far out and the weight of the elevator in the next shaft struck him on the back of the neck. His head was severed by the blow, and the headless trunk fell down the shaft, while the head remained on a cross-beam at the ninth floor.

Nobody seemed to be aware of the accident at the time it happened, but a young man who sells papers in the building on the ground floor heard the body fall to the bottom of the shaft and gave the alarm.

Davidson was 23 years old.

EXPLOSION IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Four Killed—Many Injured In Panic Which Followed.

San Francisco, Aug. 26.—Four persons were killed and many injured in an explosion at the Dupont Denemoures powder works at Seblante, 16 miles from Berkeley yesterday, and the plant set on fire. When the three thousand employes in the plant of the California Fruit Canners' Association, in this city, heard the explosion they thought there was another earthquake, and rushed wildly for the street. Many were trampled upon and injured, none fatally.

At least thirteen persons were severely hurt at the canner panic. Ten women were removed to hospitals, and three other women were treated at the cannery.

When the shock of the explosion was first felt, several Italian employes went into the street to investigate. On re-entering the building they said it was an earthquake and this started a stampede.

During the efforts to get outside a few men drew knives and wounded several persons. Others jumped into a chute used to send boxed cans from the second floor of the establishment, and were landed in a heap at the bottom.

ALL AMERICAN.

Joseph Choate Working For Plan of New Allotment.

The Hague, Aug. 26.—Joseph H. Choate is working on a new plan for the allotment of judges for the international high court of justice under which the representatives of the United States and those of all the Latin-American countries will form one group. This plan, it is believed, will dissipate any feeling arising from the previous proposed allotment.

This union of the whole American continent, it is considered, would be of great importance, not only in the establishment of the court, but as a great political move, rallying around the United States, as it would, all the states of Central and South America. Such a plan would insure to the court the immediate adhesion of 21 countries. Adding to these countries Germany, Austria, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and Russia, which are also favorable to the proposition, this would give the court the adhesion of two-thirds of the countries of the world, without taking into account other countries whose support is most likely, such as the Netherlands, Spain, Turkey and Switzerland.

Truck Company Burned Out—Newspapers Threatened.

Toledo, O., Aug. 26.—Fire of unknown origin which started in the upper storeys of the Moreton Truck and Storage building, a four-storey brick building, at 234-236 Huron street, caused a loss last night estimated at about $150,000 to $200,000.

The building was occupied by the International Harvester Co., a restaurant and other small concerns. The fire made rapid progress. The building occupied by the Toledo Club and the newspaper offices of The News-Bee and The Times were filled with smoke and threatened with destruction.

The loss is well covered by insurance.

Meat Drivers' Strike.

New York, Aug. 26.—Yesterday was one of peace so far as the striking meat wagon drivers was concerned. The strikers gathered in the vicinity of the packing-houses, but were kept moving by the police and created no disturbance.

Both the strikers and the packers held meetings during the day, but there were no definite results announced. The men claim to have the delivery of meat tied up completely, but the packers state they have a large number of men, and that their business will go on to-day practically as usual.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—At the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council of Ottawa the statement was made that girls of 10 and 12 years of age are employed in local mica factories to the detriment of their health and in contravention of the Factories Act, and that in one case at least the reward for eleven days' service amounted to only $2.12.

TROUBLE OVER SAWDUST FIRE

Peterboro' Hydraulic Co. is Angry Because Firemen do Not Turn Water on

Mayor McWilliams has received a very wrathy letter from the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Co. because the fire brigade did not turn water on the sawdust pile a few days ago when the alarm was sent in. It appears that the chief of the department told the men not to bother with it, as it was not at all dangerous, so long as the wind remained where it was.

A copy of the letter has been sent to the chief and also a request for a written statement from him as to why he refused to turn the water on.

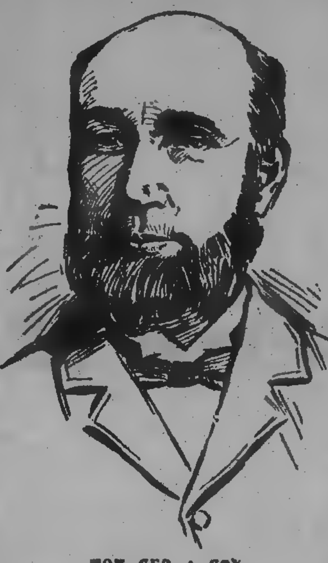
Hon. Geo. A. Cox Entertained Field Men of the Canada Life

Mr. A. L. Davis' Cottage at Stony Lake the Scene of a Brilliant Affair--Special Train and Boat Engaged--Dinner Served on the Verandah--Loving Cup for Senator Cox.

The greatest event this season at Stony Lake was the entertainment of the field men of the Canada Life Insurance Co., at Mr. A. L. Davis' cottage on Glen Oak island. They were the guests of Hon. Senator Cox, who chartered a special train from Toronto to Lakefield and also chartered the steamer Stoney Lake to convey his guests to the cottage. Glen Oak Island and Mr. Davis' cottage, or in fact, the mansion, are the most attractive and handsome around the back lakes. The new summer home is hardly finished yet, although a large staff of men have been engaged on it since early spring. Nevertheless it has been so far advanced that none of the pleasures of the party were marred in the least.



HON. GEO. A. COX

Who Entertained Party of Insurance Men at Glen Oak.

The special train left Toronto for Lakefield on the Grand Trunk and upon reaching the lakeside village the Stoney Lake was boarded. A delightful sail up to and around Stony lake was taken before landing about one o'clock and then the insurance men spent an hour in looking over the island and seeing the different buildings thereon. About two o'clock Host Senator Geo. A. Cox, a most popular officer who is highly respected by all the agents, took his place at the head of the table and his guests gathered around.

Caterer Thos. Hooper had charge of the dinner and he worked under the instructions of Mrs. A. L. Davis, who personally superintended the whole affair. The tables were spread on the large verandah and presented a wonderfully attractive appearance. The prevailing color was orange. Orange flowers and ribbons were artistically combined and the duck ponds in the centre of the tables were great features. Upon the water floated Easter ducks and natural pond lilies, while the banks were covered with fresh green moss. About 125 sat down at the tables and the dinner passed off exceptionally well. In the afternoon the party adjourned to the large handsome drawing rooms where speeches and songs completed a pleasant day and the guests left by the Stoney Lake for Lakefield about half past four. Before leaving however, the members of the party presented Hon. Senator Cox with a loving cup.

A Toronto despatch says:—While about one hundred agents of the Canada Life Assurance Company were speeding in a special Grand Trunk train to Stony Lake on Saturday as the guests of Hon. Senator Cox, a most peculiar accident occurred which fortunately, resulted in nothing more than a damaged engine and baggage car and two hundred yards of splintered railway ties. Just after passing Bowmanville the train was going probably forty-five miles an hour, when the baggage car, which was almost empty, jumped the track. Then the tender was pulled from the rails. Probably two hundred yards of track had been traversed in such a condition before the train was stopped, and then it was found that both the tender and baggage car were again in correct position on the rails. It appears that a switch had been encountered and the wheels, which had been bumping over the ties and tearing out the spikes, were again hoisted onto the main line. Those in the cars to the rear hardly noticed the accident. When Port Hope was reached a new engine was attached to the train and the party proceeded to their destination. A pleasant day was spent and all returned Saturday night.

Season is Nearing its Close; A Lively Week at Stony Lake

Important Meeting of the Cottagers Association--Four Persons Upset in a Dinghy—Steamer Otonabee Ran on a Rock--Many Visitors Over Sunday

Stony Lake, Aug. 26.—The annual meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association was held at the pavilion, Juniper Island, Friday evening and was very largely attended.

In the absence of the president, the vice president, Mr. S. Henderson of Toronto occupied the chair.

The treasurer's report showed the finances to be in good shape. Reports were also received from the property, transportation and regatta committees.

Mr. G. M. Roger addressed the meeting on behalf of himself and Mr. E. B. Edwards, the owners of Juniper Island, in reference to the remarks that had been made as to their legal right to the said island and fully explained the position and offered to allow anyone who had any doubt in the matter, to examine any papers he had in connection with it.

The following resolution was moved by Mr. H. Sutherland and seconded by Mr. C. Guillet;

That the Association, having heard Mr. Rogers' explanation of the purchase and ownership of Juniper Island, are satisfied that Messrs. Rogers and Edwards are the rightful owners of the island, and that these gentlemen receive the thanks of the Association for their generous treatment of campers and cottagers in the past, and for Mr. Rogers' full and frank explanation.

The executive committee with Mr. H. Sutherland, were appointed a committee to look after the sanitary condition of the lakes.

A GAY WEEK

The past week at the lakes has been one of great gaiety and the season has reached its height of jollity. This week will see a large number of the cottagers returning home, much to their regret, for the past couple of months have been ones of great pleasure and every visitor at the lakes has had an enjoyable time. Dances have been held regularly every evening and usually large crowds of young people gathered to enjoy an hour or so, tripping the light fantastic. "South Beach" has been one of the gayest resorts on the lake and the guests have had a most enjoyable time. One of the events of last week was a moonlight trip on the steamer Stony Lake. A Rochester party hired the boat and entertained the guests of this resort. Dances too, also formed an interesting part of the evening's programme.

AN UPSET.

An exceedingly heavy gale was blowing at the lakes Saturday and yesterday and a number of upsets was the result of the attempts of some persons to have a sail. Mr. Harry Hall was one of those who were dipped yesterday. Mr. Hall and three others were out sailing in a dinghy and when a short distance out from their island the boat capsized and the four were thrown into the lake. They hung to the craft until assistance came from the island and they were taken to shore.

SUNDAY SERVICES

The usual morning service at the pavilion yesterday was largely attended. Mr. Jas. Acton, of Toronto, gave the address and the musical portion of the service was very fine. Messrs. Robt. Shaw and A. L. Davis gave a duett and Miss O'Hara of Toronto, sang a solo. In the evening the song service was held at "Inglestane," Mr. Hugh Sutherland's cottage and, owing to the high winds it was held inside instead of around a bon-fire as is usual.

A musicale was also held last night at Mrs. Sanderson's, about 30 being present. Miss O'Hara gave several solos and Mr. Lawrence Buackett, of Rochester, delighted those present with violin selections. Mr. Ernie Clarry gave a recitation and solos were contributed by Mrs. Sanderson. Altogether an enjoyable programme was presented.

RAN ON A ROCK.

The steamer Otonabee came up to Burleigh Saturday evening to go into dry dock in order to have a broken shaft repaired. When near Burleigh, she met with a further mishap on Saturday night. The boat ran on a rock and remained fast until yesterday afternoon, when the steamer Empress succeeded in getting her off into deep water once again.

Large Casting Fell on His Foot

Richard Davis, a young man employed in the machine shop at the Canadian General, was the victim of a rather serious accident this morning while at his work. It appears that in some way he let a large casting fall on his left foot and his big toe was so badly smashed that it was found necessary to amputate it at the second joint. The accident occurred shortly after nine o'clock. The Dan Spence ambulance was called and the unfortunate fellow was removed to Nicholls hospital where Drs. Young and Bradd performed the amputation. The young fellow is now resting easily and his many friends will wish him a speedy recovery.

Splendid Time in Old London

How "The Maple Blossoms" Viewed the Tower and Other Sights

A copy of the Morning Leader, of London, Eng., of Aug. 13th, received by Mrs. Chas. James, 391 Sherbrooke street, contains a reference to the visit of the Toronto World "Trip to London" party of which Miss Birdie Thompson of Peterborough, was a member. The Leader remarks that the first impressions of the "Maple Blossoms" were most favorable. The report continues:

At the supreme moment yesterday at the Tower there were no less than 17 large brakes, all waiting for the different parties of American, Continental and Colonial tourists, who were inside doing the relics. In fact, there are at present in London, quite enough visitors to make a city of a very imposing size.

So at the Tower, unless your holiday is as long as the queue which waits at the ticket office, you stand no chance of getting inside nowadays, which is a pity as the Tower is at present by far the most modern aspect of London. Milwaukee, Chicago, Toronto and Sydney, N.S.W., bring it right up-to-date, and three days in advance, as soon as the gates open. A London visitor is apt to feel in his own Tower only like one of the dusty relics.

REGARDLESS OF FRONTIER.

The Maple Blossoms were amongst the visitors there yesterday, as were also many other ladies with charming botanical names from the New World.

If there is one thing the Maple Blossoms are angered with, it is the fact that the British press has fallen into the mistake of reporting their opinions in words of Yankee guise—the fault of the girls themselves really (it is safer to tell them so in print), because, although the boundary between the States and the Dominion is remarkably rigid, as Britishers are proud to remember, yet accent, idiom and emphatically descriptive slang (that salt without which conversation is flavorless) are all regardless of frontiers, happily.

The Morning Leader representative assured them that we all love the American tongue, of which we are aware English is only an obscure and dying dialect.

"Oh, come down off those stilts. Besides that Maple Blossom rubbish shows you don't know maple from corn. We are Leaves, not Blossoms."

Frankly, Miss Lizzie McGregor, of Toronto, who headed the poll in the "Toronto World" newspaper, and the ten other Canadian girls from Toronto, Peterborough, Kingston, Hamilton and Oshawa, who yesterday and today are seeing the sights of "the homeland" (as one of the girls prettily expressed it) have nothing but praise for our city.

Their interest is really measureless though it stops for dictionary reasons at "great."

RESPECT FOR LONDON.

"It is 'great' to see the centre of thing." The Abbey is "great" and St. Paul's is "great." But though they come from the most hustling city of the Dominion, and thought we should be found lagging and dragging with the traditions and wrecks of 2,000 years behind us, the uproar and strenuous purpose of London have won their respect.

"Why, you are as young here as we are in Canada."

Yesterday, Mr. Albert Smythe of the "Toronto World," aided by Cooks' expert, took his party to the Tower, St. Paul's and the West End. By tomorrow night they will be on their way to Paris. By Thursday they will be in Windsor. From young ladies who can see Europe in that way, any testimonial as to our still pristine vigor, is highly valuable.

Were Disorderly on Hunter St.

The city coffers were enriched this morning by the sum of nineteen dollars as a result of police court fines. City Clerk Armstrong was on the bench and the offenders were fined rather heavily. Three men, Alfred Dodds, James Malcolme, and John Baker were charged with being drunk and disorderly on Saturday afternoon. They each pleaded guilty. It appears that these three work in a local bakeshop, and on Saturday afternoon, after their work was through they went out on a little holiday. One of them said that they had too many "Manhattans" and they did not agree with them. They went along Hunter street, linked arm in arm, and were singing and obstructing pedestrians. They were each fined five dollars and Baker for breaking a window and a bicycle in the police cell was given an additional fine of two dollars. They all paid their fines.

A Lakefield young man was also fined two dollars for being drunk and disorderly.

A Local Angler Was Fined $5

Fishery Overseer Watt, while on a trip up the river on Saturday afternoon ran across a local fisherman who had in his possession a bass of less length than that permitted by the regulations.

The overseer imposed a fine of $5, on the angler, which was paid and the fish was returned to the river.

SHOOTING DUCKS OUT OF SEASON

Hundreds of Wild Ones Said to Have Been Shot at Chemong Lake

A prominent citizen is loud in his denunciation over the slaughter of wild ducks, he witnessed last Monday at Chemong Lake. As our informant was driving around the head of Chemong Lake, near Boates church, he saw flocks of black ducks that must have numbered hundreds, if not thousands. There was a heavy sea running on the lake, caused by the stiff wind blowing. This compelled the black ducks to seek safety in the bay near the church, mentioned, around the rice fields. A man, although long before the legitimate season for duck shooting, was hiding among the wild rice and weeds. As the ducks would rise in perfect clouds and arching round and round, alight in the little bay. This sportsman would let drive with his gun, and was simply slaughtering the games by scores. Our informant could not see the man but judged that he was using a single barrelled gun, as only one shot could be heard each time he murdered the ducks. The gentleman said he never saw wild ducks in such numbers or so tame before. Hundreds of them would, after a shot was fired, circle about the edge of the lake, and sometimes fly within thirty or forty yards of his rig. He added that if the sportsman was any kind of a good shot, he must have filled his boat or canoe.

Fed Passengers On Early Train

McEwen Spence Restaurant Had Early Morning Call From the C.P.R.

The early C. P. R. train this morning was a couple of hours late, on account of having to wait for connections at Montreal, from Halifax and Quebec. It passed through here at 7.35 with nine coaches, all heavily laden. Mr. McEwen Spence, the restaurant man, received an order at six o'clock for 450 sandwiches, and coffee and tea had to do some fast hustling, but he got his large staff together, and he had the passengers lunch at the station several minutes before the train pulled in.

First Power Canoe in the City For Banks' Sporting Goods Co.

Made by the Bay City Boat Manufacturing Co.—Will Carry 900 Pounds Baggage and Four People—Makes Ten Miles an Hour—J. R. Golden, of Galt Canadian Sales Agent.

A handsome power canoe arrived in the city on Saturday for the Banks Sporting Goods Co., who will in future represent J. R. Golden & Co. of Galt, Canadian Sales Agents for the Bay City Boat Manufacturing Co., and the Smalley Motor Co., of Bay City. The speedy little craft is eighteen feet long, by three feet four inches beam, and has a speed of ten miles an hour. It is a canoe of a different design from those used on the local waters, and is built for the purpose of making speed and carrying a big load. The one which Messrs. Banks & McCallum have will carry four passengers, and their complete camping outfit, or a total of 900 pounds on a six inch draft. It is admirably suited for camping and cruising and there is little doubt but that it will meet with favor in this district. Mr. Golden, of Galt, the Canadian representative is in the city and will be here for a couple of weeks. He will launch the new craft and put it in shape for navigation. After it is ready, he will make a trip down to Rice Lake, and returning will make a trip extending over several days up the back lakes.

The Bay City Boat Manufacturing Co. use the Smalley Motor Co.'s engine and the combination, make them the speed people of the world. They have held the world's speed record for three years, and this year with a 27 foot craft, and a 15 h.p. engine they made 12 miles an hour. Another 27 foot boat was turned out of the Bay City factory which made the trip from Bay City to Saginaw on the Saginaw river, a distance of 17 miles in 37 minutes and 5 seconds. The craft was fitted with a 15 to 20 h.p. engine, which run at the rate of 1,200 revolutions per minute. This boat, known as the "Secret" is now owned by Commodore Allen of the Halifax River Yacht Club.

Mr. Golden says his company do not care to handle anything but high class boats, such as those of 20 miles speed or over, and the power canoes, which are a specialty. They do, however, put engines in any hull, but will not guarantee the same speed.

Camp Life Has its Pleasures And Also Several Drawbacks

Graphic Description of a Few Days Spent Under Canvas—Some of the Disappointments and Experiences—Discomforts of a Big Storm—The Trying Incidents of a Fishing Expidition.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—My chum and myself decided that a few days beside the lake near Havelock in search of fun and game would be the best way to spend part of the holiday allotted to us and so with our load of baggage we found ourselves beside the broad lake, with a cool breeze blowing landward.

I think the worst part of camp life is putting up the tent, especially if you have had no training in that line. At least we found it no pleasure putting up ours, which was large enough to accommodate us comfortably. At last we got it up in a certain fashion, with one end pole about a foot lower than the other, and with the centre caving in, making a good place for water to collect when it rained. But we had taken up our abode there to have fun, and I thought that, we would certainly have it, when I looked at the thinness of the tent, although my chum assured me that the rain would not go through it.

But by the look of the sky when we retired that night I thought we would not be long in finding out whether the tent would keep out the rain, for large black clouds were floating overhead and not a star could be seen. I was awakened in the middle of the night by what I thought at the time must be an earthquake or a cannon fired off. but after sitting up in bed and pulling my eyelids apart, I found it to be raining for all it was worth and that the imaginary earthquake was only a deafening clap of thunder. Anyone who has lived beside a lake knows what a heavy rainstorm, accompanied by a strong wind is. There would come a quick flash of lightning, which brightened the tent up enough to allow me to see what time it was, but I would have no time to look around before there would come a clap of thunder which made more noise than the collapse of a ten-storey building, followed by the echo and re-echo as the sounds struck the hills on the other side of the lake. But light and sound was not the only thing for, to my discomfort, I felt large drops of rain coming in, in large numbers through the tent. Just then my chum woke up and swore vengeance on the fellow who had hired us a tent that would allow the dew to come through. The storm grew worse and accordingly the lightning and thunder and by the amount of water that poured into the tent, I thought it was the nearest thing to a cloudburst that I had seen in a long time.

ENDS AT LAST.

There is an end to everything and thus it was with that storm for, thinking it had given us enough trouble and discomfort, it suddenly ceased action. After spending the remaining hours of the night wound up in soaked blankets, with an occasional drop of water lighting on our face, and with the tent above us swinging in the wind like a flag in a mighty breeze, the day began to break, much to our delight. We began to sit up and take notice. As we had judged, we found everything upside down, everything out of its place and terribly mixed up, including ourselves, as it took many minutes for us to become disentangled from the wet blankets. Our tent was turned about six feet sideways by the action of the wind and thus when we went to sleep the bed was in a corner of the tent and when we woke up we found it in the centre. I cannot say that our clothing was wet for that word is not strong enough. Soaked is more like the right word. We had left our pies and cakes on the top of the table and they were beat into mush so that when we threw them out, the dogs refused to eat them. We found jam, bread and other divers things floating in a pool of water that had gathered in the centre of the tent. We were glad to get into a dry suit of clothes which had been placed out of reach of the rain, and to get outside.

BOATS DRIFTED

We first visited the store to see what havoc the storm had done there, but we could find neither of our boats, which we had left high on the shore the night before. But when the mist began to rise we detected them out in the water, a considerable distance. We saw no other way of getting them but by swimming and having rid ourselves of our clothes, we started in pursuit of the boats and after a hard tussle against wind and waves we reached them and found to our amazement and surprise that there were no oars or paddles in either one, so we had to get out and swim to shore, pushing the boats in front of us. After a search along the shore We found all the oars, some of them nearly buried up with sand.

We were not disturbed next night from our slumbers, until about five o'clock in the morning, when a black calf, thinking it was time we should get up, undertook to awaken us. I do not know how that black animal got into our tents, but we awoke to find the calf trying to pull his head out from between the rungs of a chair, and in so doing he was swinging the chair in such a manner as to dislodge nearly everything on the table. Hearing my chum give a fierce yell, it pulled its head out, breaking one of the rungs in the effort and throwing its hind feet in the air, and knocking a milk jug into atoms, it made a bound for a small opening at the end of the tent, and escaped into the open by main force and a show of strength that tore an opening in the tent large enough for five calves to get in.

AFTER FISH.

After breakfast, armed with all the equipment necessary for to catch some of the monsters of the finny tribe, we made our way to the shore to find that some one was an earlier riser than we were and had taken our best boat, so that we had to use an old one, which allowed about a gallon of water to leak in every five minutes and with one oar longer than the other, and one oar lock on the point of separating itself from the main body of the boat. To sum up that boat which we had to take on our fishing expedition, I might say it was a regular scow. We went to a good fishing spot and after capturing several lordly bass, we started back as the wind was beginning to rise. We had not gone more than one hundred yards on our homeward journey before we saw it was getting rougher, and I yelled to my chum, who was at the oars, that it was getting at the oars, to pull hard or we would get caught before we got to shore, so my chum straightened out, took a long breath, braced his feet and took a mighty pull on the oars, which fairly lifted the boat out of the water, but lo! there was a crash and the boat slackened up, and we found to our dismay that the invalid oar lock of which I spoke, had refused to remain with the rest of the boat and snapped off. We were surely in a nice fix. Nearly a mile to go against wind and waves, and paddling an old scow like we had in the teeth of the wind is no easy nor safe job. But we went at it with a will and made fairly good time. But the wind got stronger and accordingly the waves got higher and one moment we would be seated on the crest of a wave with a fine view of the approaching white caps and then we would take a plunge which would throw us all over the boat and we would find ourselves in the trough of the waves between two banks of water, extending higher than our heads. But the waves have to be good and large to capsize a boat like the one we had. We began to experience a new difficulty now for the boat began to fill with water. We, unfortunately had neither can nor pail to bail the water out, and after suggesting several schemes to get the water out, such as boring a hole in the bottom and upsetting the boat, we started to bail the water out with our hats which worked fairly well.

ENDS AT LAST.

As I said before there is an end to everything and at last we reached the shore safe and sound, but with our weight increased considerably by the large amount of the lake we carried in our clothes, which were soaked. The perspiration was flowing off us, so as to make us much wetter, and I am sure our paddles would have been hot, had it not been for the fact that they were in the water a little more than we were.

In the afternoon the sun came up in a blaze, and we had an opportunity to allow the atmosphere to absorb some of the water out of our clothes. I am sure the atmosphere must have been very moist around our camp by the time our clothes were dry.

When the wind went down and the water had become calm, I went down to the shore and found that the lake had dropped two inches, but whether it was due to the number of fish we caught, or to the amount of water, we carried off in our clothes I cannot say.

Yours,
RECREATION.

A prominent member of the Association informed the Review today that there was a proposal on foot to increase the price of a hair cut from 20 cents to 25 cents. The cost of a shave will remain the same—ten cents—but the indications are that hair cutting will take a jump of five cents.

Two Canoeists Upset in Lake

Had Rather Unpleasant Sunday Experience Near Dickson's Point

An upset occurred in Little Lake yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock at the second pier, along the boom and out some distance from Dickson's Point.

Mr. Thomas Henderson of the tool department of the C.G.E. and a young lady friend were out canoeing and the water was very rough. They had just pulled their canoe over the boom and started out in the clear water again, when an upset occurred about two canoe lengths from the boom. Both the lady and gentleman were able to reach the boom by swimming, but they would not care to repeat their experience.

Ald. George Duncan and a couple of other paddlers, who were nearby came to their rescue and the young couple were taken home, not much the worse for their dip.

JUNIOR REGATTA WAS POSTPONED

Will Take Place at Chemong, on Thursday Afternoon

The junior regatta, which was to have taken place at Chemong Park Saturday afternoon, had to be postponed owing to the high wind and the exceedingly rough condition of the lake. It was utterly impossible to have any of the events contested. The regatta will therefore take place on Thursday afternoon of this week, when it is hoped weather conditions will be more favorable.

Big Drop in Wages In South Africa

Kingston, Aug. 22.—Charles Meitzer, who left here eight years ago with the first Canadian contingent for South Africa, was in the city on Tuesday. While there Mr. Meitzer was married to a fair colonial maiden, who accompanied him home. The former soldier stated that shortly after the war men were unable to secure good wages, but now there is nothing doing at all. Mr. Meitzer was engineer on one of the railroads, after peace was declared, at a salary of $180 per month. When he left it was about $30 a month, so one can judge how the wages dropped in a short time.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

Great Britain has fallen into line with the practice of other civilized nations in regard to the medical inspection of school children. That it is not only the poorer children who stand in need of a systematic medical examination, the testimony of Dr. Dukes before the recent International Conference on School Hygiene in London showed very clearly. Dr. Dukes gave the Conference the results of a physical examination of a thousand boys on their entrance into Rugby, the London Nation tells us. "These boys, as he says, may be regarded as a special class — strong, healthy, well-fed, and reared mainly in the country. Yet Dr. Dukes reports that in those thousand boys he found 445 cases of lateral curvature of the spine, 526 cases of knock-knees, and 339 of flat feet. All were acquired, preventible deformities indicative of inferior systems of nurture and education occurring between the time of nursery life and the completion of education in the preparatory school at the age of thirteen. If this is the state of things among 'the most favored class of boys in Great Britain' (in only 57 cases for example were the teeth neglected), we may get some idea of the deformities acquired by less fortunate children during the years they pass in the elementary schools, and appreciate the importance of that critical period."

The children in the motherland are presumably as healthy as those elsewhere, and the results of examination there show the need for it in this country. Yet little or nothing is done in this way in the schools. All is left to parents, who, often are guilty of neglect. They are apt to imagine that the children they see every day and who, it may be, are not heard complaining, are regarded as all right, when it may be they are very far from all right. The state steps in when it is suspected that a child either has a contagious disease or is connected with those who have. At all other times the children have no health supervision by a competent state paid official. As a result many are in the schools, in whom are the beginnings of diseases, and physical defects, which will either shorten their days, or handicap them seriously in life.

PEN POINTS

Just one more Thursday half holiday. Be sure and make the most of it.

Another night like last night — and the frost will soon be on the pumpkin.

Just to make the children laugh—we would remark that school re-opens a week from tomorrow.

Yes! yesterday was a trifle cool; but just four months off is Christmas and by that time you will be used to the frigid atmosphere.

Of course, the rank and file of Grit journals do not like Mr. Borden's platform. Some of the planks have never even been discussed by Grit leaders.

In just a month from today, the big Peterborough Industrial Fair will be in full blast. Talk it up! Talk it up! This year's show will be the best ever held in this city.

The city will soon be in good hands again. All the clergymen who have been away on their holidays will return this week, thoroughly fortified, physically and mentally for the coming year's work.

The Trenton Courier is not afraid to say just what it thinks, and this is the way in which it sizes up the dairy situation in Belleville: "The milk venders in Belleville are now charging six cents per quart. Water is getting low in the river."

There is a proposal to change Thanksgiving Day from a Thursday to a Monday. The proposition has much to commend it, but it is doubtful if the Government will accede to the request of the Commercial Travellers' Associations and Boards of Trade.

The good Catholic dean of St. Catharines, Ont., who couldn't subscribe money to help build a new Methodist church, but who gave a liberal sum towards the expense of tearing the old structure down to make place for the new, is one of those men whose very existence is a rebuke to intolerance and whose heart is warmer than any written or carved creed can be.—Detroit News.

The immigration statistics for the year ending June 30th show that the immigration to Canada has increased 33 per cent. over the large influx of last year. The total number is 252,038 of whom 58,518 came from the United States. Last year, which was a record breaker, the total was 189,064. The influx from the United States shows a decrease of 2 per cent. but the increase from Europe is nearly 40 per cent. as compared with last year. At this rate, even if the numbers do not increase, Canada will have a population of about 8,000,000 at the census.

William L. Douglas, the millionaire shoe manufacturer, was asked the other day if he had ever tried advertising in other mediums than the newspapers. "I should say so," he replied. "Magazines, circulars, street-car signs and many other. Once I actually painted a whole town red, spreading my advertisements over its fences and roofs and barns and everywhere my men could find space for an 'ad.' I've tried them all and the newspapers give by afar the best results." Mr. Douglas has made the bulk of his fortune within the past ten years. In that period he has spent $2,000,000 for newspaper advertising. It may be reasonably assumed that he knows what he is talking about.

The Toronto Star (Liberal) commenting upon the platform of the Conservative leader, pays Mr. Borden the following compliment: "Apart from generalities, Mr. Borden's platform contains one good plank, and two others that are worth considering. There ought to be a system of national telephones and telegraphs. There is no reason why the Government should not manage these systems of communication, as it now manages communication by mail. It is true that the railway companies must have their own systems of telegraphs and telephones, and that these will be established wherever rails are laid, even in the most remote districts. The Government is also compelled by the force of circumstances to establish telegraphs in remote districts. There is no reason why it should not carry on the business in districts that are well populated and will yield a profit. There would be some advantage in the operation of Government railways by an independent commission, and the organization of the present Railway Commission as a public utilities commission, with wider powers. Such schemes are usually advocated on the ground that they get rid of political influence, but it is difficult to do this without also weakening popular and Parliamentary control. Government by commission is, after all, a sort of bureaucratic Government, and has the defects, as well as the advantages of that system. As the Whitney Government has adopted it pretty extensively, it seems to commend itself to the Conservative mind, and it finds a natural and legitimate place in Mr. Borden's platform."

Labor Conditions in Peterboro'; Employment in all Lines Active

Market Becoming Over Supplied With Men in Some Lines—Many Houses Going Up in All Parts of the City—Wages Remain Good and Have Increased in Some Trades

Ald. W. J. Johnston, local correspondent for the Labor Gazette sends the following encouraging report from this city for the month of July:

Employment during July has been active, although there were indications that the labor market was becoming over-supplied with men in some lines. The large transformer building of the Canadian General Electric Company has been completed, and the men recently employed in its construction are now looking for employment. Many houses were being constructed in all parts of the city. Considerable alterations are being made to certain stores. The Bell Telephone Company has let a contract for the building of a new exchange to be completed by December 1, at a cost of $12,500. The Brinton Carpet Company is erecing houses on its land for its employees; if the project proves a success the company will continue the construction of houses next season. Messrs. Oke & Oke have begun operations in their new furniture factory, and have large orders ahead. A new industry, "The Excelsior Fruit-cleaning Manufacturing Company will manufacture hand and power machines for cleaning all kinds of fruit. Transportation facilities, both by rail and water, were taxed to their utmost capacity. Wholesale and retail trade was never better. Wages remain as previously reported. The harness makers, who went on strike at B. F. Ackerman and Sons, are still out.

The cost of building has almost doubled during the past ten years. The number of houses constructed, however, is ten times greater. The condition of the laboring man and mechanic is much changed. Wages were in 1897, for carpenters, $1.50 to $1.75 per day; now they are $2.50 to $3.00 per day; bricklayers and masons received 25 to 30 cents an hour; they now receive 45 cents; Building material has greatly increased. Lumber that was sold for $8 and $9 per thousand feet in 1897 today costs from $17 to $24. Brick laid in the wall which cost from $11 to $12, now costs $20; for a solid wall the price, formerly $7 to $8, is now $16 to $18. Stone work was formerly $1.50 per perch; it now costs $3.00. Houses that rented for $4 and $5, now rent for $9 and $10 per month. The bakers have raised the price of a 4 lb. loaf of bread to 15c and of a 3 lb. loaf to 10c. The price was formerly 9 and 12 cents respectively. The opening of the Kirkfield lift-lock has added another link to the great Trent Canal waterway. A new wharf is being built at the intersection of the street railway and the river.

Unusual Season at Stony Lake; Usual Pastimes Abandoned

South Beach Young People Had Hay Rack Ride to Lakefield—Empress Stuck in the Mud Saturday Afternoon—Soon Start for Home.

By Staff Correspondent.
Stony Lake, Aug. 24.

One of the chief features of Stony Lake and the resorts adjoining during the past week has been the high winds, rough lake and cool weather. Those who have fireplaces in their cottages have appreciated them very much this season, as nearly every night a fire has been needed. The usual pleasures of lying in a hammock or upon the grass, or bare rocks, or drifting about in a birch bark canoe, have to a great extent been abandoned. The weather has been decidedly against such pastimes. But others have taken their place. The dancing pavilions have been more thoroughly appreciated, while a party sitting around a camp fire spinning yarns and singing songs is by no means an uncommon feature. Then what can be more pleasant than to sit in the twilight in front of a grate fire with a pipe or a good cigar in your mouth, and as the fragrant smoke curls in clouds overhead, dream of the past and plan great things for the future. While these may not be reasonable, they are pleasant, and those at the lakes have no serious complaint to make. Another great feature has been the lack of mosquitoes. The high winds and cool air have driven them away entirely and left us in comfort.

SOON TO GO HOME.

Only one more week remains for those with families to stay at the lakes. The first of September will see many cottages closed up and scores of people packing up and shipping their goods home. With the opening of the schools everyone hurries back to the city. Even now quite a number are making preparations to return. There are others however, who have hopes of warm weather in September, who intend to stay and enjoy it.

EMPRESS AGROUND.

Saturday afternoon the steamer Empress got stuck in the mud. It had gone to Burleigh and about fifteen minutes after it had started on the return journey, it put in at an island to take on a couple of passengers. The boat had just started off when the captain discovered something was wrong with the steering gear. About the same time those standing on the wharf shouted to the crew that a tow rope was caught in the rudder. The rope had been lying on the upper deck at the back of the steamer, and one end slipped off and wound itself in the rudder. The engines were shut down, the rope cut, and, after a little delay, the boat pulled out. In the meantime, however, the high wind drifted the craft over to a small island adjoining where it stuck in the mud. For a while efforts were made to get it off, but to no avail. The captain blew for assistance and the supply boat "Bobs" which was not far away, hurried over, and after a few minutes, succeeded in pulling the bow of the boat around, and the Empress was free again. The passengers were not at all alarmed, and never once thought of any danger. The worst that could have happened would have been a delay until one of the larger steamers came to their assistance

HAYRACK RIDE.

One of the most enjoyable events of this season at the summer resorts was a hayrack ride to Lakefield. The happy crowd at South Beach got a neighboring farmer to take them out on Friday evening. The party was composed mostly of Peterborough girls, while several young men and a number of young ladies from other cities, who are guests at the Beach, were also present. They started out early in the evening, and the joys of the ride on a springless waggon over stone roads, can only be appreciated by those who have been there. It cannot be described, nor yet can it be thoroughly understood. The night was a beautiful moonlight one. It was a little cool, but everyone had a wrap and the breeze did not penetrate it to any uncomfortable extent, so that the outing was one which will be pleasantly remembered for many years. Songs and yarns by the score made things lively, and, as one girl expressed it, "I thought I would die." Upon arrival at the lakeside village the party pulled up to the home of a friend, and went in for supper, taking complete possession of the premises. After a good hearty meal the young people had a dance, some more music, and started for home again, and ever since the hayrack ride has been the chief topic of conversation

Young Angler Landed Four Bass

On Saturday, while fishing in the river, near Auburn, George Bain, the 12-year old son of John Bain, Auburn, succeeded in landing four fine bass, the longest of which measured eighteen inches.

The youthful angler is naturally very proud of his capture.

Mrs. George Lish, of St. Thomas, was seriously injured by a falling verandah.

FINE PRODUCTION AT THE GRAND

"Faust" Witnessed by an Appreciative Audience on Saturday

There was a large attendance at the Grand opera house on Saturday evening to witness Porter J. White's production of Goethe's Faust.

The entire production was under the personal supervision of Miss Olga Verne, the clever young actress who filled the leading lady's roll as "Marguerite," while Mr. Robert Wigton was the genial manager of the company. After the closing scene, "The Apotheosis" of the last act and as the audience was leaving the house nothing but favorable remarks were heard. The entire production was put on in such a manner that it could not fail to please.

The leading artists, William Richards as "Mephisto," Frederic J. Wilson as "Faust," Terry De Kalb as "Valentine," Marguerite's brother, and Miss Olga Verne as "Marguerite," played their parts in a skillful manner.

Mr. Richards had his role down to perfection. Every move and expression he made was full of interest and the character of Mephisto was brought out strong. Frederick Wilson, the rejuvenated monk and the handsome young gallant and Miss Olga Verne, the modest and winsome young peasant, acted their parts with exceptional good taste and were frequently applauded. Miss Katherine Sheean as "Martha," caused much amusement. The part of "Valentine," the valiant soldier, jolly good fellow, was played by Terry De Kalb in good style.

The company carries a magnificent lot of scenery, some of the best ever seen on the local stage. The scene of "hell," as seen from the summit of the Brocken was put on in detail. A whirring and rumbling of hideous noises; the flashing of lightning and the strong, roaring peals of thunder, the sight of some poor unfortunate struggling against the demons of hell incarnate; night grows darker; the storm rages; the demons gather in midnight revelry and curse the immaculate angel—the Virgin Mary, and do his bidding from the throne of torment. Then there comes a lull, and all rears forth in a wreathing mass of fire with enchanting hideousness, and the curtain falls to hide from view the remorse of the lost souls.

Gospel Sermon At Charlotte St.

Rev. T. M. Jefferis Preached on "What Shall I do to be Saved?

Rev. T. M. Jefferis, a veteran preacher, occupied the pulpit of the Charlotte church last night and delivered an interesting gospel sermon. He took as his text "What shall I do to be saved?" In the course of his remarks he told of how the apostles and early Christians loved the Lord with all their hearts and gave up all their worldly possessions to follow Him. The only way to be saved is to love the Lord with all your might. If you do that you will naturally seek forgiveness of your sins and also forsake your worldly habits and worldly associates. It is a hard battle, but once one has turned from sin and given oneself to the service of the Lord the after life is easy and happy.

Rev. Mr. Jefferis is a man over 80 years of age and yet he is active and possesses all his faculties. He is a strong speaker, and an earnest one and has accomplished much good during his long service. He has been in the ministry in Canada for 68 years and had his first charge at Gananoque in 1844. Since then he has seen many changes in the country, the people and in religious circles. His school was a shanty, his college was a log house and his degrees were L.L.D.D.—Labor Long, Day by Day. The visit of the venerable minister to Peterborough was much appreciated.

During the service Miss Clara Delleghem gave a beautiful rendition of "The Old Story," which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large congregation.

Peterboro' Won Great Victory; Cobourg is Now Down and Out

Barry and Toft of Eastern League Fame Who Were in the Points for Visitors Had to Take to Tall Timbers--Score 14 to 6 in Favor of Peterboro' Who Now Have Fine Chance to Win Midland League Championship--It Was Peterboro' All the Way Through.

One thousand enthusiastic fans on Saturday witnessed what can truly be characterized as a slaughter of the innocents, when on Riverside Park, "Slick" Mulhall's much-tooted aggregation bit the dust before Manager Johnston's braves to the tune of 14—6. Ever since the local nine made the triumphant visit to Cobourg, some three weeks ago the lake-shore manager has been busy gathering together ball players from Eastern and Tri-State As a result, the interest aroused in Saturday's game, was, to say the least, intense. Jack Toft, the once famous catcher of the Toronto Eastern League team, a veteran of many battles and better known as "Foxy Jack," had been secured to do the receiving for Cobourg, while Barry, the Providence Eastern League team's crack twirler, had been heralded to uncork curves, never known to Peterborough fans, before. Ford, a clever third baseman from the Tri-State League and also Weinburg, from the same league, covered third and second bases respectively. These were advertised to produce scintillations on the diamond, that would cause the fans to stand up and look. And when Barry went into the box, the Cobourg fans became chesty, while amongst the local enthusiasts "there was silence deep as death and the boldest held his breath for a time." But the suspense was short-lived. Burns, the first man to bat for the locals drove the sphere to right centre for two sacks; Cheatham following with a beautiful drive to left, and it soon, became apparent that Manager Mulhall's $100 package was a selling-plater or in newsboy parlance a "never-waser."

Barry's Ascension in the Seventh

The slaughter continued until the sixth innings, when Manager Mulhall, in desperation pulled Barry from the box and substituted McKinnon. He also proved an easy proposition. the local players prancing around the diamonds, like trick ponies in a circus ring. Talk about enthusiasm! The local fans shouted as they never did before, while in the Cobourg camp, all was black despair. So apparent did it become that Manager Mulhall put Ford in the box to replace McKinnon, but the balloon kept going higher and higher, and the Cobourg aggregation clung to the last straw with the tenacity of drowning men. It was a momentous occasion, indeed, and an exceedingly blue one for Cobourg supporters. But why dwell any longer on the incidents connected with the slaughter. Let some baseball writer in years to come, compile a history, telling of Peterborough's triumph, and Cobourg's crushed hopes. Manager Johnston placed Yabbie Flaherty in the box for the locals and his work was of the gilt-edged variety. The team behind him to a man, supported him nobly. Cheatham at short stop and Anderson at second were the bright spots on the team, while Hickey and Haliburton covered first and third respectively in professional style. Burridge behind the bat caught his usual good game and was also to the good with the hickory. O'Hearn carried off the batting honors, scoring a home run in the eighth innings. The work of the outfield was in keeping with the stellar quality of ball dished up by the other members of the team.

Umpire Weeks of Bowmanville, gave general satisfaction.

BY INNINGS.

The following summary of the game will tell how it happened,—

First—Bentley fanned, Toft grounded out to Hickey. With two gone Ford hit to Haliburton, but Hickey missed the throw; Weinburg hit to centre field for two bases, scoring Ford; Turpin hit a high fly to left which Callaghan dropped and the Dutchman scored. Floyd went out Flaherty to Hickey.—Two runs.

For Peterborough, Burns hit the first ball to left field for two bases; Cheatham followed with a pretty single and stole second on the first ball; Burridge fanned, but O'Hearn was there with the needful, driving out a slashing single over second, on which Burns and Cheatham crossed the pan; Hickey's grounder to first advanced O'Hearn to second and Anderson scored him with a pretty single; Callaghan hit to Ford and Anderson was caught at second. —Three runs.

Cheatham Was the Candy Boy

Second innings—Burge went out on a grounder to Anderson; McKinnon's grounder to Hickey was neatly handled, and Barry died on a grass-cutter, going out the Anderson-Hickey route, the former making a pretty stop. No runs.

Haliburton struck out; Flaherty's high fly was taken care of by Ford and Burns grounded out to Barry. No runs.

Third innings—This was Cheatham's innings. Bentley and Toft died on flies to the local short stop, and Ford's grounder to the same player, resulted in an easy out at first. No runs.

For Peterborough, Cheatham was out on a grounder to third. Burridge trippled to left field and came home on O'Hearn's slashing single over second. O'Hearn was caught off first by Barry and Hickey fanned. One run.

Fourth innings—Weinburg flew out to Cheatham; Turpin singled to centre, and Floyd sacrificed him to second; Burge singled to centre and Turpin scored. Burridge threw the ball into centre field in an effort to stop Burge and the Cobourg player cantered home; McKinnon singled, but Barry failed to connect with Flaherty's shoots. Two runs.

For Peterborough, Anderson was safe on McKinnon's error, but Callaghan grounded to third. Haliburton fanned, and Flaherty went out, Barry to Turpin, no runs.

Fifth innings. Bentley led off with a single, and Toft did his old stunt of stepping into the ball. Anderson made a sensational catch of Ford's fly to centre. Weinberg hit to Cheatham, and Toft was forced at second. Then Turpin drove one to left centre for two bases, and Bentley and Weinberg scored. Floyd flew out to Cheatham. Two runs.

For Peterborough Burridge flew out to centre field; Cheatham made a pretty single, and stole second; Turpin fumbled McKinnon's throw, and Burridge was safe. Then O'Hearn made his third consecutive single, and two more runs crossed the pan. Hickey fanned, but McKinnon fumbled Anderson's grounder, and both base runners were safe. Callahan hit to third, however, and O'Hearne was forced. Two runs.

PUT IT OVER TILL I SOAK IT!

Longboat Anderson at Bat

Sixth Innings. Haliburton fumbled Burge's grounder, but he was doubled up a minute later when Flaherty captured McKinnon's fly and snapped the ball to first. With two strikes on him Barry drove the ball to centre for three bases, but the big Providence pitcher died on third, Bentley grounding out to Flaherty. No runs.

The deluge came in Peterborough's half. Haliburton smashed one down the third base line for a single; Flaherty sacrificed him to second. Burns Singled; Cheatham hit to Barry, who threw to the plate to catch Haliburton. Toft dropped the throw and everybody was safe, with two on the bases. Burridge hit to deep centre for a beautiful three-bagger, and Burns and Cheatham scored. This is where Mr. Barry, of the Providence Grays, made his exit from the game. McKinnon was substituted and Jimmy Bulger went to short. O'Hearn cracked out his fourth single, and Burridge scored; Hickey died on a grounder to Bulger, but O'Hearn was safe at third. Anderson doubled to left, scoring O'Hearn, and scored himself on Callaghan's pretty single over short. This was enough for McKinnon and he was hauled out of the box to make way for Ford, Weinberg going to third, McKinnon to short, and Bulger to second. Haliburton reached first on Bulger's error, and Callaghan, who had stolen second, scored on the play. Haliburton was caught off first by Ford, retiring the side. Seven runs.

Toft's Unsuccessful Home Slide

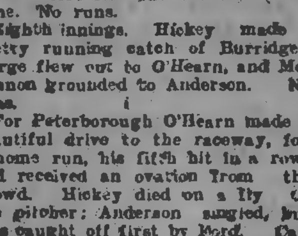
Seventh innings. Anderson allowed Toft's easy grounder to get away from him, and the ex-Toronto player stole second. Ford hit one down the third base line that looked good for a homer, but Umpire Weeks called it a foul. Ford fanned, Weinberg singled to centre, and Toft tried to score on the play, but O'Hearn made a perfect throw to the plate and Jack was an easy out. Callaghan gathered in Turpin's high fly. No runs.

For Peterborough Flaherty flew out to McKinnon and Burns did the same. Cheatham was safe on Turpin's error, but McKinnon made a pretty runnin gcatch of Burridge's fly to short left and the side was gone. No runs.

Scene in the Sixth Innings—Manager Johnston and two Local Fans.

Eighth innings. Hickey made a pretty running catch of Burridge's Burge flew out to O'Hearn, and McKinnon grounded to Anderson. No runs.

For Peterborough O'Hearn made a beautiful drive to the raceway, for a home run, his fifth hit in a row, and received an ovation from the crowd. Hickey died on a fly to the pitcher; Anderson singled, but was caught off first by Ford. Callahan drew a base on balls, the first pass of the game, but Haliburton died on a grounder to McKinnon. One run.



Cobourg's Left Fielder After O'Hearn's Drive

Ninth innings. Bulger flew, but to Callaghan; Bentley was passed; but Toft grounded to Flaherty, and Ford to Cheatham, and the game was over.

LACROSSE CLUB MUST PAY DEBT.

Or Get Out of the C. L. A.—Trouble Over Peterboro'—Oshawa Game

Toronto, Aug. 24.—That the Beaverton Lacrosse club had abandoned the protest against McArthur of the Young Torontos was announced when the judiciary of the Canadain Lacrosse Association met at the Iroquois hotel last night. President Harry S. Cameron, Beaverton; Ald. Wright, Hamilton; Jack Kelly, Brantford; T. F. Doyle, Newmarket; B. Kraussman, Elora; Woody Tegart, and J. K. Forsythe, Toronto and C. L. Querrie, secretary pro tem, were present.

Young Torontos now go into the semi-finals with a clean sheet.

St. Catharines Athletics claimed two guarantees of $50 each due them from Hamilton. Through arrangement a game that should have been played in St. Catharines was played in Hamilton on Aug. 3rd. Again on Aug. 17th the Athletics played in Hamilton, but in neither games did they receive the guarantee of $50, as set forth in the rules governing the senior series. Mr. Timmins asked that either the $100 be paid by Hamilton or that Hamilton play a game in St. Catharines. The committee acted on this suggestion, and ordered Hamilton to either play in St. Catharines on Wednesday, Aug. 28, or pay $100.

The Council upheld the suspension of the Brantford club, because players and spectators had assaulted Referee Hall, and decided to prosecute Alfred McDonald on a charge of assaulting the official.

PETERBOROUGH SHY.

Peterborough refused to pay $8.50 the expenses of J. Cave, who refereed a Peterborough-Oshawa scheduled game, turned into an exhibition game by the default of Peterborough, and the Council decided to collect the amount from the Peterborough club's bonds, or suspend the club until the amount is paid.

Ald. Wright, of Hamilton, resigned from the C.L.A. Executive

6924.—A SMART STYLE FOR A PLAIN SHIRT WAIST N

An entirely plain shirt waist can embody quite as much style as the most elaborate one, the lines and finish deciding its quality. Here is shown a blouse of the simplest yet expressive of no small degree of modishness and good taste. It is built on mannish lines, the front closing under the plait and having long or shorter sleeves. A trig pocket is usually pleasing upon a shirt waist of this type, but it is especially so this year when Dame Fashion demands pockets wherever possible. Such a waist may be made in any seasonable material, being equally suitable to cub fabrics, cloth, worsteds and silks. For the medium size 3 1-2 yards of material 27 inches wide are needs.

GETTING READY FOR DUCK SHOOTING

Season Will Open on September 2—Birds Plentiful

Duck shooting is going to be well partonised this year, as is evidenced by the large number of our sporting men who are making preparations for their annual expedition to the abode of this winged target. Many an old fire-arm is taken from its place on the wall and put through a severe course of cleaning, as well as those that are used yearly in this attractive sport.

Ducks are said to be quite plentiful around Rice Lake and it is expected that the influx to this part will be large from this city, as well as from outside towns. The duck shooting season opens on September 2nd.

Mr. J. A. Ruddick Representing Canada at Manchester Eng.

Manchester Guardian.

There was an interesting exchange of views yesterday between members of the Manchester Produce Association and Mr. J. A. Ruddick, representing the Agricultural Department of the Canadian Government. The meeting took place in the Board room of the Association, and Mr. S. Harrop president, was in the chair.

DECLINE IN BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Mr. Ruddick said ther had been a decline in the exports of Canadian butter and cheese to Manchester and Liverpool. In 1901 Manchester received 8 per cent. of the consignments of butter from Canada, but in 1906 the percentage fell to 2, and last year it was about the same low figure. Taking the shipments to Liverpool and Manchester, the percentage in 1904 was 37, in the following year it was 29, and in 1906 it was only 18. The shipment of cheese in the same years—to Liverpool and Manchester—was 38, 31, and 25 per cent. As to the cause for this falling off, it seemed to him that the lack of reliable, regular cold storage steamers to Manchester was in some way responsible. He had been to the Ship Canal Docks and seen the excellent arrangements for the storage of Australian and New Zealand meat, and thought that similar arrangements might be made for the preservation of Canadian produce.

"GREEN" CHEESE.

Mr. Ruddick went on to say he was aware of the complaint that Canadian cheese had often been shipped in a "green" state, and that consequently it lacked weight when it got to the English purchaser. This was a matter, he thought, which would rectify itself in time, because the buyer would make allowance for shrinkage in the price he paid. All the same, the Canadian authorities appreciated the validity of the complaint, and were doing their best to remove all cause for dissatisfaction, and in the most progressive parts the farmers had passed resolutions not to export cheese that had not been in the factory for ten days at least. Encouragement was at the same time being given to cool curing of cheese.

As to the butter exports, he thought they would soon increase. The price for cheese went up so much that farmers who had dual plant turned their attention to cheese making. Then, the demand for butter in Canada itself had greatly increased, owing to the increase of population and the general prosperity of the people, which was indicated by the fact that over 5,000 miles of railway were in process of construction in Western Canada at the present time.

THE FRUIT TRADE.

The Canadian Government were anxious to foster trade in fruit as well as butter and cheese. The laws provided for the absolute purity of these products, and it was now a penal offence to label apples as first quality when they were not of such quality, or to put good apples at the top of the barrel and poor ones below. The fruit sent out must be of the standard that was represented, or punishment would follow. "We hope," Mr. Ruddick added, "by better organisation of the fruit industry, to supply more first class apples, pears, and peaches. We have the climate and the area for fruit tree cultivation to a very large extent.

TRADE AND SENTIMENT.

Mr. J. B. Dowdall desired to assure the Canadians of English sympathy in their efforts to extend their trade, and at the same time to point out that in business matters sentiment was of little avail. He was not surprised to hear of the decline in the exports of Canadian butter. It was for want of facilities for steamers coming direct to Manchester fully equipped to carry the butter in the way that English merchants liked. Of course the Canadians were consuming larger quantities of butter. "We are not getting the amount we got years ago," Mr. Dowdall continued, "and before many years are over it is possible that America may be an importing country as regards cheese and butter instead of an exporter. And there comes in a chance for Canada."

PROGRESS AT HOME.

Mr. Dowdall quoted some remarkable figures to show the betterment of the people in Great Britain during the last two decades. In twenty years, he said, the population had increased by several millions. And not only had the people increased in numbers; the consumption of food per person had enormously increased. In twenty years, the imports of fresh and salted beef had increased from 600,000 cwt. to 4,000,000. The figures as to mutton showed a similar advance. The consumption of eggs had gone from nine per person per year to 53. Twenty years ago, the consumption of butter and margarine was at the rate of 3 1-2 pound, per head of the population. Today it was 13 pound. So that it seemed to him that the English people were not only increasing in numbers, but in their powers of consumption, or rather in their power to buy.

TRADE FOLLOWS PROFIT.

With regard to bonds of brotherhood and the importance of supporting the Empire by mutual trade, his experience had taught him that business men put aside sentiment when it came to a question of profit. Price and quality were the determining factors, and not considerations of the flag. Of course, other things being equal English people would prefer to do business with their kinsmen across the sea. Trade followed the invoice, before any other thing.

Mr. Ruddick said he quite recognised the fact that questions of nationalism or imperialism, were of no account in trade matters. They could not hope to sell their produce anywhere unless they gave value for money. "We in Canada," he went on, "are loyal subjects of the King—none more so—but we are not foolish enough to depend on any feeling of brotherhood to help us sell an inferior article. We are doing our best to get products of the right quality, believing that is the surest way to promote trade."

Mr. T. E. Marshall spoke of the falling off, in the egg trade with Canada.

Mr. Ruddick said the demand for eggs in Canada, had risen so much that the farmer could now get 10d. a dozen for them at his own door instead of 6d. which he used to get. This increase of prices had had a stimulating effect on the egg producing industry, and the output would soon be largely increased.

Mr. R. Graham asked if the Canadian authorities were disposed to assist in the provision of a cold storage place at this side, as the Australian people had done. Was it true, he further enquired, that Canadian farmers had combined to restrict supplies, so as to keep up prices?

Mr. Ruddick said there was no truth in the latter suggestion. As to the first question, it was not the policy of the Canadian Government to establish storages outside the Dominion.

The Chairman remarked that there would be no need to pack bacon in borax, if there were storage facilities at this end.

Mr. J. Lucas insisted that weight as quality must be considered in all shipments.

A vote of thanks was heartily accorded to Mr. Ruddick for his address. [illegible]

FREES FRANCE'S HAND

Germany Will Not Embarrass Her in Moroccan Affair.

French Ambassador Has Interview With Chancellor Von Buelow—Mulai Hafig Not Recognized As Sultan—Regarded By French Government As Revolutionist—Spanish Colony Ask For More Protection.

Paris, Aug. 27.—France's attitude toward Mulai Hafig, the Sultan's brother, who recently was proclaimed Sultan, is one of complete non-recognition of his authority as Sultan.

It is officially pointed out that, although Mulai's power seems to be growing in the south, the people in the north appear to be loyal to the reigning Sultan, and until decisive events demonstrate that Mulai is actually the choice of the people, France is forced to regard him as a pretender and revolutionist.

It is officially stated that the most cordial exchanges of views occurred between Ambassador Cambon and Chancellor Von Buelow on the subject of Morocco, and that Germany appreciates the difficulty of France's position.

The Echo de Paris yesterday published a despatch from Berlin declaring that the impression caused there by the interviews between Ambassador Cambon and Chancellor Von Buelow, and between Premier Clemenceau and King Edward is "that the peace of Europe is solidified."

Berlin, Aug. 27.—Jules Cambon, the French ambassador to Germany, returned here yesterday from Norderney, satisfied with the results of his visit to Chancellor Von Buelow.

Possibly the most interesting subject to the French Government at present was the Moroccan situation, upon which the chancellor talked freely, repeating and elaborating Germany's willingness that France should use her own discretion at Casablanca, with the knowledge that Germany will not raise embarrassing questions or seek in any way to place difficulties in her way, or hinder the French work of restoring order and securing the future safety of Europeans in Morocco.

Paris, Aug. 27.—The correspondent at Casablanca of The Matin telegraphs that a letter has been received in the Arab camp from Mulai Hafig, the newly proclaimed Sultan, announcing that he is marching to attack the French with numerous forces and several cannon.

He instructs the besiegers to refrain from action until his arrival.

Ask for Spanish Warships.

Tangier, Aug. 27.—The Spanish colony here has voted to petition Spain to send additional warships to Tangier, on the ground that Spanish citizens have not sufficient protection.

TWO KILLED—SIX HURT.

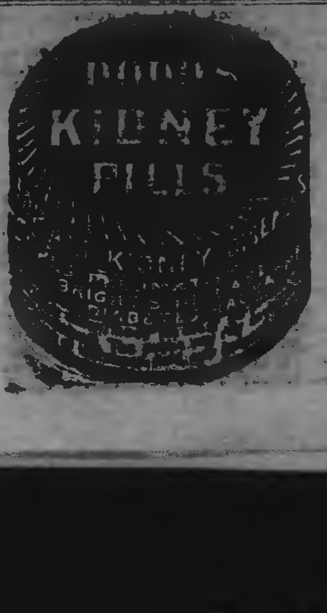
Freight Trains Smash in Ohio—Twenty Injured In Derailment.

Portsmouth, Ohio, Aug. 27.—Conductor Robert Gilmore of this city, and Engineer J. C. Purdy of Batavia, Ohio, were instantly killed and six or more trainmen seriously injured in a head-on collision between two Norfolk and Western freight trains near Readdom early yesterday. A relief train bearing physicians and medical supplies was rushed to the scene from here.

Entire Train Derailed.

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 27.—Twenty-one persons were injured, none seriously, by the derailment of a northbound train on the Southern Railway at Red Hill yesterday. The entire train except the engine and tender turned over. The accident was caused by a broken rail. The train fortunately was running at moderate speed.

Albert Hawe of Port Stanley, employed at the Laney House, was found dead in bed yesterday.



TO RESTRICT EMIGRATION.

Steamers Must Receive Official Permission Before Leaving the Orient.

Tokio, Aug. 27.—The Clausen protection law, making ships carrying immigrants subject to official permission, which hitherto has been limited to vessels destined for Hawaii or South America, will be made to operate in regard to similar ships destined for Canada on and after Sept. 1. This will have no effect in reducing the volume of immigrants, who already are under certain restrictions, but is aimed principally toward assuring the safety of the interests of officially recognized immigrants.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 27.—The situation with reference to the arrivals of Asiatics reached an acute stage Sunday night, when men cried at the meeting of the Oriental Exclusion League: "Let us go to the next boat which brings in Orientals with guns in our hands and prevent them landing."

This cry was taken up vigorously, though no official action was taken.

Further, it was urged that a strict boycott should be established against all lumber sawed by orientals, all mines worked, and all fish handled. All the canneries are worked by these people.

The situation daily is growing more critical in all British Columbia.

THOMAS WOMAN ON BAIL.

Rumor Says Wiarton Raiders Will Testify At the Trial.

Walkerton, Aug. 27.—County Crown Attorney Dixon has received a communication from the Attorney-General in reference to the Wiarton shooting affair.

Although the nature of the instructions has not been made public, it is stated on good authority that the department at Toronto have taken no action whatever in the matter, beyond suggesting a course for the magistrate to pursue when Mrs. Thomas, the accused woman, comes up for trial.

It is said on authority that the magistrate's instructions will be to allow the Thomas woman out on bonds until the sitting of the next court, when the bill will be presented to the grand jury for their consideration.

The feeling against the Thomas woman grows stronger daily, and it is doubtful if the case will be allowed to go by default. There are some of the midnight marauders willing to come forward and tell what they know now, according to stories that come here from the north.

The feeling through the county in general is in sympathy with the woman.

STEAMER ON THE ROCKS.

Passengers Rescued In Tugs and Brought Safely to Land.

Sault Ste. Marie, Aug. 27.—While endeavoring to make the dock at Thessalon, in a high wind, on Sunday, the steamer King Edward, of the Algoma Central Line, was forced on the rocks a quarter of a mile out and was badly damaged, a large hole being stove in the boat, into which the water poured.

The hundred or so passengers on board were taken off in tugs and taken to land, where they were given hotel accommodation at the expense of the company, and were brought to the Soo at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and most of them sheltered at the International Hotel.

The King Edward was pumped out and taken to the dock at Thessalon, where she was inspected by a diver, who made temporary repairs.

It will be necessary to send the boat to the drydock at Detroit for repairs. She will make the trip under her own steam, in the company of a tug.

The passengers were brought to the Soo by the steamer Fortune, another of the company's boats.

LORDS PASS BILL.

Marriage With Deceased Wife's Sister Legalized In Britain.

London, Aug. 27.—Marriage with a deceased wife's sister has finally become legalized in Great Britain, the House of Lords last evening having by 98 to 54 votes, passed the bill making such marriages legal.

Goderich Branch Opened.

Goderich, Aug. 27.—The opening of the railway service on the Guelph and Goderich branch of the C. P. R. took place yesterday morning.

The whole town was en fete and the station platform and river banks crowded with citizens as the first train glided around the high banks of the Maitland, Goderich's "scenic route."

The conductor in charge of the train was Peter McDonald, and the engineer Hugh Davidson. A large number of passengers left for Toronto and Montreal on the first train.

Mrs. Arthur McBean of Galt, died at Guelph on Sunday.

JAPS BUY TORPEDOES

Island Empire Steals a March on Uncle Sam.

Purchases One Thousand English Up-to-Date Explosives—Paid $5,000,000 For Them—Cornered the Market—United States Must Now Wait—New Torpedoes Guaranteed to Go Four Thousand Yards.

New York, Aug. 27.—While the United States has been secretly negotiating with the Whitehead Torpedo Co. of England for the purchase of fifty of the newest and most approved English torpedoes, Japan has stepped in and bought 1,000 of the weapons at an expense of $5,000,000.

The torpedoes were purchased by the Japanese at $5,000 each immediately after the first negotiations of the United States Government.

It is believed the enormous purchase by the Japanese practically takes the Whitehead torpedoes from the market, and that in case the U. S. Government wishes to lay in an additional supply, it will have to wait sometime for the torpedoes to be delivered. The new Whiteheads are declared the most improved torpedoes now manufactured for naval warfare. They are guaranteed to go four thousand yards, while the best torpedoes in the United States navy can only cover 3,500 yards.

REDMOND QUITS THE HOUSE.

Irish Party's Protest Against Mutilation of Evicted Tenants' Bill.

London, Aug. 27.—The Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. Birrell, announced in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon that the Government was prepared to accept some, but not all the amendments of the House of Lords to the Irish evicted tenants' bill, whereupon John Redmond, chairman of the Irish Parliamentary Party, said he declined to take any further part in the discussion of the measure.

Mr. Redmond accused the Government of failure to carry out its promises to the Irish people, and said the bill, as it now stood, provided for the compulsory removal of tenants who had taken farms from evicted persons, and, therefore, was a victory for Lord Clanricarde, whose evicted tenants had for twenty years been waiting at the roadside for an opportunity to return to their homes, but who would not be able to do so under the bill as amended by the House of Lords.

It was evident, continued Mr. Redmond, that the Irish must close their ranks and recommence a strong, menacing agitation as the only means of securing proper land legislation.

The Irish Nationalists then left the House in a body, and another committee of the House of Commons was appointed to confer with the House of Lords to see what could be saved of the mutilated measure.

CONDUCTOR FALLS OFF CAR.

Hamilton Man Fractures His Skull and May Die.

Hamilton, Aug. 27.—Fred Raven, 117 Tisdale street, a conductor, fell off his car on East Barton street last evening and was perhaps fatally injured. He was taken to the hospital suffering from a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain. The doctors could not tell first how serious his condition is. He was collecting fares on an open car and fell off the running board.

Sailor Stabbed In Back.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 27.—As George Harvey, a sailor of Buffalo, N. Y., was passing a saloon on Commercial road Sunday night, an Italian rushed out of the door and without warning plunged a stiletto into Harvey, inflicting a wound which hospital surgeons say will prove fatal. The police have been unable thus far to find the Italian.

Harvey could give no explanation of the mysterious attack. He had been in Cleveland but a few hours.

French Wine Frauds.

Paris, Aug. 27.—As proof of its determination to eradicate the wine frauds, the Government yesterday announced that there had been 4,203 prosecutions for violation of the law, and that they had resulted in 3,640 convictions.

The persons prosecuted included a mayor, who resigned as a protest against the Government's alleged inactivity in enforcing the law.

Rain Saves Village.

Kingston, Aug. 27.—A much-longed-for rain fell on Saturday and stayed the bush fires ranging about Parham, and gave the residents a breathing space after 48 hours of constant watchfulness and fighting of the flames.

The fires kept creeping towards the village, and barns and buildings were constantly in danger, but heroic work kept the fire back.

Chatham Man Arrested.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 27.—Albert Toulouse of Chatham was arrested here and taken to Chatham Sunday, charged with a serious offence against a young girl, daughter of B. Bellaire of Dover Township. The man was taken back to Chatham for trial.

HANG MURDERER TO TREE.

Twenty Men Take Morris Higgins From Sheriff.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 27.—Morris Higgins, who murdered W. L. Coppland and wife, near Rosalie, Neb., May 12, was lynched at Bancroft yesterday. Twenty men took Higgins from the sheriff, hauled him off in a dray and hung him to a tree.

When the sheriff left for Omaha Sunday he was accosted by citizens at Bancroft, who asked him what he would do if they should attempt to lynch Higgins.

"Shoot the first man who tries it," he said.

"Well, we just wanted to know—chances are you will have some shooting to do."

Dominion Shooting Matches.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The Dominion Rifle Association matches began yesterday in the very best shooting weather. There was a variety of light and wind and the result was that many went to pieces. There were others who showed up well. This was where the British team shone, as of 16 men in the MacDougall match there were 14 in the prize list. The Sir Charles Ross match was won by M. Brownlee of the G. G. F. G. Rifle Association, who divided with Sgt. Marden (90th), with scores of 36, winning $19 each, and Col. Sgt. Freeborn 13th) got $15, with a score of 30. Pte. Keating with 24 won $5 and Pte. Whitehorn (10th R. G.) won $4.

Like Fife in Wheat.

London, Aug. 26.—(C. A. P.)—It is stated that millers who have been endeavoring to raise the milling quality of English wheat to the Canadian standard are approaching the achievement of their object. Fife wheat has been found most suitable for this purpose. It promises to become the leading wheat in the United Kingdom. Millers pay two-thirds a quarter more for Fife than for other varieties.

Hanged Himself In Barn.

Caledonia, Aug. 27.—Walter Whitelaw, son of James Whitelaw, Seneca Township, employed by John Barrington, farmer, committed suicide by hanging in his employer's barn. The act was committed just before the noon-hour, and, it is supposed, while in a state of temporary insanity. Deceased was about 30 years of age and unmarried.

Girl's Suicide.

Naples, Aug. 27.—Thirty officials of the Castellamare arsenal have been arrested as the result of the discovery of extensive embezzlements alleged to have been made in collusion with contractors for supplies of materials.

WOMEN CARRIED AWAY

Serious Outrages by Turks in Persian Territory.

Officers Ruthlessly Slain While Held As Prisoners—Inoffensive Villagers Massacred—Children Put to Death—Church Is Defiled—Grain and Other Property Stolen Or Destroyed.

Teheran, Aug. 27.—General Samsam Dowlh and other Persian officers, according to reports received here, have been killed by the invading Turks, after having been taken prisoners.

Many inoffensive villagers, including women and children, have been slaughtered, a number of women have been carried off, a church has been defiled and much grain and other property has been taken or destroyed.

Turkish regular troops, with artillery, were within four miles of Urumiah, Aug. 15. There are no signs of the withdrawal of Turks from Persian territory.

Another report says that the Turks have occupied Merivan, in Persian Kurdistan, Isle of Suleimania. In a telegram asking for help the clergy and inhabitants of Merivan add that if the Persian Government is powerless the people must beg Russia for assistance.

HEAVY RAIN IN WEST.

Harvesting Operations Have Been Greatly Delayed.

Winnipeg, Aug. 27.—A drenching rain fell throughout western Canada all day yesterday, delaying harvest operations materially. However, wheat is reported to be filling splendidly, and if the frost is avoided some excellent samples will be reaped. Reports sent in by The Free Press special staff of inspectors indicate that the best crops are very late and backward. The weather is causing great anxiety. Cutting in some sections will not be possible before September 20 or 24, but in other localities it will be general two weeks earlier. Around Gladstone the crop is magnificent, and the yield will run all the way from twenty to forty bushels per acre. These heavy yields in the northern parts will go a long way to offset the light crop south. Frost has already done considerable damage.

WORKED SMOOTH GAME.

Two Men Charged With Victimizing Orangeville Banks.

Orangeville, Aug., 27.—George J. McDonald, a supposed deserter from Stanley Barracks, and Thomas Giles, were charged in the police court yesterday with discounting notes of no value, representing themselves as prosperous farmers.

Giles appears to have signed his own name. His knowledge of writing is confined to making his own signature, but McDonald seems not to have been so particular, for he is alleged to have signed several names.

Both pleaded not guilty, and the evidence disclosed a pretty smooth game to have been worked on the various bank managers, and the cash was handed over in every case. Banker Charles Mason of Shelburne was touched up three times.

Both prisoners were remanded to jail.

GIVES PERMIT TO FISH.

U. S. Department Allows Fleet to Go to Newfoundland.

Washington, Aug. 27.—In view of the fact that the open season for Newfoundland fisheries is beginning, while American fishing smacks have been lying at considerable expense at Gloucester, Mass., awaiting the conclusion of negotiations in London between Ambassador Reid and the Foreign Office, the State Department yesterday determined to allow these vessels to proceed to the fishing grounds and begin fishing.

This is with the understanding that, although the modus vivendi of last season has not yet been renewed, the state of the negotiations in London warrants the department in the opinion that it will be so renewed, even in a modified form.

Killed Family For Revenge.

Chatham, Aug. 27.—Charlie Lee, a local Chinaman, last year won a law suit against a rival, who later disappeared.

He has just received the news from China that a band of pirates massacred his parents, their children and grandchildren, in short, wiped out the entire family.

This, he believes, is because his former rival belonged to a rival Tong and in this manner revenged himself for being beaten in the local courts.

British Journalist Ill.

Montreal, Aug. 27.—G. W. Attenborough, representative of The Manchester Guardian, on the British journalist tour, is in the hospital here, and likely to be here for some time.

On the way east the party dined at a Chinese restaurant at Saskatoon, and he has never felt well since.

In Ottawa he was taken ill, and on arrival of the train here he was taken to the hospital.

Escapes Death By Jump.

Chatham, Aug. 27.—While crossing the Michigan Central tracks, driving a team, a few miles south of this city, yesterday, A McGregor escaped death only by jumping, when he found that he could not cross in time to prevent a smash from a mile-a-minute express.

His wagon was smashed to kindling, and a valuable horse killed outright.

Brakeman Will Die.

London, Aug. 27.—William Bruce of Sarnia tunnel, was probably fatally crushed between cars at Strathroy last night.

Premier Gouin of Quebec, denies ever having negotiated with Henri Bourassa.

KIDNAPPED HIS CHILD.

Girl Taken From Mother's Custody At Brockville.

Brockville, Aug. 27.—There was considerable excitement when it became known yesterday that Florence Stewart, a bright little girl of ten years, was missing from the home of her grandmother, Mrs. McMullen, widow of the late John Mercier McMullen, the well-known Canadian writer.

Suspicion pointed to kidnapping by the child's father and last night Stewart telegraphed from Ogdensburg, New York, that he had the child.

Mrs. Stewart, with two daughters, one of them Florence, has been spending the summer here, but when at home lives in New York City. She is separated from her husband, who resides in California.

The child went for the morning mail yesterday as usual. She also had another errand to perform and Mrs. Stewart was not anxious concerning her until two hours or more had elapsed. A cabman told of driving a man and a crying child from opposite the Brockville club-house, adjoining the postoffice, about the time the girl was due at the latter place. He took them to the C. P. R. dock, where another man was found, who saw them taking a boat for Ogdensburg. The child was crying and resisting and the man was tugging her along by the hand. Stewart has relatives living in Rochester, and thinking Stewart had gone there the police were instructed by Mrs. Stewart to communicate with the authorities to locate him pending her arrival, she having taken the night train for that city.

There is some question whether the woman can regain possession, Stewart having a claim on this and the other child for ten months in the year, the mother being privileged to keep them for the remaining two.

BALLOON TRIP TO POLE.

Wellman At Spitzbergen and Not Yet Ready to Fly.

London, Aug. 27.—The Hammerfest correspondent of The Daily Mail says that Walter Wellman did not start from his camp at Spitzbergen for the North Pole in his airship on Aug. 23 as he hoped to do. The last two tourist steamers of the year arrived at the camp at Virgo Bay on Aug. 20. They saw the balloon high in the air, confined by anchor ropes.

Mr. Wellman said he was not able to start as the breeze was wrong. He could not start in a southeast wind. The tourists banqueted Mr. Wellman and his companions. Mr. Wellman said to them:

"If I am lucky you will hear from me and the North Pole in a week. If I am less lucky in a fortnight. If you do not hear from me in three weeks you will never hear from me."

The steamers left twenty-four hours later. It was then remarked that the balloon seemed gradually being deflated. They passed Virgo Bay for the last time on Aug. 23, and no start had then been made, although the weather was calm and bright. The passengers doubt if Mr. Wellman will or can start this year.

Exporters.

Space on ocean boats not being scarce, caused a little more activity, but prices were no better. Exporters, in the true sense of the word, sold from $5 to $5.35 per cwt., the bulk of the best class selling at $5 to $5.25 per cwt.; common unfinished lightweight exporters sold from $4.65 to $5 per cwt. Bulls sold at $3.75 to $4.40 per cwt.

Butchers.

Outside of two or three loads that were bought for export, there were few good well finished butchers' cattle on the market, and more of the finished class would have sold readily. Picked lots of prime cattle sold at $4.75 to $5.10 per cwt., but they were scarce; medium mixed loads $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt.; common $3.25 to $3.85; cows $2 to $4 per cwt. One load of the best heifers seen on the market for some time, 1100 lbs. each, that cost $5.25 in the country, were not sold, as nobody seemed disposed to pay the price paid to the farmer.

Feeders and Stockers.

One load of 900 lbs. feeders sold at $3.25 per cwt., which were reported to be good quality steers.

Milkers and Springers.

There were 3 choice milkers sold at $55 each, and another lot of 10 milkers and springers, at $30 to $50 each.

Veal Calves.

Prices of veal calves ranged from $4 to $6 per cwt.

Headaches Mean Your Blood Is Poisoned

If your bowels, kidneys or skin are not ridding the system of waste-matter, the blood is laden with impurities, which inflame the nerves. It is these irritated nerves that make the head ache.

Powders and pills won't cure, they merely drug the nerves into unconciousness and relieve for a short time.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Headaches, Neuralgia and Nerve Pains because they purify the blood. They act directly on the three great eliminating organs—Bowels, Kidneys and Skin—and restore them to healthy action, thus ridding the system of all poisons.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices—chemically changed, by the process of combining them, into a far more effective medicinal compound than the natural juices. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. At all dealers' or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a Workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

OBITUARY

THOMAS JOS. O'KEEFE.

The death occurred last evening at St. Joseph's hospital of Thos. Jos. O'Keefe, after an illness of five weeks' duration. The late Mr. O'Keefe with his wife, came here six weeks ago from New York to spend a holiday with Mrs. O'Keefe's sister, Mrs. Clarence Snyder. He was here only a short time when he was taken ill and removed to the hospital, where he underwent two operations, from the effects of which he never recovered. The deceased was 32 years of age, and was born in Ireland. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and one sister, Mrs. E. A. Lierdon, of New York, who were with him at his death.

The remains were forwarded on the 11.45 G. T. R. train to New York where interment will take place.

STONY LAKE TRIP

Many Road on New Steamer

Otonabee Carried 40,000 Passengers to Idyl Wyld and Return

The steamer Otonabee during the present season which is now drawing to a close, has carried to Idyl Wyld in the neighborhood of 40,000 passengers. The trip down the river was very popular and probably there has been in no other one season so many Peterborough people cross Rice Lake. It was not that the resort was any more attractive this year or that the run down the river was any more beautiful, but it was largely due to the boat service. The Otonabee is a new large steamer and it made regular trips and carried very large crowds, and consequently a great many more went down.

The Rice Lake trip is much more convenient for city people. On two days a week the Otonabee left the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30 in the afternoon and returned in the evening. It gave a person all the fresh air desired, it was a change and a rest from business or household cares and it was a delightful pleasure, while only a few hours was lost from business. To go up the lakes required a whole day and it is doubtful if the scenery is any more beautiful. The people of Peterborough realized the debt of gratitude they owed the Otonabee Navigation Co., and they patronized the boat well.

Peterborough Man Describes Industrial Life in Germany

Queer Structure of the Houses--Each Person Builds His Own Sidewalk--Market Days Are Curious—Marvellous Beauty of the Country--No Fences Obscure the Vision—Intense Competition in Some Trades.

Mr. George Schneider, Mr. George F. Schneider, Mrs. F. S. Schneider, and Mrs. Charles Richer, who left Peterborough some weeks ago, are now staying with relatives near Strasburg, Alsace-Lorraine, Germany. They will be away several weeks yet. Mr. George F. Schneider has written an interesting letter to Mr. W. H. Robertson, of this city.

Mr. Schneider says, in part;

Bischweiler, Alsace, Aug. 12, 1907.

Dear Mr. Robertson.—As it is some time since we were in Peterborough perhaps a few of the folks would like to know what we are seeing out here. Everything is very different to what it is in Canada. This town is very old. The houses are very solidly built and some of them date as far back as 1687. They are all built solidly on the street line, close together, like store fronts. To get into the yards you have to go through heavy wooden gates set in the walls; the streets also are very crooked. The houses are built of timber frame and between the beams brick are laid rough and then afterwards plastered. The timbers of the frame not being covered with plaster, shows all over these old houses and gives them a very picturesque appearance. The windows and door frames are usually of brown cut stone and the roofs are covered with red tiles. The windows are covered with heavy solid wooden shutters.

THE STREETS

The streets are mostly of rolled gravel, but the government road through the town is paved with squared stone. The sidewalks,—well in this place, everyone has to build his own and the result is comical—a very few have cement walks. The most are of gravel, sand or cobble-stones set in sand, with the result that most people take the middle of the road in preference to the sidewalks. The gutter on the outer edge of these walks, is covered with cement all over the town, just like that piece in Peterborough in front of J. R. Stratton's house. The roads all through the country are, for military reasons, kept in the pink of perfection. At every little distance are heaps of broken and crushed stone, ready to fix up any bad spots and men are going over these roads constantly keeping them in repair.

In this town, although it numbers over 10,000 inhabitants, you could not tell where the main street is. Stores are in any old place; everyone has the old-fashioned shutters. There is no such a thing as an awning in the whole place. If the sun shines too strong on one side of the street all the shutters are put up. The storekeepers and the clerks seem to take things leisurely, and the windows do not look as if window dressing was cultivated as an art.

As this place is close to the French frontier, it has a large garrison of soldiers. Just now they are getting ready for the autumn manoeuvres. Going along the country roads you will meet whole battalions marching along the way singing as they go, making for the positions assigned to them. Although the weather is very warm, it is no go-as-you-please march. Every coat is buttoned tight, belts, knapsacks, etc., in order.

You can see the perspiration running over the boys' faces, but no one ever stops to even try and wipe it off as they swing along. The idea of the German Government is to have the soldiers so hardened that they will be ready to take the field at a moment's notice. Around here you will see the soldiers drilling, marching through the country, and target practising constantly.

ALL ARE WORKERS.

The people here all seem to be working at something or other. The hours in the factories and working at the trades are longer than in Canada. In a cabinet and furniture factory I saw here, they started work at six o'clock in the morning, and work until 12 o'clock, knock off one hour for dinner, then work again from one until seven. They do this every day of the week, Saturday included.

The highest wages in this place are for the carpenters 4 marks a day. A mark is the same as our quarter. Plasterers get from 3 1-2 to 4 marks; painters about the same. The girls working in the cotton, wool and jute bag factories make about 2 marks per day.

The market days here are a curious sight. They are usually held Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, at 7 in the morning and are over by 10. Early you will see the women coming into town pushing little four-wheeled carts with wicker tops, something like large baby carriages. These are full of all sorts of country products. They just spread their goods out on the cobble stones of the streets and sidewalks and wait for customers. Fruit is sold by weight, and eggs at so much apiece. The first customer you will see tackling a basket of eggs sorts them all out to get the largest. The merchants bring their cloth, crockery, tinware, etc., and also have it spread out all over the road.

In this country around here is said to be some of the best land in all Germany. The country looks beautiful, there being no fences to be seen, except in the villages, owns and cities. The land is all divided into little patches, each cultivated by a different owner. These patches are all sizes, 10, 15 or 20 spaces wide and from 100 to 200 feet long. They are divided from each other by a narrow furrow. Thus one patch will have grain, another clover, or hops on poles, or grapes, etc., as the case may be. As these patches are so small they are all cultivated by hand. Just now you will see men and women in the fields reaping and mowing with sickles and scythes. This seems strange to Canadians, but in a place like this you will see more women working in the fields than men, as most of the men work in the factories, and the women are left to cultivate the fields and thus add to the family income. Another thing, you will see more cow teams than horse teams. There seem to be no pastures, like in our country. The cows are all kept in stalls and fed in the stable. The clover or corn is cut daily as they need it. The floors of these stables are usually of hard clay or cement, and gutters are made which run from them to a large open cemented tank in the yard to which all swill and waste water from the house is conducted, and into which all the manure is thrown. As the manure is wanted, it is drawn from them to the land, the solid part in wagons and the liquid, which they consider the best, in large barrels.

TOO MUCH POPULATION

As there are so many people living here they have to work close. Thus, we say in Canada we have not population enough to develop the country, but too much population seems to be a great deal worse for the majority of the inhabitants; it enforces competition until everything is forced or cut down to a bare living standard.

The fields at present look fine; everything is cultivated like a garden. Coming down the Rhine you will see on the steep hillside, miles of little stone walls running in tiers up the sides of the hills. These walls are for keeping the soil from being washed by the rainstorms off the hills into the river. Fancy going to the trouble of building stone walls mostly from 5 to 6 feet high, all up and along the sides of rocky hills to keep soil on them, but on these hills are grown the finest grapes in all Germany. The hills are so steep that fertilizers, etc., have to be carried up to the land on baskets strapped to the back.

Another comical sight is the dogs. These are not running around loose like in our place. They have a great many two wheeled hand carts in use here, and in many cases underneath they have a dog hitched in harness to help pull the cart along; in some cases milk carts are drawn by dog teams. The reason why horses are not more common in this part of the country is that he is not regarded as good an economical animal as a cow. They can hitch the cows to wagons or ploughs and use them all day and then likely get some milk from them. The cows are trained to walk rather fast, and seem to understand what is wanted off them.

Another thing I noticed around here, is that you will not see any very desperately poor people like I noticed in London, Eng., and in Havre in France. I never saw boots and clothes worn down to such a piter as in London, nor more dirty and woe-begone looking beggars than in Havre. The police keep a sharp lookout for tramps and if they think they can work any, give them a job at fixing up the roads, if nothing else.

Two City Boys Nearly Drowned

In Rice Lake During a Storm—Clung to a Canoe for Over an Hour

A few weeks ago two young men from Peterborough, who were camping on Rice Lake, had a very narrow escape from drowning. A very heavy storm was raging during the day and the lake was rolling higher than at any other time this year. Messrs. Walter Conway and John Clancy were at Jubilee, and they wanted to go to Gore's Landing. They started out in a canoe, but had not been out very long, when they were upset into the water. They clung to the canoe and swam with it for over an hour and succeeded in getting within 300 yards of Gore's Landing. Then Conway was so exhausted that he could not hold out much longer, and Clancy called for help. The steamer Monarch went out, but the crew either did not see the men or did not think they were in earnest, as they passed. Messrs. Henderson and Wallace, both of Gore's Landing, saw the men, and soon had a small skiff riding the waves towards the unfortunate city boys. It was a fine piece of work on the part of the two rescuers to successfully ride the waves and pick up two men who were on the point of giving up. They were taken to the home of Mr. Wallace at the Landing, who gave them every attention. The boys stayed there over night, and are now very grateful to Mr. Wallace.

An Exciting Time On George Street

Buggy Going Along on Fire

Yesterday a buggy afire, going down George street, attracted a good deal of attention, and the occupants were driving along, unconscious of the fact that their buggy would soon be in a blaze. There was a large supply of dry goods in the rig and when they took fire the smell of cloth burning was so strong to the lady occupant that she insisted on an investigation. They drove onto Charlotte street and there got out, only to find part of their new goods badly burned, and also the rear of the buggy somewhat scorched. Fortunately they noticed it in time before any serious damage was done. It is thought that the fire was started by the careless throwing away of a cigar.

John T. Booth, a well-known butcher of Hamilton, is dead, aged 86.

THE CITY AND VICINITY

TO-NIGHT'S EVENTS

Board of Education.—Special meeting.

Orange Hall—Institution of new tent of the Maccabees.

Special meeting of the License Commissioners.

CHOIR OUTING.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

A special meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening for the purpose of taking up general business which could not be dealt with in committee. It is also likely that the resignations of certain teachers will be taken up.

NEW Y.M.C.A. SECRETARY.

Mr. Davis, Y.M.C.A. secretary, formerly of Toronto but now of Buffalo, was in town Saturday in consultation with the directors of the local association relative to his coming here. Mr. Davis is an energetic young man and appears to be fully capable of overcoming difficulties.—Lindsay Post

CANADA LEADS.

"Everybody's" says that the annual turn-over of Marshal Field's retail store in Chicago is twenty-six and a half millions of dollars, and of Wanamaker's Philadelphia one about twenty millions. If it be true that Eaton's is thirteen millions, the comparison is greatly in Canada's favor. In that case Canadians undoubtedly are greater readers of newspaper advts. than are the Americans. The fact should be remembered by business men everywhere.

MAKING CONNECTIONS.

After a great deal of trouble and considerable exposure in the press and at the Board of Health, Mr. Edwards has decided to put in the sewer connections to his terrace at the corner of London and George streets. There are several houses in this terrace and all are rented so that the sewer will also be a great convenience to them as well as removing all objections to the neighbors. Work was started today.

MEETS TO-NIGHT.

The Board of Education will hold a special meeting this evening.

NO MEETING.

There was no meeting of the Charity Board last night. A quorum did not turn up.

HIS DOWNFALL.

There is in Hastings county jail, undergoing a six months' sentence for drunkenness, a man who was at one time worth $40,000. Wine, women and song were his downfall.

WENT TOO SLOW.

In the report of the speed of the Bay City Boat Manufacturing Co.'s 27-foot craft, with a 15 horse-power engine, it stated that twelve miles an hour was made. It should have been 26 miles an hour, as the company very seldom turns out a boat of less than 20-mile speed.

SHOULD STOP IT.

There are some people who are mighty careless about throwing old truck on the streets. Such people should be taught a little civic pride by a moderate fine. It is impossible for the authorities to keep places clean if people will persist in such practices.

HEAVY FINES

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I notice in your paper of the 26th inst., in reference to the bakers who were fined for being drunk and disorderly that you use the words "heavily fined." I am glad to notice that you at least, think with me that the fine was heavy.

Such a flimsy excuse for arresting three hard working men and drawing from them five dollars or more of their hard earned money was never conceived in the minds of men before.

These three men had worked for 18 long hours in a hot bake shop. After leaving they drop in to have a "social glass," and it does not take many glasses to fix men in their fatigued condition, and while proceeding on their way, perhaps a trifle joyous, some good, kind Christian churchgoer, fee, maybe, to step a little to one side in order to pass these men, and they straightaway telephone to the police. The men are arrested, disgraced and heavily fined.

Thanking you to publish this.

I remain, etc.,
JAS. MALCOLM.

College Student Ran Away From Home

Chief Roszel has received the following communication from Geo. E. Leith, superintendent Pinkerton National Detective Agency of Boston, asking the whereabouts of a young man who ran away from home. Anyone knowing anything of him, will kindly communicate with the chief at the police station.—

Albion Davis Pike of Lubec, Maine, a junior at Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass., disappeared March 15, last, presumably because of criticism by the college officials on account of unsatisfactory class work. The young man's parents are heartbroken over his disappearance and are very anxious that he return to his home or write them.

The following is a description of the young man,—

Name—Albert Davis Pike.
Nativity—American.
Age—21 years.
Height—5 feet, 5 inches.
Weight—About 140 pounds.
Build—Good; has broad shoulders.
Complexion—Fair, with tendency to be dark.
Color of hair—Dark, parted, well over on left side, brushed back, not laid flat as shown in picture.
Eyes—Dark grey.
Nose—Straight; rather large; broad.
Mouth—Small.
Brows—Clearly defined.
Smooth shaven.
Remarks,—Oval face, broad between the eyes; high broad forehead, heavy eyelids, teeth regular, with light-colored new porcelain filling in corner of the right front tooth in upper jaw. Small perpendicular slight scar on upper side of upper lip; trousers 29 1-2 leg, waist band 31, vest and coat size, about 35, shoes, 4 1-2 or 5 b., hat 6 3-4, collar 14 1-2, or 15, supposed to have worn a blue serge suit, double breasted coat, an oxford, grey, light weight paddock, rain proof, no outside pockets; maybe wearing light grey, as he carried two such suits with him. Had light colored leather suit case. He neither smoked nor drank, had no bad habits, had great interests in steam boats, yachts, autos and naval vessels. May have secured a position as chauffeur.

This young man has committed no wrong and any information as to his present whereabouts, either from police officials or private individuals will be gratefully appreciated by his parents, and any expense incurred in way of assisting will be repaid by his father.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, Aug. 27.—The strength of the market during the forenoon was due more to scarcity of stocks when they were wanted by shorts than to aggressive buying. After having eased off a bit from the best prices of the first half hour market hardened again in the second hour and improved gradually all around.

We look for a trading market for a time, with many opportunities for profitable turns on both sides. The trend, however, should be toward a rather gradual recovery in prices.

In the afternoon, there was quite heavy selling pressure on the Eries on talk of reduced dividends and the general list sold off a point or more in sympathy. C.P.R., which sells ex-dividend this week was conspicuously strong, however. The close was quite strong.

Diversion of Downie St. Creek

Board of Works and Residents Have Arrived at Agreement

As soon as all the parties interested sign the petition for the diversion of Downie street creek, the Board of Works will go ahead with the work. This has been the same story told several times during the past year. The matter has been advanced a couple of steps, and there are only one or two to sign, and they are all willing. Mr. Blodgett has always been the greatest kicker. He wanted the banks cribbed through his lot, and after a lot of talking, the Board has consented to do this, but the neighbors there must also help to pay the cost of supplying the labor.

Those present were: Chairman Ald. Duncan, Ald. McIntyre, Johnston and Wilson, and Mayor McWilliams.

Those on the deputation were: Messrs. G. N. Gordon, A. E. Dixon, T. J. Begley, T. R. Blodgett, R. L. Tamblin.

A letter was received from Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon, on behalf of Mr. Blodgett, informing the Board that an injunction would be applied for and an action for damages entered if the city engineer attempted to continue the diversion of the Downie street creek through his property. The city engineer had started to divert the creek, with the intention of going through Mr. Blodgett's lot.

The city engineer had gone up to repair the old bridge and thought that rather than repair the old bridge on Downie street, he would build a new bridge where the creek would be diverted. When the Mayor was acquainted with the circumstances he had the engineer stop the work until after a meeting was held.

Mr. G. N. Gordon, on behalf of Mr. Blodgett, said that the creek was to go through lot 19, and along the west side of lot 18. Mr. Blodgett owns lot 18, and it is very low in the centre. He wants a guarantee that the work will be done in a proper manner. If the city will give a guarantee for a ditch 8 feet deep and 6 feet wide at the top, and properly cribbed, he will deed to the city 8 feet of his land until it reaches his barn, and then it will have to go through Mr. Grant's land and he is willing that the ditch go through his property.

Mr. Hay, city engineer, said that he was keeping the ditch at a depth of 4 1-2 feet below the level of the road.

The members of the deputation stated that if the city sent up a man capable of superintending the work they would all assist in the work.

Moved by Ald. Johnston and Mayor McWilliams, that the Board of Works recommend that the cribbing be put through lot 18, north of Dublin street, and that the corporation furnish the material, and a man to superintend the job, with the assistance of the gentlemen present, and that the Downie street creek be diverted.—Carried.

FARMER HAD HIS HAND BADLY HURT

Mr. George A. Waddell, of the township of Hope, met with a very severe accident while at work on his farm on Friday last. His hired man was operating the binder when suddenly something went wrong with the sheaf throw-off and it stopped. Mr. Waddell placed his right arm inside to fix it, and before he could pull it out the throw-off started. All the bones in the wrist were broken and the butter at the same time mangled the flesh of his arm. The injury is very painful.

APPLICATIONS FOR INSPECTORSHIP

Board of Education Will Make the Appointment Next Week.

It is understood that so far some nine applications have been received by the Board of Education for the position of inspector of Public schools in Peterborough, rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. D. Walker, who will take a place on the staff of the London Normal school.

Among those applying are several High school teachers, who have taught Public school and are therefore fully qualified for the office.

The time for receiving applications expires on Saturday, and an appointment will be made at an early date.

It is said that two Peterborough teachers are seeking the inspectorship and that possibly one of the local men will be chosen to fill Mr. Walker's shoes.

Remove Stones From the Streets

Board of Works to Put Men With a Team to Work Gathering Them Together

All the loose stones lying about the roads are going to be picked up by the city and carted away to places where they can be used with profit. The teamsters drawing gravel all summer have allowed stones to fall off their waggons without picking them up. Contractors, the Gas Company and waterworks men have all added their share to the loose stone pile, with the result that the streets are literally covered with vagrant stones, which are dangerous to horses and wheelmen, and hard on the rigs, as well as uncomfortable when a person cracks their pet corn against one of them.

Several times attention has been called to this condition of affairs in the press, and last night at the Board of Works meeting Ald. Wilson brought the matter up, and had the following motion put through:—

Moved by Ald. Wilson and Ald. McIntyre, that the city engineer be instructed to hire teams and men to draw the stones off the roads.—Carried.

OTHER MATTERS.

Moved by Mayor McWilliams, that the city engineer place a fence along Mr. Loplante's property on the east side of George street instead of Aylmer street.

Moved by Ald. Wilson and Ald. McIntyre, that the Mayor and city solicitor be a deputation to go before the Railway Commission to look after several matters.—Carried.

CAPT. SMITH IS HERE ON VISIT

Now in Charge of Salvation Army Corps at Cobourg

Capt. Smith, who is in charge of the Salvation Army corps at Cobourg and Mrs. Smith, are spending a few days in the city. They were welcome visitors at the barracks last evening. The captain is an old bandsman and formerly played with several members of the Peterborough Salvation Army band, in Reading, Berkshire, England. Needless to say, his comrades of yore are giving him a cordial reception.

Do Not Want to Pay Dog Taxes

Chief Vincent has an interesting time of it these days collecting the dog taxes. People who care enough for a dog to feed it and keep it should be willing to pay the nominal annual tax, but such is not the case, and all kinds of subterfuges are used to evade the law. One "lady" denied up and down that she owned a dog. Later, when she was confronted with evidence, she said the dog was her son's. Other deceptions of similar nature are continually being employed, but the chief says he will take no excuses—all unlicensed dogs will have to undergo the death penalty.—Lindsay Post.

Mr. Richard Dawson of San Francisco Leaves for Home To-morrow

Mr. Richard Dawson of San Francisco, California, who has been holidaying with his brother at Young's Point for three weeks, will return home tomorrow. Mr. Dawson many years ago, was employed in the Review office and learned the art preservative. He has done well since going to Uncle Sam's domain about thirty years ago. He spent some eleven years in Alaska, and now owns a fine, attractive, seven storey building in Seattle. He lost two fine houses in San Francisco, at the time of the earthquake. He generally spends his summers in this vicinity and has many warm friends in Peterborough, who he is always pleased to meet. Mr. Dawson is now one of the wealthiest men in the city of the Golden Gate.

MRS. DAVEY HAS BEEN RELEASED

On Ticket-of-Leave System After Spending Month in Mercer Reformatory

It will be remembered that about a month ago, Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Davey, Parnell street, was sentenced by Police Magistrate Dumble to a year in the Mercer Reformatory, Toronto, for keeping an alleged disorderly house.

At the request of her husband, Mr. J. W. Davey, her lawyer, Mr. G. N. Gordon, petitioned the Secretary of State for her release, and today word was received from the Department at Ottawa, that Mrs. Davey had been allowed out on ticket-of-leave system. She has now her liberty, and it is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Davey will take up their residence in Winnipeg.

MR. FRED ASHTON RETURNS TO CITY

Appointed District Manager of Union Life Assurance Co.

Mr. Fred Ashton, formerly manager of the Peterborough branch of the Union Life Assurance Co., is back to the city again. Mr. Ashton left Peterborough for Oshawa in October, 1905, and has been very successful there. He takes hold of the Peterborough office again this week as district manager. His many friends will be pleased to see him around as of yore. They are sorry to learn though, that he has suffered a great loss during his absence, as his wife was interred in Toronto, two weeks ago today, Aug. 13. For some months she had been a great sufferer, and she died Aug. 11th from inflammation of the bowels, leaving Mr. Ashton and his two children to travel their path alone. Many friends sincerely sympathize with Mr. Ashton in his affliction. They also wish him continued success and bespeak for him in Peterborough a prosperous career.

Lindsay Cheese Sold at Good Price

Peterborough Buyers Present—Highest Figure Was 11 7-16 cents

There was a pleased lot of salesmen at yesterday morning's meeting of the Victoria County Cheese Board, says the Lindsay Post, the reason being the presence of five buyers, three being from Peterborough. They were Messrs. Brown, Clemes (for Flavelles, Limited), Gillespie, Cook, and Weir, Peterborough.

"We are after cheese," remarked Mr. Weir to President Robertson after a hearty handshake. "The pastures are drying up down our way, and we've got to come to you."

"Glad to have you come often," responded Mr. Robertson. "Somehow the demand seems keener when we have a couple of visiting buyers." And the home men looked at one another and smiled.

The number of cheese boarded was 1396, while the number boarded on the same date last year, was 1521.

"Now, gentlemen, make your offers," remarked the President.

Mr. Clemes led off with 10 3-4c., Mr. Cook called 11c., Mr. Weir made it 1-8c. better, Mr. Clemes came back with 11 1-4c. Mr. Cook made it 11 3-8c. for the Board, and Mr. Clemes toed the mark and raised it to 11 7-16c. He called Reaboro, Bobcaygeon and a few other factories, but the patrons refused to part with their product at the price, manifesting a desire for the even half.

"The figure I've offered is the highest given in two weeks," remarked Mr. Clemes.

This failed to melt the hearts of the salesmen, although one of them expressed his willingness to accept the offer if the others would.

After a few moment's delay, Mr. Clemes said, "Well, I'll make it 11 1-2c." He called Bobcaygeon, Reaboro, North Verulam and Red Rock as a starter and on getting his second wind went ahead with a rush until nearly every factory was cleaned up.

"Well, we've had a real nice visit," remarked Buyer Cook, "but I'm sorry to go away empty handed. You've got a mighty good price, because I count it worth an extra sixteenth to inspect and ship cheese from this district."

The next sale will be held two weeks hence, when the last half of August make will be offered.

License Board Meets To-night

To Consider Matter of Granting License to Royal Hotel

A meeting of the Board of License Commissioners of West Peterborough, will be held this evening in the office of the inspector, Mr. Joseph Stewart.

It is understood that matters relating to the Royal Hotel, Hunter street, will be discussed. The license of this house expired on July 31st, and Mr. James H. Kelly, the present proprietor, is at present about to effect a sale to Mr. O. McCrowne of Toronto. If certain regulations are complied with, it is said that a license may be given a new proprietor, and it is to discuss this question that the commissioners will meet this evening.

NO DAMAGE TO WHEAT CROPS

If Weather From Now on is Favorable Harvesting Will be General in 10 Days

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—A gentleman of the highest standing in the grain trade has within the past week concluded by special train a tour of about 1,000 miles through many of the finest wheat sections in Manitoba and portions of Saskatchewan.

"I did not see any sign of damage by frost," was his statement to the News. "The tenderest garden stuff and flowers were untouched, and it is therefore, reasonable to suppose that the wheat has not been damaged.

"It is impossible to say in a day or two what damage might be done to wheat by an examination of the wheat plants, but all outward evidences go to show that the wheat is perfectly safe and sound.

"The country is looking fine, and prospects are very good, but no one not even the most expert of present-day prophets, can foretell the ultimate result of the harvest."

There is a strong feeling among many grain men that frost croakers should be shown no quarter.

They have no ground for their scares up to date, and their predictions so far have not been fulfilled.

The trouble with most of them is that they are loaded with wheat.

Little can be added to the above.

The situation today is perfect, so far as the weather is concerned.

If frost keeps off, harvesting will be general in ten days.

Many More Logs Still to Come Down

The Peterborough Lumber Co., has so far received about 5,000,000 feet of logs which are being brought down the river by the Cavendish Lumber Co. The Peterborough mill has had a very busy season and will continue operations until late in the fall. There is still another drive of about 4,000,000 feet of logs to be brought down after the present one, which is now on its way from Lakefield. This will be the last drive of the season.

LITTLE BOY HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Came Near Being Run Over by Belleville Train

Just after the incoming Belleville train had crossed the C.P.R. tracks yesterday morning shortly after 8 o'clock, the emergency brake had to be applied. It appears that a child was standing on the track utterly indifferent to the imminent danger that he was in. The little fellow declined to move, and the engineer just managed to stop the train in time to save the life of the small wayfarer. The engine was brought to a standstill only a few feet from where the youngster was playing.

The call was certainly a close one and some of the lady passengers were very much excited over the incident.

Verulam Farmer Had Close Call

Mr. Wm. Mann, who was councillor for so many years in North Verulam, had a marvellous escape the other day. He was helping to set up a stumping machine, part of which consists of three great sticks of timber about twenty feet long that stand up on end forming a triangle. By some means they fell, grazing Mr. Mann's back. His clothes were torn off and his back bruised. Three inches more and he would have been smashed to a pulp. It gave them all around a fright they will not forget for a while.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

The Free Postal Delivery Starts

Guelph Will Have it September 15th—Peterboro' is Forgotten

The City of Guelph, with a population of several thousand less than Peterborough, will have free postal delivery on the streets by Sept. 15th. The city has now started to number the houses. The men to deliver the mails have been engaged, and at a respectable salary, and are ready to start on their daily rounds.

Peterborough has not got the street delivery yet, and there is not the least sign of it being instituted for many months yet. The salary of $480 a year is not at all tempting and the government evidently has no intention of giving the city a free service, or the matter of salary would soon be settled. The Postmaster-General evidently thinks that there is too much money being made out of the local post office, and he does not care to reduce this profit by giving the people what they pay for. The representative for Guelph and the representative for Stratford and other little cities keep after the post office department until they get what they want, while this city is allowed to be forgotten.

Would Borrow The Road Roller

Bell Telephone Co. Desired to Use it in Their Construction Work

The Bell Telephone Co. wanted to borrow the city's road roller for the purpose of fixing up and rolling down the trenches after the conduits had been laid. But the Board of Works could not hear of the request for two reasons; first, because every other contractor and company in the city would want to borrow or rent it, and secondly, because the chances of damaging the roller would be too great.

Mr. F. W. Doan, manager of the Bell Telephone Co., in the city, asked the Board for the loan of the steam road roller for use on their work. He said the idea was to put the spikes in one wheel and run it up the street. It would lighten their work considerably and they would be willing to pay a rent for it.

The city engineer said that it would be impossible to run the roller with spikes in one wheel. The machine would not be on the level and it would be strained. It was decided not to allow the roller to be used for any other purpose.

Fish Got Away After Hard Fight

Had a 25 Pounder Almost in the Boat When the Hook Straightened Out

A comparatively young man went fishing in Little Lake yesterday afternoon, but returned a downcast and heart broken man. He had paddled up and down for an hour or two and had got nothing, but as he was going down the stream past Matthews Pork Packing establishment he got a big lunge on the hook. It pulled and jumped and capered about like a colt and the fisherman began to feel that he had been rewarded for his hard work. He was pulling his line in at a good speed when the fish jumped, and when it struck the water again it made such a splash that the boat had to be bailed out to keep it from sinking. It was a 25 pounder at least, and it fought like a forty pounder. Just before the fisherman pulled the last pull the lunge made an effort to get away. So great was its strength, that it straightened the hook out and got away. It was a sad moment for the fisherman and as he related the circumstance to an old friend he had hard work to keep back the tears. Still hoping that the fish had been so badly injured that it would die and float on the water, the young fellow went down to Little Lake and paddled around from four o'clock until breakfast time, but he got no fish.

Simon Marshall was acquitted at Lindsay yesterday of fur smuggling.

Property Committee Seeking Information as to Public Libraries

The Property Committee, which has in charge the remodelling of the building for the new Public Library, are going on a little trip this week. They expect to leave Thursday morning and get back Friday night. The idea is to visit Guelph, Galt, Berlin, Paris and Brantford, and look at the new Public Library buildings there. It is thought that they might get a little information which will be of use to them in remodelling the building here. Besides the Property Committee, Mr. Richard Hall and a couple of the members of the Library Board are going along, so that there should be quite a jolly party and they should have a pleasant as well as a profitable outing.

Will King Street Bridge Last?

Board of Works Would Like to Repair it Until Next Spring

The condition of the King Street bridge over the creek is a matter which had the Board of Works guessing last night. For the past two years that bridge has been considered unsafe, and the people have voted the money to rebuild it. At the present, time, however, there is so much work on hand, that, if possible, the board would like to have it repaired, so as to last until spring. The City Engineer will examine the bridge and report at the next meeting. The following motions were passed by the Board.

Moved by Ald. Johnston and Mayor McWilliams, that the City Engineer's recommendation to construct the bridge over the creek on King street of re-inforced cement be adopted.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Johnston and Ald. McIntyre, that the City Engineer, be instructed to report on what it would cost to repair the King street bridge and put it in a safe condition. Carried.

Moved by Ald. McIntyre and Ald. Johnston, that the City Engineer, examine as to whether any work done by the city, has aggravated the conditions at Mr. Londerville's on Homewood avenue, where water causes trouble, and that if so, that the engineer have authority to remedy it. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Johnston and Ald. Wilson, that the City Engineer be instructed to put an approach on Charlotte street, to St. Thomas street. Carried.

Martin Had Very Poor Memory

Could Not Remember Anything About His Spree Yesterday

Thos. Martin, who has been living in this city, only a short time was taken into custody yesterday by P. C. McGinty for being drunk and disorderly, pleaded guilty at the police court this morning.

City Clerk Armstrong presided. When the charge was read, Martin was not sure whether he was guilty or not. He didn't remember anything that took place, but he thought that he was guilty.

"You are fined two dollars, to be paid forthwith," said His Worship. Martin had not the necessary two spot, but upon explanation that he could get it, was allowed to go.

TO GET OUT OF TOWN.

Frank Meehan, who says that his place of abode was in Cobourg, was charged with vagrancy. He said that he had been working, but was going home to Cobourg.

"Well, I will let you go," said His Worship, "if you get right out of town."

"I am much obliged and will not be back in five years," replied Meehan.

"There is a train for Cobourg in a short while," said Chief Rennet.

"All right, I'll catch it," said the "vag," and off he went.

Will Anyone Back Hartley in His Walk to Toronto and Back?

An Opportunity for Local Sports to Make Some Money—He is Confident of Making the Distance in the Stated Time—September His Month.

David Hartley, the local long distance pedestrian who established a record for walking on Civic holiday in speaking to the Review last evening in regard to Reynolds' of Port Hope, challenge, said that he certainly would not give him a handicap of four hours. Mr. Hartley states that to give him four hours of a start would mean about twenty miles of a lead and that certainly is not agreeable to the Peterborough man. What Mr. Hartley is willing to give him is a handicap of one hour at the finish. That is, the local pedestrian is still confident of accomplishing the 136 miles from Port Hope to Toronto in 32 hours and he says that if Reynolds can accomplish this stretch in 33 hours he will give him the race.

Mr Hartley is very anxious to see this come off, and even though Reynolds will not accept this, he will walk the 136 miles in 32 hours for the time alone. He states that if he receives sufficient encouragement he will do it, and with that end in view he is keeping himself in training. He is positive of accomplishing it. He says he can make Toronto in 13 hours, which is remarkably fast going, but Mr. Hartley said that when he declared that he could make Bailieboro in two hours and a half, he did it in one minute less. This long distance walker is not talking hot air. He means every word he says.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Hartley's ambition to make such a walking record, does not meet with more encouragement, and that some of the local sports do not back him. Mr. Hartley says that all he wants is some money at the back of it, and he will accomplish it. He says Reynolds knows what he can do, as he witnessed him win a long distance walk some years ago, at Central Park. The event was to accomplish 150 miles in 36 hours. Seven laps around Central Park was reckoned a mile. Mr. Hartley was one of the fortunate competitors in it. But he would rather walk a straight road, as it is not looking at the same thing always and it is not so monotonous.

He is desirous of seeing the walk to Toronto come off in September He says the weather will be cooler and he will be in better condition than on Civic holiday. All he wants is some encouragement, and the walk will take place.

Havelock is Progressive; School By-law Was Carried

47 Voted in Favor of $4,000 Addition to Present Building and 35 Against—Majority is 12—High School Work Will be Taken Up.

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Aug. 26.—The by-law to raise $4,000 for the purpose of building an addition to the present school building was voted on and carried to day by a majority of twelve. The total number of votes cast was only 82. 47 votes in favor of it. 35 against it.

There was quite a bit of interest taken in the voting by those in favor of the by-law, but on the other side there was nothing doing.

The new addition to the school which will cost $4000, will be built of brick veneer and will be about 33 ft. square. It will adjoin and be south of the present school building. The idea of the school board is to build this part now and in a few years to complete the structure by another building. The upper story of the addition will be used for teaching high school work, for which there will be a special teacher. Pupils will now be able to prepare for their matriculation and 2nd class certificates without leaving Havelock.

Too Much Prosperity Has Resulted in a Set Back

Shrinkage in Wall Street Values Has Already Exceeded $3,000,000—Monetary Outlook Though Far From Satisfactory, is Improving.

Henry Clews & Co., barristers, write;—

New York, Aug. 24.—The shrinkage in Wall street values has already exceeded $3,000,000,000. This is largely due, not to President Roosevelt's policy or his action in connection with corporations; for similar disturbances have taken place in London and elsewhere. English Consols, for instance, are lower today than they have been in the history of the nation. As a matter of fact, we have had in this country too much prosperity for several years, causing an overdoing in all channels of work, construction and speculation. In other words, there has been too much business for capital, credit and transportation. Values had become inflated, and in the meantime there were many evidences of corporate dishonesty which shocked confidence by the revelations that cropped out from time to time. Mr. Roosevelt's policy has been forced upon him by these developments. While the penalty now being paid may be bitter for the excesses that have taken place, the situation will be a sounder one in the end and all interests will be established on a more conservative basis. Great prosperity has forced upon corporations a larger amount of business than they had the ability to handle; hence the flooding of the market with securities to obtain the means to meet the emergency and the excessive issues from that source. It is plain to be seen, therefore, that those who blame Mr. Roosevelt for all our troubles are in error. Actual conditions have been mainly responsible. We have been confronted with conditions, not theories.

The monetary situation, though far from being satisfactory, is gradually improving. No doubt liquidation has enforced sufficient contraction in loans to materially strengthen the banks and enable the latter to finance the crop and the large business demands of the interior. All accounts from the interior are encouraging. As a result of average crops and profitable prices, there is every prospect of a good market this fall for all staple products, even if the stringency of the money market should enforce a curtailment of new enterprises and speculative operations. There is no doubt that the country would be better off for a moderate recession in general business, so that tension might be relieved and affairs return to the normal; for Wall street is still the storm centre, and, while the end has apparently not come, the financial situation has been much bettered by the decline to a lower and safer level. There is more or less uneasiness in London, Paris and Berlin, where much the same difficulties are being faced, though less intense.

The credit system just now is one that calls for calm judgment. A wave of hysteria has passed over the street and should be overcome and beaten down. The country is not on the verge of ruin. It is suffering from various excesses and needs a period of diminished activity for recuperation. The liquidation cure is painful, but inevitable, and when completed the patient should come out of its present state in good health. Those who control the purse strings should be calm and self-poised, giving assistance when needed to concerns of proved soundness and earning capacity and rigidly withholding it from those which are unstable and unduly speculative. The stock market is still in an unsettled condition. It shows fair rallying powers; but it is evident that liquidation is incomplete, and those who are able to purchase good stocks outright will undoubtedly be able to pick them up at prices that will yield good profits to the permanent holders. On all marginal transactions we advise great caution.

PRESENTATION TO MR. T. J. WALLACE

Highly Honored by His Pupils in Central School

The pupils of Mr. T. J. Wallace's class in the Central School gathered at his home on George street last evening and presented him with an appreciative address accompanied by a pretty watch fob, and handsome gold tie-pin, while Mrs. Wallace was given a choice box of candy.

Mr. Wallace leaves in a few days for Toronto, where he has been appointed assistant head master of the Queen Alexandra School.

Though much surprised by the unexpected kindness and tokens of esteem on the part of his late pupils, Mr. Wallace made a grateful and appropriate reply, in which he expressed his regret at leaving Peterborough, but joined in wishing them every success in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, after the presentation, pleasantly entertained their callers.

The following is a copy of the address;

Peterborough, August 26th, 1907.

Mr. T. J. Wallace,
City,

Dear Mr. Wallace.—We, the pupils of your last class, have heard with deep regret that you have severed your connection with the Public schools of this city and are about to remove to Toronto.

While we congratulate you on your promotion, yet we wish to express our sorrow at losing a teacher whose associations with us have been so pleasant and profitable.

We have always held you in the highest esteem, both as a gentleman and as a teacher; and, if our childish indifference has at any time been trying to your patience, we trust you will overlook it, and by your kindly reproof of such indifference, we have every reason to believe you will

Before you leave us, we would ask you kindly to accept this gift as a very slight token of the love and esteem of your late class. In bidding you good-bye we would ask you to accept our best wishes for your success in your new sphere of labor and we trust you may long be spared to fill your post of usefulness being to many boys and girls what you have been to us, we are,

Yours very sincerely,

Signed on behalf of the class;

Verna Merrill, Gladys Pentland, Blanche Hart, Harry Nelson, Carl Halpany, Douglas Johnson, Chas Faber, Max Davidson, Harold Smith, Howard Armstrong, Elsie Stephenson, Olla Mulligan, Maud Morris, Bruce Blanchest, Frank Pigeon, Fred Maley, Annie Martin, Ody Dutton, Verda Hinds, Lena Elcome, Sherlock Thompson, Laura Walsh, Wilfred Hardill, Stella Wallace.

EXPERIMENTS OF AUTUMN SOWING

Material Will be Sent Free to Farmers Who Will Report Results

The area used for sowing wheat and other autumn crops was somewhat greater throughout Ontario in the fall of 1906 than in that of 1905. At the Agricultural College this year, winter wheat and winter rye, have produced large yields of grain which is above the average in quality, but the winter barley and hairy vetches have given results somewhat lower than those of 1906.

Generally speaking, white wheats, as compared with red wheats, yield more grain per acre, possess stronger straw, weigh a little less per measured bushel, are slightly softer in the grain, produce a more popular pastry flour, and furnish a somewhat weaker flour for bread production.

Of the white wheats, Dawson's golden chaff, and other very similar varieties, such as, abundance, American banner, beardless rural New Yorker No. 6, American wonder, superlative, forty-fold, prize taker and extra early Windsor, and of the red wheats, imperial amber, paramount, and Crimean red, have produced the highest yields of grain per acre in the College experiments. In the following characteristics, the varieties mentioned below are very prominent.;

Stiffness of straw.—Dawson's golden chaff, prosperity, economy, and early Ontario.

Hardness of grain.—Buda Pesth, No. 5 red, Crimean red, Banatka, Tasmania red and Geneva.

Weight of grain.— Northwestern, Auburn and Geneva.

Milling quality of grain.—Tasmania red, ruby, Onigara, Crimean red, Yaroslaf, Turkey red, early Genesee, Giant, Bantka, Northwester, Geneva and imperial amber.

We are endeavoring to improve some of the best varieties of winter wheat by means of systematic selection and by cross-fertilization. Each of eight different selected strains of Dawson's golden chaff wheat gave a yield of over 70 bushels of grain per acre in 1907. Some of the most promising hybrids, which are constant in type this year, are those produced by crossing the Dawson's golden chaff with the Bulgarian and with the Turkey red. The object in crossing is to originate new kinds which will combine the good qualities and eliminate the undesirable features of the parent varieties.

The results of many tests conducted at the College indicate the importance of sowing with a grain drill, large, plump, sound, well matured seed wheat, at the rate of about a bushel and a half per acre on well prepared clover sod, and earlier, if possible, than the 10th of September. Smutted wheat should be immersed for twenty minutes in a solution of one pint of formalin and forty-two gallons of water.

The recent tests at the College of other classes of autumn sown crops show the following varieties to be the heaviest average yielders of grain per acre; Mammoth white winter rye, 62 bushels; Tennessee winter barley, 53.4 bushels; hairy vetches, 5.7 bushels and Black winter Emmer.

In the co-operative experiments conducted throughout Ontario in 1907 under the direction of the Experimental Union, the average yields of grain per acre, were as follows;

Winter wheat, Imperial Amber, 22.2 bushels.

Abundance, 21.7 bushels.

Michigan Amber, 20.3 bushels.

Winter Rye, Mammoth, 23.4 bushels and Common, 21.4 bushels.

DISTRIBUTION FOR EXPERIMENT

As long as the supply lasts, material will be distributed free of charge in the order in which the applications are received from Ontario farmers wishing to experiment and to report the results of any one of the following tests; 1—Hairy Vetches and Winter Rye as fodder crops; 2—three varieties of winter wheat; 3—five fertilizers with winter wheat; 4—autumn and spring applications of nitrate of soda and common salt on winter wheat, and 5—two varieties of winter rye. The size of each plot is to be one rod wide by two rods long. Material for numbers 3 and 4 will be sent by express and that for the others by mail.

GOLF

A PRESENTATION

At the usual Saturday afternoon tea at the Club House, on the 24th, a genuine surprise was prepared for Mr. and Mrs. T. S. G. Pepler, who are leaving Port Hope for their new home in Toronto. Mr. S. S. Smith, the vice president of the club, read an address on behalf of the members, in which great regret was expressed at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Pepler, and sincere appreciation was shown of Mr. Pepler's long and successful work as captain and player and Mrs. Pepler's help on the ladies' team.—Port Hope Guide.

LAWN BOWLING

Any games in Scotch Doubles and Singles competitions, not played off by Thursday evening, 29th inst., will be counted as defaults.

The Singles competition last night resulted as follows.—

D. R. Moore, 12; Ed. Runnells, 13.
Will Pratt, 13; Dr. Leach, 4.

The following scratch games were also played yesterday.—

Will Pratt	J. P. Cunningham
W. Aitchison	A. R. Kidd
W. M. Lang	T. E. Pratt
Dr. Holloway, 22.	D. Belleghem, 17.

A game between two skips resulted,—Dr. Greer, 10; Dr. Caldwell, 7.

PORT HOPE COMING.

Three rinks from Port Hope are expected here tomorrow, to play a game with the Peterborough lawn bowlers. There will be both afternoon and evening contests.

HOCKEY

WANDERERS MAY DISBAND

Montreal, Aug. 24.—People who in the past have followed the fortunes of the Wanderers, will be sorry to here that the chances are that an entire reorganization of the celebrated hockey club will take place before the next hockey season opens.

It is stated on the best of authority that the three principal backers of the club, Messrs. Strachan, Stephenson and Ahern, have announced their intention of withdrawing from the club. As the club has no association to back it up, this naturally will be a severe blow. The three gentlemen in question have been for years the mainstay and backbone of the organization.

BASEBALL

AS VIEWED IN PORT HOPE.

Speaking of Saturday's game here the Port Hope Guide says;

Cobourg were sore over the defeat administered by Peterborough in Cobourg a few weeks ago, when Phalen, of Rochester, did the twirling for the home club. But the very next week Peterborough, to the great satisfaction of Cobourg, did likewise to Port Hope and this gave Cobourg a chance for the championship. Money was no object and at the Old Boys' Re-union, Cobourg collected a couple of hundred dollars in a few hours Wyneburg was given the contract to hire the players and told to get the best. $100 was Barry's price, but they had to have him. They were going to show Port Hope that they could win the championship. Well, they got him, and today they are minus their change and about the sickest crowd you would find in a week's travel.

Owing to Labor Day next Monday the Peterborough baseball club are unable to get a special to Port Hope on Saturday and, at the request of Manager Johnston, Port Hope will go to Peterborough next Saturday, the return game to take place here the following Saturday. Tickets for the round trip will be issued at 95 cents.

SOME JOTTINGS

The Port Hope Guide contains the following notes on Saturday's game;

It is a well known fact that Cobourg must have a pretty sure thing before they will bet any money. On Saturday they flashed it around liberally, but there were few takers, the majority of the enthusiasts expecting Cobourg to win.

Their line-up was somewhat of a mystery and they were not anxious to make it known. Ask any of them for the list and they would smile broadly and reply; "we have the goods; it pays to get the best." However, it gradually came out, and long before the game started, nearly every person could tell you the lineup.

Cobourg went out on the 7.20 train and were accompanied by about fifteen supporters. A delegation of Port Hopers went out on the 10.40 train and baseball was the chief topic in Peterborough.

Peterborough had two changes in the regular line-up. Joe Hickey, of the Toronto Wellingtons played first and Jimmie O'Hearn, of Port Hope, looked after centre field.

And just a word about the game. When it was all over, Cobourg, with their importations from Rochester, Toronto and elsewhere, had been walloped to the tune of 14 to 6. It was hard for the Cobourgites to realize it; a hard crack, a $200 touch, and their championship chances for 1907 thwarted.

What those Peterborough fellows did to Barry is a shame and they certainly put Eastern League ball in the background. They drove the leather to all parts of the lot and in the sixth innings they made it so merry that Mr. Barry was put on the bench. That was a hard one to swallow; an Eastern Leaguer, who just the day previous had allowed Rochester only five hits, and now he was obliged to take the bench in a country league game. McKinnon took the box, but he only lasted a couple of minutes and Tommy Ford finished the game.

Peterborough played a great game and deserved their victory. They are a heavy hitting aggregation and they glide about the bases faster than any team in the league. Every man is on the job and they never miss an opportunity to score.

RUGBY

SENIOR CLUBS PROSPECTS

Toronto, Aug. 26.—At a meeting of the senior club representatives of the O.R.F.U. on Saturday night at the King Edward Hotel the Rugby prospects were discussed, and plans mapped out for the season's campaign. The meeting was purely informal, but it was agreed before adjournment that the first regular meeting of the executive would be held during the first week of September.

President Ballard, of the Tigers, was in the chair, and the Argos were represented by W. A. Hewitt, and the Victorias by Alex. Hamilton. The Peterborough club was not represented. Secretary J. B. Hay reported the junior and intermediate prospects to be exceedingly bright.

President Ballard suggested on behalf of the Hamilton Tigers, that the senior series this season be split up into two sections, the Tigers and Argoes to form one district, and the Victorias and Peterborough the other. It was also suggested that London and Dundas be asked to form a third district. It is altogether probable, however, that the teams will be grouped the same as last year.

Several other important matters came before the meeting, but they were, of course, referred to the executive. It is expected that the rule books will be ready for distribution at an early date.

Peterboro' Men At D.R.A. Matches

Were in the Money on Monday and Are Entered for Aggregate Matches

Eight members of the 57th regiment left on Saturday night for Ottawa to compete in the rifle matches of the Dominion Rifle Association. They were as follows;—Staff-Sergt. F. Bartlett, Ptes. Fitzgerald, C. Curtis, J. B. Parkland, Corp. J. Gibson, Ptes. H. Watson, D. Cameron and Col-Sergt. W. H. Moore. They have been entered in all the aggregate matches and it is hoped that at least one of them will be picked for the Bisley team. Several times the Peterborough regiment has been represented on the team and there is no reason why it should not be this year.

Those who were in the money in yesterday's matches from the 57th were Pte H. Watson in the tyro match won $3, scoring 28 points. Pte. H. Watson won $8 in the Banker's match, scoring 33; Col.-Sergt. W. H. Moore won $5 in the Banker's match, scoring 32; Pte. Geo. Fitzgerald won $4 in Sir Charles Ross' match, scoring 28; Pte H. Watson won $5 in the McDougall Challenge Cup match, scoring 64.

Interred in Westminster Abbey Are Remains of Noted Musician

Where Muzio Clementi, Father of the late Reverend Vincent Clementi, of Peterborough, is at Rest—Inscription on Slab in South Cloister of Abbey Copied by Peterborough Visitors While in London Recently

While on their recent visit to London, England, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rush, of this city, among other places of historic interest, visited Westminster Abbey. The remains of Muzio Clementi, father of the late Rev. Vincent Clementi, of Peterborough, are interred in the Abbey, and from the slab in the south cloister of the Abbey Mr. and Mrs. Rush copied the following inscription, which will be read with much interest by the many friends of this widely known family in Peterborough;—

MUZIO CLEMENTI,
Called
The father of the pianoforte.
His fame as a musician and composer
Acknowledged throughout Europe,
Procured him the honor of public interment
In this Cloister.
Born at Rome, 1752.
Died at Evesham, 1832.

The following is also copied from the Record Book at Westminster Abbey;—

The Funeral Book says that he died at Evesham, aged 80 years, one month and fifteen days, and was buried from No. 26 Newham St. Oxford street. He was an eminent musical composer, and is said to have been born at Rome, and to have been brought from Italy to England at an early age by the celebrated Peter Beckford, Esq. He was at least twice married as he had a license from the Faculty Offices 3rd July, 1811, being then a widower, to marry Emma Gisborne, of St. Giles in the Fields Midlx, spinster. His will, as late of Lincroft House, near Lichfield, County Stafford, but then of Evesham, County Worcester, dated 2nd January, 1832, was proved 24th April, following. He bequeathed £400 among the children of his late brother, Gaetano, and his sister, Regina Clementi Maltest, and the residue of his estate as well as £1,000 for immediate use to his wife, Emma, mother of the late Rev. Vincent Clementi, of Peterborough.

Man Had Foot Torn From Body

Limb Was Caught in a Cable With Painful Results

Mr. Morgan Terrill, a man about fifty years of age, whose home is in Belleville, on Monday evening was the victim of a distressing accident He is employed by the Lehigh Company at Point St. Ann, and with many other employees, came up from the works on the company's steamer Salaberry. When the dock was reached the cable was thrown out and made fast to a post on the dock.

Terrill, it appears, was standing near the cable, and in some manner the rope coiled around his left foot, jerking him suddenly to the deck of the boat and pulling him towards the opening in the side of the vessel through which the rope was passing. The strain was so great that the unfortunate man's foot was nearly torn off. Every bone was broken and crushed, and the foot was only hanging by a few shreds of flesh and skin. When Terrill's predicament was seen, one of the men cut the rope with an axe, but too late to save the man's foot.

His Worship Magistrate Dumble was again in his place at the police court this morning, but there was little doing at the mill of justice. John R. Dundas was charged with not paying $4.00 to Stanley McCabe, wages due him. Dundas was not present, but admitted the claim. His Worship ordered the money to be paid in eight days.

IN THE CLAY BELT

16,000,000 Acres Suitable for Cultivation —A Lake Discovered in the North.

Mr. T. B. Speight, Ontario Government Land Surveyor, in a letter to the Lands, Forests and Mines Department, Toronto, from Lake Kabinagogami, states that there are in the "Clay Belt" 16,000,000 acres of land, which will be suitable for cultivation.

Mr. Speight also reports the discovery of a large lake, not shown on official maps.

"We crossed it first," he says, on the base line at the middle of XVII. M., and it extends westerly as far as the middle of XXX. M. Its greatest width will be about three miles, and it is dotted throughout with numerous islands. I spent most of two days making a fairly accurate sketch of it. It will have a shore line of at least fifty miles."

Mr. Speight hopes to complete his survey by the first of October.

Fine Samples of Manitoba Wheat

Are on View in Window of Mr. Jas. Lynch's Drug Store

Mr. Wm. McBain, formerly of this district, who now resides in Keyes, Manitoba, has sent Mr. T. L. Anderson, Water street, several samples of wheat heads cut on his farm about a week ago. The wheat is headed out nicely, has a fine strong stalk and is just turning color.

The samples are now on view in the drug store of Mr. James Lynch, Hunter street. Mr. McBain, who is a cousin of Mr. J. J. McBain, of this city, reports that if the frost holds off long enough, he will have the finest yield of wheat that he has ever had since going to the west. The outlook for a bountiful harvest in Mr McBain's section is most promising.

Saturday Game Will Start at 3

To Allow People to Catch Second Section of C.P.R. for Toronto

The big baseball game, Peterborough vs. Port Hope, at the Riverside park on Saturday afternoon next for the championship of the Midland league, will start at three o'clock sharp, instead of half-past three. This change is made to accommodate the large number who are desirous of getting away on the C.P.R. for Toronto. The second section is due to leave here at 5.15. There will be a record crowd at the game. The grand stand will be filled and the fence around the diamond will be lined several deep. Get there early and get a good place and see all the game.

At Bridgeburg yesterday, one Naxon, employed in the shipyards, was stabbed three times by an Italian laborer.

In a fight in the Italian section of Fort William on Friday night knives were used, and Louis Wegoilet may die.

Big Fair is Now in Full Swing; Canada's National Exhibition

Earl Grey Performs Inauguration Ceremony at Toronto.

Many Thousands Present in Spite of Rain—Representative Gathering of Public Men—Great Collection of Agricultural and Industrial Exhibits—New Buildings Much Admired.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—It wasn't exactly ideal weather for the 29th annual opening of the Canadian National Exhibition. The skies were leaden all day long and, what was more, rain poured at intervals of varying regularity from the forenoon until well on into the night.

But for all that, the scattered thousands who were attracted to the opening ceremonials were denied only two features of the day's program. The air ship did not ascend into the murky ether and the grand stand performance at night, including the spectacle of the fall of Badajos, the fireworks and the Duss band, had to be called off.

The button was, however, officially pressed by Earl Grey, the doors of the various buildings were thrown wide open and the afternoon performance was held within the enclosure, providing excellent entertainment for a gathering of 8,000.

Big Crowd, Just the Same.

Just how many people passed through the gates was not made the subject of official announcement, but, considering how unkind the elements were, the attendance was wonderfully good. It is true that early in the evening the grounds took on a somewhat deserted and desolate aspect, insomuch that the bandsmen of the 48th Highlanders quit their posts through lack of listeners, but the rain was beating down pitilessly enough to dampen the enthusiasm of the most ardent music lover.

The assembly at the directors' luncheon was the most representative gathering of public men ever brought together on such an occasion in the history of the fair.

What the Show Looks Like.

The public found the buildings and their contents looking more attractive, probably, than had been anticipated. In the manufacturers' building practically every exhibit was in a state of finished completeness, and the same was true of the new horticultural building, whose striking architectural design was a revelation to most of the visitors. The art gallery, with its fine collection of paintings, Canadian and foreign, the women's building, process building, national history building, and, indeed, every nook and corner of the grounds, was invaded and everything had the freshness of novelty, for the exhibition really never grows old.

In one regard only was impatience shown. There was no slight vexation and disappointment over the failure of Aerial Navigator Robinson to carry out his contract, after keeping the spectators waiting in a drizzle for more than an hour. The reason given was that there was danger of the airship being carried out over the lake, but as there was only a very moderate wind blowing, and as the claim had been made that the airy craft was much more navigable and independent of weather conditions than a balloon, the would-be sightseers had their faith in the Knabenshue invention rather severely shaken. It is understood that the exhibition management were somewhat exercised, and that every effort will be made to ensure an ascent this afternoon.

Borden In Quebec.

Montreal, Aug. 28.—R. L. Borden has mapped out a program for his Quebec tour, which is interesting, as the Conservative leader will now for the first time invade a purely French-Canadian district.

Mr. Borden has several times spoken in Montreal, but has never tried Three Rivers. He will speak in Quebec on the 29th. Three Rivers on the 30th, in Valleyfield on the 31st, in Montreal on Sept. 3 and in Ottawa on Sept. 5.

After the Montreal meeting Mr. Borden will attend the Sherbrooke Industrial Fair.

French-Canadian Treaty.

London, Aug. 28.—(C. A. P.)—A representative of the Canadian Associated Press, wiring yesterday morning from Paris, says Fielding and Brodeur continue to have daily conferences with French Government representatives respecting the Franco-Canadian treaty. The protracted nature of the conferences suggests that there have been some difficulties, but the present indications are deemed favorable.

Pte. Gillette Acquitted.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 28.—The court martial held here to try Private Cyrus Gillette, of Fort Brady, who accidentally shot and killed Miss Elizabeth Cadenhead of Fergus, Ont., last July, has returned a verdict of acquittal.

An effort will be made to serve a warrant on Gillette and have him tried in the state courts on the charge of manslaughter.

Big Fire In Japan.

Yokohama, Aug. 28.—A conflagration which Sunday destroyed 70 per cent. of Hakodate caused much suffering among those who resided in the burned district.

More Cardinals.

Rome, Aug. 28.—It is stated in Vatican circles that the Pope will hold a consistory in the autumn to confer the red hat on several Italian and foreign bishops.

101 Years Old, He Weds.

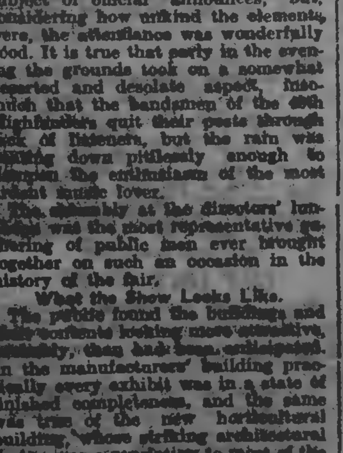
Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 28.—John P. Burden, 101 years old, and Miss Rose McGuire, the sweetheart of the youth, herself almost a centenarian, were married in the presence of a large crowd, in a tent erected over the spot where the two kept secret trysts when John Quincy Adams was president of the United States.

General Loses 10,000 Francs.

New York, Aug. 28.—The loss in Montreal, Canada, a few days ago of a letter of credit for 10,000 francs, in favor of General Megrien, a retired French army officer, traveling in this country, and now in New York City, was announced Monday by J. C. Buchanan, local representative of the Credit Lyonnais.

Find Body In Lake.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 28.—The body of Miss Agnes Maguire, a Brooklyn school teacher, who mysteriously disappeared from a carriage at Nolan's Point, Lake Hopatcong, N. J., on Saturday night, was found in the lake yesterday. The coroner expressed the opinion that Miss Maguire had committed suicide.



NATIONALISTS JAILED

M. P. For North Longford and Forty Others Arrested.

Charged With Inciting Riots—More Trouble Is Feared—Police Being Rushed to Disaffected Districts—Special Court Convened For Trial of Agitators—Cattle Driven From Grazing Lands.

Longford, Ireland, Aug. 28.—Jas. P. Farrell, Irish Nationalist member of Parliament for North Longford, and forty other persons were arrested early yesterday morning and are now being tried by a special court, convened for the purpose, on the charge of taking part in "an unlawful assembly likely to cause riot."

Mr. Farrell has been holding meetings throughout his constituency at which exciting scenes occurred between Nationalists and members of Sinn Fein Society, in addition many cattle have been driven from the grazing land district, which the prosecution alleges was encouraged by Mr. Farrell and other speakers. Large forces of police are being despatched here, trouble being anticipated.

Mr. Farrell, is the editor and proprietor of The Longford Leader, a Nationlist newspaper circulating in the counties of Longford, West Meath, Roscommon and Leitrim, and is the author of a "History of the County of Longford," and other books. At the general election in 1900 Mr. Farrell was returned unopposed from North Longford, succeeding Justin McCarthy, who resigned.

The prisoners were committed for trial at the assize court, bail being allowed.

Order More Police.

Dublin, Aug. 28.—Last night's issue of the official Gazette contained proclamations by the Lord Lieutenant in Council declaring that certain counties and districts are in a state of disturbance and empowering the Lord Lieutenant to order extra forces of police to those parts of the country.

STRATHCONA ON WAY BACK.

Demonstration In Honor of High Commissioner At Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 28.—Lord Strathcona left on a special train over the Rutland Railway at 6.45 p.m. for New York, when he will sail this morning for Liverpool on the Oceanic.

There was a large gathering of personal friends at the Windsor Station to bid the high commissioner farewell, including Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and leading members of the Caledonia Society, whose piper Matheson, marched up and down the platform producing weird sounds from the bagpipes.

Strathcona seemed in excellent health, and his strenuous energy during his short stay in Canada does not seem to have affected him in the least.

Stole Horse.

Beaverton, Aug. 28.—A neatly-dressed young man about 25 years of age, dark complexioned, appeared at James Lytle's livery stable here on Thursday, Aug. 22, desiring a horse "to take his sister for a drive." He had been around town for a couple of days, and was supposed to be taking views of the town for a picture post-card manufacturing house.

Mr. Lytle gave the young man a bright bay horse, 16 hands high, with small jack spavin on right hind leg and clipped foretop, also a new set of black rubber-mounted harness and a Stevenson buggy.

Since then nothing has been heard of the man. A reward is offered for his arrest.

John D. Can't Collect.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—John D. Rockefeller is having his troubles in collecting $73.95 from the United States Government for his traveling expenses and witness fees in the recent hearing in the federal court before Judge Landis. In making application for the amount due him, Mr. Rockefeller declared that he had traveled 1,149 miles to attend the session of court. He did not say, however, whether he came from Pittsfield, Mass., or Cleveland, Ohio.

The Government is therefore holding the money until it receives official information as to where Mr. Rockefeller started from when he came to court.

Leg Severed By Rope.

Belleville, Aug. 28.—Morgan Terrill, employed at the Lehigh Portland Cement Co.'s works, had his left leg taken off Monday night on the arrival of the steamer Salaberry. He had charge of a line on the steamer and when fastened to the wharf, his leg became tangled in a coil and was squeezed off, a short distance below the knee. He was 50 years old and married, with one child, and a subscription is being taken up.

Wheat At Three Figures.

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—But few days more of such weather conditions as have prevailed recently will be required to make wheat reach three figures on the local market.

Backward weather and a prediction of frost at local points last night were features that brought the October option to one point below 99 cents.

This Airship Flies.

Berlin, Aug. 28.—A notable flight was made by the Parseval steerable airship late Monday night. The machine carried four aeronauts.

During the 30-minute flight the motors worked most satisfactorily and the airship answered its helm with precision against a wind blowing 20 miles an hour.

Four Cremated.

Oklahoma City, O.T., Aug. 28.—Searching for an exit from the death that confronted them and hemmed in on all sides, four persons were burned to death early yesterday in a fire on East Grand avenue.

The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Albert Hawe of Port Stanley, employed at the Loney House, was found dead in bed yesterday.

CHINESE RAISE FUSILADE.

Trouble Likely to Arise Over Recent Raid At Regina.

Regina, Sask., Aug. 28.—When officers of mounted police and city police raided Chinese resorts in Regina on Friday evening and took into custody for a few hours some sixty-five members of the Chinese colony they raised a fusillade of international privilege and serious developments are likely to follow.

Yesterday summons were issued before Magistrate William McCausland requiring the presence in his court of city police authorities, while civil proceedings are started in another direction. The Chinamen, who have not taken the oath of allegiance to the British crown, claim residence rights in a foreign country, and as subjects of the imperial empire they are seeking the protection of the consulate.

An appeal is to be made to the Pekin Government, and it is expected that an international question will be raised.

Civil action is to be taken against His Worship Mayor Smith by a number of Chinamen, and it is possible that a similar suit will be entered against Frank Ford, deputy attorney-general, claiming damages for their alleged action in authorizing the arrest and detention of Chinamen.

CONDEMN NEW TARIFF.

West Australia's Legislature Consider It Is Dangerous.

London, Aug. 28.—(C. A. P.)—At Perth, West Australia, the Premier's resolution that the new tariff would injuriously affect the primary industries of West Australia, in bringing about a state of depression, fraught with the gravest danger to her existence, was carried in the Legislative Assembly by a large majority.

At Melbourne, speaking in the House of Representatives, Sir J. Forrest said the preference was largely illusory. The figures quoted by Lyne were inaccurate.

Australian Tariff.

London, Aug. 28.—(C. A. P.)—A Melbourne cable states that Sir William Lyne, interviewed, said the new tariff accorded with the statements made by Premier Deakin when in London. The customs revenue for the financial year was estimated at eight and a quarter million pounds with a preference in favor of Great Britain as proposed, but if the preference were not given the revenue would be one and a quarter millions more. The preference in favor of Great Britain was thus 13 per cent.

Chas. E. Davis, a young Englishman and one of a prospecting party of three, was drowned in Lake Temiskaming, yesterday.

Bowmanville Bowling Association has purchased the lot adjoining the Roman Catholic Church on the west—from Mr. W. M. Horsey, for $300, and are putting it into condition for next season's use. When completed it is expected to be the best bowling green between Toronto and Belleville. The members are paying $10 each and there are 40 of them and others are joining. Heading For Winnipeg.

Dauphin, Man., Aug. 28.—The second contingent of Douks on the pilgrimage from Thunder Hill district, arrived in town yesterday afternoon. They number 30, counting the children, who were drawn for the march in small two-wheeled carts with a caravan top. They looked quite respectable in their blue gowns, but showed signs of having a hard time the last few days, taking them four days to arrive from a distance of 15 miles. The roads were bad and it having rained all Monday.

When asked what they were looking for they gave the same cry as the first contingent, that they were hunting for a warmer country and were heading for Winnipeg.

Two Cobalt Accidents.

Cobalt, Aug. 28.—Alex. Grouels, of middle age, who lived at Latchford, was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon by being struck on the head with a piece of ore, which weighed about a quarter of a pound. Grouels was walking on the road which crosses the railway and leads to the Nipissing dock, when a blast occurred on the Nipissing property and hurled the fatal chunk of rock across the Cobalt Lake. The rock struck on the forehead of the unfortunate man's skull, crushing it in and also caused a slight abrasion near the nose. He lived only a few minutes after the accident.

Yesterday, while near the Nipissing landing on Cobalt Lake, Moses Menard, foreman of the Bailey-Cobalt, was seriously injured by a large chunk of rock, loosed from a blast, on the Government right of way. The rock struck his foot with such force that it not only badly smashed it, but forced it through the bottom of the boat. The boat at once sunk, and Menard was picked up by the Nipissing launch.

ARABS HAVE DRAWN OFF

Normal Conditions Being Resumed at Casablanca

Sharp Engagement With General Drude's Force—Tribesmen Driven to Hills With Heavy Losses—Artillerymen Do Good Work—Mulai Opposed to Holy War—Caids Try to Force Him.

Casablanca, Aug. 28.—A sharp engagement between the French and the Moors occurred six miles from Gen. Drude's camp.

A reconnoitering party of spahis came in touch with the enemy who opened a heavy fire on the cavalrymen. The latter replied with effect, but retreated under instructions, with the object of attracting the attention of the French commander to the Moors' advance.

Reinforcements with artillery were promptly forwarded to the scene of the fighting with the result that the Moorish force was driven back into the hills.

No loss on the French side is reported.

HALDANE BUYS IN AMERICA.

War Secretary Refuses to Pay Heed to Protectionists.

London, Aug. 28.—The British War Secretary, Mr. Haldane, answering a question in the House of Commons last evening, announced that he proposed purchasing army stores in America when he can get them there, equally good or better than elsewhere, at more satisfactory prices, without apologizing to the local protectionists, who insist that British firms should be given the preference, irrespective of price or quality.

The matter was brought up by Sir Howard Vincent, Conservative and free trader, representing the central division of Sheffield, who asked for explanations of why the War Office ordered 100,000 pairs of horseshoes in the United States for the use of the British cavalry, instead of supporting British industries and workmen.

Mr. Haldane, in his reply, said the American goods were satisfactory, both as regards price and efficiency, and in the interests of the economical administration of the army he declined to disregard this source of supply.

FALCONIO'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Archbishop In Small Boat Caught By a Squall.

New York, Aug. 28.—The American says:—

Archbishop Falconio, successor to Mgr. Satolli as papal delegate to Washington, was in grave danger of losing his life Monday, during a pleasure trip on the Sound.

The prelate came from Washington without letting even the priests of this diocese or that of Connecticut know about his arrival. He was badly in need of a few day's rest.

Monday the hosts of the cardinal, who is president of Georgetown University at Washington, decided to take him for a spin up the Sound. They rigged up a little launch, and started out. They had gone five miles when a squall arose. The tiny craft soon was half filled with water.

The archbishop did not lose his placid mien. He quietly aided his friends in keeping the vessel afloat, and after a hard struggle against the choppy water they beached in Norwalk harbor.

FOUR AMERICAN JUDGES.

U. S. Delegates to Hague Suggest Composition of Arbitration Court.

The Hague, Aug. 28.—Joseph H. Choate and James Brown Scott, for the American delegation to the peace conference, have drawn up a new proposition with respect to the allotment of judges for the international high court of justice.

In this proposal the United States announces the willingness of all the countries of the American continent, including the United States, to have altogether four judges, to be appointed for the 21 countries comprising the continent, on the understanding, arrived at through diplomatic channels, that this will reduce the matter of judges to 15.

The proposal does not go any further, but it is understood that the Americans hope the other continents will take similar action, that Asia will be allotted two judges and Europe nine.

The Hague, Aug. 28.—R. Barboso (Brazil) protested against the appointment of judges as projected by the American proposal, insisting that this question must be settled in a manner which fully recognized the equality of the powers.

The meeting was then adjourned until Sept. 2.

IMPRESSED BY OSLERISM.

Professor Jewett Commits Suicide By Cutting His Throat.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 28.—Rev. Dr. Edward H. Jewett, for fifteen years professor of pastoral theology in the General Theological Seminary in New York, committed suicide Sunday by cutting his throat.

Dr. Jewett was seventy-eight years old, and was living with his son-in-law, the Rev. Angus M. Porter, rector of the Episcopal church at Redlands.

The act was committed at Manhattan Beach, eighteen miles from this city, and was witnessed by a thousand persons, many of them children playing along the beach.

Dr. Jewett was much impressed by the so-called Osler theory and frequently remarked: "I think that some way should be found out of an unbearable existence for old people who have outlived their usefulness. I think it should be provided that old men should be hit over the head with a club and mercifully killed."

He had suffered for several years from chronic rheumatism.

Dr. Jewett was born in Nottingham, England, in 1830. He was the author of several works on religious thought and worship.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS
In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

The annual outing of Cold Springs, Otonabee, Union Sunday School, was held on Tuesday to Idyl Wyld on the steamer Otonabee. About 175 persons were on board, and the sail was enjoyed, although the pleasure of the trip would have been much greater, had the weather been warmer. The excursionists reached the city on the return trip about eight o'clock, the latter part of the journey being made in the rain.

The judges had an exceedingly difficult time in determining the winner, but finally agreed upon the above decision. The judges were Misses Wyles Brantford, Miss F. Boswell and Mrs. Bolwell, city.

The masquerade carnival announced for to-morrow has been postponed until a week later. The roller rink is more popular than ever and a large crowd gathers each evening.

The Reason Why Zutoo Is Used by Thousands.

It would probably surprise you to know how many thousands of people are using Zutoo Tablets who had never before used a headache cure.

This is due to three facts.
They tried the tablets.
The tablets cured their headache.
The tablets did not hurt them.

Like sensible people, they do not suffer from headache any more. They either let Zutoo ward off the headache—nip it in the bud—or assist nature in stopping it.

Which do you do? Do you suffer from headache or do you take Zutoo?

MORE TARGETS BADLY NEEDED

Col. Sergt. Moore Makes a Possible and Also Wins $10 in Another Match

Review Special.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The competitors in the D.R.A. meet here held a meeting this evening, Col. Sam Hughes presiding. The opinion was expressed that there should be from 25 to 40 more targets installed on the ranges, and a motion to that effect was carried. Another motion that the Vernier sight be allowed in the Borden match was carried. It was decided that it would be better to give every man along the ranges the opportunity of having practice shots.

Shooting was fair until the sun came strong, and it caused a mirage that bothered all the best shots and even the team who like a mirage were not very high up in the scoring and certainly did not do as well as they did yesterday.

The members of the 57th who scored at the D.R.A. matches at Ottawa yesterday are;—Col.-Sergt. W. H. Moore made a possible at 500 yards for the Walker match; he also won $10 in the Dominion match at 600 and 700 yards, scoring 64 out of a possible of 70; Sergt F. Bartlett won $6 in the same match, scoring 63.

Charity Board Will Have Hard Time With Poor This Winter

Every Indication of There Being Lots of Recent Immigrants in Need—Most Worthless Fellows to be Sent Away—Funny Incidents.

The Charity Board and their agent have got their work cut out for them this winter and there is already some figuring being done on how to meet the situation. As was the case last winter, the greatest difficulty will be with the immigrants and there has been a big bunch of them sent here this summer. Some of those are good workmen, or are at least willing to work, but unfortunately there are others who shudder at the very mention of work. These fellows will be looking to the Charity Board unless the Board can manage to get them out of the city before then, which will be done in some cases.

Then there will also be demands for help from those new arrivals who do work and who want to work. Most of the immigrants are sent out here with hardly a dollar. They arrive in Toronto and the agent there sends them on to Peterborough and other places, and all they are given is their ticket. Consequently the people arrive here without a place to sleep and hungry and with no money. All summer the Charity Board has had to deal with such cases. Those who get work start a little home for themselves, but they have no money and from the beginning are handicapped, and when the extra cost of living and the scarcity of work strikes them, along with the winter, many of them will be forced to look for charity.

Many funny things come to the notice of the Charity Board's agent. A man and his wife and children were put up at one of the hotels for a day or two until they could look around. The first night passed off all right, but the first thing in the morning the man started making inquiries as to where he could get work for his wife. It happened that he applied to a woman and she gave him a first class tongue threshing in quick time, and ordered him off her premises, with the words, "Get work for yourself, you big lubber."

Another party of seven adults and fourteen children struck the city and were put up at a hotel over night. The next morning they wanted to move on, but there was a bill of $8.50 to be paid and between the whole party there was hardly 50c. 5to meet the debt. The agent of the Charity Board was applied to and, as he was on his way to investigate the matter he met several gentlemen, and after he told them what was up a collection was taken and the money was soon forthcoming.

The Old Boys of Grove School Will Hold a Great Reunion

At Lakefield From Saturday Until Monday—Old Boys Association Will be Formed—Successful Entertainments Held—Other Notes of Interest.

Lakefield, Aug. 28.

The Misses Appleby and Sutherland, of Oakville, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Langley.

Miss Gladys Lewis, of Toronto, and Miss Louise Bell, of Apsley, are at present in the village, the guests of Miss Blomfield.

Mrs. T. Simpson, who, with her daughters, has been spending the past fortnight at Stony Lake, returned to Lakefield on Thursday last.

Messrs. W. H. Casement and R. P. Davidson returned to the village from Jack's Lake on Saturday. Both gentlemen enjoyed their trip immensely and say that fishing is excellent in that section.

Mr. J. W. Ridpath and his family returned to Lakefield from Sandy Point on Monday last.

Mrs. J. B. Fraser, together with her family, is camping this week at Sandy Point.

Miss Marion Lyall, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dela Fosse, returned to Toronto on Monday last.

Mr. Bullis, who has been acting in Lakefield in the capacity of chief millwright for the Cavendish Lumber Co., left for Toronto last week, accompanied by his wife and family. Mr. Bullis has secured a good position in Toronto.

SUCCESSFUL TEA.

A great many people from Lakefield were present at the Hall's Glen tea and band concert on Wednesday last. The Lakefield Citizens' Band supplied the music and elicited man expressions of approval from the large company present on the smartness of their appearance and the excellent music which they supplied. The affair, which has been an annual event for some years, is plainly growing in popularity, not only with the bone-fide residents but with the campers at Stony Lake, who seize upon it as a pleasant diversion from the daily round of life at the lakes.

OTHER NOTES.

Miss Alice Hunter is out of the village this week, spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Graham at Viamede.

Miss Lily Montgomery is spending a few days enjoying a well earned holiday at South Beach.

Mr. Fred. Reid, of Peterborough, has been busily engaged this week, inspecting the telephones of the local subscribers of the Bell Telephone Co.

LAWN SOCIAL.

The lawn social held under the auspices of the choir of the Presbyterian church, on the grounds of Mr. Bailey, on the evening of Friday last, was a huge success. The evening was an ideal one, and this of itself sufficed to draw a large crowd.

A COMING EVENT.

The Old Boys' reunion at the Grove School will be held from Saturday, to Monday, Aug. 31, to Sept. 2.

Old scholars of the school are expected from various parts of the continent, one old boy having signified his intention of coming to the reunion from distant Montana.

The object of the reunion is mainly to form an Old Boys' Association, and thus make the affair an annual event.

There is every expectation of the affair being most enjoyable and successful.

Buckhorn Villagers are Wrathy Because Indians Were Left There

Think the Men on the Boat Had Lots of Nerve—Blame Both the Excursionists and Boat Hands—Indians Made Things Lively.

A prominent resident from Buckhorn was in the city to-day and he expressed to the Review the opinion which the people of that village have of the prominent gentlemen in charge of the excursion from Chemong to Stony Lake regatta. It will be remembered that on the return trip the drunken Indians who created such a disturbance were put off at Buckhorn. As a result the villagers are very indignant and have a poor opinion of the Peterborough men. A great deal of talking is being done and the Buckhornites are waiting for an opportunity to get even.

The gentleman who was in the city today said the Chemong Yacht club and Cottagers Association stopped their boat at Indian village and took the Indians on in the morning and were glad to get their money. They were glad to have them all day. At Burleigh, someone not necessarily one of those in charge of the excursion gave the Indians sufficient liquor to make them drunk. Then because the Indians became wild, which is only natural under such conditions, the prominent men from Chemong park could do nothing but abuse the Indians. Put them off the boat. Dump them in the lake. Do anything with them, but get them away from us, seemed to be the only idea of those on board.

The excursionists went through a mock ceremony, which by the way was one of the funniest ever heard of, of swearing in a lot of special constables. What this was for no one can very well tell around Buckhorn, unless it was to merely get the Indians off the boat.

Leaving the Indians at Buckhorn, a local option, law-abiding village, is what hurts the people's feelings. The idea of dumping on their shores what was not wanted on the boat. The Indians raised a great racket in the village and the people were glad when they got away.

Edmonton shows a surplus of $7,495 on its civic telephone system numbering 727 telephones.

GOOD CROPS AT BUCKHORN

Oats, Wheat and Peas Nearly all Harvested—Straw is Short

Special to the Review.

Buckhorn, Aug. 28.—Harvesting in this district is now pretty well over and the farmers are well satisfied. At times the outlook was not very promising, but now that the wheat, oats and peas are all cut the yield is better than expected. In all cases the straw is short, but there is lots of grain. Peas are very good and oats and wheat are a good average. The farmers are now looking for a good crop of roots.

Bowlers From Port Hope Here

The visitors are Messrs. Col. McLean, J L Kitch, J Colwell, D. Muir, H Tudford, Dr. Aldrich, R F Stoddart, F. L. Curtis, Art. Beamish, W. Beamish, H. B. Rosevear and John H. Renwick.

BURNING RUBBISH

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—Encouraged by the laxity of our police, those who have been guilty of setting out fires by day, have taken to the burning of rubbish at midnight, no doubt for the purpose of not only concealing their own identity, but the obnoxious material as well. Should a fire spread at that hour of the night it will have made greater headway before discovery than if started in the day-time. It is up to the mayor to see that this danger and nuisance shall cease, if he has any pretensions to a second term. Nothing but the utmost disregard of the people's rights and safety can account for such negligence.

Yours, etc.,
SAFETY.

COUNTY HOTEL KEEPERS FINED

For Selling Liquor Without a License—Pleaded Guilty

The license inspector of Peterborough is certainly not loafing these days, and is getting after those who, in local option centres, try to sell liquor. Mr. Jos. Stewart, inspector, had two convictions made today.

Edward J. Quinn, proprietor of the Craig House at Lakefield, pleaded guilty this morning, before Magistrate Edmison to the charge of selling liquor without a license. He was fined $50 and costs, amounting to $53.00. He has only had the hotel since the 7th of this month.

A like fine was also imposed upon Andrew Wilson, proprietor of the Lakeview House, at Young's Point. He also pleaded guilty.

Mr. Stewart is keeping a watchful eye on those country places as well as those in the city and the liquor laws are being strictly enforced.

New Hay Selling at $16 per Ton

New hay is still very high in price and this morning on the market sold at $16 per load. There were twelve loads on the market and they were hardly on the scales when they were taken. The great demand had a tendency to raise the price and apparently the farmers had only to name whatever figure they wanted, and they got it.

COURT STANLEY HELD MEETING

At a regular meeting of Court Stanley, No. 7680, Ancient Order of Foresters, held last evening, there was a good attendance. Two propositions for membership were received. Addresses were given by Bro. George R. Record, of Minneapolis, formerly of Peterborough; D. Webster, of Chicago and George Sturmer, of Kincardine. They were given a warm welcome by the Foresters and spoke of their great pleasure at being present.

The seaside camps for London working boys have been voted a grant of 20 guineas by the Worshipful Company of Mercers.

4000 Harvesters Leave for West

A large number from this district left for Toronto yesterday to go west on the first farm laborers' excursion from that city. The first harvest excursion to the west direct from Peterborough and vicinity, will leave on Wednesday, September 4th.

A Toronto despatch says:

"Four thousand people left Toronto for the west on Tuesday on the two excursions, homeseekers' and farm laborers'. They were carried in seven special trains. While the number is among the largest that ever left this city in a single day, railway officials state that fewer laborers will leave Ontario this year than formerly. Although 26,000 men are wanted to assist with the harvest, those going will fall far short of that in number. All the trains went over the Grand Trunk as far as North Bay.

Nine bookmakers at Fort Erie racetrack have been summoned to appear in the police court at Niagara Falls.

A GOOD SERMON.

Mr. H A Pearson of this town, late Y.M.C.A. secretary at Collingwood is now in charge of the splendidly equipped "Y" in St. Catharines. On Sunday of last week, says the Lindsay Post, he took charge of the evening service at the leading Methodist church and preached from John iii, 3.

CLEAN STREETS; GOOD CROSSINGS

Features of Peterborough Which Caused Visitors in the City to Comment Upon

From time to time there has been considerable complaint made by merchants, professional men and some others about the streets being dirty. It might just be mentioned that most of those kickers are chronic kickers, and would not be satisfied with anything. As a matter of fact the streets of Peterborough are a credit to the city, and an example for most other cities in the province. Strangers coming into the city invariably remark on the very clean and tidy condition of the streets. They are pleasantly surprised to see the care that is taken and wonder how it is possible in such a busy place.

To Jimmy McCullough, the man with the hoe and the spiked stick, is due a lot of credit. He was engaged by the Board of Works to look after the central part of the city, and he is doing it well. From early morning until quitting time he is on the job, and during the rainstorms or immediately afterwards, he is out with his hoe cleaning off the crossings.

The Board of Works is also to be congratulated upon the excellent work it has done in the way of cement crossings. These are the greatest thing that ever happened. It was a year ago when men and women, too, were heard to swear as they crossed the streets and got into mud half way up their boots. It was certainly very bad, but now that state of affairs has passed away, and good crossings have been placed at nearly all the important street intersections.

Queer Violation of License Law

Kingston, Aug. 27.—A case was tried in the police court today that is of more than ordinary significance.

It was based on a violation of the license law fixing the liability of a prohibited person in asking liquor from a licensed vendor. The man in the case was Arthur F. Woodside. Some time ago he was complained of to the license inspector by an hotelkeeper for calling at his bar and requesting liquor. The inspector at once laid a charge against him, but before the trial Woodside skipped to the States. Yesterday he returned and gave himself up.

He was found guilty and fined ten dollars and costs.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, Aug. 28.—Developments this morning favored improvement in the stock market, because of the apparent over-selling that has occurred since Monday. Short covering took place in a quiet way during the day with the miscellaneous elements somewhat bearish still, but giving some evidence of nervousness. Conclusions at this writing point to improvement of a creeping character, with liquidation of weak accounts, on scale up.

The trading position should be maintained, generally speaking, but with moderate aggressiveness on the long side in following up specialties of the active character.

The strength continued during the last hour and the close was strong. It was announced just before the close that a scrip dividend had been declared on Erie first preferred and second preferred. This was much better than had been generally looked for.

Water in Lake Scugog Should Be Maintained at High Level

Protest Entered Against the Constant Lowering of the Water—Port Perry Star Sounds a Note of Warning—Predicts Another Slaughter of Fish and Other Undesirable Things.

In last week's issue the editor of the Port Perry Star set forth at some length, editorially, some reasons why the citizens of Lindsay and Port Perry should join hands in registering a vigorous protest against the constant lowering of the water in Lake Scugog. The possibility of the fish being again decimated by frost during a cold winter will be disheartening news to the members of the Lindsay Fish and Game Association, and, indeed, to every citizen who realizes that every sportsman attracted to this locality leaves behind him a considerable sum of money in return for a few fish and the pleasure of breathing our brand of ozone, and, perhaps, sampling our bland of whiskey.

More important, of course, than any question relating to fish or fishermen, is that of the health of the people, and beyond doubt this will be very seriously endangered if the draining of the lake be continued further. But let the Star be heard:

'Another evil threatens. A few years ago, owing to an unusually severe winter when the water froze to a phenomenal depth, the fish in the lake died by the thousand, and were almost entirely cut off. Consequently fishing has ever since been prohibited, and an effort was required to be made at some expense to restock the lake. Now if the water remains at its present low level throughout next winter, and the season proves to be at all a severe one, that which happened before will undoubtedly happen again, and once more the stock of fish will be destroyed. The town of Port Perry has already suffered greatly on account of there being no fishing there, and can poorly afford to have the close season prolonged for another term of years.

Then there is another, and a greater menace still, arising from the low level of the lake. It has been remarked that the water at present is scarcely more than a foot above the intake pipe through which the town secures its water supply. If this be true, and should the level of the lake not be raised before next January, the intake pipe will be almost certainly frozen in, and the town's supply will be cut off. This is a condition that no property owner or business man cares to contemplate.

Naturally one is led at once to inquire into the cause or causes of the unusually low water. This has by no means been a dry season, and there has been no lack in the supply of water. The water is low simply on account of the waste and leakage at Lindsay. It has been intimated that the mill owners at Lindsay are using more water than they are entitled to use. Leaving that issue out of sight for the moment, it is very evident that something requires to be done on the works in the river to prevent the shameful waste of water now going on there day and night. In the first place the dam is in urgent need of repairs. The water is seen trickling through it at its base in quite large streams almost its entire length. The river is fully a foot and a half, if not two feet below the top of the dam. The locks, too, are of the most antiquated style, and are in a most disreputable condition. The water comes boiling up from beneath the gates, rushing through the centres where the gates fail to meet, and pouring out through the rotten crib work at the sides in all directions. The fishway, too, in its present condition, is utterly useless, and serves only to add to the constant waste of water. The entire works, including the dam and the locks, need to be thoroughly overhauled and put in modern and approved shape. Until this is done there can be no hope of keeping up the level of the water in the lake.

An appeal to the Government should be made at once in this connection. The people of Lindsay and Port Perry should unite in this appeal. Both have good cause for action in the premises. And joint action on the part of these two places would no doubt bring to pass the work that is imperatively needed. We hope to see the matter taken hold of with vigor and determination. The case is an urgent one.

WEDDING BELLS

STEWART--BYAM

A very pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon, 14th inst., in Christ Church, Campbellford, when Miss Ada Llewella Byam, only daughter of Mrs. Byam and the late Dr. Byam, was united in marriage to Dr. Archibald Stewart, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. A. J. Reid. As the bride entered the beautifully decorated church with her uncle, the organist, Miss Ethel Maynard, played the wedding march from "Lohengrin." The bride looked charming, gowned in a lace robe, over taffeta, a tulle veil draped over a coronet of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and lillies of the valley. Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, the matron of honor, wore a pale blue chiffon voile princess gown, white tulle hat, and carried an arm bouquet of white asters. The bridesmaids, Miss Eva Buller, of Vancouver, B.C. and Miss Eva Bonnycastle, of town, were daintily gowned in pale silk mulle, wearing white picture hats and carried arm bouquets of white carnations. Dr. Bonnycastle was groomsman, and the ushers were Dr. Watson and Mr. Donald Douglas. A reception was afterwards held at the home of Mr. A. H. Rendle, about seventy guests being present, among whom were a number of friends and relatives from Toronto and Belleville. Dr. and Mrs. Stewart left on the 8.15 train amidst showers of rice and confetti for a trip down the St. Lawrence, the bride travelling in tan taffeta, with hat, gloves and shoes to match. Upon their return the happy couple will take up their residence at 151 McPherson avenue, Toronto, where they will be "at home" after October 1st.

Gives Immunity From Typhoid

Serum Discovered by German Professor Gives Remarkable Results

Abdominal typhoid fever need no longer be feared if the new serum produced by Drs. Mayer and Bergell in the laboratory of Prof. von Leyden fulfills all expectations. It is learned that the professor himself is virtually convinced of its efficacy. He explained that the typhoid serum discovered some time ago, gave remarkable results in rendering human beings immune from typhoid.

It was found, however, when the serum was injected in the course of an attack of the disease, the patient invariably succumbed. He and his col-laborators thereupon set to work to find out the cause of the fatal effects. These were eventually traced to toxins in dead typhoid bacilli contained in the original serum.

Efforts were then directed toward obtaining a serum absolutely free from protoplasms. After two years of arduous experiment, horses being used as subjects for inoculation, a serum was produced in which the organic matter had been decomposed by means of muriatic acid and low temperatures.

Human patients were subjected to injections of this with the result in several incidents of splendid effects. Some cures were effected even in severe cases, and one patient, although badly attacked, after two injections within seven days, was completely cured, except for the ensuing weakness.

Prof. von Leyden is anxious for the serum to undergo a crucial test at a serious epidemic of typhoid before pronouncing final judgment.

Mrs. Eddy's Sanity Put Past Dispute

Noted Alienist Reports of Head of Christian Science

New York, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, head of the Christian Science Church, is pronounced absolutely sane and capable of managing her estate, by Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, the celebrated alienist. His full report has been made public. The psychologist declared that the charges brought by her next friends, that she should be deprived of authority in financial matters, were unfounded. In part, the doctor says in his report,—

"The inspection and examination of autographic letters, written by her show inherent evidences of mental vigor. Her mode of expression is logical and connected. Her construction is admirable, and these as well as the typewritten communications emanating from her are the products of an unusually intelligent mind. Not only are their contents responsive, but they show concentration and the exercise of a normal memory. In several of them are there interlineations, corrections and additions, which convey more fully what she has already said. In her letters to her counsel, which I have read with some care, I find that she has returned to him certain ones with explanatory interlineations, and there has been a promptness and vigor in her replies to his own letters.

HANDWRITING REMARKABLE.

"The handwriting itself is remarkably firm for a person of her age, and there are no mistakes, neither are there omissions. Her words are well formed and although there is a slight tremor, not uncommon in old people, and possibly because her mind travels faster than her pen, I do not regard this in any way as pathological. From the large number of letters appended, which I have read, there is no mental defect indicated. In those written to Mr. Farlow, there is a keen anxiety regarding her copyright, a desire to avoid the violation of the copyright laws, an appreciation of what has been done for her by him, certain directions in regard to the preparation of the literature of the church. I find in the letter addressed to Mr. McLellan, the same kind of intellectual good order, and in fact there is nowhere the remotest suggestion of mental feebleness.

SIGNS OF INTELLECTUAL STRENGTH.

"My particular interest is with the papers written by her in the period beginning March 1906, and extending down, almost to the present time. These papers, which I understand, have been prepared and drafted by her to indicate either alone or together, a good deal of intellectual strength and consistency, and in this connection, I would draw attention to the draft of a trust deed prepared in March 1906, and another in February, 1907, one of which was a basis for the establishment of a trust for the benefit of George W. Glover and his family."

Dr. Hamilton then proceeds to discuss each charge made against the woman, and brands them as absurdities. He says, Mrs. Eddy has no delusions and that she entertains no antipathy towards doctors, as those who have tried to shatter her prestige in her church, have alleged.

Big Crowds for Toronto Fair

All Trains Passing Through Here Were Crowded—Many Local People

With the opening of the Toronto Fair a large number of local people are visiting friends in Toronto, and also seeing the exhibition. Every train that left the city yesterday for the west was crowded, and every train received an extra load from here. The two sections on the through trains are proving very satisfactory to local people, and every day will see larger crowds going up. The Toronto Exhibition in itself is a great attraction, and hundreds from here go up every year for a couple of days, but the cheap rates on the railways is an additional attraction which is well worth taking advantage of.

the vacant

Owing to the resignation of Inspector Walker, who has ably and faithfully discharged the duties of inspector of public schools in Peterborough for the past eleven years, a vacancy has been created which it will not be easy to fill. Mr. Walker has made an ideal inspector and is looked upon by the Boards of Education throughout the province as one of the very best men that has ever been placed in such a responsible positson.

The trustees are now advertising for a successor and some eight or ten applications have been received. The majority of the applicants are masters or teachers in High Schools and have also taught in public schools the requisite number of years to qualify them for inspectorships. The salary offered is a liberal one—$1,600 being the minimum and $2,000 the maximum. This figure has naturally drawn wide attention to the position and some really excellent men are seeking the office—men who are strong in discipline, have achieved signal success as teachers and have university records and scholarships, that stamp them as bright students and gentlemen of the highest mental attainments. It is hoped that the Board will secure a capable and strong inspector to fill Mr. Walker's shoes. There are six, or rather soon will be, public schools in the city and all are now fairly well equipped. The respective standing of the local teachers and the salaries paid fully equal those of any similar sized city in the province, and the work of an inspector is no sinecure. It is no ornamental position, the labor being by no means light.

The office is really not an inspectorship. It is more in the nature of a superintendency. So varied and exacting are the duties, that the title might well be changed to "superintendent of public schools." The teachers, the pupils and the citizens generally, will all miss the kindly helping hand of Mr. Walker. In the selection of the gentleman, who is to follow him, the greatest care should be exercised and the most efficient, painstaking and progressive man selected. The schools have been managed for years without friction or trouble of any kind, because the man at the helm knew his business. He had the courage of his convictions, firmness in decision and a grasp of the needs of the situation which resulted in every obstacle being easily surmounted.

Let us hope that his successor, who will likely be selected next week, may be a man equally as well qualified and thoroughly equipped as the gentleman who is now retiring to enter upon a career of higher activity in the educational interests of the province.

PEN POINTS

Are you talking up the Peterborough fair?

This is typical fall fair weather. Might as well get used to it.

Next Monday will be Labor Day and a holiday. How it can be both one and the same, sounds like a paradox.

Next week will see the flight of the summer resorters back to the cities. The past season has been a lively and jolly one at nearly all the resorts.

The adoption, in the State of Minnesota, of a two-cent passenger rate on the railroads, has caused an increase in revenue to the roads of one-sixth over the same time in 1906, with no increase in service necessary. This is rather a set-back to the railroads' advisors, who claimed that the adoption of the new rate would spell ruin.

The Vancouver Liberal Association has passed a resolution demanding that the Dominion Government shall immediately take steps to restrict Japanese immigration, and in support of its position has quoted Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reported phrase that every community knows best what does for itself. This is calculated to create a conflict between Laurier, the phrase maker, and Laurier, the Japanese treaty maker.

At Middleton more people turned out to hear Mr. Borden speak than could get into the hall, and the speeches had to be made in the open air. The Nova Scotians are evidently yet open to be interested in plain sense about their public affairs. They would hardly crowd in such a way to hear a Laurier minister promise to spend some more public money on a local wharf.

Some critics of Mr. Borden say he is not fit to be the leader of a political party because he resembles the late Sir John Thompson. Sir John Thompson, it may be remembered, was hard on grafters. Some he expelled from Parliament and some he put in jail. In view of what has been happening lately at Ottawa, there may be those who will think that a resemblance to Sir John Thompson is a mighty recommendation of a man who aspires to lead in Parliament.

Hon. Adam Beck is said to have under consideration a proposal to contest London for the House of Commons. Mr. Beck has shown himself to be a man of statesmanlike energy and capacity, and a definite decision to run would undoubtedly mean the redemption of London. But this Province, as the St. Thomas Times rightly says, would look upon Mr. Beck's translation to Ottawa as a heavy price to pay, even for such a gain. Besides, it is not apparent that Mr. Beck is the only man who could re-claim London.

An unusual industry is carried on in Washington. It is the manufacture of "stage money" and the demand for this peculiar article by theatrical people is said to be quite large. Its manufacture is carried on only a short distance from the United States mint. A short time ago an issue of the stage currency had on it a picture of Cassie Chadwick, the former Oxford woman, whose frenzied financial operations in the United States landed her in prison, where she is now serving a term of ten years. Here is a chance for Lindsay to secure a new industry.—better "stage money" than "counterfeit money."

While other municipalities in the district find it impossible to go on with much needed public improvements on account of the tight money market for debentures, Galt is not so badly off as some. This municipality has a sinking fund, amounting to $30,000 from which it can borrow to meet debentures issued for the construction of local improvements such as sidewalks. The town can borrow from its own funds and gain in doing so. This year the amount for which owners have pledged their property, in the shape of a frontage tax, will probably approximate $8,000. The municipality can easily take care of that out. — Galt Reporter.

Some few Liberal newspapers that have taken pains to study his speech in the light of present day conditions, have offered fair and reasonable criticism of Mr. Borden's policy as outlined at Halifax; but in the main government newspapers write in a strain which clearly indicates their purpose to see no good and to belittle such proposals as cannot thus conveniently be passed over. Such an attitude can never be productive of lasting good. We cannot, of course, hope at once, if ever, to eliminate entirely every vestige of partisan bias from the editorial judgment; but there is a place in this country for a courageous independent party press, a press not afraid to commend good in an opponent, or fearful to condemn wrong doing within its own party. It is the senseless habit of seeking to make party capital out of every issue that is the great weakness. No press can ever fulfil its high calling so long as it is the slave rather than the monitor of party.

The Hamilton Herald (Independent) in a review of Mr. Borden's career as leader of the Conservative party, says:

Mr. Borden has made one or two tactical mistakes as leader—notably the mistake of permitting himself to be put in the invidious position of a salaried beneficiary of a government bounty. But upon the whole he has borne well in his difficult position. He has earned the loyalty of his followers in the house and the respect of all classes of Canadians. No man in Canada in public life, not even the premier, is more capable than Mr. Borden of the exercise of real statesmanship. He is intellectually the biggest public man in the Conservative party, and in character one of the best. In knowledge on the minutia of political trickery and skill in applying it he may be deficient; but it is doubtful if such knowledge and skill should be regarded as a requisite of leadership; there is never any lack of men in any party who are capable of supplying all of that sort of work which is needed.

Mr. Borden has once led his party to defeat. He may do so again. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a twice-beaten Mr. (Whitney), before he [illegible] Mr. Whitney, before he attained power, twice failed.

Overcrowding at Collegiate Institute is Serious Matter

Board of Education Up Against a Proposition—Two Rooms in the King Edward School May be Used for Commercial Classes—No Quorum at the Meeting.

Owing to a misunderstanding as to time, the special meeting of the Board of Education did not take place last evening. Some members understood it to be at 7.30 and others thought it was at 8.30, and thus there was no quorum at either time. However, the chief matter that the Board would have decided upon, had there was no quorum at either time, is discussed by those who were present, that is, the present congested condition in the Collegiate Institute, and what was the best means of solving the problem. When the Collegiate re-opens next Tuesday morning, the rooms are bound to be overcrowded and the seating accommodation will be entirely inadequate to cope with the large number that is likely to attend. Over 160 pupils passed the entrance this year, and they will all most likely enter the Collegiate, which, with the already large number of pupils, outnumber the seating capacity. Last term, in the lower forms, there were as many as sixty pupils, and this is by far too many for them to be properly taught. It is impossible for a teacher to teach sixty pupils in one period, and, naturally, some will go without receiving much benefit from the lessons taught.

During the past term the physics laboratory has been used in connection with the commercial classes, and thus the work in physics has been greatly hampered. Something will have to be decided upon before next Tuesday, and the Supervision Committee will see what steps can be taken to relieve the situation, and will report to the Board at a meeting which will probably be held in a few days.

There were several ways suggested to settle the matter. One was to secure a room at the Y.M.C.A., but this was found to be impossible. At any rate, two rooms are required, that the work may be properly carried on. Another suggestion was to take a couple of rooms at the old Menzie school, but this would mean a great deal of expense, as it would require the whole building to be heated. What seems to be the most feasible plan, and the one that meets with the approval of most of the Board is to remove the commercial forms down to the new King Edward school, and this step is the one that will be probably taken. This would incur the least expense, and would meet the difficulty very satisfactorily. It would also cause no inconvenience to the work of the other classes. The commercial work is entirely separate from the other. All rooms at the King Edward will not be used this year for public school purposes, and might as well be utilized in this way until such time as the new Collegiate Institute is ready. It could be arranged whereby Mr. Brigley, Commercial Specialist, could come to the Collegiate once or twice a week and give lessons in penmanship.

The above seems to be the only solution of the overcrowding problem and are the steps which the Board is likely to take in the matter.

Horse Breeding in Ontario Report of Special Investigation

Some of the Stallions Travelling Through the Country Should Not be—Are Unsound and of Poor Conformation—Some Very Good Ones—Want the Scrub Stallion Banished.

The report of the special investigation on Horse Breeding in Ontario in 1906, has been published by the Ontario department of Agriculture. The report from Peterborough county is as follows:

"As regards the townships of Belmont, Methuen, and Dummer in this county, the inspectors report a decided improvement in the class of heavy horses inspected and there is evidence of more intelligent interest being taken by farmers in horse breeding. The "scrub" is much complained of, however, and any legislation that will protect the owners of high class horses and encourage systematic breeding will be favorably received by most of the horsemen here. Stallion inspection and a license fee appear to be the only form of legislation considered likely to improve the present state of the horse industry. With but two exceptions, a Clydesdale and a Percheron, all the sires inspected were grades, viz., a Coach, Clydesdale, Percheron and two Standard-breds. One is not sound, but on the whole they average up fairly well. The maximum fee for stud fees is $10, and minimum $5. Mares in these townships are a little better and heavier than in some of the other districts, but show no particular line of breeding with the exception of some grade Clydesdales. There are also a few registered mares of that breed. While there are a larger number of light mares, there are not many high class drivers among them.

"Peterborough town being adjacent to the townships of Otonabee and Asphodel, there are naturally a large number of stallions travelling in that section. Included in them are two pure-bred Clydesdales, and seven grades, eight pure-bred Shires, a Percheron, a French Canadian, a pure bred and a grade Hackney and a non-descript. There is a good deal of unsoundness among these horses, and some, at least, should not be travelling on this account, and also for poor conformation. There are some good sires amongst them, however, and some have good reports about them as stock getters. There is a pretty wide range of fees from $5 to $15, the former for grades. Mares here show some improvement along draft lines, but too many are old and worn out and not suited to give the best results in breeding. Very few give evidence of breed quality, and most of them are too light to mate with heavy stallions. Here, again, horsemen are nearly all a unit in asking that steps be taken to banish the "scrub" stallion, but opinions differ as to what action should be taken. Some would make registration a necessary qualification for all stallions, while a large number seem to favor inspection of all stallions as well as their progeny. The fact that some registered stallions have been failures in the stud, while some unregistered horses are recognized in the community as excellent stock getters, is put forward as an argument against pedigree qualification being made the standard. Many express the conviction that educating farmers as to the advantages of fine breeding and the proper mating of their mares should be attempted before compulsory legislation is introduced.

"The townships of North Monaghan, Smith and Ennismore also benefit by the proximity of Peterborough, and no less than twenty-three stallions are found in this district. In this list are three pure-bred and six grade Clydesdales, three pure-bred and one grade Percheron, one Shire, four pure bred and four grade Standard-breds and a grade Coach horse. Here, too, there is some unsoundness, but even among the grades there are some pretty good horses. Six dollars is the lowest stud fee and $15, the highest. Mares are of fair average quality, but the age average is too high. The general purpose of type of about 1,200 lbs. predominates, but there are a few Clydesdales and some good road mares. Stallion owners complain that the best mares are used on the road, and the culls kept for breeding. The greatest hindrance to improvements is the cheap stallion. Owners of high priced horses are anxious for legislation to protect them. The amount of the fee carries more weight with some farmers than the quality of the stallion or suitability of the mare. Education is much needed along the lines of intelligent breeding and mating of mares. The majority of those spoken to favor stallion inspection, and quite a number advocate a license fee on all stallions. Opinions vary as to the amount of the fee, some thinking that $25 would be sufficient, others $100. High prices offered for horses have induced farmers to part with their good mares. The introduction of the cayeuse into this district has also lowered the standard as many farmers have been foolish enough to breed them.

"The number of registered stallions is 32, to which 1,740 mares were bred.

"The number of registered stallions not serviceably sound is 4.

"The number of grade stallions is 20, to which 1,024 mares were bred. The number of grade stallions not serviceably sound is 9.

"At the Peterborough meeting on October 26th, there was not a very large attendance owing to a severe thunderstorm that evening. A motion was carried favoring a standard of registration in the recognized stud book of the respective breeds in order to qualify stallions for service and the majority were in favor of legislation to prevent "scrub" stallions doing business. Opinions varied as to the most profitable class of horse to breed, but the majority are breeding for the heavy horse market, and consider heavy horses most profitable. The syndicate system of ownership is not very popular. The opinion of many is that syndicate horses are purchased at prices much beyond their value. With very few exceptions, horsemen consider stallion inspection a good thing. This, and a license fee on all stallions seem to be the two principal methods suggested to improve the horse industry."

Charlotte Street Choir Entertained

Members Spent a Very Pleasant Day at Stony Lake

The members of the choir of Charlotte street Methodist church enjoyed a pleasant trip to Stony Lake yesterday and were most hospitably entertained by Mr and Mrs J. R. Stratton at "Strathormond-on-the-lake," and on board the "Alberta." The party, numbering about twenty, disembarked at Juniper Island, and then took the "Alberta," Mr. Stratton's steam yacht, for Burleigh Falls where dinner was partaken of. Afterwards the guests had a jolly sail on the lake to the summer home of the host and hostess, where dainty refreshments were served. The return trip to Lakefield was made on the Stony Lake and the pleasant associations of the day will long be remembered.

The new act for the inspection of packing houses goes into effect on September 3.

NEW BRIDGE ON CHARLOTTE ST.

Will be Finished Saturday Night —Putting Concrete Top on Now

Very satisfactory progress has been and is being made on the Charlotte street bridge, over the creek. The job is now nearing completion, and it is beginning to look like the plans. When everything has been cleared up that part of Charlotte street will be so improved that few strangers will recognize it. City Engineer Hay has written Mr. J. H. Larmonth, of the Street Railway Co., asking him to have his elevated tracks removed and the permanent tracks laid by Saturday, so that the city can complete the concrete work between the rails, and give it over Sunday to dry. The concrete top is now being put on, and that is all that remains to be done. Early next week it is likely that another meeting of the Board of Works will be held, when it will be decided whether the King street bridge will be rebuilt this year or left over until next year. In the latter case the gang now on bridge work will be put on the sidewalks.

Mrs. Eddy Speaks on Recent Decision

London, Aug. 28.—The Daily Mail cabled to Mary Baker G. Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, offering to print a message from her reviewing the legal proceedings in her case, and the situation, for the benefit of English Christian Scientists. Mrs. Eddy replied:

"The situation of the law suit is described in the Scriptures, James ii., 24. Our work in the future will be the same as in the past; namely, to love God supremely and to love our neighbor as ourself, to return good for evil, to reform the sinner and to heal the sick."

James ii., 24, reads: "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only."

Pontypool Has A Coal Mystery

Farmers Have Plowed it up for 30 Years—Only Goes Down two Feet

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Ont. 28.—For years some farmers in the vicinity of Pontypool 70 miles east of Toronto, have been plowing up coal of a good hard variety.

Believing that this indicated a deposit, J .H. Duthie of this city, was invited to go down and investigate.

The result has been to dissipate the cherished illusion of a coal mine, but a mystery has taken its place. How did the coal get there. The coal is spread over an area of more than an acre, but does not go down more than two feet. Mr. Duthie's experienced eye judges that it has been regularly mined and passed through a coal breaker. The locality is on the height of land, 15 miles from the lake, and any theory of a shipwrecked collier cannot be deemed a possible explanation.

"But I am convinced that there are coal deposits in Eastern Ontario," says Mr. Duthie, who contends that the presence of iron, which is found in quantities, is a certain indication of coal to be found some day.

KILLED BY A CAR

R. Bruce Ritchie Did Not See a Yonge St Car Approaching.

Mr. R. Bruce Ritchie, aged 28, a stockbroker, formerly of Lindsay, residing at 45 St. Alban's street, was struck by a street car on Yonge street, near Agnes street, at 1.45 o'clock this morning. Ritchie had alighted from the northbound car, walked around the rear of it, when he stepped directly in front of the southbound car.

He was removed in an unconscious condition to St. Michael's hospital, where it was discovered that he had fractured his skull. He died twenty minutes after entoring the hospital, without having regained consciousness.

There were no marks of identification on the person of Ritchie, except the name written on the label of his coat, which was that of R.B. Ritchie.

Mr. N. L. Findlay of 45 St. Albans street, when he heard of the accident, went to the hospital and identified the body as that of Mr. Ritchie.

The deceased gentleman was well known in mining circles. He has a brother in the mining business at New Liskeard.

His parents at New Liskeard have been notified and will probably arrive in the city tomorrow. He is survived also by seven brothers, two of whom, J. C. Ritchie, and H. C. Ritchie, reside in Toronto.—Toronto News.

Passed Estimates for Present Year

North Monaghan Council Fixes Tax Rate—Concrete Bridge Completed

The North Monaghan council met in the town hall on Monday, August 26 at 7.30 p.m.

All the members were present, with the reeve in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

A communication was received from S H Armstrong, inspector of Provincial asylums, giving a list of inmates of the asylum in Toronto, who are a charge on the township of North Monaghan.

WILL OPEN STREET

The clerk reported having consulted the township solicitor in regard to the undertaking of Mr. F. Brown to convey a street to the township at the request of Mr. T. Hurley and of having been advised by the solicitor that the document as presented was quite informal and irregular and not a sufficient guarantee to the township as would warrant any action to be taken therein.

The clerk also submitted at the request of Mr. Geo. Moncrief, that owing to a misunderstanding by him as commissioner of road division No. 3, he had been paid at the rate of $1.50 per day in place of $1.75 and asked the council to now remit to him the balance due from the increase.

Mr. H .J Forster was present at the meeting and presented an account for gravel taken from his pit— 80 yards instead of 55 yards, as allowed by the certificate presented at last meeting. Mr. Forster also claimed $3 damages to crop.

DRAIN ROAD BRIDGE

The committee who were in charge of the construction of the bridge on the Drain road, presented a report as follows;

To the Reeve and Council;

Gentlemen;—Your committee, who were appointed at an emergent meeting called by the reeve, owing to the washout of the bridge on the Drain road, for the purpose of reconstructing the said bridge, beg to report that after several conferences, it was finally determined to construct concrete piers, with a wooden superstructure. The old material having been found of sufficient good quality and quantity to rebuild a new bridge, your committee then asked for tenders, and having received two from different contractors and the lowest being considerable above the estimate of the cost made by the committee, it was decided to do the work by day labor and that Mr. James O'Keefe be placed in charge of the cement work thereon. This has been done and the job is entirely satisfactory. The cost, by the accounts as submitted herewith is about $559. There is yet on hand unused material of the value of about $50. Your committee wish to submit that calculating the extent of the cement work at 140 cubic yards at $4.86 a cubic yard,—and $45 for excavating—the lowest tender—there is a considerable difference in the cost of the work in favor of the day labor system.

Respectfully submitted.

W. G. HOWDEN,
Chairman.

On motion of Messrs. Howden and Morrow this report was received and adopted.

ACCOUNTS

The following accounts were handed in;—

Pay sheet, work hauling material for bridge, $84.25.

Jas. O'Keefe, labor, himself and 9 men, at bridge, $251.30.

F. Moncrief, account of repairs to bridges and culverts in R. D. W. No. 4, $78.55.

W. G. Morrow, repairs to road grades, $11.50.

Jos. T. Green, clearing watering trough on gravel road, $1.00.

On motion of Messrs. May and Howden, the accounts as presented above were passed and ordered to be paid.

DRAIN OVERFLOWED.

A communication was read from Mr. Jos. T. Green stating that owing to a culvert and drain being stopped, the water flowed over his premises causing damage thereto, and asking the council to take such action as may relieve him of the damage.

It was moved by Messrs. May and Morrow, that the clerk is hereby directed to inform Mr. T. Hurley that this council is quite prepared to assume and grade his street at such time as he formally opens and dedicates a prolongation of the same to give an outlet at the northern end thereof, and that such outlet street must be of the width of 66 feet. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Howden and Morrow that the account and claim of Mr. H. J. Forster be referred to a committee of the reeve and Couns. Dobbin and Morrow for investigation. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and Howden, that the communication of Mr. Jos. T. Green, be referred to a committee of the Whole Council for further examination.—This was carried.

C.P.R. Conductor Killed To-day At Manvers in Freight Collision

Edward Wansborough, of Toronto Junction, Met Instant Death While Sleeping in a Caboose—Several Others Had Close Call—Incoming Freight Ran Into Another Standing on the Track—Three Cabooses and Loaded Car Telescoped—Moving Train Could Not be Stopped in Time to Prevent Disaster.

A collision, which resulted in Conductor Edward Wansborough, of Toronto Junction, being killed, occurred this morning at 7.50 o'clock at Manvers Station on the C.P.R., 18 miles west of this city.

An air brake on a freight train coming east refused to work, and thus the heavily loaded train went headlong into the rear of another freight standing at the station.

The dead man was sleeping in a caboose of the standing train.

It appears that the freight at the station had come in only a short time before the other, and was waiting at the depot, while the engine was taking in water, before proceeding. On the rear of this train were three cabooses, the last one belonging to the crew of the train, while in the other two cabooses were trainmen who were off duty, and who were on their way to Havelock where they would take their trains. These men were sleeping in their respective cabooses, while the crew of the standing train were off at the station.

Conductor Grieve was in charge of the incoming train and was to have stopped at the semaphore. At the first appliance of the brake by the engineer, the train slackened up but upon the second appliance to bring it to a standstill the brake did not hold the air and the train did not stop. There was no way whatever to prevent the train going ahead. It was a stock train and heavily loaded. Fortunately the fellows in the first caboose were awake. They noticed the train was going to collide and at once awakened their companions in the next car. They succeeded in arousing the crew in the middle caboose, but Conductor Wansborough was not able to get out as soon as the others. In a minute the collision took place and he was killed. The three cabooses and one adjoining box car, loaded with salt, were smashed into kindling wood.

Wansborough met death instantly. A large splinter penetrated his chest near the right lung. The opening was about the size of a fifty-cent piece.

The deceased was a man of about forty years of age. His home was at Toronto Junction. He was married and leaves a wife and family of 3 children. He had been in the employ of the company for many years and was very popular with his fellow workers, who feel his loss very keenly. He was a brother of Chief Train Dispatcher Wansborough, of Toronto.

An auxiliary train arrived shortly after the accident and at once began to clean up the debris.

Coroner Gray was notified and left this afternoon for the scene of the wreck. He will empanel a jury and will hold an inquest into Conductor Wansborough's death tomorrow, Thursday evening.

FULLER DETAILS

The number of the freight train that had its cabooses telescoped was 250. Conductor R. J. Hay was in charge and was in the station at the time of the accident. Conductor M. R. Grieve and Engineer John Ritchie, were in charge of the freight train, No. 350, which ran into the other. The engineer says that as soon as he noticed that the semaphore was against him he whistled down brakes and he did not see the other train on the main line until he was about fifteen car lengths away. The train at the time the impact occurred was not going more than five miles an hour.

There was a conductor and trainmen in each of the three cabooses on the rear of the standing train. The men on the two rear cabooses were, as already stated, bound for Havelock to take out certain trains and all were sleeping. A trainman in the rear caboose heard the whistle of 'down brakes' and promptly gave the alarm which aroused the others, all getting out, except Wansborough who was sleeping in the second caboose.

The three cabooses are a complete wreck and also the car which was loaded with salt and flour.

The track was soon cleared and traffic was not long delayed.

Says Grocer Sold Light Weight Butter

A lady called at the police station this morning and swore out an information against a local grocer for selling her light-weight butter. She stated that she bought a pound of butter the other day, as she thought but when she got home and weighed it, three ounces were lacking to the pound. The lady was quite indignant over the matter. She is a hard-working woman and when she pays for a pound of butter, she wants full weight. It is likely the grocer will appear before the magistrate tomorrow morning.

BASEBALL

NO FIXED GAME.

The Port Hope Guide, referring to the coming series of championship ball games with Peterborough, says,—

It has been rumored about town that these home and home games have been fixed, and the only one of the series, which will be on the square will be the third. This report is absolutely without foundation. The locals are out to win both games, and the Peterborough team will do likewise. There is nothing to be gained by a third game, in fact it would mean a loss to both teams. Allow $200 as gate receipts for a third game at Cobourg, and this would be the outside figure; of this amount Cobourg receives $20 or ten per cent. for the use of the grounds. Expenses of advertising in three towns, new balls, umpire, etc., would mean another $25, which would leave a balance of $155 to be divided between both clubs, or $77.50 each. Now at the very least, it will cost Manager Crawford $100 every time his team takes the field, so it will readily be seen that a third game would be a loss. Baseball enthusiasts can take this tip that Port Hope is out to win at Peterborough, and also at home, and everything is on the square.

Children Will be Taken to Shelter

At the police court this morning Rev. Father McColl asked His Worship that two children who were left at the House of Providence about a year be taken to the Children's Shelter that they might be placed in desirable homes. The Reverend Father stated that about a year ago, these two children, a boy aged seven and a girl of six were left at the House of Providence by their mother, who, Father McColl said did not live with her husband. The whereabouts of either parent is not known at present. A home has been procured for one of the children and the people with whom one child is going, intend adopting her. The other child will be left at the Shelter until such time as a home can be procured for him. His Worship consented to the children being handed over to the Shelter.

This is the last Thursday afternoon half holiday. After this week all the stores will keep open on Thursday afternoon.

SOME POINTERS FOR SPORTSMEN

No Duck Shooting Will be Permitted on Sunday

As September 1st, the opening day for the shooting of duck, plover and snipe, falls on Sunday next, it is possible that some sportsmen may feel tempted to let fly at the birds on that day if they happen to come across a flock, instead of waiting until the next morning as the law demands. For the benefit of such, Game Warden Johnston asks us to publish the following clause of the Fish and Game Act;

Clause 13.—No person shall on the Lord's Day hunt, take, kill or destroy any game, or use any gun or other instrument for that purpose.—63 Vic., 49, s. 6.

Mr. Wallace Jones of Sturgeon Point saw a flock of about 100 ducks flying from the north towards Emily Creek the other day. This is a much larger flock than has been noticed hitherto, and suggests the possibility of the birds being the first contingent of the fall flight from the northern lakes.

The low water is bothering the old duck hunters quite a bit, says the Lindsay Post. Old "blinds" are useless owing to the receding water having left the channels thereto lanes of bottomless mud, in place of the navigable waterways of old. Every day parties can be seen poking their way through the sedge looking up new points of vantage, and this is having a bad effect on the birds, as they are being constantly disturbed.

Non-residents of the Province who wish to hunt ducks and other small game must pay a license fee of $25 this season. If moose and deer are the desirable quarry, the fee is $50. The first-mentioned license is of green tint, the latter red.

Peterboro' Canoe Company Employees

Held First Annual Picnic Down the Otonabee Yesterday

Yesterday the employees of the Peterborough Canoe Co. held their first excursion to Jubilee per steamer Monarch, and it was pronounced to be the best excursion held on the river this year. Leaving Peterborough wharf at 9 a.m., the sail down the beautiful winding Otonabee river was greatly enjoyed by all. Fruit was served free to all on board. The weather was all that could be desired, and although the trip had not been advertised the boat was burdened with over 150 people, being made up of the employees and their friends. There was an exceptionally good list of sports and every item, which the committee had arranged worked without a hitch, which added much to the enjoyment of all. The sports were entered into enthusiastically by men, women and children, and resulted as follows,—

Race, girls under 12.—Marie O'Dette, Eva Jobe.

Race, girls under 16.—Lillie Harron, Marie O'Dette.

Race, boys under 12.—Percy Dunford, Peter Gosslin.

Race, boys under 16.—Peter Gosslin, Percy Dunford.

Men's race, 100 yards, open — N. Hopkins, H. Hayes.

Ladies' race—Muriel O'Dette, Rose Coughlan.

Married Men's Race—Ed. McDonnell, L. Brooks.

Married Ladies' race—Mrs. L. Brooks, Mrs. Jones.

Double race—Miss M. O'Dette, and Vernon O'Dette.

Walking race—Hy. Morgan, T. McMurray.

Standing Jump—H. Hayes, E. McDonnell.

Stand, hop, step and jump — H. Hayes, E. McDonnell.

Running hop, step and jump.—H. Hayes, E. McDonnell.

The last event, which caused a lot of excitement was the tug of war, between the upstairs men and the downstairs men, despite the fact that their opponents had the services of a city alderman, who should have had a good deal of pull. The prize was a box of cigars. The other prizes were substantial and were distributed on the trip home.

The sport committee was composed of Messrs. E. McDonnell, A. Kingdon, Ald. Morgaan, W. Richardson and B. O'Dette, and the success of the picnic was largely due to their efforts, also to the substantial manner in which the management of the factory backed them up in providing money for the sports which totalled nearly $40.00, also to the excellent services given at the hotel, and last, but not least, the courteous treatment by the officers and crew of the steamer Monarch.

It speaks volumes for the firm to have such harmony existing between employer and employee, and a noteworthy fact is that the whole factory turned out en masse with only one exception, which was unavoidable.

MILLERS ADVANCE PRICE OF FLOUR

Increase is Feature of the Market in Montreal

A Montreal despatch says,—A feature of the local flour situation today was the stronger feeling which developed in the market for spring wheat grades, and the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, Limited, advanced prices ten cents per barrel, to $5.20 for choice patents, and $4.60 for seconds, while the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, marked their prices up 20c. per barrel to $5.30 for choice patents and at $4.70 for seconds. This advance is attributed almost entirely to the strength which has been displayed in the Winnipeg wheat market this week, prices having advanced 1c to 2 3-8c per bushel since Saturday.

In addition to this there has also been an increased demand from local and country buyers, for supplies, and there is considerable enquiry from European sources for round lots, but the volume of business done on the latter account has been comparatively small this week, as foreign buyers have not up to the present responded to the full advance in the raw material on this side.

Is Laying Trap for the Moors; More on Morrocan Question

General Drude Sends Part of Army South.

French Commander to Be Given All the Troops He Needs — Assassination of Sultan Not Confirmed—Trial of Prisoners—Arabs Prepare For Attack — Wire Fences Being Used.

Paris, Aug. 29.—In announcing the Government's attitude on the Moroccan question at yesterday's Cabinet session, Premier Clemenceau declared that Gen. Drude, the French commander, would be given all the troops he needed to carry out the mission with which he was charged.

M. Clemenceau said the Government had propounded a number of questions to the French commander, who had not yet answered them.

M. Clemenceau added that the Government had no confirmation of a rumor that the Sultan of Morocco had been assassinated, and also was ignorant of the real purpose of Mulai Hafig, proclaimed Sultan at Morocco City.

The Premier said Gen. Drude had more troops than he had asked for, adding. "While at Karlsbad I took the initiative and advised that more men of war and an additional battery of artillery be sent to Casablanca."

Cabling from Casablanca, a correspondent of The Journal says the indications are that the Arabs are preparing for another general attack on the French forces. Everything, he continues, is being done to give them a warm reception, and wire entanglements are being fixed around the camp.

Gen. Drude, the French commander, has decided to despatch a portion of his army, about five miles south of Casablanca, to a position near Taddert, where he will endeavor to draw the Moors into a trap.

The police officials here yesterday opened the preliminary trial of fifty-three prisoners charged with assassination, robbery, pillage or connivance with the hostile Moors.

Sultan's Troops Defeated.

Tangier, Aug. 29.—Advices received here from Fez says that the Zrahna tribe defeated a column of the Sultan's troops, sent to collect tribute from the tribesmen.

Spain Sends Ships.

Madrid, Aug. 29.—Orders have been sent to the battleship Polayo and the cruiser Carlos Quinto to be ready to sail for Morocco at a moment's notice.

IRISH CANDIDATE ARRESTED.

Declares Government Will Cause Revolution In Its Present Course.

Longford, Ireland, Aug. 29—Mr. McKenna, the Irish Nationalist candidate for election to Parliament for South Longford, and 17 of his supporters, were arrested yesterday on charges of "participating in an unlawful assembly likely to cause a riot."

They were committed for trial after Mr. McKenna had protested that the policy of the Government did not make for peace and asserted that it would cause a revolution in the situation in South Longford, where an election takes place next week, owing to the resignation of Edward Blake on account of ill-health.

The speakers at the political meetings are advising the people to drive off the cattle from the grazing lands.

Broker Kept the Cash.

St. Catharines, Aug. 29.—Yesterday afternoon Charles V. Mutart, broker, charged with the theft of $151, proceeds of a draft given him by A. E. Clayton to pay custom duties on a carload of stone, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Comfort, and was let go on suspended sentence, though Crown Attorney Brennan contended that because restitution had been made should be of no avail as the money was not returned till after the arrest had been made.

Fire at Trenton.

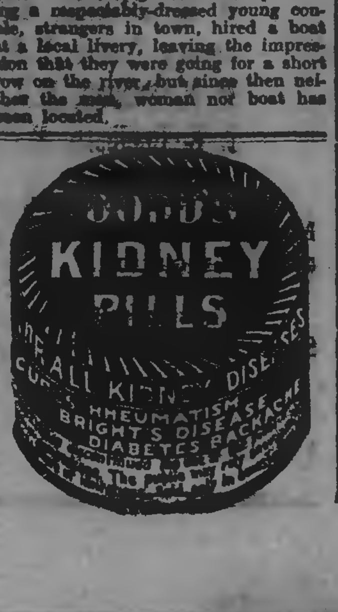
Trenton, Aug. 29.—A severe fire, which for a time threatened the town, broke out in a barn belonging to Geo. Fennell shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday, and before it was got under control had totally destroyed Fennell's hide store and two frame buildings belonging to J. Gotchard, together with a quantity of coal. All the buildings were partially insured, but the loss will be many thousand dollars.

Jumped Into Lake.

Calgary, Alta., Aug. 29.—At Strathmore, Alta., a small town 30 miles east of Calgary, an unknown man committed suicide by jumping from a trestle into Eagle Lake. Four section hands were walking along the track in the direction of the trestle when they saw the man leap into the lake.

Theft or Tragedy?

Brockville, Aug. 29.—Monday evening a respectably-dressed young couple, strangers in town, hired a boat at a local livery, leaving the impression that they were going for a short row on the river, but since then neither the man, woman nor boat has been located.



BABY'S BODY FOUND.

Remains Discovered Far Away From Spot of Crime.

Detroit, Aug. 29.—The body of a little girl, apparently two years old, and undoubtedly that of little Helen Stemmelen, who was thrown into the river Tuesday night from the Belle Isle bridge by her father, was found yesterday at noon near the plant of the Great Lakes Engineering Works.

Driven insane by constant meditation on the fancied enormity of his sins until his mind become unbalanced by the idea that he ought to make atonement through sacrificial offering of his dearest possession, Albert Stemmelen, 270 Baldwin avenue, bookkeeper for the Wesson estate, has confessed at the police station that he had drowned his two-year-old baby girl, Helen.

Stemmelen felt better last night than he has since he gave himself up. He now refuses to talk and has asked for an attorney to defend him.

ESCAPE FROM AIRSHIP.

Balloon Collapsed But Formed Parachute Near the Earth.

Greenville, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Earl Hess had a thrilling escape in the presence of 15,000 persons who had gathered to see his ascension in an airship.

When 860 feet above the earth the gas bag exploded and the aerial craft shot downward with terrific speed.

Just before Hess struck the earth the netting became tangled and caused the gas bag to form a parachute.

Hess landed safely, although his ship was wrecked.

DYNAMITE KILLS FOUR.

Men Blasting Meet Death in Premature Discharge.

Kenora, Aug. 29.—On Monday at noon a most serious dynamite explosion, in which four men were killed, took place at camp No. 5 of W. T. Parsons, contractor on the G. T. P. construction works. Foreman D. Flynn was engaged with others in loading holes with powder and dynamite preparatory to a blasting operation. All were killed. It is thought that accumulated heat from a former explosion caused a premature discharge.

Derrick to Raise a Man.

Welland, Aug. 29.—At the Government elevator, Port Colborne, yesterday morning Alfred Jackson, a workman, fell to the hopper of a 30-foot cement bin. He was taken to St. Catharines Hospital last night, but has not since regained consciousness.

It was difficult to get him out of the bin. Comrades finally used a rope and derrick.

Several ribs were fractured, but the chief injury is to the base of the brain. His home is in Thorold, where his wife resides.

Trolley Strikes Auto.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 29.—An automobile run by Dr. George Waldron of 408 Plymouth avenue, Rochester, was struck by a Rochester and Eastern trolley car at the Freshour crossing, near Canandaigua, late yesterday afternoon and four people, including the doctor, Mrs. William Scandling and Mrs. Jane Hobbs of Hopewell and Mrs. Katherine Farnsworth of Rochester, were instantly killed.

Brockville ratepayers voted down a by-law yesterday to raise $9,000 for the improvement of local bridges.

PRAISE FOR THE KAISER

Carnegie Eulogizes Germany's War Lord.

Says the Emperor Is a Great Man—Has Stimulated the Vital Energy of the Empire—Mighty Power for Good or Evil In the World—Predicts Amalgamation of the Two Peoples.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—Andrew Carnegie's estimate of Emperor William, probably derived from his passionate interviews with His Majesty at Kiel in June last, appear in a periodical, The Morgen, to-day, under the title of "Emperor William's Mission."

Mr. Carnegie recalls the remark Cardinal Richelieu made to King Louis XIII. one day: "A great man has arisen in England, your majesty. His name is Cromwell."

Continuing, Mr. Carnegie says: "I say that a great man has arisen in Germany—the Emperor. It is impossible to follow his deeds without feeling that here is a personality, here is a power which is able to do good or evil in the world. Hitherto he has given Germany a stimulus to industrial activity. German ships are the fastest on the ocean and Germany's waterways are being developed according to his plans and soon will play an important role in the internal development of Germany. The Emperor's head and hand assisted in making Germany the second largest steel producer in the world. He is at once the Emperor and the vital energy of the empire."

Mr. Carnegie advocates a union of the European states for the maintenance of peace, saying: "Such amalgamations of peoples, merely the dream of poets, are bound to come sometime as the race progresses."

He adds: "As the Emperor of Russia took the initial step towards ensuring the general peace of the world, by calling The Hague conference, so the other mighty Emperor, inspired by thoughts that he owes it to himself and Germany, to play a leading role as the liberator of the continent from the pressure that bears heavily upon it, and free it from the pale, paralyzing fear of war and annihilation between the members of the same body."

MAKES BONFIRE OF MONEY.

Crazy Actor Throws Jewelry In Sewer and Shoots Himself.

Iowa, Aug. 29.—In sight of an astonished crowd, Carl Pressley, an actor, Tuesday made a fire in the street of his paper money, threw his jewelry in the sewer, and then announced to a group of friends that he was going to kill himself.

He drew a revolver from his pocket, walked across the street, and calling to a number of persons in the vicinity to watch him die, fired a bullet into his brain.

Investigate Flying Rollers.

Windsor, Aug. 29.—Michigan's deputy attorney-general is making an investigation of the Benton Harbor colony of Flying Rollers, following a request of the British consul-general at New York, who says the Benton Harbor sect are proselyting in British territory and receiving many donations.

He wants to know if they are a purely religious institution of worthy aims, or otherwise.

It is claimed, however, the investigation is really due to complaints made by Harry Williams and a man named Cleveland, former members of the colony, who have recently been in Windsor in search of information. Cleveland's wife continues with the colony and he wants her to forsake them.

Boys Buried In Sand.

Holderness, N. H., Aug. 29.—Two boys, Robert Williams of Boston and Getchel Cleghorn of Montreal, were killed, and a third, Daniel Denny of West Newton, Mass., is in a dangerous condition through the caving in of a sand bank at Squam Lake yesterday.

The boys were digging away a sand bank for a ball ground, when it gave way and buried them. The Denny boy was revived after hard work.

Student Electrocuted.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—L. H. Carter, son of Brigadier-General W. H. Carter, head of the department of the lakes in the United States army, was killed instantly by an electric shock sustained in the dairy room of the University of Illinois, at Champaign, where young Mr. Carter was a special student. He was cleaning a chandelier.

Accidentally Shoots Mother.

Brockville, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Ralph Wardell was accidentally shot at Sandy Creek by her little son, aged eight years. The boy was playing with a rifle and did not know it was loaded. The bullet struck his mother, entering one breast and lodging in the other. She is expected to recover.

Lake Steamer Sinks.

Detroit, Aug. 29.—Off Bar Point in Lake Erie Tuesday night the steel freighters A. G. Bowser, up-bound, and Isaac L. Elwood, down-bound, collided, and the Elwood went to the bottom with a large hole amidships.

Explosion on Battleship.

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 29.—An explosion of gas occurred yesterday on board the Portuguese battleship Vasco Da Gama. Several sailors were injured, but no death has been reported.

Chosen Arbitrator.

Montreal, Aug. 29.—Duncan McCormick, K. C., has been chosen to represent the Montreal Cotton Mills Co. in the conciliation enquiry into employes' complaints.

Band Can Play.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—The Musicians' Union has decided to take no action to prevent a foreign band playing at the Ottawa Exhibition.

O'Donnell, the C.P.R. engineer injured in a wreck at Hama two weeks ago, is dead of his injuries at Winnipeg.

BRITISH HOUSE PROROGUES.

Over Sixty Bills Passed In Long and Arduous Session.

London, Aug. 29.—With picturesque old-time ceremonial the British Parliament was prorogued yesterday, thus ending one of the longest and most arduous sessions, during which the royal assent was given to over 60 bills which the two Houses passed.

The members of the House of Commons assembled at noon and shortly afterwards they were summoned to the House of Lords, where the King's speech was read.

The statements made were of the usual, colorless character, referring to the recent royal visits and the friendly relations existing between Great Britain and the other powers, the conclusion of the agreement with Spain and the peace conference at The Hague, concluding with a review of the most important bills passed during the session.

His Majesty's Hopes.

London, Aug. 29.—On the prorogation of Parliament the King in his speech said:

"The meeting of Prime Ministers and other leading statesmen of the dominions beyond the seas with representatives of the Imperial Government was a source of deep satisfaction to me, and I note with gratification the arrangement for future meetings at fixed intervals under the title of the Imperial Conference, for the free discussion of questions of common concern."

TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF.

Son of King of Milan Attempts Suicide by Poison.

London, Aug. 29.—A message from Constantinople says that Geo. Christish, the legitimized son of the King of Milan, attempted recently to commit suicide while visiting Prinkipo Island, in the Sea of Marmora.

He applied for admission into the Thererianum in Vienna, and for the purpose asked for a medical certificate from the Austro-Hungarian embassy at Constantinople. His family wished that the certificate be made out in the name of George Obrenvitch, the latter the family name of the King of Milan, but the embassy physician declined on the ground that he had no knowledge of any such individual.

The refusal exasperated the young man, who is of a highly nervous temperament, and he determined to end his life by taking a dose of arsenic. His purpose was discovered in time to apply remedies, and he is said to be out of danger.

George Sippi, who is dead at Winnipeg, was the son of the late Dr. Sippi, for many years bursar of the London insane asylum.

High Dive Into Sea of Matrimony

Editor's Brother Was Halter-Thrown and Hog-Tied and He Knew it

Down in this section of Ontario very few people have the good fortune to know the Hespeler Herald with its 909 subscribers or its editor, the one and only Oscar A. Eby. Mr. Eby throws a queer pen, a sort of Josh Billingsgate. Last week his brother was married in Washington and the Herald thus proclaimed it;

The stock of bachelors in the particular branch of the Eby family, which is puffed up with righteous pride because it belongs to us, has petered out quite suddenly, and marriageable maidens seeking wealth and beauty of face and form must search elsewhere, for there are no more of us left since our kid brother took a high dive and parachute drop into the sea of matrimony. According to the press notices and a little inside information that came along the other day, Bert made his first and only appearance in the orange-covered arena at 7.30 last Wednesday evening, the capital of the United States being chosen as a fitting and proper place to pull off an event of such world-wide interest and importance, and we understand the master of ceremonies made a complete and everlasting good job of it.

The name of the young lady who is responsible for Bert's leap for life is—or rather was—Miss Flora McQuirk, and, judging from her photo and the very laudatory advance notice of her literary expert, we're going to cotton to our new sister, and think a heap of her, more especially as we've never had a sister of our own, and have been waiting for nearly half a century for some dear, sweet gal to take pity on Bert, forget his little frailties and imperfections, halter-throw, hog-tie and marry him before he could get away.

We extend congratulations to the Kid—Mr. and Mrs. Eoy, now, if you like it better that way—and we only only hope that they may slide along the matrimonial highway with the friction clutch clean out of business and the lever of kindness, love and contentment pushed over past the seventh notch.

In a word, "we 'ope they're 'appy—we 'ope they'll stay 'appy."

Wheat Cutting in the West Will be General in a Week

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 28. — Mr. Matthew Snow, assistant warehouse commissioner of Winnipeg, is in the city today on a tour of inspection of the crops in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta. Leaving Winnipeg, Mr. Snow, journeyed through the Souris country, through Estevan to Moose Jaw. Doubling back he visited Regina, Indian Head and the Qu'Appelle districts. In the province of Saskatchewan, he states there is a splendid crop, but it is late and green. In Southern Manitoba, the wheat will be half a crop, while in the northern part of the same province, it is similar to Saskatchewan. Cutting will not be general for a week, or ten days yet on these areas. He states that, so far as his observations are concerned, the low temperature of several nights ago, had done no damage except to tender garden plants and potatoes.

Mr. Snow visited the southern part of the Province of Alberta, on the Crow's Nest Branch of the C. P. R., as far west as Pincher. He also visited the country along the A. R. & I. as far south as Cardston. He confirms the observations of The Bulletin's crop reports from the south, and states that a great portion of the winter wheat is cut and within the limits of safety. He estimates the total wheat crop of the west for 1907 in the neighborhood of 75,000,000 or 80,000,000 bushels, which at the increased prices, that are sure to rule this season, will net a greater equivalent in cash than the crop in 1906.

Tokio, Aug. 29.—The havoc wrought by the torrential rains in the central provinces during the last few days is assuming alarming dimensions.

Earl Grey Dedicates King Edward Sanitarium Yesterday

Hotel for Treatment of Consumptives Declared Open by the Governor-General—Disease Must Be Rooted Out—Bears Analogy to Leprosy Says His Excellency — Buildings the Gift of Private Generosity.

Weston, Aug. 29.—Before a brilliant assemblage yesterday afternoon, the Governor-General of Canada officially opened the new King Edward Sanitarium for Consumptives, which has been established in connection with the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives at Weston, through the generosity of H. C. Hammond and Robert Mulholland. Each donated $10,000 to build two magnificent buildings for the treatment of advanced cases.

His Excellency and party spent 15 minutes in going over the sanitarium.

"It is a great privilege to be here," said Earl Grey. "I think I am not wrong in assuming that the proceedings here to-day has established conclusively that Canada is in earnest in trying to sweep from the country the terrible white plague."

The proceedings commenced with a beautiful, reverent prayer from Dr. Potts. He prayed that the light of the Lord would be with the gathering. That prayer has been answered. He also prayed for the wiping out of the white plague, and it is our wish to-day that that prayer may soon be answered.

"It was an established fact," said Earl Grey, "that consumption could be removed, just as leprosy; it was a standing shame and reproach to the Government and individuals that there was not more care taken by the people of Canada to protect themselves from the cause of consumption."

SEIZE BAND OF TRAITORS.

Police Arrest Naval Mutineer and All His Followers.

Odessa, Aug. 29.—The police have succeeded after much difficulty in arresting the sailor Matuchenko, who led the mutiny on board the Russian battleship Kniaz Potemkino in the summer of 1905.

Matuchenko had been for two years in New York, and last July returned to Russia in disguise. The officers of the law, however, took no action until Matuchenko formed a revolutionary organization. All the members of this band were taken into custody, along with their chief, and thrown into the Odessa prison. They will be court-martialled.

MUNICIPAL CONVENTION.

President Warns Delegates Against Freak Legislation.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—That municipal debentures increased in the three years ending Dec. 31, 1906, by $35,000,000, as against a total issue of $26,700,000 by the Provincial Governments, and that the municipal indebtedness of Canada totals $150,000,000, as against a total provincial indebtedness of $100,000,000, was clearly shown to the convention of Ontario Municipalities, in session at the City Hall yesterday afternoon by Dr. Morley Wickett, who delivered, by invitation, an address upon "Municipal Statistics and Debentures."

He suggested that many municipalities stood in their own light by issuing debentures in a slovenly manner, sometimes carelessly written with pen and ink or typewritten and upon flimsy note paper of all shades and sizes, and payable at obscure village banks. He also criticised the dearth of municipal statistics. There was no uniform method and comparisons could not be made by students of political economy.

The convention was opened by an address from the president, ex-Mayor Ellis, now city treasurer of Ottawa. About 100 delegates are in attendance and nearly every important municipality in old Ontario is represented. Mr. Ellis warned the association against freak legislation.

TUG SWAMPS; THREE DROWN.

Alert Being Towed—Tight Line Caused Accident.

Sault Ste. Marie, Aug. 29.—According to advices received in the Soo yesterday morning from Cutler, a drowning accident, resulting in three fatalities, occurred in Georgian Bay at a late hour Tuesday afternoon.

It appears that the tug Seymour was towing another small tug, the Alert, behind which was attached a raft of logs. The lines slackened for a moment, and when they tightened, the small tug was unable to stand the strain and was swamped.

Of the five men who were on board three were drowned. Their names are; Capt. Kennedy of Thessalon, Engineer Joseph Smith of Sudbury and William Boyer, a resident of Cutler.

The bodies were all recovered yesterday morning.

ARMAMENT FOR VIGILANT.

Four Modern Quick-Firing Guns Have Just Been Mounted.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—Four modern quick-firing 1 1-2-pound guns have just been mounted on the Canadian fishery protection cruiser Vigilant on Lake Ontario.

They have a range of 4 1-2 miles, and take the place of some old-pattern ten-pound muzzle-loaders.

The modern guns came with the boat as part of her original equipment. However, they were kept in a shed in stores, and not mounted because of some changes which have to be made in the deck arrangements and because the decks would require strengthening to support the guns.

Wife Attempts Suicide.

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—Shamed by her husbands arrest at Morris, Man., Mrs. Morley, wife of R. G. Morley, who accompanied her husband in an automobile in his flight from justice and who tented with him at night on the open prairie, Tuesday ran towards a near-by creek with the avowed intention of throwing herself into the water.

Constable Bestwick had just placed his hand on Morley's shoulder when the prisoner's wife announced that she was going to end her life, and promptly set off towards a creek in which was water six or seven feet in depth.

Morley was remanded in the Police Court until to-day.

A Roast for Deakin.

London, Aug. 29.—(C. A. P.)—Senator Sir Josiah Symon, interviewed by The Sydney Morning Herald on his return from a tour in England and Canada, denounces unsparingly the conduct of Australian delegates to the Imperial conference. He accuses Deakin of entering the lists with Tory reactionaries to fan the flame of protection in England.

As to who sent Sir William Lyne to the conference, the Senator declares he does not know, it was reported he simply introduced himself, and Deakin put the best face on it he could.

Treatment of Insane.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Hon. Dr. Willoughby, who, with Dr. Clark, superintendent of Toronto Asylum, and Dr. Ryan, superintendent of Kingston Asylum, visited a number of asylums in Europe with the object of reporting on the best methods of dealing with the insane, will make a report, which may have an important bearing on legislation to be introduced next session.

In Munich, Germany, they visited a phychiatic clinic department, in one of the hospitals where mental diseases are treated at their inception. In the majority of cases it has been found unnecessary to send the patient to the asylum.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

Dummer Resident Had Close Call

Was Knocked Down and Dragged Some Distance by a Heifer

Special to the Review.

Lakefield, Aug. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Atwood passed through Peterborough on Thursday on their way to Rice Lake, where they intend spending a few days.

Mr. Newton May, of Toronto and Mr. Southby, of Port Hope, who have been spending a few days at Lakefield, returned home on Wednesday.

Mr. Miles, of Dummer, one of the shining lights of the Dummer Council, had a narrow escape from having his usefulness to mankind, cut short a few days ago. Mr. Miles, who is an accomplished hand with cattle, was leading one of his heifers by a rope when the animal, deciding to take matters its own way, charged down on Mr. Miles and knocked him over. In his fall, his legs got entangled in the rope, and the unfortunate gentleman was dragged along in a most humiliating position by the infuriated animal, to the door of its stable. Luckily Mr. Miles escaped with a few small bruises. History does not relate with how many bruises the heifer escaped.

LOW WATER AGAIN

The "Bob Hall" came up last night to do some work, with the scow and derrick, moored beside the old Kerosha. The water is at present so low in Bobcaygeon, that the Government boat had to be towed up the river and through the lock by the Calumet. She scraped on the rocks all the way.—Lindsay Post.

Wedding Bells In Lakefield

Miss Victoria Nugent Became the Bride of Mr. Samuel Spence Yesterday

Review Special.

Lakefield, Aug. 28.—The marriage of Mr. Percy Spence, eldest son of Mr. Samuel Spence, of Lakefield, to Miss Victoria Nugent, daughter of Mrs. Nugent, of the same place, was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother on Queen street, on Wednesday, Aug., 28th, at 7 p.m. Many of the relatives and friends of the young couple were present. The house had been most tastefully decorated for the occasion, the drawing room and dining room being draped in yellow bunting and the tables trimmed with yellow ribbon.

There were no bridesmaids. The flower girl was Miss Gwyneth Madge Nugent a young cousin of the bride who wore a most becoming costume of white silk, trimmed with Valenciennes lace. She carried a basket of roses and carnations. The bride looked beautiful in a dress of white Aeolian over white silk, trimmed with ribbon and lace, and wearing a tulle veil and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hamilton Spence, of Tyrone, Ont., uncle of the bride assisted by Rev. J. Bedford, pastor of the Methodist church, Lakefield. After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the supper room, where a most sumptuous repast awaited them. In the midst of the festivities the happy pair left for Peterborough en route for Toronto and other points.

The future home of the bride and bridegroom will be in Lakefield.

A number of costly and beautiful presents were received. The gift of the bridegroom to the bride was a beautiful necklace and bracelet to match.

The bride's travelling gown was of blue broadcloth with hat to match.

The wedding march was played by Miss Mary Spence, sister of the bridegroom.

WEDDING BELLS

COLHOUN—KEEGAN

A quiet wedding was solemnized last evening at 7.30 o'clock by Rev. A. E. Stauernagel, at his residence 711 Water street, when Miss Margaret Keegan, Parry Creet, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Jas. Calhoun, also of this city. They were unattended and will reside in this city.

DREDGE RAISED

Owing to rough weather the past few days little progress has been made with the work of raising the dredge Sir Wilfrid. The men, however, were busy all last night and are hard at work today. At the time of writing the dredge was about one hundred feet from the pier in sixteen feet of water. If nothing unforeseen happens, it is expected she will be brought in the harbor this evening. She will be taken from here to Toronto, where she will be given a thorough overhauling by the Polson Iron Works Company.—Port Hope Guide.

Grocer Sold Short Weight Butter, But Was Not Fined

Could Not Prove That There Was Any Deception on the Part of the Grocer—Merchants Must be More Careful in Future or the Results Will be Serious.

Selling a print of butter which weighed only thirteen ounces, for a pound, which is three ounces more than it really contained, was the charge against a well known grocery man of this city, and which was heard before his Worship Magistrate Dumble at the police court this morning.

While it was not proven that there was any fraud or wilful deception on the part of the defendant, his Worship gave him a good talking to, informing him that he should not lead his customers to believe they were getting a pound of butter, when they were really only receiving 13 ounces.

Mrs. A. Swartz, the informant was sworn. On Saturday evening she went into this store to purchase some butter. "What is your butter?" she asked, and she was told that all they had was twenty cents per pound. The clerk showed her three prints and she remarked that it looked like a small pound. She took the largest of the three and paid twenty cents for it. After she left the store witness was still sure that it was not a pound and to satisfy herself she went to another grocery store and had it weighed. It was exactly 13 ounces. She then went home and kept it till Monday morning when she brought it down to the police station.

Chief Rossel went into the box. He was not at the station when Mrs. Swartz called the first time. She came back again at five o'clock and told her story. Witness said that he weighed it on the scales in his office and it was 2 1-2 ounces lacking a pound, with the paper on it. He took it to a store and had it weighed and it went exactly thirteen ounces.

The grocer then went into the box. He did not know Mrs. Swartz nor did he remember the transaction. He stated that they bought butter by the block and sold it so much a print. They never sold it by the pound. With this statement his Worship did not quite agree. He did not think it would be business-like to buy and sell in this way. In fact he informed the grocer that, according to law they should sell by the pound, sixteen ounces, avoirdupois weight. He wanted to know if they sold other articles by the lump instead of the pound. The witness remarked that if the customers wanted it weighed they would do so. His Worship asked the grocer if he did not have a card in his window advertising butter at twenty cents per pound. He replied that he did not have one last week. Witness said that had there been sixteen ounces in the print it would have cost twenty-four cents, but there being only thirteen ounces it was just twenty cents.

His Worship said that the woman thought she was getting 16 ounces. She was not enlightened to the contrary. There is a saying that there are tricks in every trade, and His Worship supposed this was one of them.

"I cannot say that there was any fraud," continued the magistrate, but had there been any, in the interests of the community, I would have imposed a heavy fine. The woman was deceived in her own mind and it would be much better had she been candidly informed that there were only thirteen ounces in the print. There is no evidence that there was a wilful deception on the part of the grocer and the magistrate dismissed the case. He also thanked Mrs. Swartz for informing them of the case and stated that anyone found guilty of such an offence would be punished severely.

Boarding House on Water Street Was Robbed During the Night

One Boarder Lost Between $90 and $100—Another One Lost $5 and a Silver Watch—Satchel Full of Money Was Missed—Door Left Unlocked and Thief Walked in Unheard.

A bold robbery which turned out to be rather profitable, was carried out last night, some time after eleven o'clock. The boarders at Mr. S. A. Trew's, 336 Water street, are losers, and one fellow lost heavily. There are four or five boarders at Mr. Trew's and three of them sleep in one room, and are in the habit of saving their money until they get quite a bunch before putting it in the bank.

The boarding house is just across the road and a little south of the police station. The custom has always been that the last one in at night locked the door, but last night the last one forgot. The first intimation that the house had been disturbed was about 5.30 this morning when Mr. Trew, who works at the Peterborough Cereal Mills, got up to put on the kitchen fire. When he went down stairs he found the front door standing open, which was a most unusual circumstance. Shortly afterwards the men began to get up and to the surprise and horror of the three sleeping in the one room, they found their room completely upside down. Trunks had been picked and the tops taken out, while the contents were scattered broadcast. Bureau drawers were on the floor and everything was where it should not be. Naturally the men looked for their money. One fellow only had $5 in the house, but it was gone; another had between $90 and $100 and a silver watch, in a trunk, and that was all gone. The third man had considerably over $100 but it was in a little grip at the foot of the bed and had not been discovered.

There were wires in the trunk locks with which they had been picked and there was every indication of a disturbance in the room during the night, but not one of them had heard a sound. None of the other occupants lost any sleep nor yet had they heard a sound.

Downstairs a candle, partially burned, was found on the sideboard but nothing of value was missed.

The police were informed at once and have been working on the case, but so far no clue has been found, and who the guilty party is, remains a mystery.

THE ROYAL CITY IS PROGRESSIVE

Guelph, Ont., Aug. 29. — At the City Council meeting last night a bylaw was passed that a permanent roadway be laid on Wyndham street. Nothing much will be done this year, beyond putting down storm drains. The total cost will be about $75,000.

CORPORATION HORSES SCARED

Made Several Attempts to Get Away

Excitement and fun combined was the result of a gay automobile party, which arrived at the Oriental hotel at noon today. Those in the auto were Mrs. Fargo, Miss Cornell, Mr. George E. Lannark, and Mr. E. T. Evans, all of Buffalo. They are on a motor tour and while in Peterborough will be guests at the Oriental. When they were turning their handsome big car into the hotel yards, all the horses on the street became excited. The first animals to cut up, were the city's big grey team on the iron water waggon. They expressed a keen desire to get away from the machine, but the load behind them was too heavy. Next a team with a load of gravel, pranced around, but they could not run very far. To cap the whole thing, the old fire horse, which has lately been doing duty on the Board of Works dump cart, arrived on the scene and immediately took the fever. It made several leaps and succeeded in throwing the driver off his seat, onto the pavement in front of Mr. James Lynch's drug store. The animal did not get away however, and no damage was done. By this time the American car reached the hotel yard and all the horses quieted down.

The body of William Court, Hamilton, drowned from a rowboat a couple of weeks ago, was recovered yesterday.

Committee on Property Gone

Left This Morning to See New Public Libraries

The Property committee in charge of the remodelling of the new public library, left this morning on a two days tour of Guelph, Galt, Berlin, Paris and Brantford. The intention is to get ideas for the library and in order that nothing which might be picked up would be lost, the chairman took Architect Blackwell along with him to make notes and also a few observations. When they return it is expected that plans will be got out and the work gone on with rapidly. It is also expected that with such advantages the Property committee will turn out an ideal public library for Peterborough.

Inquest Opened By Coroner Gray

Death of Edward Wansboro at Manvers Station Being Inquired Into

Coroner Dr. Gray last night opened the inquest into the death of Conductor Edward Wansborough who was killed at Manvers Station in the C.P.R. freight wreck yesterday morning. The session was held in Manvers and after the jury was empannelled, the evidence of Dr. L. Lapp and Conductor Jas. E. Stephenson, of Toronto Junction, was heard.

Dr. Lapp said that he saw the deceased Edward Wansborough about ten o'clock that morning and made a partial examination of the external injuries, which he found were sufficient to cause death. He did not make a thorough examination and could not say what internal injuries there might be. He was, therefore, authorized by the coroner to hold a post mortem and to report to the jury at five o'clock on Friday evening.

Mr. Jas. E. Stevenson, who is a conductor on the C.P.R. and who was on the train that was standing at the station was called and gave his evidence so that he would not have to be brought back on Friday night. He stated that he was on his way to Havelock and was riding in the van third from the rear. He was not connected with the train in any way. He heard the oncoming train whistle for the semaphore and then again for the brakes. At that time he ran out to the door and saw the train coming at about five or six miles an hour. It was then about 200 yards away and he realised at once what was going to happen. He called to the other men on the same van; "He is going to come into us." Someone else called out to jump which they all did. Witness was just climbing the fence when the engine struck the rear van. He could not swear what caused the accident but had the air brakes been working the train could easily have been stopped. It is possible to stop a train going at ten miles an hour, within five or six car lengths, if the brakes are working well. The deceased was in the van second from the end. That car was badly wrecked and telescoped. He did not see the timber which struck Wansborough on the back of the neck.

The inquest was then adjourned until five o'clock Friday night when it will be resumed in the Orange Hall, Manvers Station.

The late Edward Wansborough is a brother of the chief train dispatcher at Toronto and he was well known and very popular among his fellow employees. His death is greatly regretted by everyone.

Sidewalk Should Be Put in Place

Residents of the North End Are Complaining Bitterly

The Board of Works sometime ago had Water street widened at the north end from Pat Sullivan's grocery store to the Hilliard homestead. The plank sidewalk was taken up and removed from the west to the east side of the road. It has remained there. Why it has not been placed back in its original position is a mystery.

"I think it is a piece of grave carelessness on the part of those in authority that the walk has not been relaid," remarked a north end resident to the Review to-day, "and I hope something will at once be done. Either a new walk should be rebuilt or the old one restored. We are tired tramping in the mud and stones. Many planks from the old walk have been stolen and the remainder will be carted away if something is not soon done."

But yesterday he discovered they were real, live mushrooms, and henceforth he will look after them. Any orders may be left at the store.

The shelving for Mr. A. W. Cressman's new store is now being placed in position. The woodwork was done by the Peterborough Canoe Co. and were delivered this morning. Pontypool Coal Was a Big Fake

Farmer Planted it in the Hill and Tried to Sell His Farm

The despatch from Toronto, in reference to the finding of coal near Pontypool, recalled to the memory of an old resident, how the fuel got there. Some forty years ago when all that district was heavily wooded and long before there was any thought of a railroad running through, coal was much cheaper than it is at present. There were a few farmers scattered among the tall pines, and one who lived in his log cabin, conceived the idea that coal was on his farm, if not, it should be. He dug several holes in the crest of the hill, but found nothing, so then he bought a large quantity of coal and dumped it into the holes and covered them up. Some time afterwards he got hold of some American prospectors and took them out to his coal mine in the woods. The prospectors were dubious from the start, but Mr. Farmer was very enthusiastic, and he took his shovel and walked right over to one of the holes he had filled, and after digging a few minutes, he brought out a shovelful of coal, all ready for use. It needed no washing and did not need to go through a breaker.

The prospectors, who had been winking at each other all the time burst out laughing and replied, "You —— fool what do you think we are? This is not the first time we have seen a coal mine." With that the visitors took the farmer in hand and gave him a sound thrashing. From that day until his death, the follow was known to everyone as "Coal Hill Johnny."

Says That Water Will be Raised

Supt. McClellan Answers Some Queries of Lindsay People

The Lindsay Post says:—The lowness of the water in the river is causing our citizens so much annoyance that The Post called up Superintendent McClellan, of Peterborough, to learn what we could of the trouble and any prospective remedy. Mr. McClellan said that his men had let away, within the last few days, a large quantity of water that had been stored in small lakes up north, and that Balsam and Cameron lakes were now at flood level. This water should now be flowing into Sturgeon lake, and in a day or so the water should raise several inches. He also said evaporation had been so great this season coupled with the continued lack of rain, that water was not available to maintain the normal level.

The Post also telephoned Bobcaygeon, and learned that there is a very bad leak in the dam at Little Bob that is losing fully as much water as is entering Sturgeon Lake. If this be correct, there can be little relief expected this season, but we understand an amount has been provided to replace the present dam during the coming winter with a new one.

After Six Weeks in Northwest Mr. and Mrs. Shortly Return

Crops in Saskatchewan and Alberta are Immense—Frost Has Done no Damage Whatever—British Columbia is Wonderful Country—Three and Four Crops of Vegetables a Year.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Shortly were glad to welcome them home last night after their absence from the city for six weeks. They have been on a trip through the Canadian West, and they are more than delighted with it. "It was the trip of our lives," said Mr. Shortly. "Everything passed off perfectly and we enjoyed every hour that we were away."

Mr. and Mrs. Shortly and their son, Douglas, took the boat trip across Georgian Bay to lake Huron, and lake Superior to Port William. There they took the train to Winnipeg and spent a couple of days sight-seeing, and then continued to Banff, one of the most beautiful spots on the American Continent. Here they met Mr. David Guffitly, an old Peterborough boy. He has a Government position, and is in charge of the Cavein Basin, where thousands of visitors go every year to take the bath in the boiling sulphur waters. The scenic beauty of Banff, as with many parts of the West, and particularly the Rocky Mountains, and British Columbia, is beyond description. Mr. Shortly also says that one is amazed the first time the trip is made, and a full appreciation is not felt until the second or third time one has been there. He had a dip in the basin and felt like a new man when he came out.

Continuing their journey, the Peterborough people went over the Rocky Mountains to British Columbia and stopped for two or three days at Vancouver. They met lots of local people all along the route, who were glad to see some one from their old home. The sail down the Pacific Coast to Victoria was a great feature of the trip, and Victoria is, as it has often been described, the most beautiful city on the continent. The climate is perfect and hundreds and thousands of English people and western people who have made enough money to retire on, move to Victoria to spend their last years. A very interesting thing at this place was the immense hauls of salmon brought in. Big scows are used for conveying the fish, which weigh all the way from 10 to 50 pounds each. It is a great sight to see the fishermen and the canning factories.

The majority of the time that Mr. and Mrs. Shortly were in the West was spent with Mrs. Shortly's brother, Mr. Wm. Rutherford, a druggist, at Nelson, B.C. They were there for about three weeks and had a grand time. Mr. Rutherford has a ranch at Kootenay, where he grows all kinds of fruit and vegetables. The growth there is wonderful, and Mr. Shortly said he had no idea he would find such a wonderful country. He brought home a few samples of the fruit to show his friends. Potatoes grow to the size of 3 1-2 and 4 pounds each, and one will make a meal for a whole family. They also get three and four crops of vegetables off the same ground each year, so that the industry is very profitable.

Coming home the party party took the Crow's Nest Pass Railway to Medicine Hat, where they changed to the C.P.R. As they got off the train there the sidewalks were white with frost, but the crops were not damaged at all. Such things as potato tops, etc., were slightly touched, but that was all. The crops in Saskatchewan and Alberta are magnificent, and away ahead of expectations. In Manitoba there is only about about three-quarters of a crop.

Falls Higher Than Niagara On Grand River in Labrador

Most Remarkable Cataract—Very Difficult to Reach—Efforts Will be Made This Season to Penetrate Untrodden Wilderness Beyond.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 28.—The expeditions of Leonidas Hubbard, Dillon Wallace, Stephen Tasker and wife and other daring explorers, into the interior of Labrador, have but whetted the desire of travellers to explore the unmapped portion of Labrador, beyond the famous Grand Falls, where the foot of white man, so far as the records show, has never trod. This region, as difficult to penetrate as Central Africa, has always, save with one or two exceptions, proved too much for the endurance and determination of the most venturesome pioneers.

Until ten years ago a shroud of mystery veiled this desolate region and fanciful stories were told of a mighty waterfall on the Hamilton river, two hundred miles inland from Hamilton inlet. This cascade was represented as being 2,000 feet high, the river above the Falls being about five hundred yards wide, but contracting to fifty at the Falls themselves. The existence of this cascade was certified by two factors of the Hudson Bay Company—Maclean and Kennedy—who visited them between sixty and seventy years ago and whose accounts agree in most of the essential particulars. Maclean conducted an expedition into the interior there in 1839, and was stopped by these falls, while Kennedy visited them under the guidance of an Iroquois Indian who had spent most of his life in Labrador.

THOUGHT THEM HAUNTED.

The native Indians of Labrador give the falls a wide berth, because of a tradition among them that they are haunted by evil spirits, and that none of them may look upon them and live. The Iroquois guide did not share the superstition, and boldly marched to the spot so dreaded. The description of the place by both explorers showed them that there was a marvellous waterfall in this northern wilderness, even if allowance were made for the exaggerations consequent upon their inability to accurately measure the height of this cascade or its width. No further attempt was made to explore the region until 1894, when an Englishman, named Robert E. Holme essayed the venture and reached within 75 miles of his objective, when his provisions gave out and the project had to be abandoned.

His experiences were read before the Royal Geographical Society in London, and the perusal of the story by Henry G. Bryant of Philadelphia, induced him to determine upon a similar journey. He went north from this port in July 1897, to Rigolet, the Hudson Bay Company's station, half way in through Hamilton Inlet, where he left the mail boat and took to a schooner, which conveyed him ninety miles further up the fiord, to Northwest River Post, the most interior station of the company on that part of the Labrador coast. This is at the confluence of the salt water and the fresh, and here a week was spent in trying to secure four guides from among the Indians. The superstition, however, as to the region being fatal, held full sway over them, and although they are a fine, sturdy and active race, they were unwilling to go. Several were met with who had heard the noise of the falls, but only one who had ever seen them—the bed-ridden Iroquois, who had fifty years before, accompanied Kennedy there and was now a pensioner of the Hudson Bay Company. He described the region, the difficulties of the approach and the immensity of the waterfall itself, and gave Mr. Bryant very valuable information which would assist him materially in reaching the falls.

Mr. Byrant was accompanied by Prof. Kenaston, of Washington, and at St. John's they secured the services of a Newfoundland trapper named Montague, while after hard work they enlisted a half-breed Esquimaux at Northwest River to join them also. As no Indians would venture these four started themselves on August 3rd in a canoe. The current ran like a mill-race at the outset, and they could not paddle, but had to "track" the boat, three of them towing her along by a rope on the shore while the fourth remained aboard to steer her. Progress was slow because of the numerous minor cascades which occur in the Grand, or Hamilton river. The first of these is reached after a day's boating, a cascade of seventy feet, taken in two leaps, where boats and provisions must be portaged over the rapids. This involves a steep climb of 310 feet, a level path through half a mile of woods and then a descent of 140 feet to reach the river. Above this the river narrows and the stream flows rapidly, while the banks are rugged and choked with brush and timber, so "tracking" is terribly laborious work. After two more days Gull rapids is reached, a very difficult place to ascend. Above it the river flows for fifteen miles through a gorge between high cliffs and with a rapid current, rendering the "trackage" doubly tiresome. After this three other rapids—Horseshoe, Nimigi and Mouni—are met in succession, the most formidable being Nimigi rapids, where the banks are extremely rough, and burnt forests spread around. On passing Mouni rapids Lake Waminikapou is entered, which is forty miles long, the Grand river flowing through it. The lake is 160 miles from the mouth of the river, and traversing it is easy work, rowing or sailing. The Bryant party were twenty-four days accomplishing this portion of the journey, and on August 27th the boat was pulled ashore, after making 225 miles.

REACH THE FALLS

But they were getting near the falls, and here made a permanent camp, as they believed they had only another thirty or forty miles to go, and leaving the Esquimeaux in charge of their effects, the three whites started farther inland, taking the canoe with them. They found that they could voyage through a chain of lakes for thirty miles and then cross a tract of country of the wildest and loneliest kind on foot, as no portages were possible.

The region was denuded of trees by ancient forest fires, the ground was filled with countless boulders and no sign of life, except birds—partridges and geese—both so tame as to make it certain that they had never before seen a human being. Laden down with food and instruments the travellers toiled on across this waste for three days, following the vestige of an old Indian trail, and at last came in sight of the goal of their desire, the famous Grand Falls. They approached them from the side but for a day before reaching them the roar of the cataract was distinctly heard, and a great cloud of mist was visible on the horizon—one of the most striking features of the falls.

HIGHER THAN NIAGARA

Actual measurements by scientific instruments proved that the cascade is 316 feet high. Before the Grand river approaches the precipice, the bed begins to fall gradually. Then for a distance of 188 feet above the scarp the rapids are terrific. The grade of the river's rocky bed is thirty degrees, and the volume of water poured over the cataract is enormous. But the width of the river is much less than that of Niagara, being only 150 to 200 feet. The channel contracts at this point, and the banks are extremely rugged and of one of the earliest formations. The sound of the falling water is similar to that at Niagara—the same dull, heavy roar, rendering conversation extremely difficult. They took accurate measurements, made splendid photographs, and plotted all the necessary data for making a reliable map of the river and falls and got back to the sea in a week, whereas it took them a month to go in. They did not attempt to penetrate beyond the falls, but this will be a feature of the present season's venture, and it is expected to yield much matter of value to geographers.

Presentation to Mr. T. J. Wallace

Eko Camp Members Honor Their Retiring President

Mr. T. J. Wallace, president of that jolly organization, the Eko Camp Club, was the guest of honor at their rooms on Hunter street last night, when the members assembled to say good-bye to one who has been deservedly popular.

Mr. Wallace leaves for Toronto in a few days, where he will enter upon his duties as assistant headmaster of the Queen Alexandra School.

Last night he was presented with a handsome set of pearl-handled knives and forks and an appreciative address. Mr. W. R. G. Higgins read the latter, while the case of cutlery was handed over by Mr. Manson Comstock.

Following is a copy of the address;

Peterborough, August 28, 1907.

Mr. T. J. Wallace,

President Eko Club.

We, your associates in the Eko Club have learned with regret of your decision to leave the city in the near future for a wider field of labor in Toronto, and feel that we cannot allow you to go without a remembrance of the pleasant days and evenings we have spent together. As President of the Club during the past year, you have not only admirably fulfilled your duties as head of our old and honorable Club but you have proven yourself a gentleman and a good sport in all the undertakings of our organization.

We ask you to accept this gift not as an indication of the value of your services and company, but as a mark of the friendship existing between us and as a little remembrance from the boys of the Eko Camp at Peterborough.

Signed.

THE MEMBERS OF

THE CLUB

Mr. Wallace made a grateful reply, thanking "the boys" for their kindness and expressing his regret at severing associations with the club of which he would always retain pleasant memories.

Speeches were made by several members, all voicing the sorrow felt at Mr. Wallace's departure, but wishing him every success in his new field of labor. Songs were contributed, refreshments served, and a very pleasant social evening was spent.

Change of System in Road Work Suggested by Ald. W. J. Johnston

He Advocates Keeping the Small Holes Filled Up and Thus Preserve the Road Bed—Divide City Into Sections and Place One Man in Each to Make Repairs.

The time is near at hand when the municipal government of Peterborough will have to undergo a decided change. The city is too big and the work too heavy to expect private citizens who have their own business to look after, to sacrifice three or four nights a week and many hours of the day to civic duties. Very few people in the city can afford it, and few are willing to give their time and talents gratis. The present system also lacks strength because each new Mayor and Alderman desires to please everyone and to make a good impression, with the result that the business is not conducted in a business-like or satisfactory manner.

From time to time complaints have been made by ratepayers about the streets, the electric light service, the finances, the lack of new industries, etc., and many of the complaints are well founded. But the aldermen are all doing their best. They are making as good a job as circumstances will permit, and no one can blame any individual. Take the matter of the city's streets. There are probably more complaints made about the holes, ruts, loose stones, dust, etc., on the streets than any other department. In order to get some information a Review man conversed with Ald. W. J. Johnston, a member of the Board of Works, in reference to road repairs and maintenance. He stated that some time ago he advocated in the Council a system which he still believes a very good one, and which he has since learned is in force in England, where all the roads are good.

He strongly favors dividing the city into districts, put one man in charge of each, and make him responsible for the roads being kept in good shape. Only one man in a district is necessary, and it will be found that much better satisfaction is given. He will be furnished with broken stones, a shovel and a heavy pounder, and whenever he runs across a hole in the road, fill it up with broken stone, with a little sprinkling of sand or gravel, and then pound it into a solid bed. The same man will keep all the loose stones picked off the roads, and save the people a great deal of discomfort.

Good roads cannot be maintained any other way. The big stone roller is an excellent machine for new roads, but in order to do the work properly with it the bed must first be torn up and rebuilt. If the loose stones are kept off the road and the holes, which are constantly being worn, are kept filled, there will be no need for the roller on the main or old roads once in several years. At the present time a large sum of money is spent making a good road, then the sewer, water and gas pipes are laid and the road is torn up. Connections are made and more trenches are dug, and hollows and holes are left all over the street. These are neglected, and in another year several hundred dollars are needed to put the roadbed in condition again. The one man with the broken stone and a pounder would keep the hollows filled up and save the city a great deal of money as well as give the people a better road.

Another matter Ald. Johnston referred to was breaking stones. He had evidently been thinking of the hard time the Charity Board is going to have this winter. He suggested that, after the city is divided into sections or districts that a pile of stone be placed in a convenient place in each section. Then during the winter men who are out of work and need assistance from the Charity Board could be given a few days' work on the stone pile, and it would cost the city nothing, except the grant from the Charity Board, which would be given anyway. If, however, the people would not stand for this, the stone can be crushed in the big crusher and a waggon load or two delivered to each section. The main thing in road repairing and road maintenance is to keep the small holes filled up and hammered down. As the old woman used to say, "A stitch in time will save nine."

Campbellford District Shows Evidence of Splendid Growth

Some Flourishing and Wealthy Settlements in Northumberland County—"The Rambler" Tells of the Progress and Contentment of the Thrifty People.

Mr. P. Mungovan, of the Catholic Register, better known as 'The Rambler,' has the following interesting contribution in this week's issue;

"On the crest of a hill overlooking the flourishing town of Campbellford and on a point which commands a splendid view of the swift and raging determination with which the angry waters of the River Trent force their way in the direction of the ocean, there stands a handsome stone church, surmounted with the symbol of man's redemption, which went up during the time when the lamented Father McCloskey had charge of this parish. It is a building of which with truth it may be said that it arose from the ashes, because of the fact that the sacred though less pretentious edifice which for many years had met all the requirements of the Catholics of Campbellford, suddenly became enveloped in smoke, brightened into a burning blaze and ultimately went down in ashes. It was a lamentable sight and one sincerely mourned by all classes and creeds in Campbellford. But it was a damage which the Catholics, led by a zealous priest and backed by many generous, tolerant, and liberal-minded Protestants, set about repairing with a result that just now they can boast of an imposing structure of exquisite architectural taste, of which any city in Ontario need not be ashamed.

Shortly after the lamented death of Rev. W. J. McCloskey, the Rev. Geo. Whibbs, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Father Whibbs is a native of Douro in the county of Peterborough and springs from a family who were amongst the pioneers of settlement and who, during their struggles with the primitive forest, won the respect of all their neighbors. Father Whibbs is an able man, able as an administrator, able as an pulpit orator, but by no means least of all, able because of the measure of sound good sense, which he has always at his command. Men of this stamp never fail to strike oil, even if they never continue boring longer than thirty minutes.

I have said in a recent communication that agricultural development and prosperity the country surrounding Campbellford has made marvellous strides, and nowhere have I discovered stronger evidences of this fact than in that section surrounding the village of Codrington, in the township of Brighton, which point I visited passing on the way, the villages of Norham and Warkworth. There is a firm belief in many minds that the most flourishing and wealthy settlement in the whole of the county of Northumberland is the well known "Stewart Settlement" in the township of Haldimand. This is an error, and I am sure that the men who cling to it would have their minds disabused had they become better acquainted with the broad and fertile fields and beautiful homesteads which form an agreeable panorama around the village of Codrington.

More than half a century ago a number of Irishmen with honest hearts and willing hands made their way in here and all at once declared war upon a dense forest, seemingly vast and interminable. Amongst those were three brothers named Moran, natives of the County of Westmeath, Ireland. John and Patrick were of those brothers, but the third I cannot name. Laurence Square and Thomas Halleran, both natives of the County of Limerick, were also amongst the besiegers, and so were Patrick Cowan and Thomas Gilbride, both Connaught men. Those few Irishmen laid the foundation of an Irish settlement and as it subsequently received accessions of the choicest brand, surprise is not felt that it has won the reputation of being the most law-abiding, the most moral and progres- county. In Wooller the parish church alive section in all Northumberland of the people surrounding Codrington is situated, and is under the jurisdiction of Rev. Father Maguire.

The Register is a newspaper which, I know, does not care to touch politics, as politics with even a forty-foot pole, yet I trust I will not be charged with any desire to induce it to violate so laudable a rule, if I state as a matter of news that a by-election for the House of Commons will come off next month in East Northumberland, and that the next week I may add to my budget of news certain incidents in connection with this campaign which have come under my observation.

RAMBLER.

(P.S.—Although writing about Northumberland County, I may state for the information of all concerned that at this moment I can be found in London, Ont., where all communications are here to reach me. I may add that my numerous friends who have demonstrated their attachment, by becoming my creditors, will do better by addressing me "Elsewhere."—R.

BUY AT HOME

The Peterborough post office is just now flooded with bulky fall and winter catalogues of a big departmental store in Toronto. Several hundred copies of this attractive publication have come to this city.

The Review would not advise the recipients to throw the books into the fire. Look over the pages carefully, and if you notice anything that you want, closely observe the price. Then go down to your grocer, dry goods merchant, jeweller, stationer or hardware dealer in this city and see if you cannot secure the same article equally as good and equally as reasonable in price, at home. The local merchants can supply your every need and, if they have not in stock what you require, they can easily obtain the object desired. The Toronto stores do not help pay the taxes of Peterborough or any other city; they do not grant you credit to tide you over a period of temporary financial embarrassment; they do not support your institutions and charities, and contribute to your churches, schools or public improvements. All this the local merchant does and more and, when he sells wares equally as good in value and just as cheap as you can procure them outside, it is your duty to support him and buy here.

Do not let distance lend enchantment to the new. Do not let mere pictorial representations take the place of a personal examination of the quality of the articles sought after. Many things look exceptionally well, pictured on paper, but, when you come to inspect the original, what a difference.

Some one may argue; "I have a right to spend my money and make my purchases just where I please." Supposing every citizen was to base his or her purchasing on this sort of sophistry, what would be the inevitable result? The majority would soon be out of employment by reason of the large amount of cash sent out of the city. Happily most Peterborough residents are loyal to our own enterprising and wide awake business men, who are thoroughly to the fore in all their undertakings, but there are still a few citizens who think it clever to buy articles from other centres, and then display them to their friends saying, with just a suspicion of pride, "Oh, I got this in ——." It is time such mistaken notions were shattered. It is no credit to the buyer to make such a remark and, on examination and comparison, it will be found that the materials or goods are not one whit better than could be obtained at home at the same figure. Consult the advertising columns of the local papers, read what the daily announcements contain, visit the stores and you will discover that, whatever goods Peterborough merchants cannot supply at just as reasonable a figure as can be secured elsewhere, would not fill one corner of the ordinary bedroom closet.

Buy at home and build up the city where you earn your daily bread. This is a good rule to follow, as is also that old business maxim, "Support those who support you."

MR. BORDEN'S CRITICS

Ottawa Journal, (Independent.)

"That Mr. Borden's political programme is too progressive for his party is apparent in the cool reception which its more advanced features have been accorded by the party organs," remarks that ordinarily shrewd, independent paper the Hamilton Herald. Begging the Herald's pardon, it is making a curious mistake. It has been over-estimating the Montreal Gazette. The Gazette's Toryism is of the most moss-backed description. The Gazette sniffs socialism in municipal waterworks and anarchy in municipal gas. About a hundred years from to-day the Gazette, if its present spirit endures, will be where most of the rest of the world is now. Mr. Borden's advocacy of national telegraphs was sufficient to give the Gazette the shivers. The Gazette does not know that Canada is the only civilized country in the world, except the United States, in which the telegraph service is not a successful national business, like the postal service.

No Conservative paper says the Gazette has been worried because Mr. Borden's programme is too progressive. On the contrary, any other kicking has been on the basis that in some item or other, the platform is not advanced enough. The Toronto World was disgruntled because Mr. Borden stopped short of a few specialties which W. F. Maclean advocates, best described in brief as Government ownership of the earth. The Toronto Telegram an unfortunate victim since childhood of jaundice, characterized Mr. Borden's platform as second-hand lumber; while the Montreal Star, which has extension of the Intercolonial railway to Georgian Bay on the brain, groaned because Mr Borden left out any reference to that. These three newspapers are all hoodoos when they approve of anything, so Mr. Borden is lucky in their wailing. The Montreal Star wrecked the Conservative party once, and Billy Maclean would wreck anything.

Barring the aforesaid journals, which are sometimes suspected to possess upon some subjects better lungs than intellects, the Conservative press has welcomed Mr. Borden's platform with hearty approval, as it deserves.

PEN POINTS

Did you enjoy the band concert ?

The last Thursday half holiday. Make the most of it.

And so Hon. Clifford Sifton will not re-enter the Cabinet. Really this is sad.

Now that the rocks are all to be picked off the city streets, the pathway of the sojourner will be smoother.

The license laws in West Peterborough are well observed, owing to the aggressiveness and activity of Inspector Stewart.

If you do not wish the smile to vanish from your child's face, do not ask the little one about the reopening of school.

"Slippery Bill" Pugsley is about to slip into the Laurier Cabinet as minister of railways and canals. His reputation will not add anything to the strength of the Grit aggregation at Ottawa.

The local post office is just now flooded with catalogues from a big departmental store in Toronto. You may read the catalogues if you like. There is no law to prevent it, but be sure and do your trading at home. "Build up Peterborough."

The Toronto Star revives the old rumor that Attorney-General Foy is about to retire from the Ontario Cabinet. That is about the 'steenth time this rumor has been set afloat and it should be put down as the final warm weather report.

Mr. Borden has started on his tour. As leader of the Opposition he is no more popular than Sir Wilfrid Laurier when he occupied a similar position at the head of the Liberal Opposition. He is no more popular than was Hon. J. P. Whitney when he was leader of the Ontario Opposition. This unpopularity of Opposition leaders is part of the American curse.—Canadian Courier.

The News, Conservative organ in Kingston, which has been conducted by a company and leased to publishers for years past has been purchased by G. M. Newton, formerly of Whitby, a man of much enterprise and energy. The News is a bright, progressive journal and is a staunch upholder of the principles of the grand old Conservative party. Long may it flourish.

Brockville Conservatives declare that if George P. Graham enters the Dominion Cabinet his opponent in the bye-election will be A. E. Donovan. Mr. Donovan was the Conservative candidate who opposed Mr. Graham for the Legislature and is known as a strong political fighter. His supporters declare that they will place him in the field and support him to the last ditch.

The Borden platform is in other respects a policy for the common people. He is not opposed to the all-red line with its provisions for the rapid transit of passengers, but does not hesitate to say that it is more important to give rapid, safe and cheap transport to the products of the farm, the orchard and the fisheries, and especially to perishable articles from the place of origin to the market. Where one man crosses the ocean or the continent, thousands are interested as consumers in cheap transportation. Mr Borden speaks for these. He speaks also for the traveller on Canadian railways, for the people who use, or ought to have the use of telegraphs and telephones, for the settler on western lands who has seen the public domain exploited by speculators, to his loss. He speaks for the artisan in the factory, the workman in the mine, for the fisherman and lumberman, it is, therefore, not surprising that the Halifax platform grows in favor day by day and that Mr. Borden himself is to have an enthusiastic reception in the eight provinces which he will visit in the next few weeks.

But the most important and radical of Mr. Borden's proposals are these, says the Hamilton Herald;—Thorough reorganization of the civil service and placing the service under the control of an independent commission —that is, introducing the British system of appointment competitive examination and doing away enitrely with the system of appointment for party service; the operation and management of the Government railway system by an independent commission; the establishing of national telephone and telegraph systems; the reorganization of the Dominion railway commission as a public utilities commission, having effective control over all public service corporations and those operating franchises of a national character. Vast and far-reaching proposals, these. In the Herald's opinion, the greatest of them all is the proposal of civil service reform. That alone, if carried into effect, would do more than all other means combined to put a stop to electoral corruption, because it would remove one of the chief incentives to partisan corruption. Civil service reform which would put that service out of partisan control is of itself a reform important enough to constitute a whole party platform.

Agents Believe in Their Own Medicine

What a Railway Wreck Would Have Cost a Life Insurance Company

In connection with the outing to Canada Life branch managers and representatives given by Senator Cox on Saturday last, says a Toronto despatch, there was nearly a serious accident, the tender and baggage car jumping the track just east of Bowmanville, while the train was running forty-five miles an hour. Had the other cars of the train also left the rails, the result would have been disastrous, as at that point there is a steep bank immediately below the track. A computation of the insurance in the Canada Life carried by those on board the train shows that the company had at risk $478,631. This is pretty good evidence that Canada Life agents believe in taking their own medicine.

Building Extension to His Hotel —John Butcher Home From Cobalt

Mr. and Mrs. John Butcher, East City, returned home yesterday after a two weeks' visit in New Liskeard.

In speaking to the Review of his visit, Mr. Butcher related many interesting features of life in New Ontario. He enjoyed his stay there very much, but would not care to live there. There is nothing very attractive about the place, but it is a very busy and thriving little spot. It is going ahead rapidly, but there is no attempt whatever, on the part of citizens to beautify their town by improving their streets or in any other way. The population of this northern town is a floating one, there being always immense crowds of people, principally men to be seen on the streets. There are seven trains into this place in one day and each one carries its full capacity. The passengers are chiefly mining men, who are coming and going at all times. There are trains that run right through from Toronto and Buffalo to New Liskeard. The hotel accommodation there is very good and there are several fine hotels. Mr. Lawless, proprietor of the "Canada" is building an extensive addition to his hotel and when finished it will be the finest in the place. The people don't seem to care what their places are like. They go there to make money and when they are satisfied, they leave again. Everybody there is well off and is making money fast. All things are very expensive. House rent is very high and the houses are not very good either. Hardly any of them are plastered. There is so much frost that the plaster all breaks. The weather is extremely cool, there being snow flurries last week, and ice was noticed several mornings. Butter and eggs are dear. Butter is 25c. per pound, eggs 25c. a doz. Milk sells at ten cents per quart in summer and fifteen cents in winter. Farming is evidently too slow for the people of New Ontario, as very few follow this industry. Nearly everything has to be imported.

Mr. Butcher also spent a day at Cobalt, and viewed the mines. All was activity here, and all signs of the strike are past. The blasting at the mines can be heard at New Liskeard, which is ten miles away. The growth and prosperity of New Ontario does not seem to be permanent, but is rather the coming and going of those desirous of making money.

Cool Evening Affected the Crowd

Band Concert Was Greatly Enjoyed by Those Who Were There

On account of the cool evening last night, the crowd was not very large at the weekly band concert in Victoria Park. The kindness of the band in giving the concert last evening, instead of not giving it at all, as they will be in Toronto on Friday, is very much appreciated by those who were present.

The programme was one of unusually high merit and was much enjoyed. The cornet solo, "Love me and the world is mine," by Bandsman Hughes was one of the most delightful numbers and was loudly applauded. The selections from "Yankee Consul" and the medley of popular songs were the chief favorites with the crowd and encores were demanded. "My Old Kentucky Home" with variations, was warmly received, despite the fact that it has been played numerous times by the band.

The programme in full is as follows,—

1. (a) Regimental March
(b) Oh, Canada.
March—Old Gloria.
Overture—Nabuco.
Cornet solo—"Love me and the world is mine," by Bandsman Hughes.
Medley—Popular songs.
Novelette—"Maryland."
Medley—Renwick's hits, No. 2.
Selection—"Old Kentucky Home" with variations.
Descriptive—Hunting scene.
God Save the King.

The rumor that the C.P.R. will build through the Yellowhead Pass has been denied by D. McNichol.

Alberta Crops Beat All Records

It now looks as though the crops in Alberta this year will more than equal all previous records—and this notwithstanding the "deterrent" reports published both inside and outside the province says the Calgary News.

Mrs. McBain Got 14 Pound Lunge

On Way to Burleigh and Landed it Safely in the Boat Alone

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McBain have returned from Stony Lake where they have spent the summer.

On Monday last Mrs. McBain had a very pleasant experience and had the honor of landing a fourteen pound lunge, the largest fish that has been caught on Stony lake for some time. In company with Mr. McBain she started out for the Burleigh shore where Mr. McBain has several cords of wood which he wanted to inspect. It was quite rough on the lake, but they managed to plod along through the deep waves. Mrs. McBain was sitting in the stern and had the trawling line out. About half way across she felt some heavy pulling on the line and she began to hold it tight. She kept bringing her line in and soon saw she had a large fish. She succeeded in landing it without Mr. McBain's assistance, but the next thing was to kill it. Never expecting to catch a fish they did not take a club with them and they had to kill it the best they could with a paddle. Mr. McBain got one of his fingers badly cut with its fins, but the dandy catch was worth the scratches.

Mrs. McBain is elated over her haul. She has had considerable luck as an angler and has made several fine catches.

LONG CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS

Farmer Loses Three Fingers—Youth Had Thumb Broken—Other Mishaps

Fergus O'Connor, son of Mr. Owen O'Connor, of Ennismore township, while cutting grain with a binder on his father's farm on Tuesday last, met with a painful accident. He put his hand down to fix part of the machine and his fingers were caught in some cogs. The injured young man was brought to St. Joseph's hospital and it was found necessary to amputate three fingers of the left hand.

BOY HURT.

Elmer Johnston, son of Mr. John Johnston, 316 Dublin street, met with a painful mishap on Tuesday. He was climbing over a barb wire fence, when one of the barbs badly tore the lower part of his abdomen. The injured youth was removed to St. Joseph's hospital where an operation was performed. He is progressing favorably.

THUMB BROKEN.

Domenico Memme, an Italian boy, got into an argument with Arthur Hicks, a grocery driver, on Elm-st. It appears that the young men were fooling and Memme accidentally broke a couple of eggs. This lead to a game of fisticuffs and in the mix-up Memme had the thumb bone of his right hand broken.

LEG FRACTURED.

Martin Neary, foreman on the Downie street sewer of men, who had his leg broken at the ankle by a tile pipe falling on it, is at his home, No. 6 George street. It will be at least three months before Mr. Neary is able to resume work.

Fined for Striking A Drunken Man

Fred LeBarge Assessed $5 and Costs—"Gusty" Dundas Again in the Dock

For assaulting Geo. Prentice, on Saturday last, at Thos. Rehill's office, Fred LeBarge was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $7.60 at the police court this morning. Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for LeBarge, and pleaded not guilty.

The complainant was the first witness. He said that he was drunk and did not know exactly what happened. At any rate, he got two black eyes.

Mr. Thomas Rehill was called. He said that both Prentice and LeBarge were employees of his. On Saturday night both came down to the office to get paid. Prentice was intoxicated. Witness asked F. Doughty to take him out. LeBarge was not drunk.

Fred Doughty stated that he was trying to coax Prentice to go out, and along came LeBarge, who lifted Prentice up to take him out, as he was helplessly drunk. Prentice call LeBarge a bad name, and then when they got out LeBarge went at him and pounded him in the face.

LeBarge stated that he went in to take complainant out. Prentice pulled off his coat and called him a nasty name, and then he struck him.

His Worship imposed the above fine, which was paid, stating that after LeBarge got him out he had no right to hit a man helplessly drunk.

"GUSTY" AGAIN.

Gustavus Dundas again adorned the dock with his presence this morning.

"Gusty again," remarked His Worship. "Why, I thought he was committed for life." When the charge of drunk and disorderly was read to him, he replied "That's it, Your Honor."

"Two dollars to be paid forthwith, or ten days in gaol, and after that six months," said His Worship.

"I had $2," said Gusty, "but someone robbed me of it." Gusty had not the necessary and was taken down stairs.

ANOTHER DRUNK.

Lou Chamberlain, a young man, was also guilty of being drunk in a public place. He will sojourn at Castle Nesbitt for the next ten days, that is if some good friend does not come forth with the necessary two-spot.

OBITUARY

MRS. ED. KYLIE.

There passed away in Rochester N. Y., on Tuesday, Ellen Walsh, wife of Mr. Ed. Kylie, who is a nephew of Mr. John Kylie, of this city. She had been ailing for two years and leaves a husband and family of four children—two girls and two boys. The deceased was about 60 years of age and had resided in Rochester for about forty years. Mr. Timothy Walsh of Otonabee, and Mr. John Walsh of Douro, are brothers. Misses Maggie and Minnie Walsh of Keene, are nieces of the deceased and attended the funeral, which took place in Rochester to-day. The late Mrs. Kylie was a daughter of Mr. John Walsh and many old friends in Peterborough will regret to learn of her death.

CLARENCE WM. FLUKE.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arza Fluke, 223 Perry street, will sympathize with them in the loss they have sustained by the death of their only son, Clarence William. The child was fourteen months old and had been ill only a short while.

The funeral takes place tomorrow from the family residence, 223 Perry street, to the C.P.R. noon train for Tweed, where interment will take place.

Niagara Grapes in Fine Shape

Crop Will be Two and a Half Times That of Last Near

St. Catharines, Aug. 28.—"The grape crop of the Niagara peninsula will be two and a half times greater than last year, according to reports received," said George Barnes, of the Ontario Wine and Grape Growing Company this morning, an encouraging statement, in view of the serious shortage in every other fruit this year. "Grape growers tell me they never saw such a crop of grapes before," added Mr. Barnes.

"Any damage reported to the grapes?" was asked. "No blight or anything that I have heard of, between here and Hamilton," was the reply. "The only damage is reported from the sand ridge in Stamford township, where the rose bug has got at the grapes. But to my certain knowledge that bug has been there for years. It only represents a small area, though."

It is said that the average yearly yield of grapes of the Niagara fruit belt is about fifteen thousand tons. According to the estimates received by Mr. Barnes, this year's output will, therefore, be around thirteen thousand tons. The grape growing district includes Wentworth, Lincoln, and Welland counties.

As an evidence of the shortage of fruit around here, the dealers who carry glass jars for canning are all filled up with them yet. In previous years about this time there is usually a glass bottle famine.

Tomatoes ar ecoming in well.

MR. CULVERWELL MAKES THREAT

Will Make Statement if Certain Politicians Do Not Desist

Notwithstanding the disreputable and covert tactics of certain politicians who are desirous for their selfish interests of obstructing the Northumberland-Durham Power Co, Limited, the Managing-Director, Mr. J. A. Culverwell has been successful at Deseronto. He has secured as shareholders and also their consent to act as directors of the company, the following representative Deseronto gentleman, viz., ex-Mayor John Dalton, president of the Deseronto Furniture Company, Limited, and Wm. H. Stafford, hardware merchant.

Mr. Culverwell, it is said, intends making an announcement shortly, which will make further considerable stir in the political arena, if the tactics of certain politicians do not stop.

The company is to be congratulated upon now having on their directorate the largest manufacturers and business men of Cobourg, Port Hope, Belleville, Trenton and Deseronto.—Cobourg World.

Public meetings on the streets are to be prohibited in Cobalt unless sanctioned by the Town Council.

KING ST. BRIDGE TO BE REPAIRED

Commissioner Evans' Gang Will be Put on Permanent Walks for Rest of Season

City Engineer Hay, Street Commissioner Evans, Chairman of the Board of Works Duncan, and Mayor McWilliams made an examination of the King street bridge over the creek. Money has been voted by the people for repairing and rebuilding this bridge to make it permanent. The Board of Works desired, however, to put all their men onto the sidewalks and if at all possible to complete all the pieces laid out for this year, which will total something over nine miles. So far only one gang has been working steadily on walks and Commissioner Evans has had a small gang on bridge work for the greater part of the summer.

The King street bridge is in bad shape all right, but after the engineer had gone carefully over the structure it was decided to make some repairs so that it will last over the winter and thus allow Mr. Evans' gang to go on with the walks. When the bridge is rebuilt next year it will be raised about a foot and made permanent.

The above should be good news for the many ratepayers who have been clamoring for the past year, two years or even three years for concrete walks. A second gang will be put on and the work pushed ahead as rapidly as possible.

I.O.F. ORPHANAGE

Radical Changes to be Made at Foresters' Island.

Kingston, Aug. 28. — Sweeping changes are about to be effected in the affairs of Foresters' Island, in the Bay of Quinte. The expenses of maintenance have been enormous for about forty orphans, the treating alone costing about $5,000 a year. The present changes will result in the transfer of the orphans to the house built for the late Dr. Oronhyatekha, and the castle and the orphanage will be rented for a summer hotel.

J. C. Morgan the superintendent of the orphanage, will be given the post of organizer in addition to his present duties.

Hastings Wants A New Wharf

Has Petitioned the Government for One—Urgently Needed

Will we have a new wharf? asks the Hastings Star. This question has been asked around town by several during the last week, and a petition signed by all the leading citizens has been sent in to the government hoping that our old landing will be replaced with an up-to-date wharf which is very much needed, and will have to be built if towing to any amount is even done up and down the river past the town.

Hastings is to have a resident engineer here to look after this part of the canal. Mr. Mack arrived in town on Monday, has engaged suitable offices for the department, and doubtless something will be done to make the river more navigable in the near future.

G.T.R. Flyer Will Make Longer Trips During Toronto Fair Week

Beginning next Monday, the G.T.R. flyer, which arrives here at ten o'clock at night and stays over night will be run through to Campbellford. This arrangement is for next week only and will be much appreciated by Campbellford people who desire to go to Toronto in the morning to attend the fair and return the same day. The flyer will arrive in Campbellford by 11.20. This arrangement was put on last year and was very successful.

Gun Went Off Accidentally and Injured Smith Young Man

Albert Chatman, a young man residing in Smith, met with a bad accident this morning by the accidental discharge of a shot gun, which he was carrying. The charge entered the instep of his left foot, which is pretty badly shattered. Chatman was brought at once to the city and taken to Nicholls hospital, where Dr. Halliday is attending to his injuries. He is suffering considerably with the pain of the wounds but is doing as well as can be expected.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, Aug. 29.—In the early session the market displayed somewhat less vigor than on the previous days of this week, and was inclined to fall back from initial prices more for want of sustaining buying than in consequence of any increased pressure. There is a good deal of Union Pacific for sale around 182 representing profit taking on stock bought on lower prices.

The traders are more bullish than they were, but a sufficient number will fight further advance to ensure renewal of the short interest on rising prices. The closing was dull but firm.

Big Falling Off in Passenger Traffic

Lindsay is Complaining Bitterly of Low Water

Commenting upon the fact that the steamer Otonabee had carried about 40,000 passengers down the Otonabee river this season, the Lindsay, Post says;

We regret that we are unable to announce an increase in the passenger traffic on this end of the route indeed, we are safe in saying that the falling off in passenger traffic this season on our lakes has been considerable and is directly traceable to the wretched and inadequate facilities provided at this end of the route. The town invested between $1200 and $1500 in a wharf for the encouragement of excursions but the traffic has been nil. Governments have expended thousands of dollars in widening the river, but owing to insufficient regulations the steamer channel is monopolized by huge cribs of logs owned by millmen. The rights of both parties could and should be guarded.

As things stand now, steamers can barely reach the northern boundry of the town, a mile from Kent street, and passengers are put to large expense in paying hack fares and baggage transfer charges, while it is impossible to count on arriving anywhere on time. Oh, yes, the lot of the Stony Lake or Peterborough mariner is ideal, as compared with that of Lindsay boatmen.

57th Regt. Band Off for Toronto

The members of the 57th Regiment band, under the direction of Mr. Glidden, left this morning for Toronto, where they will provide music at the exhibition this afternoon and evening, and tomorrow afternoon and evening. The band numbered 35 musicians.

Enjoyable Outing Held by Non-Coms.

About 125 took in the 57th non-com's excursion to Idyl Wyld yesterday afternoon on the steamer "Otonabee." The day was a delightful one, as was also the evening for the return trip. They arrived at Idyl Wyld about five o'clock, where tea was partaken. The return trip was commenced about seven o'clock, and Wolfe street wharf was reached about ten o'clock. Everyone enjoyed themselves and the excursion was very successful. Major Clegg and Capt. Bennett were both on board. Messrs. Cottrell, Batten and Roberts were the committee in charge, and are to be congratulated upon the enjoyable associations of the day.

Girl Fainted in Swimming Race

Miss Marjorie Bull Was Overcome by Fatigue—Rescued by Mr. Bailey

Yesterday afternoon at the Junior regatta at Chemong Park, Miss Marjorie Bull fainted while contesting in the swimming race. Miss Bull is only eleven years of age, and had competed in a number of the events, and also won several. Evidently from over exertion and fatigue the child fainted in the water. She had gone down the second time, when fortunately Mr. Bailey, who is a guest of Mr. Bull's, rescued her and brought her safely to shore. Had she not fainted she would doubtless have won the race. Miss Bull won a similar event at Stony Lake regatta, and is an accomplished swimmer.

Mayor Ashdown, of Winnipeg, is to leave shortly for London, on civic financial business.

HAS TO FACE THREE CHARGES

Cavendish Man Gets into Trouble With His Mother-in-law

Wm. O. Haines, of Cavendish township was brought to the city this morning by County Constables Cochrane and Moore, and came up before County Magistrate Edmison, charged with three offences. The complainant is Haines' father-in-law, John Westlake, and there are three separate charges against the young man. One is for assaulting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Westlake, the second for carrying a revolver and a dirk, and the last for using grossly obscene and insulting language towards his father-in-law and mother-in-law.

Haines was remanded until Wednesday of next week, after a short examination by the magistrate, in which he admitted some of the things with which he is charged.

The offences are said to have been committed about the middle of July and the charges were laid on August 21st. It appears that there has been trouble between Haines and his wife's parents for some time, and the family relations became more and more strained until Haines is alleged to have cut up and committed the offences which have landed him in the grasp of the law.

Terrible Disaster at Quebec; Cantilever Bridge Collapses

Sixty Lives Lost in Collapse of New St. Lawrence Bridge.

Without Any Warning Part of Structure Gives Way—$4,000,000 Worth of Steel in the River—Few Survivors Tell Thrilling Story of Their Escape — It Was an Engineering Marvel.

Quebec, Aug. 30.—From 60 to 80 lives were lost last night by the collapse of the half-finished cantilever bridge over the St. Lawrence, nine miles above the city, and four million dollars' worth of steel superstructure, made by the Phoenix Bridge Co. lies at the bottom of the river a twisted mass of scrap iron.

The disaster occurred at 5.30 p. m., just before the men were to quit work. There was no premonition of coming disaster, and no cause can so far be assigned for the disaster.

One story is that the collapse followed the approach on the bridge of a locomotive and three cars loaded with iron.

There was a 28-mile-an-hour wind at the time, but this is considered trifling, and the bridge has already stood very much more.

Suddenly Swayed.

Ninety men were working on the structure at the time. Some were engaged in riveting operations, while others were taking down a big traveling crane.

The bridge simply swayed and shot out from the direction of the shore into the middle of the St. Lawrence.

There were a few marvelous escapes, but the great majority of those on the structure went down with it and are still in the water.

Ten bodies have been recovered.

Ten others who were on the bridge were saved, some badly injured. One or two were miraculously saved.

Of the dead bodies recovered, the majority are supposed to be those of Indians from Caughnawaga, near Montreal, several of whom were employed on the work.

Among the dead are Mr. Burke, resident engineer of the work for the Phoenix Bridge Co.; Carl Swanson, from Philadelphia.

Messrs. Fast and [illegible], supposed to be from Ohio and the following residents in the vicinity of the bridge: Victor Hardy, Michael Hardy, James Hardy and Calixte Hardy, Joseph Boucher, two brothers named Wilson, two named Hausman, Henry French, two brothers named Proulax, and four men named Birone, Binet, Beaudry and Norton.

Terrible Scenes.

The survivors who went down into the river and were saved state that when they came to the surface of the water the spectacle which met their gaze was frightful. Several bodies came with them to the surface, some covered with blood, others with blood oozing from the mouth and ears, while others were unrecognizable.

Darkness prevented the work of recovering the bodies being successfully prosecuted last night, but it is known that many will be found to be crushed to pulp between the heavy steel pieces of the bridge with which they went to their death.

Was an Engineering Marvel.

It is claimed here that the loss must fall upon the Phoenix Co., which undertook to complete and deliver in perfect condition the superstructure of the bridge. The abutments and piers are perfectly intact.

In one respect the structure was an experiment, being the longest cantilever in the world, namely, one unsupported span of 1,800 feet. There was still nearly 150 feet to be built to the side of the main span which collapsed, and the whole of the 750 feet outside of the pier was overhanging the river without any apparent support, although it was supported overhead. This overhanging mass of metal has been considered all summer to be one of the engineering feats of the day, and was visited by nearly all American and other visitors to Quebec. The total cost of the bridge was to be close up to $10,000,000, and already some $5,000,000 had been spent on it.

It is the connecting link between the eastern and western branches of the new transcontinental railway in course of erection by the Canadian Government.

HISTORY OF BRIDGE.

The Quebec Bridge Company was incorporated with powers to construct a railway bridge over the St. Lawrence near Quebec, and to arrange the same for the use of foot passengers and vehicles and to construct and operate lines of railway to connect with existing or future lines of railway, on each side of the river. By the railway subsidy act of 1899 the grant of a subsidy to the company of $1,000,000 was authorized for a railway bridge over the St. Lawrence at Chaudiere Basin. The site and plans for the bridge were approved by the Railway Committee of the Privy Council, and by an order-in-council, dated May 16, 1898. The structure was to be a cantilever bridge, composed of two approach spans of 220 feet each, two anchor spans of 500 feet each, and a center span of 1,800 feet from center to center of the piers. The under side of this bridge was to give a height of 150 feet above high water. It was also to provide a double track railroad, two lines for electric tramways, and two ordinary roads for vehicles and foot passengers. Subsidy payments to the extent of $347,353.33 were made up to June 30, 1906. Under a subsequent agreement the company, which changed its name to the Quebec Bridge and Railway Company, released the Government from any claim to the unpaid balance of the $1,000,000 subsidy, but the Government agreed to guarantee the principal and interest of the company's bonds to the extent of $6,678,000, such bonds to be payable in fifty years, bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent., and to be a first charge, secured by a mortgage upon all the company's franchises, tolls and property, the mortgage to secure such securities, to be made to a trustee or trustees, approved by the Governor-in-Council, the Government to have the right to take possession of the undertaking and property at any time on a month's notice, paying the shareholders the amount of their stock at par value not exceeding $265,585.70, with simple interest at 5 per cent., and an addition of 10 per cent. on the par value of fully paid-up shares, and assuming the approved obligations of the company. In February 1904, a mortgage trust deed was executed between the Quebec Bridge and Railway Company. A mortgage trust deed, conveying to the said trust company, as trustees, all the property and franchise of the Bridge Company, and providing for the issue of bonds to the extent of $6,678,000. A new agreement was made on February 3, 1906, between the company, the King and the Bank of Montreal for a further advance, not exceeding $1,250,000 at 5 per cent., to be paid over to the Royal Trust Company, who were to pay the company 80 per cent. of the par value of the bond mentioned in the Chief Engineer's certificates. The total value of work done and material delivered, as certified up to June 30, 1906, was $2,288,144, justifying the issue of bonds to the extent of $4,099,661.

Drowning at Kingston.

Kingston, Aug. 30.—Archie Mensman of Odessa, a sailor on the steamer Alexandria, fell into the water between the drydock and an elevator and was drowned.

A young man named Neilson, employed by Lemman & Sons, fell, late yesterday afternoon, from the roof of the Kingston Milling Co., where he was at work, and broke his arm, and probably received internal injuries.

Scrupulous Honesty.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—John D. Rockefeller's bill for witness fees and mileage for his trip to Chicago last July makes a new record for scrupulous honesty in the office of the United States marshal in Chicago.

He could have collected $65.60 for his trip from Pittsfield, Mass., and return, but as he stopped off at Cleveland, he deducted the difference.

Killed at Crossing.

Alliance, O., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Byron Kendricks, her six-year-old grandchild, Hazel Lowther, and Arthur Oyster, the driver of their carriage, were killed here when a Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago passenger train crashed into their carriage at the crossing just outside the city Wednesday.

Brakeman Hurt.

Brockville, Aug. 30.—A G. T. R. brakeman named Theodore Shipman, stepping from a car at Cardinal, slipped and his foot went under the wheels.

Cases Adjourned.

Cobalt, Aug. 30.—The cases against Readhouse, et al., for inciting miners to strike, were adjourned until Wednesday next.

Nine Hamilton bakers are charged with selling lightweight bread.

Edgar Knight, of Napanee, a grocer, aged 45, committed suicide by drowning yesterday.

SUPPORT NEW SULTAN

Mulai Hafig Would Satisfy French Demands.

Tangier May Be Imperilled — Withdrawal of Troops Would Leave Raisuli Unopposed—Cruiser and Torpedo Boat Sent to Morocco—Will Place France In Delicate Position—Protect Europeans.

Paris, Aug. 30.—A despatch to The Matin from Casablanca confirms the report that Mulai Hafig, the newly-proclaimed Sultan of Morocco, had issued a proclamation at Mazagan, pointing out that the policy of Sultan Abdul Aziz had been ruinous to Morocco, and stating that he proposed to satisfy the French demands and enter into good relations with France and all the other powers. The proclamation is regarded as being of the greatest importance, as it implies that Mulai Hafig has the support of all the principal tribes of the southern part of Morocco.

The Tangier correspondent of The Matin telegraphs that special couriers have arrived at Tangier from Fez, bearing orders from Sultan Abdul Aziz to the Moroccan War Minister, Cabbas, to immediately send two caids, with troops, to join Gen. El Merani and go with them to Fez.

If this order is carried out, the correspondent adds, Tangier will be depleted of troops, and be at the mercy of Raisuli, who is described as being much encouraged by his victory over Gen. El Merani.

The French Government yesterday ordered the armored cruiser Dessaix to proceed to Tangier from Toulon, with instructions to protect the European population of that port.

The torpedo-boat destroyer Dart has also been ordered to sail for Morocco.

The Temps raised the point that if Mulai Hafig proves to be friendly, France enters on a most delicate situation, as by the terms of the Algeciras conference she is bound to respect and maintain the authority of the legal Sultan, who, for the most, is Abdul Aziz. The Temps remarks: "What will come to pass if it is to his rival that we shall owe the pacification of Morocco? The utmost tact is essential in handling the problem."

The Temps adds that the Moroccan question has been singularly simplified since Germany decided not to place difficulties in the way of France, which has no intention of menacing either the integrity of the country or the commercial liberty of the powers, and says that the change which has occurred in German opinion is surprising in its rapidity. The paper then suggests that "negotiations ought to be opened in order that certain problems interesting to Germany shall receive solutions satisfactory to that country."

Bookmakers Fined.

Fort Erie, Aug. 30.—Eight bookmakers from Buffalo, accused of violating section 228 of the Criminal Code, by keeping a common gambling house at the Fort Erie track, were convicted by Magistrate Rathbun of Fort Erie yesterday morning. They were fined $100 each, without costs, or three months in jail.

Chief of Police Keys gave evidence as to having bet $2 and Magistrate Rathbun declared that the arrangements made the location of the stool a "place," as spoken of in the law.

An appeal will likely be taken.

War on White Slave Traffic.

Washington, Aug. 30.—A systematic effort is to be made by the bureau of immigration to put an end to what is popularly known as "the white slave traffic," which has been conducted especially in cities on the Atlantic seaboard for a long time.

The method with which this is accomplished is so well devised that the victims of the importers practically invariably avoid detection by reason of the thorough coaching they receive prior to embarking.

Rossland Miners Protest.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 30.—Rossland Miners' Union has sent a strong deputation to Premier McBride to take action against the Crow's Nest Coal Co. for alleged violation of its charter requiring sufficient and continuous supply of coke for smelters and mines in Yale and Kootenay districts.

The present shortage is due to the shipment this year of twenty-seven thousand five hundred tons of coke to United States smelters.

Two Boys Suicide at Sea.

New York, Aug. 30.—Two suicides, both boys, occurred from the steamer Patricia, which arrived yesterday from Hamburg, Boulogne and Plymouth. Baruch Jaffe, a steerage passenger, aged 18, jumped overboard on Aug. 18, and Heinrich Herke, aged [illegible], a member of the crew, jumped into the sea two days ago. Neither body was recovered.

Kills Sister.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 30.—Thos. Lavelle, a prominent hotelkeeper of Girard, Ill., shot and instantly killed his sister, Mary White, while sleeping, early yesterday, and then fatally wounded himself. He is probably insane.

To Prevent Accidents.

Cobalt, Aug. 30.—At the inquest into the death of Alex. Groselx, killed by a stone during a blasting, the jury recommended the local authorities to take steps to minimize the possibility of accidents in the use of explosives.

Lynched Negro.

Columbus, Miss., Aug. 30.—A mob lynched John Lipsey, a negro, who, it was said, criminally assaulted Mrs. Ed. Windham at her home near Pickensville, Ala. Mrs. Windham is in a critical condition.

Settlement For British Columbia.

London, Aug. 30.—The Salvation Army have arranged with the British Columbia Government for the selection of a settlement for 1,000 persons in 1908.

George Sippi, who is dead at Winnipeg, was the son of the late Dr. Sippi, for many years bursar of the London insane asylum.

CHINA MAKES PROTEST.

Objects to Recent Covenant Between France and Japan.

Pekin, Aug. 30.—China made a protest on Aug. 19 to France and Japan, against the covenant of their recent agreement, providing for interference in the vast regions of the sovereign Chinese domain.

The protest has resulted in a remarkable suppression by the authorities of public matters. It is claimed that China has been brow-beaten from her rights, owing to the cowardice of the present Chinese Government, the cowering position of the throne, and its overlording by Japan.

The protest which the board of foreign affairs, for the purpose of not giving offence, modified, to a mild character, is to the effect that the agreement of China's allied opponents is "not to be considered as right."

The protest has aroused the indignation of the Japanese, who have ignored it, leaving the French here to persuade the board to drop it.

While China's resentment at the patronage of the Japanese, which country is assuming the position of her protector, is increasing, the Government is yet too weak and alarmed to combine the assistance of the Empress with official action, preferring the dangerous policy of secrecy.

The attitude of foreigners here has reached a stage of pronounced antagonism to the Japanese, especially among those belonging to the nations which are the allies of Japan.

This antagonism has been largely provoked by Japan's constant success, both in Korea and Manchuria.

A new movement, headed by Chang Chin Tung, has been started among the Chinese to promote native enterprises in Fukien, for the purpose of offsetting the efforts of the Japanese to obtain a foothold in that province.

Mackenzie In Wreck.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 30.—While returning from a tour of inspection of the Halifax & Southwestern Railway, the special train conveying William Mackenzie, head of the Mackenzie & Mann railway system, and C. W. Spencer, general manager of the Canadian Northern's eastern lines, was wrecked at Ingramsport.

They escaped serious injury, but were badly shaken up.

Killed by Kick.

Chatham, Aug. 30.—Steven Brown, a Raleigh Township farmer, was kicked in the chin by a horse in his barn shortly after 7 o'clock last evening and died almost instantly. Brown had just finished his day's work and was putting the team away.

Dominion Parole Officer Archibald has been spending the last two weeks in Kingston penitentiary.

THOUSANDS STARVING

Japanese Peasants Rendered Homeless and Destitute.

Entire Towns Submerged—Many Persons Missing — Railway Tunnels Collapse — Bridges Damaged—Rice Famine Spreads Over Extensive Area of Central Japan—Route of Food Supply Obstructed by Water.

Tokio, Aug. 30.—In Tokio alone 79,-664 persons, rendered homeless by the recent floods, are being cared for by public relief. About the same number are being cared for in the prefecture of Saitama. There is no doubt there are thousands of others homeless elsewhere. The entire towns of Fukushiyama, near Kioto, was submerged. Many persons are missing.

Flood reports continue to be received. A number of railway tunnels have collapsed and many bridges have been damaged. Several days must elapse before traffic is restored to normal conditions. The route of Tokio's food supply is obstructed by water, and the fish supply is almost stopped. The sanitary authorities of the central Government are already busy with precautionary measures to prevent the outbreak of epidemics of cholera, dysentery and fever in the inundated regions, which cover an extensive area of central Japan. Thousands of peasants are destitute and starving in the central provinces of Japan. The price of rice is higher than ever before, and the rice famine is widespread.

15,000 HOUSES BURNED.

Tremendous Conflagration Almost Wipes Out Japanese City.

Yokohama, Aug. 30.—Advices received from the American consulate at Hakodate, places the loss caused by the conflagration there at $15,-000,000.

About 15,000 houses, varying in value, were burned, and 60,000 persons rendered homeless. Former estimates are regarded as having been too low.

Hakodate is a city of 90,000 inhabitants, located on the northern side of the Tsugaru Straits, which lies between the two largest islands of Japan, and through which the Russian Vladivostok fleet steamed on two or three occasions during the war.

Adopt British Proposal.

The Hague, Aug. 30.—After three hours' debate yesterday the British proposition regarding obligatory arbitration was approved by the examining committee, which had the subject in charge.

During the course of the debate the head of the Austrian-Hungary delegation, Privy Counciller Merey Von Kapos-Mere, caused momentary excitement by accusing the head of the French delegation, M. Bourgeois, president of the committee on arbitration, of intentionally delaying the publication of the Austrian arbitration proposals.

MIKEL, NEW PRESIDENT.

Ontario Municipalities Close Convention—Ottawa Wants Meeting.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—The convention of Ontario Municipalities came to a close yesterday afternoon, after a successful session. A vote of thanks was tendered to the mayor and council for their hospitality and all of the delegates were loud in their praise of Toronto. Mayor D'Arcy Scott of Ottawa, however, thought that the convention next summer should come to the Federal capital. The matter will be discussed by the executive.

The same body will decide as to whether the convention will send delegates to the Canadian Union. It was objected that to send five delegates next summer to Medicine Hat would cost $1,000.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, W. C. Mikel, city solicitor, Belleville; vice-presidents, Ald. Cooper, London; Mayor Scott, Ottawa; Reeve Locke, Yarmouth; Mayor Kennedy, Owen Sound.

Work for Legislature.

Among the resolutions recommended for consideration by the Legislature are the following:

To permit municipal elections to be held on the first Monday of December.

To repeal the Conmee Act and to authorize municipalities to expropriate gas light and power plants.

To exempt municipalities from liability for defective highways.

To permit streets to be extended on local assessment basis against protest of property owners upon a two-thirds vote of the council.

To allow municipalities, at their option, to permit Sunday street cars.

To permit a board of controllers in cities of a population of between 45,-000 and 100,000 (Hamilton and Ottawa).

To permit cities to regulate electric wiring.

GOVERNOR APOLOGIZES.

For Invasion of Venezuelan Territory by Capt. Calder.

Georgetown, British Guiana, Aug. 30.—The governor of the colony has sent an apology and expressions of regret to President Castro of Venezuela for the invasion of Venezuelan territory reported Aug. 17 by Capt. Calder, in command of a small frontier force from British Guiana, and the seizure of a quantity of balata gum, which, it was alleged, had been collected on British territory.

London, Aug. 30.—The Standard yesterday says it understands that Capt. Calder, who led the detachment into Venezuelan territory, has been removed from his present post. It has been learned, the paper says, that the captain was unarmed when this affair occurred.

Big Farm Burned.

Woodstock, Aug. 30.—A disastrous fire occurred early yesterday morning at the farm of Geo. Patterson east of Zorra, when a large new barn was completely destroyed, together with the greater portion of the season's crops.

Mr. Patterson went out to the barn early, carrying a lantern. When in the basement of the barn the lantern suddenly exploded and the building took fire. Efforts to stop the progress of the fire were in vain, and attention was directed towards saving the animals and implements in the barn.

All the animals were taken out, including a fine team of horses valued at from $375 to $400. The barn was only recently built, and was one of the finest in the neighborhood. It is partly insured.

Sold Liquor to Indians.

Toronto, Aug. 30. — The license branch of the Provincial Secretary's Department has laid information against W. H. Darcy of Burleigh Falls, Peterboro County, for supplying liquor to Indians, this being the second offence. Darcy was recently convicted and fined $50 and costs, although the liquor was supplied by his bartender.

The Indians created a scene on a Stony Lake excursion steamer, throwing the women and children into a panic, and were subdued by the white passengers and crew.

AIRSHIP STRUCK SCHOOL-TOWER

Aeronaut at Toronto Exhibition Had Narrow Escape.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—The inglorious ending of a trip made by the Knabenshue airship yesterday morning decided the management to cancel the contract. The ascent was made in good style, and the craft headed city hallwards, but at Crawford street schoolhouse there was a mishap, the machine becoming unmanageable, striking the cupola, and settling upon the roof, the wooden frame being smashed. Aeronaut Gail Robinson asserts that the wind was too strong, and that he made the trip only under compulsion. The airship was carted back to the grounds in the afternoon. It is not badly wrecked, but further trips are off, as the exhibition management have issued the following statement:

"The directors of the Exhibition yesterday decided to request that the Knabenshue airship be removed from the grounds. They did this, not because the gentlemen in charge of the airship manifested any disinclination to make the ascension as promised, but because they were satisfied that the apparatus in use is not able to perform what is expected of it, and, therefore, that it is impossible for the ship to be manoeuvred in such a way as to fulfil the terms of the contract.

"Yesterday morning an attempt was made, seemingly, to fulfil that part of the agreement calling for a trip around the City Hall tower and back to the Exhibition grounds, but the engine acted so badly that the feat was entirely out of the question. Mr. Johnston, the man in charge, subsequently stated that it would take at least until Saturday to repair the damage done.

"In view of that fact, it was apparent to the directors that the fulfilment of the specified terms of the contract was an utter impossibility."

OFFICER GOES TO TRIAL.

Chinese Raid Aftermath — The Case Against Police Goes Over.

Regina, Aug. 30.—Corpl. Hogg of the R. N. W. M. P. was yesterday committed for trial on a charge of having assaulted and unlawfully arrested four Chinamen in the police raid last Friday night. Bail was accepted.

Three other cases against Chief Harwood, Constable Glasdow and Constable Hoggarth, all of a similar nature, were adjourned until Wednesday.

J. F. Frame, who appeared for the policeman, objected to the magistrate sitting on the case, as his son had the case for the Chinamen, and he thought the magistrate was biased.

Mr. McCausland, however, declined to ask another magistrate to take the case, and Mr. Frame said he would take steps to have him deposed.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—Receipts of live stock at the city market since Tuesday as reported by the railways were 93 carloads, composed of 1386 cattle, 866 hogs, 4183 sheep and lambs, and 250 calves.

Exporters

No loads of export cattle on sale, but a few, probably half a dozen steers, picked out of as many loads of butchers, and a few bulls, not more than a load all told. One steer 1500 lbs., and 2 steers 1460 lbs. were handled by Maybee, Wilson & Hall. The 1500 lb. steer was bought to ship to Bermuda at $5.75 per cwt., and was of excellent quality, good enough for the Christmas market; the 2 steers weighing 1460 lbs. each sold at $4.75 per cwt., and the bulls sold at $3.50 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers.

A few picked cattle, about one out of every hundred on the market that were of good quality, sold at $4.65 to $5 per cwt.; medium at $4.25 to $4.50; common $3.25 to $4; cows sold all the way from $2 to $4 per cwt.; canners $1 to $1.50 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

Dealers report few as being offered, and little or no demand. Light feeders of fair breeding 900 lbs. each were quoted by one dealer as hard to sell at $3.25 per cwt.

Milch Cows and Springers.

A liberal supply of milkers and springers found a good outlet on the market, because of several Montreal dealers, who wanted good cows. Prices were a little firmer, as will be seen by the reports of sales given below. Prices ranged from $25 to $58 each.

Veal Calves.

Prices ranged from $4 to $6.50 per cwt., the bulk going at $5 to $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Liberal receipts caused prices to be a little easier. Export ewes $4.25 to $4.40; rams and culls $3.75 per cwt.; lambs $6 to $6.25 per cwt.; the bulk of the best lambs sold at about $6 per cwt.; feeding lambs were bought by farmers at $5.25 to $5.65. There were a few lots of selected lambs, ewes and wethers, that brought $6.50 per cwt., some of which were contracted for ahead.

Hogs.

Receipts were light. Mr. Harris reported prices unchanged, as The World gave them on Wednesday. Selects $6.25; lights and fats $6.

Cheese Markets.

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 29.—On the Frontenac cheese board to-day there were boarded 239 white and 261 colored. The price for colored was 11⅝c and white 11⅝c, at which nearly all were sold.

Good Harvest Promised.

Winnipeg, Aug. 30.—The weekly C. P. R. crop report issued yesterday showed that wheat-cutting has started in many districts in Manitoba, although the weather has been unfavorable this week, and has prevented much work. In Manitoba cutting should be general by Monday; in fact, in some districts from 10 to 25 per cent. of the wheat has been cut. In most sections of Saskatchewan it will be from ten to fifteen days before cutting commences.

The reports show that frost has been only local, although in some sections damage is 30 per cent. Weather has cleared and probabilities are for good harvesting weather.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

Narrow Escape From Fatal End

Master Roy Thurston, aged eight years, met with an accident at the cheese factory, the other morning, and narrowly escaped death. The belt came off the curd cutter and the boy in some way got mixed up in it. He was carried to the ceiling and held there even after the engine had stopped, when he was taken down. It was feared that he was crushed, but one leg was broken at the thigh and the back of the head had a nasty cut. Fortunately there were no internal injuries, and he will recover.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

MORE CHARGES AGAINST DARCY

Provincial License Department Taking Very Energetic Action

Toronto, Aug. 30.—The License Department has laid another information against W. H. Darcy, an hotelkeeper of Burleigh Falls, Peterborough county, in connection with with charges of contravening the law by supplying liquor to Indians. He was recently convicted on one such charge although the liquor was actually sold to the red men by his bartender, and was fined $50 and costs. Some of the Indians so supplied were responsible for an exciting scene on a Stoney Lake excursion steamer, and were only subdued, after terrorizing a number of women and children, by the physical prowess of some of the crew and the white passengers, including a clergyman. There have recently been a number of complaints as to Indians in the district being supplied with liquor at hotels and the department is taking energetic action in the matter.

Women Insulted by Strange Man

He is Frightening the Fair Sex on Rogers Street

A prominent resident of Ashburnham informed the Review today that a man, who was evidently either a fool or a maniac, has been frightening women on Rogers street. I tappears that the fellow has been abroad two nights this week. On Monday and Wednesday nights about nine o'clock he chased some ladies and otherwise made himself obnoxious.

When the ladies screamed he made off. An attempt is being made to catch the blackguard. If he is captured severe punishment will be meted out to him.

Steamers Monarch and Otonabee Collided on Otonabee River

Monarch Was Trying to Pass the Otonabee Near Hale's Bridge When Mishap Occured—Passengers Were Excited—Luckily Collision Occurred in Shallow Water.

What almost resulted in a number of lives being lost by drowning, occurred yesterday afternoon on the Otonabee river in the vicinity of Hale's bridge, about ten miles from the city. Two steamers, the Otonabee and the Monarch, were making their usual Thursday afternoon trips, and, when a short distance this side of the bridge the two boats collided.

For a while there was great excitement among the passengers on board the "Monarch," and those on the "Otonabee" were also frightened. It appears that the "Monarch" had on two previous occasions passed the "Otonabee," but the latter had always gained its front position. The "Monarch" was attempting to pass the larger vessel the third time, and was crossing in front, when the "Otonabee," which never changed its course, ran right into it. This time the "Monarch" was not fast enough to cross before its opponent was upon it. Some of those who took in the trip state that it was an awful crash. The "Otonabee" did not strike the "Monarch" and knock the boat out of the way, but for some distance shoved the other steamer along in front. It is the opinion of many that had it not been shallow water, the "Monarch" would certainly have been swamped, and in any case, it is miraculous that there was not someone injured. The women on board were greatly frightened and excitement followed the collision. Some of the passengers threatened to jump overboard. A large indentation was made in the fan-tail on the side of the "Monarch." Otherwise no damage was done, but the affair put a damper on the otherwise pleasant trip of the passengers.

Company is Being Formed to Bore Wells for Natural Gas

Two Pittsburgh Men Will Sink Wells About Four Miles From City in North Monaghan—Will Go Down Depth of 2000 Feet—Believed That Gas Exists in This Section.

Is there natural gas in the bowels of the earth near Peterborough?... Reliable authorities belive that it exists in large quantities and two Pittsburg gentlemen from the oil fields of Pennsylvania were in the city this week looking into the proposition. They have secured an option on a farm in North Monaghan about four miles down the river and intend forming a company to sink wells for natural gas. They have all the necessary apparatus for boring and have decided to go down to a depth of 2,000 feet on the property on which they have an option.

Geologists believe that the strata lying between Lindsay and Campbellford, being composed largely of Trenton lime stone, contains natural gas. They think that this section is the central basin and the gas lode exists pretty close to Peterborough.

The Pittsburg gentlemen are enthusiastic, after receiving reports from those in a position to know and declare that it is simply a matter of going down deep enough in mother earth, in order to secure an illimitable quantity. Natural gas would be a great boon to Peterborough.

While the engineers in charge of the lift lock construction were sinking a shaft to ascertain the nature of the earth for the hoisting rams they ran across evidences of natural gas. Today there is a 1 1-2 inch pipe on the canal bank, sunk to a depth of 80 feet. On taking the cap off and applying a match, sufficient gas escapes to raise a flame four or five inches high. If such manifestations can be obtained at 80 feet depth, local men interested in the company maintain that any desired quantity can be obtained by going down several hundred feet.

It is expected that operations will start in the near future.

Clung to Rail Seventy Feet From the Ground

Nerve-racking Experience of Grand Trunk Brakeman at Dobe's Bridge a Few Miles From the City

Only the timely grasping of a rail and his desperate clinging to it, saved a young man named Dalby, from a drop of seventy feet, and haps a violent death, at Dobe's bridge, near Best's station, on Wednesday evening of this week.

Young Dalby is a son of Wm. Dalby of Lindsay, and is employed as a brakeman on the Grand Trunk. On Wednesday, he was making the run on the Peterborough-Toronto train, which leaves this city at 5.38 and a few miles out of Peterborough met with the exciting experience. A new bridge is being built to replace the old structure known as Dobe's bridge, and it was there the accident occurred. As is well-known by people who have travelled on that section of the Grand Trunk, there is a very deep cut at this point and at one place the track is fully ninety feet from the bottom of the gorge.

The train had slowed down in crossing the bridge, and young Dalby was standing on the steps of the car watching the men at work. He did not notice a derrick, the crane of which was swung around in such a position as to almost touch the train. Dalby, leaning out, was knocked from his position by the crane and fell. There was a clear drop of seventy feet before him, and it looked as if an awful fate awaited the young man. A rail, however, protruded near Dalby's line of descent and making a desperate effort, he managed to grasp it as he passed. He clung to it with desperation, and managed to hold on until he was released from his perilous position by the workmen.

The train stopped once it became known what had happened, and Dalby, who was not injured to any extent, proceeded to Lindsay. He received a severe shaking up and his nerves were somewhat unstrung, but otherwise, he was not hurt.

Precautions have been taken to prevent a similar accident happening again.

YORKVILLE HAS FINE LIBRARY

Mr. Pringle Visited it in Company With Property Committee

Ald. McIntyre and Ald. Morgan, members of the Property Committee, who are on a tour of Western Ontario, along with Architect William Blackwell, viewing public libraries, are visiting Galt, Waterloo, Berlin, Paris and Brantford today.

The members are expected home this evening. Mr. Wm. Pringle, of the Peterborough Public Library Board, who was in Toronto yesterday on private business, accompanied the members of the Property Committee to Yorkville, where they inspected the Carnegie branch library. The building, Mr. Pringle says, is handsome and imposing appearance, and cost about $30,000. It is a branch library of the big Carnegie building which will be erected in Toronto. There are reading rooms for boys, and also for the general public. There are also a couple of reference rooms and all the stacks of books on the ground floor.

The building consists of one story, and a basement, and has a stone entrance supported by pillars. The edifice is admirably equipped and Mr. Pringle was much impressed with its splendid lay out and appointments.

Brockville ratepayers voted down a by-law yesterday to raise $9,000 for the improvement of local bridges.

When washing greasy dishes or pots and pans, Lever's Dry Soap (a powder) will remove the grease with the greatest ease.

OBITUARY

THOS. J. NAYLOR.

Counties' Councillors who served at Cobourg in the year 1902, will regret to hear of the death of Thomas J. Naylor, who represented Campbellford and Seymour. He leaves a widow, son and daughter, the son Robert, being very low, with typhoid fever at the time of his death.

GEORGE RICKEY.

Death visited the home of George Rickey, of 108 Aylmer street last night, and removed the head of the family, after a brief illness. He was 75 years of age, and was born in County Monaghan, Ireland, on Dec. 23, 1832. He was a son of the late Wm. Rickey and a grandson of the late Capt. Wm. Rickey. He moved to America in April, 1856, and stopped at New York until the fall of that year, when he came to Peterborough and settled, and has lived here ever since. The deceased was married on October 24th, 1861, to Miss Anne Jane Armstrong, daughter of the late John Armstrong, of County Fennanagh, Ireland.

The late George Rickey was well known in the city and had many warm friends, who extend sincere sympathy to the surviving family. The children are: John T., of Toronto Junction; Mrs. Geo. Davis, of Hinton, W. Va.; Mrs. Jas. Greer of town; Mrs. E. Welch of Port Arthur; W. Bruce of town; Mrs. Geo. Waniess, Toronto Junction.

The funeral will be held on Sunday from the family residence, 108 Aylmer street, at two o'clock, and interment will take place in Little Lake Cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church.

ROBT. H. NICHOLLS.

The many friends in this city of Robert Hamilton Nicholls, second son of Mr. A. R. Nicholls, 209 Dalhousie street, will be grieved to learn that he passed away this morning at 9.30 o'clock. The deceased had been ill for several weeks with typhoid fever, and, despite the fact that all that medical aid could do was done, all proved of no avail. He was twenty years of age and was born in this city, where he had always resided. He was very popular among a large circle of friends and his death at such an early age has cast a gloom over his many acquaintances. He was a member of the 24th Field Battery and was with them in their last camp at Petawawa.

Besides his parents, three brothers are left too mourn his loss. They are Gordon, Dickson, and Warren, all residing at home.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock from the family residence, 209 Dalhousie street to the Little Lake Cemetery.

THOS. GILBARD.

Cobourg has lost one of her oldest and most respected citizens in the person of Thomas Gilbard, who died at his residence in that town on Wednesday night in his 82nd year. Mr. Gilbard was born in Devonshire, England, but spent the last 60 years of his life and all his business career in Cobourg. He was engaged in the clothing and dry goods business till, having amassed a competence, some thirty years ago, he gave up active business.

He was a member of the Town Council, and was afterwards for many years the treasurer of the municipality. He was for thirty years a justice of the peace, and for forty years a member of the Public school Board, and a greater part of this time its chairman. He was a prominent Methodist and held many leading positions in the church. He had been associated with Sunday school work all his life, and was the honorary superintendent of the Methodist school there up to the time of his death.

Local Firm Has Ottawa Contract

MacGregor & Reid Have Extensive Piece of Work at the Capital

Mr. T. D. MacGregor, of the firm of MacGregor and Reid, returned from Ottawa last night after spending about three weeks there superintending some important work being done in the extensive plant of the American Bank Note Company, on Wellington street. Repairs are being made to the heating and plumbing of the building and MacGregor and Reid had the contract for the work. It speaks well for a local firm when they can secure a large contract in a city like Ottawa, where there are a large number of firms in the heating and plumbing business.

The G.T.R. will accept wheat for shipment west of Portage 'a Prairie.

New Flags for Rural Schools

Department of Education Will Purchase Canadian Ensigns for the Schools

Toronto, Aug. 30.—In pursuance of the plan formulated some time ago the Department of Education is calling for tenders for the supply of flags for the rural schools of Ontario. The ensigns are to be Union Jacks, with the coat-of-arms of the Dominion of Canada. The offers of firms having such flags for sale will be received, until Wednesday, Sept. 11.

For the purchase of ensigns of this type, the Legislature voted an appropriation of $5,000 as a beginning. Each rural school will receive a flag, which must be displayed in the class rooms at the discretion of the trustees. The ensigns are to be flown on high days and holidays from the flag-staffs. No provision has been made for presenting them to the urban schools That step may be taken later.

BUILT UP HER HEALTH

SPEEDY CURE OF MISS ECCLISON

She Is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Zula Ecclison, 6 Erie St., East, St. Thomas, Ont., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. She writes:

Zula Ecclison

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a tonic and regulator for female troubles. I suffered for four years with displacement and no one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental suffering those endure who are thus affected. Your Vegetable Compound cured me. Within three months I was fully restored to health and strength and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to obtain such relief when so many doctors fail to help you. Your medicine is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Will Reynolds and Hartley Meet?

Latest Gossip on the Proposed Walking Match

The Port Hope Times, commenting on Mr. David Hartley's challenge to Jimmy Reynolds, the Port Hope pedestrian, has the following to say;

Another walking match, in which Jimmy Reynolds will be the star may take place soon. David Hartley, who recently walked from Peterborough to Bailieboro, a distance of thirty-four miles, in five hours and forty-eight minutes, thinks that he is a better man than Jimmy and that he can beat Jimmy's record.

Jimmy is willing to arrange a walking match to Toronto and back under certain conditions. He will not walk in the hot weather under any circumstances, and as Hartley is much younger, Jimmy Reynolds being 67 years of age,, and as Hartley, so confident of his powers Jimmie will demand a handicap of four hours. He will then undertake to walk to Toronto and back with Hartley and beat him. He says that it is now up to Hartley to put up or shut up. Jimmy will wager any sum Hartley likes to name.

An article from the Newcastle Independent concerning the challenge is given below :—

Notwithstanding the Independent asserted some time ago that there was no further object to be gained in betting with Jimmie Reynolds other than the pulling in of sordid gain without any investment or risk, but solely at the expense of his self-inflicted torture, the ancient hero is still on the gatepost challenging "The Independent man or any person else who chooses to take up his offer of $300 against $1,000," that he can make the same trip in 36 hours when he is a little older that he couldn't make in 38 hours when he was a little younger. But we still have faith enough in humanity, in daylight, at least, to believe that Jimmie will be unable to find anyone so lost to a sense of true honor in many sports as to accept his wager, although he positively asserts his opponent took every cent of his wager of $300, upon the last occasion, perhaps feeling justified from the uncertainty that then existed over what the pedestrian could do. But all possible uncertainty has been dispelled, and consequently the one so lost to all sense of honesty or honor as to take up the proferred wager should be arrested for compassing highway robbery. If Jimmie wants to invest his money regardless of returns he should give first consideration to other Marathon luminaries, such as Hartley, of Peterborough, who is reported to be already calling him to come down off his perch and try a stretch of one hundred miles.

Improve the Street Lighting By Changing Style of Lamp

As Negotiations for the Purchase of the Electric Light Business Have Stopped, Ald. Johnston Advocates That the Company be Allowed to Make the Change —Other Improvements to be Made.

Walking around the city in any direction, whatever, one is struck with the street lighting system. The old fashioned 2,000 candle power arc lamps are used, generally, although here and there a few incandescent lamps of about 250 horse power will be found. Altogether there are about 160 arc lamps and about 35 incandescent lamps which should certainly furnish sufficient light for a city the size of Peterborough. Yet there are many places where lights are hung, that it would be difficult to find the light or to tell, at a little distance, where it was. There are so many trees on most of the residential streets and they are getting so thick that lights which a few years ago, illuminated streets all right, are today of practically no use whatever. They are hid among the thick foliage, and only the birds in their nests can see.

This should not be. They city pays $50 per arc lamp, and $12 per incandescent lamp, or a total of $8,420 per year. That money is spent for light on the streets at night and there is no valid reason why the people should not get it. A Review man called on Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and asked him his opinion of the way the streets were lighted. The alderman did not hesitate to admit that the lamps are not placed advantageously. He said that he had often noticed lights, himself that were hid among trees and that his attention had been drawn to several others. But at the present time, he did not see that any immediate action could be taken.

Ald. Johnston, as he answered questions, gradually warmed up to the subject, and he expressed an opinion which he has had for some time. "You remember," he said, "the negotiations the council had with the Peterborough Light and Power Co. some time ago, in reference to the company changing the present open arc lamps to the new enclosed arc lamps. That question was dropped and the council took up the one in reference to buying the business of the electric light company and running it as a municipal enterprize. That matter is now practically dead and all negotiations with the company are off. The company has still seven years to run under their contract, and the most reasonable thing for the council to do is to reopen negotiations with the company, in connection with changing the street lighting system.

"The company is anxious to make the change, and there is no doubt but that the service would be greatly improved. It would also give the council a chance to remedy many defects in the service which now exist. For instance, the lights that are in the trees could be moved away from the thick foliage. Lamps that are now too high can be lowered and generally the whole service could be vastly improved at very little, if any, expense. Then the people would get what they are paying for, and the thing would be more satisfactory to all parties concerned."

When the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee was asked how he looked upon the plan of street lighting by the incandescent lamps on each verandah, he said he was strongly in favor of it. It would be cheaper for the city; give as near a perfect light on the streets and as evenly distributed as it was possible to get; it would light the people into their houses, and it would improve the appearance of the houses. He did not think, however, that the company would consider such a proposition at all. Then there was also the difficulty of some houses being wired for the Peterborough Light and Power Co. and some for the Otonabee Co. That would have to be settled first. In the meantime he thought the best thing the council could do, was to allow the Peterborough Light and Power Co., to change the old arc lamps for the new ones and get the lamps placed just where they will give the best service.

Port Hope Clergymen Were Imposed Upon by Impostor

Dennis Fisher Jones Disliked Work and Lived Upon Alms Extorted From Clergy by False Stories—A Contemptible Fraud.

Dennis Fisher Jones is a young man of parts who has a distinct aversion to work of any kind. He has been making a precarious living by sponging upon clergymen of various denominations, with a preference for those of the Church of England. His scene of operations includes Port Hope, Lakefield, Cobourg Trenton, Apsley, Picton and many other towns. The stories he tells do more credit to his imagination than to his veracity. He was last heard of at Picton, whither a letter has been sent to him by a Port Hope clergyman in which he is threatened with prosecution unless he desists from his misrepresentations.

Jones is a young man about eighteen years of age. He is of slight build with fair curly hair. He has good manners, can write a grammatical letter, although his handwriting is ill formed, and has a cultured voice. He first drifted into Port Hope about three months ago. He called upon the local clergymen of the Anglican church and told a story which was afterwards found to be untrue. He said that he had just come to Canada from England, where seven of his relatives were clergymen and that he had been sent to Port Hope by the Bishop of Quebec, who had paid his railway fare. He gave the names of various well known schools and colleges in England and Wales at which he said he had been educated and he declared that his chief ambition was to become a clergyman of the Anglican Church. He persuaded one of the Port Hope clergy to write a letter to the Bishop of Algoma asking if he could be given employment, with a view to entering the church. At one clergyman's house he continually turned up at meal times, told a hard luck story and invited himself to dinner. He made frequent calls upon other clergymen of several denominations, upon prominent citizens and religious workers, and obtained money and assistance of various kinds. He never apparently made any effort to obtain work. Finally, when the game was pretty well played out in Port Hope he went to Cobourg. From there he wrote to one of his clerical benefactors in Port Hope, saying that he had obtained employment and asking the clergyman to keep his boxes for him. He received a letter in reply, which he afterwards made use of. He soon returned to Port Hope and called upon a clergyman whom he had not hitherto "touched." He told his story, produced the letter in corroboration of a statement that the writer was taking great interest in him and was given a few dollars. With this money he went to the St. Lawrence Hotel, where he stayed that night. Next day at noon he turned up at the clergyman's house again, said he had had no breakfast and invited himself to dinner.

From Port Hope he went to Lakefield, but a clergyman there, after providing for him for some days, bought him a ticket for Port Hope, where he again appeared. Since then he has visited other towns, in one, at least, of which he imposed upon the clergyman to such an extent that he was allowed to assist in the church services.

Letters have been sent to the scholastic authorities in Wales by whom he says he was educated, in order to obtain corroboration of his statements. Replies have been received, saying that he is unknown by them. In reply to a letter of inquiry a Canadian clergyman, whose name Jones frequently mentions, and who now happens to be in England, says that Jones is a fraud. His stories are untrue and he has similarly swindled people in England as well as in Canada. He is said to be a Barnardo boy who was sent to Canada about five years ago. He worked for a farmer at Apsley for a year. Last year he went to England, but returned early in the summer.—Port Hope Times.

COUNCIL MEETS TUESDAY NIGHT

First Time for a Month—Several Important Matters to Come up

After a good holiday of a month, the members of the City Council will meet in the Council Chamber on Tuesday night. Monday night is the regular time of meeting, but as it is a holiday, the following night has been selected. In addition to the regular business of committee reports, etc., there are several other matters, which will attract the attention of the aldermen. One thing will be the debentures, which have been offered for sale for several weeks, and which have not been sold, except part of the sidewalk local improvement debentures, and there is likely to be a warm time and a midnight session.

Horticultural Society Prizes

Will Soon be Awarded for the Best Kept Lawns and Gardens

It will not be long now until the Peterborough Horticultural Society will start on its rounds of the city to inspect the lawns and gardens. Every year for the past three years the society has awarded prizes for the best kept lawns and gardens, and in awarding the prizes they take into consideration the existing circumstances. For instance, the rich man, who pays to have his premises kept nicely is in a class by himself while those who do all their work themselves are in another class. In this way it is not money that wins the prize. Very often a man with a small lawn with flowers and everything kept nicely, gets first prize.

Since the society adopted this plan much greater interest has been taken in horticulture by the citizens and a vast improvement has been made in the lawns. The society was the means of starting the residents and now they take a pride in keeping their premises beautiful. For this alone the society deserves great credit and the support of every householder. One of the great attractions of Peterborough and one of the features most admired by visitors are the well kept lawns and beautiful gardens.

Big Crowds go To Toronto Fair

Railways Doing a Big Business —Hotels in the City are Overcrowded

Immense crowds have left the city during the past few days for the National Exhibition in Toronto. The railways are offering very cheap rates and the people are taking advantage of them, some to do business in the city, and others to see the exhibition. Saturday will be the big day. There will be a great crowd go up on the evening train to stay Sunday and Monday. Just here it might be well to suggest that everyone arrange for a bed to sleep on before they go up. All the hotels are overcrowded and people are sleeping in bath rooms, halls and any place where a cot can be placed. Get out in the suburbs with your relatives or wife's mother, or you will have to sit up all night.

The Daily Review

FRIDAY, AUG. 30, 1907.

THE CABINET CHANGES

The Laurier Cabinet changes are announced and the lucky men are Messrs Pugsley and Graham. They will be sworn in today as members of the administration. Pugsley comes from New Brunswick and has long been known as a smooth, slippery politician of the machine type. He seems to have had a pull and landed the job vacated by Mr. Emmerson, who resigned to redeem his character, but has apparently been cast overboard for good.

As to Mr Graham it is doubtful if he is as strong or capable a man as Hon. R. F Sutherland and others in Ontario who have richly earned preferment, but have been passed over. Mr. Graham has led the Ontario Opposition for some months, but the Laurierites, evidently realizing that he had not a ghost of a chance of success against the Whitney Government at the next election, have called upon him to enter the Cabinet in the hope of strengthening the representation from Ontario.

Mr. Graham is a clever speaker and a genial gentleman, but is more widely known by reason of his wit than any statesmanlike qualities that he may possess. At the last federal contest he was organiser for the Grits in Eastern Ontario, and met with a measure of success. It is probably, owing to this fact, more than anything else, that has caused Sir Wilfrid to select Graham, but in so doing, the party in Ontario has, so far as provincial affairs are concerned, been left in a deplorable condition, and the question arises, who will be selected as leader of the forlorn hope? It is probable that the "honor" may be conferred upon Hon. A. G. McKay, of Owen Sound who was, like Mr. Graham, for a short time, a member of the discredited Ross Cabinet, at the time of its reorganization, just prior to the election in January, 1905; Mr. McKay, however, although a brilliant speaker, has certain weaknesses, and the choice would scarcely be acceptable to the temperance element of the Grit party. However, Conservatives need not worry, but the problem is an interesting one, nevertheless.

Meanwhile the internecine warfare at Ottawa goes steadily on, and in time will work complete disintegration of the party. Archie Campbell and his friends will entertain nothing but hard feelings for their chief while W. S. Calvert, F. F. Pardee and Hon. R. F. Sutherland, who were awaiting the call will not be any too well pleased. The fact that they have been passed and Mr. Graham appointed over their heads, shows a striking lack of confidence in the present Ontario federal representation. The Cabinet, by the present shuffle, has by no means been strengthened and, when men who have served for years in the Commons, are passed over and outsiders get the plums of Cabinet positions, there will naturally arise in the breast of the ordinary follower, a feeling of resentment. There is no incentive for the M.P. to do faithful, earnest work, when he feels that no promotion is in sight. He may not openly rebel, but he will take mighty good care that he does not hurt himself in guarding the welfare, and upholding at all times the best traditions of his party. Such slights—for they can be termed nothing else—are as gall and wormwood. Unrest, dissatisfaction, and lack of loyalty eventually manifest themselves, and often at a period when fidelity, co-operation and unity are most urgently needed.

THE LAW OF CHANGE

Does the wearing of a moustache improve or mar the facial appearance of man? This is a debateable question and opinions are bound to differ.

Young men try the experiment of raising hair on the upper lip and after a few years dispense with the growth which, in the mind of some, is nothing short of a barefaced outrage. Older men value the hirsute adornment and would not part with it for many, many dollars, while others declare they never have and never will raise a capillary covering for that miniature piece of countenance just below the nose. Several prominent business men in Peterborough have recently parted company with these "adornments" and avow that they will not return to the practice. They contend that the smooth face is preferable if a man has no labial or dental defects to conceal. The plain, unadorned-by-hair face shows all the strong lines—the delineations of character—which hair frequently hides, while others contend that a moustache is a business asset—possibly in the nature of an advertisement.

But, after all, this is a peculiar world. Here is one young man exceedingly anxious to raise hair on his upper lip to demonstrate manliness and virility, and here is another fellow just as anxious to get rid of what he terms "the nuisance of a moustache." It was ever thus and human nature will never be satisfied. One youth strains every nerve and saves up every dollar in an effort to get married and just across the street is a benedict, who would give all his fortune—yes, almost his life—if he could unloose the conjugal ties and be a free man again.

Here is another chap anxious to buy a house. He is sick and tired of paying rent and in an adjoining street, resides another man who has been trying for years to sell his house. He would gladly sacrifice it at any price.

A young married couple who are boarding, can scarcely await the time for them to begin house keeping and over yonder is another couple sorry—extremely so—that they ever took upon themselves the worry and responsibility of house keeping. They call in an auctioneer and go back to boarding or rooming.

A clerk is desirous of getting into business. He remarks that he is sick and tired of slaving for others and opines that "the boss" is making all kinds of money. Some day he sees what he regards as a favorable opportunity and he starts out in the mercantile or manufacturing line for himself. But expectations are often not realized and he almost breaks his neck to get out of business with its attendant perplexities, disappointments, competition, bad debts and growling customers.

Thus it is that human nature is very much dissatisfied. The true idea of happiness and contentment is never reached. Each man is too inclined to think that the other fellow has a bed of roses in his position or particular line of business, while his own pathway is beset with snags and thorns.

But reverting to the subject of a moustache, certain men think they look better with it swept away. After a while they crave for its re-appearance and allow the small filaments from the bulbous roots in the skin to grow again. The world—the individual, yearns for change and variety—ever seeking after something which when it arrives, is not just what was expected.

And thus the restless spirits in human nature—the ambitions implanted therein—go on, having full play, but in the meantime the world wags along. Perhaps all may be satisfied with their lot and appearance when the millennium arrives—but certainly not before.

PEN POINTS

All eyes are now turned in the direction of the western wheat crop.

The Knabenshue air ship at Toronto fair has so far steadfastly refused to fly. The name is too heavy to carry.

Don't overlook the interest of the big Borden meeting in the Grand Opera House, Peterborough, on Wednesday, Sept. 11th.

Pugsley and Graham! Do you think the selections add anything to the strength of the Dominion Cabinet? Not a bit.

The Premier may have reorganized his Cabinet, but he has not strengthened it. "Slippery Bill" Pugsley and Organizer George P. Graham are no improvement upon Emmerson and Hyman.

The man who will go to the Toronto Fair and then not patronize his home exhibition, is a mighty poor citizen. Yet every centre has a few of them.

Mr. Borden says the Government has corrupted the country with money belonging to the people, and turned a deaf ear when asked that the guilty party be punished. And who will gainsay it?

Messrs. Sutherland, Campbell, Pardee, Calvert and a host of other aspiring Liberal politicians for cabinet preferment have been overlooked, and Mr. Graham elevated over their heads. Thus hard feelings and heart burnings are caused.

The G.T.R. will build a big seven story million and a half dollars hotel in Ottawa, and will locate it in Major's Hill park. The question arises how long after its erection before it will be a prey to the flames. Ottawa is famous for fires.

The Kingston News says:—"The numerous sales of household effects do not brighten the prospect of population increase." Yet, paradoxical as it may seem, "moving" spirits are generally regarded to be at the back of all growth and development.

The stock market is still in an unsettled condition. It shows fair rallying powers, but it is evident that liquidation is incomplete, and those who are able to purchase good stocks outright will undoubtedly be able to pick up at prices that will yield good profits to the permanent holders.

Passengers Were Highly Indignant

At Course of Steamer Being Blocked by Drive of Logs

The passengers on the Kathleen were highly indignant at the proceedings run against on Wednesday morning, coming to Lindsay, says the Watchman-Warder. Down near where the old boat is sunk in the river, below Carew's mill, there was a drive of logs, right across the channel. The Kathleen was delayed by this and had to push the obstruction out of the way and then scrape in between this blockage and a similar obstruction. What made the occurrence so specially annoying was the presence of the Bob Hall close to the scene. The Government canal boat neither objected to the obstructions nor made any offer of assistance. There were several on the Kathleen desirous of catching the Toronto train and the unnecessary delay made them jump some. "If it happened in Peterborough," said one of the passengers, "there would be all sorts of anxiety shown by the Superintendent to remedy such an annoyance." Should the Dominion Government change and the Superintendent or other careless officials responsible lose their positions we would hear a fine cry of "Spoils and a long et cetera." But facts are facts, and incompetence or negligence or both are things to be considered and should be remembered.

CHEMONG YACHT CLUB SMOKER

Enjoyable Evening Spent at the Club House—A Decided Success

The smoker given by the Chemong Yacht Club at the club house, last evening was a great success. The building was brightly illuminated, the hosts hospitable and entertaining, the evening all it should be, and the guests numerous and well pleased. The success is due largely to the work and services given by Messrs. Walter Davidson, T. F. Matthews, A. A. Hollingshead and D. H. Burritt, who were assiduous in looking after the entertainment and comfort of all present. Three or four bus loads came up from town bringing many business and professional men for the evening. Refreshments and a small lunch were served, and games, songs and stories passed away the hours until the gathering broke up at midnight.

Four Boys Walked to Nassau and Back

David Hartley's Walk is Interesting the Boys

Since David Hartley accomplished a walk of 34 miles in an exceedingly short time, his feat has been the talk of everyone on the street, and particularly among the small boys. In fact a number of them who live in East City, have done more than talk about it. They have commenced the long distance walking. One evening last week they walked beyond Auburn for some distance and a few nights later attempted a longer walk. There were four of them and the oldest would not be much more than 13 years. They undertook to walk to Nassau, and they left at seven o'clock and were home shortly before nine. They called it a go-as-you-please" tramp, that is, they would run part of the distance and walk the rest of the way. The young sports said that they were not tired when they finished, but one of their fathers remarked that they were pretty much fatigued. They were very proud of their feat and intend to try a greater distance next time.

Charlie Johnston A Speed Merchant

Is Now in Active Training and Has Been Matched for a Race

Peterborough has a sprinter whose name is soon likely to be written in letters of gold. Although he has been lying low since coming to the city his fame is commencing to leak out and now that he has commenced training under the guidance of two well known local sports, more is likely to be heard of him. The name of the speed merchant is Chas. Johnston and he is a brother of Art. Johnston, manager of the Peterborough baseball team. Five miles is his favorite distance and at that stretch he has few superiors. He commenced active training yesterday and is being looked after by Harry Burridge and "Mick" Sharp. Harry thinks he has a find in Johnston and is prepared to back him heavily against all comers. He has arranged a match between Johnston and Carl Martyr of Toronto, to be pulled off on the closing day of the Toronto Exhibition, Sept. 7th. The go will be five miles and for a side bet of $100. Art. Johnston is backing his speedy relative and the two trainers also have some loose change that they would like to put up. A great race is expected. Charlie is rapidly rounding into shape and is showing all kinds of speed.

Baseball Team Has Good Motto

There is "something new" in the window of McWilliams' fur and hat store on George street. The Peterborough baseball team, which is now hot foot after the championship of the Midland League, is represented by three English bull dogs, made after the style of the Teddy bears. The dogs are decorated with blue and white ribbon, the Peterborough colors, and in front of them is a card, bearing the words, "What we have we'll hold."

The English bull dogs are something new, and are made upon the same lines as the Teddy bears, which have been so popular for some time.

Both Teams Strengthening For To-morrow's Big Game

People are yet heard to talk about the memorable occasion when Greek met Greek and, according to history there were doings at that time that made the natives who were on the job sit up and open their blinkers. But the episode in which the Greeks figured will not be in it for a moment with the contest at Riverside Park tomorrow when the Peterborough and Port Hope ball teams meet in the first of a three-game series to decide the championship of the Midland League.

Both nines are out to win and the local boys are determined that they will be the ones who will be hanging on to the pennant when the curtain goes down at the end of the baseball season. They will make a big attempt to settle the championship without the necessity of a third game and word comes from Port Hope that the same determination prevails there.

Peterborough will be represented by the strongest team that has stepped on a Midland League diamond in years and if everything goes right they should pull out a victory. Burridge will do the receiving as usual, and either Quinlan or Burns will do the twirling. Both are in fine shape and should keep the lakesiders guessing. Hickey will again hold down first, while the elongated Anderson will be on the job at second. Cheatham will play short, with Haliburton on third, while the field will be composed of Connors, Callaghan and Flaherty. Manager Johnston has the net out for a heavy hitting fielder, and will know this afternoon if his man can come or not.

Word comes from Port Hope that they are importing wholesale for the game but it is impossible to get a line on the men who are being secured. The information is given out, however, that Surplis will do the heaving and that he was never in better condition. He remembers with pain an afternoon at Port Hope not long ago when the Peterborough batters laid the wood on his serpentine twists and he is anxious to redeem his reputation. And they say the support behind him will be great. The visitors will be accompanied by a big crowd of supporters and, if the weather is fine, the attendance at the game should break all records. The match will start at three o'clock sharp, and either Weekes, of Bowmanville, or Walsh, of Toronto will handle the indicator. Either one will be satisfactory to Peterborough. No athletic event in Peterborough for years has attracted so much attention. The baseball bug is having his innings here these days all right.

Two Boys Took Short Cut Across Private Property in East City

One Was Assaulted by Man Who Had Charge of the Ground—Punishment Was too Severe However, and the Assailant Was Fined in Police Court To-day.

For assaulting Joseph Evelyn Stewart, a boy of about twelve years, Arthur Hodden, who resides on Burnham street, east city, was fined one and costs, amounting to $4.35. to be paid in ten days. He appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning at the police court and pleaded not guilty.

The boy Jos. Evelyn Stewart went into the box. He said that he and his brother were returning from Sunday school last Sunday afternoon, and for a short cut at the east side of the raceway they took a path into the Dickson property up through Mr. Hodden's premises out to Burnham street.

When near the house Hodden came out and chased witness. Stewart ran across the lot to Hunter street and was climbing over the fence when Hodden pulled him off and threw him down. Defendant put his knees on his stomach and choked him. He also twisted his ears. Witness said that they often used this short cut last year, and was not aware that they couldn't.

Mr. Geo. Coons was sworn and said that he was going along Hunter st. Sunday afternoon when he was attracted by the screams of a boy. He climbed the embankment and looking over the fence into the lot at the corner of Hunter and Burnham streets, he saw defendant holding the boy down with his knees and choking him. Witness ordered him to let him up and when the boy was getting over the fence he kicked him very hard.

Mr. Jos. Stewart, father of the boy, next went into the box. He said that his son was seriously hurt as a result of the assault. He was not a very strong boy and had been very nervous ever since. He was sick in bed a day and two nights.

Gillespie Stewart, brother of the complainant, was there also, but did not witness the assault. He was about 25 yards ahead of his brother and was through the gate before being noticed.

Mr. Hodden was sworn. He had the Dickson property at the corner of Hunter and Burnham streets leased. He had orders from Mr. Davidson to keep all boys out of the place and to take the names of any who were seen trespassing. On Sunday young Stewart was passing his door on his lawn. He asked him his name and Stewart started to run. He took after him and caught him by the ear and leg as he was getting over the fence. He denied kicking or choking him.

Mrs. Hodder was sworn. She said that her husband didn't kick the boy, but merely helped him over the fence with his foot. After the boy was let go, he and his brother and another lad came on the lawn again saying they had as much right there as the defendant. They also had stones and threatened to dash Mrs. Hodder's brains out with them.

His Worship said that it was one of a thousand cases where people are pestered with boys running on their property. The path the boys took used to be a thoroughfare, but is not at present. He did not think the boys were doing any great harm. It was only a pasture field. Had the man gave the lads a few cracks with a whip he would have been perfectly justified, but he thought he was unwise in his treatment of the lad. He could have very easily walked the lad to the police station without taking the law in his hands. He imposed the above fine, stating that defendant's punishment was quite unreasonable.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

John Harper, teamster of the city, was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road on August 8th. The informant, Douglas Wark, of Cobourg, was not present and His Worship dismissed the case.

Mr. W. H. Moore appeared for Harper, and Mr. G. M. Gordon was present for Wark, who he said, was desirous of having the case dropped.

WAS DISORDERLY.

Albert Wright, a youth, pleaded not guilty to being disorderly at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets last night. The case was enlarged until Wednesday, Wright promising to appear then. In the meantime witnesses will be summoned.

Poor Wheeling on the "Elevated"

Local Cyclist Met With a Peculiar Accident

Mr. F. R. J. MacPherson met with a somewhat peculiar accident on Charlotte street one evening this week. He was riding on a bicycle close behind an east going car and it did not cross his mind that the street car track was elevated at the Charlotte street bridge in front of the Snowden house. He was travelling at a lively clip at the time and the first thing he knew he was bumping over the ties which are about a foot from the ground and nearly two feet apart. He was thrown from the wheel, but fortunately escaped without injury. The wheel did not fare so well, however, the handle bars being broken and some other damage done.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Wheat market opened a shade easier this morning on profit taking and September liquidation, but the foreign news was extremely bullish, as was the northwest and prices advanced from 2 to 2 1-2 cents.

We do not look for any material decline and advise buying on such reactions as we had this morning. The visible supply showed a much smaller increase than was expected, only 565,000. New York reports 110 loads taken for export. Clearances 461,552. Market closed strong, 1 cent above last night.

Corn.—The market was bid up sharply. The buying of May was very good; the best posted people in the corn trade look for a further advance in prices in the near future. Corn made a new high record today Sept., 61 1-4; May, 60 1-4. Market closed strong, 1 1-8 above last night. The visible dec. 1,042,000.

Oats—In sympathy with corn, advanced sharply, May selling at 50 cents. The grading is not improving. 429 cars and only 3 grade. There is heavy buying of Dec. by the Patten brokers, the local operators taking the May. Both Dec. and May made a high record, 48 3-4 and 50. They closed 1 1-2 above last night. Visible increase 274,000.

Provisions.—Have shown a little more activity today but the fluctuations have been narrow.

New York, Aug. 30.—Although the market opened off fractionally from Thursday closing prices, the market rallied sharply today. In the second hour prices began to show improvement and at mid-day they were better all around. The market showed a great deal of resistance today and there was a very large demand for stocks in the loan crowd. Unless something unfavorable develops over the holidays, we look for further improvement next week.

On fair recessions we believe stocks should be bought. The Stock Exchange will be closed from tonight until Tuesday. The market closed dull with prices a shade under the best of the day.

Presented With Pretty Tie Pins

Pill Pounders Honor Three Popular Young Men

A very pleasant time was spent last evening at the residence of Mr. Gordon Fitzgerald, Boswell Avenue, when the "Pill Pounders" of the city gathered to say good-bye to three of their members who leave on Monday for Toronto, where they will enter the Ontario College of Pharmacy. The young men who were honored last evening, were Messrs Arthur Mann, Max Yelland and Robert Davidson.

On behalf of the club, Mr. Ralph Quinn read an illuminated address, in which he referred in eulogistic terms to their many excellent qualities. He expressed regret at their departure, but wished them every success in their studies at Pharmacy. Mr. W. Hewson then presented each with a handsome tie pin. The boys made suitable replies, thanking their fellow Pill Pounders for their kindness. They would not soon forget the many happy gatherings of the Pill Pounders of Peterborough had had.

Two new members were present last evening, Mr. Percy Donegan, of Berlin, who has taken a position with Mr. J. D. Tully and Mr. Henry McCaffrey, of Madoc, who has entered Mr. Madill's store.

After the presentation a pleasant time was spent at progressive euchre. Mr. Ralph Quinn won the gentleman's prize, and Miss Harding the lady's. Delightful refreshments were then served, after which a pleasant hour was spent in dancing.

Slashed Boy's Hand With Knife

Peculiar Action of Employee of Local Industrial Concern

For a few minutes yesterday afternoon there was an exciting time in the Armature Department of the C.G.E. works. It appears that one of the workmen took a stool belonging to one of the boys and refused to give it up when the boy demanded it. The youth at last attempted to secure the stool from the man, but the latter slashed him across the hand with a knife. The lad received a nasty cut and will not be able to work for a few days. He was lucky to escape without more serious injury. What prompted the man's action is not known, but his conduct is said to have been anything but that of a gentleman.

Havelock After Electric Power; To Obtain it from Healey Falls

Will Join with Northumberland-Durham Power Company in Petitioning Dominion Government for a Lease—Deputation Waits on Village Council.

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Aug. 30.—Members of the Northumberland and Durham Power company who intend to develop the power at Healey Falls, nine miles from here, waited on the Village Council at the town hall to-night and asked them to jointly petition the Dominion Government for a lease of Healey Falls and a right to place poles where they wish.

When the power is developed wires will be placed to Havelock and thence to Norwood. They claim that they can suply power to Havelock at a very low rate and thus it is an interest to the Havelock corporation as well as them for to have Healey Falls developed. At Norwood electric power is produced by steam and it will be much more cheaper. It is nine miles from Healey to Havelock and 15 miles to Norwood. There is a high fall at Healey and plenty of chance to develop lots of power, as several flumes and wheels may be installed.

The Havelock Council along with Norwood Council and the power company will petition the government for the required lease in the near future.

Air Brakes Refused to Work; Cause of the Manvers Wreck

Inquest into the Death of Edward Wansboro Resumed —Several Witnesses Heard—Engineer Applied the Air—Another Session to be Held Sept. 12th.

No verdict yet in the Manvers station inquest into the death of Edward Wansboro, of Toronto Junction, who was killed in the wreck on Wednesday. The inquest was resumed in the Orange Hall, Manvers, last night at five o'clock before Coroner Dr. Gray, and some important evidence was taken. It all goes to show, however, that the air brakes were out of order. Had they been working, or had the engineer even been aware that they were not working, the accident could have been averted.

The evidence taken was as follows:—

Arthur Johnston, night operator at Manvers station, was the first witness called. He said that at the time of the accident he was at the west semaphore putting out the light. He knew the train was standing at the station, and when the moving train was 45 rods away he signalled them to stop. He was standing right in the middle of the main line track, and kept up the signal until he was forced off the track. He saw the engineer extend his head out of the cab to look ahead of him, and then he heard a low whistle. The next thing he saw was a van of the standing train go up in the air. After the signal for down brakes he saw no brakeman on the top of the train, but when the van of the train came up he saw the conductor on the car in front of the van. Had the brakes been working right the engine should have been stopped.

Samuel Jackson, trainmaster of No. 1 Division, gave evidence in regard to the duties of the train men in respect to semaphores. The semaphore is the protection for the yard. The engineer's duty is to stop at the semaphore if it is against him. He could not see where it was possible for the engineer not to know he was approaching Manvers station.

Charles W. Carey, inspector of air brakes for all lines east of Fort William, said that he had not inspected the brakes of third No. 50 since the accident, and could not tell what condition they were in.

Mufford R. Grieve, conductor on the third section of train No. 50, which caused the damage, said that he did not know that the second section was stopping at Manvers station, and that there had been no report to him that the air brake was not working properly. He saw the semaphore was up after he had past it. The air brakes were applied but did not stop the train.

John Ritchie, engineer on the third section, said he remembered pulling the whistle for Manvers. He was on the lookout for the semaphore, and saw it about a quarter of a mile away. It was up then, and he applied the air brakes. They checked the train a little. He did not know at that time, but had since had information, that they were not working. They had worked all right at Burketon. The second application of the brakes had no effect. Then he whistled for hard brakes, giving one short whistle. He saw the night operator signalling to him and the fireman saw the train on the main line. Witness pulled the whistle, but it did not respond. He reversed the engine about four car lengths from the van in front. There was an exceptionally bad rail that morning, but he could not say that the condition of the rail had more to do with the train not stopping than had the defective air brake. He had had no doubt of his ability to stop the train before he applied the air brake.

The inquest was then adjourned until Sept. 12th, in the Orange Hall.

Latest on the Bridge Disaster; Investigation Will Be Held

Contractors to Be Held Responsible For Quebec Disaster.

Government Will Probe Cause—Commission of Experts Appointed—Phoenix Co. Alleged to Have Been Hurrying at Risk of Safety—Rivets Heard to Creak Day Before—Pall of Horror Over Quebec.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—It is evident from the attitude assumed by the Government that the responsibility for the Quebec bridge disaster will be laid at the door of the contractors.

S. N. Parent, chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Commission, states that the Phoenix Co. of Pennsylvania had been rushing the steelwork too fast and that that company is responsible for all losses, and so will have to meet also the claims for damages by the relatives of those who have lost their lives.

He estimates the loss upon the structure at about one million dollars, and it is probable that the damages for loss of life will amount to half a million.

Mr. Parent is chairman of the Quebec Bridge Co. He left for Quebec yesterday afternoon along with M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways.

The Dominion Government has ordered an investigation. Henry Holgate, C. E., of Montreal, will conduct the enquiry, and the other members of the board will be Prof. J. G. Kerry of McGill and Prof. Galbraith, principal of the School of Practical Science of Toronto.

This action by the Government has been taken on account of the public importance of the disaster, and not of any Departmental responsibility. The engineers of the Department of Railways and Canals, which alone is concerned, simply certify to the amount of work put into the structure from time to time, thus enabling the contractors to receive instalments.

Contractors' Liability.

M. P. Davis, who was contractor for the piers and abutments, had some time ago handed over his work to the Quebec Bridge Co., and the same has been accepted by them; but if it should be that the trouble was due to any fault on the part of the bridgework, he is of course still fully liable and responsible for any losses and damages that have occurred.

In addition to the money loss, the collapse represents from one to two years' delay in the completion of the bridge, for as the rebuilding of the structure there is not, Mr. Parent says, the least doubt.

The whole bridge has cost, as far as it has gone, something over $4,000,000, and was to cost when finished in the neighborhood of $8,000,000.

The only explanation that Mr. Parent can give of the collapse is that in the rushing of the work the riveting may not have followed up the extension of the steel as fast as it should, and that the drop was due to the weight of the load of steel which was being taken out on it.

Sympathy From Premier.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday morning sent the following message to Mayor Garneau of Quebec:

"I pray you to express to the citizens of Quebec and to those who lost relatives and friends my profound sympathy in the awful disaster which occurred last evening. It is the duty of all not to lose courage. We must immediately apply ourselves to the reparation of the lost and to push the project with energy.

(Signed) "Wilfrid Laurier."

The Governor-General has forwarded a telegram to Lieut.-Governor Jette, expressing sympathy with bereaved families suffering from the disaster.

Cause of the Wreck.

Quebec, Aug. 31.—The idea became prevalent here that the cause of the wreck was the giving way of the anchor pier on the Levis shore, which, imbedded in tons of solid masonry, sustains the weight of the structure suspended over the river. There would be another anchor pier at the other end of the river when the whole bridge was completed, and these two would, with the overhead arch, hold the bridge up, so that no piers would be necessary from one shore to the other.

M. P. Davis of Ottawa, contractor for this anchor pier, says this theory is not correct, as the pier is still in good condition. Therefore, it must be either that there was a fatal engineering miscalculation as to the weight that could be allowed to sway out over the river before completion, or that, the bridge being able to sustain itself, there was too great a weight placed at one of the crucial points of its structure, or that the mass of steel itself was deficient in quality, or that, combined with careless workmanship, resulted in letting the bridge down. The masonry is not injured.

Heard Rivets Creak.

A practical engineer gave it as his opinion yesterday morning that the real cause was the weakness of the superstructure between the anchor pier and the deep water pier. It was between these two stone abutments the iron work first lifted, due to the ponderous weight of that section, which extended nine hundred feet from the deep water pier over the river.

It was stated by some workmen that for some time past fear has been entertained by those engaged in the work that such a catastrophe would occur, for they considered that the extension from the deep water pier was too weighty to be supported by that section inside the pier, and the day before yesterday several of the men heard the rivets crack.

Some of them did not return to work Thursday through fear, but others thought this might be attributed to merely the settling down into position of the massive structure. However a minute examination will be conducted by engineers and the truth will be learned shortly.

The removal of thousands of tons of debris will involve several months.

Quebec, Aug. 31.—After a night of horror, a pall seemed spread yesterday over the city.

It is definitely known now that the number of dead is sixty-three. Of these eighteen are Americans, twenty-eight Indians and eighteen French-Canadians. There were nearly one hundred men at work when the bridge gave way.

Owing to the scene of the disaster being seven miles distant from the city, there was delay in getting relief gangs and medical men to the spot. All night long, however, by the light of bonfires along the shore, men labored to remove the injured. Weird cries for help could be heard from various sections of the debris, cries which unfortunately received no response, and they finally grew weaker and weaker until the victim met the same fate as his unfortunate comrades. But few bodies have been recovered. It is feared that many will be carried away by the current. The millions of pounds of twisted iron work also pin many corpses to the river bed.

The Scene at Dawn.

At daybreak yesterday morning the gruesome spectacle was revealed. Part of the iron work was visible above the water line, but the great mass of it had disappeared below. Soundings that were taken at 9 o'clock showed that the portion extending beyond the deep water pier rested in a depth of 30 feet of water. The channel in consequence is not in any way interfered with, and steamers are passing up and down the channel as usual.

The Phoenix Bridge Co., who were in charge of the superstructure, have stationed men at every point to prevent intrusion, and even newspaper correspondents and relatives of the dead are kept only by an impregnable line.

Immediately upon receipt of news Thursday night the Marine and Fisheries Department despatched the tug Hackett, with Capt. Noenig, bringing supplies of lanterns and paraphernalia to drag the river. The vessel cruised around the scene of the disaster for a considerable time giving all the assistance it could in the work of rescuing those that still survived.

Boats and tugs carried a heavy quota of human freight to the scene of the disaster yesterday. Charitable merchants despatched cots and clothing, but unfortunately they were not in demand, for but few survived, ten in all escaped. Undertakers wended their way with their gruesome load of coffins and these have been placed in uncanny rows along the shore waiting for the victims to be removed from the debris to be placed therein. The coroner had all the bodies recovered removed to Quebec last night and placed in the morgue to await the inquest, which will be opened on Monday next.

Fruit Cures Constipation

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Constipation because they are Fruit Juices in Tablet form.

Constipation means a disordered liver. When the liver is weak, bile is lacking. And it is the bile—which the liver excretes—that flows into the intestines and moves the bowels.

Fruit is the great liver tonic. It invigorates the liver and causes more bile to flow into the bowels.

Purgatives, powders and purging mineral waters, never reach the liver. They irritate the bowels and FORCE them to move. They generally do harm. They NEVER do any PERMANENT good.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices—in which the medicinal action is many times intensified by the wonderful change which takes place when the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are combined.

"Fruit-a-tives" have already proved a cure to many thousands of people in Canada.

"Fruit-a-tives" are free from calomel, cascara, senna and other bowel irritants. They are concentrated fruit juices with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics added.

"Fruit-a-tives" move the bowels regularly and easily every day — and thus cure Constipation.

50c. a box—6 boxes for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your druggist does not handle them.

MOORS ARE ATTACKING

Five Thousand Horsemen Advance on French Camp.

Artillery Begins Firing—Natives Engaged Are Fiercest of Disaffected Tribesmen — Sultan Barricades Himself—Will Make Morocco Pay Heavy Indemnity—Three Soldiers Killed and Twelve Wounded.

Paris, Aug. 31.—In a despatch from Casablanca, a correspondent of The Matin says:

At the moment of filing this despatch 5,000 horsemen are advancing on the camp of the French. The artillery has begun firing. These men are supposed to be from the camp at Herchion, and are the fiercest of all the tribesmen.

The Mediuna tribesmen camped at Tadert have opened a market for the disposal of booty. The other tribes encamped at Herchion have been restrained from attacking the French, up to the present time, by the Mediunas, who had received a letter from Mulai Hafig, telling them to follow this course. But now they are getting restive, and are accusing the Mediunas of being traitors in the pay of the French. The natives are convinced that Mulai Halg is coming to Casablanca to try and get an official mandate from the French Government to restore order, and that he will profit by the opportunity to establish himself on a firm basis and supplant Abdul Aziz, the Sultan of Record.

Paris, Aug. 31.—The correspondent at Fez, Aug. 26, declares that the Sultan Abdul Aziz tried to set out for Rabat but was forced to return by the hostility of the populace. He has barricaded himself in the palace at Fez.

Paris, Aug. 31.—The report that France intends to insist that Morocco shall pay the heavy expenses resulting from the French military and naval action in the latter country appears to be correct. The expenditure is increasing steadily with the enlargement of the activity of the French forces, and Germany, Great Britain and the other powers of Europe are understood to be in sympathy with France's attitude. It is also stated in well-informed official circles that the old powers intend to demand payments for the losses sustained by their subjects in Morocco. However, it is recognized that the existence of two Sultans of Morocco will render it a difficult matter to fix the responsibility for the payment of the expenses incurred.

The French cruiser Desaix, which is due to arrive at Tangier on Sunday, was sent there following an interview between the British ambassador here, Sir Francis Bertie and Premier Clemenceau Thursday, during which the ambassador pointed out the dangerous position of the Europeans at Tangier.

According to the latest advice from Casablanca, the French losses in the fighting near the camp Aug. 22, were three men killed and twelve wounded, the killed including a cavalryman of the Irregular Algerian force, who was decapitated, and whose head was carried off by the Moors.

The enemy's losses are believed to have been heavy.

Casablanca, Aug. 31.—During the fighting between the French and the Moors on Thursday near the French camp the Moors at first retreated, and it was believed that the engagement was over, when suddenly the enemy reappeared in great force in two directions. The Spahis and irregular Algerian cavalry found themselves almost surrounded, but formed a square, and slowly fell back until reinforcements came. In the meanwhile the French warships showered shells among the hills sheltering the enemy. The engagement lasted three hours. The line of battle extended over two miles, and it is estimated that about 12,000 Moors were engaged. The loss of the latter is not known, but it is believed to have been heavy, as French officers counted the bodies of twenty Moors in one roadway. The French loss was 15 killed and wounded.

The cruisers Gloire and Gueydon yesterday bombarded the beach beyond Casablanca, where a force of Moorish cavalry gathered, but was soon dispersed by the warships' fire.

Editors Caught Napping.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 31.—The Courier-Journal building, in which are located the plants of The Courier-Journal and Evening Times, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The structure was five storeys high and occupied half a block.

The editorial and reportorial forces of The Courier-Journal stuck to the building in the hope that the blaze would be subdued, and that they could issue a paper. They were caught napping with fire at all exits, and had to be taken out on ladders.

The damage on building and contents is estimated at $650,000; well insured.

Died In Sight of Home.

Brockville, Aug. 31.—After an absence of 36 years away from his old home, and traveling from Adair, Iowa, with his wife for the purpose of visiting with old friends at Dawson, a few miles from here, Edward McEvoy was taken suddenly ill in a hotel at Kemptville, six miles from his objective point on Thursday night, and died before morning.

Bishop Ingram Sails.

Liverpool, Aug. 31.—The Bishop of London, the Rev. Dr. A. F. W. Ingram, who will present to Old Bruton Parish Church, at Williamsburg, Virginia, the second oldest church in America, the Bible which King Edward has given it in connection with the Jamestown Exposition, sailed for Canada yesterday on the Allan Line steamer Victorian.

ELECTRIC CARS CRASH

Fifteen Dead and Fifty Injured in Head-On Collision.

Confusion of Orders Leads to Terrible Catastrophe Near Charleston—Car and Trailer Telescoped — Crowded With Passengers Going to Fair—Several of Those Hurt May Not Recover.

Matoon, Ills., Aug. 31.—Fifteen persons were killed and about fifty injured yesterday in a head-on collision between an inter-urban express train, consisting of a motor car and a traction car on the Matoon and Charleston electric car at a sharp curve, one mile west of Charleston, Ills. A confusion of orders received over the telephone is said to have been the cause of the accident.

The cars approached each other at high speed, and the impact was so terrific that the motor car and the trailer were telescoped by the traction car. Few passengers had time to escape by jumping. Most of the passengers were going to the fair at Charleston.

Matoon sent special cars to the wreck, and the dead and injured were brought to the morgue and the hospital. Several of the injured may die.

Doctors and citizens hurried from Charleston to the disaster, dragged dead and injured from the broken mass of timbers and seats, and gave first aid to the injured.

The dead were laid alongside the track. The victims could not be taken to Charleston because the track was blocked in that direction and the relief car from Matoon was derailed.

The line on which the disaster happened is twelve miles long, running between Matoon and Charleston, Ills., and has but a single track. Telephones are placed every two miles for orders to be transmitted to the cars passing over the road.

There were no Canadians among the dead or injured.

TO PROP UP ST. PAUL'S.

Architects Take Steps to Save Cathedral From Disaster.

London, Aug. 31.—The committee of architects, which was appointed to enquire into the condition of St. Paul's Cathedral, has issued a report, which declares that, while the cathedral is in no immediate danger, elaborate precautions are necessary to preserve it from disaster.

The cathedral has been sinking for two centuries, and the expert recommends that the condition of the subsoil and state of water level be periodically recorded, as there lie the chief possibilities of future danger.

It is added that attention should be given to all building operations in the neighborhood, or mischief of a serious nature may arise.

The committee recommends that a large amount of structural work required in repairing the fabric be proceeded with at once.

BREWERS BAR PREACHERS.

Refuse to Walk With Them In Labor Day Parade.

Lacrosse, Wis., Aug. 31.—The Ministers' Union, organized only a few weeks ago, and soon after affiliated with the Trades and Labor Assembly, the supreme labor body of Lacrosse, was officially cast out by that body and refused permission to march in the Labor Day parade.

This action was the result of complaints by the brewery workers, who claimed that the recent agitation against the saloons had resulted in an injury to the Brewery Workers' Union.

The city labor body took up the complaints and after a hearing decided that the crusade by the religious workers was to the harm of their fellow unionists and the official casting out followed.

ANOTHER GAS GUSHER.

Well Opened In Tilbury With Capacity of 10,000,000 Feet.

Chatham, Aug. 31.—The largest gas well ever struck in Tilbury East, twice the size of the well supplying Chatham, has been opened. The well is of 10,000,000 cubic feet capacity. It is on the Jackson farm and is operated by the Leamington Oil & Gas Co. of Leamington.

Gas was struck at 1,200 feet, when the tools were lost in the hole, including the whole length of rope cable. On account of this accident a most interesting phenomena is occurring. The gas flow from the hole is so strong that several hundred feet of cable flutter upright in the hole, fiercely fluttering like a flag in a windstorm.

Another Mineral Field.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 31.—It has been known for some time that native copper existed on Michipicoten Island, and not only native copper, but native silver also had been discovered on the island. The samples show native silver allied with native copper, not float, but samples taken from minerals in places knocked out with a pick. The analysis made shows the ore to run from 31-2 to 3 per cent. in native copper. The native silver and copper in the calcite shows for itself.

Province Won't Prosecute.

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Cases of infringement of the Lord's Day Act before the Police Court yesterday were remanded on account of a letter from Attorney-General Campbell withdrawing the consent of the Provincial Law Department from the prosecution.

The letter claimed the police commissioners were prosecuting the small restaurant dealers and allowed hotels to get off scot free.

No More Pilgrimages.

Rome, Aug. 31.—The Vatican has announced that all pilgrimages to Rome scheduled for the months of September and October are to be postponed on account of the present anti-clerical agitation in Italy.

Miss Mabel Myers, of Hamilton, aged 16, drank carbolic acid yesterday while despondent over a love affair. She may recover.

RICHARD MANSFIELD DEAD.

Last Curtain Has Fallen on Life of Famous Actor.

New London, Conn., Aug. 31.—Richard Mansfield, one of the best known actors on the American stage, died yesterday morning at his summer residence. Death was directly due to disease of the liver, aggravated by complications.

A few weeks ago he reached Montreal from England, and after a few days' rest was sent by his physicians to the Adirondacks, where it was at first stated that complete rest would bring return to health. Later, however, reports indicated the fatal character of his affliction.

During the great actor's last moments he was lying in a condition of coma, and did not recognize the loved ones at his bedside.

Richard Mansfield was born in Heligoland on May 24, 1858. His mother was Mme. Mansfield Rudersdorf, a famous prima donna, and it was from her that Mansfield inherited his love for the art. The actor studied at several schools on the continent, and at South Kensington, London.

He was an accomplished singer and musician and played in comic opera. Despite these facts he was unsuccessful for years, and it was not until he came to America that he made a real success.

SUSPECTED OF ARSON.

Arrest Follows Inquest on Recent Fires at Dovercourt.

Dovercourt, Aug. 31.—Following the fire inquest held by Provincial Inspector Rogers at Dovercourt yesterday into a number of incendiary fires in the neighborhood, Ross Palmeter, aged 25 years, who with his wife lives on Dovercourt road, was arrested last night by Constable Burns and County Constable Tomlinson, charged with arson.

Palmeter was taken on another street in the vicinity while unloading furniture and locked up in No. 1 police station, pending his removal to the jail.

It will be remembered that at the time of the several fires in Dovercourt the prisoner suffered the loss of a stable or large outbuilding.

The specific charge laid against Palmeter is that on Aug. 8 he set fire to an outhouse on Jameson's property.

The arrest was made on the advice of County Crown Attorney Monahan, after the evidence had been concluded yesterday.

KING QUITS SONG CAFE.

His Majesty's Protest Against Indelicate Performances at Marienbad.

Marienbad, Aug. 31.—King Edward has administered a rebuke to the singing of indelicate songs in places of public amusement, and his action, which was taken publicly, has created intense excitement in Marienbad.

His Majesty entered a cafe chantant Thursday night, and after listening to one or two items on the program he walked out as a protest against the scandalous nature of the performance. A Viennese company was playing.

His Majesty was followed by the Duke of Teck and the other members of his suite, and all the Englishmen and Americans present.

"This is horrible, appalling," said the King to a member of his entourage, and the accuracy of his description of the performance is admitted on every side.

JURY'S VERDICT MURDER.

Toronto Woman Performed Illegal Operation and Faces Charge.

Toronto, Aug. 31.—A coroner's jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against Mrs. Minnie Turner, who is accused of performing an illegal operation upon a girl named Rose Winters, which resulted in her death on Sunday last from septic poisoning.

A certificate of death had been given, and the funeral took place on Tuesday, but sinister rumors having reached the authorities the body was exhumed, and a post mortem revealed the true facts of the case.

Bertha Pearsall, an inmate of the maternity home conducted by Mrs. Turner, swore that she saw the operation performed.

The girl's sweetheart also gave evidence.

FATAL HOMESICKNESS.

Took Mutineer Back to Odessa Where He Was Hanged.

Odessa, Aug. 31.—Matushenko, the Russian non-commissioned officer, who led the mutiny on the battleship Kniaz Potemkine, and commanded that vessel on its sensational cruise about the Black Sea in 1905, was hanged Thursday at Sebastopol.

After abandoning the battleship at Kustendje, Roumania, Matushenko went to New York, where he worked for two years in an iron foundry. Homesickness led him last July to return to this city, where he was arrested.

WOMAN GOES TO TRIAL.

Mrs. Thomas to Face Charge of Manslaughter at Wiarton.

Walkerton, Aug. 31.—Agnes Thomas was yesterday committed for trial at the September assizes on a charge of manslaughter, arising from the shooting of Phillip Gilbert at Wiarton. It was announced that bail to the amount of $2,000 would be accepted. The assizes open Sept. 16, with Sir William Mulock presiding.

Vesuvius Getting Active.

Naples, Aug. 31.—Ominous rumblings are coming from Mount Vesuvius, and smoke is issuing from the crater. As a result the inhabitants of the villages surrounding the volcano are in a state of great alarm. These are the first signs of volcanic activity since the eruption of March, 1906.

Threw Dynamite In Lake.

Cobalt, Aug. 31.—While the fire engine was in practice a spark fell into a box containing dynamite, and set fire to some paper. Charles Carr of Milton, Carr & Son, threw the box into the lake, and as it struck the water it exploded. A boat house was wrecked and several boats damaged.

FALLS 2,000 FEET ON POST.

Man Drops From Sky In Middle of Field.

Barnstable, Mass., Aug. 31.—Nearly 5,000 persons at the annual Barnstable County Fair saw Prof. Maloney, a balloonist, drop 2,000 feet to the earth, strike on the top of a cedar fence post, and escape probably with his life.

A sharp easterly wind had blown the rope which connects with the knife amongst a mass of cords higher up and out of reach of the aeronaut.

For fully two miles Maloney floated along. The gas was rapidly leaking from the big bag above him and he prepared for the long drop. He and the balloon came earthward rapidly. As it neared the earth the canvass fell about his body and prevented him from seeing where he was falling. He struck on top of a big cedar post used by a farmer to mark off his field. Luckily he did not fall squarely, but struck in a half-standing position. His back was terribly torn and his left arm badly injured.

SELL BABES IN MARKET.

Parents Dispose of Four Months Twins for $40 Each.

London, Aug. 31.—A Rome despatch brings a story of an attempt to sell children in the market at Avellino. A peasant and his wife brought two of their children, twins, four months old, and in open market offered to sell them for $40 each.

The babies were plump and healthy and were bought by a man who offered the price required. He was taking the children away when the police stepped in and arrested both buyers and sellers.

Two Drowned In North.

Cobalt, Aug. 31.—Night Hawk Lake has claimed two victims. This is a treacherous lake, and northern New Ontario to-day is filled with prospectors who are not expert canoe men.

Last Sunday a double drowning accident is reported to have occurred, and two prospectors, named McCrae and Johnston, lost their lives. Johnston was a mechanical engineer about 50 years of age.

Conneaut, O., Aug. 31.—Jas. Monahan, a fireman on the steamer Joliet, was buried under tons of ore at Escanaba, where the boat loaded, although Monahan's absence from the boat was not known or any intimation of his death was had until his body was discovered by oreshovelers here Thursday.

Will Enjoy Trip Along Highway From Here to Cornwall

It is not often that a bridal couple take a driving tour of 160 miles, yet that is what a young couple are doing, who were married in St. John's church on Wednesday of this week, by Rev. Canon Davidson. The bridegroom's name is R. D. McCleverly, and he comes from Woodlands, near Cornwall in Stormont county. The bride was Miss Margaret M. Bredin, who arrived here from the West to meet her betrothed. After the nuptial knot was tied, Mr. and Mrs. McCleverly drove off on the long journey from Peterborough to Cornwall. They intended going by way of Perth. The bride is a former resident of Woodlands. The groom came this far west to meet her, having his horse and buggy brought up to Port Hope by boat. He drove from that town to Peterborough, and after getting married, started out for his home in the east, a happy and contented man.

A grand moonlight excursion was held last evening on the steamer Otonabee, under the auspices of Piccolo band No. 457 and Prentice Boys No. 7.

Shortly after eight o'clock, the boat left the Wolfe Street Wharf with a happy throng. After sailing about seven miles down the beautiful Otonabee, the return was commenced, the boat arriving at the wharf shortly after eleven o'clock. An orchestra furnished excellent music for dancing and this popular amusement was indulged in by all.

Messrs. W. Armstrong and F. Reynolds, who had charge of the outing, are to be congratulated on the success of the affair.

Peterborough Business College Begins Fall Term on Tuesday

Most Successful and Splendidly Conducted Institution Which Has Fitted Many Young Men and Women for the Battle of Life—Mr. Wm. Pringle Has Been Twelve Years in Charge.

The Peterborough Business College will open its doors for the fall term on Tuesday next, Sept. 3rd, and the prospects for a large attendance of pupils are exceptionally bright. The work of this widely known and splendidly conducted institution has established for it a firm place in the confidence and esteem of the public. Of the thoroughness of the teaching and the value of the instruction imparted in bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, typewriting, shorthand, penmanship, and many other subjects, little need be said. The work done in all the departments abundantly speaks for itself and has been proved, beyond peradventure—in fact is daily being demonstrated by the hundreds of young men and young women, who are now enjoying good positions in this and many other cities.

The signal success of the college is in a large measure due to the careful, progressive and wise direction of Mr. Wm. Pringle, the energetic principal of the school. It was just twelve years ago last May when Mr. Pringle acquired possession. The school had then an enrollment of only twelve pupils, but so admirable has been its management and work, that during the past term, the daily attendance had grown to 125. These figures tell eloquent tale of the expansion and development of the college.

It usually requires about four to five months to complete the bookkeeping course, and from five to six months the shorthand and typewriting course. In connection with the college, evening classes are conducted and will begin in a few days. Three sessions are held each week, on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock. The night school will start on the 13th of September.

Mr. Pringle has surrounded himself with an excellent staff of instructors, who have the best interests of the pupils at heart. Individual instruction is given in all departments and as a result rapid progress is made.

The college, which is located at the corner of Water and Hunter streets, has splendidly fitted up rooms which are thoroughly equipped and modern in every respect.

The night school, it might be pointed out, affords an exceptional opportunity for those engaged during the day, to improve their education, and the fees charged for instruction, are only nominal. There is no better investment that a young man or woman can make than by taking a course either in the day or night schools of the Peterborough Business College.

How Labor Day Will be Observed By Citizens of Peterborough

There Will be a Matinee by Turf Club at the Driving Park—Independent Foresters Will Hold Excursion Down River—Many Persons Will Go up the Lakes And Others to Toronto Exhibition.

Monday next will be Labor Day. It will be observed all over the Dominion as a holiday with the exception of a few, every class of labor refrains from work on the first Monday in September, and in a great many towns and cities Trades and Labor Unions hold parades and celebrations.

Peterborough will not have any celebration and for those intending to spend the day in the city, they will have a quiet time.

The only event for those remaining in town is the grand matinee under the auspices of the Peterborough Turf Club at the Driving Park at two o'clock. Two good events will be run off. There will be a race for the 2.40 class for a purse of fifty dollars, and there will also be a free-for-all for a purse of one hundred dollars. No doubt there will be a large number of entries in each.

In all probability, if the weather is favorable, there will be the usual number of small picnic parties at Jackson Park or to some pleasant spot down the river. The greater number of people will spend the day out of the city. The Toronto exhibition will be a great drawing card. As has been the custom in past years, many spend the holiday by taking in the National Fair.

Monday being the last holiday of the beautiful summer months, it will be a grand opportunity for those having cottages at the lakes, to spend the remaining days of the season at this resort, and many will likely go up for the week end.

Chemong Park is always a great centre for holiday makers, and many will likely go there for the day.

EXCURSIONS.

What will take the members of Court Chemong, No. 530, I. O. F. and their friends and families on Monday will be the annual excursion to Idyl Wyld on the steamer Otonabee. This will be a good outing and a record crowd is expected. The committee is going to make the event one of great pleasure for all and a good time is assured. The opera house orchestra will accompany the excursionists and this is sufficient guarantee that there will be excellent music. At Idyl Wyld a list of sports will be run off, for which valuable prizes will be given.

The boat will leave Wolfe street wharf at eight o'clock, the street railway wharf, at 8.30, and will call at Crawford's Grove.

The steamer Water Lily will run a special Labor Day trip, calling at all Rice Lake points. It leaves Wolfe Street wharf at nine o'clock. This trip will afford an opportunity for those who have not visited Rice Lake to do so.

PORT HOPE HAS STRONG LINE UP

Port Hope and Peterborough meet at Riverside park this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Crawfordites arrived just before noon and the team are accompanied by a big crowd of rooters. How the Port Hopers will line up could not be learned, but it is understood that they have several imports. A great contest is assured and a monster crowd will be in attendance.

Young Man Faced Serious Charge

John R. Dundas Alleged to Have Forged a Cheque

John R. Dundas of this city, faced a serious charge in the police court this morning before Magistrate Dumble. It is alleged that he forged the name of Ald. W. J. Johnston, contractor, to a cheque of fifteen dollars made payable to him (Dundas). He pleaded not guilty and was remanded until next Wednesday morning. Bail was fixed at $500, but Dundas was unable to get sureties so he will have to remain in gaol.

Dundas has been working for Ald. Johnston.

Foresters Enjoyed Social Evening

A delightful "At Home" was that which was held last evening in the Forester's Hall, Simcoe street, by the combined courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters, Court Langton, Court Littlejohn and Court Peterborough. A very enjoyable evening was spent and an interesting programme given. The affair was arranged by District Organizer Joseph Halpany, and he deserves great credit for the happy manner in which everything was carried out. The programme was a choice one, and during intermission, refreshments were served. The attendance of the members and their wives and friends was large, and to bring them them together a social gathering of this kind was the chief object of the society.

Mr. Joseph Batten occupied the chair and in a few opening remarks expressed pleasure at seeing such a large number present. He referred to the society as a grand benevolent one and the right thing for all young men to join.

The following is the programme:

Selection—C.O.F. orchestra, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Halpany and Masters Frank and Karl Halpany.
Violin Solo—Masurka, F. Halpany.
Song—Miss Lancaster.
Selection—C. O. F. orchestra.
Song—Karl Halpany.
Recitation—Frank Halpany.
Selection—C. O. F. orchestra.
Address—Dr. Morgan.

During intermission cake and ice cream was served.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

During the evening, short addresses were made by the District Organizer, Mr. Jos. Halpany, and Dr. W. T. Holloway. They referred to the progress the society had made during the past few years. It was now one of the most flourishing benevolent societies existing.

Mr. Chambers also sang the "Veteran" song very acceptably.

PLUM CROP A HEAVY ONE

Large Quantities on the Market To-day—Were in Great Demand

Today's market was the largest for some weeks. The farmers found a ready demand for their goods and good prices were realized. Fowl, particularly chickens, were in large quantities. They brought from 50c, to 75 cents per pair. Ducks sold at $1 per pair. Butter took a jump and 25 cents per pound was the prevailing quotation.

Eggs went at 18c per dozen. The thing that seemed to have a ready sale was the plums offered this morning. Judging from the large quantities, the plum crop is a good one The blue ones were the kind offered. They sold at 8, 9 and 10 cents per quart, but mostly at three quarts for 25c. Potatoes went at $1 per bag and the other market vegetables brought the usual prices.

Ocean Liners Leaving Old Country Are All Crowded

So great is the emigration from the British Isles to Canada at the present time that a person coming across the pond has to book passage on the ocean liners three or four weeks before sailing.

This is the interesting statement made by Mr. Harry Pearson, formerly stage manager at the Grand Opera House, who has just returned to Peterborough after spending several weeks at his home in England. Mr. Pearson arrived here Wednesday night but intends leaving for the west in a few days. He had a most enjoyable time on his trip to his native isle and while he found everything prospering around his old home in Lincolnshire, he realizes that there are greater opportunities in Canada for a man with ambition.

Mr. Pearson spent the majority of his time in Lincolnshire and Yorkshire, his home being in that district. In these counties are located the great cotton mills of England, where thousands of men are employed. The mills are unusually active at the present time and the employees are being better paid and treated than was the case some time ago. However, workingmen from all over England continue to flock to America and particularly Canada.

Every boat coming over is crowded and it is necessary to book passage several weeks ahead. Mr. Pearson met one man who had to wait six weeks before being able to secure second cabin passage. The Allan liner Sicilian, upon which Mr. Pearson came over, was crowded with passengers. Ocean passenger traffic is particularly heavy at the present time owing to many Americans and Canadians, who have been summering abroad, returning home at this season of the year.

The summer months in England have been very wet and somewhat cold.

On the return trip Mr. Pearson sailed from Glasgow and the voyage over was made in fast time.

Froze to Death in the Klondyke; Awful Experience of One Man

Found Several Months Afterwards—A Diary in His Hand Told the Tale—Was a Trapper in the Far North—Two Dogs His Only Companions—His Last Christmas Day.

(By W. H. Fisher.)

The terrible fate of a young Montreal man in the wilds of the Yukon, and the story of his affectionate dogs is told in the following true narrative.

Mr. Jack London and others have written stories of the North-land that have been very much appreciated and more especially so as the main facts in most of the tales published about that country are true with a little flowering put in to make the story presentable. We have also read of the terrible trials of Hubbard and his associates in the wilds of Northern Labrador and we wonder how human beings could possibly stand such terrible experiences. However of all these stories published I don't think any of them compares with the fate of Jack Clarey for a real fight for life.

In June, 1901, I arrived in Dawson with a good catch of fur composed of marten, mink, beaver, otter, and the pelts of other fur bearing animals. The upper waters of the Stewart river about 450 miles east of Dawson and right in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, was where I made this successful haul, and naturally I was congratulated by my friends and acquaintances on my safe return to civilization and also on my good luck in making such a splendid catch. Among my acquaintances who visited me at my cabin on the banks of the Klondyke after my arrival, was a young man from Montreal by the name of Jack Clarey who had spent the previous winter hunting moose and cariboo far up the Klondyke river. Jack, like a good many others, was of the opinion that it was far easier to make money out of the game of the country than it was to sink hole after hole, thirty feet to bed rock through frozen ground, with only one chance in a thousand of finding anything. So Jack killed his moose and cariboo up the Klondyke River and employed Indians with their dog teams to haul the meat to town where it sold readily at fifty cents per pound by the carcass. In this way Jack had managed to make a little money but the work was hard and he was never sure whether he could get Indians or not to haul his killing to Dawson, so when he came to my cabin he was very much interested in my account of the way in which I trapped the different animals and decided right on the spot to take a turn at trapping during the coming winter.

Now Jack Clarey was an athelte in the true sense of the word. He was not a trained athlete, a man who could do a world braking stunt at one particular hobby and then go all to pieces if he was asked to walk ten miles. Jack was a born athlete with all his nerves, muscles and mental faculties working in unison; consequently hardships that some of us would not dare to face, would be undertaken by Jack as lightly as if he was going to play a game of football. Nearly everything appealed to him as sport. He was a true friend, a jovial companion and every inch a gentleman, and I am sure there was no young man who left Montreal in the spring of '98 who was better fitted to stand the trials of the Yukon than he was, and I don't think any of us could compare our chances of success with his.

In less than two weeks after he had decided to go traping, he had all his kit together which consisted of supplies for one year, i.e., flour, beans, bacon, sugar, rolled oats and a few smaller articles in the grub line. He had about six dozen No. 0 traps for catching marten and mink, one large and one small axe, and a few tools necessary to build dead-falls. In addition he had two pairs of heavy blankets and a canoe, his whole outfit weighing about 400 pounds, not counting his canoe.

He left Dawson about the middle of June 1901 in one of the White Pass Company's steamers for Fort Selkirk accompanied only by his two faithful dogs, Shep and Rowdy, one a collie and the other a good sized spaniel.

Jack Clarey was no different from a good many old timers in the country; experience had taught him as well as others that when a man undertook a perilous expedition where unknown hardships are to be met with, it is far better to be alone than to have a partner, for it is the exception for two men to live together for a year away from all communication with mankind, without having some little spat when things are not going smoothly, and sometimes these little spats have very serious results, so Jack preferred to be alone.

In due time the steamer landed him and his outfit at Fort Selkirk and after reporting to the Northwest Mounted Police who have a post there, he started on his perilous trip alone up the Pelly river.

His destination was the Pelly Flats about 350 miles up the river, and many a hard day's work he had working his canoe around some of the Cascades and portaging over the rapids before he arrived where he intended camping for the winter. He arrived at the mouth of the McMillan river early in July. This river empties into the Pelly about 100 miles from the mouth of the latter and is called by some the North Fork of the Pelly. Jack proceeded up the South Ford or main stream about 150 miles further and arrived at Hoole Canyon on the 20 th July. Here a long portage had to be made and it took him fully a week to get his supplies and canoe over. Above Hoole Canyon the river is sluggish, and it did not take him very long to cover the balance of his trip into the interior.

About the middle of August he selected a nice spot well wooded, about 100 miles above Hoole Canyon, at the junction of a small creek and the main river. This particular part of the country is known as the Pelly Flats and is considered now to be about the best fur producing country in all the great watershed of the mighty Yukon River. Around him in all directions were high mountain peaks of the Rockies, perpetually covered with snow, but in the valley in which he was, the weather was delightfully warm, for the sun still shone eighteen hours out of the twenty-four. In June, July and August in these northern valleys the climate is probably the most delightful of any part of the globe, and almost continuous daylight, for the sun shines at least seven-eighths of the time during these months.

Gay was the heart of Jack and happy were his two faithful companions, Shep and Rowdy, as they watched him fall the trees to make their winter home. Shep and Rowdy were not working dogs, they were brought up there by their master as companions and Jack would talk to them from time to time as if they were human beings. About the first of September, the home was all completed, the spaces between the logs were carefully chinked with moss, a straight grain piece of spruce had been selected, split and hewn into boards to make a door, a table and a shelf, a hole had been cut out in the side of the building about eighteen inches long and twelve inches high and carefully covered with a fine piece of flour sack which served the purpose of a window. The foundation logs outside had been carefully banked up with earth all around, to keep out the frost. For a floor there were no logs or boards, but simply the earth carefully levelled off and covered with chips and shavings; this is probably the warmest floor one can have in a very cold country, as there is no chance for draughts. A small sheet iron stove that he had brought with him was set up, a bed was made in one corner, a ventilator had been cut out in the roof and everything was ready for the coldest weather in the northern latitudes.

Jack's next move was to make a careful inspection of the surrounding country with the intention of selecting the best possible direction for laying out his trap-line. After having decided on a certain direction he blazed a trail for about five miles in as straight a line as possible from his cabin, then he blazed a trail for about five miles in exactly the opposite direction, that would give him ten miles of a trap-line with his cabin in the centre. The idea of a straight line is this, the marten generally travel across the valleys from one range of mountains to the other and by having a straight line you are actually covering more ground than you could possibly do by laying out your line in a circuit. The preliminary work of blazing a trail being completed, the real work begins which consists of cutting out the trail and setting the traps in place. It is considered a good day's work to cut out a trail and place traps for one mile. Brush pens have to be made for the steel traps to keep the snow from covering them up. Dead-falls are made by cutting down two small trees about four inches in diameter at the butt. They must be perfectly straight, carefully trimmed and about twelve feet in length and it requires a lot of care to place them in position to work successfully. There are about five steel traps and five dead-falls laid to a mile. It took Jack about two weeks of very hard work to finish his trap line.

It was now about the middle of September and a little too early to lay in his winter's supply of moose meat for after the moose is killed the meat must be frozen and kept in that condition all winter, so Jack spent about two weeks around his cabin cutting firewood and doing other odd jobs necessary for his winter's comfort.

About the first of October he killed two full grown bull moose and one yearling, and had all the meat carefully piled in a cache or porch in front of his cabin. The two large moose were cut in quarters and their hides left on, but the yearling he skinned, as he required the hide to make gut to repair his snowshoes during the winter, and some of it to make moccasins; in fact a moose hide is a very necessary thing to have to complete a winter's outfit.

The winter weather had now set in and consequently the trapping season was on, so Jack started out and set and baited all his traps and dead-falls. He would cover five miles in one direction one day and cover the five miles in the opposite direction the next, and stay home the third day to take the pelts off his catch and stretch them. Sunday was his day for baking bread and keeping his woodpile up to the standard, and taking things all in all, Jack Clarey was a very busy young man.

Jack was not only a good worker but those who knew him best knew him to be very methodical. He always kept a diary of his actions from day to day and it is from that same diary that this little story is written.

Jack covered his trap lines every Monday and Tuesday and Thursday and Friday accompanied by his dogs and was meeting with splendid success. I am sorry I cannot give you the exact wording of his diary as I have not got it with me at present but I shall try to relate it as near as possible from memory.

December 10th was a bitter cold day. Jack had nearly reached the turning point on his trail when he found that a wolverine had sprung one of his steel traps and got away with the trap and the stick it had been fastened to. It was yet quite light so he started to follow the wolverine's trail with the hope of overtaking and killing it. The track led across a small lake and it was here where the tragedy began. The lake was all covered with snow and Jack noticed there was water on the ice beneath the snow though he did not take much notice of it, as it did not appear to be enough to wet his feet. Suddenly, without a moment's warning, the ice gave way and poor Jack was nearly to his knees in water. He got out as quickly as possible, but not before he felt the cold water penetrate his stockings and moccasins, by the cold chilly feel of the water on his legs and feet. His first thought was to get to shore as quickly as possible and build a fire in the bush and try and dry his stockings, but on arriving on shore darkness had set in and he was a long way from his own trail. The cold at the time did not bother him very much and he thought by walking briskly he would keep up enough circulation to keep him from freezing. So he changed his first intention and started for home as quickly as possible. He had gone far before his legs and feet were encased in a solid mass of ice and the pain from the cold began to get unbearable. He kept up the weary march for home however, and in a short time the pain gave way to a feeling of numbness. Jack knew then that the frost had taken hold but it was too late then to stop and try to light a fire; besides he was nearing home, which he reached about fifteen minutes after the numbness set in. It did not take him long to get a fire going for he had everything ready, but it was a very different job when it came to taking off his moccasins and stockings. The moccasins he cut off, but the stockings were frozen tight to the skin and could not be taken off without taking the skin and part of the flesh with them. So he put his feet in the oven and waited for the ice to melt before he could get his stockings off. He then got a pail of cold water and put his feet in it, hoping in this way to be able to draw all the frost out. He kept his feet in the cold water for hours, so long in fact that he was quite sure all the frost had been taken out. The frost had penetrated into the bone, however, and nothing could possibly save him from a lingering death except amputation. For ten days Jack dressed his wounded feet as best he could and, although the pain was almost unbearable, he was still under the impression that there was no frost in them. He was still able to get up and light the fire and do a little cooking.

On the 20th of December he writes "The flesh is beginning to come off the sole of the left foot; it looks very bad, and I may lose the foot, but I think the right foot will get well."

Dec. 22nd; "The bone of my left foot is all exposed and I know for certain that the frost has entered the bone. I am afraid it is going to be a serious matter with me. Oh how I wish I had some one here to help me amputate the foot. There must be some Indians in this part of the country."

Dec. 23rd; "The bone of the heel has dropped out and I have a terrible fear that death is slowly but surely approaching. Both my dogs seem to realize what is the matter with me for they come to my cot and whine most pitifully. Rowdy can almost talk to me. I ask him to go and get help and he runs outside and barks, he comes in again, and it actually looks as if he was trying to tell me there was none in sight."

Dec 24th; "I have not had a fire going for three days, it is extremely cold and my cooked food is all exhausted. The left foot is now all gone and the right one is beginning to show all the symptoms of going the same way. I find that I am getting very weak and occasionally have severe sharp pains in the region of the heart; I am afraid it is all up with Jack Clarey!"

Christmas Day; "Was there ever an individual put in a Christmas Day such as I did! I think not. I awoke in the morning, or rather, I came to my senses, for I don't know whether I had been asleep or in a state of unconsciousness. For a long time before I came to my senses I thought I was listening to beautiful music, and I fancied I could hear an organ playing distinctly; it must have been my poor dogs whining. I did something today that I did not think it possible to do; I got up and lit a fire and cooked myself a pot of moose meat. I also melted some snow for I was completely out of water. Rowdy and Shep were at my side all the time. Nobody can ever realize how faithful and loving these poor dumb creatures are. I again asked Rowdy to go for help and the poor brute races through the door and back again, barking wildly. He repeated this three or four times and then Shep joined him; together they rushed out of the door and started off down the river running like mad and yelping like wild creatures."

Christmas Night; "My dogs haven't come back, and now I am all alone, alone and dying. I have been thinking of the dear ones at home, and wondering how they were enjoying their Christmas evening. I have had a good cry, the first for many years. I have said my prayers and asked God to send me help; I believe He will."

Dec. 26th; "My dogs have not come back. I am not suffering much pain but have a terrible presentment of approaching death."

Dec 27th "Dogs not yet come back. The flesh is falling off my left leg very rapidly and my right foot is nearly all gone."

Dec 28th, 29th, and 30th he tells of the non-arrival of his dogs and he thinks they have deserted him.

Dec. 31st; "I have cut away a large quantity of decomposed flesh from my left leg and the operation has left me in terrible pain. I have had several fainting spells lately and the end is near. My rifle is lying alongside of me loaded, and I have seriously thought of putting an end to my pain, but no, it is only a coward who would do such a thing."

Jan. 1st; "The snow water that I melted on Christmas Day, and the meat I cooked is all gone, and I expect this day will see an end to my sufferings. What's that! I hear barking, oh! it cannot be; yes, it is, thank God, thank God, relief is at hand. My dogs came bounding into the cabin and began licking my hands and face and it was some time before I could get them to leave me alone. I listened for hours for the sound of human voices, but none could I hear."

Jan 2nd; "All I have got to eat now is raw oat meal, and nothing to drink. Will help never come! My dogs have plenty of meat in the cache and if anyone comes here and finds them, I want them to be good to them, especially Rowdy. I brought him with me from Montreal. Good-bye all."

Jan 3rd; "I did not expect to see another day. I am suffering terribly from thirst. There is some frost on the moss with which my cabin is chinked and I can just reach enough to moisten my parched lips. I have now given up all hope. Good-bye."

Jan. 4th; "The Lord has added another day to my sufferings. My tongue is terribly swollen. I have pulled the moss out from between the logs of my cabin and a little snow is drifting in."

Jan. 5th; "My tongue has swollen so I can hardly close my mouth. My God, why hast Thou forsaken me!"

Jan. 6th; "Good-bye," Jan. 7th; "Good'-bye." Jan. 8th; "Good-bye." Jan. 9th; "Good'-bye."

About the end of May 1902 two men arrived at Selkirk from the Upper Pelly and as usual reported to the Mounted Police. They had camped during the winter just below Hoole Canyon. The Police enquired of them if they had seen anything of Clarey. They said no, they did not know anyone was up in that part of the country besides themselves. Shortly after the arrival of the two men Cleary's two dogs arrived at the Post and the Police immediately realized that something was wrong. The two men were again interrogated and they immediately recognized the two dogs.

These men told the Police that the two dogs came to their cabin about the end of December and whined pitifully outside their door. They thought the dogs were lost and had gone wild, and they tried their best to coax them with meat into their cabin, but could not get near them. When the men would try to catch the dogs, the two dogs would start running up the trail in the most delighted manner possible. The men would follow them for a short distance, but just as soon as the men turned back the dogs would sit in the trail and again begin whining. This performance was repeated several times, but the men were still under the impression that the dogs were wild and hungry.

Whenever the North West Mounted Police think a human life is at stake, they don't take long to act, and the very next day two policemen were on their way up the Pelly in a steam launch. Arriving at Hoole Canyon they could not go any further with their launch, so they portaged their canoe past the Canyon and proceeded one hundred miles further up the river to Pelly Flats. There they found poor Clarey's cabin, and inside they found the badly decomposed body in a reclining position on his little cot. His diary was in one hand and pencil in another and his gun was on the floor several feet away. They dug a grave, wrapped him in his blanket and laid him to rest.

They placed a small piece of board at the head of the grave, with this inscription; "Jack Clarey, died January 10th, 1902, age, 27, Buried by the N.W.M.P."

All they took from his cabin was his gun and diary.

The above account of this young man's sad death, and the story of his faithful dogs, is true in every respect, except for the change of name. I am sorry I have had to use an assumed name, but a member of his own family has asked me to kindly keep the nature of his death from his nearest relatives, while giving me permission to write and publish an account of the tragedy, providing I did as I have done—used an assumed name.

LABOR DAY

Monday next Sept. 2, will be Labor Day.

It is a day set apart many years ago, by the Federal Government in recognition of the importance and welfare of labor, and the great labor interests. In Peterborough there will be no celebration, the majority of the people observing it, as a holiday, but in the larger centres of population there will be trade processions and sports, while speeches on behalf of the cause of the man who earns his daily bread by sweat of brow, or worry of brain, will be delivered.

The cause of labor is making strides In Canada there have possibly been fewer strikes than last year. The trend of all legislation is to prevent them and make arbitration compulsory. Strikes, while they may accomplish the end desired, are rarely if ever, satisfactory to both parties. There is always more or less, the feeling of resentment left, the watching out for the other fellow, and the desire to get him on the hip. With arbitration, grievances are more thoroughly aired, the inquiry into conditions is searching and many facts are clearly brought out, which may have an important bearing on the situation and materially assist in the adjustment, which strikes, with their attendant excitement, interruption and trouble, may result in concealing.

Labor has made great progress in the amelioration of irksome conditions and galling regulations and today the lot of the average mechanic and laborer is comparatively happy. Wages are good—as high as they ever have been or will possibly go—and work has been plentiful. The times have been prosperous for almost a decade, with hours of toil shortening and remuneration lengthening. In Peterborough all kinds of labor have been well employed and all local industries or mercantile establishments, busy. There have been only one or two small strikes and the relations between employer and employee, are in the main, fairly cordial.

But has the summit been reached! Has the wave of prosperity reached its crest? That is the question that is causing men mental agitation and predictions differ. Many profess to believe that depression will set in almost immediately and continue for a period of seven or eight years

Others, who claim to be able to read the signs aright, maintain that there are now only a few flurries on the surface, that the stringency of the money market is only temporary and to a certain extent arbitrary, and that conditions will never be as bad as they once were. They cannot conceive of such a state of affairs; they cannot picture it, as the horn of plenty has poured forth so long. But the distant rumbling in the foreign world, the failures of certain large manufacturing concerns across the border, the inability of great civic corporations to realize anything like a decent price in the sale of their bonds, the watchful attitude of the banks, their unwillingness and perhaps inability to loan money in any large sums even on gilt edge security, and the fact, that, notwithstanding glowing and roseate predictions, the crops from one end of Canada to the other, will this year, on the whole amount to only sixty per cent. of last year—all these are unerring evidences that we are passing through a dangerous period, a time of great anxiety and stress, and that there may be breakers ahead. It is not well to be too optimistic. Both classes of individuals, we will always have, but better is he who takes a calm, dispassionate view of the situation, who is conservative in his tendencies and observant of the true condition of things. Sizing up the situation generally, the average man comes to the conclusion that so far as his personal expenditure is concerned this is a fairly good time to slow up, to get his bearings and to place his house in order. The proverbial "rainy day" may be safely passed in Canada, and all sincerely hope that it will, but no one can deny that the skies just now are leaden and the distant peals of financial thunder re-echoing from across the border and out from the distant west as well as from the borders of our great cities are sounding warning notes.

Trades Council Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Trades and Labor Council will be held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 3rd, for the purpose of selecting a delegate to attend the session of the Dominion Trades and Labor Council in Winnipeg. This promises to be the most successful labor gathering in the history of Canada, and reports state that the delegation from British Columbia will be a very large one, as the Japanese question promises to be a subject that will provide considerable discussion. In a communication received by the local Trades and Labor Council, the necessity of sending a good man to Winnipeg was strongly emphasized, as there promises to be a strong revival of unionism throughout the country during the coming season.

No Apprentices for Barber Business in Peterborough

Wages are Small and Hours are Too Long—Master Barbers Make Little Money—Should Have 15c for Shave and 25c for Hair Cut—Extras Pay Well.

Do barbers in Peterborough make fortunes?

When asked how far the element of profit enters into their business the vast majority of tonsorial artists will say that there is no bed of roses for the man who wants to become a millionaire by shaving and cutting hair. So far as can be ascertained there are few men who have retired with fortunes after conducting a barbering business for a lifetime, and that is given as one reason why a barber never returns to his trade after he has felt the exhilarating effect of making money in other avenues of activity.

ONE EMPLOYER'S VIEW.

"There is not much in shaving at 10 cents and hair cutting at 20 cents," said one prominent Peterborough barber, when asked how the business paid, "and if we charge any more for shaves, we are only cutting off our noses to spite our faces, because our customers would begin to shave themselves rather than pay the increased price. With the wages we are paying to-day there are a large number of journeymen barbers who take in very little more than they are paid in wages. I can cite the case of a man who took 35 minutes to shave a man. At that pace he would take in about eighteen cents an hour, and use two towels that would cost a cent to laundry."

PROFITS IN EXTRAS.

The largest profit is by no means made out of shaves and hair cuts. The barber looks to the extras for the necessary capital to keep the enterprise going, and the best journeyman in the eyes of his employer is the man who can induce the customer to take these extras. In some shops about 75 per cent. of customers call for extras of one kind or another, but in the other shops only about 15 per cent. ever think of asking for a shampoo, massage or hair tonic. It is chiefly the transient trade that demands special attention, for which payment is not begrudged.

WHAT THE MEN MAKE.

With price of shaves raised to 15 cents and haircuts to 25 cents, the majority of barbers claim that they could get along nicely and could afford to pay their men better wages. At the present time the average wage of journeymen barbers ranges from $10 to $12 for a 67-hour week. The working hours are from 8 a.m. during five days of the week and from 8 a.m. till 12 p.m. on Saturdays

An employing barber who runs a four-chair shop with a full complement of mirrors and other necessary equipment must invest at least $1,000. To occupy a good stand on a business street he must pay from $25 to $30 a month rent, pay $39 a week in wages, $12 a quarter for gas to supply light and heat, and keep a good supply of clean towels always on hand. In addition to these expenses he must keep a variety of hair tonics in stock, none of which cost less than $1.25 per gallon bottle. To meet these expenses each man must have at least twenty shaves or ten haircuts a day before the wage bill has been met. Allowing fifteen minutes for each shave, it takes at least five hours' steady employment to do this. Some barbers claim that they would just as soon cut hair as shave because they can turn out as many customers for one service as the other and get double the money for their work. All barbers, however, prefer the shampoo, hair treatment, singing and massaging for money-making, and if they can get enough of it there would be little anxiety in financing their business.

FEW GOING INTO THE TRADE.

A journeyman barber does not require an extensive tool chest when he starts out in his trade. He requires three or four razors, clippers, brush and comb, all of which do not cost more than $15. These he can pack away in a small hand grip and suffer no inconvenience in carrying them around. In these days, however, there are few young men apprenticed to the trade in the shops of Peterborough. Shorter hours and higher wages in other occupations are driving young men away from the business, and the fact that few employers are making much money also discourages the majority of ambitious journeymen.

Ontario Municipal Association Passed Many Important Motions

Mr. S. R. Armstrong Introduced a Resolution to Provide for Aldermen Being Elected for Two Year Term—Excellent Addresses Delivered to the Delegates.

The annual session of the Ontario Municipal Association this year was very successful, and if the Ontario Legislature and Dominion Parliament are guided by the advice of the representatives, some very important legislation will be passed at the next sessions. The convention was held, as usual, in Toronto, and the members were busy all the time, except Wednesday night, when they were guests at the National Exhibition. There was a very large attendance, and the municipalities of the province were more generally represented than in past years. The influence of the Association is rapidly increasing, and the smaller municipalities are realizing the advantages of belonging to the Association. Mr. S. R. Armstrong, City Clerk, was a delegate from the Peterborough Council, and he was again elected to a position on the executive committee. Mr. Armstrong is one of the best posted, all-round municipal men who attends the convention, and his ideas are valued by the other members.

Several excellent addresses were delivered during the convention, among which were those by:—

Mr. J. H. Fryne, of Galt, president of the Western Ontario Power Association, on "The present position of the electric power question."

Dr. Wickett, of Toronto, on "Municipal Statistics and Debentures."

Mr. A. F. Falls, chartered accountant, of Chatham, on "Combining the assessment roll and collector's roll into one book."

RESOLUTIONS.

The following are some resolutions which were passed by the Ontario Municipal Association after the Committee on Resolutions reported;—

That the Conmee Act be repealed, and that power be given to municipalities to buy, or, if necessary, expropriate on equitable terms any existing lighting or water plant.

That the Municipal Act be amended so as to exempt municipal corporations from civil liability for non-repair of highways.

That legislation be sought by this Association at the next meeting of the Ontario Legislature enabling municipal councils of cities to open or extend streets on the local improvement plan, upon such terms as an assessment therefor of the property benefitted as may seem proper, notwithstanding petitions against the same, upon a two-third vote of the members of the council.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, City Clerk of Peterborough, introduced and had carried the following resolutions;—That the Legislature be sought to provide that the members of councils in cities may be elected for two years, one half retiring each year.

This scheme has been advocated for some time by several members of the Peterborough Council. It is claimed that the aldermen by a longer term could do much more satisfactory work, and that it would also be an incentive to better men to take part in municipal government.

That the legislation be sought to add a sub-section to section 106 of the Municipal Act to provide that, in case a poll clerk signifies to the returning officer in writing, that he will not act as poll clerk, or, if he neglects to attend at the polling place to perform his duties of poll clerk, the clerk of the municipality as returning officer shall appoint another in his place and stead, and that the person so appointed shall have all the powers and authority which he would have had if he had been appointed by bylaw.

Moved by Messrs. J. J. Fryre, of Galt, and Mayor Coatsworth, Toronto, that the Dominion Parliament and Ontario Legislature be asked to pass legislation to the effect that no individual, partnership or corporation, now or herafter incorporated, shall have power to place poles, wires, rails, pipes or conduits, over, upon or under the highways of any municipality in the Province of Ontario, without the consent of the council of such municipality.

That the Dominion Parliament be asked to pass an act requiring the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, or any other company having poles or wires on the streets, in such cities and towns within the Province of Ontario, in which such company have, in the opinion of the councils of such cities and towns constructed a line or lines of poles and wires, which have become highly objectionable, to remove such poles and wires from such street or streets, and place them in either underground conduits or upon such other streets and lanes as the councils of such cities and towns shall direct, doing no unnecessary damage to the said company, at the company's expense.

By Ald. Cooper, of London, that, in view of the apparent carelessness, and irregular manner in which new buildings are being erected, and alterations and additions are being made to existing buildings, that it be advisable that all cities and towns in Ontario having a population of 10,000 or over, should insist upon plans and specifications being first submitted to their municipal authorities before permission is given to build, and that the executive committee enquire into the legal authority of municipal councils to compel the removal of dangerous buildings, and apply for further legislation, if necessary.

That the Ontario Legislature be requested to amend the Liquor License Act, making it contrary to said act for the holder of a shop license in one municipality to establish an agency in, or have an agent in another municipality canvass for or receive orders for intoxicating liquors.

That the Legislature be asked to provide for the operation of Sunday street cars in any municipality where a vote of the people is taken on the subject and is decided in favor of Sunday cars.

An Act to amend the Municipal Act was approved, of which the following are some of the provisions;—

The council of any city may by bylaw provide that the municipal council of the city shall thereafter consist of a mayor and four controllers, to be elected by the city at large, and the aldermen to be elected by the wards of the city under section 70 of this Act, and the four controllers so elected, together with the Mayor, shall be the Board of Control of the said city.

BREAD LOAVES MAY BE SMALLER

Increase in the Price of Flour Causes Change

Toronto bakers, says a despatch, will shortly be forced to decrease the size of the loaves of bread, if an increase in the price per loaf is to be avoided. This is caused, they claim, by the recent advances in the price of flour. During the last few days wheat has been advancing and it was stated yesterday, that even with the higher price of flour, it is not yet in accordance with the present price of wheat. Accordingly the bread consumer pays for the advance.

Bakers said yesterday that it had been agreed among the trade, not to charge more than five and ten cents a loaf and now that flour costs more the weight of the bread has to be erased. The law allows a baker to sell loaves of any weight as long as a stamp or label is put on showing the weight. Definite action, however, has not yet been taken by the bakers.

The Company is Ready to Change

New Lights are Superior—City May be in Darkness at Any Time

In connection with the change in the system of street lighting from the old-fashioned, open arc lamp to the new enclosed lamp, the manager of the Peterborough Light & Power Company stated last night that the Company was ready to make the change as soon as the Council said so. They have always wanted to use the enclosed lamp since it was first mentioned. The only thing that stopped the work being done last year was that some of the aldermen thought the company would save a little money by the change and they wanted part of the profit for the city. The company took the stand that the new lights would give the city a much better service, and that should recompense them for the privilege. The company would be put to great expense, and needed to save something in order to break even.

Mr. J. H. Larmouth said that the Special Committee, which looked at the new lamps, were unanimous in their opinion that the light was a superior one. They all wanted to adopt it. The council, however, thought otherwise. The result is we cannot supply any more lamps. The market is cleared of the open arcs and no firm is making them any more. Thus the old machine that is supplying the current is liable to break down any time, and the city will be in total darkness. That style of a machine is not made any more, and so the city will stay in darkness until they grant permission to have the new lamps installed.

Former Peterborough Man is Now Leading Paving Contractor

Mr. Patrick Crowley, of Saginaw, Mich., Here on a Visit—Believes That It Would Pay the City to Have George Street Paved—Tells How it Should be Done and Speaks of the Cost.

Mr. Patrick Crowley, an old Peterborough boy, now of Saginaw, Mich., is in the city on a visit to his cousin, Mr. David Crowley. He left Peterborough in 1865 but has been back several times on visits, the last occasion being four years ago. Mr. Crowley has been a paving contractor for about thirty years and has made a great success of this line of business. He puts down asphalt, brick, tar macadam common macadam and concrete macadam roadways. He has also built a large number of sidewalks.

Speaking to the Review today Mr. Crowley said that Saginaw now had a population of about 57,000. The city held a big old boys' reunion there last week, which was attended by many former residents. Saginaw has about 75 miles of paved streets and has of late years been spending about $150,000 a year on paved streets, and during the last three years about $250,000 to $300,000 annually on permanent roadways. Trinidad asphalt is used on all the leading business thoroughfares, and tar macadam on residential streets.

In Saginaw when a business street is paved the property immediately benefitted pays all the cost, the city alone bearing the outlay for street intersections. The street railway pays for the brick laid between the tracks and for one foot outside the rails. The groove rail is used and not the old-fashioned T rail. The bricks inside and outside, next to the rails, are placed endwise.

"I am surprised that George street is not paved," remarked Mr. Crowley today. "Your city has made commendable progress and your sidewalks are thoroughly up-to-date but not your streets. Think of the improved sanitary conditions if your leading thoroughfare was paved. You have a good foundation to start with on George street, which should be left there for asphalting. If that bottom had to be put down it would cost $1 per square yard. But by using your present bottom you could put down a binder course of three inches of asphalt, mixed with stone, and on top of that a wearing surface of three inches of asphalt, and you would have a good, permanent roadway. The cost would be about $1 per square yard and any reputable contractor would give the city a guarantee of ten years. I need not speak of the advantages, cleanliness and noiselessness of permanent pavements, but certainly I am surprised that George street, in a place as large and wealthy as Peterborough, has not been paved long ago."

Pupils Will Return to Their Books on Tuesday, Sept. 3rd

Public and Separate Schools of the City and Collegiate Institute Open on That Date—King Edward School Will Not Open Until Week Later Owing to Delay in Securing Seats.

On Tuesday of next week the Collegiate Institute and public and separate school pupils of Peterborough will again wend their way to the different institutions of learning after a vacation of two months. And too happy months they have been too to teachers and pupils alike and there no doubt will be some of the younger children and a few older ones too perhaps, who will view with regret the termination of their holidays. However, it is to be hoped that there will not be many pupils of the type described by Shakespere when he says:—

> "The school boy, with his satchel, Creeping like snail unwillingly to school."

During the past few years many improvements have been made to the schools of Peterborough and when the pupils take their places on Tuesday next they will find the halls of learning brighter and better equipped than at any time in the past. It is generally recognized that in the training of the child one of the most important things is to inculcate a love for the aesthetic and in order that a love for the beautiful may be cultivated it is necessary that the environment should be right. This has been the principle followed by the Peterborough Board of Education and in keeping with it the different schools have been overhauled during the summer months and the pupils and teachers will find them spick and span in every respect.

One of the features of the commencement of the fall term in the public schools will be the opening of the new King Edward school in the south ward. Owing to a delay in securing the seats the new school will not be opened until a week from Monday, or in other words on September 9th. The seats were ordered several months ago from the Globe Furniture Company of Walkerville, but the company has not been able to turn out the seats as promised. They have arrived however, but it will take a few days to have them installed as they are held in position by screw nails screwed into the hardwood floor. The seats are single ones and much work is entailed in putting them in position. Eight rooms will be ready to be occupied a week from Monday, providing accommodation for over 300 pupils. The new school is most modern in every respect, but a detailed description is not necessary here as such information has already been published in the Review.

The principal of the new school will be Mr. W. J. Dunlop, late principal of the Tavistock public school, and his assistants will be Miss Stubbs, Miss Burns, Miss Pratt and Miss Martin. The kindergarten department will be in charge of Miss Cameron. The above teachers make up a splendid staff and should have every success in their new quarters.

Another feature of the opening of the fall term will be the non-opening of the public school on George street north, known as the Menzies school. This building has been used as a school for the past twelve years, but the lease of the Board of Education has expired and it is not likely that the building will ever be used for school purposes again. The majority of the pupils who were in attendance there will go to the Central school, while the pupils from the southern part of the city who attended the Central school will go to the King Edward.

It is not likely that the north ward school will be opened until the second week in September, the same time as the King Edward school. As is generally known, the North Ward school formerly of four rooms has been enlarged by an addition of six new rooms and the building is now one of the most imposing of the city schools. The work on the front is precisely the same in appearance as the old part, and with the main hall between the two parts the whole in a few years will appear as if it had been built at the same time. The six new rooms will not be opened for some time, but the four class rooms of which the school formerly consisted will be used as in the past.

The heating system of the school is being changed from hot water to steam and the reason why the school will not be ready on Tuesday is because the radiators are just being installed in each class room and the work will not be completed for a few days. If they are not put in now the school would only have to be closed at a later date to permit the work being done, therefore it is wisely considered advisable to have everything finished now.

The opening of the new King Edward school and the closing of the Menzies school necessitates the changing of the limits for the different schools. These will be announced in a day or two by Mr. D. Walker, Inspector of Public schools, who will remain in Peterborough until the middle of September, the Normal schools, not opening until that time. This is indeed fortunate as Mr. Walker will be of great assistance in getting the fall term started right.

THE SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

The Separate School Board has not been idle during the summer. Considerable attention has been devoted to the Lake street school and it is now in splendid condition.

An addition has been built on the south side two fine large rooms secured to relieve the other rooms which have been overcrowded. This gives the school an appreciable increase in accommodation which should meet all requirements for several years to come. There were four rooms in the old building with a staff of four teachers, but the addition affords two more rooms necessitating two extra teachers. They are Sisters of Mount St. Joseph. Sister Patricia is in charge of the teaching, making the school very efficient.

The two new rooms are being equipped with the latest style of desks and fine blackboards, and are well lighted. In fact provision has been made in every room to have the light coming from the left and windows have been enlarged or added to increase the light. The ceilings in all the rooms are of metal and new floors have been laid throughout the building. A main hall and stairs have been built between the old and new parts and a cloak room has been provided for each room. These changes in themselves are radical and the building is practically a new one. Blackboards of standard quality have replaced all the old ones and other interior fittings have been suplied.

A large furnace of the Pease company's manufacture has been installed and should adequately heat the building. It is a steam heating furnace and with it the company also installed their system of ventilation.

As the regards the public schools in the city other than those referred to above, it may be noted that the South Central school is in good condition, and required no improvements, except painting and general work of that character. The West Ward school has also been under the painter's brush and presents a fine appearance. This school must accommodate the children of that section of the city for years to come, and for that reason should be equipped like the other school buildings.

The East Ward school has also been repaired where necessary.

Inspector Walker expects the usual number of new public school pupils, 100 to 150 being about the average number who commence attending school every fall.

INFORMATIONS HAVE BEEN LAID

More County Hotelmen are in the Toils

License Inspector Stewart is not asleep at the switch these days. It is understood that two more county hotel keepers will shortly appear before the police magistrate charged with infractions of the liquor license act. Informations have been laid against them, but there is a probability that they may settle the matter out of court.

It looks as if hotel keepers were up against it as regards breaking the license act as those in authority are determined that the law shall be enforced.

MRS. J. J. TURNER SR. WAS FOUND DEAD

Was in Good Health at 7 O'clock But Died About Half Past Ten.

The community was shocked this morning when it was learned that Mrs. J. J. Turner, sr. had been found on the floor in an unconscious condition about ten o'clock and died about half an hour later. The death was shocking in its suddenness. Mrs. Turner was up this morning as usual and when Mr. Turner left the house about ten minutes to seven she appeared to be in the very best of health and made no complaint whatever, although yesterday she told her husband that she did not think she would live much longer. About ten o'clock a little girl who goes to the house to help with the house work found the deceased lying upon the floor in an unconscious condition. Mr. Turner was immediately telephoned for and as Dr. Halliday, the family physician was out, Dr. Marshall was called. But Mrs. Turner never regained consciousness and died about half past ten. The deceased was 61 years of age and was born in Plymouth, Eng., being a daughter of the late Richard Thomlinson. She was married to Mr. J. J. Turner 37 years ago and came to Peterborough with him on their wedding tour. They have since lived in this city and are known by nearly everyone. Besides a husband four sons, John J. jr., Reginald, Achilles and Webber, survive her, four children having died some years ago. The funeral will be strictly private, the date not yet having been fixed on account of the absence of Messrs. John and Reginald Turner. Interment will take place in the family plot at Port Hope. The deceased was a member of St. Luke's church and Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will conduct the services. She was a very charitable woman and many persons in need were helped by her in a quiet way. She was a strict adherent to "Let not thy left hand know what they right hand doeth."

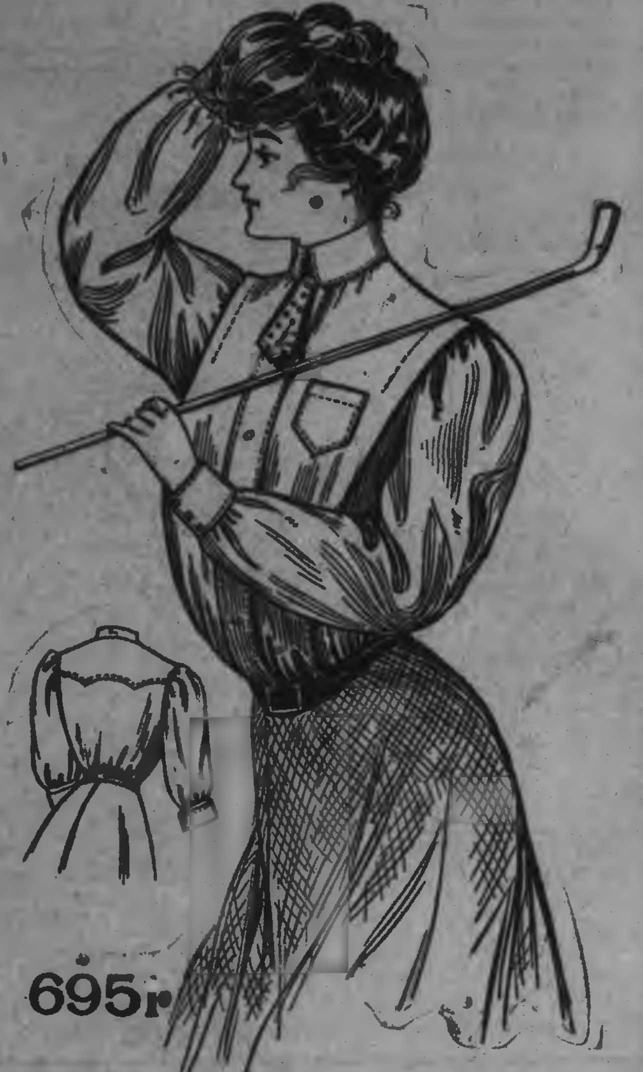
The Latest Dean Patterns



A NATTY SHIRT WAIST

To the woman who realizes the importance of good style in every detail of dress the well-cut, trimly-built shirt waist here sketched will appeal with special force. The broad-shouldered effect secured by the deep tuckks stitched over the shoulders will be found particularly becoming. The sleeves may be made either in full or shorter length mode, with a choice of two styles of cuff. It is to be noted that the fastenings of both waist and sleeves consist of small pearl buttons, a rather agreeable change from the usual studs and cuff buttons. The only possible decoration for the waist is machine stitching. The correct neck finishing is a linen collar, of which any preferred style may be worn. The waist as sketched is developed in linen, but it may be made of any material that will bear tubbing. For the medium size 3 7-8 yards of 27 inch goods will be required.

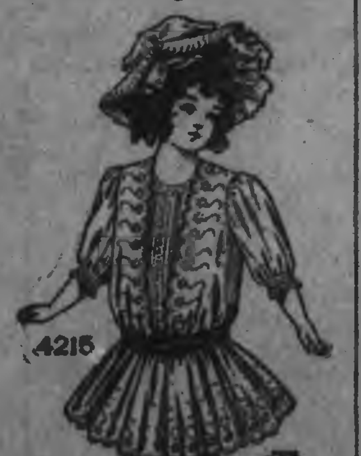
6951.—Six sizes, from 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Gown for General Wear

Particular women appreciate the trimness of a costume perhaps more than any other feature. It is the effect of the whole which counts in one's appearance and the artist in dress recognizes good taste here before anything else. The gown shown is especially attractive for afternoon or morning wear, for paying calls or wearing to church. The waist has its tucks becomingly placed in front and back and sleeve. A chemisette of lace or contrasting material lends a pretty touch at the neck.

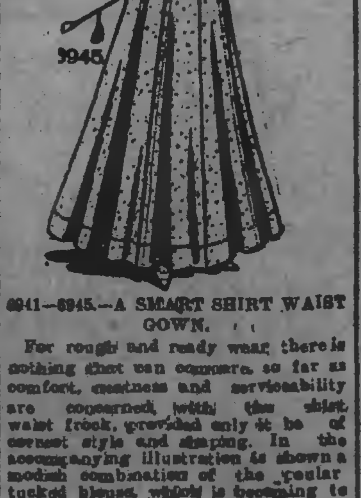


4215.—A CHARMING LITTLE GOWN FOR SUMMER DAYS.

Some of the daintiest of the small dresses are made of the wide embroidered flouncings and one which is especially pleasing is shown. The front panel in the waist portion offers field for some dainty contrasting fabric such as tucking and lace insertion or a small design in embroidery, the embroidery forming the sides of the waist affording an attractive finish. The skirt is a full round one cut from a straight breadth of the flouncing and attached to the waist by a narrow belt. The sleeves are in three-quarter length. Swiss or mull might serve for the dress with a band of lace to finish the front edges and skirt. The medium size calls for 1 1-4 yards of 27 inch material or 3 1-8 yards of flouncing.

4215.—6 sizes, 2 to 7 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.



6941—6945.—A SMART SHIRT WAIST GOWN.

For rough and ready wear there is nothing that can compare, so far as comfort, neatness and serviceability are concerned, with the shirt waist frock, provided only it be of correct style and shaping. In the accompanying illustration is shown a modish combination of the popular tucked blouse, which is becoming to almost every type of figure, and the new 6 gored skirt, the most distinctive features of which are the circular shaping of the front and back gores and the overlapping side seams, ornamented in this design with small fancy buttons. The waist, which may be made with either full length or shorter sleeve, is modelled in polka dotted brown-and-white foulard, while the skirt is made of golden brown panama. The gown, however, may be prettily developed in pongee, shantung or rajah, or in linen, canvas, or any of the mercerized cottons. For the medium size 3 1-2 yards of 27 inch material will be needed to make the waist, and 7 yards of material of the same width to model the skirt.

Two Patterns.—6941.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6945.—5 sizes, 22 to 28 inches waist measure.

The price of these patterns is 20c, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and will be sent you by mail.

Some Timely Suggestions Giving Directions in the Leading Styles and the Best Materials to be Used

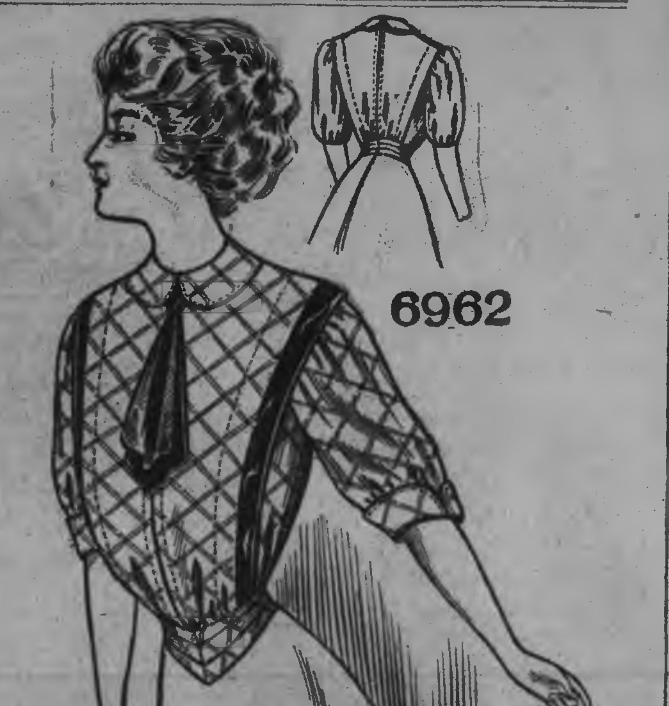
Washing Lace.

One girl who boards and does not like to send fine pieces of lace to the laundry has solved the problem by washing the pieces in her room and placing them on top of a marble table to dry. It is the same as stretching them on a window pane, and they dry as nicely and look as well as when ironed. The pieces are then placed in a book, a weight put on them, and there they are, fresh and clean, ready for use when wanted.

A Summer Hat.

One can be made by using a dolly set, the large piece hollowed out to fit the brim of wire frame; one small dolly for top of crown. The remaining five can be used as a rosette or for sides of the crown. Fill under the brim with gathered mull or net. You are saved lots of work of embroidering and yet have a handsome hat, which is easily laundered.

Labor Day September 2.



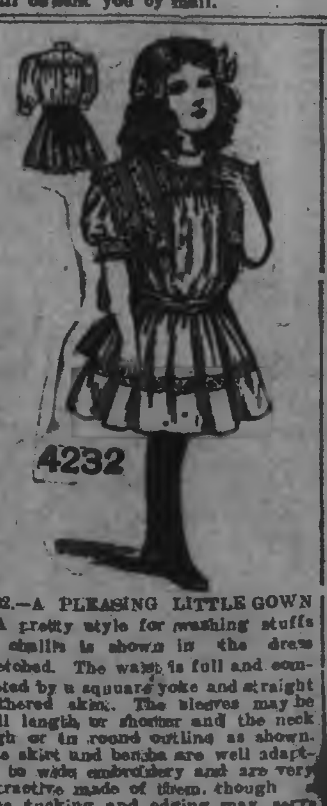
A JAUNTY EFFECT IN PLAID SILK

The three essential factors in the success of the separate waist are good style, fine quality of material and general adaptability to any odd skirt that one may happen to have. In the pretty blouse here illustrated, which is attractively developed in one of the tartan silks that are to be so much in vogue for the next few months, these important characteristics are pleasingly combined. Owing to the neck adjustment, with the rakish turn down collar, the waist will prove especially becoming to the wearer of the plump and youthful type. The tie is not included in the pattern, but a pretty finishing touch to the ensemble. The broad tuck, outlined with velvet ribbon, which extends from shoulder to belt on either side of the waist, lends it unique distinction. The narrower tuck each side of the centre front and back, the latter concealing the closing, add apparent slenderness to the figure. The sleeves may be made in either full or elbow length. Any of the modish silks, or any supple wool or tub fabric, may be chosen for developing this design. For the medium size 3 5-8 yards of 27 inch goods will be needed, with 1 3-4 yards of velvet ribbon for trimming.

6962.—Six sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

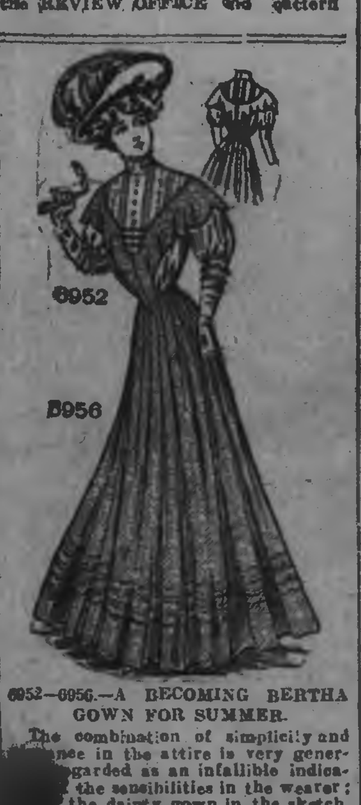
Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



4232.—A PLEASING LITTLE GOWN

A pretty style for washing stuffs or challis is shown in the dress sketched. The waist is full and completed by a square yoke and straight gathered skirt. The sleeves may be full length or shorter and the neck high or in round outline as shown. The skirt and bertha are well adapted to wide embroidery and are very attractive made of them, though fine tucking and edging may serve for yoke and bertha. The waist may be girdled with a soft sash or finished neatly and worn without. In challis the small dress is very charming, narrow ribbon acting as adornment. For the medium size 3 7-8 yards of 24 inch material are needed.

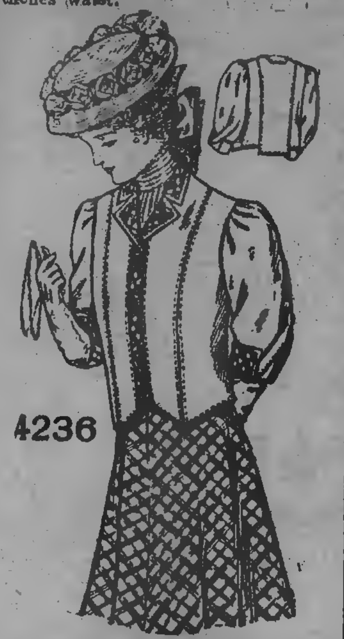
4232.—8 sizes, 5 to 12 years.



6952—6956.—A BECOMING BERTHA GOWN FOR SUMMER.

The combination of simplicity and [illegible]ance in the attire is very generally [illegible]garded as an infallible indication [illegible] the sensibilities in the wearer; [illegible] the dainty gown in the sketch, [illegible]h so attractively presents this [illegible]rable combination, will certainly appeal to the woman of taste and refinement. The novel effect of the plaited waist is emphasized by the graceful jacket bertha, which may be decorated either with piping, embroidery or stitching. The sleeves, which may be made either of elbow or full length, are daintily finished with narrow plaitings. The 3-piece skirt presents the latest development of the circular model, the arrangement of the plaits pleasingly accentuating the lines of the figure. As shown in the drawing the gown is constructed of ecru rajah, the waist being made of lawn of the same shade, its upper portion only being tucked and embroidered. In the smaller sketch the waist is shown tucked its entire length. For the medium size 3 1-2 yards 27 inch material will be needed for the waist, and 9 yards of the same width for the skirt.

Two Patterns.—6952—5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust; 6956—6 sizes, 32 to 40 inches waist.



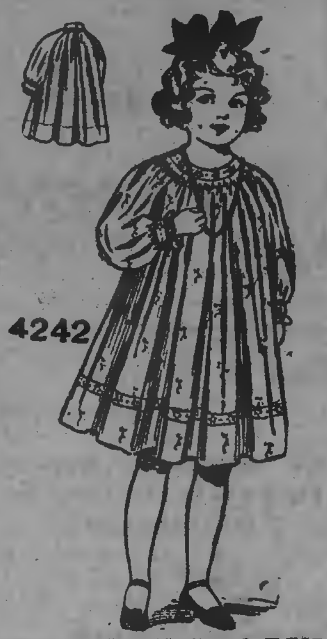
4236.—A SMART LITTLE COAT FOR A MISS.

Separate jackets are very modish this year and those who count the dollars and cents find them very economical. A chic little coat of unusual style and not difficult for home making is sketched. It may be made of cloth, linen or pongee, as well as taffetas and serve for wear with the odd skirt or it may serve as a suit coat and be of the material of the skirt. The front closes with a trig vest and the sleeves are of three quarter length, having tucks at the lower edge and natty turn-back cuffs. For the medium size 1 3-8 yards of 54 inch material are needed for the coat.

4326.—Sizes, 14, 15, 16, 17 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



4242.—A PICTURESQUE FROCK FOR A LITTLE MAID.

Never were the frocks of little people modelled upon lines at once so simple and so artistic as at the present day—a fact which is strikingly illustrated in the dainty little Bishop dress here sketched. Developed in a pretty figured lawn and decorated with embroidered insertion, it will prove equally acceptable to mother and child, for its as easy to make and to launder as it is comfortable to wear. As shown in the larger illustration it is made with the quaint Dutch neck effect, but it may with equal facility be made with either high or low neck. The Bishop sleeve effect is prettily obtained by finishing at the wrist with a narrow frill of lace or embroidery. Dimity, gingham, madras, Holland or any soft-draping material may be used for developing the frock, 3 1-8 yards of 27 inch goods being needed for the medium size. The pattern, 4242, is cut in 7 sizes, from 1-2 year to 6 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c

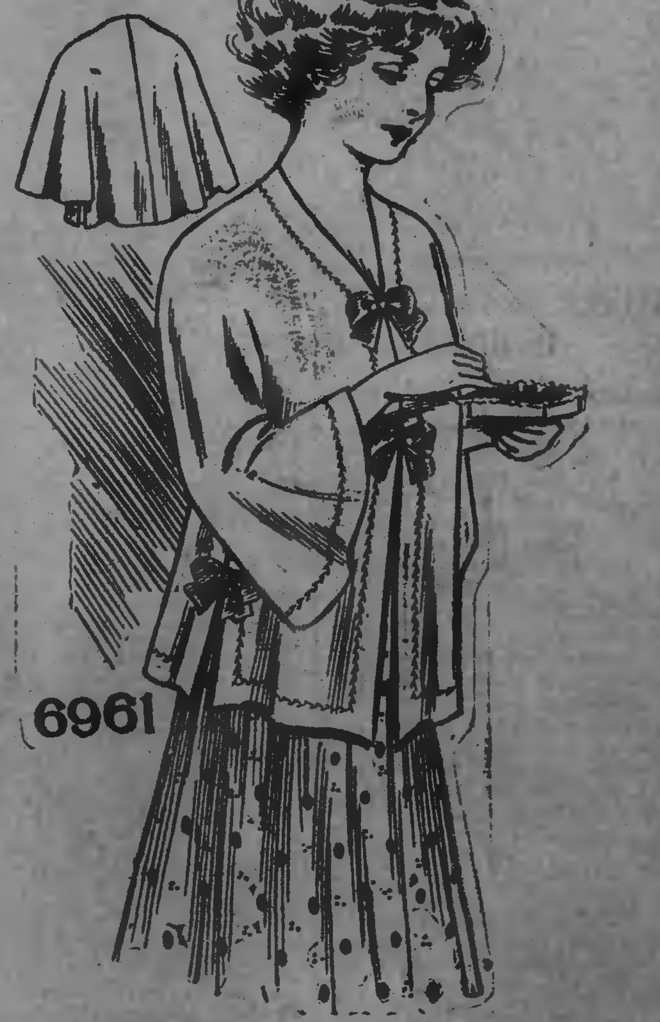
A Serviceable Coat

This separate coat, suitable for wearing with any skirt, presents a problem which many women find difficult of solution, since it must not be too elaborate to harmonize with a simple gown nor too plain to wear in conjunction with a dressy one.



A PRETTY ONE-PIECE NEGLIGEE

The modern American woman can never be too well supplied with dainty dressing sacques, and when a model presents itself which is both pretty in effect and easy of development the temptation to add one more to her store is irrestible. The accompanying sketch charmingly illustrates a sacque which answers both descriptions. To fashion it is simplicity itself, for since it is made in one piece it is well within the capabilities of the least experienced of home dressmakers. As portrayed in the illustration it is made of white Japanese cotton crepe, and ornamented with bows of pale rose satin ribbon; while a featherstitching of pale rose silk supplies the garniture for the edges. The same model may be made up quite without trimming, as shown in the outline sketch and utilized as a bed jacket for an invalid. In this case French flannel or fine flannelette would be an appropriate fabric for its development. For the medium size 3 1-8 yards of 36 inch material will be needed.

6961.—In three sizes, small, medium and large.

Civil Marriages and Ceremonies Performed by Protestants Not to be Recognized

Rome, Aug. 30.—A high church official is authority for the statement that within a few days an extraordinary and revolutionary law, interesting all Catholic laymen and clergymen will be announced. It will directly affect all Catholics in America and will be promulgated by the Vatican authorities.

Until the present, the Vatican law has been that American Catholics can contract a marriage validly although illicitly, by going before a justice or even a Protestant minister, when duly licensed by civil authorities. Under the new Vatican law, all these marriages will be considered null and void among Catholics.

The new law which is contained in a decree of the congregation of the council was drafted by special request of His Holiness, the Pope. It ordains that from next Easter all marriages among Catholics shall not be valid unless contracted before a duly authorized priest, in the presence of two witnesses.

There are only two exceptions to this law, which is to be universal for all countries on the globe. These exceptions are when there is imminent danger of death, and no duly authorized priest is obtainable, then any obtainable priest can perform the ceremony in the presence of two witnesses.

The second exception is revolutionary. It is when there is no priest obtainable in the district, the man and woman can contract marriage that will be valid, merely by announcing their consent in the presence of two wintesses.

This latter is the most important change made in the marriage laws of the Catholic Church, during the past three centuries.

It introduces a radical overturning of legislation in every country in the world, and it is to be regarded as the very first indication of sweeping changes that are to be introduced by the new code of Pius X., which engaged the labors of the most learned body of ecclesiastical authorities in the Catholic church for the past four years, and which eventually will cover the entire field of church legislation.

THREE QUARTERS IS GOOD LAND

Estimate of Character of Soil in Ontario's Great Clay Belt.

The impression that in the great clay belt north of the Height of Land Ontario has a vast tract of territory suitable for agricultural settlement is fully borne out by a letter received in the Department of Lands, Forests and Mines, Toronto, from T. B. Speight, O.L.S. That gentleman is at the head of a party which is extending the line drawn by Alex. Niven, O.L.S., and is now at the Kabinagagami River. The party has marked about 100 miles of this line, which will end at the boundary between the Algoma and Thunder Bay districts. It has already discovered one lake which has never been shown on official maps. Progress has been somewhat hampered by the extremely wet weather which has prevailed in the north. "We have not had two consecutive fine days in four weeks," remarked Mr. Speight in his letter. "He expects, however, to conclude his labor this fall, as does also Mr. Niven, who is extending the boundary between Algoma and Thunder Bay, north to the Albany River, the northern boundary of Ontario. When this is complete the Government will have a pretty accurate idea of the resources of the clay belt, estimated to contain 16,000,000 acres of good agricultural land.

Mr. Speight's letter says: "You will be pleased to know that we have not yet reached the westerly limit of the "Clay Belt." As a matter of fact, the character of the country and the quality of the soil is superior to that met with on last season's survey—it is more undulating and rolling, and the average of arable land will not be less than 75 per cent., as far as our present survey has extended. As to the land we have passed through this week, I have seen nothing better west of Abitibi Lake. I trust it may continue at least as far as the 'District Line.' We have met with one large lake not shown on official maps—we crossed it first on the Base Line at the middle of the 17th mile, and it extends westerly as far as the middle of the 30th mile. Its greatest width will be about three miles and it is dotted throughout with numerous islands. I spent most of two days making a fairly accurate sketch of it. It will have a shore line of at least 50 miles. This lake and the rivers tributary to it have assisted us very much in getting our two canoes and supplies over to the Kabinagagami Valleys. We hope to finish our survey some time before the 1st of October."

READY FOR HARVESTERS.

Railways Expect to Handle the Crop Without Difficulty.

At the present moment the western section of Canada is claiming all the spare energies of the Canadian Pacific in preparation for the handling of the harvest. The task is a big one, as even with men packed as close as the harvest laborers travel on their specials, it means from 45 to 50 big trains to get them to the West. The passenger department is now busily engaged making arrangement for these trains. But this is only the beginning of the railway problem, and by no means the hardest part of it. For some time past officials of the Canadian Pacific have been securing reports from all sections of the western wheat belt in order to be able to make an approximate estimate of the number of cars required to get the wheat to the lakes. A report has been received from Winnipeg stating that the crop would probably require fifteen thousand box cars with a sufficient equipment of engines to handle them fast. This, of course, does not mean that the wheat could be packed into fifteen thousand cars, but that this number kept on the go as steadily as possible will be enough to take care of the wheat as it is marketed. Owing to the very heavy flow of freight that has been going westwards during the past few months, which has been much heavier than the eastward movement, the Canadian Pacific already has almost fifteen thousand freight cars in the West, and by the time the first wheat is harvested there will be a thousand or so more, there, so that it is not thought there will be any car shortage this year, nor will any empties be rushed thither as in other years. This has been rendered possible by the great activity displayed during the past twelve months by the Canadian Pacific Railway in building new cars and engines, many thousand box cars having been added to the equipment of the company during the year. The only way in which any trouble is likely to be caused is by the sudden rushing of enormous quantities of wheat to the railroad towards the end of the shipping season. There is the more danger of this as a big crop is expected, and it is some twenty days late, which means that there will be that much less time to get the wheat away before lake navigation closes.

Deer in China Shop.

A large deer with a good spread of horns dashed through Moncton streets the other day, making a startling appearance and a dramatic picture. Three gentlemen were standing on the kerb when the deer dashed through the former city square and, falling on the wet pavement, was thrown between them, abruptly terminating the conversation.

Quickly arising, the animal dashed into the East India store, which was heavily stocked with china, glass and crockery ware, and running the length of the store, leaped over the high desk and dashed through a window at the rear. The proprietor, who had been standing outside, rushed in, expecting to find that the deer had created havoc among the glassware but discovered that the animal had broken only one cuspidor in its hasty journey through the premises. The deer was slightly cut by the window glass but ran through back yards, over high fences, and down to the wharf, disappearing in the direction of Albert County. A good deal of excitement was caused by the incident.

Game has been very plentiful in this section of New Brunswick and the sight of moose and deer within the city limits is not infrequent.

Elihu Burritt.

An early American peacemaker was Elihu Burritt, the blacksmith scholar of Connecticut. It was mainly to his efforts that the Paris peace congress of 1849 practically owed its existence. Though now almost forgotten, the same principles were discussed and the same propositions laid down as obtained at The Hague in 1899.

CRITICISMS OF CANADA

SOME IMPRESSIONS OF THE DOMINION AND ITS PEOPLE.

London Journalist Says Canadians Are Not Such Sportsmen as English—Canny Scot Is Everywhere—Sabbath Too Rigidly Kept—Praises Railway System—Why Drug Stores Flourish.

Mr. Hamilton Fyfe, a well-known English journalist, recently toured Canada, and he has just concluded a series of articles in The London Daily Mail on "The Land of the Future." Some of his impressions are not favorable, and a number of them are given herewith, because it always does Canadians good to read what visitors from overseas think of us, whether their criticisms are well founded or not.

Mr. Fife thinks that neither the Canadian boy or man is as good a sportsman as the English. He says:

"Canada as a whole has not yet come to a full understanding of the value of education. It is only the few who can see any use in imparting to the young knowledge which will not be of direct service to them in making a fortune. The same material spirit is far too prevalent among the young themselves. The Canadian boy is not as good a sportsman as the English. He plays games to win rather than for the sake of the game. There is a reason for this in the newness of the country. Iife is a serious business in a land which has to be won from wild nature. There is real live-or-die fighting to be done every day. No room for dilettantism. The keynote of character built upon such foundations is deadly earnestness. No doubt the Englishman would be a vastly better man if he had the Canadian's determination and grit. Yet it seems a pity all the same that Canada should not have produced a more sportsmanlike spirit."

Mr. Fife cites, as an example of our lack of "sportsmanlike" qualities the fact that many Canadians thought it rather odd that Gen. Botha should have been lionised to such an extent in London, at the time of the Colonial Conference. The tenor of his reproach runs thus:

"Why should an enemy be honored? they asked, and referred bitterly to the number of Canadians killed and maimed in the war. It was impossible to make them understand the Englishman's respect for an enemy who has put up a good fight against him. That was too detached an attitude of mind for them."

Omnipresent Scot.

The writer was much impressed by the omnipresence of the Scot in Canada. In Nova Scotia:

"Nearly all the names smack of banks and braes. In the little club at North Sydney I was at once offered the national drink, which upon inquiry I found to be whisky. In several places Gaelic services are still held on Sundays, and there was until not long ago a little Gaelic newspaper published at Sydney. Scotsmen get on well in every part of Canada. They are more adaptable than the English. They do not grumble. They fit in. There is a quietly thriving air, which reminds one of Scotland, about the small shipping and coal-mining towns of Cape Breton Island, where there is also the finest Canadian iron and steel plant. Sir William Van Horne looks forward to this easterly part of Canada becoming one of the great manufacturing centres of the world. Sydney must be a great city, he thinks; a great shipbuilding centre; and another Sheffield as well. It is a quiet little place enough now, lying under the wooded shore of its wide-spreading, beautiful harbor, but the seeing eye can detect germs of growth and grandeur. Scottish, too, the atmosphere of such prosperous little manufacturing centres as New Glasgow, Truro, Amherst and Pictou. It is a common complaint that there is not enough enterprise among the well-to-do people in Nova Scotia. The Scots have their national characteristic of caution very strongly developed, and the English lack ambition.

Winnipeg's Humor.

Ontario calls the Maritime Provinces sleepy, and Winnipeg humorously pretends to think they are dead. But they go along quietly and comfortably, content with moderate wealth (that is what the West cannot understand!) and convinced that slow and sure is the best pace. You might think it impossible to arouse them to enthusiasm if you never saw them at a Scottish concert, a curling match, or a St. Andrew's Day dinner. You would not call them phlegmatic after that.

"If you ever want to travel through Nova Scotia on a Sunday you will have good reason to remember the old saying that the Scots keep the Sabbath and everything else they can lay hands on. The stations are all deserted. There are no trains running. From Saturday midnight till Monday morning the Intercolonial Railway, which serves the east from Montreal, running through Quebec, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia, is out of business. Nor is it only in Nova Scotia, by the way, that the Sunday Observance party are strong. Indeed, Nova Scotia does not go so far as certain other provinces. In Toronto a clergyman recently threatened to prosecute a florist, who sent flowers to a funeral on a Sunday, under the law prohibiting Sunday trading. An even more absurd case happened in the same province (Ontario) while I was there. An immigrant from England, who had built himself and his family a little wooden house, was putting in some work at it early on a Sunday morning—on his own house, mind. A constable heard of it, and told him he would be summoned under the law forbidding Sunday work if he committed this [illegible] offence again!"

Traveling in Canada.

It is interesting to know what [illegible] Englishman thinks of Canadian traveling methods. The impressions left by the jolting by rail from Cobalt to North Bay were not pleasant: "A hot, swaying, dusty train, in which one was put to sleep on a shelf where a man bumps his head every time he tries to sit up straight, and can only get his trousers off by balancing himself on the back of his neck." But the main line from North Bay west tells quite a different tale:

"I swung myself up into a sleeper, the black porter welcomed me with a flashing smile, the conductor put his arm affectionately round me as he looked at my ticket and told me we were only an hour and twenty minutes late. My fit of depression fell away from me. How many more miles? Two thousand and five hundred, at the rate of about twenty-five miles an hour? That was nothing to be afraid of. To keep moving—that is the only way to enjoy life. Sleep? I should sleep like a log (and so I did, not only that night, but every night I passed on the train).

"You have to be comfortable on long journeys, otherwise you will die. Imagine spending five days in an English railway carriage. You would never finish them alive. On the C. P. R. trains you need never get even stiff. You have plenty of room, to begin with; a seat three feet long all to yourself, and lots of space for your feet. The cars, with ample passage way down the centre, are light and lofty. When you are tired of your own seat you can go to the smoking-room, literally a room some twelve feet square, with sofas and lolling-chairs, basins for hand-washing (always scrupulously clean), and an ice-water filter, a god-send in hot weather.

Enjoy the Scenery.

Through the mountains you can sit in an observation car, from which you enjoy the scenery all around, while at any time you can stand on the platform at the end of your car to get a little fresh air and see all there is to be seen. You could not do this with any comfort if the train were running fast: there is one of the many advantages of jogging along at a moderate pace. An average of 25 miles an hour may sound tedious, but to travel at a high speed for several days would be terribly tiring."

Mr. Fyfe refers to our manner of eating: "You get for breakfast a choice of several fruits, several cereals, and a dozen meat, fish or egg dishes. For lunch there are soups, hot and cold meats, sweets, cheese and dessert. The dollar-a-head dinner gives you an even larger assortment of plates to select from, though the Canadian (like the American) prefers to eat heartily of one or two dishes, instead of going through a regular dinner. He is in the habit, too, of drinking tea or coffee with his meals. This is a custom found among all classes both in Canada and the United States. I am inclined to set it down as one of the reasons for the enormous number of drug stores in both countries. On a Sunday evening in Vancouver, for example, when all the other shops and liquor stores were shut, I counted no fewer than seventeen drug stores brightly lit up and doing a brisk business. It is true they sell sweets and other things besides, but the consumption of cheap patent medicines is enormous. I should think tea and coffee must be to a large extent the cause."

When washing greasy dishes or pots and pans, Lever's Dry Soap (a powder) will remove the grease with the greatest ease.

CROPS ABOVE AVERAGE.

Col. Hughes Predicts Big Influx of Immigrants.

Col. Sam Hughes, M. P., has just returned from an extended tour.

No man in Ontario is more familiar with conditions in the Northwest, and his views concerning this year's crop will be of great interest.

"The crop," he said, "will be above the average. There will be some acres below normal and many far above it, but, all in all, the crop will be larger than usual. Along the United States border the crops are very poor, but as you go north they improve. Take the Prairie Provinces all through, it is safe to say that the yield will be unusually large. Moreover, the prices will be good, because there is quite a shortage in the wheat crop of the United States. This fact will bring many thousand immigrants from the United States to Canada next year."

"How about frost?" he was asked.

"Frost is one of the many contingencies to be considered, but after all there was frost in every county of Ontario north of the 44th degree at one time or another during the month of July. In some parts of Ontario the crop of oats, for example, is poor, and in other parts it is exceptionally good."

Col. Hughes deprecated some publications in eastern newspapers to the effect that real estate was selling at extravagant prices in Winnipeg and other cities of the west. He said that while real estate was appreciating constantly in Winnipeg, the prices asked were nothing like the prices asked for corresponding locations in Toronto. He expressed himself as satisfied that the great west had before it a boundless future of uninterrupted prosperity.

"The people have learned how to farm," he said; "where land is light and dry they sow early and deep. Immigration, especially from the United States, will increase. I have no fear of the Northwest."

Praises Nova Scotia.

In the course of an address made at Digby, N. S., on Aug. 13, by Earl Grey, on the eve of his departure for New Brunswick, His Excellency said: "To-day brings my visit to Nova Scotia to an end. It is with regret that I leave the shores of your beautiful province. I have seldom enjoyed a day's travel more than when I motored over 60 miles through the famous valley which lies behind you. The rich crop of potatoes and other vegetables, the heavily loaded orchards, the prosperous and comfortable homesteads, the soft and refreshing air, the evidence of general well-being, and the absence of any sign of hardship or poverty, these things caused me to realize more vividly than I had ever had occasion to realize before, how great are the privileges enjoyed by the people of Nova Scotia, and what desirable advantages your province offers to those who, coming from across the seas, ask to create new homes under the free and happy flag of Britain on this side of the Atlantic."

Edgar Knight, of Napanee, a grocer, aged 45, committed suicide by drowning yesterday.

Agriculture to be Taught in Lindsay

Mr. F. H. Reed, the teacher who will have charge of the new Agricultural classes in the Lindsay Collegiate and who will henceforth look after all Department of Agriculture work in this district, will have convenient offices in the Fleury block, opposite the town hall building. He has been busy for the past ten days, looking after the fitting up and furnishing of the premises, which are being made very inviting in appearance.—Lindsay Post.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

CANADA HAS BEST EXHIBIT

Splendid Showing at Dublin Exhibition—Peterborough Men Return Home

"The Canadian building is easily the most attractive exhibit at the Dublin exhibition," said Mr. R. J. Munro today. And Mr. Munro should know, for he has just returned from the land of the blarney stone and Irish jokes. In company with Mr. Frank Buckland, he visited Ireland, England and Scotland, and also spent a short time in Paris. They have been absent nearly two months and spent a delightful time in the lands over the sea. They spent considerable time in Ireland, and, in addition to attending the Dublin exhibition, visited many historic points in the land of the Shamrock. The picturesque and world-famed district of Killarney, the Giants' Causeway, Blarney Castle and numerous other points that everyone has heard about, were among the places that received attention.

Mr. Munro states that the Dublin exhibition is a great success, and that the Canadian pavilion is easily the best on the grounds

.WEAK MEN AND WOMEN.

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN

The Experience of a Well-known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. Burke, a well known lawyer in Meriden, says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous, run-down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to them."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs. R. D. Hammersch, of Centreville, says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest. It built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

No Flaw in Steel Structure That Spanned the St. Lawrence

Experts Examined Wreck of Quebec Bridge.

Masonry Piers Are Intact—16,000 Tons of Metal In Undescribable Tangle—Story of Eye-Witness—Saw the Structure Tremble and Sway—Some Victims Buried—King Sends Sympathy.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Mr. Collingwood Schrieber, consulting Government engineer; Mr. J. M. Butler, Deputy Minister, and Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, and Mr. M. P. Davis, contractor for the masonry of the Quebec bridge, have returned from the scene of Thursday's disaster. Mr. Davis, in the course of an interview, after alluding to the magnitude of the catastrophe, observed that there was probably only one man alive who could be said to have witnessed the collapse, and that was the bridge company's inspector. He noticed the structure tremble and sway. Knowing what this meant, as the horror of the impending catastrophe flashed upon him, he instinctively turned his head. Then came the crash, and when he looked again the mighty structure was a mass of ruin.

Asked about the masonry work, Mr. Davis said it remained intact, the piers standing exactly as they were when built, notwithstanding the tremendous strain to which they were subjected. The anchor pier did not show so much as a mark. As for the precise cause of the accident, it would not be known until the termination of a long and intricate investigation by the Government commission. Mr. John Sterling Deans, chief engineer of the Phoenix Bridge Co., also the designer, to whom Mr. Davis talked, could not discern where the fault had been.

"Sixteen thousand tons of metal," continued Mr. Davis, "are lying mostly in an indescribable tangle; great steel beams being twisted like elastic bands, and yet there is not a suspension rod or any other piece of metal in the wreck that shows signs of weakness. I walked 400 feet along the wreckage without being able to discern the least flaw in a single member."

No Damage in Piers.

Mr. M. J. Butler confirmed this observation. "The masonry is absolutely intact and uninjured in any way whatever," said the Deputy Minister, "and that after undergoing the most severe strain to which any mason work was probably ever submitted to in the world. The thousands of tons of steel work looks like torn up scraps of paper, yet the piers do not show any further damage than might be wrought upon them in a few hours by a couple of men with hammers."

The commissioners, Messrs. Holgate and Kerry, were at work when Mr. Butler left the scene of the disaster. Their preliminary operations consist of making examinations of the wrecked material, and marking the parts that will be photographed for comparison with their position and place in the intact structure. "It will be one means of fixing the cause, which, of course, must remain a mere matter of conjecture until the investigation has been finished," Mr. Butler continued. "The commissioners will probably start their formal hearing today. Mr. Dean, the chief engineer of the Phoenix Bridge Co., and his computer, Mr. Splazzka, arrived at Levis just before I left. They will appear before the commission with their plans and data, and survivors of the disaster will also be examined."

Funeral of Victims.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 3.—Eight of the Indian laborers who perished in the Quebec bridge disaster were buried on Sunday at the Indian village of Caughnawaga, where they lived. His Grace, Archbishop Bruchesi, came from Montreal to officiate at the funeral service. The coffins were lowered into a large single grave. Thirty-seven families in Caughnawaga alone have been afflicted by the catastrophe. Some forty-five children have been made orphans.

SYMPATHY FROM KING.

Earl Minto Also Cables Regret at the Bridge Disaster.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The following message of sympathy has been received by His Excellency the Governor-General:

"Marienbad, Aug. 31, 1907.

"The King grieved to hear news of disaster to Quebec bridge. Wishes you to convey his heartfelt sympathy with relatives and friends of all who have lost their lives in the sad calamity. (Signed) PONSONBY."

His Excellency also received the following from Lord Minto, the Viceroy of India, and former Governor-General of Canada:

"Simla, Aug. 31, 1907.

"Please tell Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec deeply grieved horrible bridge accident. (Signed) MINTO."

CREMATED IN CLOSET.

Boy Mistook Door for Exit From Burning Building.

Malone, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Eleven-year-old Abraham Stone was burned to death, and several other persons narrowly escaped with their lives in a fire which destroyed the farm of Mrs. George Morris at Lake Altus yesterday.

When the members of the family were awakened, the house was in flames and the occupants fled in their night clothing. All escaped with the exception of the boy, who is believed to have mistaken a closet door for an exit.

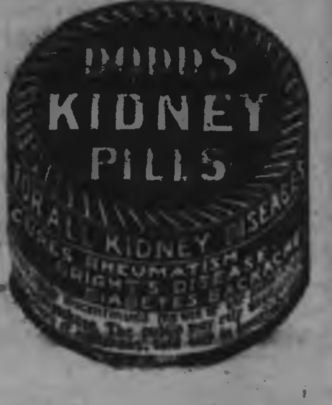
After the fire was extinguished he was found in the closet dead.

Persia's Premier Murdered.

Teheran, Sept. 3.—Mirza Ali Asghan Khan, Premier and Minister of the Interior, was shot and instantly killed as he was leaving the National Council Saturday night.

Americans In Ontario.

There are only seven genuine United Stateseirs in Kingston entitled to the privileges of citizens of a foreign country in Canada. In all Ontario out of 5,000 or more persons of American birth, not more than 200 can register. The rest have lost their rights, as they vote in Canada and do business here. They must pay taxes, as they get Canadian protection and advantages. They had not taken the oath of allegiance, but through Canadian carelessness they vote on property qualification, some of them also voting in United States elections. In Kingston there are 250 Americans, but only seven are registered. It is said that the demands of citizenship will shut out mariners living in Canada from service on United States vessels.



FRANCE HAS BIG TASK

Pacification of Morocco a Huge Undertaking.

Mulai Hafig Said to Be Advocating Holy War—Claims of Two Sultans—Moors Lack Ammunition—Routed by the Allies—Situation Continues Grave—Anarchy and Chaos Reigns.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The public has been reassured by the announcement that Morocco will be compelled to pay the expenses of all measures France may take for the subjection of anarchy and the protection of European interests in Casablanca and other points on the Moroccan coast. The public does not know it, but Morocco will never be able to pay a claim of such size as this one promises to amount to.

Nobody has any idea what the next development of the situation will be, but France's task has hardly yet begun. Her embarrassment over the rival claims of two Sultans is great. Mulai Hafig is the abler man. His personal sympathies with foreigners are friendly, but his followers are chiefly anti-European. France cannot enter into any agreement with him at present, for it would alienate his followers. Besides his claim to the throne is not yet established, and he is still technically a traitor. On the other hand, Abdul Aziz is hopelessly weak as a ruler, and it is regarded as practically impossible that he can succeed in any circumstances in pacifying the country and retaining the throne. The question is, how long the present condition of anarchy will be allowed to continue before foreign intervention of some sort becomes imperative.

Tangier, Sept. 3.—Reports from Safi say that a letter from Mulai Hafig has reached there, in which he advocates a holy war, and accuses Abdul Aziz, the Sultan of Morocco, with being a Christian and the author of all the calamities to the country. The notables were divided over the course to pursue as a result of the letter, and finally left it to the governor to decide whether or not they should support Mulai Hafig. The reports also say that Maelinin, the fanatical priest appeared recently outside Safi, but was bought off with $500. He announced that he was going to Casablanca.

Although there is no immediate peril the general political situation continues grave. In half the Moorish Empire civil war seems imminent. Mulai Hafig is reported to be marching against Fez at the head of a large army. The nominal Sultan's Government is paralyzed, and chaos reigns.

Casablanca, Sept. 3.—The Spanish troops, who are now more active, marched some distance from the camp and fired on some prowling Moors. It is reported that the Moors need ammunition badly.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Vice-Admiral Philbert of the French military forces at Morocco cabled from Casablanca Sunday, reporting that the allies routed a large force of Moorish cavalry seven miles south of the city.

LABOR DAY RIOT.

Two Men Shot In 'Frisco — Street Cars Attacked.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—The labor union parade yesterday resulted in the shooting of two men by employes of the United Railroads.

The carmen were attacked by the paraders and, in self-defence, opened fire. The trouble started at the ferry, where, it is stated, a Sutter street car broke through the line of parade. A mob of labor union men followed the car, and at the junction of Sutter street the members attacked a car.

The motorman, fearing that his life was in danger, opened fire and wounded one of his assailants in the leg. A block further up an inspector was attacked by the mob. He was suddenly struck in the face and ran from his assailants. They followed him to the corner of Sutter and Montgomery streets, where they overtook him. He drew a pistol and aimed at a burly laborer who carried bricks in his hands. The inspector opened fire and shot the man through the groin.

Six shots were fired. A riot call was sent in to the police, and the fire departments and a force of police and firemen were soon on the scene.

The man who did the shooting was arrested, but several rioters who were seized by the police were released.

The labor union men who were in the parade evidently thought that they had the right of way over the streets of San Francisco, for when the cars of the United Railroads attempted to break through the procession there was trouble, and what had been an orderly parade turned into a riot.

The cars of the United Railroads had stopped while the parade was in progress, but when the marchers began to disperse the cars began running. There was a dense crowd at Ferries, and the union resented the attempt to run the cars.

When the police jumped in to quiet the riot, a number of them, as soon as they made arrests, were set upon by the labor union paraders and mobbed. One policeman said afterwards: "It took twenty officers to make a single arrest."

Drowning at Windsor.

Windsor, Sept. 3.—Albert Jubenville, aged 24, son of J. P. Jubenville, inland revenue officer, was drowned in the Detroit River here yesterday. The young man was engaged in helping a crew raise the G. T. R. car ferry Huron when he slipped off a raft.

The body has not been recovered.

Prince Leaves for Falls.

New York, Sept. 3.—Prince Welham's visit to New York came to a close Sunday with a sight-seeing dash over the city that carried him from Harlem to Staten Island and back again.

The royal guest left last night for Niagara Falls.

George Sippi, who is dead at Winnipeg, was the son of the late Dr. Sippi, for many years bursar of the London insane asylum.

THE WIARTON TRAGEDY.

Men Who Wrecked the Tent Now Appear In Court.

Wiarton, Sept. 3.—Nine of the men who wrecked the tent of Agnes Thomas, who is now in Walkerton jail charged with manslaughter in the death of Philip Gilbert, appeared before Police Magistrate Miller at noon yesterday and were remanded until to-day at 10 o'clock, when all will be arraigned on the charge of holding a tumultuous assembly.

The criminal code provides as punishment for the above offence one year penal servitude.

The man who appeared yesterday were: Andrew Hastings, John Lancaster, William Lancaster, Walter Lancaster, Joseph Lancaster, Robert Lancaster, James Corcoran, Melvin Moyer, Albert Tilley.

All are laboring men engaged at various day jobs in this town.

The Lancasters are all members of the same family.

It will be remembered that it was to Lancasters' house that the body of Philip Gilbert was taken immediately after the shooting. Lancaster at the inquest swore that he knew none of the men who brought the body to his home.

James Corcoran carried Gilbert to the Lancaster house.

Following the appearance in court of the above, it was said last night that the following have also been served with summonses to appear today on the same charge and for being members of the gang who witnessed the tragedy: Alexander Elliott, Sidney Lee, Joseph Lee, George Lee.

Startling facts concerning the tragedy are gradually coming to light.

The most sensational of these is that the mob was organized on the night of Aug. 20 to wreck the home of John Smith, a laborer.

Philip Gilbert, the dead man, was the chief mover in the plot. For years a feud had existed between him and Smith.

It is said that Smith had been living with disreputable women for some time. He was arrested and the case was adjourned for two weeks. At the expiration of that time he was dismissed, the charges against him not being substantiated.

In the meantime Smith caused much talk about Gilbert renting a house which belonged to the latter to the Thomas woman.

Gilbert's enmity grew into hatred. On the night on which he met his death, with the above-mentioned men, plans were laid to wreck Smith's place. The crowd started out.

On the way to the Smith place, someone said:

"Let us wreck Ag. Thomas's tent, too."

The row then started, the particulars of which were made sensational by the shooting of Philip Gilbert.

Provincial Detective Reburn has been here for a week and it is as a result of his work that the summonses have been issued.

The Ideal Laxative for Children

Mothers cannot be too careful in what they give children to move the bowels. Calomel, cascara, senna, salts, cathartic pills, castor oil, and purging mineral waters irritate the bowels—upset the stomach—and eventually lead up to chronic non-action of the bowels—Constipation.

Fruit-a-tives

are the finest medicine in the world for children.

It is just like giving the little ones apples, oranges, figs and prunes — because "Fruit-a-tives" ARE the juices of these fruits—but so combined that the medicinal action is increased many times.

Fruit-a-tives are perfectly safe for the children. Keep a box always in the house.

50c. a box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price, if your druggist does not handle them. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ON THE FLORIDA SPECIAL.

By Philip Kean.

Copyrighted, 1907, by P. C. Eastment.

Miss Carstairs was not so old or so sophisticated that she was dead to the delights of having three bunches of violets, two boxes of candy and a bundle of magazines piled up on the seat next to her. Seemingly unconscious of the glances that had followed her as she came in, she nevertheless seated herself in her chair with the feeling that she was a person of importance and one whose popularity was evidenced by the number and value of her going away gifts.

As if the gods had not been good enough, however, just as the train pulled out and Richard Marston held her hand in a last farewell, the porter staggered in bearing a huge hamper, fruit filled and flower decorated, such a hamper as one sees only in the tropical paradise of millionaires.

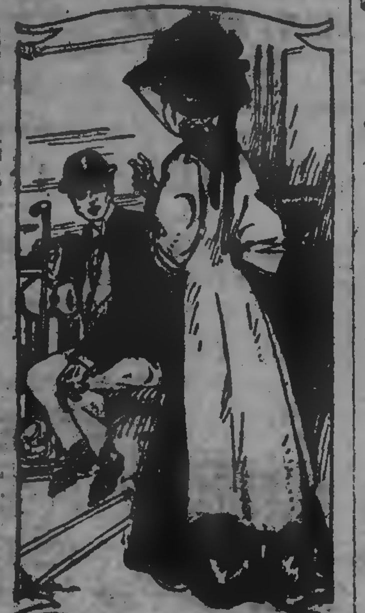
Marston eyed it jealously.

"Such a display of money," he criticised.

"It's beautiful," Miss Carstairs assured him.

"Oh, well, my violets won't have a chance now," but it was a question rather than an assertion, and Miss Carstairs said, "How do you know?" And that was encouragement, or would have been from anybody but Miss Carstairs.

"I've half a mind to go on with you to Daytona," Marston hesitated, and Miss Carstairs said "Oh, do!" and that settled it. Marston went to find the conductor and get a chair, and as there wasn't any but the one next to Helen the porter lifted the bunches of violets and the two boxes of candy and the hamper of fruit and the bundle of magazines and carried them to the end of the car and piled them where the passengers eyed them and then screwed their necks to get a better view of Miss Carstairs, all of which that young lady enjoyed as much as she enjoyed the distinction of having Richard Marston for a traveling companion.



"DON'T JOKE," HE SAID HOARSELY. "I AM PUNISHED ENOUGH."

"Think of my hobnobbing with a celebrity," she said.

"'Of the making of books there is no end,'" Marston quoted sententiously. "Think rather of my traveling with a beauty."

"And both of us as poor as poor," Helen sighed.

Marston looked at her. "I wonder why you say that?" he asked. "What difference does it make"—

Helen stared at him. "I thought"—she gasped.

"That I wanted to marry you," he finished for her. "But I don't!" and he settled back in his chair and looked out toward the line of the tropical shore, where a few cocoanut palms were silhouetted against a purple sea.

"Oh!" Helen's sense of importance had departed. Suddenly she felt immeasurably insignificant, but this feeling was succeeded by one of intense indignation.

"Of all things!" she ejaculated.

"Well, I know it's unusual for a man to withdraw a proposition of that kind in ten minutes, and I know I said some pretty insistent things just before the train left, but I've changed my mind. It's usually a woman's prerogative," was his easy way of getting out of it, "but this time it's a man's, and I've changed my mind."

For the first time in her life Miss Carstairs could not meet the situation. She simply sat there with her cheeks burning and hated him.

Curiosity getting the better of her, however, she asked:

"But why?"

"That thing," Marston said succinctly and nodded toward the hamper. "To think you could take a thing like that from—Deering!"

Miss Carstairs felt better. She could meet jealousy.

"But I couldn't help it, could I?" was her innocent query. "I couldn't tell the porter to drop the basket on the platform."

"But I was so sure you had turned him down," Marston complained, "positively, you know—ever at the Breakers last night, after the dance."

"I tried to—"

"And couldn't?"

She nodded.

"Too many inducements? Country house, town house, trips to Europe, diamonds—O Lord?" Marston groaned as he finished the catalogue.

"No." She turned from him to a contemplation of the scenery, and for a time they rode in silence, passing beyond the long line of palms to the orange groves—brilliant stretches of yellow and green that filled the car with the fragrance of wedding bouquets.

Suddenly Marston flung out, "What was it that kept you from turning him down positively, Helen?"

She leaned forward and spoke with conviction.

"I might do worse than marry Deering."

"A pork packer."

"It's better to marry a pork packer than to have nothing to pack," she informed him.

Marston fixed her with a stern eye.

"I tell you right now, Helen," he said, "that I won't run this race in competition with Deering. I don't get in the same class. You can give him up or give me up."

Helen reached over and touched the electric bell. "Will you bring me some telegraph blanks?" she said to the porter when he came.

"And now will you lend me a pencil?" she asked Marston as she fluttered the leaves of the yellow pad.

"What are you going to do?" Marston questioned as he handed it to her.

"I am going to telegraph to Deering," she said. "I told him that I would say 'yes' or 'no' by telegraph."

Marston went white.

"Don't do anything rash, Helen," he warned.

"I shall do as I please," said Miss Carstairs, and he leaned back and snapped out, "Oh, of course."

She sat with the pencil poised. "I wish you'd toss a penny for me," she said at last. "Heads I do it—tails I don't."

"I will do nothing of the kind."

"Oh, well, don't!" She scribbled a hasty word and reached for the bell. But Marston stopped her. "What have you written?" he demanded sternly.

The other passengers were growing speculative as to the actions of the handsome young couple. Helen, suddenly conscious of their observation, commanded:

"Go up there and get me one of my boxes of candy and some fruit. People will think you are proposing to me."

"I am. Will you marry me, Helen?"

"Not until you get my candy."

He came back, staggering under Deering's hamper, and passed the porter going out, with a telegraph blank in his hand.

Marston dropped the hamper on the seat in front of Miss Carstairs and hurried after the porter.

And then Helen waited. A half hour passed—three-quarters. She grew worried. Did he care enough to hurt himself in any way? It wasn't like Richard to kill himself for disappointed love.

She rose and went through the train. The eyes of the other passengers followed her. She walked with ease and lightness, and from the topmost wave of her brown hair to the tip of her tan boots she was absolutely correct, modish, beautiful.

She found Marston on the observation platform, with his moody eyes fixed on the shining rails that seemed to slip from beneath the train to end in the sunset.

As she came up behind him she saw something in his face that touched her with tenderness. She dropped her hands on his shoulders. "Oh, little bad boy," she said, "you read the telegram!"

"Don't joke," he said hoarsely. "I am punished enough."

"If you had not been so—so impertinent," Miss Carstairs informed him, "I should have told you before that I promised Deering to wire whether I had decided to—to marry you, not whether I was going to marry him."

Marston gazed at her in a dazed way. "Then your 'yes' meant"—

"That I am going to marry you, little bad boy," said Miss Carstairs coolly.

A Horological Curiosity.

Japan possesses a remarkable timepiece. It is contained in a frame three feet wide and five feet long, representing a noonday landscape of great beauty. In the foreground plum and cherry trees and rich plants appear in full bloom. In the rear is seen a hill, gradual in ascent, from which apparently flows a cascade, admirably imitated in crystal. From this point a threadlike stream meanders, encircling rocks and islands in its windings, and finally losing itself in a faroff stretch of woodland. In a miniature sky a golden sun turns on a silver wire, striking the hours on silver gongs as it passes. Each hour is marked on the frame by a creeping tortoise, which serves the place of a hand. A bird of exquisite plumage warbles at the close of each hour, and as the song ceases a mouse sallies forth from a neighboring grotto and, scampering over the hill to the garden, is soon lost to view.

BOWSER HAS SCHEME

Finds Man Who Has Invented Way to Reduce Coal Bills.

MAKES A TEST IN FURNACE.

Formula Fails to Bring About the Desired Result, and Experiment Ends in a Fight—Mrs. B. Tries to Console Disheartened Husband.

[Copyright, 1907, by Homer Sprague.]

At 2 o'clock the other afternoon a strange man called at the Bowser house and asked if he was home yet and when answered in the negative said that he had an appointment with him for that hour and would wait. While he sat down on the front steps Mrs. Bowser cudgeled her brains as to what he might want. He was a long, lean, lank and solemn looking man. He seemed a man who had been disappointed in the world and had lost all hope. She couldn't think he was a man who had a cow or a balloon to sell.

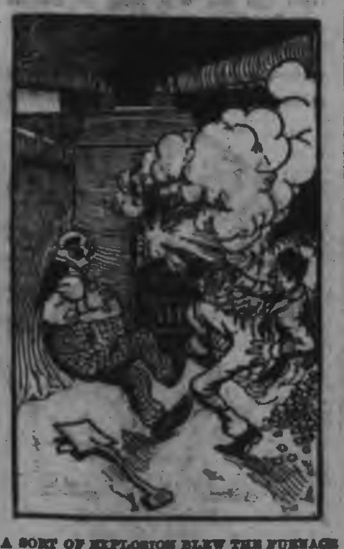
The mystery had lasted only a quarter of an hour, when Mr. Bowser came home. He was walking fast and had a business air about him. After saying a few words to the man on the steps he entered the house, and of course Mrs. Bowser asked him what was going to happen.

"The man out on the steps is a Mr. Rasher," he replied. "I have been talking with him all the forenoon. He is the man who invented the 'catch anything' trap. It will catch anything from a bug to an elephant, and the man who beat him out of his patent has made a million dollars out of it."

"Is that why he looks so down in the mouth?" asked Mrs. Bowser.

He Was an Inventor.

"That and other things. He is the inventor of the double ended nursing bottle for twins. He brought out the machine to throw cats off the fence.



A SORT OF EXPLOSION BLEW THE FURNACE DOOR OPEN.

He invented pasteboard soles for shoes, and all in all he has brought out a dozen good things. He has trusted men, and they have robbed him of the fruits of his labor."

"And has he now invented an India rubber barrel or something else he wants you to take up with him?"

"Don't try to be sarcastic at this early stage of the game. Mr. Rasher dropped into the office this morning to see me on business. From the first instant he set eyes on me he felt that he could trust me. As he told me later, I have a frank and innocent countenance that is an index of my soul. After we had talked for an hour he told me that he was the inventor of a patent fuel that is going to make millions of dollars for some one."

"But there are half a dozen men making the same claim," protested Mrs. Bowser, "and as far as we know nothing great has come of it."

"Never you mind about the half dozen men and their claims. Their names are not Rasher. This man knows what he is about. When he says that he has a fuel that is going to revolutionize the world and drive 10,000 coal dealers to suicide you can get ready for something to happen. What he wants is money enough to get this patent. He wants me to advance the amount and will give me half his rights. I am not to advance a cent until after I have satisfied myself that the fuel is all right. Have you any fault to find with that arrangement?"

"Why, no, but I hope you will be thoroughly satisfied before you go into such a thing."

Considered Him Honest.

"Certainly I shall, Mrs. Bowser, I am no ten-year-old boy. I think the man is honest and sincere, but I shall still have an eye on him. If he's shamming he'll find a man as smart as he is."

"But how are you going to find out about the fuel?"

"We are going to burn some in the furnace. It's pretty hot weather, but I guess we can stand it for an hour or so. I shall insist on the severest tests."

Mrs. Bowser thought there might be something in it and raised no further objections. She had read that others were experimenting and why not Mr. Bowser? While he was getting into an old suit of clothes Mr. Rasher disappeared for a few minutes. Then a horse and wagon drove up with three or four bags full of something that were carried down cellar. Then there was a mixture. As near as Mr. Bowser could determine, for Mr. Rasher wasn't giving things away yet, the bags contained ashes, sand and lime.

When they had been mixed together a powder was sprinkled over the heap, and it was dampened with water. Three or four old boxes were knocked to pieces and a fire started in the furnace, and when there was a good blaze going the inventor said:

"We will now shovel the mixture in and you will see something wonderful."

The wonderful thing occurred two minutes later. A sort of explosion blew the furnace door open, and a great puff of acrid smoke went floating all through the house. At the same moment all the fire in the furnace went out, and Mrs. Bowser called from the head of the cellar stairs:

"Mr. Bowser, what on earth is happening down there?"

"Nothing. It was just a back draft from the furnace, probably by a rat's nest in the chimney. There is no call for you to get excited."

"It may be that I didn't get in the right powder," explained Mr. Rasher as he peered into the furnace. "No; I think I didn't. If you will hand me $2 I will go and get the other thing."

"But, man, don't you know the proper ingredients?" asked Mr. Bowser. "Haven't you got them written down?"

"No. I might lose the memoranda, you see. I want to be careful this time. Being a little excited, I may have asked for the wrong powder."

He took the money and was gone ten minutes and then came back with a five cent packet of Rochelle salts in his hand and let Mr. Bowser see the label on it to show that he trusted him. He didn't return the change from the bill. The fire was rekindled, the salts sprinkled on the heap, and after ten minutes a shovelful of the mixture was dumped in, with the observation:

Must Close All Drafts.

"We now have sufficient fuel in the furnace to last for a week. As soon as things get redhot we must close all the drafts."

But things did not get redhot. There was a sputtering and a stewing inside the furnace for two or three minutes, and then there seemed to be nothing further doing. Mr. Bowser and Mr. Rasher sat on their boxes in silence and expectation, and the gas meter uttered a sort of wail and registered another 500 feet. Finally the inventor arose, tiptoed over to the furnace and opened the door.

All inside was blackness and darkness. There was no redhotness—not by a jugful.

"The thing don't seem to pan out," said Mr. Bowser in hard tones.

"No, but I see the reason. I should have burned a certain powder to clear the flues of dust first. In my haste and anxiety I forgot that. If you will give me $2 I will run over to the drug store."

"What's the name of the powder?"

"Excuse me, but I will tell you later on. Once the dust is out of the flues all will be well. You might be shaking the stuff out while I am gone."

Mr. Bowser gave up grudgingly. He was losing faith in Mr. Rasher and dreading Mrs. Bowser's words and looks. The inventor departed, visited the drug store and a saloon and returned after awhile with a lump of something in his hand.

"I thought you went for powder?" queried Mr. Bowser.

Meant a Lump.

"Did I say powder? I often say that when I mean lump. We will be all right now."

"Isn't there some change coming to me?"

"I believe so, but I can't stop just now. In with your paper and kindlings."

When a fire had been lighted once more the powder was thrown in, and the men stood back. They needn't have done so. That lump of something was only chalk and had no idea of exploding. After two minutes some more of the patent fuel was shoveled in, and Mr. Rasher smiled and said:

"There won't be any more disappointments. Hear the furnace roar?"

But there was no roar. There came a sound like a lean woman frying lean bacon over a corncob fire, and then there was a flicker, and all was as still as the grave. Mr. Bowser looked into the furnace to find the same old blackness. As he turned to ask Mr. Rasher what in ! ! ! ! he meant by ! ! ! ! the inventor made for the stairs. There was a yell, and Mr. Bowser made after him. The fleeing man ran through the kitchen hall and out of the area gate, but before he could leap the front gate Mr. Bowser caught him. Fifteen minutes later as Mrs. Bowser was putting salve on a skinned nose and washing a bitten ear she quietly observed:

"Never mind, dear. You have got a shovelful of sand and lime left down cellar, and we will try and get along some way until you can invest in a new burglar alarm and make $1,000,000."

"Well," replied the professor, "I may be said to have a fair knowledge of Latin, yes."

"I know everybody says you have. I wish you would tell me what 'vollx' means. Nobody that I have asked seems to have heard the word."

"If there is any such word as vollx, madam, of which I have serious doubts, I certainly do not know what it means."

"You surprise me, professor. A man of your attainments ought to know that vollx means Vol IX."

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win, Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. PUBLIC SCHOOLS RE-OPENED TO-DAY

Large Attendance of Pupils at Different Institutions

With the exception of the King Edward and North Ward, the public schools of the city re-opened for the fall term this morning. There was an exceedingly large attendance of pupils at the different institutions, larger in fact than at any time in the previous history of the city. It is expected that the North Ward and King Edward schools will open on Monday of next week. The attendance at the Separate schools and at the convent was also very large.

The pupils were only retained for about an hour this morning, but tomorrow they will get down to work in earnest.

STAFF TO BE INCREASED

New Teacher to be Engaged for Collegiate Institute.

Another teacher is to be added to the staff of the local Collegiate Institute. The engagement of a new teacher will be one of the matters dealt with at the meeting of the Board of Education to-night. Several applications for the position are in and it is not expected that there will be any difficulty in making a suitable selection. At present the Collegiate staff consists of eight teachers, but so great has been the increase in the attendance of pupils that another teacher is required.

THE "OGEMAH" HAD ACCIDENT

Will Not Likely Run Again This Season

The steamer Ogemah of the Trent Valley Navigation Company, is out of commission owing to an accident to her engine and it is not likely that she will be put in service again until next season. She broke down near Bridgenorth on Friday and was tied up at the Bridgenorth wharf until she was towed away on Saturday. Something went wrong with the engine and it will require a considerable amount of repairing.

The steamer Esturion has taken the Ogemah's route and there will be no change in the boat service.

Special Excursion Train on C. P. R. from Owen Sound to Toronto Exhibition, Jumped the Track on Caledon Mountain, Near Orangeville

Special to the Review.

A special despatch to the Review received over the wire of Messrs. J. R. Heintz & Co., states that a C.P.R. passenger train carrying an excursion from Owen Sound to the Toronto exhibition was wrecked at Caledon, near Orangeville, today. Six people were killed and twenty-two injured.

Orangeville, Sept. 3.—A disastrous wreck occurred this morning at 9.45 a.m. on the C.P.R. Five coaches crowded with men and women every seat filled and people standing in the aisles followed the locomotive, that jumped the track on the horseshoe curve, nine miles below Orangeville. The train was an exhibition at 6.30 a.m. The locomotive was in special, timed to leave Markdale charge of Engineer Hart. At 9.45 the train pulled into Orangeville one hour late. Less than half an hour later the locomotive jumped the track on the down grade of the horseshoe curve of the Caledon mountain. The five crowded cars were piled onto the locomotive. Not less than three hundred were in the cars that left the track, and of these at least two hundred and fifty were injured and many of them fatally, and eleven were killed outright.

The engineer and fireman stayed with their engine and were seriously injured. Among the dead are Mr. Banks of Markdale, Mr. Tucker, Markdale, and Mr. John Thornton of Wallis Falls.

The only explanation of the disaster, is that the engineer was trying to make up time, and took the curve at a speed beyond the limit of safety.

A special train was sent from Toronto conveying medical assistance and a dozen nurses.

G.N.W. DESPATCH.

Orangeville, Sept. 3.—Word received here of the wrecking of a special train from Owen Sound, which passed through here at nine a.m., containing six coaches. Five cars left the track, the one containing most of the Orangeville people, remaining on the track. Seven bodies have been taken from the wreck and brought to Orangeville. A large number were injured. Harry Halbert, son of James Halbert, nightwatchman here had a leg broken. T. J. Robinson of North Bay, formerly of Orangeville was badly injured, as were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas of Markdale, father and mother of A. C. Douglas, druggist, Orangeville, badly injured.

McWilliams Awarded $2,572 In Case Against Dickson Co.

His Honor Judge Weller made his report as referee in the big case of McWilliams vs. The Dickson Lumber Co., as to the amount the defendants should pay the plaintiffs for logs. The referee awarded McWilliams $2.572. This case has been standing for a long time and is familiar to most people. It was a suit for $3000 entered by Theodore McWilliams against the Dickson Co., as the balance of $9000 which he claimed some logs were worth which the Dickson Co. received from him. The company paid $6000 but the plaintiff would not accept that.

The case was heard more than a year ago by the late Chief Justice Street. The defendants put in two reasons for defence. First that they did not owe the money, and along with this they entered several objections to the plaintiff's case. This was settled by the trial judge in favor of the plaintiff. The decision was appealed and the Court upheld the trial judge.

The second defence was that if the company did owe the plaintiff for the logs they had already paid him enough. This question was refered to a referee. The two parties consented to Judge Weller. But owing to the appeal he was delayed for several months and to-day made his official report. This gives McWilliams $8572 for the timber, while he claimed $9000.

The trial judge reserved his decision as to costs of the action until the referee's report was received, and now another judge will have to take it up.

Peterborough Man Saw Big Bridge Over St. Lawrence Fall

Mr. Wm. Faux, an employee of the Canada Foundry Co., as a bridge builder, arrived in the city last night to visit for a few days at his old home. Mr. Faux has been employed on the erection of a bridge near Montreal and took a run down to Quebec to see the big bridge. He was alone and walked out on the bridge to where the man were working. After looking at the structure for awhile and watching the men at work he suddenly heard bolts cracking and he said to the workmen "you want to get away from here, there's bolts cutting." The men replied that there was no danger whatever. Nevertheless Mr. Faux started back for the land and had only nicely reached it when a portion of the bridge fell with a terrific crash carrying at least 100 men down with it. The water in the river at that point is 240 feet deep and the bottom of the bridge was 240 above that making a total fall of nearly 500 feet. Mr. Faux was one of the very few who escaped and he is glad he walked away when he heard the cracking bolts.

WAS MORE THAN HE EXPECTED

Caught Fine 'Lunge While Fishing for Minnows.

Fishing is a sport that has many peculiarities. At times, the most expensive line and hook and bait, that is recommended to tempt the most wary members of the finny tribe, fails to give results, while on other occasions, fine catches are made under most unusual conditions with any old kind of a hook and line. An example of the latter was furnished at Chemong yesterday morning, when Ray Best, pulled out a fine six pound 'lunge, while fishing for minnows to use for bait. He was fishing off the stone pier at the east end of the boom, and after pulling out a couple of sunfish the 'lunge grabbed the hook and took such a good hold that the fish was landed without much trouble although the hook was only a No. 1 minnow hook, and a fine, a light one. The 'lunge was a fine one and other disciples of Isaac Walton at Chemong, are longing for equally good luck.

PRESBYTERY HELD SPECIAL MEETING

But Calls Extended to two Clergymen Were Left Over.

A special meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery was held yesterday morning in St. Andrew's hall, when there were the following present:—Revs. Wm. Johnston, Millbrook; E. A. Thompson (clerk) Havelock; D. D. McDonald, Keene; Geo. McLennan, Norwood; Dr. Marsh, Springville; J. C. Reeves, Campbellford; Jas. Ross, Dr. Tawling, J. G. Potter, H. J. Keith, city, and Messrs. Jas. Graham, Havelock, and Robt. Harrison and Wm. Fowler, Peterborough.

Rev. Wm. Johnson was appointed Moderator, pro tem.

The meeting was called to consider a call from Havelock Presbyterian church to Rev. F. D. Roxburgh, of of Smithville. This call was laid aside, the call not being sufficiently signed by the members of the church. The consideration of the call to Rev. C. S. Lord, of Grafton, to Fenelon Falls, was also left over.

The meeting then adjourned, to meet again on Tuesday, September 24th, at Knox church, Peterborough.

TRIP WILL LONG BE REMEMBERED

Miss Birdie Thompson Home Again After Delightful Outing

Miss Birdie Thompson, Peterborough's representative in the Toronto World's trip to London, has arrived home and greatly enjoyed her outing to the British metropolis and other points in the old land. Miss Thompson spent several days with friends in Montreal on her way home. She speaks in glowing terms of the manner in which they were treated by the "World" during the trip, and saw many things of interest in both London and Paris, the two principal points visited. The "Maple Leaves," as the World party were called, were a jolly crowd, and the trip across the sea will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to be among the participants.

HOW COLLISION TOOK PLACE

Mr. McAllister, mate on the steamer "Monarch" called at the Review office on Saturday and gave an explanation of the collision of the steamers Otonabee and Monarch on Thursday afternoon. He stated that the Monarch passed the Otonabee at Savigny's Landing. It was shallow water and the Otonabee had to go slow while the Monarch did not have to. A half a mile this side of Bensfort, the Monarch was ahead of the Otonabee and kept her course. The Otonabee attempted to pass on her port side, and in doing so, crowded the stern of the Monarch out in the stream, so that it put her bow to shore. She ran on a log. The Otonabee reversed her port engines, but not soon enough to avoid a collision at the stern. No serious damage was done.

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station, and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the Ward number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

Brockville ratepayers voted down a by-law yesterday to raise $9,000 for the improvement of local bridges.

Bad First Innings Lost Peterborough the Game

Port Hope Won First Game of the Series, Score Being 9-4—Big Crowd Was Sorely Disappointed

A bad first innings in which none too brilliant pitching, slow fielding and numerous fumbles were conspicuous lost Saturday's game to Port Hope at Riverside Park. Incidentally Peterborough's chances of landing the Midland League championship received a severe jolt as it was confidently expected that the locals would win on their own grounds. But it was another case of the unexpected happening and, as a result considerable Peterborough money has gone to rusticate in the town by the lake. The score was 9—4, Port Hope having a comfortable margin to the good, but six of their runs were obtained in the first innings, and after that it was a see-saw all the way through.

A big crowd saw the game, the largest of the season, in fact. Over a thousand were in attendance and they were ready to root for Peterborough with a vengeance, but sad to relate they found little to enthuse over. With the exception of a bright spot here and there, the Peterborough team seemed off color and gave a somewhat disappointing exhibition. They were slow on the bases and their fielding was not up to the standard. Just when hits meant runs too they were unable to land on Surphlis' serpentine twists and there was considerable gnashing of teeth as a result.

The management of the local team has come in for much criticism since the game and it looks as if baseball has been given another setback in Peterborough. It was just catching on nicely too, and it is regrettable that what looks like a breach of faith should have occurred. There's no use trying to get around the fact that there are a lot of people in Peterborough who are sore on the management of the ball team. Some of them lost considerable money but this would have been all right if they had been given clearly to understand what they were betting on. To be more explicit, it may be stated that during the week the public was given to understand that Quinlan was to do the twirling for the locals and, as far as could be learned, up to ten minutes before the game started, there had been no change made, Quinlan being slated for the mound duty. At the last moment, however, Burns was put in the box and Quinlan was left on the bench. The game started and during the first innings the visitors tallied six runs, while Peterborough failed to score. Burns was not altogether to blame for the heavy run getting as he pitched fair ball and had the support been what it should, it is not likely that there would have been any scoring. Burns was touched for four singles, and walked two men, one when the bases were filled, and there were three juicy errors that let the Port Hopers canter home. Burns quit the dump at the end of the innings, going to centre field, while Connors dropped out of the game Quinlan went in the box and held the visitors down to three hits for the remainder of the match. Three runs got in, however, loose fielding again being the cause.

Surphlis did the twirling for Port Hope and while touched up freely managed to keep the hits scattered pretty well and although in several bad holes managed, through luck or good generalship, to pull himself out without much damage being done.

The visitors had two new men, Ross and Britton, of Toronto, and they showed up well. The whole team worked well and deserved their victory.

For the Petes, Burns did great work with the hickory, having two singles and two doubles. Murphy and Hickey also swatted for a two-bagger each. Anderson was all to the good as usual, while Burridge caught his usual fine game.

Walsh, of Toronto, umpired with every satisfaction and was without doubt the best umpire seen here this season.

The following tells the story of the game:—

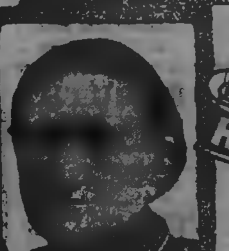
5 DOCTORS FAILED



CHRONIC ULCERS COVERED HER BODY & CRIPPLED HER.

HOW CURE CAME

How Zam-Buk cures chronic ulcers and sores is seen by the following experience of Mrs. Beers, of L'Orignal (Ont.) She says:—"Some years ago ulcers and sores broke out on my legs and different parts of my body, and spread to an alarming extent, causing me great agony. I began to try salves, oils and medicines of various kinds, but the sores refused to heal. I then consulted a medical man, who treated me for some time, but the ulceration continued just as bad as ever. Another medical man was consulted, then another and one after another until I had tried five different Doctors. All gave me up in despair. The ulceration and the skin disease were getting worse all the time, so I then went into the Hospital. I was there five months, and came away very little better. I next went to another Hospital, and stayed there three months,—again with no success. By this time my legs were covered with sores, my bones seemed all picked out with ulcers, and I could not walk without the use of a cane and a crutch. I was in such a shocking condition that I was longing for death.

"I saw a report of the value of Zam-Buk and I obtained a small supply. This did me so much good that I went to Ottawa and bought a further supply. A few weeks trial of this wonderful balm healed the ulcers, removed the sores, and I am to-day completely cured.

"For many years I was obliged to use a cane and crutch to walk. Now I have thrown both cane and crutch away, and feel as well and vigorous as at the age of 30."

Do You Suffer from Any of These?

Zam-Buk heals all skin diseases—eczema, scaly sores, ulcers, ringworms, poisoned wounds, barber's rash, pustules, face blemishes due to blood poison, rheumatism and neuralgia. It heals cuts and lacerations, stops bleeding, cures piles, eases fistula, reduces enlarged veins. It cures burns and scalds, and it is an excellent "first aid" remedy. It is highly antiseptic. Jumped the Track at Leaside; Many Local People on Board

The several hundred passengers on board the C.P.R. local from Toronto last night had a very narrow escape and it might easily have proved very serious. The train known as No. 8, pulled out of the Union station on time and at the Don a second engine was put on the rear to help up the grade to Leaside. The train was running well until it struck the switch just on the brow of the hill, when the engine jumped the track and ran along on the ties for some distance and then buried its side wheels in the road bed. The front trucks of the baggage car also left the tracks, but it was soon pulled on again. The mishap caused about an hour's delay, but fortunately no one was hurt, and it is doubtful if the engine is damaged very much. Another engine was secured and the local train pulled into the station here about a quarter to ten o'clock.

Young Lady Fell off the Train; Awful Death Narrowly Escaped

A young lady residing at Murtle, had an experience last night which she will not soon forget. She was on board the local C.P.R. from Toronto, which was running an hour late, and as the train was pulling into the station, she went on the rear platform where she stood. Just as the train stopped the engineer applied the air brakes, or did something which jerked the cars considerably, and the girl was thrown off head first, falling between the platform and the trucks of the cars. Fortunately the train had nearly stopped, and also that she had sufficient presence of mind to lie perfectly still, or she would certainly have been cut to pieces.

The conductor was on the car adjoining, and made a dash to the girl's rescue, but when the train stopped she got up herself and walked away unhurt. She may have been bruised a little and shaken up somewhat, but she sustained no serious injury in any way. The conductor fully expected to pick the girl up dead, and said that had she moved her head an inch the oil box on the wheel would have caught it and crushed her scalp.

CONVENTION WAS GRAND SUCCESS

Ald. H. Phelan Home from Big C. M. B. A. Gathering

The C.M.B.A. triennial Council which met in Montreal last week was a decided success remarked Ald. H. Phelan to the Review to-day. He, along with Mr. T. P. O'Connor, was present. There were 480 delegates in attendance, representatives being there from Sydney, Cape Breton, to Vancouver, B.C. The next triennial Council will meet in Ottawa in 1910. Fort William, Quebec, Peterborough and Ottawa were after the gathering, but the capital won the day. Mr. Phelan put up a strong fight for Peterborough. During his stay in the city he was the guest at dinner of Hon. James McShane, formerly Mayor of Montreal, and now chairman of the Montreal Harbor Board. Mr. Phelan had the pleasure of proposing Mr. J. J. Behan, of Kingston, who was re-elected Grand Secretary, and he also seconded the nomination of Rev. Father Burke, who was elected Grand Trustee. Considerable important business came up and certain matters of moment were left in the hands of the executive. The Montreal branch of the C.M.B.A. royally entertained the delegates, and they were given a decided treat in the shape of a visit to Dominion park on Tuesday. In the morning there was a big procession to St. James cathedral, where Archbishop Bruchesi celebrated high mass. The parade was an imposing one and was witnessed by thousands of spectators. Mr. Phelan is chancellor of Branch No. 30, C.M.B.A., and will present a report of the proceedings at the next meeting.

BIRTH

WHITE.—At 38 Gilmour street, on Saturday, August 31st, 1907, to Mr. and Mrs. T. P. White, 6935 Perry avenue, Chicago, U.S., a son.

PASSED AWAY IN HAVELOCK

Death of Allan Jillard From Attack of Typhoid Fever.

Havelock, Sept 2.

Mr. Allan Jillard, an employee of the C.P.R., and a much respected citizen, died of typhoid fever at his residence on Ottawa street to-day. The deceased with his family emigrated to Canada from England only a couple years ago and has resided in Havelock during that time where he has formed many fast friends among the C.P.R. employees. He took ill about a week ago with typhoid fever, his son Allan also contracting it. The deceased leaves to mourn his loss a wife and four children, all under the age of 8. His death is felt keenly among his many friends in Havelock. The funeral took place from the family residence to the Maple Grove cemetery on Tuesday, Sept. 3rd.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Late Mrs. Turner Was Laid at Rest

Funeral Monday Morning From Her Late Residence to Port Hope

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. J. Turner, sr., was held Monday morning. Services were conducted at the family residence on Charlotte street by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt and the remains were conveyed to the G.T.R. station where the 8.30 train carried them to Port Hope, where interment took place. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt also conducted a brief service at the grave. The pall bearers were the four sons, Messrs. John, Reginald, Archilles and Webber.

The late Mrs. Turner was 51 years of age, not 61 as was reported in Saturday's issue. Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., and his four sons wish to express their gratitude to the many friends who sent tokens of sympathy.

THE PASSENGERS WERE HUNGRY

C. P. R. Fed Toronto Exhibition Visitors at This Station Sunday and Monday.

The second section of the C.P.R. early morning train was several hours late Sunday morning and Monday morning and the passengers all had to be served with a lunch at the station here. Mr. McEwen Spence, popular restaurant man who is in McCallum's old stand, got the order for both services, and although he had only an hour's time he had over 750 sandwiches and lots of coffee at the station when the train pulled in. The passengers Sunday morning were nearly famished and while the luncheon was furnished by the company the passengers were offering all kinds of prices for something to eat. The majority of those on board were bound for the Toronto exhibition and had been travelling for several hours, many since the night before. But the sandwiches and hot coffee fixed them up all right until they got to Toronto.

DRIVER NICHOLLS WAS LAID TO REST

Funeral Was Attended by Many of His Late Comrades.

The remains of the late Robert Hamilton Nicholls, who died on Friday last, were borne to their last resting place in Little Lake cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The funeral was a military one, the deceased being a member of the 24th Field Battery. Many were the sorrowing friends who turned out to pay their last respects to the memory of the departed. The street to the deceased's late residence on Dalhousie street was thronged with people and there must have been fully one hundred vehicles in the cortege.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. H. M. Manning, pastor of Charlotte street Methodist church. The officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the 24th Field Battery assembled at the East City Hall, and likewise the members of the 57th paraded at the armories. They then proceeded to the funeral.

The solemn procession started shortly after three o'clock, and was a very impressive sight. To the sad but pretty strains of the Dead March in Saul, played by the local Army band, the remains wrapped in the Union Jack and drawn on a gun waggon, were borne away. On either side walked the pall bearers, who were comrades of the late Mr. Nicholls on the 24th. They were Messrs. M. Storey, H. Gilgour, Geo. Lundy, W. Nicholls, J. McNichol and Sheldon Huffman. Then followed Capt. Hall and 1st Lieutenant R. H. Leary and 2nd Lieutenant F. McDonough in charge of them, and then Sergt.-Major Brittain and members of the 57th Regiment. At the grave the usual firing and the bugle calls were given incidental to the burying of a soldier.

The floral tributes were very beautiful and numerous, including many handsome designs.

The family have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends in in their sad bereavement.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, when Rev. Father McColl united in marriage Mr. Walter William Lilley, son of Mr. William Lilley, of this city, and Miss Mary Ann Feeley, daughter of Mr. Ely Feeley, also of Peterborough. Miss Florence Gordon assisted the bride, while the groom was supported by Mr. Leo Tobin. WILL APPOINT AN INSPECTOR

Successor to Mr. D. Walker Will be Chosen This Evening

At a regular meeting of the Board of Education this evening a successor to Mr. D. Walker, the retiring school inspector, will be appointed. It is understood that some ten or twelve applications have been received and as nearly all the applicants have interviewed the trustees personally, the selection of a suitable man to fill the office will be made without delay.

AMUSEMENTS

"KERRY GOW"

No drama has lived so long consecutively as beautiful "Kerry Gow," the sweet love story of Dan O'Hara, the village blacksmith and the pretty colleen, Nora Drew. "Kerry Gow" was written by Fred Marsden, a past master in stage craft, and is the play which brought Joseph Murphy both fame and fortune. Manager U. D. Newell puts "Kerry Gow" before the public this season and when this delightful and refreshing play is seen at the Grand next Friday evening, Bernard Daly will appear as the hero. Mr. Daly has had an extensive experience with many leading stars, last season with Denman Thompson, before that with Chauncey Olcott, and before that with others equally prominent. In the celebrated horse-shoeing scene, Mr. Daly will mould the shoe on the stage, with all the ease of a veteran farrier, for he knows how. Supported by an excellent company of actors and surrounded with an adequate and realistic production, the coming performance of "Kerry Gow" will be a notable feature of this season's attractions.

(Extract From Address of Mr. C. W. Pickell at the Life Insurance Convention, Toronto.)

"You are protecting our wives and children, you are guarding our estates, you are making comfortable our own declining years. GRAND STAND WAS BURNED

Took Fire Shortly After the Ball Game on Saturday

About an hour after the baseball match between Peterborough and Port Hope on Saturday afternoon the grand stand at Riverside park was completely destroyed by fire. It is thought the blaze originated from the dropping of a lighted match or probably a smouldering cigar stub or cigarette. The dryness of the material in the stand, with a little wind caused the fire to spread rapidly and soon all was one mass of flames.

It was about a quarter past six smoke was seen emerging from the north end of the building. An alarm was sent in from the box at the Quaker Oats Co. works. Before the brigade arrived the whole structure was on fire and beyond saving.

Soon two streams were playing on the conflagration, which was prevented from spreading up towards the dressing house.

A large crowd gathered on the grounds and on the Otonabee bridge to witness the blaze, which was an exceedingly pretty sight. The beautiful green trees overhanging the river, backed by the red mass of flames, tended to make a charming picture. Many watching the fire from the bridge were heard to remark what a beautiful scene it presented.

Riverside park is owned by syndicate consisting of Messrs. J. J. Howden, Dr. Wightman and Ald. H. Morgan. The grand stand was comparatively new, having been built about three years ago. It was a fine structure and would seat about five hundred people. The loss is estimated at about $1000, with an insurance of about $300.

The stand will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH

Rev. E. A. Pearson occupied the pulpit of George street church at both services on Sunday. Miss Regor has also returned from her holidays and sang solos both morning and evening.

The Epworth League will hold a regular meeting this evening. The election of officers for the ensuing term will take place.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held to-morrow, Wednesday, evening. The Trustee Board will meet at the close of the service.

The pastor, Rev. F. A. Pearson, will be at the parsonage each Friday evening and will be pleased to meet all those who may care to see him on any matter.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The Session of St. Paul's church will hold a regular monthly meeting this evening.

The prayer meeting will be resumed this week. At the service to-morrow evening Rev. Dr. Talling, interim pastor, will give the first of a series of addresses on "Communion with God."

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

Rev. Dr. Tuffts, an eminent Presbyterian divine from Stellarton, N.S., will preach in St. Paul's church on Sunday next. The services will be held in the body of the edifice, which has been renovated and greatly improved in appearance. It is expected that large congregations will turn out to hear Rev. Dr. Tuffts.

Rev. M. P. Talling, Ph.D., who has been engaged as interim pastor until a regular minister is called, occupied the pulpit at both services on Sunday and preached two earnest, thoughtful sermons which were much appreciated.

KAISER'S STRIKING SPEECH.

Appeals to Socialists to Work for the Common Good.

Berlin, Sept. 3.—It transpired yesterday that Emperor William on Saturday during his visit to the Muenster Monsum, made a most striking speech, which is regarded as being a direct appeal to the Socialists to work together with other classes for the good of the fatherland.

After assuring his audience of his interest in the welfare of all classes, of whatever creed or standing, his Majesty said:

"I inherited from my grandfather a mission to care for the working people, and would like to see a conciliatory spirit extend all over the empire. To whoever is ready to work with me towards this end, I am prepared to give my hand."

The Emperor continued: "During my reign of twenty years I have often had to endure humiliations, inflicted intentionally or unintentionally by others. When I have felt anger overcoming me I have asked myself what was the best means of suppressing it. The only way I have found was of saying to myself, 'They are all men, as I am, and although they humiliate me they have souls illuminated by heaven, whither we shall all some day return, and in their souls there is a portion of the creator.' Whoever thinks thus will always treat his fellow man charitably."

BOYS SHOCKED TO DEATH.

Bodies Hung In Air for Three Hours In Flames.

Buffalo, Sept. 3.—Two Polish lads, Tony, Carola and Guiseppe Zeppa, both about 13 years old, were shocked to death yesterday on a steel tower, which carries high voltage from Niagara Falls power houses to the Lackawanna steel plant.

There was great delay in communicating with the power house to get the current shut off, and for nearly three hours the bodies hung in mid-air with the blue flames playing about them, in plain view of thousands of street car passengers.

Carola first essayed to climb the tower. He touched one of the cables and in a flash was dead. Zeppa bravely went to the rescue of his companion, but the moment he touched his body a flash of blue flame sent him flying across the three power lines, and in an instant he, too, was dead.

Bridge Blown Up.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—A new bridge on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, over Cobry street, Darby, a suburb, was blown up Sunday by unknown persons. The false work of the bridge was completely wrecked by dynamite.

A southbound freight train was approaching at the time, and was flagged by policemen.

Albany Doctor Suicides.

Albany, Sept. 3.—Lying on a couch with a revolver clinched tightly in his right hand, the body of Dr. Lansing B. Wisne, a well-known Albany physician, was found yesterday in the chapel adjoining the Holy Innocents Episcopal Church, of which he is a vestryman.

STATE OF MIMIC WAR.

Twenty Thousand Troops Take Part in Military Manoeuvres.

London, Sept. 3.—A state of warfare, which will continue throughout the week, commenced yesterday morning on the military area known as Salisbury Plain. The troops of one district are being pitted against those of another, 20,000 men of all ranks being engaged, this being the ultra strength of an Aldershot command.

Lieut.-Gen. Ian Hamilton, commander of the southern district, with ten thousand troops, is playing the part of an invader from "Blue Land," described as a country situated several days steaming from "Red Land," upon which shores Hamilton has effected a landing.

The defending force is under the command of Major-Gen. Sir Frederick Stopford. Marlborough is supposed to be the chief harbor on the east coast and the only other place suitable for landing troops are Figdean and Wilton Bay. "Red Land" is supposed to have as its capital "Redtown," which is laid down as situated 40 miles west of Bath.

A certain engagement is assumed to have occurred, and arrangements are understood to have been made for capturing "Red Town." All the various mobilizations, marchings, establishments of garrisons, etc., having been effected the cavalry brigades of the two forces are expected to come in touch to-day. Then the work will go without intermission, as in actual warfare, one phase of the campaign merging itself into another until the problem set for elucidation is solved.

Reminding their men that public spirit led the landholders to place their ground at the disposal of the military authorities, the officers have announced that endeavors have been made to avoid damage and annoyance, and that the game on the land owners preserves, particularly, must not be molested.

POSTMASTERS GET INCREASE.

New Schedule Issued at Ottawa on Liberal Scale.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The salaries of the country postmasters have been increased.

In the past country postmasters have been serving on a minimum salary of $25 a year with 40 per cent. of the first $800 revenue of the office each year, 25 per cent. on all revenue from $800 to $10,000, and 15 per cent. on all revenue over $10,000.

The new scale increases the minimum allowance to $36, with 50 per cent. of the first $1,000 revenue of the office in each year, 30 per cent. on all revenue between $1,000 and $10,000, and $20 on all above $10,000.

At present an extra payment is made postmasters who have to be on duty after 10 p. m. or before 6 a. m. The minimum extra allowance has been $6 and the maximum $60, according to the time employed.

The new plan for extra payment changes the hours to 9 p. m. and 7 a. m., while the minimum allowance is increased to $10 and the maximum extra allowance to $100.

At present there is a forward allowance of 10 per cent. of the revenue of the office when forwarding is done direct and 5 per cent. when forwarding is indirect or through another office. The new scale is 12 1-2 per cent. for both.

BLACK HUNDREDS RIOT.

Jews In Odessa Are Victims of Terrible Assaults.

Odessa, Sept. 3.—The Black Hundreds began rioting here yesterday afternoon, alleging that the Jews were responsible for the explosion of the bomb in the courtyard of the central police station here Saturday morning, resulting in the deaths of an artillery officer and four policemen, although it was stated at the time that the bomb was accidentally dropped by the officer.

The rioters ran through the streets inhabited by Jews, firing promiscuously right and left. Three men were killed and from fifty to sixty were wounded. The mob indulged in other brutal excesses, and beat down victims with flexible rubber sticks. The Jewish cemetery, where thousands of Jews were praying at the gravesides of their dead, was the scene of a fierce onslaught.

BURGLAR SHOT POLICEMAN.

Pursued by Crowd, Afterwards Turns Revolver on Himself.

Lindhurst, N. J., Sept. 3.—George Cassidy, a policeman, was shot and killed yesterday while endeavoring to arrest two burglars who had been caught in the act of robbing a store.

The burglars were pursued by a crowd, and rather than submit to capture in a swamp, one of them killed himself. The other burglar escaped.

Cassidy had arrested the men and started with his prisoners for the station house, when one of them whipped a revolver from his pocket and pressing it against Cassidy's coat, pulled the trigger.

Switchman Under Cars.

North Bay, Sept. 3.—P. Needham, 25 years of age, C. P. R. switchman in the local yards, fell beneath some cars which were being shunted on a siding Sunday night, and had one leg crushed. Amputation was necessary, and Needham died after the operation.

The unfortunate man came from the vicinity of Pembroke, and was unmarried.

John McKinnon, while seeing friends off on the Winnipeg express, attempted to jump from the train while in motion and fell beneath the wheels, losing both feet.

Fatal Collision.

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Two persons were killed, six seriously injured, three of whom may die, and a score less seriously hurt last night in a rear-end collision between two cars.

Killed on Crossing.

Brockville, Sept. 3.—The N. Y. C. train on the DeKalb branch struck and killed near Rensselaer Falls an elderly man, Gaylord Lawrence, who was driving across the track.

Miss Mabel Myers, of Hamilton, aged 16, drank carbolic acid yesterday while despondent over a love affair. She may recover.

SEVEN FIRES AT ONCE

Kent County Visited by Destructive Storm.

Lightning Was Terrific—Horses and Cattle Killed — What Watchman Saw From City Tower—Loss Will Be Heavy — Big Barn Destroyed With Harvest Near Belleville by Big Electrical Storm.

Chatham, Sept. 3.—A terrific rain and lightning storm passed over Kent Sunday evening. Several fires were reported, and some horses and cattle killed. The rain was badly needed, but it came at a great cost. The following fires were reported: David Barr, concession 6, Chatham Township, loss $1,000; James Chinnich, Chatham Township, loss heavy; Morris O'Neil, Raleigh, lost barns, house, outbuildings, and the loss amounts to several thousands; Tom Marin, River road, Chatham, outbuildings, burned; Dolsen Bros., farming the Fairbanks estate, Raleigh, everything burned. At one time the lookout on the fire tower here saw seven places burning at once, but as the farmers were not in town, owing to the holiday it is impossible to find out where the burned places are.

Belleville, Sept. 3.—This district was visited by a very severe electrical storm, accompanied by torrents of rain, at an early hour yesterday morning. At 4 o'clock lightning struck the large barn on the farm of Wilbur Maybee, a prominent Prince Edward County farmer, living just across the bay from this city. The building, which contained all the season's hay and grain, as well as implements, was destroyed. The loss will be heavy, with a small amount of insurance.

SENTENCED TO THE LASH.

Four-Year Term Also Imposed on Man at London.

London, Ont., Sept. 3.—Thomas Tavender was on Saturday sentenced to four years in Kingston Penitentiary and twenty lashes for an assault on Emma Matthews, an eight-year-old girl. The offence on which Tavender was convicted was committed on June 30 last, at the Mount Elgin Institute, near Muncie, during the absence of the child's parents. Tavender was arrested on July 12, and acknowledged his guilt.

Toronto Junction Live Stock.

TORONTO JUNCTION, Sept. 2.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 88 car loads, composed of 1884 cattle, 370 sheep and lambs, 43 calves and 16 horses.

Exporters.

The market for exporters was a little stronger than last week. Prices ranged from $4.75 to $5.65, the bulk of the best going at about $5 per cwt.; a couple of prime quality loads were reported to have brought a little more money. There was a lot of light common unfinished cattle bought for export at $4.25 to $4.65 per cwt. Export bulls ranged from $3.50 to $4.50, with one prime quality bull at $5 per cwt.

Butchers.

Prime picked heifers sold from $4.75 to $5 per cwt., but there would not be more than one in every hundred cattle that brought this price. Loads of good, or the best on the market, sold at $4.25 to $4.65 per cwt.; medium, $3.85 to $4.20; common mixed, $3.37½ to $3.65; cows, $2 to $4; canners, $1 to $2.00 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

There were none offered, and seemingly none wanted, as every drover and farmer spoken to on the matter reported pastures as all having been dried up with the drought.

Milkers and Springers.

Milkers and springers of good to choice quality were more plentiful than for some time on this market, and sold from $35 to $55 each.

Veal Calves.

The market remains steady for veal calves. Prices ranged from $4 to $6.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Export ewes sold at $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt.; lambs were reported at $5 per cwt. for the best.

Hogs.

H. P. Kennedy reported selects at $6.75, with lights and fats at $6.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—(Special)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, west end market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Aug. 31 were 1750 cattle, 2730 sheep and lambs, 420 hogs and 550 calves. The offerings for the local trade this morning were 1200 cattle, 650 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 200 calves. A feature of the trade was the stronger feeling which developed in the market for cattle and prices show an advance of ¼c to ½c per lb. since this day week. This to some extent was due to the fact that the run was fully 250 head smaller than a week ago, but more so to the improved demand from local and outside buyers on account of the cooler weather and the better conditions of the stock coming forward. Cattle advices from Liverpool on Saturday showed no improvement in prices over last week, but they reported trade firm. Notwithstanding this fact, however, there was an increased demand from exporters and they bought a number of choice steers at 5¼c to 5¾c per lb., besides a lot of ranch cattle and heavy bulls. On the whole a fairly active trade was done and the market was well cleaned at an early hour. Choice beeves sold at 5c to 5¼c; good, at 4½c to 4¾c; fair at 4c to 4¼c, and lower grades at 2½c to 3½c per lb. There was no important change in the condition of the market for sheep and lambs. Supplies were fair for a Monday for which the demand continues good from local and export buyers, and an active trade was done in these lines at firm prices. Sheep sold at 4c to 4¼c, and lambs at 6c to 6½c per lb. Owing to weaker advices on Canadian bacon during the past week, from the leading foreign sources and the fact that our own private cables of Saturday from London and Bristol noted a decline in prices of 1s to 2s per cwt. and in Liverpool 1s to 4s, a weaker feeling developed in the local market for hogs and prices since this day week show a decline of 15c to 25c per cwt. Supplies were fairly large this morning, but the bulk of them were contracted for last week at a fraction over $7 per cwt., in some cases therefore the number for sale on the market to-day was comparatively small and trade was quiet, with prices for selected lots quoted at $6.75 to $6.80 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Wallaceburg—Oct. 3 and 4.

POLICE COURT

The number of drunks on the city streets yesterday was legion, but most of them behaved pretty well and only two faced His Worship Magistrate Dumble in the police court this morning.

Ed Thompson pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He evidently had not recovered from his spree for he was very talkative this morning. "This is my first offence" said the accused. "Two dollars to be paid forthwith," reiterated His Worship.

"How many days if I don't pay the fine," asked Thompson. "Ten days" was the reply.

After considering it for some time the prisoner handed out the two-spot and once again was a free man.

Newton Loft pleaded guilty to a similar charge. He had not the two dollars so he will sojourn at Castle Nesbitt for the next ten days.

Cheese Touched Highest Price of Season To-day

12 3/16c Was Paid for Several Lots on the Peterborough Board—Over 4,000 Boxes Sold

The highest price of the season, viz., 12 3-16c, was reached on the Peterborough Cheese Board today. The offerings were 4,612 boxes, and all sold, with the exception of eight factories, Westwood, Villiers, Otonabee Union, Hope, Brickley, Maple Leaf, Buckhorn and Pine Grove. A few salesmen received 12 3-16c, but the bulk went at 12 1-8c. Hitherto this season the price on the local board has not reached 12 cents.

President Riddell presided, and there was a large attendance of salesmen.

Mr. Squires opened the bidding at 11 1-2 cents, which was advanced to 11 3-4c. by Mr. Cook, and to 11 7-8c. by Mr. Weir. Mr. Squires offered 12c. and Mr. Cook outbid him with 12 1-16c. Mr. Kerr raised the figure to 12 1-8c., and Mr. Cook retaliated with 12 3-16c, and secured the first selection, the following being called:—Bensfort, Crown and Keene. All sold.

Mr. Squires took the next lot at 12 3-16c, the following selling:—Ormonde, Norwood, Indian River and Oakdale.

Mr. Weir then offered 12 1-8c, and was not outbid. He called the following:—Central Smith, Selwyn, Myrtle and Lang. All sold but Central Smith. He offered 12 1-16c. for further selections, and took South Burleigh, Cedardale, North Dummer, and Warminster. Young's Point, Central Smith, Shearer, Villiers, Lakefield, Pine Grove and Otonabee Union refused this offer.

Mr. Cook offered 12 1-16c for selections, but Mr. Kerr outbid him with 12 1-16c. for the balance of the board. Mr. Cook then offered 12 1-8c. for selections, and the following sold:—Shearer, Central Smith and Treewern.

At 12 1-16c. for further lots, Mr. Cook secured Warsaw and Lakefield. Pine Grove and Fleetwood refused this offer.

Mr. Cook offered 12 cents for further selections, but Mr. Kerr outbid him with the same figure for the balance of the board. Mr. Weir, however, secured the ball with 12 21-16c. for selections, and bought Young's Point and East Emily. Villiers and Westwood turned down this figure.

At 12 1-16. Fleetwood sold to Mr. Cook.

Mr. R. Gillespie offered 12 cents for the balance of the board, but none sold.

Two Havelock Women Found Dead in a Toronto Hotel

Were Exhibition Visitors and Apparently Went to Bed With the Gas Turned on—Inquest Will Not be Necessary.

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—Two women, Mrs Shannon and Mrs. McEwen, both of Havelock, Ont., were found dead this morning in their rooms at the Osgoode House, the room being full of gas. The ladies were exhibition visitors, and evidently had turned off the gas and turned it on again by mistake, as the tube was turned on fully. Coroner W. J. Greuig decided that the case was one of accidental death. The two had never been in the city before and did not understand how to operate gas, said the coroner. It is not likely that an inquest will be held.

The Review called up its Havelock correspondent and was informed that there are no Shannons living in that town, and Mrs. McEwen is not known there either. The two women are likely from Marmora, where several families of the name of Shannon reside.

Awful Fate of the Excursion Train on Way to Toronto Fair

Train of Excursionists Derailed at Deadly Curve.

Seven Are Dead, Others May Die—Five Coaches Piled on Locomotive—Four Hundred Were Aboard—Majority Had Miraculous Escape—Fast Running to Make Up Lost Time Was the Cause.

Caledon, Sept. 4.—Running at sixty miles an hour, down the famous horseshoe curve grade, a C. P. R. exhibition special, with 400 excursionists aboard, jumped the track here yesterday.

Six were killed outright, one died at the Western Hospital, Toronto; a dozen are seriously injured, and scores were cut and bruised and badly shaken up.

That 100 people were not crushed to death is marvelous.

The train, composed of six passenger coaches and one combination smoker, with Engine 855, was made up at Orangeville on the arrival of a four-coach special from Markdale, carrying hundreds from the north to the Toronto fair.

Engineer George Hodge was at the throttle, with Fireman Herb Martin on the opposite seat. Conductor Matthew Grimes was in charge of the train.

The train left Orangeville some twenty minutes late, and a lengthy stop was made to take on passengers at Caledon.

Commencing a couple of miles just out of Caledon the "horseshoe curve," the only one of its kind in America, extends for nearly a mile.

It has long been regarded by railway men as one of the spots where care is specially required. The curve is, roughly, in the shape of a horseshoe, the distance from one cork to the other being 600 feet, but, so sweeping is the detour made, that trains must travel about 1,600 yards in making this descent of the Caledon slope. There is only a slight grade, on leaving Orangeville, but as the locomotive enters upon the turn, the speed rapidly increases, and it has been customary for trains to sway sharply, one side being considerably uplifted, or, at least, it so appears to the passengers. There are few sections of railway line in the province where the passenger, who is inclined to timidity, has more reason to feel uncomfortable, but the long immunity from accident at the point has made it appear that the danger was more apparent than real, and that a train traveling at ordinary speed could be trusted to make the curve without risk of jumping the rails.

There is, all told, a grade of 100 feet to the bottom of the mountain.

Speed Increased.

As the train approached the curve, people on board noticed that the momentum was gaining in perfect leaps. A sudden pitch forward was felt as the first turn was being made, and on approaching where the curve grows sharper the engine left the rails, plunged into the ditch, turned turtle, threw the cab with its occupants a distance of 20 feet and stopped dead still, with its cupola blown out on the grass and its mechanism a twisted mass.

The combination coach, the first car, was smashed to kindling wood. The first passenger coach, full of people, turned turtle, stood up and fell backwards.

The third coach jumped into the ditch and fell on its side.

The fourth coach kept the track, as did the fifth, but both ends were ground out and the seats and windows smashed in the collision with the front cars.

The sixth coach also kept the rails, with its end smashed. The seventh, which was full of Orangeville people, was uninjured, and later taken back to Orangeville.

Injured Sent to the City.

On arrival of the wrecking and relief trains from Toronto, the injured and slightly injured, were hurried to the city. Several Orangeville people, who were hurt, were taken back to that town. Half a hundred rigs were soon on the spot, many from Orangeville, ten miles away.

That the train was traveling at a great rate of speed is borne out by every passenger.

Lee MacCallum of Orangeville, with two friends, including young Carr, who was killed, caught the special for Toronto. The speed of the train between that town and Orangeville frightened him. He asked the conductor if it was not a good clip, and the official told him that they had "pulled up" 25 minutes since leaving Markdale, at that time being an hour late.

MacCallum begged young Carr to get off at Orangeville and take the regular. He claimed that the train was going as fast as the Hamilton special, and was not going to travel the rocky, hilly road on a mile-a-minute clip. Young Carr laughed at his fears. MacCallum took the regular, as did several other passengers.

An Eye-Witness' Story.

Alex. McLeachy a farmer, whose house directly faces the spot where the wreck occurred, saw the whole thing, but stated that he could not say how fast the train was traveling.

"All I know is that I was standing in front of my place when I saw the train coming down.

"I thought nothing of it, but just stood and watched it. Like a shot the engine crunched, leaped and the cars piled up. I was stunned. It was like a flash of lightning. Then the shrieks! I thought five hundred were killed. I rushed to the spot and men, women and children seemed literally to flock out of that pile of wreckage, clambering, shrieking, yelling, crying. It was terrible. I shall never forget it."

The work of rescuing the people in the cars did not take long. Out of all the people in the doomed train not a soul emerged from the wreckage without some mark, but miraculously, the actions of the different cars did little or no crushing.

A Thrilling Story.

Harry Thompson of Mitchell was one of the fortunate occupants in the third car from the engine, and describes his impressions as follows:

"I had been up north on an outing. The train was composed of about seven coaches, as near as I can remember. I boarded the middle one. It was fortunate that I chose the one I did, for in the crash about a mile from Caledon the two coaches ahead of mine, and the one back of mine, were almost torn to splinters.

"When the crash came I was badly startled, but involuntarily I braced myself and didn't leave my seat. Many of the other passengers in my coach were thrown half the length of the car, and I was badly shaken up. None were injured in this coach, however, and it was pretty well filled.

"This coach was undamaged, except the rear-end, which cannoned into the one at the rear and telescoped into it, running half its length and crushing many people. Only one in this, the fourth coach, I believe, was killed.

"The women in my car were in hysterics, and the men almost like wild men, endeavoring to get out into the open. We had to jump about ten feet to get on the ground, for although our coach was not overturned like most of the others, it was tilted to an angle of three degrees.

A Terrible Scene.

"When I did get down, the scene about was terrible, and no one can describe the terrible cries and moans of the injured. Their pitiful, shrill, heart-rending calls for help and wailed were fearful to hear.

"Two of the first persons I saw on jumping from the car were the engineer and fireman. These men, I was told, had not jumped from their engine, but had stuck to their duty manfully. How the engineer escaped, God only can tell.

"The train was running faster than it should have around the sharp horseshoe curve.

"The engine was turned completely over, and the crew found an opening through which they could crawl. With the thought of the possible explosion of the boiler, or being scalded to death by steam, they were terror-stricken when I first saw them.

Women Fainted.

"Most of the women survivors had fainted, or were in hysterics, and all had to be sent back to Caledon to be cared for by sanitarians there.

"The nerviest man I ever saw in my life was an old gentleman with a broken leg. He was lying on the platform of one of the wrecked cars. His face was white with agony. His hands were clenched and his teeth bit through the flesh of his under lip as he kept back the cries which his suffering tried to force from him. As a physician came up to him and instructed myself and another to remove him to the side of the track, where he could be attended to, the old man cried hoarsely: "No! No! Doc, attend to the others. Take the women first.'

"I never saw a finer, more self-sacrificing courage, and," concluded Mr. Thompson, "my belief in mankind is greater since I witnessed that scene than it has ever been."

Mrs. J. T. Caldwell, wife of Rev. Dr. Caldwell of Flesherton Methodist Church, who suffered severe cuts about the head and left eye, told a reporter what she could remember of the wreck as she lay in the relief train at Dupont street.

"Look at that," she said, holding up what had once been a pretty hat, "isn't that the toughest hat you ever say for a minister's wife. It was torn from my head as our car rolled over.

"I was sitting with my husband and another gentleman. I noticed that the car was going at a terrible speed on that awful curve. Then our coach turned over; something struck my head. Thank God there was no fire."

Mrs. John Wilson, Markdale, wife of Rev. Mr. Wilson of that place, was in the worst part of the wreck, and emerged by a miracle from the demolished coach with only a painfully wrenched knee.

"Our coach was smashed to splinters. That is all I remember," she said as she was carried to a cot in the hospital.

Forty of the injured were taken to Toronto on a special train, which arrived in the city at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon. A number of these were but slightly injured and disappeared in the crowd upon alighting from the train. The others were taken to the Western Hospital in police wagons and ambulances.

The injured were patient. Although many must have suffered untold agony no word of complaint was heard. A low groan when a stretcher jolted unavoidably or a stifled scream as an arm was set or a dislocation reduced was the only protest against almost unendurable pain.

Conductor's Heroism.

To Conductor Grimes is due great credit that the loss of life was not much greater. He was in the fourth car when the wreck took place. His presence of mind did not leave him for a second. He stood on a seat and waved his arms, and with a voice like thunder shouted: "Sit down! Sit down!"

The passengers obeyed; there was no panic, the cars toppling over and over. Then the people got out with slight cuts and bruises.

Fast Running.

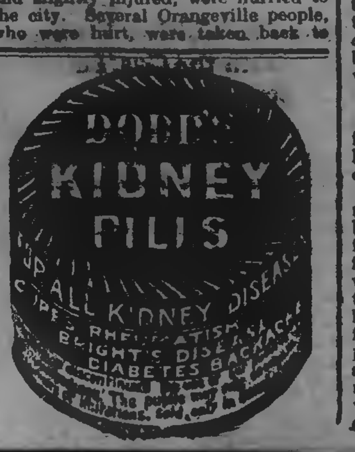
Superintendent James Oberne handed out the following statement at the scene of the wreck late last night:

"We have examined everything. Our experts, Mr. Smith and Mr. Fairbairn, the C. P. R. track engineer, have carefully investigated every inch of track. Personally, I examined the rolling stock, as did Mr. Fairbairn. The rolling stock was perfect, and there was not a defect in the rails.

"The cause of the accident must have been fast running."

Dr. S. Alliston of Caledon East opened the inquest at Peter Baxter's house at 6 o'clock.

Fourteen jurymen were sworn in, and the enquiry will be continued on Sept. 10 at Caledon East.



Three Dead; One Dying.

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Three men are dead, one dying and a dozen or more injured, as the result of the rear-end collision between two interurban trolley cars from Albany, during a pouring rain Monday evening.

The collision was primarily due to the motorman on a Schenectady bound car being blinded by the head light of an Albany bound car, and failing to see a standing car ahead of him and which his car crashed.

Aeronaut Falls Into Tree.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Myrtle Rydstick, 17 years old, aeronaut, narrowly escaped death in making a balloon ascension at Medway. When 300 feet in the air the balloon caught fire and the hot air escaping, it fell rapidly toward the earth.

Several hundred persons in the park expected to see the young woman dashed to death, but she luckily fell into the thick growth of a tree. She escaped with a few scratches.

Fatalities at Hull.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—At Hull, Labor Day, Matthias Fartier, 18 years of age, while fishing from the rocks, above the Big Kettle at the Chaudiere, slipped and was carried by the current over the falls.

Peter Cote, aged 50 years, an employe of the E. B. Eddy Co., climbed a tree to pick butternuts. He lost his hold and in falling his head came in contact with the tree trunk and he was killed instantly.

Detectives Foil Black Hand.

New York, Sept. 4.—Caught in the act of taking money from a victim whom they had threatened with death, three Italians, who the police believe are leaders of the Black Hand Society, were captured yesterday by detectives after a wild flight on a trolley car on Second avenue, in which one of the Italians was shot while diving through the car window in a final effort to escape.

Harvest About In.

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—The weather is fine throughout the whole of the west and the crop outlook is vastly improved.

Cutting in Southern Manitoba is progressing rapidly and the harvest will be over by the end of the week.

In Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan cutting will be started about the end of the week or the first of netx week.

Farmer Trampled to Death.

Meaford, Sept. 4.—Joseph T. Taylor of Griersville, a much respected farmer, 46 years of age, was trampled to death by one of his horses while removing the harness after the day's work. It appears that the horse had been frightened by a pig which had got into the stable.

Boy Drowns.

Dresden, Sept. 4.—Geo. Stevens, the 8-year-old son of Charles Stevens, was drowned last evening. He was out in a boat with a number of other boys, when the boat upset. The others being able to swim, escaped.

R. L. Borden with J. G. Bergeron, M.P., addressed about 3,000 people at Valleyfield on Saturday.

BUILT FUNERAL PYRE

Strange Deed of Demented Woman at St. Lazaire.

Ended Her Life In Tragic Manner—Thought She Had Divine Call to Die—Wrote Last Letters and Immolated Herself In Flames—Could Not Stand Fearful Ordeal to the End.

Montreal, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Joseph Lalonde ended her life in a tragic manner in the Village of St. Lazaire, a few miles from Vaurheuil last Sunday.

She had been acting strangely since the death of her husband, six months ago, and spent several hours gathering fence rails on her farm. When the funeral pyre was ready, she wrote several letters, stating she had decided to respond to the call of God. The letters were found afterwards in an old hat, suspended from the limb of a tree. Then Mrs. Lalonde removed her clothing and set fire to the logs and wood, perishing in the flames.

This affair took place just when high mass was being said in the village church, and the discovery was not made until after the congregation had been dismissed. During the service the flames reflected through the windows of the little church, but it was thought to be nothing more than rubbish burning.

The charred remains of Mrs. Lalonde were found a few yards from the burning embers. She was apparently unable to stand the frightful ordeal and had jumped out of the fire after she had been fatally burned. She was face downwards, with the grass clutched in both hands.

Several small children are left orphans.

PLACED TIES ON TRACKS.

Tried to Wreck Passenger Train But Danger Was Averted.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The police have arrested two young foreigners, who are unable to speak English, in connection with an attempt made early yesterday morning to wreck the Buffalo special, a fast passenger train on the New York Central, at Jordan, 20 miles west of here.

Ties were placed on the track, but luckily the train was signaled to stop a short distance from the station, because there was an excursion train, carrying New Jersey people back to Hoboken from Niagara Falls, on the next block.

The passenger train resumed its journey under slow speed, and when the obstruction was encountered the pony trucks of the locomotive were derailed, but there was no further damage.

BRIDGE INQUEST OPEN

Chief Engineer Reports Faults in Steel Work at Quebec.

Government Commission Sits To-day—Telegram Story Was a Canard—Bridge Company to Dissolve—Engineers Inspect Ruins—Condolence From Lord Elgin — Damage Suit Entered for $25,000.

Quebec, Sept. 4.—The coroner inquest has not so far thrown any new light on the cause of the bridge collapse. The investigation by the Government commission of experts commences to-day. Many railway and bridge engineers are here to inspect the ruins.

Mr. Deans, chief engineer of the Phoenix Bridge Co., told the jury yesterday that the company's engineers were doing their utmost to ascertain the cause of the disaster, and he thought they would be able in a few days to satisfy legitimate anxiety on the subject. He had never heard of any apprehensions of the safety of the structure, and if he had to erect another bridge would not hesitate to build on the same plans.

The International Bridge Workers' Union is represented by counsel.

Hon. S. N. Parent, in the course of his examination, said he had wired Theodore Cooper concerning his alleged interview in New York, and Mr. Cooper had replied that he had been misrepresented and had never either sent a message to cease operations on the bridge or had stated that he had done so.

It is understood that the Bridge Co. will be shortly dissolved and the work taken over by the Federal Government. The Government can take over the shares at any time by paying a 10 per cent. advance on their cost.

A Possible Cause.

In the engineer's report, submitted to the annual meeting yesterday, Mr. Hoare stated that on Aug. 27, the resident inspecting engineer reported that the ribs in one of the lower chords of the west truss of the anchor arm showed an inward side deflection. The matter was reported the same day to the consulting engineer, and Phoenix Bridge Co., and Mr. Clure left the next day for New York and Phoenixville to discuss the question. Soon after these interviews the structure very suddenly collapsed, but it is at present undetermined whether the chord in question was the cause of the accident.

Mr. Hoare's report created a mild sensation, and it is believed that the cause of the disaster will now shortly be fixed.

First Damage Suit.

The first of the damage suits to follow the Quebec bridge disaster was launched yesterday morning, when Zephirene La France issued a writ for $25,000 for the death of her son. The damage claims on a similar basis would amount to $1,025,000.

Condolence From Lord Elgin.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Lord Elgin, Colonial Secretary, cables to Lord Grey as follows:

Please convey to your Ministers the deep regret with which His Majesty's Government have heard of the Quebec bridge disaster, and express my personal sympathy with those who have suffered and with the Canadian people. (Signed) Elgin.

STRIKERS WRECK VESSEL.

Police Charge Rioters With Revolvers—Twelve Are Injured.

Antwerp, Sept. 4.—The rioting dock laborers boarded the British steamer Agenoria on Monday, destroyed her freighting implements and seriously injured one of the engineers. They also took possession of the British steamer Sydney, tossed a number of tools and trucks overboard and did other damage.

Their violence so terrified the men at work on board a number of vessels that they fled to the shore.

The stokers lay in wait at the railroad station and made attempts to interfere with the English and German strike-breakers as they arrived. The strikers captured an omnibus to convey strike-breakers to and from the wharves and threw it overboard.

The violence increased to serious proportions yesterday, when at least a dozen persons, including strike-breakers, were attacked and badly wounded. The police charged repeatedly, firing their revolvers at the rioters.

Eight Drowned.

Alburque, N. M., Sept. 4.—News has just reached here that Mrs. Louisa Hill Garabat, wife of a farmer, and seven children, were drowned in a flood resulting from heavy rains in Alamo Creek last Friday night.

DOMINION FAIR OPENS.

Large Show of Cattle at Sherbrooke Exposition.

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 4.—The Dominion Fair is now under way. All the buildings were opened to the public yesterday morning, and, judging was begun excepting in the live stock department.

The races commence to-day.

R. L. Borden will visit the grounds.

The cattle show has surprised even the management.

A large entry list was expected and a whole new system of model stabling arranged on a new plan was provided, but the list grew so fast that additional stabling had to be built.

The show of cattle is the biggest that has ever been made here.

DEMAND YANKEE MONEY.

Havana Masons' Strike Tieing Up Building Operations.

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 4.—Four thousand buildings under construction or about to be constructed were abandoned Monday when the masons struck, demanding the payment of their wages in American money. The police are guarding the buildings, with orders to stop all meetings near them or interference by the strikers with masons willing to work.

The cigarmakers are supporting the masons and will contribute part of their wages to the strikers' fund.

This may be the beginning of a general move for American money, expected since the cigarmakers' strike.

Ex-M.P. Shot.

Kingston, Sept. 4.—On Sunday evening, about 8 o'clock, James Reid, ex-M.P. of Enterprise, went over to see a friend from St. Louis, who was staying at a neighbor's house to be ready for the hunting season. His friend had a new gun, and both men were leaning forward to examine it, when it exploded in the hands of its owner, shooting Mr. Reid in the right hand, right thigh and the left side of the face.

The injured man was brought into the city, but was able to go home by the afternoon train, and is resting as well as can be expected.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

4221.—A PRETTY DRESS FOR A YOUNG GIRL.

The popular over blouse effect is charmingly simulated in this youthful costume, which skilfully combines a unique suggestion of the Japanese in the waist with the most modern ideas of shaping in the seven gored skirt. The waist owes much of its distinction to the fact that the body and sleeve caps are cut in one, while in the skirt the circular side and back gores, lapped over the straight gores, provide precisely the graceful effect which is most sought after in gowns for developing girlhood. This dress is suitable for modelling in any of the popular soft-draping fabrics, including rajah, foulard, voile and eolienne; while it may either be decorated as pictured or trimmed with ribbon, embroidery or braid. To develop the medium size 7 2-8 yards of 27 inch material will be needed.

4221.—4 sizes, 14 to 17 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

JOLLY SMOKER AT CONSERVATIVE CLUB

Will Be Held on Thursday Night —Fine Programme

A smoker will be held at the Young Conservative Club rooms on Thursday night next, Sept. 5th, when the rooms will, it is expected, be thronged. It will mark the re-opening of the club rooms for the fall and winter months, and the entertainment will also partake of the nature of a farewell to Mr. J. H. Burnham, the President of the Club for the past two years, who is leaving shortly to take up his residence in Toronto.

A fine programme will be contributed on Thursday night, and it is believed that every member will be present.

The occasion will be an enjoyable reunion, although the club regrets exceedingly to say farewell to Mr. Burnham, who has been a most indefatigable worker in the interest of the organization.

Several well known local vocalists will contribute songs, and it is hoped there will be a gathering that will pack the rooms to the doors.

Remember the occasion—Thursday night of this week. Come and bring your friends.

TROUBLE WITH MOTHER-IN-LAW

Some Family Matters From Cavendish Aired in County Police Court

William O. Haines, of Cavendish township appeared in the county police court this morning with three charges against him, namely, carrying a revolver and dirk, assaulting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Westlake, and using obscene and abusive language to her. The charges were made by Mrs. Westlake and Haines pleaded guilty to the charge of carrying the revolver and dirk, but denied the other two charges. He was defended by Mr. R. F. McWilliams, while Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the complainant.

Evidence was taken from ten o'clock up to one o'clock and some of it was not of the most savory nature. It appears that the Haines-Westlake combination has not been working well for some time, and there has been constant friction. Haines is married to Mrs. Westlake's daughter and apparently their domestic life has not been strewn with roses. He has also had trouble with his mother-in-law, or at least his mother-in-law says she has had trouble with him.

After hearing the evidence Magistrate Edmison reserved judgment until this afternoon at four o'clock.

Captured Prizes at Toronto Fair

Dr. King's Boston Terriers Made an Excellent Showing

Dr. D. C. King has returned from attending the Toronto fair. He won several prizes at the Kennel show in the Boston Terrier class. "Othello" one of the doctor's dogs, captured two third prizes. "Tito Melema" won reserve prizes, while "Peterborough Boy" was very highly commended by the judges. Dr. King also carried off the special prize, for the best trio of Boston terriers. All in this class which took the first premiums were dogs owned and breed by Americans. Dr. King had the misfortune to lose a valuable Boston terrier a week ago on Sunday last, which he had entered for the kennel show. He is to be congratulated on the splendid showing which his breed of canines made in competition with dogs from all over American.

Brockville Man Chosen Inspector of Public Schools

Mr. A. Mowatt, B. A., Principal of the Brockville Collegiate Institute, to Succeed Mr. D. Walker—Junior Assistant for Collegiate Institute Not Yet Appointed.

Mr. A. Mowatt, B.A., of Brockville, principal of the Collegiate Institute of that town, has been appointed inspector of Public Schools for Peterborough, succeeding Mr. D. Walker, B.A., who has been appointed to the staff of the Provincial Normal Schools.

Mr. Mowatt's appointment was made at a meeting of the Board of Education last night, twenty-nine applications having been made for the position. He comes highly recommended and no doubt his work when he assumes his new duties will show that the Board has made a wise selection.

Previous to the general meeting of the Board, the Committee on Appointments, which consists of all the members of the Board, met and considered the applications. Mr. Mowatt was the unanimous choice, his recommendations and qualifications being of the highest order.

At the meeting of the Board Mr. Hill read the report of the Committee on Appointments as follows:—

Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report and recommend the following:—

As instructed your committee advertised for applications for the position of Supervising Principal and Inspector of Public Schools. For the position we received 29 applications many from principals of various leading Collegiates throughout the province.

Your committee after carefully considering these applications recommend that Mr. A. Mowatt, B.A., of Brockville, principal of the Collegiate Institute, be appointed to the position at the minimum salary of $1,600, increasing to $2,000 according to schedule. This gentleman has the necessary inspector's certificate of qualification and stands high in the teaching profession.

For the position of Junior Assistant there has been received 20 applications, none of which is considered wholly satisfactory. Your committee therefore recommend that the chairman be authorized to again advertise offering an initial salary of $1,000, increasing to $1,200 as per schedule.

The report was adopted without discussion.

It is learned that Mr. Mowatt will commence his duties as inspector at an early date.

Mr. James Kendry, president of the West Riding Liberal Conservative Association of West Peterborough, will preside. Ladies are especially invited to attend the gathering. Seats will be reserved for them and their escorts.

Among the leading members of the Conservative party who will speak here in company with Mr. Borden, are Messrs. A. Claude Macdonnell, M. P., of Toronto; W. B. Northrup, M. P., of Belleville; A. Brodeur, M. P., Morrisburg; T. Chase Casgrain, ex-M.P., Montreal; and Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the popular local representative of the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Borden will speak at Cobourg on Tuesday, Sept. 10, and will arrive in Peterborough on Wednesday Sept. 11. After addressing the big meeting here in the evening, he will proceed to Dunnville, via Brantford where he will speak on Thursday Sept. 12th.

Mr. Borden has made a record in Canadian public life, that any man may well envy. He has never had his name spoken of, in any other way than in terms of the highest esteem by both friend or opponent. His present tour, which will extend from ocean to ocean, has so far been an unqualified success, and a most enthusiastic and loyal welcome awaits him on the occasion of his visit to the City of Peterborough, on Wednesday, Sept. 11th.

The Conservative leader has outlined a progressive policy of many and great reforms, a policy of good government; by the people and for the people; and it is not to be disputed that the platform which Mr. Borden has laid down, is well worthy of a hearty, earnest and practical welcome, by the free and independent electors of this Dominion.

It is expected that the people of the East and West Ridings of Peterborough, as well as from the adjoining counties will turn out en masse on Wednesday of next week, Sept. 11th, to hear the able, progressive and broad platform and policy of the great Liberal-Conservative party of Canada, outlined by this distinguished leader, Mr. Borden, and his able associates.

John R. Dundas Will Stand Trial

On Charge of Forgery—Committed This Morning

John R. Dundas, who on Saturday last was charged with forging the name of Ald. W. J. Johnston to a cheque for fifteen dollars on the Bank of Ottawa, was today committed for trial by His Worship Magistrate Dumble.

Dundas pleaded not guilty and decided to be tried by His Honor Judge Weller. Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution. There was no counsel for the defence. The prisoner will come before the judge at as early a date as can be arranged.

Mr. Chas. E. Coleman was called. He said that he kept a confectionery store on George street. Prisoner came to witness' store to cash a cheque on Saturday, August 10th. The name Johnston was signed to the cheque, which was for fifteen dollars. Mr. Coleman cashed the cheque. He afterwards deposited it in the Bank of Commerce, but in consequence of a letter from Dundas, he withdrew the cheque from the bank. Witness wrote to Dundas who came to see him, telling him he was sorry and wanted to square matters, but he never did.

Ald. W. J. Johnston was next called. He said that he was contractor for the improvements to Cressman's store. Prisoner never worked for witness. Mr. Johnston paid that he did not owe Dundas any money.

This was all the evidence taken, there being none for the defence. His Worship committed Dundas for trial.

CUSTOMS RETURNS

Business at the Customs House fell off a little during August. It was short for August and some $3,000 less than last year. The returns are; for August 1907, $30,083.40; for August, 1906, $33,743.82. This is due, it is claimed, to the importation of fall orders being brought in a little earlier last year.

May Close West Ward School

Possibility of This Being Done When New Collegiate is Opened

There is a probability that the West Ward Public school may be closed when the new Collegiate Institute is ready to be occupied by the pupils. Mr. Pringle, at the meeting of the Board of Education last night, expressed the opinion, that there might be accommodation enough without the West Ward school, when the new Collegiate is opened, and the building at present used as a Collegiate Institute, is converted into a public school. There have been many complaints against the West Ward school, the principal one being that the sanitary conditions are not as good as they might be. The board does not feel like spending much money on the building, and would be just as well pleased if some arrangement could be made, whereby the school might be closed.

As has been stated, it is probable that when the new Collegiate is ready, there may be enough public school accommodation, without the West Ward building. The pupils from that section of the city could attend the South Central, North Ward, Central, or the school where the Collegiate Institute is now located, whichever is the most convenient.

Commercial Dept. to be Moved To the King Edward School

Board of Education Decides on Change on Account of Over-Crowding at Collegiate Institute—No Furnace for the West Ward School—Routine Business Transacted.

Owing to the overcrowding at the Collegiate Institute, the Commercial department will be removed to the new King Edward school in the south ward. The change is only temporary, and has been made pending the completion of the new Collegiate Institute. Two rooms are to be set apart in the King Edward school for the commercial pupils, and the transfer will be made at once.

This decision was reached at the meeting of the Board of Education last night, when the following members were present,—Chairman Fair, Messrs. Dumble, Robinson, Hill, Pringle, Crane, Dr. Morrison and Dr. Burnham. It was the first regular meeting since June and considerable business was transacted.

The proposition to transfer the Commercial department to the King Edward school, excited considerable discussion, but the decision to make the move was at last unanimous.

The question of overcrowding at the Collegiate Institute was brought up and in speaking of the matter, Mr. Pringle outlined the situation as it exists at present. The number of pupils attending the Collegiate has been steadily increasing until at present the rooms are overcrowded particularly since the opening on Tuesday. Mr. Pringle pointed out that the only feasible way to relieve the congestion would be to take the commercial department out bodily and place it in a building by itself as this department was practically distinct from the other rooms. He stated that there was a class room available at the King Edward school, but some objection had been raised to removing the Commercial department to the new school on account of the distance, pupils from the north end of the city would have to travel. An endeavor had been made to secure a room at the Y.M.C.A., but this had been impossible. Rooms could be secured at the city buildings, but they would require a lot of fixing up. It was a matter for the board to deal with.

Principal Fessenden explained the situation at the Collegiate. Yesterday there were 117 pupils registered in the first form. This number could not be accommodated in less than three rooms. It would be quite feasible to take the commercial department out, and send the commercial teacher along with it. The commercial teacher could spend a couple of periods at the institute per week, teaching commercial work to the other pupils taking academic courses, but also receiving some commercial instruction.

Mr. Dumble considered that the best thing to do, would be to remove the commercial department to the King Edward school.

Mr. Crane thought that if the commercial pupils were taken to the King Edward school, the pupils from the north end of the city should be given street car tickets, the issuing of same to be in the hands of the teacher in charge of the commercial department.

Mr. Robinson objected strenuously to giving any pupils street car tickets, as it would be setting a bad precedent. In the country, he said, pupils walked twice the distance, ate a cold dinner at the school and never kicked about it.

Mr. Crane remarked that some country boys could eat fat pork that city bred boys did not relish.

"If they ate more fat pork they would be better men," replied Mr. Robinson.

Dr. Morrison suggested that all commercial pupils residing north of Hunter street be allowed to attend at half fees.

Mr. Dumble remarked that the pupils were getting their education cheap enough.

Mr. Fair pointed out that many pupils attending the Collegiate at the present time, have to go as far, if not farther than students in the north end would have to travel to reach the King Edward school.

Finally it was moved by Mr. Dumble and seconded by Mr. Robinson, that such rooms in the Kign Edward school as willl be required for the commercial pupils be set aside in order that the commercial department might be removed there. Carried.

Routine business was then taken up.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Mr. J R. Hodgson of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute staff, wrote the board, asking for the position of Public School Inspector, to succeed Mr. D. Walker. Received.

Mr. H. J. Stubbs, also of the Collegiate Institute staff, wrote the board, asking for the position to succeed Mr. Walker. Received.

A communication was received from Mr. J. B. Burnham, president of the Children's Aid Society, asking the Board to allow Mr. Wm. Henry, appointed janitor of the King Edward school, some time ago to change positions with Mr. Richard Baker, who is caretaker of the North Ward school. Mr. Baker resides in the south end, and Mr. Henry will soon be on the Hilliard farm in the new Children's Shelter, so that the change, Mr. Burnham pointed out would place the two men nearer their work.—Received.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Mr. Crane read the report of the Property Committee, as follows, —Your Property Committee beg leave to report that we asked the different dealers for quotations for soft coal required for the schools for the ensuing year, and we recommend that the contract be awarded to the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co. at the price of $5.10 a ton; the coal to be weighed on the market scales and delivered as required. The Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co. had the contract last year, and fulfilled it to the satisfaction of the board.. Your committee also recommend that a furnace be installed in the West Ward school of sufficient size to properly heat the building and provide good ventilation.

The committee recommended that two new flag poles be purchased, one for the King Edward and another for the Queen Alexandra schools, the offer of J J Turner & Sons at $75 for the two poles to be accepted.

NO FURNACE YET.

A long discussion followed in connection with the clause in the Property Committee's report regarding the installation of a furnace in the West Ward school. Mr. Crane opposed the spending of $200 or $300 on a furnace. He thought the money should be spent on the closets which were now in bad condition.

Mr. Robinson said he would favor building a new school in the west end of the city and the closing of the West Ward and South Central schools. He did not consider that either building was fit for school purposes.

Mr. Dumble was strongly in favor of putting in the furnace. He moved, seconded by Mr. Robinson that the report be adopted in full. On a vote being taken, Messrs. Fair, Dumble and Hill voted for it, and Messrs. Robinson, Pringle and Crane against it. The motion was therefore lost.

A motion to adopt the report with the exception of the clause regarding the furnace in the West Ward school, was carried unanimously.

VOTE OF THANKS.

On motion of Messrs. Crane and Pringle, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr Cole Barrett, for several handsome bouquets of flowers, that decorated the table around which the board was gathered.

Adjournment then took place.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. E. F. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM SENT IN

Man Saw Smoke From Chimney and Thought House Was on Fire

On Sunday evening, about nine o'clock, the fire alarm was sent in from box 54, at the corner of Hunter and Mark streets, and soon the brigade was on the scene.

It appears that Mr. Wm. Scott, East City, on account of the house feeling extremely cool, built a fire in the furnace. A gentleman passing by noticed smoke coming from the chimney and thought the dwelling was on fire. He went to the corner and sent in an alarm. Mr. Scott was terribly surprised to see the brigade at his door, and also to witness the immense throng of people who had heard the alarm and at once hurried to the scene. Mr. Scott was amused at the idea of the brigade coming to put out the first fire he had had in his furnace this season.

Model Council Of Indian Village

Mr. Dan Whetung Recovering From Serious Illness

The many friends of Mr. Daniel Whetung, of Chemong Indian Village, will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly recovering from the effects of his illness, and that this esteemed and popular resident will soon be around again.

Mr. Whetung is fifty-nine years of age, and has, until within the last few weeks, always enjoyed good health. He is a son of Joseph Whetung, who was chief of the Chemong Indians for many years, and passed away in July, 1887, at the age of 77 years. Joseph Irons had been chief for many years, but resigned on June 10th, and Joseph Whetung, son of the former Chief, and a brother of Dan's, was elected to the position.

The Council is composed of Joseph Irons, a member for the last 22 years; Wm. Knott, a member of 10 years' standing; Geo. Taylor, Dan Whetung, Jr. and John Knott. The secretary of the Council is Dow Taylor. The Indian Village has a very good Council, and no municipal council in the district is conducted with greater decorum, or with better business capacity.

Mr. Dan Whetung has kept a general store at the Indian Village for the past thirty years and has been postmaster for about fifteen years. He is an enthusiastic trapper, and last spring succeeded in securing about 608 muskrat pelts from animals in the Scugog Lake and River. He was born on the reserve and has always enjoyed the respect and confidence of the Indians, but also of the white men throughout Victoria and Peterborough counties He was educated on the reserve at the boarding school of the New England Co., which was then under the superintendency of Mr. Schofield, who was succeeded by Mr. Roberts. Mr. Whetung's mother died two years ago at the advanced age of 84 years.

Mr. Whetung held big regattas at the village every year for some fifteen years. These were always well attended and proved to be most successful. He was champion paddler for many years and is still expert in the use of the blade and the birch bark canoe. In company with Mr. R. D. Tobico he won many canoe tandem races. About twenty-two years ago Mr. Whetung married Miss Lizzie Anderson, daughter of the late Wm. Anderson, of Hiawatha. He has a family of two sons and two daughters. Mr. Whetung was largely instrumental in having the fine new Methodist church erected in the village. It is a handsome and well appointed brick structure, and was opened only a few weeks ago. During the past few weeks, "Dan," as he is popularly called, has been suffering from pleurisy. He was in Nicholls Hospital a couple of weeks. He is now, however, as already stated, on the high road to recovery, and his many friends trust that he will be spared many more years, to exercise his influence for good upon the members of the Indian tribe, of which he is such a leading, worthy and useful member.

A Line of Business Without a Peer

(Extract From Address of Mr, C. W, Pickell at the Life Insurance Convention, Toronto.)

"You are protecting our wives and children, you are guarding our estates, you are making comfortable our own declining years. Because of you our poorhouses and other charitable institutions are scarcely occupied, and our people have learned habits of thrift and foresight; you have sweetened life, you have robbed sorrow of its poignancy, you have extracted the sting from death."

Police Cells Running Wild With Bed Bugs and Vermin

Must be Cleaned Out at Once—Council Chamber in Disgraceful Condition—Powder Magazine Needs Attention—Romaine Street Sewer Up Again

The first session of the city council since the summer vacation was held last night and although only half the members were present the meeting broke up in disorder. Just as the last matter was being disposed of, Mr. David Doidge appeared in the council chamber and upon invitation addressed the aldermen. He is caretaker of the powder magazine and in it is stored from six to ten tons of dynamite. The city recently put a fence around the magazine but when the property committee bought a lock, they got one for which there are several keys, and parties having powder or dynamite down there, are going in and out of the place at will, and frequently leave the place wide open for any one to go in. This is taking greater chances than Mr. Doidge cares about and during his address he was very much in earnest, so much so that he was still talking when the aldermen adjourned and left for their homes. However, Ald. McIntyre, as chairman of the property committee is to have things fixed right around the powder magazine.

The council put through some routine business and several other matters were introduced and referred to the different committees.

Those present were Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Phelan, Wilson, Duncan, Bradburn, Elliott and Johnston.

The usual budget of communications were received and referred to their respective committees.

ROMAINE-ST. SEWER

Mr. J. W. Hale, who resides on Parnell street, addressed the council, asking for an understanding as to when they can use the sewer on Romaine street.

There will be no fall in the Romaine street sewer to carry off the Parnell street sewage, said the chairman of the Board of Works. There is no use building a Parnell street sewer. In another year or two there will be a new trunk sewer on Park street.

Mr. Hales said that there was a pretty fair drain on their street but that it was blocked up and he and his neighbors are greatly inconvenienced in wet weather.

Ald. Phelan asked how things were getting on with the sewer on Romaine and Aylmer streets.

It was explained that the city's portion of the sewer was now all open and running, and that the men were now working on the connection into the school house and were nearly finished.

BYLAWS

The following bylaws were read and passed.:

Bylaw 1335 was a bylaw to increase the interest for the sewer debenture.

Bylaw 1336 was a bylaw providing for the extension of Aylmer street.

Bylaw 1337 was a bylaw to authorize the diversion of the Downie street creek.

HOUSE CLEANING.

Ald. Wilson said that upon looking around he thought that the caretaker of the city hall was allowing the place to get on the rough. The storm windows are still on the windows and have never been taken off since the winter. He moved and Ald. Phelan seconded, that the caretaker be instructed to have the city hall thoroughly cleaned.

ALD. McINTYRE.

The cells in the police station are running wild with bed bugs, said Ald. Duncan. The sewer is also plugged up and the cells are disgraceful. Two little boys were in the cells last night and the alderman said that he went in and lit a couple of matches. The bugs were running all over. He suggested that the wall be cemented all the way to the ceiling and then it could be washed out with a hose.

It was moved that the matter be referred to the property committee, of which Ald. McIntyre is chairman with authority to act at once.

REMOVAL OF POLES

His Worship said that now that the Bell Telephone Co. had got pretty well under way with their underground work, it would be well to open negotiations with the G.N.W. Telegraph Co. for the removal of the poles from George street as soon as the Bell Co.'s wires are removed. The cost of removing the poles will be about $450 and it was thought that if one side of the street could be cleared of poles it would be a good thing. The aldermen concurred in this idea and the manufacturers' committee will look after it.

The mayor brought up the matter of street watering and said that negotiations should be opened with the water commissioners for the purpose of having water service for watering the streets late in the fall and early in the spring. The Board of Works was instructed to look after the matter.

STREET NUMBERING

The matter of street numbering was brought up by the mayor. He said that there would be a postal delivery in the city some time and while the street numbering here was pretty good, it should be perfected. The matter was referred to the legal committee.

SAWDUST FIRES

The next question taken up was that of the frequent fires at the sawdust pile. The brigade refused to attend such fires and the manager of the Hydraulic Power Co. was kicking. The chief had been requested to state to the council what his reasons were, but as yet nothing had been received.

Some of the aldermen did not approve of the chief's action and thought the council should have been referred to for instructions.

Ald. Wilson and Ald. Phelan stood by the brigade and as they are all volunteer men, they cannot afford to lose their work every day or two. They thought the Canal Co. should engage a few of the firemen and the fire engine and have the fire extinguished.

The company has nothing to complain about. They pay very little taxes and for a fire of this nature they should certainly do something to help themselves. There is no use of the company being arbitrary in this matter because other people were bull-headed too. No volunteer brigade would run over there every day or two.

The chairman of the fire, water and light committee was instructed to look into the matter and report to the council at the next meeting.

The chairman of the fire, water and light committee was also instructed to see about putting an alarm bell in the home of engineer of fire department.

Ald. Johnston moved that the council extend an invitation to Hon G. P. Graham, the new minister of railways and canals to visit this city and see the lift lock.

Big Objection to Street Delivery of Mail Removed

Postmaster-General Announces That Drop Letters in Cities Having Free Delivery Will Only Cost One Cent.

When it was proposed to introduce free mail delivery in Peterborough in Peterborough a few months ago, many business men opposed the inauguration on the grounds that they would have to pay two cents on "drop" letters, that is letters mailed in the city to persons residing here. They claimed that it would result in much extra expense to them.

Free mail delivery can no longer be opposed on this ground, for the Postmaster-General, Hon. Rudolph Lemieux, has announced that a change is to be made and that in future drop letters in cities having free mail delivery, will only require a one cent stamp. Mr. Lemieux made the announcement to a Toronto newspaper man and added that the change would go into effect in the very near future.

There is no reason why anyone in Peterborough should now kick against the inauguration of the delivery of mail matter. Any system to avoid the present congestion at the post office would be a boon here. Long waits at the post office would be avoided and the service greatly improved.

It is said that during the short time that the Hon. Mr. Aylesworth was P.M.G. that he looked very favorably on such a reduction. But it was left for his successor in office to make the change that will very shortly go into effect.

Paul Asmundson, an Icelandic settler, near Marshland, Man., accidentally shot himself and died of his injuries.

There are twenty-seven establishments placed under inspection, and there will be a general supervision over the establishments. Mr. S. Ransome has been appointed to take charge of the George Matthew's Co's establishment here.

Incorrigble Boy Sent to Mimico

Chas. Burgoyne Goes to Reformatory for Term Not Exceeding Five Years

Chas. Burgoyne, one of Peterborough's incorrigible boys, was today in the police court, sentenced to a term, not exceeding five years in the Mimico reformatory. It was not more than two weeks ago, that this same lad was allowed to go on suspended sentence on promising to do better.

Today he pleaded guilty to stealing two dollars from Sam Searight yesterday. He has appeared several times and talking to him is evidently of no avail. His father has whipped him and given him every chance to reform, but this son goes on stealing. His parents are quite willing that he be sent to the Mimico school as he will not go to school and does not tell the truth.

His Worship considered the only way to do him any good, was to send him to the reformatory. He again expressed regret that the law did not permit the authorities to give the lad a good whipping. That would do more good than anything. However, His Worship expressed the hope that after a few years in the Industrial School, young Burgoyne would come out a good man.

NEW JANITOR NOW WANTED

Board of Education Makes Change at King Edward School

The Board of Education is looking for a new janitor for the King Edward school. Mr. William Henry, who was appointed to the position about two months ago, will be asked for his resignation as the Board is not satisfied with his work. The matter was dealt with at the meeting of the Board of Education last night, when it was moved by Mr. Hill and seconded by Dr. Burnham that Mr. William Henry be notified that his services as caretaker of the King Edward School are no longer required and that the supervision committee be authorized to advertise for a successor.—Carried.

It appears that Mr. Henry went away for a week, although refused leave of absence by the chairman of the supervision committee, leaving the board in a bad position. As a result it was decided to secure a new man as janitor.

Another Case of "Might Have Been"

How Certain Local Gentlemen Missed a Snug Fortune

"Of all the sad words of tongue and of pen, the saddest are these; 'It might have been.'"

And it might have been different had certain Peterborough gentlemen had as much foresight as they have hindsight. A year ago last July there were advertised for sale in the Review, certain lots in Port Arthur. Seventy lots were placed on the market and offered for ten dollars apiece. No one purchased, but yesterday a Peterborough gentlemen received word that they had been sold for $3,300, an average of $47 apiece. This is a profit of $37 per lot in a little over a year's time, or on the whole 70 lots a net gain of $2,600. This is making money pretty fast. How much more wealthy some gentleman might have been.

Again, 40 acres in the suburbs of Port Arthur were offered for sale for $2,000 in Toronto, as well as in Peterborough. Unfavorable reports were received by local gentlemen but a few days ago this self-same property was disposed of to the Hanson Consolidated Silver Mine Co. for $20,000. This is a pretty good jump in value from $2,000 to $12,000 in a year's time. Certain Peterborough men are now sorry they did not invest, but they will probably be wiser next time.

FARM LABORERS

The special farm laborers' excursion train on the C.P.R. from Sharbot Lake to Toronto, passed through the city this morning about nine o'clock. It was well loaded and about sixty passengers from this district got on. They went to Toronto where they connected with the main excursion, which left there later in the day for Winnipeg and western points It was one of the largest excursions which left the Union Station this year. This is remarkable from the fact that a couple of extra Homeseekers' excursions were run this year.

WEDDING BELLS

CUNNINGHAM—MILANEY

This morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, a pretty wedding took place when Miss Marguerite Milaney, second daughter of Mr. Luke Milaney, Union street, was married to Mr. Joseph Cunningham of Lindsay.

The bride who was attired in a becoming travelling suit of brown chiffon broadcloth with hat to match, was attended by her sister, Miss Lauretta Milaney, who wore a neat suit of fawn, with hat to match. The bride was given away by her father. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. A. Cunningham.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served.

The bride received a number of useful and beautiful presents.

The happy couple left on the 11.45 train for Toronto, Niagara and Guelph. On their return they will reside at 108 Gladstone avenue.

BLADE—MILLER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Alex. Miller, 487 Aylmer street, when his youngest daughter, Miss Emily A., was united in marriage to Mr. Percy Blade, eldest son of Mr. Arthur Blade, of this city. The ceremony was performed in the beautifully decorated drawing room, by Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives. The bride was given away by her father and was unattended. She wore a travelling suit of cream cheviot cloth, with a white felt hat trimmed with pale blue velvet to match. She carried a bouquet of cream roses.

After the nuptial knot had been tied and hearty congratulations bestowed upon the bride and groom, the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast.

A large number of beautiful and costly presents were received by the bride, testifying to the high esteem in which she is held by a wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Blade left on the 4.48 train for Toronto, and on their return will reside on Park street. Many friends will wish them a long, happy and prosperous married life.

Bad Boys Fined in Police Court

Another Lad Punished for Stealing Bicycle—Other Cases

Police Court was a busy place this morning and a great many cases were disposed of.

For some months past a large number of grown up boys gather nightly at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer sts. and their conduct is far from what it ought to be. Several times complaints have been sent to the police station and this morning six of a gang of eighteen were before Magistrate Dumble, charged with disorderly conduct on August 29th.

The accused were Wesley Crowter, Albert Wright, John Bullied, P. Conroy, W. Condon and Howard Innes. They pleaded not guilty.

P.C. McDonald swore that on Thursday night last he was called to Mervin's corner. There were a number of boys howling and throwing stones. Two girls passed by and insulting language was used towards them. When the lads saw the police officer coming they ran, but witness afterwards caught Wright, who gave the names of those who were with him.

John Doherty said that he was with the other lads at the corner. He identified the boys in court as the ones at the corner. A lady told them to move away from the corner and they did. He was only with them about 25 minutes.

John Perkins said that last Thursday night he was walking along Hunter street and they threw stones at him and tried to catch him by a rope.

A lady who resides over Mervin's butcher shop stated that it was terrible the way the boys acted. She could not put her head out of the window but she was insulted. The language they used was most disgusting.

His Worship said that people could not tolerate any such conduct. He fined each of them two dollars to be paid forthwith. Only one had the necessary two spot and the others were taken downstairs and locked up until they could pay their fines.

FOR STEALING A BICYCLE.

Another charge was preferred against Wesley Crowter. He pleaded guilty to stealing a bicycle the property of A. Rose, on August 26th. It appears that Rose left the wheel in Jackson park and when he came to get it it was gone. Crowter stated that he took the wheel mistaking it for another. He afterwards said that he bought it at McPherson's. Crowter was allowed to go on suspended sentence some months ago on a charge of stealing, but this time he did not get off so easily. He was fined ten dollars and costs, amounting to $19, to be paid forthwith. He had not the necessary funds so will sojourn at Castle Nesbitt until the fine is paid.

DISMISSED.

Robt. Redmond, who resides on Donegal street, was in court to-day complaining of boys continually annoying him and taking his fruit.

On Sunday a lad was passing his place and stopped to look at a buggy which has a "For Sale" card on it. Mr. Redmond told him to move on and then set his dog on him. A neighbor seeing the dog jumping on the boy picked up a stone and threw at the canine.

Mr. Redmond had a charge of cruelty to animals laid against the neighbor, but His Worship after hearing both sides to the story, dismissed the case.

OTHER CASES.

Wm. Stewart was charged with being drunk in a public place yesterday.

"Are you guilty," asked His Worship. "I am guilty I suppose, or I wouldn't be here," said the accused.

He was fined the usual two dollars, which he paid. He said he came here from Cavan yesterday and had $95 on him. He complained of someone taking it.

J. Willison and G. Meint also paid two dollars for intoxication.

CONSTRUCTING FIREPROOF OUTBUILDINGS.

Serious efforts have recently been made, to reduce the frightful loss from lightning and fire on Canadian farms. And they have been wholly successful, not only in securing a thoroughly lightning and fireproof construction, but also in bringing the price down to, and even below, that of the old-time board and shingle barn.

The new plan is to use corrugated galvanized sheets for roofing and siding barns and all outbuildings. These sheets are very rigid, and make a perfectly strong construction when used over very light framework. No sheeting boards are used at all—only light purlin strips being necessary.

Such buildings are now becoming very common, and users everywhere affirm that "Acorn Quality" Corrugated Galvanized Sheets, manufactured by the Metal Shingle & Siding Co., Limited, of Preston, Ont., is the most satisfactory material known for the purpose. They are so heavily galvanized that they easily outlast a generation and never need repairs. The firm above mentioned will gladly send to inquirers their interesting literature about "Acorn Quality" Corrugated Galvanized Sheets, and give names of users in all parts of Canada. 46

NEW GALLERY HAS BEEN STARTED

In Knox Church—Congregational Meeting This Evening

Work on the handsome new gallery to be erected in Knox church was commenced yesterday, and will now go ahead rapidly. Tonight a congregational meeting will be held in the church when business in connection with the work of the new improvement will be transacted. The members of the church are urgently requested to be present.

Large Attendance at the Collegiate

At the opening of the Collegiate Institute there was a large attendance, especially in the lower forms, of pupils who have just passed the entrance.

Some of the pupils in the senior have not returned yet, but will be back this week. In all 250 pupils were registered this morning and it is necessary that the two commercial forms be removed to the King Edward school as proposed. This will relieve the congestion somewhat and allow space for the junior pupils.

Fine Programme Will be Rendered

At the Young Conservative Club Rooms To-morrow Evening

At the Young Conservative Club rooms on George street, tomorrow Thursday, evening, the fall and winter programme will be opened by a smoking concert.

The occasion will also partake of the nature of a farewell to Mr. J. H. Burnham the president, who is leaving shortly to take up his residence in Toronto.

There are several good vocalists who are members of the club and they will render some excellent selections. It is hoped every member will be in attendance—young and old. The bright, cheerful rooms, should be filled to the doors as the gathering promises to be an interesting one while the bill of fare will delight and amuse.

All Conservatives are cordially invited to be in attendance tomorrow Thursday, evening. A good time is promised everyone.

Give Fair Play to

A really reliable remedy for headache—Zutoo.

If you have got it into your head that Zutoo Tablets will hurt you, you are mistaken.

It isn't fair to us for you to judge Zutoo by other headache cures.

The fair thing for both of us is—to judge Zutoo on its merits—to test it.

If you find it does not cure your headache, sick, nervous or otherwise, in twenty minutes, break up a cold in a night and leave you feeling good every time—no bad after effects, then discard it.

But do not condemn it unfairly without a trial, and keep on suffering. You really do not have to, and one trial of Zutoo will prove it.

We'll send trial tablets for nothing, or you can buy them at dealers in 10c. and 25c. packages.

All members of the department are asked to be present as the plans for the department will be outlined for the fall and winter season.

Hamilton building permits for August total $120,555 as compared with $444,860 for the corresponding month last year.

The Cheese Board Discusses "Short-Weight" Cheese Trouble

The question of diffference in the weight of cheese between Peterborough and Belleville weighing was discussed at this morning's meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board. Mr. Cook, one of the buyers stated that on the product of one factory he had bought on the Peterborough Board there had been a difference of nearly one pound per box in the weighing at Peterborough and at Belleville. He wanted the buyer to have the right to choose a number of boxes from the cheese of each factory he buys and weigh them on the market scales in this city and to let the weight of these govern. He believed this was the buyer's privilege.

President Riddell stated that the buyer had that privilege, but as the buyer was very seldom at the market scales when the cheese was weighed, the question arose as to who would bring the picked cheese back from the car to have them weighed. He did not think the man who brought in the cheese would bring them back to be weighed after first having gone to the market scales to have them weighed.

Several of the salesmen spoke along the same lines as Mr. Riddell. They agreed that the buyer had the privilege to weigh three or five cheese as the case might be, but they did not think that the farmer should bring them back from the car to the scales.

Finally it was moved by Mr. A. E. Kennedy, salesman for Buckhorn factory, seconded by Mr. Young, salesman for Myrtle factory, that the cheese first be weighted at the market scales and then taken to the car and the weight presented to the buyer. If he does not wish to accept it he shall have the privilege of picking three or five cheese, as the case may be, sending them to the scales and having them weighed at his (the buyer's) expense, the latter weight to govern the sale.

The motion carried.

During the discussion Mr. Geo. Gillespie stated that he did not believe there was any intentional deception as to weight by salesmen or cheesemakers, and that they would try to avoid anything of the kind happening again.

Former Peterborough Resident Was First Doctor at Wreck

A former Peterborough resident, Dr W. H. Jeffs, was the first surgeon on the spot at the terrible wreck on the C.P.R. at Caledon yesterday morning. Dr. and Mrs. Jeffs were on the train immediately behind the one that was wrecked and were among the first to work among the injured. Dr. Jeffs and his wife are well known in Peterborough, having resided here a few years ago.

The Toronto World says;

Mrs. W. H. Jeffs, Eglinton, with her husband, Dr. Jeffs, was on the train immediately behind the wreck. They arrived upon the scene ten minutes after the wreck and Dr. Jeffs was the first surgeon on the spot. He turned in and worked until others arrived. Mrs. Jeffs, who helped her husband with his work, told the World as she worked about the relief train, of the scene.

"It was terible," she said, "but there was work to be done, and that helped me. After the men had done the heavier work of taking the injured from the wreckage, there was much that a woman could do.

"Most of the women survivors had fainted, or were in hysterics, and all had to be sent back to Caledon to be cared for by sanitarians there.

"The nerviest man I ever saw in my life was an old gentleman with a broken leg. He was lying on the platform of one of the wrecked cars. His face was white with agony. His hands were clenched and his teeeth bit through the flesh of his underlip as he kept back the cries which his suffering tried to force from him. As a physician came up to him and instructed myself and another to remove him to the side of the track where he could be attended to, the old man cried hoarsely, 'No! no!, Doc, attend to the others. Take the women first.'

"I never saw a finer, more self-sacrificing courage, and my belief in mankind is greater since I witnessed that scene than it has ever been."

Father of Peterborough Man Injured in Railway Wreck

Mr. W. A. Hillhouse, whose name appears among those injured in the railway wreck at Horseshoe curve, Caledon, near Orangeville, is the father of Mr. Wm. E. Hillhouse, secretary of the Canadian Cordage Co. of this city. The injured Mr. Hillhouse, was on his way from Shelburne to his home in Hamilton, when the horrible catastrophe occurred. He is a traveller for the Bowes-Jamieson Co. of Hamilton.

His son, who first learned of his father's injuries by the report in the paper, at once wired to learn more of it. Fortunately, Mr. Hillhouse was not seriously injured, suffering only from a few scalp wounds. He was brought to his home in Hamilton, where he is recovering from the shock of the accident.

Three Thousand Acres of Land Will Be Made Arable

Splendid Progress is Being Made on the Cavan Drain—Will be Completed by the End of the Year.

Splendid progress is being made on the big drain through the Cavan swamp, which, it is estimated, will make 3,000 acres of land, now lying unproductive, suitable for cultivation. The drain, when completed, will be about eight miles in length, and runs across the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth concessions of Cavan, then emptying into the creek, which runs through Peterborough. The confluence will be somewhere near the city.

Work on the drain was commenced about the first of May, and to date about 2 1-4 miles have been completed. A little over five miles remains to be done, and it is expected that the work will be completed about Christmas. Russell, Brooks and Hilton, of Toronto, have the contract, and the work is being done with a steam dredge, which was built on the ground and cost about $3,600. The price of the contract is $11,960, which is being borne by the municipality of Cavan, the property owners whose land is being drained by the big ditch, and the Ontario Government. The drain is seventeen feet wide at the top and four feet at the bottom, and varies in depth from five to eleven feet.

It is estimated that 3,000 acres of land that is now of little use, will be made suitable for cultivation. The drain will be a boon to the farmers of Cavan, who are greatly pleased with the way the work is being pushed.

Pleaded Guilty to Stealing $80

Three Youths Dealt With at Special Police Court Session

At a special meeting of the police court this afternoon, Jos. Reynolds, a youth of about fifteen years, pleaded guilty to stealing $80 from Wm. Stewart, of Cavan, yesterday. Reynolds, along with two other boys, Earl Fredenburg and Fred Worboy were arrested this morning, and all faced the magistrate this afternoon. Fredenburg was charged with having received $1.00 from Reynolds, knowing it to be stolen money and Worboy with having accepted $2.20 under similar circumstances. Reynolds was remanded for sentence until Saturday morning and the other two cases had not been disposed of at the time of going to press.

Deputation is Back From Trip

Saw Public Libraries in Many Western Towns and Cities

The deputation which went to the western towns and cities to see the new public libraries in order to get ideas for the remodelling of the new public library here, have returned. Ald Morgan said to-day that they visited Guelph, Galt, Berlin, Paris, Brantford, Hamilton and St. Catharines. They admired a number of the buildings and as Architect Blackwell was with them he will be able to revise his plans so that the library here should be an ideal one.

CHILDREN HAD JOLLY OUTING

Enjoyed Ride on Cars and Jolly Time at Jackson Park.

The annual outing of the non-denominational Sunday school of Gospel hall on Monday was certainly the most enjoyable and happy one ever held by the school. Two special cars conveyed the company around the city and to Jackson park, where a short time was spent in play and a light luncheon. Returning to the hall, corner George and Brock streets, an elabortae supper had been provided by the ladies, after which gifts were given to the children and addresses were delivered by the superintendent and Mr. H. A. Fife, showing the importance of Bible study and less attention to the things that make difference among us. After singing and thanks to God for His gifts the company dispersed.

Contractors Have Begun Operations

Messrs. Brown & Aylmer at Work on No. 5 Section of Canal at Campbellford

Messrs. Brown & Aylmer, contractors, who have been awarded the contract for section five of the Trent Canal—from Campbellford to a point west of Middle Falls—a distance of about three miles,—began work on this section today. The firm expect to have about sixty men on the work by the end of the week. It is understood that there is considerable rock cutting and dredging to do. Operations will be rushed and it will take about two years to complete the work. The contract, it is expected, will reach about $600,000. Messrs. Brown & Aylmer are experienced, progressive contractors. They completed No. 3 section recently on the Lake Simcoe—Balsam Lake division, a distance of seven miles, and a few years ago they built the section of the canal between Lakefield and Nassau, a distance of seven miles. Both contracts were finished in first class style, and reflect great credit on the enterprise and business management of the firm.

Geo. Gardiner, a G.T.R. brakeman, was killed at Winona early Sunday morning by falling asleep on the station platform.

Ships Surgeon Had Busy Time

Seven Births on Steamer During Her Last Voyage Across the Pond

New York, Sept. 3.—The World today says; The Red Star Liner Kroonland is a speedy boat, but seven storks that chased the vessel across the Atlantic, succeeded in catching her. Dr. T. E. Schaepkens, the ship's surgeon, had a busy time, and each day an addition had to be recorded on the passenger list.

The first day out Mr. Stork presented Mr. and Mrs. Julia Houssiere, cabin passengers, with a bouncing 8 pound baby girl. During the next six days the storks turned their attention to the steerage and six healthy infants arrived to break the monotony of the voyage.

Ripped Wedding Dress into Shreds

Sister of Manitoba Bride Objected to Ceremony Going on

Minitonas, Man., Sept. 4.—A willing bride, but an unwilling sister of the bride, caused an unusual excitement on Monday and Tuesday nights of this week. A young homesteader of this vicinity had made arrangements to marry the daughter of a well-to-do farmer. Unknown to the girl's parents the arrangements were complete for the ceremony to be performed at the residence of the groom's father on Monday evening. As the ceremony was about to commence the bride's sister entered upon the scene and stopped proceedings in a manner which suggested a late residence among the Amazons. Seeing the silk wedding dress provided by the groom's parents, she caught hold of it and tore it from top to bottom, saying, "Your father can buy you a wedding dress when you need one." Such was the frenzy of the sister that all efforts to quiet her were unavailing, and the perplexed clergyman pocketed the license and retired from the conflict. On Tuesday evening his services were again requested, when the ceremony was performed, the unwilling sister, fortunately for the young couple, arriving too late, to do more than cause a little excitement by going into hysterics in front of the house when she found she had not arrived in time.

To Investigate Cause of The C. P. R. Wreck at Caledon

Searching Enquiry Will Be Made Into Causes of Disaster.

Victims Are Progressing Favorably—Provincial Government Will Be Represented at Inquests—Evidence of Survivors at Toronto — Crown Attorney Visits Scene of Accident —Claim Agents Are Busy.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Hon. J. J. Foy, Attorney-General and acting Premier, acted promptly yesterday morning in ordering an enquiry into the railway wreck at Caledon on Tuesday when seven lives were lost.

Although not doubting the possibilities of the coroner's jury, which had already opened an inquest at Caledon, Hon. Mr. Foy took advantage of the fact that one of the victims had died in Toronto to consult Dr. Arthur Jukes Johnson, chief coroner for the city, and request him to commence what will really be a Government enquiry into the causes leading up to the wreck.

The Attorney-General placed the services of Inspector Rogers of the provincial detective force at Coroner Johnson's disposal, and he is now at work upon the case.

A stenographer will be present, and the evidence will be taken in full tonight and at any subsequent sittings.

A. Bell, son of the dead man, was called. He had viewed his father's body and he wiped his eyes as he was sworn. He told of driving his father to the Carleton station from his farm in Melancthon Township, Dufferin County.

The train was an hour late, and he left his father there. This was the last time he saw him alive. At six o'clock that evening he learned that his father was seriously hurt, but it was not until he arrived in the city yesterday that he learned of his death.

His sister, who lives near the homestead, is critically ill, and has not been told of her father's death, nor will she be at present. The rest of the family, two daughters and three sons, living in Winnipeg, have been notified, but will not be able to attend the funeral. The body will be sent home to-day, and the funeral held there at once.

The son came to the city by the same route on which his father had come. He passed the scene of the wreck where the cars are still piled in disorder.

Dr. A. J. Harrington, who made the post mortem, said that Mr. Bell came to his death from hemorrhage and shock, due to tearing of the spleen.

After the session Dr. Johnson said to the press:

"We will go into this matter to the end. If blame or responsibility can be found and fixed it will be done no matter who is hit. Every scrap of evidence that can be had will be heard."

It is reported that the inquest at Orangeville was opened on the bodies of five dead and that the foreman of the jury is one of the chief witnesses. This will place the whole responsibility of placing the cause of the disaster on the shoulders of the Toronto investigation. It is likely that several sittings will be needed to complete the hearing of evidence. The railway company will be represented by counsel.

The condition of the injured at the Western Hospital was last evening reported to be quite satisfactory, except Mrs. Ronson, who has a broken back and for whom there is little hope of recovery.

Crown Attorney McFadden of Brampton visited the scene of the wreck yesterday.

While passengers on the train persist in saying that the speed was unusual and excessive, Engineer Hodge and Fireman Ross declare that the train was running only between 15 and 20 miles an hour. Conductor Grimes refuses to make a statement.

The inquest at Caledon presents two unusual features: one, that the enquiry is being held as to the death of the entire six instead of only one, as is the custom, and the other that the foreman of the jury is Alexander McLeish, the farmer who saw the accident occur and who is therefore an important witness.

There were three witnesses to the run-off. Mr. McLeish, Jos. Ferguson and a neighbor farmer, who refuses to talk until the inquest, and James Cannon of Caledon East. The last-named was driving down the hill in the face of the oncoming train and saw the whole catastrophe.

M. J. McCall, one of the Dominion Railway Commission inspectors, has left for the Horseshoe to make an investigation.

C. P. R. claims-agents are reported to have gone promptly to work endeavoring to effect settlements with the families of the victims of the accident rather than have the matter taken to the courts.

James Ross, residing at 70 East Dupont street, fireman on the engine of the wrecked train, sustained a scalp wound and was scalded about the face and right arm. His injuries, however, are not serious.

C. P. R. Wanted to Abolish Curve.

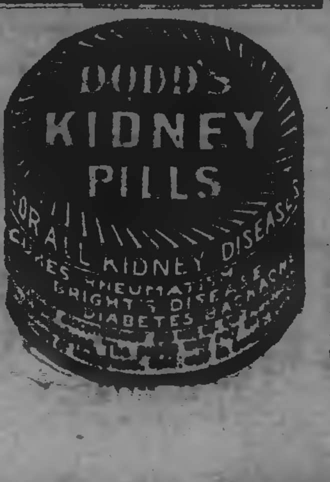
The Ontario Government is more than ordinarily interested, perhaps, in view of the following statement made to The Toronto World yesterday by Andrew Dods, who writes:

"I notice your strictures in to-day's World in reference to the C. P. R. maintaining dangerous curves at Caledon Mountain, and while the railways are often to blame, I feel they are not in this case.

"About three years ago the C. P. R. applied to the Government for leave to change their route so as to join the Credit Valley line at Inglewood and cut out this dangerous curve, but the Government refused to allow it at the solicitation of William Stubbs, the member for Cardwell.

"Now, this was a case where the people's representative prevented the railways from avoiding the danger, and the railway is not to blame for the trouble. The curve is extremely dangerous, and should be abandoned."

Angus MacMurchy, counsel for the C. P. R., last evening corroborated the above.



EXPRESS TRAIN WRECKED.

Supposed to Be Work of Russian Revolutionist.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—The Prussian railway administration has offered a reward for the discovery of the person who wrecked the St. Petersburg-Berlin express between Strassburg and Rehfelde, near Berlin, shortly before midnight, resulting in eleven persons being injured. Presumably it was the work of an Anarchist or Russian revolutionist, who hoped to kill a member of the Russian Imperial family who is said to have been on board the train.

The train was derailed, several cars were telescoped, and afterwards caught fire. An examination of the scene of the wreck at daylight showed that the bolts had been removed from fish-plates of a fifty-foot rail, resulting in the latter becoming deranged after the locomotive had passed over it. The persons injured were mostly inhabitants of Berlin, postal clerks, commercial travelers and two army officers. It does not appear that any Russian of high rank was a passenger on the train, but the Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch, with a staff of six officers, is expected to arrive here to-day on his way to the German army manoeuvres, when he will be the guest of Emperor William. The officials of the Prussian railroads are unusually alert at present owing to the frequent accidents, which have recently occurred.

FATALITY AT LAMBTON.

Young Gardener Breaks His Neck In Wagon.

Lambton Mills, Sept. 5.—A shocking accident, by which George Atkinson, a well-known young market gardener, lost his life, took place a short distance from here last night.

Atkinson had been to the city with a load of produce. It was while passing through his own gate, on his return, that the accident occurred. While no one was near at the time and saw the affair, it seems that Atkinson had a projecting board on the wagon, which had probably been used as a seat, caught the young man between the wagon and the gatepost, jamming him and breaking his neck, the horse being brought to a stop. He was in this position three-quarters of an hour before release came, Mrs. McPherson, a neighbor, being the first to see the unfortunate young man.

When released it was found that Atkinson was dead, his neck having been broken.

BRIDGE COLLAPSED.

Man Killed While Running With a Traction Engine.

Brantford, Sept. 5.—At an early hour yesterday morning T. W. Clark of Cainsville was starting out with a steam traction to do some threshing on a neighbor's farm. About two miles east of Cainsville a bridge runs over Fairchilds' Creek.

Clark was passing over this bridge with his engine when the bridge gave way, taking Clark with it, killing him instantly.

Some of the neighbors saw the bridge going down and hastened to Clark's assistance, but could do nothing.

MOORS ATTACK FRENCH

Six Thousand Tribesmen Take Part in Fierce Battle.

Mounted on White Horses and Chanted From Koran—Repulsed on All Sides—800 Were Killed — Frenchmen Lost Eight and Seventeen Wounded — Ground Strewn With Corpses—Lasted Seven Hours.

Casablanca, Sept. 5.—Eight Frenchmen were killed and 17 were wounded in an engagement Tuesday outside the camp. The fighting was started by an attack made by the Moors on a French scouting party. About 6,000 Moors participated.

The Moors, who were repulsed on all sides, made a most impressive picture as, garbed fantastically, mounted on white horses and carrying their banners in the front line, they swept down from the hills in splendid formation and charged thunderously to within about 400 yards of the French camp, which for a moment seemed to be in danger of being overridden.

As they advanced, the Moors chanted in unison verses from the Koran Book. The irregular Algerian cavalry encountered the first shock of the Moors' assault, but they did not budge a foot from the position they occupied.

Gen. Drude quickly deployed his forces to the greatest advantage, and the Moors were submitted to a fire of shot and shell which soon left the ground strewn with corpses.

Major Prevost was slain while returning to camp after the engagement, which opened at 5 a. m. and lasted seven hours.

It is estimated that in the engagement about 800 Moors were killed.

Major Prevost conducted a scouting expedition, which was the actual cause of the battle, the object being to locate the enemy and prepare the way for an extensive offensive movement later. The major advanced about eight miles in a southerly direction, meeting only with scattered bands of Moors, which were easily dispersed. He then issued orders to return, and it was when nearing the camp that his force was assailed by hordes of Moors. Prevost formed his men in hollow squares, with the irregular Algerian cavalry in front. Gen. Drude quickly reinforced Prevost and the engagement immediately developed into a desperate conflict, from which the Moors retreated only after their ranks had been decimated by a shell fire.

Second Engagement.

Paris, Sept. 5.—A despatch was received during the day from Vice-Admiral Philibert at Casablanca, reporting that a new engagement occurred Tuesday, Sept. 3, about seven miles south of Casablanca. The French cruiser Gloire participated in the fighting, firing 150 shells at the Moors, who were dispersed and fled to the hills. This engagement followed a forward movement on the part of the French forces.

The fierce assaults of the enemy are believed to be due to France's failure to annihilate the Moors during the early stages of the expedition, a result which France was unable to accomplish on account of the restrictions imposed on her by the Algeciras convention.

M. Regnult, the French Minister at Tangier, left Paris yesterday for Spain, where he will confer with the Spanish officials on the subject of the enlargement of the action and co-operation of Spain and France.

TWO WOMEN ASPHYXIATED.

Exhibition Visitors Found Dead In Room of Hotel.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Two women visitors to the exhibition are dead as a result of blowing out the gas at the Osgoode Hotel, West Queen street, Tuesday night. They are Mrs. Janet McEwing, Harlock, Huron County, 22 years, and her mother, Mrs. John Shannon, 50 years, same address.

With Alex. McEwing, the husband of the younger woman, and John Watts of Harlock, the two came to the city Tuesday morning. Engaging the room, they spent the afternoon and evening at the fair.

Returning, they retired, the two women occupying room 4, while the men slept in another part of the house. Mr. McEwing turned out the gas for them.

Mr. McEwing became alarmed because he could not arouse them in the morning. The door was forced, but the women were dead and the room filled with gas. The jet was turned on.

SERIES OF ACCIDENTS.

Purser Gordon Seriously Injured—Boy Shot Dead.

Fort William, Sept. 5.—Purser O. B. Gordon fell down the hold of the steamer Rosedale Tuesday and fractured his skull. His condition is precarious.

S. Worrall, the 16-year-old son of George Worrall, who was accidentally shot on Monday, is dead.

Invermay, Sask., Sept. 5.—Two gunning accidents occurred here Tuesday, one of which resulted in the death of William Condon, aged 16. The other, George Snell, had his hand shattered. Condon was riding with the loaded gun in a buggy, when it slipped into the wheel, and both barrels were discharged into his body.

Revenue Bounding.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The receipts of the Provincial Secretary's Department for the eight months ending Aug. 31 were $210,501.23, an increase of nearly $90,000 over the corresponding period of last year, when the receipts totalled $122,280.91. For August the amount taken for licenses, charters, etc., was $12,034.15, and for the same month last year the figure was $10,831.45.

While the receipts showed a satisfactory increase, there has been a falling off in the past few weeks in the number of new companies incorporated.

Saw Crack in the Bridge; One Workman's Statement

Painter Gives Startling Evidence at Quebec Inquest.

Flaw Was Twenty Inches Long and Three-Quarters of an Inch Wide—Had Been Like That Some Time—Inspector Did Not Consider Bridge in Serious Condition—Iron Work Bent.

Quebec, Sept. 5.—Young Alexander Ouimet, a painter, who had worked on the bridge, gave some sensational evidence at the inquest yesterday into the bridge disaster.

"There was a crack," he said, "in the bottom lath plate at the bottom of the ironwork on the main pier on the Montreal side. It was twenty inches long and three-quarters of an inch wide."

He startled Engineer Hoare; he startled the coroner; he startled everybody. Questions in French and English were fired at him and he answered both. He insisted that the crack was there, and pointed out the spot in the blue print with a wealth of technical detail in French and English.

In spit of it all Mr. Hoare could not locate just where he meant, so the inquest was adjourned until today, when blue prints showing details of spots will be submitted.

Young Ouimet indicated the root of the huge iron column that once rose 400 feet high from a mound of solid granite, known as the May pier, that rent the river; from this arm the cantilever arm hung out 712 feet. It was at the base of this, he swore, there was a crack—where the plate was bolted, not through the bolt holes, but near them.

E. A. Hoare, chief engineer for the Quebec Bridge Co., first took the stand yesterday before the coroner. He said the plans for the bridge were approved by the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals Aug. 31, 1898, after which tenders were called, Jan. 2, 1899, being the date for receiving them. The Phoenix Bridge Co. made plans in detail of the work as it went on, subject to the approval of Theodore Cooper. Their tender was not for the work in lump sum, but at so much per ton.

Mr. Cooper gets a report every week by mail. On Tuesday, the 27th, Mr. McLure, an inspector, reported verbally that at No. 9 lower chord on the west side the main pier was a deflection inward; it showed just a slight curve.

Mr. Hoare explained to the jury that the chord was composed of three or four bars with small spans between. Instead of these being perfectly straight they showed a bulging inward, quite slight at the middle, just as if they were too long. It was not a direct indication of collapse, because frequently the ironwork is bent a little in raising or transportation.

McLure did not consider it in serious condition. Hoare visited the bridge early next morning, went over the whole construction with Mr. McLure and Mr. Kinlock and Mr. Birks, and discussed the matter. The engineer on the bridge had checked all the levels, the alignments of the posts, finding everything in perfect condition.

Then McLure went to New York. The accident happened that night.

"You never thought the condition of that chord was a serious thing?"

"I never thought it would cause an accident, but I thought it worth consulting Mr. Cooper about."

STRIKER SUICIDES.

Grew Moody Because He Received No Strike Pay.

Pittsburg, Sept. 5.—Harry Iden of Long Island, N. Y., a telegraph operator, died in the Allegheny General Hospital Tuesday night. Desperate, Iden twice tried to hang himself, then he took carbolic acid.

Although not a union man, Iden, who was 40 years old, quit work when the strike was declared. He said it would not last long and came home with his wife and two children. No money came to Iden from the strike benefit. He grew moody and behaved so strangely he was arrested. In his cell Iden tried to hang himself with his suspenders and again with his cravat, and was then stripped.

The police let Mrs. Iden take her husband home. He escaped from her and was found five miles from the home, fatally poisoned.

Firemen May Die.

New York, Sept. 5.—An exploded tank of gasoline in the cellar of a burning building on Havenmeyer street, Brooklyn, yesterday seriously injured four firemen. Two will probably die of their injuries.

The fire broke out in a tenement house cellar, where there was stored a quantity of paint and oils.

The firemen, who had flooded the cellar with water, rolled out a tank of gasoline, when it exploded.

Sixteen Years For Assault.

New York, Sept. 5.—That it is the intention of the judges in whose hands their fate may be placed to deal severely with men convicted of attacks upon women and children, was evidenced yesterday, when Frederick Shonland was sent to prison for not less than 16 nor more than 18 years. He had assaulted a 16-year-old girl.

A Lucky Escape.

London, Sept. 5.—W. H. Butler, a foreman employed by the Pere Marquette, fell 40 feet from the bridge over the river at the south end of the city late yesterday afternoon, alighting on a cement pier and escaped without injury.

Hotel Burned.

Put In Bay, Sept. 5.—The Put In Bay House, one of the leading hotels on this island, was destroyed by fire late Tuesday night, together with most of its contents. The guests saved their belongings.

Youth in Serious Trouble.

Chatham, Sept. 5.—William Adkin, aged about 19, a youth of good connections and living in Dresden, has been arrested, charged with rape, the victim being a young English girl under 16 years of age. He was released on $1,000 bail.

Fire Chief Kills Home-Wrecker.

Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 5.—Fire Chief B. H. Miller of Franklin, Ohio, yesterday shot and instantly killed J. H. Little, who recently eloped with his wife and was returned to Franklin Tuesday night for trial. Miller is now insane.

Suicide at Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Last evening an unknown man leaped from the centre of the upper steel arch bridge to the river, 1[illegible] feet below.

ught Statue Was Chinese Idol

New York, Sept. 4.—When the British steamer Braemar of the Warwick Line anchored just below Bedloe's Island yesterday, the entire crew of 37 pig-tailed Chinamen scurried below, only to re-appear, each one bearing a bunch of burning joss sticks. As the vessel swung and her bow pointed straight toward the Statute of Liberty, the thirty-seven Celestials waved their joss sticks, chanted a prayer and kow-towed to the deck. None of them had ever been to New York before, and they believed the statute a great idol.

Large Advance In the Revenue

Provincial Secretary Department Receives $210,000 in Eight Months

The revenue of the Provincial Secretary's Department for August reached a total of $12,034.15. While this sum is small compared with those received in previous months of the year, when the maximum was $35,487 for the period, it exceeds the amount collected in the same month last year. In August, 1906, the receipts were $10,831. For the eight months of the year now elapsed the revenue of the Department was $210,501. During the corresponding eight months of 1906, the revenue was $122,280.

The money represents the payments on fees charged for the incorporation of companies and automobile tags.

$1.25 Wheat is Now Predicted

Considerable Profit Taking on Corn This Morning

Chicago, Sept. 5.—The big wheat holders have not sold. Those are the ones who look on the foreign situation as a guide. The position of wheat is getting stronger every day in our opinion, and we firmly believe a strong upward movement cannot be long delayed. We think when we say $1.25 for wheat that we are conservatively reasonable. The market closed with a loss of 1 3-8 to 1 3-4 from last night.

Corn sold above its previous high figures this morning. There was considerable profit taking and prices had a good set back. The buying was of a good character. Local receipts 226 cars. Clearances 219,000. Market showed 1-2 to 7-8 decline from yesterday.

Oats, like corn, made a new high record, September selling at 57, December 56, May 55. Local receipts 208 cars. The anxiety on the part of the shorts keeps this market crazy. The bull traders make prices to suit themselves. Oats is a good thing to let alone. The close was unchanged to 1-4 higher than last night.

There was a reaction in provisions all around and yesterday's advance was lost. 16,000 hogs, market steady. We believe that this is a good time to take on some of the January option, for a considerable profit.

Attractive Ladies From Ontario

Are Now Touring Quebec as Guests of Two Newspapers

It is a pity that the weather has been so bad today, for as a result a very poor impression of Montreal is likely to prevail in Perth and Elgin Counties, Ontario, for some time to come says the Montreal Witness. The reason is this: Today a party of no fewer than 35 ladies, with their conductors, from Perth and Elgin counties, are visiting the city, having each been awarded a trip by boat as far as Quebec and back as a prize in subscription contests organized by the 'Herald,' of Stratford, and the 'Times,' of St. Thomas.

The conductors of the ladies claim that they are the fairest representatives of the particular region of the Dominion in which they reside, and without any disparagement to those who remain behind, it may be said that their claim appears to be well justified, for not even the daintiest shoppers on the most fashionable part of St. Catherine street, were able to detract attention from the fair visitors when they passed by.

The ladies arrived in Montreal from Toronto by one of the R. & O. steamers and are making the Queen's hotel their headquarters until this evening, when they will continue their trip. It is to be hoped they will be able to see Quebec under better conditions than Montreal, but, despite the bad weather, they appeared to be enjoying themselves immensely. Accompanying the party are Messrs. W. S. Dingman and L. H. Dingman, brothers, who were formerly partners on the Stratford 'Herald,' but have branched into wider success and now control the two provincial dailies named.

FIVE MEN SENT FOR TRIAL.

Wiarton Raiders Must Appear at Next Assizes.

Wiarton, Sept. 5.—Yesterday afternoon the Thomas "raiding" case was opened before Police Magistrate Miller, with P. G. Tucker of Owen Sound and Mr. Munro of Palmerston for the defence. Provincial Detective Reburn had no counsel and fought his own case. The evidence was practically the same as that given before.

The majority of raiders, it appears, got there too late and escaped prosecution. The men who have got to appear before the county judge on the 15th inst. are: William, Walter, John and Robert Lancaster and R. Hastings.

Mayor McEwen wanted to join Magistrate Miller on the bench, but Mr. Reburn objected and won out on his point that he was going to use the mayor as a witness, and he could not sit.

The five men will appear before Judge Mulock in Walkerton at the assizes on the 15th inst.

Great credit is due to Mr. Reburn for the way he has handled the case, and the outcome is satisfactory to all our people. There has been no persecution, but simply prosecution in the interests of law and justice.

SECOND JOHANN HOCK.

Burglar Killed in New York Credited With Two Murders.

New York, Sept. 5.—A second Johann Hock, the police believe, has been discovered in Henry Hoffman, the burglar who was killed while attempting to rob Charles Verrall's flat last Friday. The police declare that they have evidence to show that Hoffman was the murderer of Sophy Heckler, a servant girl found dead Aug. 3, and Mrs. Lena Schum, who was killed in Brooklyn, Aug. 20. It is possible, they declare, that Hoffman was also guilty of other mysterious murders which occurred recently.

Hoffman's method, like that of Hock, the police say, was to make the acquaintance of women of his own nationality, by pretending to desire to marry them, secure the opportunity of robbing, and if necessary, killing them.

Hoffman entered the Verrall flat early last Friday morning and attempted to kill the family by turning on the gas. Verrall shot him to death.

SHOOTING AT MIDLAND.

Cook of American Hotel Shot by Jealous Man.

Midland, Sept. 5.—On Monday night, about 12 o'clock, a shooting occurred at the American Hotel, by which Miss Rose Latanville, cook at the hotel, was shot at twice.

One bullet entered her left side in the region of the heart, and the other grazed her left arm.

The perpetrator of the crime was John Jeffries, also an employe at the hotel.

Physicians were unable to locate the bullet in the girl's side, but notwithstanding that she is in a very favorable condition, and, unless complications set in, her recovery is hoped for.

Jeffries received a preliminary trial yesterday before Police Magistrate Jeffrey and Crown Attorney Cotter, and was committed to Barrie jail for trial.

MUST LEAVE CANADA.

Man Accused of Fraud Ordered to Quit the Country.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 5.—Jacques Erlanger, arrested while attempting to procure possession of nearly 1,000 letters addressed to the Rogers Silverware Manufacturing Co. and alleged to contain money obtained by fraudulent schemes, was up yesterday.

The authorities, not having sufficient evidence to convict, withdrew the charge, but ordered the prisoner out of the country.

The authorities have confiscated all mail addressed to the firm, and instructed the postmaster to open the letters and return them, with contents, to the senders, branding the letters "fraud."

Wolves Attack Boy.

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—Walter Brewer, a lad of nine years, met with a painful injury at River Park by having one of his arms nearly torn to shreds by the wolves that are in the menagerie there.

The little fellow was feeding one of the animals some grass through the wires, and in taking the grass the wolf took the little fellow's thumb into his mouth with it. This gave the beast a taste of blood and made it savage for more, and three or four more wolves in the enclosure attacked the boy's arm.

Drowns in Foot of Water.

Galt, Sept. 5.—Yesterday, Charles Wylie, 22 years of age, was drowned in about a foot of water.

He was employed at the R. McDougall works and went home as usual for his dinner. On returning to work he stopped at Mill Creek and went in for a swim. He was a good swimmer, but was subject to epileptic fits, and when coming out of the water was seized and fell face downwards. Two boys noticed the body. Dr. Vardon pronounced life extinct.

Cut His Throat; Lives.

Kingston, Sept. 5.—Samuel Berman, aged 65 years, a farmer resident three miles from Morton, Ont., cut his throat with a pocket knife. It required 16 stitches. At last reports he was still alive.

Alliance Accomplished.

Panama, Sept. 5.—The correspondent of the Associated Press has been informed from an authoritative source that the alliance between Salvador and Guatemala is an accomplished fact.

Two Plotters Hanged.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 5.—Two of the three men who were sentenced five days ago for having organized a plot against the life of the Emperor were hanged here yesterday.

Plans have been made for a six-storey building to be erected on the wrecked Crystal Ball, London.

WORKMEN'S RIGHTS

In Canada a workman may proceed against his employer under the Workman's Compensation for Injuries Act, and at common law. That means untold annoyance and inconvenience to an employer. An employer is even liable for damages to an employee for injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow employee. Oft-times a workman will get back at an employer in this way. The employee may or may not win. Whether he does or not it means a great deal of anxiety to you as an employer. Let us relieve you of all this. Our liability policies are designed to do this very thing.

Will be glad to explain our plan.

HE ACCEPTS THE POSITION

Mr. Mowatt Has Notified Board of Education of His Acceptance

The secretary of the Board of Education has received word from Mr. Mowatt, of Brockville, accepting the position of inspector of the Public schools of Peterborough. Mr. Mowatt will assume his new duties about the middle of the month, or perhaps sooner, as Mr. Walker leaves about the 14th of September. The Public schools in Peterborough are now running very smoothly and no doubt will continue to do so under Mr. Mowatt's supervision.

Smoking Concert At Club Rooms

There Should be a Large Attendance This Evening

At the Young Conservative Club rooms on George street, this (Thursday) evening, the fall and winter programme will be opened by a smoking concert.

The occasion will also partake of the nature of a farewell to Mr. J. H. Burnham the president, who is leaving shortly to take up his residence in Toronto.

There are several good vocalists who are members of the club and they will render some excellent selections. It is hoped every member will be in attendance—young and old. The bright, cheerful rooms, should be filled to the doors as the gathering promises to be an interesting one while the bill of fare will delight and amuse.

Mrs. Michael O'Neil of Kingston, was found dead in her home yesterday.

POLICE CELLS ARE INSPECTED

Ald. McIntyre Looking Into the Charges Made at the Council Meeting

The chairman of the property committee was down around the police cells this morning investigating the charge made at the council meeting that the cells were alive with bed bugs. It will be remembered that one of the aldermen, having received a report of the condition of the cells, in turn reported to the council, and the chairman of the property committee was instructed to make an investigation and remedy all defects.

The council can, in no way be held responsible for the condition of the place. None of the aldermen are inspectors and so far as has been made public none of them have been confined behind the bars as prisoners so that there was no way for them to know how things were unless some one told them. Had a report from the department of police been made earlier, the necessary repairs would have been carried out.

Excursion From North Dummer

Lodge No. 281, L.O.L, of North Dummer, ran an excursion to Peterborough to-day by boat. The steamer Stony Lake left McCracken's Landing early this morning with about 200 passengers on board. The trip through the lakes and down the canal to the lift lock was greatly enjoyed, although the rain spoiled the day in the city. The boat arrived at the lift lock at half past twelve and left the Wolfe street wharf again at two o'clock on the return trip. Many of the excursionists remained on board the steamer rather than come up town in the rain. Nevertheless the young people thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Harry Adams

Prominent Dairyman in City; Mr. Dan Derbyshire Here on Visit

Will Likely be Given Seat in the Senate—Has Resigned From Brockville to Make Room for Hon. George P. Graham—Noted Visitor Discusses Politics, Education and Dairying—Brockville Sorry to Lose Mr. Mowatt, the New School Inspector for Peterborough.

Mr. Dan Derbyshire, ex-M. P., of Brockville, was in the city last night and today, shaking hands with his many old friends, and incidentally receiving congratulations on his prospect of being elevated to the Senate. Mr. Derbyshire is an old party worker, and has been a faithful follower of his party. He has represented Brockville for many years and everyone will be glad to hear of his elevation.

While there is as yet nothing official, it is generally understood in all Grit camps that "Uncle Dan" will go to the Senate. He was called to Ottawa not long ago, with Hon. Mr. Graham and interviewed Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It was at that time that Hon. Mr. Graham, was asked to take the portfolio of Minister of Railways and Canals.

Speaking to the Review today, Mr. Derbyshire said, "I resigned my seat to make way for Mr. Graham. My resignation was free and unencumbered. It contained no stipulations whatever. Mr. Graham and I were called to Ottawa, on receipt of a wire from the Premier. After we had entered his office, Sir Wilfrid said to Mr. Graham, "I have the honor Mr. Graham to offer you the portfolio of Railways and Canals in my cabinet."

Mr. Graham then remarked, "If it is your wish Sir Wilfrid I will accept such an important office, for which I extend you my sincere thanks."

"Sir Wilfrid," continued Mr. Derbyshire, "then asked Mr. Graham about a constituency."

Mr. Graham did not reply, but I turned to Sir Wilfrid and remarked "You have always dealt most generously by Brockville, and in view of this signal honor—a seat in the federal cabinet being bestowed upon one in my constituency, I hereby gladly resign my seat in favor of Mr. Graham, and moreover, I will see that he is elected, too."

This was all that was said, Sir Wilfrid thanking me for resigning and saying that I had always been a hard-working, earnest member of the Liberal party.

"Nothing whatever was said, mentioned or intimated at that time, before or since, about me being proferred a seat in the Senate, and all I know in reference to the matter is what I have seen in the newspapers," concluded Mr. Derbyshire.

A GOOD MAN.

"Will the Conservatives oppose Mr. Graham, at the forthcoming bye-election "to fill your seat?" was asked by the Review.

"No! I do not think so. The town feels greatly honored by the elevation of Mr. Graham to such an important post."

"Well what about representation in the local legislature? Will the Liberals oppose the Conservative candidate?"

"That I cannot say, definitely" rejoined Mr. Derbyshire, "but while the party generally would be willing the leaders may force an election. There are several prominent Liberals who are anxious to make a try for the local house."

"Who will the Conservative candidate be."

"Well, there are several men spoken of—Mr. Donovan, ex-Mayor Stewart and others."

"Will the Conservatives capture the seat in the Legislature, vacated by Mr. Graham?"

"They may possibly do so," answered the noted visitor, "At any rate you may expect a contest."

A SPLENDID TEACHER.

Mr. Derbyshire was asked about Mr. A. Mowatt, principal of the Brockville Collegiate Institute, who has just been appointed inspector of the Public Schools in Peterborough.

"You are getting an excellent man and a thorough teacher," remarked the big Brockville dairyman, "We are very sorry to lose Mr. Mowatt, and if more money would have been an inducements for him to remain he would have got it. But he announced his intention of accepting the Peterborough position if he secured it and he will be leaving us at the end of the month. He has been principal of our Collegiate Institute for about eleven years, and is one of the most capable and progressive teachers in the province."

DAIRY INDUSTRY.

"What about the dairy industry?" was the next question.

Mr. Derbyshire, who is honorary president of the Eastern Ontario Dairymans Association, and was president of that body, when it held its annual gathering in Peterborough, in January, 1906, remarked that he had just called upon Mr. George A. Gillespie, and had discussed several matters with him.

"Cheese prices have been good—higher than last year on the average—and, if we have an open fall and plenty of rain as I confidently expect we will have in view of the late spring and the cool summer, the amount paid out on the various cheese boards will surpass that of last year. The make of cheese this year has not been so heavy owing to the backwardness of the season, and the shortage of pasture, but the turn over—with a late, open, fine fall season—will be greater owing to the high prices. In Brockville about $80,000 to $90,000 worth of cheese has been sold each week. There has been a falling off in the make of butter owing to weather conditions, more farmers sending their milk to the factories. On the whole the outlook for the year's operations is most favorable.

PROMINENT ODDFELLOWS.

Mr. Derbyshire was at the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows, in Orillia, elected to the high office of Grand Warden, an honor which he deeply appreciates. On his return to Brockville from Orillia, he was given a great reception, met by a brass band and hundreds of citizens. He was also presented with an illuminated address and congratulations showered upon him.

Mr. Derbyshire left this afternoon for his home in Brockville. He was in Toronto yesterday, attending the annual meeting of the Ontario Reform Association.

Children's Aid Society Secures Release of Boy

Through the efforts of Mr. J. J. Kelso, Superintendent of Neglected Children for Ontario, the Children's Aid Society has secured the release from the Toronto Industrial School, of Frank Schwerdt, who was sentenced to an indefinite period in that institution about two months and a half ago. Mr. Henry, caretaker of the local Shelter was in Toronto last week and returned home on Monday bringing the boy with him. The little fellow is eleven years of age and was sent to the Industrial School because he ran away from home several times. Otherwise he is said to be a model boy and the officials at the Industrial School told Mr Henry that he was one of the best boys they ever had anything to do with.

Young Frank is now staying at the Shelter on Charlotte street, where he has a reputation of being an obliging, obedient and industrious little fellow.

The officials of the local Society were not at all pleased when the boy was sentenced to the Industrial School and since he was taken there have been working hard for his release.

TRUSTEES WERE APPOINTED

To Take Over Knox Church Property—Congregational Meeting

At a congregational meeting of Knox Presbyterian church last evening trustees were elected to take over the church property which heretofore has been controlled by St. Paul's church.

The following were appointed trustees, viz., Messrs. A. McKenzie, Carruthers, W. Galley, J. Smith and R. Mulligan.

A subscription list was also started for the payment of the new Gallery. Messrs. Wilkie, Campbell, Bonnet and Galley were appointed a committee to canvass the congregation for subscriptions.

The meeting then adjourned.

Wanted a Bag in Which to Pack His Clothes on Leaving

There was one hard-up man in Peterborough one day this week. He had been on a spree for over a week until he lost his job and got behind with his landlady, with the result that she turned him out, refusing to board him any longer.

Without a dollar to his name, the fellow went into a wholesale grocery establishment on Charlotte street and asked one of the clerks if he could give him a bag in which to pack his clothes, as he was going to get out of town. The clerk hunted around and found a sugar bag with some sugar in it, but he emptied it out and gave the man the sack. He took it and expressed his thanks for the clerk's kindness. He said he was going to leave Peterborough, as he was out of a job and had no money. How he was going to get out he did not state, but at any rate, it is not likely that he will engage a special car.

"If I could leave the booze alone I'd be all right," the fellow said, "but I spend all my money in that way and am dead broke most of the time. Perhaps I can do better somewhere else."

It is to be hoped he will, and at any rate he can have the satisfaction of knowing that no one can seize his trunk to pay a board bill.

Teachers of City Likely To Hold Social Gathering

That They May Know Each Other Better—Arrangements Now Under Way

A proposition is on foot to have a social gathering of the school teachers of Peterborough in the near future. The idea has been commented upon favorably and no doubt will be carried to a successful termination. It is a rather strange fact that some of the teachers in the city hardly know each other not through inclination of course, but on account of having few opportunities to become more closely acquainted. It is felt that some kind of a social gathering would be very desirable as the teachers would come to know each other better and no doubt would be benefitted as a result. New teachers are frequently being added to the public and Collegiate Institute staffs and it takes them a long time to become acquainted with their fellow-workers. Not that the teachers are not genial and friendly, but have few opportunities of meeting outside the class room.

Now that a new inspector is coming to the city it is felt that he would become more quickly acquainted with the teachers of Peterborough if a social gathering or "at home" was held. Arrangements for an event of this kind are now under way and it is being favoraly received by the teachers of the city. There are a large number of pedagogues in the city and when all assembled they would make quite a gathering. A teachers' "At Home" would no doubt be a very enjoyable affair.

May Increase Rate of Interest

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board has approved of a number of bylaws submitted to it. They include the request of the town of Palmerston for power to increase, from 4 1-2 to 5 per cent., the interest on two issues of debentures, of $15,700 and $35,000 respectively. The town of Welland may float debentures to the amount of $15,000 to extend its water works system.

KEEP YOUR CASH.

Beware of the man who shows you a cheque and borrow a quarter until the bank opens. There is an old citizen of Port Hope who makes a practice of borrowing small sums from any who will lend. While a freight train from Peterborough was pulling into Hastings on Sunday afternoon, an axle broke on a car loaded with oats when the train was just west of the railway bridge. The car was derailed, but on account of the train running slowly to cross the bridge, no further damage was done. The auxiliary came down from Lindsay and put the car back on again, causing only a few hours delay.—Hastings Star.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS.

The improvements in the Cambridge street Methodist church, Lindsay, are being pushed along so rapidly, that a couple of weeks will see them near completion. The carpenters and painters will soon be through, and the steam heating is now well under way.

LOW WATER STILL.

The steamer Esturion, which had an excursion from Chemong to Lindsay on Friday, was unable to get past Bobcaygeon, on account of the low water. However, the excursionists were given a good trip, since the boat turned around, took the crowd to Buckhorn and then home again.

SOLD WATERED MILK.

George Duval, of Talbotville, was fined $30 and costs at St. Thomas, by Magistrate Hunt, on a charge of selling watered milk to the Payne's Mills cheese factory, and W. L. Walker of Lawrence station, was fined $100 and costs for supplying the West Magdala factory with the watered article. The Government inspector laid the charges.

HE GOT THE PIN

A north ward man who believes in the saying, "See a pin and pick it up, and all day long you'll have good luck," one day recently saw a pin on the street. Bending down to get it, his hat tumbled off, and rolled into the mud, his eyeglasses fell off and broke on the pavement, his braces gave way behind, he burst the button hole on the back of his shirt, and he lost his new front teeth. But he got the pin.

GRANTS TO LIBRARY.

Bobcaygeon Public Library is in luck, having just received two cash bequests of $20 each from Mr. Hamilton of Youngstown, N. Y., and Mr. J. H. McGill of Washington, D. C., who spend the summer months on their houseboats at various points on the Kawartha Lakes. The grants were given "in recognition of the agreeable treatment they had received from the citizens of Bobcaygeon, during the season."

NEW LOCK AT HASTINGS.

It is understood that in order to enlarge the capacity of the canal to a nine foot basis and to accommodate boats 150 feet long, new locks will be built at Hastings and Peterborough in the near future. The present lock at Hastings was built in 1837 and is consequently seventy years old, and although its capacity was equal to the requirements of days gone by, it will not likely be large enough for freighters when the canal is opened.

HIGH SCHOOL RE-OPENS

Port Perry High School re-union was held Friday last. In 1876, Centennial year, the High School in that village passed more pupils at the Departmental examinations than any other school in the province, the number being 23. Bowmanville came next with 17. Only four Collegiate Institutes passed as many that year. Mr. D. McBride, B.A., was principal then, and still fills the position, his record in the recent exams being first-class.

On Charge of Robbing Cavan Man

James Reynolds and George Fowler Face the Magistrate

From the evidence given in the police court yesterday afternoon by Jas. Reynolds, who pleaded guilty to taking eighty dollars from the person of Wm. Stewart, of Cavan, on Tuesday night, another arrest was made before the court adjourned. Geo. Fowler was charged with the same offence as Reynolds, but pleaded not guilty. He was remanded till Saturday morning at nine o'clock. Reynolds pleaded guilty. He then was put in the box and told a straightforward story, of which there seemed not to be a shadow of doubt but that it was true.

He admitted taking the money. He said that he got into the buggy with Stewart yesterday afternoon. Stewart had been drinking. They drove around the city and about two hours after witness got in the buggy they met Geo. Fowler on the Chemong road and he got in with them. They came to the city again and Stewart bought two one dollar bottles of whiskey. They then drove out to Jackson Park. Fowler asked witness if Stewart had any money. Reynolds replied "yes" and Fowler said, "Rob him then." The money was then taken from the old gentleman by Reynolds. Fowler did not get any at the time, but was to have half next morning. Reynolds hid thirty-five dollars in a lumber pile at Fitzgerald's wood yard, which was recovered later by P. C. McDonald. Yesterday morning when Fowler demanded his share of the spoils witness told him he only had $1.60 and he gave him 80 cents. Witness spent five dollars. He with some other lads had two meals at the Chinese cafe that night. He gave Fred Worboy ten dollars to buy a pair of trousers. He also gave three lads a dollar each last night.

Geo Fowler, when questioned, told an entirely different story to the previous witness. He denied telling Reynolds to rob Stewart. In fact he said that he told him to leave the money alone.

At first His Worship was about to let Fowler go, but Reynolds' story was told in such a straightforward manner that an information was made out and Fowler was placed in custody until Saturday morning, when he will come before His Worship.

Forty-five dollars of the amount has been accounted for, thirty-five being in the hands of the chief.

ANOTHER CHARGE

Reynolds also pleaded guilty to the charge of furnishing tobacco to minors. That is the young lads, Worboy and Fredenburg. This was let stand till Saturday.

ALLOWED TO GO.

Fred Worboy and Earl Fredenburg who pleaded not guilty to the charge of taking $3.20 and $1.00, respectively, from Reynolds, knowing it to be stolen, were allowed to go. Reynolds told them when he gave it to them that he got it from a drunken man.

His Worship said that it was not proven that they knew it was stolen, but there was little doubt that they did. He was going to give them the benefit of the doubt and let them go. He advised the boys to stay away from bad company.

Court Chemong's Merry Outing

Labor Day Excursion to Idyl Wyld Largely Patronized

One of the most enjoyable events on the Labor Day programme, was the annual excursion and picnic of Court Chemong, No. 530, Independent Order of Foresters. In former years the outing was held to Foresters' Island, but owing to different railway arrangements, it was impossible to take this trip, and another outing was decided upon: The steamer Otonabee was chartered and an excursion held to Idyl Wyld. It proved a great success and the committee in charge are to be congratulated on the splendid arrangements made, and the manner in which everything was carried out. The Otonabee left the city shortly after eight o'clock, and arrived home before ten in the evening. It was a delightful sail, both going and returning, and the committee in charge wish to express thanks to Captain White and his crew for the courteous manner in which they handled the large crowd. About four hundred were on board, and on arriving at Idyl Wyld, some took dinner at the hotel, while others picnicked.

After dinner a fine programme of athletic sports were pulled off, the different events and the winners being as follows,—

Dale, R. Neill, Grafton & Co., W. G. R. Higgins, A. W. Creesman, Hutchinson Hardware Co., H. P. Kennedy, and G. W. Powell.

For the race, open to members of the I.O.F., Bro. Dr. Greer, donated a handsome gold locket for a prize.

Dancing was kept up without interruption on the boat going and coming, and also in the pavilion at Idyl Wyld. Splendid music was furnished by Messrs. Nicoll and Hearth, who were untiring in their efforts to provide good music.

Before leaving Idyl Wyld, two short addresses were given, one by Assistant Supreme Physician, Dr. C. B Clarke of Toronto, and the other by Dr. G. H. Wade, of Cobourg, High Chief Ranger for Eastern Ontario. They were introduced by Bro. Allison, F. C. R., of Court Chemong.

The committee in charge of the outing, to whom much credit is due, consisted of Bros. Wallace, McKee, Webb, Metcalfe, Allison, Buyers, Rooke, Powell and Miles.

They Complain Of a Nuisance

Citizens Apparently do Not Appreciate Fife and Drum Band

Citizens residing along Hunter-st., west of the Otonabee River, are up in arms against a nuisance which has been disturbing their nightly slumbers for some time. One of the parties who have been annoyed, told the Review about the grievance today. It appears that a fife and drum band has been practicing night after night in a building on the south side of Hunter street, west of the river, and people residing in that vicinity complain that the shrill blasts of the fife and the rattle of the drum, make the night hideous. In fact, the noise made by the musicians has become somewhat of a nuisance, and it is understood that steps are being taken to have something done to put a stop to it. To make matters worse the Review has been informed that a bugle has lately been added to the band's stock of musical instruments and 'tis said that it is being played with a surprising lack of harmony.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

MANY DEPARTED ON DUCK HUNTING TRIP

Death of Stephen Collins—Other News From Havelock.

Havelock, Sept. 3

Mr. Stephen Collins, a much respected farmer, residing at Stanwood, about seven miles east of Havelock, died at the Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, on Saturday, Aug. 31, from typhoid fever. The deceased contracted the disease some time ago, and became so bad that he was removed to the hospital at Peterborough, where the hand of death smote him yesterday. He was 30 years of age and unmarried. The deceased was also a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters. The body was brought to Havelock on Saturday night and taken to the residence of his mother, about six miles east of here, on the Marmora road.

Last Wednesday, Aug. 28th, was the last day of the weekly half holidays allotted to the merchants and clerks in town for this year, and advantage was taken of it by a large number in town to spend a few hours beside some lake or stream, and thus the town was nearly deserted. The half holiday this year has proved a great success, and many people in town regret that they are over. There was a great rush in the livery business on Wednesday afternoon, and in order to get a horse and rig it was necessary to put in your order about a week ahead.

Mrs. J. W. Bryans is spending a few days with friends in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farmer have returned to their home in Watertown, N.Y., after spending a week with the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs. C. Donnelly.

Miss Eva O'Brien is visiting friends in Toronto.

On account of the great holiday rush the local train on Saturday night was in three sections, and No. 5 Sunday morning also in three sections.

Master Albert Armstrong is visiting friends in Hastings.

Mr. Ward Barlow is attending the Toronto exhibition.

There is a rush of immigrants just no west trains go through daily.

On account of the number of passenger trains running at present on account of the Toronto exhibition, the freight traffic is very much congested, and stray cars and trains are laying at the station all along the line.

Mrs Barrie and Master Earl Barrie, of Peterborough, are the guests of Mrs. Jas. E. Fowler.

There was a rush to the duck hunting regions to the north of Havelock today, many from town and a large number from Toronto and Peterborough in quest of that member of the feathered tribe, keeping the liverymen busy.

More Bad Boys in Police Court

Fined Two Dollars Each to be Paid Forthwith

Again this morning two boys faced the magistrate in police court on a charge of stealing fruit. The number of lads who almost daily appear in police court is extremely large. This season especially is a great temptation for them to steal, as the plums and apples are now at their best. Those who have fruit trees are continually complaining to the police of boys carrying off their fruit and breaking the trees.

Two young lads, John McMahon, and Leonard Quinlan, who reside in East City were charged with stealing plums from the residence of a lady on Hazlitt street. They pleaded not guilty, stating that they got them from a woman next door to the complainant. The informant caught the lads at the trees. She said that they broke the limbs and stripped the tree of the plums. She is continually being bothered with boys.

His Worship said that the boys were an awful nuisance. When people raise plum trees they do not want all the fruit stolen. Mr. Dumble fined each lad two dollars to be paid forthwith. They had not the necessary, so will rest in a cell until the fines are paid.

BRINTON CARPET COMPANY IS BUSY

Ninety Persons Employed—Fine Exhibit a Toronto Fair.

The Toronto papers contain appreciative references to the Brinton Carpet Co., as the following from one of them will show:

One of the prettiest exhibits in the Manufacturers' building at the Canadian National Exhibition, is that of the Brinton Carpet Co. of Canada, Limited. This company has been manufacturing carpets at Peterborough only about a year, yet already there are ninety employees, and the looms are as busy, as could be wished for. The company's factory is one of the brightest and airiest possible, and the employees work under the most favorable conditions. A photograph of the factory looms is proving of interest to visitors of the Exhibition. The exhibits in the Manufacturers' building are homelike and tastefully arranged, and the carpets are displayed with a view to showing how the colors harmonize, though this was not the chief object aimed at. The Brinton Carpet Company, of which Mr. W. E. Whitehead, 23 Wellington street west, Toronto, is selling agent, represents Brinton's, Limited, of Kidderminster, England, and handle their higher types of Axminsters, and special grades of Wiltons.

Women Were Not From Havelock

Despatch Regarding Asphyxiation of Two Ladies Was Misleading

The despatch from Toronto published in the Review yesterday that two Havelock women, Mrs. McEwen and Mrs. Shannon, were found dead in their room at the Osgoode hotel, Toronto, turns out to have been incorrect. The women were from Harlock, Huron County, and not from Havelock, Peterborough County. The similarity of the two names apparently led to the mistake being made.

A later Toronto despatch has the following particulars of the sad affair.:

An exceedingly sad accident, in which mother and daughter lost their lives occurred early this morning in the Osgoode House, corner of Queen and Chestnut streets. Mrs. Janet McEwing, aged 22, and Mrs John Shannon, aged 50, were found dead in Room No. 4 from gas poisoning.

Mrs. McEwing and Mrs. Shannon were accompanied by Mr. McEwing and John Watt, an elderly man, an uncle of Mr. McEwing's. The party arrived yesterday at twelve o'clock from Harlock, Huron County, where their homes were situated. They had dinner at the hotel and then went to the exhibition grounds, where they stayed until 11 o'clock.

On their return to the hotel, the men decided to let the women occupy one room, No. 4. They slept in a double bed in a room almost opposite to that occupied by Mrs. McEwing and Mrs. Shannon.

WEDDING BELLS

CRAWLEY—PALMER

Tuesday afternoon in the vestry of St. Paul's church, Bloor street west, Toronto, the marriage of Miss Edith Palmer, daughter of the late Mr. Henry Palmer, of Campbellford, to Mr. Walter Crawley, Winnipeg, son of the late Mr. John Crawley, London, Eng., took place very quietly, the Rev. Father Minehan officiating. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Sherman Sutton, and wore a pretty dress of white poplin de soie, with garniture of Irish lace, and white hat trimmed with orange blossoms. Miss A. Boulton was the only bridesmaid, in all white striped satin and chiffon, white crin hat and pink roses. After a small reception of intimate friends at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Crawley left for Muskoka, and will return to Toronto for a few days en route to Winnipeg.

MOHER—O'DONNELL

At St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning, Rev. Father McColl united in marriage Mr. Wm. Moher, a popular employee of the Peterborough Lock Company, and Miss Maggie O'Donnell, late of the County Tipperary, Ireland. A large number of friends witnessed the ceremony. Mr. P. Cahill, uncle of the bride, gave her away. Miss Doherty played the wedding march. Miss Mollie Cahill was maid of honor. The bride was gowned in a charming costume of white silk en traine with bolero of allover lace. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white chrysantemums. Miss Annie Moher, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid. She was attired in an attractive gown of white crepe de chine, with a lace hat to match, and carried pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Ernest Lefevre supported the groom. After the nuptials a wedding breakfast was served at the residence of the groom's parents, Water street.

Mr. and Mrs. Moher left on a trip to Toronto and St. Catharines. On their return they will reside at 220 Edinburg street.

Many valuable presents testified to the esteem in which the bride is held. The bride's travelling gown was of navy blue with hat to match.

GRANT—HALL

At high noon Wednesday in St. Thomas' church, Toronto, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Helen Paton Hall, youngest daughter of Mrs. Joseph Godard Hall, to Mr. W. Beverly Grant of Hamilton.

The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. N. C. Sharpe, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives, and during the signing of the register Miss L. Moore of Peterborough, sang the wedding hymn, "Thy Name." The bride, who was given away by her brother, Captain Victor Hall, wore her travelling gown of cream cloth and tan hat trimmed with roses and foliage, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Mamie Hall, sister of the bride, attended as bridesmaid, wearing white silk mull flowered with mauve, and white lingerie hat, and carrying mauve asters. Mr. W. B. Shannon of Hamilton, was best man.

After the ceremony the newly married pair drove to the station and took the train for the Pacific coast. Their future home will be in Medicine Hat, N.W.T.

Mrs. Hall was wearing silver gray crepe de chine and white hat with violets and roses.

REED—GILBERT

An interesting event took place at St. John the Baptist church, Norway, at half-past two o'clock Wednesday, when the rector, the Rev. Wm. Leonard Baynes-Reed, who is well known in Peterborough, where he has many friends, was married to Violet Winifred Gretchen, only daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Gilbert, and granddaughter of the late Rev. John Ambery, Dean of Trinity College, and of Mrs. Ambery. The service was fully choral, the surpliced choir meeting the bridal party at the church doors, and preceding them up the aisle, singing "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden." The bride was escorted by her uncle and guardian, Mr. Clayton Ambery, who gave her away, and was attended by Miss Mollie Hopkirk. She wore a simple lace robe over silk, and was enveloped in a long tulle veil, arranged about a wreath of orange blossoms. She also wore a pearl necklet and cross, heirlooms that have been worn on similar occasions in her family for generations. Her bouquet was a shower of roses and lilies of the valley, which, with a set of mink furs, was the gift of the bridegroom. Miss Hopkirk's frock was of pale blue silk, and her hat, a picture in white Malines with tulle strings. She held pink roses. Mr. Stuart Kerstman was best man, and Mr. Langton Gilbert, Rev. J. B. Fotheringham, Mr. V. Ulric Heming and Mr. Frank Russell, the ushers. The ceremony was performed by the Archbishop of Toronto, assisted by the Rev. T. C. S. Macklem, D.D., Provost of Trinity College, Rev. E. A. McIntyre and Rev. Robert Gay. During the service the Psalms were chanted by the choir, and an anthem, "Oh, Perfect Love," was sung. Master Norman McIlvane sang "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet and Holy" during the signing of the register. Mrs. Ambery held a reception afterwards at 13 Louty avenue, for the immediate relatives. The house was charmingly decorated with golden rod and golden glow to form arches over the double doorways. Rev. and Mrs Baynes-Reed left afterwards for New York and will be away for about five weeks. The bride travelled in a brown broadcloth suit and hat to match.

LANG—REESOR

A yellow and white wedding took place in St. Luke's church, Ottawa, Tuesday, at 2.15, the contracting parties being Miss Emily Bayne Reesor, second daughter of Mr. F. A. Reesor, lately manager of the Standard Bank, Markham, Ont., and Mr. Arthur Gordon Lang, of New York. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome dress of white satin, trimmed with old point lace and seed pearls, and wore a veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lillies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Kate Reesor, who wore a pretty white chiffon dress trimmed with lace and white satin ribbon, with Irish crochet chat, and carried pale pink roses.

The groomsman was Mr. George Ballard, of Hamilton, and the ushers Mr. James D. Reesor, of the Standard Bank, Toronto, brother of the bride, and Mr. Wanless, of Sarnia. The church had been tastily decorated with palms, ferns, white asters and golden glow, and the decorations at the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held after the ceremony, were similar.

After the reception Mr and Mrs. Lang left on the 5.45 train for Montreal. The bride's going away suit was navy blue broadcloth, with hat to match and grey feather boa.

The groom's present to the bride was a solitaire oriental pearl ring; to the bridesmaid, bracelet set with amethysists and pearls; to the groomsman, scarf pin of uncut sapphires and pearls, and to the ushers silver match boxes with monograms.

First Meeting of Fellowship Club

The Strangers Fellowship club of the Y.M.C.A. will hold its monthly meeting in the Y.M.C.A. Association building on Saturday evening at six o'clock. Mr. L. Brass will lead a discussion on the paper on "Social service for men," given at a recent meeting by Mr. Wm. MacLaren. The policy of the club's work for the season will also be discussed.

The Cow Was Up Against it

On Monday morning a cow, just an ordinary every day cow too, as far as can be learned, got herself into the limelight by getting in the way of the G.T.R. flyer near Downer's Corners. The bovine might have been alright in her own class, but she was up against it when she clashed with the locomotive. She went down and out in the first round and the funeral took place Tuesday afternoon. A farmer with a team of horses and a black dog were the only ones in attendance.

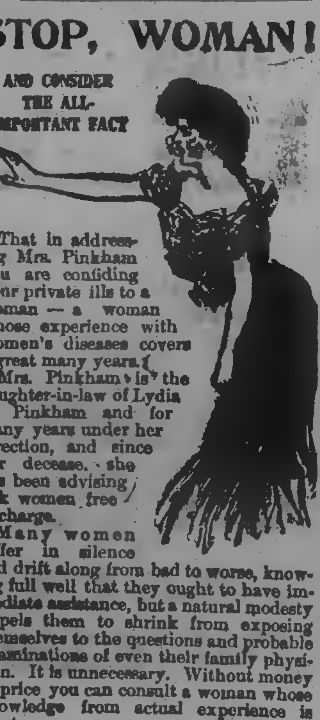
STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT



That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman — a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it "I do not believe it will help me."

JUVENILE CRIME

In the police court yesterday morning considerable time was taken up in hearing juvenile cases. Nearly a dozen boys, ranging in age from 12 to 16 years, were before the magistrate on different charges. Some had been stealing, others creating a disturbance and using insulting and obscene language. Most of the lads had been in court on previous occasions and allowed to go on suspended sentence. It seems that a certain class of people have from the first allowed their children to run wild, and now the juveniles cannot be controlled. The ordinary means of modern law appears to be of little use. The boys, when once away, only laugh at the magistrate and policemen. It is time more of the youthful offenders are sent to the reformatory for a term of years. They might be helped and they might not.

The magistrate hit the nail on the head when he said that a good sound thrashing would do more good than anything else. It might be added that the thrashing should take place in public.

Modern civilization appears to have banished the whip from the schools and many parents care so little about the future of their children that the whip has been banished from the home. Kindness, a long face, and pretended astonishment on the part of a teacher or parent, is supposed to make a boy feel that he has done wrong and cause a feeling of repentance on a boy's part. That may be all right for a few delicate and puny fellows who are constantly hanging onto mother's apron strings but a boy only laughs, and the more disgusted a teacher or parent appears the bigger farce the whole thing is. A lad can be handled in only one way and that is by using the whip when necessary. The old saying; — "Spare the rod and spoil the child," still holds good. It is the only way to rule a self-willed, disrespectful and reckless boy.

The effect of little or no physical punishment, which is being carried out in the schools, is seen in the police court every week. A lack of early thrashing has ruined many boys here and the number will increase so long as the whip is withheld.

PEN POINTS.

School has resumed, people are back from the summer resorts, and now everybody reluctantly settles down to hard work.

The salary of country postmasters has gone up, so has the price of milk and other supplies. In fact everything has gone up, except the air ship at the Toronto fair.

Drop letters in cities, whether there is a street delivery of mail or not, will now be only one cent. Certain people who go to the post office now may receive an increased daily number of "dunners."

There may be depression in the air, but the country postmaster is enjoying a raise in salary to the extent of ten dollars per annum. The minimum stipend is now $35 instead of $25. "Every little bit added to what you got just makes a little bit more."

Regarding the taking into the Laurier Cabinet of William Pugsley of New Brunswick, the Montreal Gazette says;—"He will not be a moral help to the Government, and probably he is not expected to be." Of course not. Mr. Pugsley is said to be eminently fitted to take a place as one of the leaders of the party that loudly proclaimed its belief in the saying, "Elections are not won by prayers."

The report of the inspectors appointed by the Government to make a special investigation into horse-breeding in Ontario has been published by the Department of Agriculture, and is now ready for distribution. It is largely statistical, and gives at considerable length details of the work of the commissioners in every county in the province. Opinions gathered in interviews with private individuals and at public meetings as to what should be done to improve the breed of horses are included. In all the counties the consensus of opinion was in favor of stallions being licensed and registered, and the inspectors in their reports favor the passing of an act to that effect. In many counties the horses were not of good class, and one cause of deterioration of the breeds was held to be the syndicating system of buying and dealing in so-called first class animals for breeding purposes. At a number of the public meetings held it was urged that more attention should be given at farmers' institute meetings to the question of improving the quality of provincial-bred horses.

The salaries of the country postmaster have been increased. In the past country postmasters have been serving on a minimum salary of $35 a year with 40 per cent. of the first $800 revenue of the offices each year, 25 per cent. on all revenue from $800 to $10,000, and 15 per cent. on all revenue over $10,000.

The new scale increases the minimum allowance to $35, with 50 per cent. of the first $1000 revenue of the office each year, 30 per cent. on all revenue between $1000 and $10,000, and $20 on all above $10,000.

At present extra payment is made postmasters who have to be on duty after 10 p.m. or before 6 a.m. The minimum extra allowance has been $6 and the maximum $60, according to the time employed and work done.

The new plan for extra payment changes the hours to 9 p.m. and 7 a.m. while the minimum allowance is increased to $10 and the maximum extra allowance to $100.

At present there is a forward allowance of 10 per cent. of the revenue of the office when forwarding is done direct and 5 per cent. when forwarding is indirect or through another office. The new scale is 12 1-2 per cent. for both.

Has Galt Elder Eloped With Woman?

Was a Painter and is Said to Have Run Away With a Domestic

At Galt during the old boys' reunion there was employed at the restaurant of Mr. O. Osgoode, a woman, Mrs. M. Jennings, who formerly worked for Mr. John Maule at the Central hotel in Dundas. Nothing was known of the woman outside of the fact that she performed her duties creditably. During the week Mr. Osgoode was having some painting done on his premises, and Peter Meyer was engaged to do the work. Nothing unusual was noticed and Meyer worked around the restaurant for several days. On Saturday, however, both Mrs. Jennings and Meyer were missing, and the only conclusion that can be arrived at is that the twain have departed for parts unknown. A friend of the woman arrived from Dundas on Saturday, and immediately drove to Berlin in search of the missing parties, but was unable to locate them. Nothing is known of the woman, with the exception that she was married in Dundas and has no family. Meyer has a wife and a number of children in Galt who feel keenly over the affair. He was recently elected an elder in one of the city churches.

Entries For Peterborough Fair Are Already Coming in

Exhibition Promises to be a Great Success—Important Meeting of Directors a Week From To-night

Secretary Fred Hall, of the Peterborough industrial exhibition, which is to be held on September 25th, 26th and 27th, has already received several entries, and from now on expects them to come in at a rapid rate. The entries are coming in ahead of last year's mark, and there is little doubt but that every class will be well filled. Arrangements for the big show are coming along nicely, and if the weather is favorable, the largest attendance on record is predicted. No expense is being spared to secure good attractions and to make the fair the best that has ever been held here.

As the date of the exhibition draws nigh, interest in it increases, and it is gratifying to note that the people of the city are talking up the fair more than in other years, and many are working hard to make it a success. This is most encouraging to the officers and directors, as they are doing everything in their power to make the exhibition a credit to the city and county.

An important meeting of the directors will be held on Thursday night, September 12th, to complete the work of arranging many of the details for the coming show. It is requested that every officer and director be present at this meeting, as it will be one of the most important of the year. The date of the fair is not far away and everyone must keep working hard in the meantime. The exhibition will result in a lot of money being left in Peterborough, and it should be given loyal support by business men and citizens generally. The co-operation of the people of the city is necessary in order that the Peterborough fair will be the big success it deserves to be. Let everyone do something to make it the "best ever."

Will the Milk be Seven Cents During the Winter Months?

Review is Informed That Milkmen Will Add One Cent to the Present Price Which is 6 Cents Per Quart—Bad News for Householders.

It is stated that Peterborough householders will have to pay 7c. per quart for milk, during the coming winter. A prominent milkman gave this information to a Review representative today, and added that it would be found to be correct.

The above will not be pleasant news to the hotel and boarding house proprietors and householders generally but if the raise is made they can hardly do anything else but pay the additional price.

In former years, milk sold for 5c. per quart in the summer and 6c. per quart in the winter months but last spring the milkmen did not reduce the price when spring came and 6 cents has been paid ever since. The milkmen figure it out that if milk is worth 6 cents in the summer, it is worth 7 cents in the winter. They claim that the high price of feed and the big wages that have to be paid laborers, make necessary the higher prices and they will demand them. Of course, it is only natural that when everything else is going up, the price of milk should advance too. It is likely that a meeting of the milk dealers will be held at an early date to consider this winter price of the lacteal fluid.

THINKS MAGISTRATE WAS TOO LENIENT

"Parent" Airs His Views on Local Administration of Justice.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Will you permit me to call the attention of the public to the strange judgments that have been given at the police court recently. The other day a man named Hodder was brought before the magistrate on the charge of having assaulted a young boy for trespassing on the Dickson property, of which the man is the caretaker.

Granting that the boy did wrong, that he did help himself to apples which he found lying on the road, what right had the man to kneel on the boy's chest, to kick him and to choke him, still kicking while the lad tried to make his escape. In consequence of this assault, the boy, who is delicate, was laid up for several days. The other day a lad was fined $3 for stealing apples from a garden. Why did not the man on a garden. Why did not the man or Dickson Co., in this case lay information against the boy to have him punished for wrong doing.

I have no desire to lessen the influence of the police magistrate, but it seems to me extraordinary that an aggravated assault upon a child by brutal force, of a strong man should only be punished by the small fine of $1. It is well to remember that persons walking on the C.P.R. track, and while doing so create no harm, were recently assessed $1. Persons riding bicycles on the sidewalk are fined $2, and boys found guilty of theft, — stealing money from till in a business place go on suspended sentence, and this man who would have done serious injury to a boy, had it not been for the interference of another man was merely fined the paltry sum of $1. I am at a loss to understand the principles by which the police magistrate metes out his judgments. It seems that these recent judgments ought to be reported to the Attorney-General to obtain from him a legal opinion, as to whether the demands of justice have been adequately met. No parent would ever concede to outsiders the corporal punishment of their children. Everyone has access to the law, and no police magistrate has a right, by the ridiculous leniency of a sentence, such as was imposed the other day, to encourage brutality, such as was manifested in this instance.

Yours, etc.,
PARENT.

Cavan Man Had Gay Time Here

Released From Police Court in Morning He Got Drunk Again

Shortly before police court adjourned yesterday afternoon, Wm. Stewart, of Cavan, who was robbed of a large sum of money on Tuesday, entered the court room and created considerable amusement for those present. After being allowed to go in the morning, he evidently went right off and got drunk again, for he was in a hilarious state.

"Well, you're drunk again" said His Worship.

"No, sir, I haven't had a drink today," replied the accused.

There was a charge against him for giving liquor to Jas. Reynolds, who is only seventeen years of age, and it was read to him.

"Now, Your Worship, don't ask me any questions, for I can't answer them," was Stewart's reply to the charge.

His Worship deemed it wiser to dismiss the charge, for the accused was not in his right senses when the committed the offence.

When Stewart was questioned as to why he brought so much money to the city, he replied that he came to have a good time. He had one hundred dollars when he came to town, and spent about ten out of it.

"I have not been in the city since last February," said he. He was told to come back on Saturday and he would get his money, some of which the police have recovered.

"Just give me a dollar or two till then," pleaded Stewart, but His Worship could not see it that way, and he walked off without it. He will have to depend on his friends for his drinks.

Burns Will Try To Beat Record

Former Peterborough Runner Will Make Stiff Trial at Calgary

The Calgary News says;

The following are the members of the Y.M.A. relay team who will run against Art Burn, formerly of Peterborough, in the five mile race on Monday; H. Morren, J. Priestly, F. W. Pimlott, F. Mechlenborg, H. G. Maddock and C. Spence. There was only supposed to be a team of five, each running a mile, but to make it a stiffer test for Burn, Maddock and Spence will only run one-half mile each. After running four and a half miles Burn will have to beat Spence who starts in on the last half mile.

Burn hopes to make a new five-mile record. His present record is 26 minutes, 30 seconds, made when he won the championship of Canada in 1904. He feels confident of lowering this, so that the crowd are assured of seeing a fine race.

Flaherty Will Pitch Saturday

Local Team Will Line up Much the Same as Last Saturday

The championship of the Midland league hinges upon Saturday's game in Port Hope when Peterborough meets the home team in the second game of the series to settle who's who. If the Crawfordites win the championship is their's, whereas if the Peters pull out a victory a third game will have to be played on neutral grounds.

The Peterborough team to go to Port Hope will be the same as that which played at Riverside park last Saturday, with the exception that Flaherty will pitch. Manager Johnson believes he has the better team and that they would have won last Saturday had it not been for the airship proceedings in the first innings. Flaherty is in good shape and should be able to puzzle the Port Hope sluggers. Surphlis and O'Neill will be the Port Hope battery.

The team will go to Port Hope on the noon train, as it has been found impossible to run a special.

Rugby Club to Meet To-night

Annual Meeting to be Held at Oriental Hotel

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club will be held in the Oriental hotel parlors tonight at eight o'clock. It is requested that everyone interested in this great autumn game be present, as some important matters have to be decided. It is probable that Peterborough will enter teams in the intermediate and junior O.R.F.U. Negotiations are now under way for the formation of a new interprovincial senior union, to consist of the Hamilton Tigers, Toronto Argonauts, Ottawa Rough Riders, and the Montreal team. If such a union is formed the senior series of the O.R.F.U. will be abandoned.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance tonight.

Crescents Meet To-morrow Night

The Crescent Rugby Club will meet for organization tomorrow night at the Y.M.C.A. hall at eight o'clock and not tonight as was previously announced. It is urgent that all of last year's members and any new ones who care to join, turn out. The prospects for the season will be discussed. It is probable that the Crescents may enter a city league, if one is formed, as they have plenty of good material for a strong team.

WEIRD STORY THAT THE GAME WAS "FIXED"

There is a good deal of sense in the following from the Port Hope Guide:

It is regrettable that a story has been spread about town that the game in Peterborough last Saturday was fixed and that Peterborough is to win here next Saturday. We referred to this matter some time ago and endeavored to convince these "wise ones" that everything was on the square, but that seems an impossible task. However, you can take this tip as genuine, that Port Hope are out to win on Saturday. We are not here to uphold any crooked work of a baseball club and when we make the assertion that the game will be played on its merits, we know what we are talking about. It is Manager Crawford's intention to strengthen last Saturday's line up, and if things were fixed it is hardly likely that he would expend $150 for Toronto men to visit here and lose to Peterborough. All we can add is if Peterborough wins here on Saturday it will be because they have the stronger team."

Renfrew is After the Stanley Cup

The Renfrew Hockey Club, who put in a challenge for the Stanley Cup in March last, sent three representatives to Ottawa, Messrs. W. Jameson, T. A. Lowe, and James Jacques, to urge that their challenge be accepted. Mr. Foran was acting Cup trustee when the challenge was sent in and took no action in the matter, promising to lay the challenge before Mr. P. D. Ross, Cup trustee, when he returned from Europe. The Renfrew men are anxious to know in good time whether their challenge will be accepted, and interviewed Mr. Ross, who thought it better to defer action until a successor to the late Sheriff Sweetland, who was one of the Cup trustees, has been appointed to act in conjunction with Mr. Ross.

Renfrew has a strong septette, and they are undisputed champions of the Ottawa Valley and defeated the Ottawas quite handily last season. The club has strings out for a couple of speedy new men.

The appointment of a second Cup trustee made necessary by the death of Sheriff Sweetland, will likely take place in the course of the next few days.—Ottawa Journal.

GOLF

MAITLANDS BEAT TRENTON.

The first of the semi-final games in the intermediate C.L.A. series was played at the Island oval, Toronto, yesterday afternoon, and was won with the greatest ease by the Maitlands, who defeated Trenton, 15 to 0. Maitlands scored five goals in the first quarter, one in the second, six in the third and three in the fourth. The game was played under protest as the Trenton players had not made the amateur affidavits required by the C.L.A.

HOCKEY

Winter is coming on apace, and hockey lovers in this city are asking what is to be done next winter, says the Belleville Intelligencer. The proper tip for Belleville, many people think, would be an intermediate team in a district with Peterborough, Port Hope, Cobourg, and, perhaps, Picton. There is no doubt hockey was never on so good a footing in this city as it was in the good old days of the intermediates. Why not let history repeat itself? A district composed of Belleville, Peterborough, Port Hope and Cobourg would be a winner, and hockey would boom like it did a few years ago. What do our neighbors think about it? They have been none too well pleased since they dropped away from Belleville.

FINED ON ONE OF THE CHARGES

Wm. Haines Will Have to Hand Over $40 to the County

Wm. O. Haines, of Cavendish, will have to hand over $40 as a result of the charges preferred against him in the county police court by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Westlake. Magistrate Edmison gave judgment in the case yesterday afternoon, finding Haines guilty of carrying a revolver and dirk, and fining him $10 and costs, besides confiscating the revolver. The other two charges, that of assaulting and using obscene language to Mrs. Westlake, were dismissed, or at least will be dropped upon the payment of the costs by Haines. The costs of the three charges amount to $31, which with the $10 fine will bring the amount to be put up by Haines to $41. He was given ten days to produce thd coin.

Haines was allowed to keep his hunting knife.

New Hay is Still High in Price

One Load Sold for Nineteen Dollars on To-day's Market

New hay still retains its high price. There were seven loads on the market this morning and they were all quickly sold. There is a great demand for new hay, and this has a tendency to keep up the price. To-day a man by the name of Mahood, residing in Otonabee, got nineteen dollars for his load, which was the highest figure paid. Some others got as much as seventeen dollars. Hay has been exceedingly expensive this year, and at no other time of late years, has it ever been known to reach such a top notch quotation.

Peterboro' Men in Attendance

At Convention of Canadian Embalmers Association

Messrs. D. Belleghem and John Comstock are in Toronto attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Embalmers' Association. Speaking of the gathering, a Toronto paper says;

The Canadian Embalmers' Association resumed their convention yesterday in the Biological building and elected officers for the ensuing year, Mr. E. J. Humphreys, of Toronto, being elected president. Reports of the various committees were received, and two interesting papers were read by Mr. Ernest Best, of Thamesville and Mr. McIntyre, of St. Catharines. The remainder of the sessions were taken up with demonstrations of the various methods of embalming. The following officers were elected; President, E. J. Humphrey, Toronto; First Vice-President, H. Manitoba Harvest In Full Swing

Outlook is Now Favorable for Splendid Crop

A Winnipeg despatch says;

Reports from all parts of the province, received by the Government officials, show that harvesting is in full swing, and the outlook is very favorable for a splendid crop. In many districts in Southern Manitoba cutting is practically over, while in many other sections the harvest will be over by the end of the week.

The wheat is ripening rapidly in the northern part of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and with a continuation of the present fine weather and this the "probs" man has promised, grain will be ready for the binders earlier than will be expected.

It is estimated that sixty per cent. of the grain in Manitoba has been cut. The principal difficulty now is to secure sufficient men, particularly in Manitoba. The harvesters have all wanted to go through to Saskatchewan and Alberta, with the result that those provinces at present have more men than is needed and Manitoba not enough.

Hon. Adam Beck will establish a branch of his lumber mill and box factory in Hamilton.

Queen Alexandra Circle Meeting

Interesting Report of High Court Held in London

The regular meeting of Queen Alexandra Circle No. 136 A.O.F., was held last night in the Sons of England hall. There was a good attendance of members. C. C. Mrs. Stevens was in the chair. One candidate was duly initiated and one proposition received for membership. Mrs. W. Head who was a delegate from the Circle at the High Court meeting held in London, gave a fine report of proceedings of High Circle. The report showed that there was a large gain in funds and increase in membership and delegates were well entertained by members of Courts in London.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Head for the report.

Queen Alexandra Circle is in flourishing condition and the prospects are bright for more members.

Independent Telephone Co's.

Very Successful Convention—Nearly 20,000 Phones in Use Already

After attending the convetnion of Independent Telephone Companies of Canada, which was held in the city hall, Toronto, yesterday, Mr. B. A. Lillie, local manager of the Canadian Machine Telephone Co., returned home this morning. The gathering was a great success, far more so than the most sanguine anticipated. There were about 150 delegates present and many interesting subjects were discussed. The interest in the independent telephones has developed wonderfully during the past year or two, and although the movement has only been on foot for about three years, there are to-day between 18,000 and 20,000 independent phones in Canada against 90,000 Bell phones. Thus it is claimed that in five years the Indepednent companies will be just as strong as the Bell. In the United States there are many thousands of independent hones more than Bell phones and the great monopoly is being gradually worn down.

So large was the convention and so intense the interest taken that it was decided to hold a two days meeting next year instead of one. Dr. J. F. Demers, of Levis, Que., was elected president of the association.

Was Elected Vice-President

Mr. Frank Bell Honored at Division Court Clerks' Annual Meeting

Mr. Frank J. Bell, the popular Division Court clerk, of Peterborough, has been highly honored by the Division Court Clerks' Association of Ontario, the annual meeting of which was held in Toronto yesterday. He was elected first vice-president. A Toronto despatch has the following regarding the annual meeting;—

The annual meeting of the Division Court Clerks' Association of Ontario was held at the Parliament buildings yesterday afternoon. Mr E. H. Duggan, of Toronto, the president, occupied the chair. There was a large attendance, and the gathering was marked by considerable earnestness. Mr. Duggan was re-elected president. Other officers elected were Messrs. F. J. Bell, Peterborough, First-Vice President; J. W McIntosh, London, Second Vice-President, and Peter MacIntyre, Woodville, secretary. A committee was appointed to wait on the Government with the request that something should be done to relieve the clerks of paying rent for their offices. This is done now out of the percentage of fees retained by the clerks, and in many cases, it is contended, it is a hardship.

Bert Stewart, of Minnedosa, was shot and killed on Monday by his twin brother, John.

Brinton Carpet Company's Exhibit

The Toronto Mail and Empire, in its notes on the exhibition, today, says;—

The honest efforts of Canadian Carpet manufacturers in general has succeeded in diminishing almost to vanishing point the prejudice that has existed against Canadian-made carpets. What remains may be said to be unwarranted, and anyone that has seen the exhibit of the Brinton Carpet Company, of Peterborough, in the Manufacturers' Building, will admit that this company in particular can turn out goods equal to anything made by English manufacturers.

This company have a position in the carpet manufacturing industry of which no other Canadian carpet house can boast. They have the benefit of the experience of Brintons', Limited, Kidderminster, which may be described as the parental house, and for which they act as agents.

Mr. W. E. Whitehead, who is the sales agent of the company, has been actively identified with the Canadian carpet trade for so many years that his name spells "carpets" to the trade, from the reliance placed by buyers in his judgment and experience. The Brinton Company is very fortunate in having a representative of his standing.

Lakefield Should Be in East Riding

For Electoral Purposes—Mr. R. C. Strickland's Opinion

The following appears in this week's issue of the Lakefield News:—

Dear Sir,—In my humble opinion it is about time that the citizens of this town should take some steps to rectify the anomalous position in which it stands in the electoral divisions of this county. As you are aware, for the Dominion elections, we vote in the East Riding, and for Provincial elections in the West Riding. As long as we remain in this position we shall not have the influence in selecting our representatives that we as citizens of so important a place as Lakefield should possess. I should like to see this subject discussed in your paper apart from all partyism. It is my opinion that when Ashburnham was joined to the city of Peterborough and taken into the West Riding for both Dominion and Provincial elections, that Lakefield should have been taken into the East Riding, for both these elections and thus make a more equal division of the county. Anyway, I am sure, Mr. Editor, that you will agree with me that our present position is absurd.

Yours truly,
R. C. STRICKLAND.

Speed Of Train Not Excessive Is Story Told By The Engineer

Was Not Trying to Make Up Lost Time.

His Third Trip Out With Passenger Train When Wreck Occurred—Conflicting Statements as to Speed—Most Dangerous Curve on Road—Track Repairer's Evidence—Caledon Inquest Abandoned.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Samuel Mossop, for 25 years employed on a bridge and track repair gang about the fatal Caledon "horseshoe curve," and who saw the ill-fated train leave the track at the time of the accident Tuesday, swore last night, before Coroner Johnson, that the train was going 35 miles an hour when it left the rails. He jumped the fence enclosing the right-of-way, fearing that the train would leave the rails. He had seen many trains round this curve before, but had never entertained this fear.

The train left the rails before it reached him.

George Hodge, the 23-year-old engineer, who ran a passenger train for the third time in his life when he took out the packed special, declared that the speed of the train at the point of leaving the rails was between fifteen and twenty miles, and that the brakes were on.

He swore, however, that he had advanced a considerable distance along the curve and down the grade before he applied the brakes, but that he had shut off steam and advanced under the gained speed at the slow-board sign before the grade. He said that he was not over-worked, and had had plenty of sleep, although he had not been off duty the night before.

It is likely that the investigation opened here will be the only one at which evidence will be heard.

Crown Attorney W. H. MacFadden of Brampton, who is conducting the enquiry for the crown here by order of the Attorney-General, and who is acting at the Caledon inquest, said last night:

"The other inquest will likely be abandoned. It would be foolish to hear the witnesses twice, and they will all be heard here."

The first witness heard was Geo. A. Walker of the C. P. R. solicitor's department, who stated that he had the will of Richard Bell while on the train coming to Toronto.

Train Despatcher's Evidence.

W. H. Allison, the train despatcher of the railway at Toronto, was an important witness. He was on duty at the time of the wreck, and said that the wrecked train was a special with a special schedule. The train started from Markdale, and was to stop for passengers between that point and Orangeville. He was not on duty when the train started, but it left at 7.35, an hour and 20 minutes late. It arrived at Caledon Station at 9.20 and left at 9.21 o'clock. The train had four coaches behind engine 555, leaving Markdale. These were all passenger coaches.

His first word of the accident was from the agent at Cardwell Junction, who wired at 10 o'clock that the train had been ditched at Caledon Mountain. He could not fix the exact time of the wreck definitely. It went the 45 miles between Markdale and Orangeville in an hour and 20 minutes without about five minutes off for stops. The regular took one hour and 38 minutes to run 37 miles, taking as much time off for stops. The despatcher said that the regular would take up more time in stops.

On the schedule the train was given two hours between Orangeville and Toronto, while the regular steamboat express makes the run in an hour and 20 minutes.

John Fairbairn, C. P. R. division engineer, identified a blue print of the curve. The maximum grade was 1.8, and at the scene was 1.6. The curve is the sharpest under his jurisdiction. He examined the track afterward and found it in good shape. He could only account for the accident by excessive speeding.

Engineer's Story.

George Hodge, the engineer on the ill-fated train, was next called. Mr. Robinette, his counsel, objected to the witness giving evidence. He also asked that Coroner Johnson should give him protection against criminal prosecution. It was ruled by Coroner Johnson) that the witness must answer all questions, but his answer to any question likely to criminate him to which he objected would not be used against him.

The witness went on to tell of his trip, beginning at the start from Markdale. He shut off steam about 250 yards before the slow board at grade. On the first curve he applied the brake, and felt it take hold about a quarter of a mile before the engine left the rails with seven pounds pressure on the air brakes.

He judged that the speed was sufficient to ensure safety. He was about to release the brake, having reached the toe of the horseshoe, but did not do so. He felt the engine jolt.

He thought that the engine was running 15 to 20 miles an hour on the curve.

He repeated his testimony as to precaution at this point. He was not trying to make up time, having left Caledon only one minute behind the time of his orders. These orders were filed by Mr. Robinette.

His conductor, he said, in answer to Mr. MacFadden, had not remonstrated with him as to the speed he was making on the fatal trip. The slowboard is the only order special for the horseshoe. This means "slow down," but the degree of speed is left to the engineer. It is the most dangerous curve on the road, and the grade makes it more so. Anything less than 25 miles an hour, the witness thought, would be a safe speed on the curve.

The witness did not know what caused the jolt which released the brake. He had been in a wreck before. When the jolt came the engine had not left the rail. He applied the emergency brake, because he felt the engine leaving the tracks. When he went back to the engine the throttle was slightly open, but the witness could not possibly have done this. The brake was on, but not quite to the emergency position.

The witness could not say what was the cause of the accident.

In answer to a juryman the witness said that 20 miles an hour would be his maximum speed between Caledon and the scene of accident.

The inquest adjourned to meet again Wednesday of next week.

Funerals of Victims.

The funerals of several victims of the wreck took place yesterday, amid scenes of general mourning. At Flesherton, the arrival of the body of Robert Carr was delayed owing to the remains of James Buller of Priceville having been placed in the wrong casket. It was not until the body of Robert Carr had reached Flesherton that the mistake was made known to the railway authorities, and no time was lost in returning the body to Shelburne.

It is said that there is not a house between Markdale and Caledon but what has felt the effect directly or indirectly of the disaster. At every station between the two places a crowd of people awaited the arrival of some of those whom they had not seen since Tuesday, and there were many pathetic welcoming scenes.

William Whitehead of Shelburne is said to be in a serious condition.

A farmer who lives not far from the scene of the wreck stated that no less than four wrecks have occurred below this place in the past six months, nine of them serious. In one case, where several freight cars were derailed, the auxiliary itself left the track while hurrying to the scene.

Charles Bellamy, who is in the Western Hospital, says that for some time he was pinned down on top of the bodies of three of the killed.

MURDERED IN COLORADO.

Charles R. Gripton Shot on Road by Unknown Man.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—C. M. Gripton, president of the Grimsby Park Co., has received word from Colorado of the murder of his nephew, Charles R. Gripton, a young man recently married, and who had just graduated from the State Agricultural College.

Mr. Gripton was about to purchase a farm to work scientifically and was, in company with his wife, looking over a piece of land. He got out of the buggy to fix the top, when an unknown man appeared and shot him. Mrs. Gripton got her husband into a rig and took him to a farm house. He died next day.

A large reward has been offered for the capture of the murderer.

BOY RULES ANNAM.

Monarch of Eight Years of Age Assisted by Ministry.

Paris, Sept. 6.—A despatch received here from the Governor-General of Indo-China declares that Thanh Thai, the deposed King of Annam, has abdicated in favor of his eight-year-old son, who now rules Annam with the aid of the regency consisting of the Council of Ministers.

Thanh Thai was deposed by the French residents of Annam and interned in his palace at Hno July 30 last. This step on the part of the French authorities was taken only after a long series of atrocities committed by the king had made it impossible for him longer to remain on the throne.

IN PATH OF FIRE FIEND

Fifteen Perish in the Flames at Burning Hotel.

Cigar Started Blaze—Leaps For Life Proved Fatal—Rioters Set Fire to Lumber Yard at Antwerp — Fort Wayne Business Section Destroyed—Barns and Crops Burned through Lightning.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 6.—Fire destroyed the Webb Hotel at Shelton, 20 miles from Tacoma, Wednesday night. It is reported 15 persons perished. Seven bodies have been recovered.

The following are known to have perished: William Holmes, master mechanic Peninsular Railway shops; Pearl F. Larson, boy; Mrs. Gay, D. J. Hennessy.

Eight or nine are still unaccounted for. The hotel was a three-storey frame building, with front and side stairs, but no elevator.

The fire was discovered at 1.40 yesterday morning. It started in the hotel probably from a lighted cigar butt. Within a few minutes the hotel was a mass of flames. Persons in the upper storeys were entirely cut off from the stairway, and at least seven or eight jumped from the windows before help could reach them. Ten are known to be dead, and one dying.

All but three were killed by jumping from windows.

Serious Fire In Antwerp.

Antwerp, Sept. 6.—The fire which was started in a lumber yard Wednesday night by rioters, necessitating calling out troops to assist the firemen in fighting the flames, threatened destruction of the lumber and warehouse district of this city.

Help was summoned from Brussels and Ghent, and the fire was got under control at noon.

Business Section Burned.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 6.—Fire caused by an explosion of dynamite Wednesday night in the Sessline hardware store at Topeka, Ind., destroyed the business quarter of the town.

$35,000 Fire.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—The barns at Sir William McDonald's model farm at St. Ann's de Bellevue, were struck by lightning yesterday afternoon and totally destroyed. Loss $35,000, covered by insurance.

The barns were almost new and were filled with the season's crops.

Barns and Crops Burned.

Comber, Sept. 6.—The barns of Arthur Holmes, about three miles from Comber, were struck by lightning Wednesday night and were consumed with all the season's crops. There is no insurance.

Parkhill, Sept. 6.—John McLeod, West Williams, lost his two barns, contents and implements by fire on Wednesday evening. The cause is unknown.

Serious Fire on Docks.

Hamburg, Sept. 6.—Fire in the dock warehouse district here yesterday caused damage to the amount of about half a million marks. A number of workingmen had narrow escapes from the flames.

Julius Scriver Dead.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—Julius Scriver, who for so many years represented Huntingdon in the Federal Parliament, died yesterday morning in his 82nd year.

In the passing of Mr. Scriver there vanishes another of the few remaining figures of men who were prominent in the Liberal Parliamentary party from the time of Confederation until the regime of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

For the past seven years Mr. Scriver had lived a retired life, having been forced through failing health to give up his Parliamentary duties in 1900.

Not Assassinated.

Vienna, Sept. 6.—It is officially stated that there is no truth in the reports of the attempted assassination of Emperor Francis Joseph.

An old peasant, carrying a cane, attempted to approach the Emperor for the purpose of presenting a petition, which led to some confusion and the circulation of the rumor that an attempt had been made on his life.

Croker British Citizen.

New York, Sept. 6.—It is alleged that Richard Croker, the former chief of Tammany Hall, has lost his citizenship in the United States and has become a subject of King Edward of England.

LOST BARNS AND CROP.

John Marlen of Kimberley Heavy Loser by Lightning.

Kimberley, Ont., Sept. 5.—John Marlen, who lives about four miles east of this village on the east mountain, lost all his farm buildings by fire yesterday. During the thunderstorm his barns were struck by lightning. He and his son were in the stable at the time and both were rendered unconscious, but the son soon recovered. The father, however, was still unconscious late in the evening. The horses were saved, but a number of hogs were burned to death. All the season's crop was lost, together with most of the implements. The loss is about $1,500, with no insurance. This is Marlen's second fire, and much sympathy is felt for him.

Riot After Funeral.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Another riot resulting from union labor troubles occurred in the mission district yesterday, but was quickly quelled by the police after several arrests had been made.

A large number of members of the Structural Iron Workers' Union returning from the funeral of J. J. Peterson, who was fatally shot during the Labor Day attacks on United Railway employes, threw stones at cars.

The crews of the cars drew their revolvers and fired several shots into the air.

Big Bridge Over St. Lawrence Must Be Completed By Company

Government Determined to Hold the Company Responsible.

Inspector Says Quebec Disaster Was Not Caused by Crack—Plate Was Crimped When Leaving the Shops—Chord Was Bent Almost Double—Many Bodies Still Pinned Under Heavy Iron.

Quebec, Sept. 6.—The coroner's inquest into the bridge disaster was yesterday adjourned until the Government's commissioners complete their investigations.

Alexander Ouimet, who testified that there was a crack of three-quarters of an inch broad and 20 inches long in the shoe of the main pier, was called to complete his evidence. He testified that the plate in question was six feet long and three-quarters of an inch in thickness, the crack was the full depth of the plate and 20 inches in length. There were bolts and rivets in the plate.

He had first noticed the defect in May last, and in July, but did not inform the inspectors or engineers of the bridge. Alfred Esmond and Zephirin La France, to whom he had shown the defect, were both victims of the accident.

Raoul La France, the next witness, corroborated the evidence of the previous witness; the crack went right through the plate.

Mr. McLure, C. E., was recalled, and asked if he had noticed the crack referred to. He said that he had not, also that he had inspected the plate on different occasions. In reply to the coroner, he said the crack in question or any piece would naturally weaken the structure. He said, on May 23, July 24 and Aug. 28 of this year, he inspected the plate in question. The crack would not cause the wreck of the bridge. He had a record that the plate was bent, but it was not a fault, being crimped when it left the shops, some of the rivet holes were cut out later, and an enforcement place used. It was possible for an inexperienced eye to take the crimp in the plate for a crack. It was intended for a wind brace. He would not have considered a crack of sufficient importance to have reported it to the chief engineer.

Mr. Kinlock, inspector for the Quebec Bridge Co., said he had made his last inspection 15 minutes before it went down. The plate in question was crimped, but not cracked. He had seen No. 9 chord since the accident, and it was bent almost in the shape of an "S." There must have been strain at both ends. He knew of the defection, having discovered it at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, Aug. 27, and considered it a serious matter. The end damaged was subsequently repaired, and the report conveyed the impression that it was perfectly safe.

Must Complete Bridge.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—On Tuesday last Sir Wilfrid Laurier paid a visit of inspection to the ruins of the Quebec bridge.

The Premier expressed his profound grief to those about him, and, later, to relatives of workmen who lost their lives.

Sir Wilfrid had no formal interviews with officials of the Phoenix Bridge Co., but made a number of enquiries into the immediate circumstances connected with the collapse.

Although no official announcement has yet been made, it is stated on the highest authority that the Dominion Government has decided to take a very firm and definite stand in the question of responsibility.

If, as now appears to be certain, the result of the official enquiry proves that the piers were in no way responsible for the collapse, the Dominion Government will hold the Phoenix Co. in all details strictly to the actual text of the contract.

That is to say, the company will be held directly responsible for the disaster, will be required to rebuild the bridge as if no accident had occurred, and in addition the Federal Government will require the company to meet all requirements of such penalties as may be provided in the contract for non-completion by date specified.

Sir Wilfrid is determined that the bridge shall be completed, and with this end in view the Government will, if necessary, take the most drastic steps to enforce the completion of the contract.

Four More Suits.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—Four actions for damages, aggregating $26,000, were entered in the Montreal court yesterday against the contractors of the Quebec Bridge Co. by the relatives of four Indians who were killed.

Diver's Awful Sight.

Quebec, Sept. 6.—A diver who went down beside the bridge wreck tells a gruesome tale of what is to be seen. He says that he could see several bodies pinned under the ironwork in the deep water in all sorts of positions, and some standing upright.

The diver declared that he would not go down again, as the sight was a terrible one.

Bad Water at Petawawa.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 6.—An analysis was recently made of soft drinks used at Petawawa Camp, and it has developed that the water used was seriously contaminated, and to its use most likely was due the cases of typhoid fever which developed. Some eight persons contracted the disease and several are still in the Pembroke Hospital.

SITUATION GROWS ALARMING.

Thirty Thousand Moors Mobilizing Against French Troops.

Paris, Sept. 6.—While there has not been any more fighting at Casablanca since the fierce engagement of Tuesday, the seriousness of the general situation in Morocco and the possibility of its leading France into diplomatic difficulties with the other powers of Europe, notably Germany and Great Britain, to say nothing of the apparently growing necessity of increasing the size of the French force on the Moroccan coast, is occupying the attention of the French people.

The press is calling attention to the difficulty of keeping within the terms of the Algeciras convention and the call to convoke Parliament to discuss and decide what course the nation should pursue is becoming more insistent. There is a growing feeling that the important decisions in the matter of France's policy in Morocco should not be left entirely to the members of the Cabinet.

The situation is now referred to as a "war" and no longer as heretofore, as an "expedition of pacification."

The situation at Masagan is reported to be growing threatening, and the exodus of Europeans from Tangier continues. Premier Clemenceau, however, announced yesterday there was no reason to believe that neither Abdel Aziz, the reigning Sultan, nor Mulai Hafig, his brother, who has been proclaimed Sultan in the south, intended to make war against France.

Native advices received at Tangier declare that 20,000 hostile Moors have concentrated not far from Casablanca, and that 10,000 Kabyle tribesmen have mobilized near Alcabaza.

Spain is preparing to send reinforcements of men and ships to Morocco. One Spanish battleship, the Emperador Carlos V., arrived at Tangier yesterday.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA.

Foreign Minister Places Seal on Better Relations—Chats With King.

Marienbad, Bohemia, Sept. 6.—The Russian Foreign Minister, M. Iswolsky, who recently signed the Anglo-Russian agreement in behalf of Russia, was received in audience by King Edward here yesterday.

The Minister, who was presented to His Majesty by Sir Edward Goschen, the British Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, remained to take luncheon with the King.

Satisfaction In London.

London, Sept. 6.—The conference at Marienbad between M. Iswolsky and King Edward was arranged to discuss the recently-concluded Anglo-Russian agreement. The meeting gives the greatest satisfaction here, placing the final seal on better relations between Great Britain and Russia.

It is understood that Great Britain, while she has secured all that the specialists deemed necessary in Persia, has made concessions there in order to obtain advantages in Afghanistan which were considered essential to safeguard India.

Among the concessions thus made is one enlarging the fact, that while Russia and Great Britain define the spheres in Persia, in which each country will not interfere with the commercial interests of the other, the door is left wide open for the merchants of other powers.

MODUS VIVENDI RENEWED.

Prohibition of Sunday Fishing Most Important Change in Agreement.

London, Sept. 6.—The negotiations for a renewal of the Newfoundland fisheries modus vivendi have practically been concluded, and a new agreement, covering the present season, probably will be signed within a few days.

The delay was caused by repeated proposals of the Newfoundland Premier, Sir Robert Bond, of a substitute for the modus vivendi, to which the American and British officials have given every consideration. The matter, the Associated Press is informed, has now been disposed of, and an agreement has been reached to renew the modus vivendi, with some modification.

The most important change relates to Sunday fishing, a prohibition of which, it is understood, the United States has agreed to.

Engineer's Spine Fractured.

Brockville, Sept. 6.—A young locomotive engineer named J. McMahon lies in a local hospital badly cut up from injuries received in a railway wreck.

While running a train about ten miles out of Depot Harbor the engine jumped the track, and falling down an embankment carried McMahon and his fireman with it. McMahon was caught between the tender and the engine, sustaining a fracture of the spine.

The Commonwealth Government has provided that patent medicine imported into Australia shall show on the label the various drugs and materials of which the medicine is composed.

New Zealand's Tariff.

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—The New Zealand tariff maintains the preference to all Canadian goods except paper hangings, but the new tariff on cheap boots and shoes will almost be prohibitive, amounting to about 6 per cent.

Cables Steady—Hogs Are 5c Higher In the American Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—London cables are firmer at 11¾c to 12¾c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Sept. 5.—Receipts of live stock at the city market, as reported by the railways since Tuesday, were 84 carloads, composed of 1228 cattle, 565 hogs, 2232 sheep and lambs, 226 calves.

Exporters.

Few, if any, export cattle were on sale, but had there been some of good quality they would have found a fair market. Some of the heaviest of the butchers' cattle were said to have been bought at $4.50 to $4.85 per cwt.

Butchers.

The best butchers offered—and they were none too good—sold at $4.25 to $4.50, with a few picked heifers at $4.60 to $4.75; medium $3.60 to $4; common $3 to $3.50; cows $2 to $4 per cwt.; canners $1.25 to $1.75 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

Harry Murby, who has returned from an extended holiday, and ready for business, reports the class of cattle being offered generally of an undesirable class. Mr. Murby reported having handled about 100 cattle to-day, steers weighing 850 to 1000 pounds each at $2.50 to $3.50 per cwt.; stockers of fair quality at $2.50 to $3.25; and inferior classes around $2 per cwt., and some of the worst quality eastern cattle were almost unsaleable at any price. Mr. Murby stated that he could do with a few lots of good quality steers, weighing from 800 to 900 pounds each.

Milkers and Springers.

A large number was offered. Trade was fair for a few extraordinary good cows at prices from $40 to $60 each, with one at $69; but the common and medium cows were slow sale at $25 to $35 each, and several were reported as unsold at the close of the market.

Veal Calves.

Trade was good considering the quality offered. Prices ranged from $3 to $6 per cwt. A choice new milk fed calf would be worth more money.

Sheep and Lambs.

Owing to heavy receipts, prices were easy all round. Export ewes sold at $4.25 to $4.40 per cwt.; picked butcher sheep $5 per cwt.; lambs sold at $5 to $6 per cwt.

Hogs.

The run of hogs this week was the smallest of the year thus far. Mr. Harris reported prices unchanged at $6.25 for selects, and $6 for lights and fats, with the prospect of still lower prices this coming week.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 5.—Cattle—Receipts, 100; slow; prime steers, $5.25 to $6.75.

Veals—Receipts, 100 head; active and steady; $5 to $9.

Hogs—Receipts, 2800 head; fairly active; Yorkers and mixed, 10c higher; mixed, $6.80 to $6.90; Yorkers, $6.70 to $6.85; pigs, $6.50 to $6.60.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2800 head; sheep active and steady; good lambs active; common dull; lambs, $5.50 to $8.15; wethers, $5.50 to $5.75.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Beeves—Receipts, 572. No trading of importance, feeling weak. Exports to-day, about [illegible] quarters of beef.

Calves — Receipts, 770; prime veals, steady; others slow; grassers and buttermilks, dull to a shade lower. Veals, $5.50 to $9.50; culls and throwouts, $4 to $5; mixed calves, $3.50 to $4; grassers and buttermilks, $2.75 to $3.25; western calves at $3.50.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2979. Sheep in fair demand and steady. Lambs active and 10c to 15c higher. Lambs sold at $6.75 to $8.25; culls, $5 to $5.50; sheep, $3.50 to $5.25; culls at $2.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 2268; market steady; heavy to light state and Pennsylvania hogs sold at $6.75 to $7.

Cheese Markets.

KINGSTON, Sept. 5.—At the cheese board this afternoon there were boarded 280 white and 611 colored; 194 boxes white were sold at 12c and 52 colored; 135 boxes went at 11 15-16c, and the remainder went out to the curb and was disposed of by small sales.

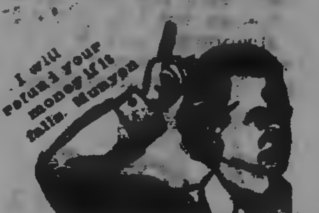
Don't Sell Your Apples Early

The Farming World asks the following sensible question; "Why do apple growers persist in selling the product of their orchards several months in advance?"

Already contracts are being made for orchards at so much per barrel, and in nine cases out of ten the grower will lose by the transaction. It is better business to wait till the fruit is ripe and take the best price going, and a better plan still is for neighbors to co-operate and do the picking and packing themselves rather than let the buyer do it.

STUDENTS DISAPPOINTED

A number of students, intending to receive model training at our school, arrived this morning, and were greatly disappointed when they were informed that the school had been disbanded, says the Port Hope Guide. They had made all arrangements for a three months' stay here, and when told of a step taken by the School Board, they were unable to say what they would do. They would have to choose between Whitby and Lindsay, but at either of these centres it meant additional expense. One gentleman who accompanied his daughter to town, stated that the change would mean an extra expenditure of $75 to him, and he didn't at all appreciate the action of the School Board. If public Boards were allowed to act in this manner he thought Port Hope's 10,000 club would be a useless organization.



I will refund your money if it fails. Munyon

Improvements At the Cemetery

Water Table To Provide for Better Drainage

Superintendent Wise has a gang of men at work at present making various improvements to Little Lake cemetery. Among other things being done is the putting in of a water table to provide for better drainage on the hill east of the chapel. When this is completed a great improvement will have been effected in that part of the cemetery, as in the past the drainage has never been good in that portion of the burying ground. Good progress is being made on the work and it will be completed shortly.

The G.T.R. have fixed upon a site for a new station at London.

Prof. U. Ogawa of Kyoto, Japan

A Distinguished Engineer, Inspecting Lift Lock Canal and Waterworks

One of the foremost engineers in Japan, in the person of Prof. U Ogawa, is a guest at the Oriental hotel. He is connected with the College of Engineering, Imperial University at Kyoto, Japan, and has come to Canada to inspect the system of canals and waterworks and to make a thorough study of them. He has been in England and Germany on several occasions, but this is the first time he has been in Canada. He called upon several public men in Peterborough this morning and was shown about the city. This afternoon he visited the chief engineer of the canal and the superintendent and went over to the lift lock. This great piece of engineering work interested him immensely and he was very keen after knowledge in respect to it. He was not at all backward in his praise of the engineer who undertook such a wonderful lock and he was surprised to learn that there had been no very serious mishaps since it was completed. Prof. Ogawa was also interested in the whole Trent canal waterway and, if time permitted would have liked very much to have made a trip over it.

Canada is frequently visited by distinguished Japanese, and the recent treaty made between the two countries has done much to advertise Canada in the Flowery Kingdom. Six years ago there were very few Japanese coming to Canada to study its conditions, but now many are visiting the country.

An Injunction To Prevent Transfer

Toronto Man Has Claim Against Mr. Kelly, of Royal Hotel

Some trouble has arisen in connection with the transfer of the Royal Hotel license from Mr. Kelly to Mr. Flaherty. Acting for Mr. McCrohan, of Toronto, Mr. D. O'Connell, succeeded at Osgoode Hall yesterday, in getting an injunction preventing the License Commissioners from transferring the license. Mr. McCrohan claims that he had an agreement with Mr. Kelly for the purchase of the hotel and had paid him $800 on the bargain. Today's Osgoode Hall reports contain the following item in reference to the matter.;

McCrohan v. Kelly. —D. O'Connell, Peterborough, for plaintiff, asked enlargement of motion to continue injunction for purpose of cross-examination on affidavits. A. R. Clute for defendant contra. Motion enlarged for one week. Injunction continued meantime. Parties to interchange material at Peterborough so as to be ready next week.

Board of Education Having Hard Time Securing Teachers

Mr. McDougall, Who Was Engaged To Supply Temporarily at Collegiate Institute, Cannot Come —120 Pupils in Two Rooms at Present Time

The Board of Education has received word, from Mr. McDougall, who was appointed at Tuesday night's meeting to a temporary position on the Collegiate Institute staff, that he cannot come to Peterborough as he has accepted a position in one of the Toronto schools, having completed arrangements for the same before receiving word from Peterborough.

As a result of Mr. McDougall being unable to come, the Board of Education has been left in a rather bad way, as they cannot hope to secure another teacher for a few days at least. The position is a permanent one, and Mr. McDougall was only to have filled it until a permanent teacher could be secured. The applications received by the Board as a result of their first advertising are not satisfactory, and the committee on appointments is advertising again. It is an important position with a good salary attached, and therefore the Board has to use discretion in making a selection. As a result of the large attendance of pupils at the Collegiate, the teachers are finding it difficult to do as good work, as they would like. There are 120 pupils divided between Upper one and Lower one forms, sixty in the latter, and the remainder in the former room. One hundred and twenty pupils are too many for two rooms, but until another teacher is secured, no improvement can be made. When another teacher is added to the staff they will be divided into three rooms giving about forty pupils per room. This number itself is almost too large, but it is the best that can be done. There will be plenty of room at the Collegiate when the Commercial Department is removed to the King Edward school, which will likely be done next week.

North Monaghan Lady Had Close Call at Crossing

Front Wheel of Buggy Broken By Being Struck By Car at Corner of Hunter and Bethune Streets This Morning

Riding in a buggy, one of the front wheels of which was smashed by a collision with a train at the corner of Hunter and Bethune streets, Mrs. Anderson, a North Monaghan woman had a narrow escape about eleven o'clock this morning. It was an exciting episode, and the few persons who were in the vicinity at the time, held their breath for a few moments.

A Grand Trunk engine was shunting some freight cars in the vicinity of Hunter street about eleven o'clock. One car was standing just north of Hunter street, in fact a part of it was on the thoroughfare. The engine was north of the street. Mrs. Anderson was driving west along Hunter street and apparently, did not notice that the engine was approaching to connect with the car. She was informed of the danger by a couple of gentlemen standing in the vicinity, but evidently thought she could get across before the car moved. She urged on the horse but did not get across in time, and the car bore down and struck the buggy. It caught it near the front and broke one of the front wheels. The car was not moving very raidly and as the horse made a quick jump the carriage got out of the danger zone before any further damage was done.

Mrs. Anderson was greatly frightened and will not soon forget her narrow escape. She was not at all injured and proceeded to her home. It was an exciting accident and those who witnessed it, state that they would not like to see a similar one.

Norwood and Havelock Will Receive Healey Falls Power

Municipal Councils of These Towns to Assist Northumberland-Durham Power Company to Obtain Lease from Dominion Government for Balance of the Rapids

At the regular meeting of Norwood Council on Wednesday night, The Northubmerland-Durham Power Co., Limited, gave an agreement to Norwood that they would build an electric power line from Healey Falls to Havelock and Norwood, some 14 miles, at the same time as the power line to the lake front towns is constructed.

After a full and clear address from the Managing Director, Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell, of Port Hope, and a long discussion in Council, and also addresses from leading ratepayers, a memorial was passed unanimously by the Council and also endorsed by the ratepayers present, petitioning the Dominion Government to grant the company a lease of their portion of upper Healey Rapids without further delay.

The agreement and memorial fully explains the company's position. They hold a lease of the Healey Falls and lower rapids from the Ontario Government and patent of land necessary for works, also ownership by deed of parts of the upper rapids and other lands.

On being urged, Mr. Culverwell explained the unfair opposition of greedy politicians, who have been obstructing the company's operations all along. This explanation quite satisfied the whole meeting and every encouragement and assistance was promised to the company in their future operations.

Havelock Council last week also passed a similar memorial to the Dominion Governmetn at a unanimous meeting, at which a number of prominent ratepayers were present. The company has secured as stockholders and directors two of the leading and most responsible gentlemen of the Havelock and Norwood district to join.

Below is appended the Norwood memorial:

MEMORIAL OF THE VILLAGE OF NORWOOD.

WHEREAS The Northumberland-Durham Power Company, Limited, has been granted by the Ontario Government a lease of Healey Falls, both sides, and lower adjoining rapids, and also a patent of the fifty-six acres of land absolutely necessary for development works, and the said company also owns by deed two portions of the upper Healey rapids and lands adjoining, and the company also owns by deed other necessary lands.

AND WHEREAS the said company is now applying to the Dominion Government for the balance of the Upper Healey rapids, so that the company can make a proper and full development of the whole of the Healey water power.

AND WHEREAS the said company does not intend restricting the use of the said water power to the counties of Northumberland and Durham, as was first mooted;

AND WHEREAS the said company agrees to construct an electric power line to Havelock and Norwood in East Peterborough county, some fourteen miles, the same time as the company constructs their main power line to the lake front;

THEREFORE be it resolved that the Municipal Council of the village of Norwood, do now endorse the said application of the said company to the Government, thereby annulling its previous objections to said application, and further this Council do now petition the Dominion Government to grant a lease without further delay of their portion of the Healey rapids to the said The Northumberland-Durham Power Company, Limited, which is a corporation being promoted by the leading manufacturers and business men in Cobourg, Port Hope, Trenton, Belleville, Deseronto, Campbellford and Havelock, and endorsed by seventeen Municipal Councils.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Municipal Council of Norwood have hereunto set their official hand and corporate seal in pursuance of the resolution passed at a regular meeting of the Council this 4th day of September, 1907.

Signed,
JAMES CALDER, Clerk. A. BREAULT, Reeve (Seal)

TALENTED VOCALISTS

Who Assisted at the Concert Held at Mr. A. L. Davis' Cottage, Stony Lake

In the account of the concert given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Davis, at Stony Lake last week, no mention was made in any of the Peterborough papers of the excellent singing of two of our best Lakefield vocalists, who assisted materially towards the success of the evening's entertainment. This of course, was not done intentionally, but simple justice compels us to state, that in Miss Myrtle Kline and Mr. Robert Norris, the programme committee found two of its choicest performers. Miss Myrtle Kline is well-known to many audiences in various parts of the district as a fine soprano and an accomplished performer on the piano. Mr. Norris, who has lately come amongst us was till recently, a member of Mr. Geo. Edwards' Stock Company in London, and in "The Cingalee" scored a very high success.—Lakefield News.

Brittain was afterwards removed to his home at 249 Park street, in the Dan Spence ambulance.

Peterborough Man Escaped Wreck

Took Train Fifteen Minutes Later Than the Derailed One

Word has been received in the city, that Richard Clegg, formerly of Peterborough, who is a prosperous furniture manufacturer at Wingham, Ont., came nearly being a passenger on the wrecked train near Orangeville on Tuesday morning last. Mr. Clegg and his wife had taken a train to Orangeville, but instead of going out on the excursion train decided to remain on their train which came in from Teeswater, and left Orangeville fifteen minutes later than the Owen Sound or excursion special. Had Mr. and Mrs. Clegg taken the first train they would have been in the frightful disaster, in which 7 were killed and scores injured. Mr. Clegg is a brother of Major E. B., and Mr. Sam Clegg of this city.

The choir seats are not ready yet, and at a meeting of the choir last evening, they decided to sit in the front pews of the church. Rev. Dr. Tufts, of Stellerton, N. S., will preach at both services.

CORNER DESERTED.

For the past couple of nights and since the gang appeared in police court, Marvin's corner, Hunter and Aylmer streets, has been deserted. People living in the neighborhood and pedestrians notice a great improvement. The police will be patted on the back if they break up all those street corner gangs, of which there are far too many for a city of this size.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

The Property Committee will meet this evening, when the library deputation will make its report. This will likely be a lengthy document and may result in important changes being made in the plans. There will be several other matters taken up, such as the condition of the police cells, the powder magazine, and the repairs to the City Hall.

SOON BE DONE.

RAPID WORK.

The Bell Telephone Co.'s construction gang are making rapid strides with the laying of the conduits. Today they put the finishing touches on the work, and everything is completed between Brock street and Charlotte street on George, and a good job is being done in the way cleaning up afterward.

HIGH PRICE FOR HAY.

There were only two loads of hay on the market today, and they were quickly bought up. Twenty dollars was asked by both farmers and evidently the figure for hay is going to remain high. Although the sellers demanded twenty dollars they got only nineteen. As yet only one man has received twenty dollars for his load.

TRENT CANAL CONTRACT.

An Ottawa despatch says: Another contract has been awarded for the construction of the Trent Canal. The section on the Rice Lake division section 5, from the highway bridge at Campbellford, to deep water at Crow Lake, a distance of three miles has been given to Brown & Aylmer, who were the lowest tenderers. The contract price, is about $550,000. Tenders are now being asked for section 1. The intention is to prosecute the work with all possible despatch.

False Rumors Set at Rest

No Truth in Report that Man will Be Charged with Bigamy

A rumor tha thas has been floating around town for the past few days to the effect that a well known local man would shortly face a charge of bigamy is unfounded. As far as can be learned there is no truth whatever in the story which evidently was started by someone wanting something to talk about. It was stated that this young man had three wives all living. He lived in Brantford for some months and the story went around that one of his captures in the matrimonial line was a Brantford lady and that she was still residing in the Telephone City. From a letter received by the Chief of Police from Brantford, it was learned that, while the youth kept company with a girl in that city there was no record of his ever being married. It was further stated that he had two wives living in this city, but this too is only gossip. The young man has only been married once, as far as any records in this city show.

Fire on Elm Street Roof Was Burned

Home of Mr. N. Guerin Had a Narrow Escape

It was an early call the firemen had this morning to Elm street. The house occupied by Mr. N. Guerin, an employee of R. Hicks & Co., was the scene of attraction and a large crowd of neighbors were out to assist in saving property. Sometime between six and seven o'clock this morning the upstairs took fire from the chimney, although it was not discovered until sometime after Mr. Guerin had gone to work and it had made considerable headway. The alarm was telephoned in from Mr. Routly's store on the corner of Park and Brock streets and the firemen responded promptly. The roof and upstairs were badly burned and about $200 or more will be required to fix it up again, while the furniture was adamaged to the extent of about $25 and there was no insurance on it.

Peach Crop is Very Light One

Mr. Walter Oke Returns from Trip to Niagara District

Mr. Waletr Oke returned last evening from a business trip to the Niagara fruit district. Mr. Oke stated that this was a hard year for fruit. The peach crop this season is a poor one and, as a result, people will have to go without this favorite preserve. There are very few good peaches to get and they are picked up quickly. During the past few years the demand for peaches has been great. One reason for this is that New Ontario is taking a large quantity. Unable to grow this fruit up there, coupled with the fact that the New Ontario people are well off, they are ready to pay almost any price to get peaches, and thus a great many go there. The high price and also the scarcity of smaller fruits, has had a tendency to increase the demand. That the peach crop is a poor one is no rumor, but a positive fact.

The express companies do not report the heavy business in fruit that they did last year at this time. It was nothing last season for the local branch of the Dominion Express Co. to receive as many as a thousand baskets of peaches daily. On several days the number would exceed the one thousand mark.

Wednesday Night Of Next Week

is Date of Big Borden Meeting in Grand Opera House

On Wednesday next, Sept. 11th, Mr. R. L. Borden, the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, will address the people of East and West Peterborough in the Grand Opera House. Mr. Borden is a clean politician. He has a policy which his opponents, of course, deride and wish to make it of no account. But that is expected, so that the people will wish to hear him and to weigh the worth of his policy for themselves. Several leading speakers will accompany him and add strength to the meeting. Mr. Borden is not of the graft, wine and women kind, he is a clean politician, who will not stoop to unfair or dirty means to attain power. This is the man the people want, and all, Conservatives, Reformers, and Independents should turn out and give him an impartial hearing.

WEDDING BELLS

CALDER---HAFNER

The Evening Telegram of Elyria, Ohio, of August 27th, says: The marriage of Miss Carrie A. Hafner, to John A. Calder of this city, occurred yesterday at 2.30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hafner of Fifth street. Only a small family party was present. Rev. W. E. Cadmus performed the ceremony. The home was prettily decorated for the occasion, blossoms of golden glow imparting a touch of warmth to the bridal bower. The bride was handsomely attired in white. Following the ceremony a simple wedding dinner was served and the happy couple left for the groom's former home in Norwood, Canada. After the honeymoon they will return to this city, Mr. Calder being employed as master mechanic of the Dean Electric Works. The bride is a graduate of the Elyria High school and has hosts of friends in this city.

Paid Visit To His Former Home

Charles W. Blinkborn, of Cleveland, Returns After an Absence of Thirty-five Years

Mr. Charles W. Blinkhorn, of Cleveland, Ohio, who was a resident of Peterborough some thirty-five years ago, was in the city yesterday and called upon Mr. Frank Clarke, jeweller. In 1872 Mr. Blinkhorn was employed in the foundry of the William Hamilton Co., which was then located where the present lock works are situated on Simcoe street. Mr. Ed. Clarke, father of Mr. Frank Clarke, was one of the fellow employees of Mr. Blinkhorn, who now owns considerable property in Cleveland and is in comfortable circumstances He was greatly surprised at the rapid growth of the city, and said that its development was marvellous. Mr. Blinkborn had the pleasure of shaking hands with many of the older residents of Peterborough. It is, as stated, just thirty-five years since he left here and he had not been back in all that time until yesterday. He returned to Cleveland last evening.

Deceased was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters, and his death will be universally regretted by his many friends. — Orillia News-Letter.

The North Ward School Re-opens

King Edward to Open Monday—Boundaries Fixed

The North Ward School was re-opened this morning with a large attendance. There is no change in the staff, Principal Walkey and the three assistant teachers of last year being on hand.

It is expected that some of the rooms in the new King Edward school will be opened on Monday.

Inspector Walker states that the bounderies will be all that territory lying south of Wolfe and Patterson streets, but not including those streets.

All pupils south of these thoroughfares, including the kindergarten and all classes up to the junior fourth book, will attend the King Edward School, the seats of which are now being put in place in the different rooms. Some of the senior pupils in the Central school will be transferred to the South Central, by reason of the closing of the Menzies school and junior pupils from below Wolfe and Patterson streets, who have been attending the South Central, will go to the King Edward building.

The principal of the new school will be Mr. W. J. Dunlop, late principal of the Tavistock Public school and his assistants will be Miss Stubbs, Miss Burns, Miss Pratt, and Miss Martin. The kindergarten department will be in charge of Miss Cameron.

Trunk Sewer on Park Street To Be Undertaken At Early Date

Necessity Has Been Felt for a Long Time—George Street Sewer Too Small To Do Increased Work—Means Expenditure of Many Thousands of Dollars

The sewage system of Peterborough is causing many of the best men in the city to do some hard thinking. As time goes on and more streets are opened up there will be much more hard thinking. In fact it is only a matter of a few months when some plan for handling the waste matter of the city will have to be prepared and carried out. The people will have to face an expenditure of many thousands of dollars. There will be no getting around it and the sooner the matter is taken up the better it will be for all parties concerned.

For a long time the trunk sewer on George street has been carrying its full load, or nearly so, that whenever there is an unusually heavy fall of rain the water backs up into cellars and does much damage. The only remedy is to cut off some of the branch sewers emptying into it, thus reducing the ordinary flow. The natural increase of sewage from those sections which can have no other outlet except George street will soon tax the sewer to its utmost without any of the other lines that can be run in another direction.

The scheme advocated by one of the ex-aldermen in the past is advocated by the same gentleman today, and he has many followers. That is for a new trunk sewer down Park-st., starting from Rink st. right through to the southern boundary to the township of Monaghan and on to the river. Right here crops up a question which may also mean more money. The Provincial Board of Health may, on the advice of local Boards of health, require the city to put in an immense septic tank at the outlet so as to prevent any further pollution of the Otonabee river than is necessary. Such action on the part of the townships, villages and towns below the city would be no surprise and the city should have no kick to make. It is the same thing the city is doing to corporations above the city.

The Park street trunk sewer will, within two or three years, be an actual fact. The growth of the western portion of the city is very heavy. Many places are already suffering for the want of proper sewer connections. The present sewers are too small to handle the quantity and too shallow to drain all the property. There is no other remedy for the trouble.

The new trunk sewer will be an immense affair, unless the Council next year or the year after, when the question is taken up, are not far-seeing enough. It will be built to carry the water and waste material for all the section of the city west of Aylmer street from the northern limits to the southern boundary for the next twenty-five or thirty years, figuring on the same growth that has been experienced during the past five years. To do this it should not be less than a five foot pipe, or an egg shaped pipe three feet at the bottom and four feet at the top. The cost of the pipe alone will be a big thing, while the excavation and the laying will make a total that at first sight would scare an ordinary individual. The work will keep a very large gang of men employed for a whole season, and it will keep the taxes up to a reasonable figure for probably thirty years. But to off-set this the city will be well drained, the people will have health and comfort, property will not be damaged by heavy rains and the value of property will be largely increased.

Brockville Regrets the Loss Of Prominent Educationist

What the Press of That Town Has to Say Regarding the Departure of Principal Mowat, to Become Inspector of Public Schools in Peterborough—Parts With Him With Many Regrets

Speaking of the appointment of Mr. A. Mowat, principal of Brockville Collegiate Institute, to the position of inspector of the Public schools of Peterborough, the Brockville Times, says;

Brockville people generally, and more especially those who take an interest in the affairs of the Collegiate Institute, will be painfully surprised to learn that the institution is about to suffer a great loss by the resignation of the popular and efficient principal, A. Mowat, B.A., who has been tendered, and has accepted the position of inspector of Public schools for Peterborough. Out of twenty-nine applicants, Mr. Mowat was the unanimous choice, which speaks volumes in educational circles throughout this province. He received word yesterday of his selection, and at once wired his acceptance, conditionally that he be allowed to remain in Brockville until Nov. 1st., in order to give the B.C.I. Board ample opportunity to fill his place.

Following the resignation of two other excellent members of the staff Messrs. Bryan and Emery, that of the principal now comes with crushing effect.

When seen this morning by a Brockville Times representative Mr. Mowat expressed his deep sense of regret at leaving Brockville, especially at a time when the work of the fall and winter term, initiated by him must of necessity be turned over to another man. The new position in Peterborough affords a wider scope for work at an increased salary and he felt duty bound to better his position. Mr. Mowat came to Brockville from Seaforth six years ago and in that time has brought the B. C.I. to such a high standard of efficiency, that it now ranks among the leaders of Ontario. He inspired confidence in those associated with him on the staff and by his gentlemanly bearing and affable manner, won the love and esteem of the pupils. His conduct of the B.C.I. has been such as to win the approval of parents, the members of the Board and citizens generally. The removal of his estimable wife and family from Brockville, will be shared in with equal regret.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Mowat, succeeds D. Walker, at one time Mathematical master of the B. C. I., who has received a Normal school appointment.

Mr. Mowat, the new inspector of Public schools of Peterborough, is a Scotchman by birth, but has lived in Ontario since childhood. He received his Public school education in Haldimand County an dhis secondary education at the Aylmer Collegiate Institute. Mr. Mowat was principal of a large Public school for four years. He graduated at Toronto University in 1891, taking the honor course in Philosophy and English and History. The new inspector of Public schools was principal of the Meaford High School for seven years, and principal of the Seaforth Collegiate Institute for one year. He has been for six years at the head of the Brockville Collegiate Institute and his career has been marked by splendid success and most satisfactory results. Mr. Mowat is, therefore, well qualified by training, fitness and scholarship for his responsible position, and his friends predict with confidence that he will serve the Board of Education and people of Peterborough as faithfully and successfully as he has served the educational interests of Brockville.

Wheat 82,222,000 Bushels in Manitoba and New Provinces

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—The North-West Grain Dealers' Association handed out today, through Frank. O. Fowler, secretary, their crop estimate for this year, for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. It is a most favorable one. It is as follows;

Wheat, 5,013,544 acres at 61.4 bushels per acre, 82,222,000 bushels.

Oats, 2,373,030 acres at 36.9 bushels per acre, 87,565,000 bushels.

Barley, 663,833 acres at 28.1 bushels per acre, 18,654,000 bushels.

Flax, 105,050 acres at 12.5 bushels per acre, 1,313,125 bushels.

Wheat of old crop in farmers' hands to market, 800,000. bushels.

Oats of old crop in farmers' hands to market, 492,000 bushels.

The statement says;— The above statement may be increased or decreased according to the weather conditions prevailing from now on for harvesting, as a large proportion of the heaviest yielding crop is not yet ready to cut, and will not be for eight or ten days.

"The damage from various causes is far less than at first estimated, and is but a small percentage."

Premier Whitney Home from England

Feels Much Better as Result of Trip Abroad

Premier Whitney

Hon. J. P. Whitney, Prime Minister of Ontario, returned to the city last night from his trip to England. He arrived in New York on Wednesday afternoon and came through yesterday. At the station to meet him were Hon. Col. Metheson and Mr. Englehart, Chairman of the Temiskaming and Northern Railway Commission.

Although tired from the long trip from New York, Mr. Whitney said that he felt much better for the trip. It had been, he said, a very satisfactory one from a business point of view. Last night, however, he was too tired to speak at length of the work he had done, further than to say he was satisfied with the results.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Will Enter Many Horses in Races

G. A. Hay, V.S., left yesterday morning for Peterborough, where he will arrange for a number of entries in the horse racing contests at the fair. This attraction will be one of the great features this year. Several exciting contests will be engaged in. The energetic secretary is on the alert for the best horse flesh available.—Campbellford Herald.

DAIRYMEN'S MEETING

The executive committee of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, at a meeting held in Toronto, decided almost unanimously to hold the annual convention at Picton, on Jan. 8, 9, and 10 next. As an inducement to reach this decision, the town will contribute $600 towards the expenses of advertising, securing speakers, etc.

OLD HAVELOCK IS PART OF VILLAGE

Must Come Under the School Section of the Latter.

Havelock, Sept. 3.—It was yesterday decided by Mr. George J. Sherry of Norwood and F. D. Kerr of Peterborough, that that section of Belmont, called Old Havelock, shall in the future come under the jurisdiction of the Havelock school section. Two years ago, Old Havelock joined Havelock, but the school sections remained different and thus it mixed matters up and caused considerable trouble. The matter was looked up and it was found that Old Havelock should come into Havelock school section when it joined the municipality. Such was the answer given to the question by the above named lawyers, and now children at Old Havelock, will have to attend the Havelock school. There is a considerable dispute on the part of the Old Havelockers, as they will have to pay more school taxes than if they were in the other section. It is considered a good move by both the Havelock and Belmont councils as it will not cause so much trouble. Considering that they have a better equipped school and more teachers at Havelock, they will be amply repaid for paying the extra tax.

Contractors Begin Work on Dam

Mr. Aylmer, of the firm of Brown & Aylmer, who have been given the contract for the dam at Middle Falls, was here on Monday, and on Wednesday a gang of 14 Italians arrived to commence work. He expects to complete the dam before winter if the weather is not too severe.

The council will, in the course of a few weeks, submit a bylaw to raise a sum of money adequate to develop the power on the town property at Middle Falls.—Campbellford Herald.

WHY ALL THIS FUSS?

To the Editor of the Review:

Sir,—Would you please give me space in your paper to say a few words, to those gentlemen, as they may be, who made such an unnesary fuss about the four Indians, who made such a desperate disturbance on the steamer Esturion on the 12th of August. We all know that these Indians made a mistake to get so unruly and make such a racket and use foul language amongst a big crowd of respectable ladies and gentlemen, but I do not like to see people making such a fuss over anything like that as people are doing. Now it has been printed day after day about these fellows. Now I live right near the reservation, and I find that the most of these people, are as fine fellows as one would want to meet. And I really believe, that if the white fellows minded their own business, and did not torment these Indian boys by using insulting words before their Indian women, all this trouble would have been avoided. But I might just say here that the white boys started it, and the Indian boys finished it off in a desperate way. But still I do not see much reason why people make such a fuss over it. Why I have seen murders and suicides amongst the white people and their is not half the painting done in the papers, as there has been done about these four Indians. I heard of a fellow shooting at a house and killing a boy in this County of Peterborough, and I do not think the people made half the fuss because the fellow only got three months, for the act, and this gentleman ("Order" as he called himself) said a lot in your papers of what he simply heard, one of which I believe is a false report. Referring to the Indians frequently getting drunk and causing a lot of trouble between Bobcaygeon and the village. And again he goes on to say that a white man is bad enough when he is drunk, but an Indian is worse. Now I'm thoroughly acquainted with these people, the Indians and I cannot agree with Mr. Order in that, for I never knew of Indians, killing themselves or murdering one another, when drunk or sober and I seldom ever see in the papers that they committ any great crime.

Nor you cannot blame them much either, for being so easily crazed with liquor. The law does not allow them to go into the bar and have a drink with their friends, when they meet one another, the same as a white man can do. I think if such was the case there would not be half of those Indians drunk, as they would take this liquor more moderately, but they have to take it away in bottles when they get a chance, and you know what it is when you steal an apple. It is much sweeter. I could say a lot on this subject, for I really think this part of the law should be done away with. When this was passed the Indians were altogether different from what they are today. Most of the Indians are pretty fair, take for instance a couple of these fellows who made the racket, their complexion is fair, and their hair is light in color and it is very hard for a hotelkeeper or a bartender to distinguish them sometimes. And when this law was passed, the Indians were hardly civilized and the white people used to get them drunk and buy their furs, etc., for very little money. Just such a thing as a white man would do with an Indian every time he got a chance, and the law was passed to prevent these fellows from cheating the poor Indians. But I suppose the poor Indians. But I suppose it is the law yet today, and it should be observed.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

ONE WHO KNOWS THE INDIANS.

A GOOD CITIZEN DEPARTS

In the departure of Mr. J. H. Burnham, president of the Young Conservative Club, for Toronto, the city of Peterborough loses an honorable and estimable citizen, and the Conservative party, a worker of energy and devotion.

The many tributes paid to Mr. Burnham last night by representative citizens were all well deserved, and the expressions of regret at his removal were genuine and sincere. Mr. Burnham has done most effective and aggressive work, in the interest of not only the Conservative party, but played a prominent part in the Board of Trade when it was formed some years ago. He is also the father and founder of that splendid organization, the Children's Aid Society, an institution in which he has never ceased in his zeal and earnestness. He has also been conspicuously identified with many other charities and movements tending to the elevation of the standard of citizenship, the amelioration of the condition of those who have tasted none too largely of this world's comforts, and for a healthy, moral public spirit. He has been a gentleman, who, by his literary gifts, his facile pen, his splendid oratorical abilities and other attributes, has contributed to community a distinct service in many avenues of usefulness, instruction and entertainment. His time and talents have always been placed tat the disposal of every worthy cause and numerous organizations will exceedingly regret that ties, which have existed for so many years, are being sundered, and that one more of Peterborough's best citizens is leaving his native place, but all trust that he will meet with the fullest measure of success in his new field of endeavor.

To recall the names of men—good men all of them—like Mr. Dennistoun, Col. Edwards, Dr. Coughlin, Mr. K. Eardley-Wilmot, Rev. Dr. Crothers and others, who have departed, during the past year or two, serves to remind us of the changing things of time and the mutability of our relations as citizens and co-laborers for the good and welfare of the community.

And now Mr. Burnham is going. He certainly deserves the thanks of all public-spirited citizens. Many institutions will greatly miss his helpful influence and kindly aid.

During his two years as president of the Young Conservative Club, Mr. Burnham has been most vigilant in season and out of season, and has kept the interest of that organization to the very fore-front. He has done excellent work on the platform in many a hard fought campaign and in the organization of the Conservative party in contests extending back over a quarter of a century.

Mr. Burnham has held strong opinions on certain questions, civic and political, and has not been afraid to give expression to his views. He has had the courage of his convictions and, while he may have erred at times in judgment—and who has not—he was always ready to acknowledge an error or to amend a wrong. He took a lively concern in all affairs pertaining to lofty, healthy, progressive citizenship, and will carry with him to Toronto, the good wishes and kindest regards of his fellow men—with whom he did not always agree, but who believed that any differences were honest ones and that any mistakes he may have made in his enthusiasm and advocacy of any cause in which all did not see eye to eye, were those of the head, rather than of the heart.

THE SPEED MANIA

The speed mania, the surest means of sudden death, has added another terrible disaster to its black record. A C.P.R. train rushing down Horshoe curve, a tangle of twists, and turns, near Caledon, left the track, leapt down the embankment, and caused the death of seven persons, and injuries, more or less serious, to scores of other passengers. The track in this section has danger written all over it, and it is sheer madness to travel down the grade beyond a slow speed. It was inviting disaster to run the train that came to grief, at 50 miles an hour. In one of the descriptions of the wreck it is stated that "the engineer did not slow down as the curve was reached, it being customary to take the 'horseshoe' without doing so." This, in despite of the fact that in the very next paragraph it is written; "The curve is, however, one of the most decided in the country, and as passengers first felt the train swaying in response to the sudden change in the direction in which it was travelling, those in the aisles were with some difficulty, prevented from falling."

The official inquiry will bring out the truth of the matter, but in the meantime the C. P. R. authorities must see to it that railway men running over this dangerous section get the strictest orders in regard to the speed of their trains.

PEN POINTS.

Remember the visit of Mr. Borden on Wednesday next.

A Southern preacher informed his congregation that "Chicago and hell are in a class by themselves" but he neglects to state which is at the head of the class just now.

Remember the big Peterborough Industrial Exhibition on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 26, 27 and 28. All should co-operate to make this the best fair ever held in the history of the Society.

The big demonstration in the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening next—the occasion of Mr. R. L. Borden's visit—promises to be the most successful political gathering ever held by the Conservative party in West Peterborough.

Brantford is one of the progressive manufacturing centres of the Province. The Expositor, in an article on Labor Day, gives figures showing the wonderful increase during the past ten years in the number of working men employed there and in the amount of wages paid. It is estimated, it says, that there are now 4,500 men employed in the local factories, as compared with 2,800 in 1897; in other words, that the number has nearly doubled. The wages paid annually in 1907 were $943,000 while now it has reached the splendid figure of $2,100,000. In other words has considerably more than doubled. The value of the annual output is $11,000,000.

The Hon. Mr. Pugsley will bring to the Laurier Government the kind of strength that Stratton and Graham and McKay brought to the Ross Government in Ontario, when the last desperate effort was made to avert by any means the overthrow the people had resolved to bring about. He is clever. He knows the politicians of New Brunswick and what will influence them; and he will not be squeamish in making use of his knowledge. He will regard the Intercolonial Railway as a factor in the political game, and get out of it all it can yield. He will not be a moral help to the Government and probably he is not expected to be.—Orillia Packet.

The Toronto Home Journal talks straight to the point about milk inspection. It says it is largely a farce and does not guarantee safety from contamination in distribution, not to speak of the source of the supply itself. "If the Toronto Health Department," it adds, "would devote some of the time its officials give to the chasing of bread wagons for short-weight bread, to carefully watching the means adopted to protect the public and especially child life, against germ-laden milk, they would be doing more for the welfare of the community. The day is coming when the Government will give more thorough attention to the sanitary conditions surrounding dairying than at present. Meanwhile the dreaded toll will continue to be exacted until we can arouse the local authorities to their duty."

The Galt Reformer (Liberal), has the following left-handed compliment of "Slippery Bill" Pugsley, the new Minister of Public Works in the Laurier Cabinet;—"Pugsley is an opportunist, a political weathercock. Ever since he has entered the field of politics he has gone with the crowd, and a man who does that never carries any weight. In public life today there are famous men who have changed their political faith. They are none the worse for it. But the change in their case was one of principle. In the case of Mr. Pugsley it is one of opportunity. The new Minister has sufficient ability to develop into a useful ally of Sir Wilfrid, but his public career, studded as it is with sudden changes of thought and action, will not aid him in establishing himself in the heart of Dominion Liberalism. His inclusion in the Cabinet is a mistake"

Y.M.C.A. Athletes Are Getting Ready for Active Fall Work

Harriers' Club Meets Next Wednesday Evening—Prospects for Basketball League Are Being Discussed

With the fall season here, the Y.M.C.A. athletes are beginning to get busy again, and there is every prospect that the gymnasium is going to boom this winter, as it has never boomed before. The fact that there is a physical director on hand is having considerable to do with the activity that prevails. Preliminary arrangements are being made towards getting the boys out again, and with this end in view a meeting of the Harriers Club is called for next Wednesday evening. A short run will be taken and it is asked that everyone turn out. The fall is the proper season for road racing and there is every indication that the Harriers will be out in full force. It is the intention of several local speed merchants to enter in different distance races this fall and they intend getting down to practice at once. Runs will be held regularly and it is likely that "paper chases" will be organized and cross country runs held.

Basketball will also be commenced in a few days and already the prospects for the season are being discussed. Last year the regular Y.M.C.A. league was a great success, but perhaps hardly so much so as the spring league. The teams were chosen in the latter and they were more evenly balanced as a result. The games were more closely contested than in the winter. It is expected that for the fall and winter league this season, the teams will be picked, each one given a name, and the schedule then drawn up. It is felt that this will result in evenly matched teams and more interesting games, than would be the result, if the old system was adhered to.

The different gymnasium classes will be organized shortly and everything arranged for the season's work.

Prospects Are Now Bright For Strong Rugby Team Here

Annual Meeting of Peterborough Club Held Last Night—Plenty of Material to Draw From—Much Enthusiasm Prevails

Considerable enthusiasm prevailed at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club, which was held in the Oriental hotel parlors last night. The attendance was only fair, but then the Peterborough players have never been strong on parlor meetings and the fact that more were not present does not detract from the season's bright prospects. Perhaps not for several years has there been so much good material on hand for a fast team as at present, and the local aggregation should make a good showing no matter in what series they are entered. The election of officers for the current season did not take place last night, but a committee, and its a good committee, too, was appointed to take steps towards getting the players out to practice and making preliminary arrangements generally. Owing to the present unsettled condition of affairs, as regards the senior series of the O. R. F. U., no decision was reached as to what series the local team would enter. There is a movement on foot to inaugurate a senior series, to be composed of the Hamilton Tigers, Toronto Argonauts, Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal team, and if this goes through a new senior series will have to be formed in Ontario, or else have no series and let Peterborough and the Toronto Victorias enter the intermediate ranks. It is felt here that a new senior series to be composed of Peterborough, Toronto Victorias, Dundas, and several other good clubs would be a great success. The local club cannot hope to compete with larger cities, like Toronto and Hamilton and a new senior series like the one outlined above would be received with favor by Peterborough.

At the meeting last night, Mayor McWilliams, a member of last year's executive, was voted to the chair and presided very acceptably. The secretary-treasurer of the club, Mr. T. W. McDonough, presented a report of the financial standing of the club, showing a small deficit. The total receipts last season from all sources were $547.95 and the expenditure slightly larger than the amount. One small bill remains to be paid. Mr. McDonough stated that had the club not be unfortunate in having bad weather for several home matches, there would be a nice balance on the right side. The people of the city had turned out remarkably well, considering the weather on the days the games were played. With good weather this year, he thought the club would have no difficulty in making ends meet.

The report was adopted on motion and then the prospects for the season were discussed. Mr. McDonough stated that all but four or five of last year's team would be available andt here was some fine junior material from which to draw. These had been developed by the City League last year, and Mr. McDonough highly commended the work the league had done and hoped it would be in existence again this year. Mayor McWilliams saw no reason why a good team should not be placed in the field. The club had been able to make ends meet when they had to depend on gratuitous offerings of those who gathered to see the games at Nicholls Oval, and they should be able to do better now.

Mr. McDonough referred to the necessity of having a good coach. Someone was wanted who would take charge of the team, see that the men turned out to practice, and put system into their play. Lack of system had hampered the team last year.

Before adjourning, a committee composed of Messrs. T. W. McDonough, convenor; A. A. Hollingshead, E. S. Clarry, W. Crowley, E. Hurtubise, Jack Sullivan, A. Quinlan, E. Ford and Mayor McWilliams, was appointed to take the preliminary steps towards getting everything in working order for the season. Another meeting will be held next Thursday night when officers will be elected.

The first practice will be held at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon at 3.30. A big attendance of players is requested, as the rugby season is rapidly approaching.

It was decided to wait until a meeting of the O. R. F. U. is held before coming to any decision as to what series in which to enter the team.

Votes of thanks were passed to Mr. Arthur Pee, Mr. Fred Whitcroft and others, for services rendered the club last fall. Mr. McDonough expressed appreciation of what they had done.

A vote of thanks was also passed the management of the Oriental hotel for placing the hotel parlors at the disposal of the club for the meeting.

Port Hope's View Of the Big Game

What the Guide is Dishing Up For Its Readers

The following is from the Port Hope Guide: "Everybody is talking about Saturday's big game and there is sure to be a record crowd in attendance. Peterborough are making strong preparations, and a warm contest is looked for. Manager Johnston has made many changes in his line-up and the importations are all in Peterborough, practising this afternoon. They will be held the remainder of the week and put in earnest practice. They are coming in, determined to win, and the local club will have to travel at a fast pace to pull out a victory. Don't miss it.

"Word was received today that Peterborough would have a Toronto twirler in the box for Saturday's game. Joe Hickey of the Toronto Wellingtons, will play first: Anderson, the big fellow from Campbellford will look after second, and Cheatham and Haliburton will be at short and third. Barns and Murphy of Toronto, and another import will look after the garden, and Harry Burridge will be behind the bat. This is a very strong nine and the game should furnish many exciting features."

CRESCENTS MEET.

The Crescent Rugby Club will meet for organization tonight at the Y.M.C.A. hall at eight o'clock. It is urgent that all of last year's members and any new ones that care to join, turn out. The prospects for the season will be discussed. It is probable that the Crescents may enter City League, if one is formed.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Many Attended Grand Carnival

At Roller Rink Last Evening—Jack Seymour Won Mile Race

The grand masquerade carnival at the roller rink last night was a great success in point of attendance, but not so successful as far as the number of masqueraders was concerned. There were only twelve in costume, but the gallery was well filled with spectators and skaters were present in large numbers. The first part of the evening was given to everyone to enjoy a skate and excellent music was provided by the 57th regimental band.

Those in costume were;

THE RACE

The one-mile race for men was an interesting and exciting event. Mr. Jack Seymour was the winner. There were eleven entries. First six skated and then the remaining five. The winner of the six class skated off with the winner of the five for the prize. Ten laps of the rink had to be made in the race of each section and in the contest between the winners of each section, three laps had to be made. Messrs. Jack Seymour and Will Allan skated for the prize in the final heat and Seymour easily won it.

Handsome Mirrors Placed in Foyer

Of Grand Opera House—Many Other Improvements

Two immense mirrors have been placed in the foyer of the Grand Opera House. They were placed in position yesterday, and add greatly to the attractiveness of the house. They are oval shaped and are in gold frames. The floor has also been painted and now the foyer with all the pretty mural decorations is up-to-date in every particular.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, are leaving nothing undone in edeavoring to improve the local playhouse, and the many changes made since they took over the house, have been the subjects of much favorable comment from the patrons.

Duck Shooting Is Royal Sport

Many Fine Birds Were Bagged at Rice Lake

The duck shooting at Rice Lake is said to be splendid. Many fine birds have already been bagged and the hunters are gathering in great number to enjoy the sport while it lasts.

Messrs. Baptiste O'Dette and Arthur Heron, two well known locl duck hunters, spent Labor Day at the lake, and bagged thirteen brace of ducks in a short time. They were fine specimens of this favorite game bird and were greatly admired by the two sportsman's many friends.

We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. Strong Team for Port Hope Game

Flaherty Will Do the Twirling For the Locals

Manager Johnston of the Peterborough Baseball team today furnished the Review with the line-up of the locals for their game in Port Hope tomorrow. It is as follows,—

Burns, c.f.
Burridge, c.
Hickey, 1b.
Murphy, l.f.
Cheatham, s.s.
Anderson, 2b.
Haliburton, 3b.
Callaghan, r.f.
Flaherty, p.

Flaherty is in fine shape and if the Port Hopers win they will know that they are playing ball. Peterborough is out to win, and they will do their utmost to pull out a victory. Every man on the team worked desperately last Saturday, but fate seemed to be against them. The boys are not at all discouraged by last Saturday's result and they intend showing the public that they are a better team than the Port Hopers.

Peterborough Man Saw Wreckage

Mr. Jas. A. Tully Came on First Through Train Around Horseshoe Curve

Mr James A. Tully, travelling representative of the Oddfellows Relief Association, has returned from a business trip to Wiarton, Chesley, Tara, Owen Sound and other places. He found Oddfellowship flourishing in all these centres.

Mr. Tully passed along the C.P.R. line over the horseshoe curve, Caledon mountain, near Orangeville, on the first through train from Owen Sound, after the terrible wreck of Tuesday morning last. Mr. Tully says that the scene was an awful one and is beyond description. After viewing the mass of twisted iron and wood he is surprised that only seven or eight out of the 400 excursionists were killed. The onlooker cannot conceive how so few met death. It is little short of a miracle that the fatalities did not run away up into the hundreds.

Hoodlum Element in East City

That Peterborough is over-run with an exceedingly large number of bad boys, is evidenced by the fact that almost daily people residing in different parts of the city are complaining of the depredations of gangs of boys. They gather in the vicinity of the homes of these respectable complainants and their conduct is intolerable. A prominent resident of East City informed the Review today that there was a large gang of hoodlums of about seventeen years of age who nightly gather at the canal bridge on Maria street, just east of Concession street, and their conduct is most disgraceful.

The other evening a young lady had occasion to pass the bridge and she was terribly treated by these lads. After having used most insulting language towards her, these thugs began to pitch rotten eggs at her, and for the past couple of days one of her eyes has been in mourning. Needless to say, she will avoid this thoroughfare in the future.

Another act of which these young rascals are guilty, occurred last evening A young lad driving a grocery rig was passing them, when they accosted him and ordered him to get out of the waggon. Of course, being unable to defend himself against such a gang, the driver got out. These ruffians then took the outfit and drove around until they got ready to give it back.

These are only a few of many such actions of these toughs, and residents in that vicinity would like to have police protection down their way. If they were brought to court and a good heavy fine imposed, these rowdies would behave themselves in the future.

Cobourg Boys Enjoy Camp Life

A jolly camping party of four have their tent pitched on the banks of the Little Lake, opposite the cemetery. They are all Cobourg boys, consisting of Messrs. A. Woods, J Kaiser, C. Dohoney and B. C. Bell. They came up from Gore's Landing yesterday afternoon and made their camp just opposite Little Lake cemetery. Mr. Bell's handsome gasoline launch carried the party. Last evening they took in the carnival at the roller rink, and this morning were sightseeing around the city. They returned to Rice Lake this afternoon.

Young Conservative Club Said Good-bye To Their President, Mr. J. H. Burnham

Presented With an Appreciative Address, Accompanied By a Gold Watch—Many Eulogistic References To the Work and Worth of One Who Has Been Most Active and Aggressive in the Liberal-Conservative Interests in West Peterborough — What Peterborough Loses, Toronto Gains—Tributes Paid to the Splendid Citizenship and Upright Career of Worthy Citizen

Presented to
J. H. BURNHAM, ESQ.,
by the
Young Conservative Club,
Peterborough
Sept. 5th, 1907

Such was the inscription on the handsome solid gold watch, which was the gift of the Young Conservative Club to their president, Mr. Burnham, last evening.

The presentation was accompanied by an appreciative address, expressive of Mr. Burnham's qualities as a citizen, his work on behalf of the club, and joining in wishing him every success in his new home in Toronto.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather the rooms were well filled, the occasion being the re-opening of the fall and winter entertainments of the organization, as well as partaking of the nature of a farewell to Mr. Burnham who, after a life long residence in Peterborough is taking up his abode in Toronto.

Of Mr. Burnham's worth and work as a citizen and a Conservative, many speeches were made, and all heartily united in trusting that he would be a frequent visitor to his native city. Mr. Burnham leaves for Toronto today, where he takes up important work with the Union Trust Co. His business interests will call him frequently to Peterborough and he will not in future be a stranger to this thriving centre, where he has hosts of warm friends, but his residence will be in the Queen City.

Mr. J. G. M. Wilson, vice-president of the club, presided last evening and during the first hour an excellent musical and vocal programme was rendered. Mr. F. C. Freeland gave a couple of stirring songs in good voice. Mr. Fred Pratt was heard to advantage in two excellent vocal numbers. Mr. Wm. Croft gave a humorous recitation entitled "A Philadelphia Lawyer's Defence," which was enthusiastically received. Mr. H. McLaren followed in two monologue sketches, which were exceedingly well done. Mr. H. Nicholl favored with several pianoforte selections, which were much enjoyed.

Chairman Wilson then briefly stated the object of the meeting, and called upon Mr. W. H. Moore. That gentleman came forward and read the following address, which was signed by J. G. M. Wilson, president and M. Mowry, secretary, of the Young Conservative Club.

THE ADDRESS.

J. H. Burnham, Esq., barrister, etc.,
President Peterborough Young Men's Conservative Club:

Sir,—The members of the Peterborough Young Men's Conservative Club have learned with unfeigned regret of your intended removal from this city, thus necessarily severing the extremely pleasant relations which have existed between them and you.

This club was brought into being very largely through your suggestion and instrumentality, and the success it has attained is justly attributed in large measure to your strenuous and untiring exertions in its behalf. As you know this association was formed primarily to bring together for pleasant intercourse, healthy recreation and better acquaintance with one another, the young men of our city who were in sympathy with the great principles of Liberal-Conservatism, and so that by their united action to make these principles more effective. The objects held in view have thus been greatly advanced, but it was due almost entirely to you, and that naturally from the tastes for which you are distinguished, that a highly literary flavor was given to many of the meetings during the past winter, when the club's doors were thrown open to citizens generally and addresses on various public subjects alike entertaining and instructive, were given by yourself and others. You have in all things labored unceasingly on behalf of the club and in consequence it has prospered beyond expectations. The members one and all most gratefully acknowledge the splendid work you have done. Nor do they overlook your constant diligence for many years in suport of the great political party to which you and and they are proud to be allied, and the eminent ability with which you publicly advocated the adoption of opinions that they are convinced make for the best interests of our beloved country; nor do they fail to remember the deep interest you have ever taken in various public affairs that concerned the welfare of the city of your birth, in relation to which your absence will be most keenly felt,

But since you are determined to change your habitation, we join in heartily wishing you every success in your new sphere of life, not doubting you will never forget your old home, and the many and active associations with which you have grown up and lived, in no manner selfishly, but with the generous and constant purpose of being a living factor for good among your fellow men.

In conclusion we pray you to permit us to enjoy the lively expectation that you will find convenient to return, not infrequently, to aid in maintaining the good work in which we have been engaged, and to which we consider you should to some extent at least still stand sponsor.

As a slight acknowledgement of our grateful feelings and good will, we beg your acceptance of the accompanying watch, which as it marks the passing hours may serve to remind you of the kindly sentiments of old friends, who will never forget your good works done on behalf of this club.

On behalf of the Peterborough Young Men's Liberal Conservative Club.

Peterborough, Sept. 5th, 1907.

Mr Moore also expressed his personal opinion at the loss of Mr Burnham, who had much to do with the origin and formation of the club and for the good, solid work it had done during the past three years. He had been a foremost man in bringing it together and putting it on a solid foundation. The organization was a live one and would tell for good, and in the coming campaigns would present a solid phalanx as no other body had presented in the last 20 or 30 years. It would be a power in enforcing the opinion of the public, and ousting the Laurier Government which was a bad one, from office, and materially assisting in placing the administration in the hands of Mr. R. L. Borden, the honored leader of the Liberal-Conservative party. (Cheers.) Personally, he trusted that Mr. Burnham would return to Peterborough from time to time and inspire all, individually and collectively with the good work the Young Conservative Club had in hand.

Mr James Kendry, ex-M.P., honorary president of the club, said they were all met to honor a leading citizen. Not only did the club exceedingly regret the departure of Mr. Burnham, but the older association—the West Riding Liberal-Conservative Association—as well. Mr. Kendry said that he had long been associated with Mr. Burnham in political work in this constituency and felt that he was never able to make a speech unless Mr. Burnham was along. The city of Peterborough greatly regretted his departure,—the removal of a leading and talented citizen, who had been responsible for the many entertainments and gatherings of the Club. The Young Conservative Club was a credit to any city and no young man could more profitably spend his evenings than within these walls. On behalf of the club he had great pleasure in handing Mr. Burnham the watch, which they all trusted would serve to remind him of his associations and work in Peterborough.

MR. J. H. BURNHAM

Who was Presented with a Gold Watch and an Address at the Young Conservative Club Rooms Last Night

MR BURNHAM REPLIES

Mr. Burnham, who was given a cordial reception, said that this unexpected kindness had taken away his breath, and as for ideas —why he had none. The language of the address just read was certainly gratifying, but extravagant. So far as he was concerned he had very little to do with the beginning of this club; the credit belonged to others. He had, however, done what he could to further the objects of the organization and establish the spirit of esprit du corps among the members; The work he had done in the interest in the Conservative Party in West Peterborough was hardly worth discussing, but he had learned to love his fellowmen and especially the members of this club, deeply and profoundly. They were not mere time servers, but strong, individual thinking men, such as the nation was made up of and the future of the country was safe, if we had the healthy, independent fibre, of which the club was composed. They were all manly types of men, and a credit to society in general. Such praise as he had received this evening, was excessive. Messrs. Kendry and Moore had been too kind in their references, but he would always treasure the memories of the small part played by him in the politics of West Peterborough.

Continuing Mr. Burnham spoke feelingly of the candor, honesty, energy and devotion of the members to their country. This was the key-note of the party. "God Save Canada and the Empire." They had held many entertainments of a variety of character and had spent many pleasant evenings together, but these were not the ultimate objects of the club, which was to keep alive the sentiments of the Liberal-Conservative party in the Dominion. Messrs. Borden and Whitney had been delighted with the enthusiasm displayed by the members. Mr. Borden had at Ottawa referred publicly to the club, and held it up as an example, and he was certain that their leader, on the occasion of his visit to Peterborough on Wednesday night next, would feel that his high regard for this organization had not been ill-founded and that Mr. Borden would get a splendid reception. (Cheers.) The speaker said that in the last twenty or twenty-five years he had found out how history was made and how opinions were advocated or cast aside. Notwithstanding all the trouble or odium that might arise, he had learned that the good in men perpetuates itself, and that no Government which betrays its trust to the people, which allows scandal to prevail, can long endure, and if they bided their time all would come out right in the end. This was a characteristic of the people comprising the great British Empire. They had the inherent power that makes for a great people. Such a spirit and power had been possessed by ancient Greece and Rome, which empires had been succeeded by the mightier British one, of which we are so proud to form a part. Britain has confidence in her sons and daughters that they can play the part—and that confidence was extended even to the remotest portions. Mr. Burnham said that he extremely regretted going away, and especially delightful had his associations been with the men he saw around him—the members of the club—who were candid, frank and —honorable. One could rely on what they said, and the best that could be hoped for had made itself evident on every occasion. He had found them to be a manly and noble type of men, whom to know was delightful in the extreme. He returned his profound gratitude and thanks to one and all for the many things said, the kindnesses shown him, and the numerous eulogistic references giving him credit for things which he had never done, and the honor of which properly belonged to others. He had played an insignificant part, and it was not praise that he had looked for. He was trying to realize in an humble way the sense of duty that we are all called upon to fulfill. (Applause.)

HIS SPLENDID WORK.

Rev. Canon Davidson thanked the club for the hospitality accorded him. Although being a stranger in the club, and politics being out of his line, he felt that the community was losing a citizen in Mr. Burnham whom it could ill-afford to lose. Mr. Burnham played a splendid part as a public spirited, clean-minded, outspoken resident of this city, and he wished that we had more men of that stamp. Mr. Burnham had taken an active and praiseworthy interest in the Board of Trade, and was also the father and founder of that beneficent and splendid organization, the Childrens' Aid Society. Mr. Burnham's enterprise and public spirit had won a warm place in the hearts of all. What the city needed was more public-minded, outspoken citizens, men who would take a public stand with all the difficulties incidental thereto. It was not a pleasant task, as those who put their heads above the water got the knocks. We had many men devoted to commercialism. What was wanted was independence, loyalty and public spirit on the part of more of our residents. This was the line of action that the city needed, and for his splendid, shining example, all owed a debt of gratitude to Mr. Burnham. He had stood for pure-minded, healthy, moral influence, and would be long remembered for his earnest, persistent work in this direction. He had stood for the higher things in the community—for that which was solid, elevating and inspiring, and the general well being of the city. There were higher objects than mere "bigness," increase in the number of residents, factories, etc., and it was for these moral, pure and commendable objects that Mr. Burnham would long be remembered by the best citizens of Peterborough.

OTHER TRIBUTES.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., said that he felt he could add nothing to the tributes already paid Mr. Burnham, and personally he regretted very much the departure of that gentleman from Peterborough. He concurred fully in all that had been said. Mr. Burnham was a citizen of whom they were all proud, and he trusted that they would have the pleasure of welcoming him back on frequent occasions to his native city. He had done yeoman service in the interest of the Conservative party in this riding, and the club would sustain a great loss in the removal of its energetic and honored president.

Col. J. W. Miller also added a few words of appreciation. Mr. Burnham was a man whose counsel had always been sound, and his character exemplary, and they would all follow his career in Toronto with interest.

Short addresses expressive of Mr. Burnham's worth and work were also made by Mr. R. E. Layfield, former president of the Young Conservative Club, Ald. H. Phelan, Peter Gardner, F. H. Dobbin, G. B. Van Blaricom and others.

Chairman Wilson read a letter of regret from Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, who was unable to be present owing to his absence from the city. The writer expressed his deep sense of personal loss at the removal of Mr. Burnham, to whom he paid a well deserved tribute.

The gathering broke up by the National Anthem, and three rousing cheers for the departing president, Mr. Burnham.

Temperance House Was Set on Fire

Was Discovered by Presbyterians Returning from Church—Fire Put Out

Garden Hill, Sept. 2.—An attempt was made on Sunday night to burn down the old Temperance House, situated opposite the old toll gates. A fire was made upstairs by the aid of coal oil and when discovered by the people going home from the Presbyterian church, the floor was nearly burned through. After some time the fire was put out, but had there been a strong wind, the building would not have stood very long. It is owned by Mrs. Fair, of South Monaghan. As some potato peelings were found near the fire, some think a tramp may have been trying to cook a dinner. Others state they saw a man come out of the house about dusk.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Sept. 6.—After an active, and irregular opening, the market was exceptionally strong throughout the session with many bullish rumors current. Principal of these was the report that the increased dividend on Burlington stock would be followed by an extra cash dividend on Northern Pacific. This issue rose sharply and was strong at the high level of the day. There seems at times to be a good deal of stock coming out from important sources, but it was evident that whenever shorts began to cover, the supply seemed to disappear, and it required bidding up in order to retire short contracts. London's share in the market was practically nil, and there was little business done in that quarter. The prevailing opinion is that lower prices are soon to be recorded in the copper metal market, and it is for this account that Amalgamated Copper dragged. Indeed, there seemed to be plenty of it for sale and we do not believe that this stock will have any important share, in the expected further improvement throughout the general list. The postponement of action on the Metropolitan dividend, was ignored, as was indeed, any further influence of yesterday's failure, especially in view of the bullish points current on the Hill stocks. Northern Pacific sold today 10 points above yesterday's low price. We mention this to show that the rally has been of considerable extent, and cannot be expected to go very much further. At the same time we look for strength in the market to continue into next week.

Two Months in County Gaol

At Hard Labor for Jas. Reynolds on Charge of Robbery—Fowler Discharged

Jas. Reynolds, the seventeen-year-old youth, who on Wednesday afternoon pleaded guilty to stealing about $50 from Wm. Stewart of Cavan, a drunken man, was this morning sentenced to two months in the county gaol at hard labor. His Worship in giving sentence said that it was a very light one for such a serious offence. The offence committed was nothing more than highway robbery

"It was astonishing to him that a boy of Reynold's bringing up, and who never before was in any way connected with any crime, would commit such an act. He hoped that this would be a severe lesson to him and that in future he would be a better young man.

At first His Worship remanded Reynolds for one week, and in the meantime restitution will have to be made to the extent of $17.50, which included the amount the lad spent and the costs of the court. Reynolds' father paid the sum, and His Worship decided to give sentence at once and gave it as stated above.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

The charge against Reynolds for supplying tobacco to a minor, Fred Worboy, was dismissed.

FOWLER DISCHARGED.

Geo. Fowler, who it was alleged, was also implicated in the robbery of Stewart, was acquitted by His Worship Magistrate Dumble, there being no corroborative evidence against him.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for him and pleaded not guilty. Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution. Reynolds was the chief witness. He told a story of how Fowler met him and the old man on the communication road, and got into the buggy with them. Fowler took the bills out of Stewart's pocket and handed Reynolds a ten dollar bill. He afterwards put the remainder of the roll back in the pocket. Fowler left them at Jackson Park, and Reynolds took the money coming down Park street.

This evidence was not corroborated and while it was proven that, he was in company with them, His Worship said that it was not proven that Fowler got any of the money. He gave Fowler some good advice and discharged him.

Fifty dollars was returned to Stewart, who was told not to go and get drunk.

WOOING AN HEIRESS

Man Goes to Jail Because He Insists on Seeing Her

Winnipeg, Sept. 7.—James B. Lawrence of London, Ont., who was allowed out on bail on Tuesday on a charge of alluring Frances Isabel Potter, a Pilot Mound heiress, from her home against the wishes of her parents, was arrested yesterday and placed in jail, as he broke his parole. He was allowed his freedom until the day set for trial on condition that he did not see the girl without her parents' consent. This promise he did not observe, so that is the charge on which he was arrested.

PRISONER KICKED CHIEF OF POLICE

Then Bolted for Liberty From a Cobourg Constable

Some time ago a young man named Reginald Travers, tried to work the bogus cheque game in this district. In Port Hope he afterwards passed a bogus cheque bearing the signature of Stephen O. Taylor, on the Bank of Toronto. For this offence he was committed from Port Hope to Cobourg for trial, and on the first day of May was sentenced to four months in the county jail. His term expired on Thursday and as he was wanted in Cobalt and Ottawa on similar charges, he was taken from the jail to the police court for a preliminary hearing. Chief Ruse was escorting him along, when suddenly Travers gave him the foot, knocking him down, and then bolted for liberty. The chief drew his billy and Travers, thinking it was a revolver, halted. The prisoner was placed in safe keeping and no doubt will get all that is coming to him before he gets beyond the clutches of the law. Chief Ruse had his knee severely injured and his trousers were ruined.

Important Change Occurs; French Are Diven Back

Had to Give Ground on Three Sides at Once.

Gen. Drude's Army of Picked Men Narrowly Escaped Disaster—More Trouble With Tribesmen—Important Change for Morocco—Paris Newspapers Adopt Graver Tone—Spain to Assist France.

Paris, Sept. 7.—A most important change, the Associated Press is informed, has occurred in the political aspect of the Moroccan question, a change which may have a far-reaching effect on the future of Morocco and the relations of the powers thereto. France and Spain have the intention to occupy the littoral ports of Morocco with their own forces and establish police organizations. This contemplated action results from the official announcement of the Moroccan Government, through the War Minister, El Gabbas, that it is unable to guarantee the safety of the European instructors of the international police force, which under the terms of the Algeciras convention was to be composed of Moors. The dilemma of France and Spain, who by the terms of the Algeciras convention are compelled to organize the international police, was submitted to the signatory powers, including the United States, and they all agreed that the situation demanded that France and Spain police Morocco themselves.

Occupation May Be Lengthy.

Although it is distinctly stipulated that such occupation is merely provisional, or until it is safe to recruit the police from among the Moors, there is a strong feeling that the absolute anarchy reigning in Morocco may mean that this occupation of the ports may be long drawn out and perhaps last indefinitely. Moreover, the occupation of the ports may cause serious complications, resulting from the continued hostility of the fanatical Moors, a hostility which may compel an enlargement of the police action and culminate in a virtual military control of the Moroccan empire. This, however, will depend on the attitude of the Moors.

France has planned to occupy Masagan, Mogador, Sail and Rabat, and Spain is to occupy El Araish and Tetuan. France and Spain together will occupy Casablanca and Tangier.

Paris, Sept. 7.—The Petit Parisienne declared yesterday that another complication has arisen in the shape of grave disquiet among the Semisnassen tribesmen near Oudja and the Algerian frontier. Oudja, which is in Morocco, has been occupied by a French force for some months. The military authorities, the paper declares, are most anxious and are preparing to send in troops from Algeria.

The newspapers yesterday adopted an altogether graver tone in discussing the Moroccan situation.

The more comprehensive reports of the engagement of Tuesday show it to have been much more serious than was first stated. The correspondent of The Matin at Casablanca telegraphs as follows: "The engagement of Tuesday gave some idea as to the obstacles that an expedition into the interior have to encounter and the number of men needed. The march made by the French troops Tuesday was the longest one yet, and marks the utmost that Gen. Drude can possibly do with the force at his disposal. The column had all the cavalry and field artillery, yet this strong force, made up of picked men, whose armament can be described as crushing compared to that of the Moors, was heavily engaged throughout the entire encounter. It was compelled to give ground in three places at once, and it was turned by Moors, who got within a quarter of a mile of the camp. It cannot now be said that the wild energy of the natives is due to ignorance of our forces. On the contrary, they return to the fray with greater courage and increased numbers after each engagement."

To Stop Alarming Rumors.

Tangier, Sept. 7.—Responding to a request of the diplomatic corps that he is to take steps to arrest the next exodus of people from Tangier caused by the prevalence of local disorders and the circulation of false, alarming reports, the Moroccan War Minister, El Gabbas, yesterday proposed the institution of a summary tribunals before which malefactors and persons guilty of circulating damaging rumors could be brought. A note sent in for the purposes of the powers and proposed tribunal was sent to the delegates, and all the representatives of the powers, with the exception of the Spanish Minister, signed it. Fearing that the terms of the note might conflict with the wording of the Algeciras convention, the Minister of Spain requested to be allowed to submit the document to the authorities at Madrid before giving his adhesion to it.

Burned In Their Home.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 7.—By the explosion of a lamp in an upstairs room the two young children of Aaron Anderson of Coleman Hollow, Potter County, were burned to death Thursday night. Anderson and his aged father were helplessly ill in a room downstairs.

Mrs. Anderson and her ten-year-old son tried to rescue the children, but they failed. Before they could drag the two men out both were so badly burned that they, too, probably will die. Mrs. Anderson had to care for her two-weeks-old baby.

To Reduce Postage.

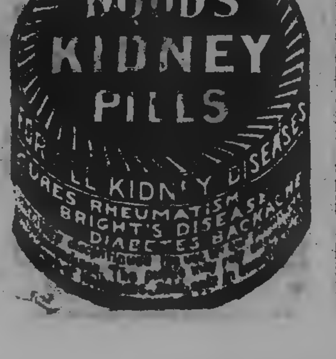
Montreal, Sept. 7.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the Postmaster-General, confirms the report that he intends making an effort at the next session of Parliament to reduce the postage on all drop letters from 2 cents to 1 cent.

One Killed.

Botsford, Conn., Sept. 7.—One man was killed and several passengers are reported injured in a collision at this point between a freight train and a passenger train last night.

Woman Acquitted.

New York, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Laura M. Carter, who has been on trial for a week on the charge of receiving $10,000 of the $96,000 Chester B. Runyan, the defaulting teller of the Windsor Trust Co., stole from the bank, was acquitted yesterday.



HAD TIMED THE TRAIN

And Claims It Was Running Sixty Miles an Hour.

Startling Statement Made by Mr. Andrew Wilson of Flesherton—Was a Passenger on the Ill-Fated Special—Had Nearly Left Tracks Before Reaching Orangeville — Injured Are Now Doing Well.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—Andrew Wilson of Flesherton, one of the injured in the Caledon wreck, declares that the speed of the train was such as to cause him to use his watch. He says the train ran on the following time: Flesherton to Proton, 6 miles, in 6 minutes; Flesherton to Dundalk, 11 miles, in 11 minutes; Flesherton to Shelburne, 23 miles, in 24 minutes; Flesherton to Orangeville, 45 miles, in 43 minutes.

"That train was going at the rate of a mile a minute," said Mr. Wilson. "A friend came and asked me what time the train was making. I told him, and remarked that, allowing for station stops, we would easily reach Toronto in two hours. The train was going at such a rate that it nearly left the tracks a few miles above Orangeville."

Supt. Oborne of the C. P. R. visited the injured in the Western Hospital yesterday.

The Injured at Orangeville.

Orangeville, Sept. 7.—The victims of the wreck who were being looked after here have most of them returned to their homes, with every hope of a complete recovery from injuries. Dr. Henry reports that the condition of Mr. W. J. Robinson of North Bay, who received injuries to the spine and shoulder, is still serious, and little change has occurred. Mrs. Douglas is improving, and her condition is quite satisfactory. No funerals of any of the victims took place in the town or vicinity yesterday.

GETS CIVIL DAMAGES.

Eloper Awarded $45,000 From Irate Father-In-Law.

Uniontown, Pa., Sept. 7.—William Wirsing was awarded $45,000 damages yesterday for injuries said to have been received at the hands of his father-in-law, James R. Smith, a wealthy coal operator.

A year ago Wirsing eloped with Smith's daughter. Upon the return of the young couple, Smith met Wirsing with a Winchester rifle and shot him in the right arm, shattering the bone, and, it is said, rendering it useless for life.

Smith is now serving a five-year sentence for the shooting.

Barn Burned.

Clarksburg, Sept. 7.—The barn and stable of Mr. T. Fulford, together with all the season's crop, a valuable bull and two calves, were totally destroyed by fire Thursday night. Loss about $2,400; insurance in Central Insurance Co. of Walkerton, $1,400; cause of fire unknown.

FOUGHT OVER GIRL.

Former Belleville Man Has the Lady and Broken Nose.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Robert Thompson of Belleville was assaulted last night by Benjamin McGill, an American, because Thompson had obtained the company of Artie Cameron, a young woman of that place now employed in a shoe factory in Rochester.

Thompson and Miss Cameron were in Genesee Valley Park when accosted by McGill. Words passed between the young men, but policemen prevented an outbreak.

An hour later Thompson left the park, and was met in Main street by McGill. The latter struck him in the face and broke his nose in two places.

McGill is under arrest on a charge of assault in the second degree.

WILL HELP RELATIONS.

Paris Paper Hopes to See Steamship Line With Canada.

Paris, Sept. 7.—Discussing the new Canadian-French commercial treaty, The Journal yesterday says it hopes it will develop the relations between the two countries, united by ties of blood and friendship, and demonstrate the practical need of a steamship line between the St. Lawrence and the Seine.

It was learned yesterday that France, in giving the minimum rates on many Canadian products, gets from Canada preferential rates on some French products, and the minimum rates on the rest. Some French wines are favorably treated.

Crazy Auto on Ferry.

New York, Sept. 7.—Becoming unmanageable a big automobile plunged through the forward gates of the ferry boat Maine, as she was entering her slip Thursday night, and dived overboard, carrying with it the driver and a passenger on the ferryboat.

A half dozen persons were knocked down by the wild car. The chauffeur, William Nolan, and the passenger, were fished out of the water, but the auto is still at the bottom of the East River.

Freight Steamer Aground.

Kingston, Sept. 7.—The steamer Edmonton, with 75,000 bushels of wheat from Fort William to Montreal, ran aground in a fog and sank Thursday night at the narrows, near Brockville.

The Donnelly wrecking crew left yesterday to lift the freighter. She is owned by J. C. Matthews, Toronto, and the cargo by J. S. Morris of Montreal.

Carleton Place, Sept. 7.—Angus Cameron, an old resident, was killed in the railway yard yesterday afternoon by a train which was being shunted.

He was engaged in trimming up the track when the cars backed on him.

Another Train Jumps Track; When Will Disasters Cease?

Fast Speeding Express Crashes Into Freight on Siding.

Twelve Passengers Killed and a Dozen Injured in Wreck at Norris, Iowa—Cars Demolished—Was Going at a Terrific Rate—Trucks Were Derailed—Baggage Car Telescoped - Injured May Recover.

Waterloo, Ia., Sept. 7.—Twelve persons were killed and 12 others injured in the wreck of an express train on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad at Norris, Ia., yesterday. The express train, northbound, jumped the track while going at full speed and crashed into a freight train standing on the siding.

The dead: P. B. Aliver, Waterloo; Will Goodman, Waterloo; John M. Watson, Waterloo; C. Landpore, Shellrock, Ia.; W. Ray Johnston, Dikes, Ia.; B. R. Christy, Minneapolis; Lepevan Toj, Hammend, Ind.; W. H. Meyers, baggageman; four unidentified men.

The injured will all probably recover.

All of the dead and injured were in the smoking-car, which was immediately behind the baggage and mail cars. The smoking car was demolished.

The northbound express was ten minutes late at Norris, where the freight train was waiting. The express came along at terrific speed in an effort to make up time. Just as the locomotive of the passenger train was about to pass the freight locomotive, the trucks of the former left the track and the moving engine crashed into the engine on the freight, wrecking both locomotives and telescoping the baggage and the mail cars and demolishing the smoking-car.

The passengers in the two rear coaches following the smoking-car escaped with a violent shaking up.

Rescuers were immediately at hand to care for the injured and take the dead from the wreckage.

The injured were brought to a hospital here.

HINDUS BEATEN BY WHITES.

Driven From U. S. Territory They Make for Canada.

Vancouver, Sept. 6.—Six Hindus, badly beaten and maltreated by a mob, are in the hospital at Bellingham, Washington; 400 are finding sanctuary in the jail and public buildings, and 150 beaten, hungry and half-naked, are on their way to British Columbia. These are the results of a savage outbreak of local sentiment in the United States town Wednesday evening.

WRECK NARROWLY AVERTED.

Locomotive Upset But Passengers Escape With Few Injuries.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 7.—What came near resulting in one of the worst railway accidents ever happening on the Reid Newfoundland Railway occurred Tuesday afternoon at 5.45. Only one man, the fireman on the locomotive, was injured. He will likely die.

The accident occurred while a train composed of baggage, two second-class and three first-class coaches was whirling along at high speed around a sharp curve at a place called Cooksbrook, 15 miles from Bay of Island. On the right-hand side a steep 15-foot embankment runs the length of the curve, while on the other side a slight declivity extends part way.

When the engine reached the end of the turn, the rails parted, throwing the locomotive on the side of the track, overturning the tender, and causing the crowded second-class cars to leave the rails, as well as the forward part of the diner, leaving the first-class coaches safe.

Had not the last second-class car jumped the rails to the left the first-class cars would have been precipitated over the highest part of the steep embankment below which would no doubt have brought death to their occupants.

The engine and mostly all the second-class cars and baggage coach are destroyed, and not a few of the passengers had some slight injury.

Fortunately Dr. D. M. Whittington, a young American lady who has been stationed at one of Dr. Grenfell's hospitals on the Labrador coast, was on board the parlor car, and with the assistance of her trained nurse, rendered valuable help to the injured and to the fireman, who was taken out unconscious from the overturned tender.

ATTACK ON THE HINDUS.

Dominion Government Without Information—The Only Restrictions.

Ottawa, Sept. 7—The Dominion Government has had no information concerning the report that 750 Hindus are on their way from Bellingham, in Washington Territory, for British Columbia, nor as to the raid upon Hindus in Bellingham. The only thing that Canada can do to prevent Hindus arriving in Canada is to apply to them the terms of the immigration act in the same way as to other British subjects. That is to say, if there are any undesirables among the Hindus they will be deported. Any of them suffering from disease or likely to become a public charge on the community will not be allowed to land in Canada. Beyond this, which is applicable to British subjects as well as foreigners, there are no restrictions upon Hindu immigration. The immigration department has no information on the matter.

CHILD'S BOX A BOMB.

Was Sent Through Mail to Stage Carpenter—Explosion Averted.

St. John, N. B., Sept. 7.—An infernal machine made out of a child's pencil-box, with sliding cover, was handed to Joseph Taylor, a stage carpenter at St. John Opera House on Thursday night. Taylor, being suspicious, thrust the parcel into water, thus averting being badly mangled.

The cover slid back, exposed an elastic band attached to lid and a piece of sandpaper. The lid, snapped, would ignite three quick-firing matches, a piece of cotton wool and a large powder charge.

The parcel bore a stamp, but no postmark, and was handed in by two boys. The police are now in charge of the case.

A similar machine was delivered here some years ago and the recipient was badly injured.

MUTINEERS SENTENCED.

Court-Martial Deals With Men Who Killed Commander.

Kief, Russia, Sept. 7.—A court-martial yesterday sentenced the mutineers of the 21st Battalion of Sappers, who, on June 17, killed the commander of the 3rd Company, began firing volleys at random, and were not subdued until surrounded by five battalions of loyal troops.

Two of the prisoners were condemned to death. Seven were sentenced to periods of imprisonment in the mines, and eighteen received lighter punishment.

Landslides, Not Eruptions.

New York, Sept. 7.—Frank A. Perrett, an assistant in the Vesuvian Observatory, whose action in remaining at his post during last year's eruption of the volcano gained him general commendation, and who is now at his home here on a brief vacation, spoke interestingly in an interview regarding the cabled reports of a new eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

He declared that there could be no eruption at this time, but that there had been landslides in the crater, and that the clouds of dust arising therefrom perfectly resembled a new eruption.

Leaves Seal With Another.

London, Sept. 7.—The Lord Chancellor, Lord Loreburn, sailed for Canada on the Empress of Britain yesterday. He will visit Niagara Falls and possibly New York.

This is the first occasion on which the Lord Chancellor has left the United Kingdom; the law forbids that the great seal of which he is the custodian be taken out of the country.

It is supposed to be constantly kept in his personal custody, but Lord Loreburn had arranged for safeguarding the seal during his absence.

Sarnia Man Held.

Superior, Wis., Sept. 7.—Joseph Krantz died at St. Francis Hospital here, as the result of a fall Thursday night into the hold of the steamer Kensington, on which he was a fireman.

Krantz and Oiler J. W. Brown of Sarnia, Ont., engaged in a dispute, and Brown struck Krantz, knocking him into the hold. Brown is under arrest, and will be charged with manslaughter.

Death Instead of Marriage.

Kingston, Sept. 7.—Henry Nicholson, a marblecutter of this city, suicided yesterday afternoon. His body was found in the block-house by some children playing in the neighborhood. The revolver with which he did the deed was lying near.

He was to have been married in Montreal in a few days. On his person was a letter from a friend in Montreal who signed himself George.

Petitions are being circulated in London for Sunday street cars.

ROBBERS HOLD UP TRAIN.

Passengers Compelled to Hand Over Valuables to Masked Thieves.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 7.—The Omaha and Rocky Mountain, Limited, Express on the Rock Island, was raided yesterday morning just before daylight, near Murdock, Neb., by three masked men.

The robbers went through the chair car, robbing every passenger therein, accruing the pocketbooks and purses, covered the train crew with revolvers and escaped by leaping from the train.

Railroad detectives and sheriffs' posses are in pursuit, but the robbers have several hours' start on the officers. Shortly after leaving Murdock, the men arose in their seats, their faces covered with masks, and, with revolvers in each hand, covered the passengers.

Then the leader ordered everybody to keep still and not to resist, else they would be shot. Two men went down the aisle with hats in hand, while the third kept the passengers covered. All passengers were ordered to throw pocketbooks into the hats, and this was done.

The conductor appeared in the car with a pistol in his hand, but was promptly covered with four guns and forced to drop his revolver.

After getting all the money in the car, the robbers jumped from the train, which had slowed down for a grade. An attempt was made to enter the sleeper secton, but the door was locked and the attempt was unsuccessful.

WIFE SLAVE TO DRINK.

Was Chained to the Bed—Husband Justifies His Action.

Montreal, Sept. 7.—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Women and Children is taking up the case of E. H. Quinn, who chained his wife to her bed.

Quinn tells the following story:

"The chain was above her nightdress and so slack that she could undress in it. We were married eight years ago, and for seven years she has been addicted to drink. Two years ago Recorder Weir suspended sentence to give her an opportunity to take a cure. She took treatment for one week, but broke out again. Three months later she was before the recorder again and was sent to the Good Shepherd's Home. She was there one month and had only been out a week when she began drinking again. This spring she was at the home again. Again the period was one month, and this time she kept away from the liquor for four weeks after coming out.

"Since then the drink has been with her a regular disease. Only yesterday she pawned a pair of opera glasses for a dollar."

M'GUIRE FINED $500.

Sentence Against President of Cobalt Miners' Union—Appeal Entered.

Cobalt, Sept. 7.—Yesterday morning, after consideration of the points raised by Mr. Ardath, counsel for the Cobalt Miners' Union, Magistrate Brown decided that he had full jurisdiction in the case, and held that the charges against McGuire, the president of the union, came under the scope of the industrial disputes investigation act. Under these circumstances a fine of $500 or six months' imprisonment was imposed.

Mr. Ardath at once gave notice of appeal to a higher court, McGuire being given till the afternoon to perfect his appeal bonds.

On a charge of inciting men to do on strike at Haileybury on July 22 evidence was taken against McGuire, but judgment will be reserved until it is ascertained what verdict is given in the Court of Appeal.

The cases against Roadhouse and Hewitt were gone into yesterday afternoon, but all judgments were reserved.

Took Carbolic Acid.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 7.—Charles Boyce of Elmvale, Ont., 26 years old, committed suicide at the Windsor Hotel here yesterday afternoon by taking carbolic acid. He had been in town but a few days. Until a few days ago he was cook on one of the boats running into [illegible].

After drinking some water he proceeded to a small room adjoining the bar and sat down alone, closing the door. Some moments after the barroom and detected the fumes of car- tender heard a commotion in the bolic acid. Boyce was found seated in a chair all but unconscious. His hands and face were burned with the acid, and he was unable to speak.

An empty bottle on the floor, procured from a drug store in Owen Sound, and labelled carbolic acid, told the tale. He died in a few minutes.

Must Burn Hospital.

San Francisco, Sept. 7.—The Board of Health yesterday recommended to the board of supervisors that the city and county hospital, which has sheltered a number of plague cases, be burned.

The city and county hospital is a collection of frame buildings, and it has long been planned to demolish it.

Russian Elections Soon.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—It was announced yesterday that the preliminary parliamentary elections in Moscow and Tver Provinces will take place Sept. 15, and in the other provinces soon afterwards.

The Constitutional Democrats have issued a manifesto setting forth that party's claims for popular support.

For Selling on Sunday.

Montreal, Sept. 7.—Royland S. Devlin, proprietor of the Bath Hotel, which up to a few months ago was a temperance hotel, was charged yesterday morning with having sold liquor on Sunday, Aug. 23, and was fined $30 and costs or three months' imprisonment.

Antwerp Strike Broken.

Antwerp, Sept. 7.—Work was resumed here yesterday on all the steamers, where 4,000 strike-breakers are employed. No further disorders occurred.

Plans have been made for a six-storey building to be erected on the wrecked Crystal Hall, London.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING.

Indiana Physician Dead and His Wife Wounded.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 7.—Dr. Edward Glasgo, a physician, is dead from three bullet holes through his head, and his wife is slightly wounded in the left breast as a result of a mysterious shooting Thursday night.

Glasgo and his wife had separated, Glasgo applying for a divorce. Mrs. Glasgo, accompanied by Attorney Charles Whitlock of Terre Haute, drove to a brick plant, where Glasgo was to try to arrange a settlement of alimony. Whitlock got out of the buggy and Glasgo got in and started to drive back to the city when the shooting occurred.

The woman was placed under arrest, charged with the murder of her husband. Attorney Whitlock also is being held by the police. Mrs. Glasgo says her husband tried to shoot her and then shot himself. Glasgo's wounds are such that physicians say he could not have inflicted them himself.

Arctic Steamer Lost.

London, Sept. 7.—It is reported from Mount Athabasca Landing, in the Canadian Northwest, that the steamer Duchess of Bedford, on which the Mikkelsen Arctic expedition was working its way into the polar regions, has been lost.

All the reports agree on this, but there is uncertainty as to whether Capt. Mikkelsen was with the ship when she went down.

The news was brought to Athabasca Landing by a steamer in the service of the Hudson Bay Co.

Britishers to Blame.

London, Sept. 7.—(C. A. P.)—The Morning Post sees as a result of the Franco-Canadian treaty a gradual deflection of the Canadian commercial policy from the lines established by the institution of the Imperial preference a decade ago, and states that Germany would be only too anixous to secure the benefits of the intermediate tariff. It adds, the people of Britain are only themselves to blame.

Big Barn Burned.

Woodstock, Sept. 7.—Lightning on Thursday struck the barn on the farm of Joel Erb, who lives near Tavistock. The last load of the crops was still on the wagon when the fire occurred. The loss will be $3,000; partly covered by insurance. It is only five years since Mr. Erb sustained a similar loss.

Harry B. Archer, President of the Trades and Labor Council of London, fell forty feet from the traction bridge at the foot of Richmond street, fracturing a leg.

STOCKS QUIET IN NEW YORK

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Sept. 7.—Stocks were quiet and about a point lower in to-day's short session. There was no activity to speak of and the recession seemed to be a natural reaction due to profit-taking at the week-end by people who had bought lower earlier in the week.

There was no news of importance bearing on values and the market showed a good absorbing tone. The bank statement was not quite up to expectations, being rather colorless and the changes nominal. Ills. Central advanced 3 and Republic Steel was strong. The closing was quiet and at about the low for the day. We are told to buy Northern Pacific and Union Pacific.

SPEEDY LAUNCH FOR THE OTONABEE

Mr. W. Talbot Will Likely Buy Boat With a Speed of 23 Miles.

The boating season in and around Peterborough this summer was a very successful one. The unfavorable weather, however, was a detriment to the lovers of the skiff and canoe, but the power launches were more numerous and more popular than ever. Several new craft were added to the fleet, and, if all the yachts belonging to the city could be seen at one time, they would make a formidable array. Among the most enthusiastic yachtsmen is Mr. W. E. Talbot. He has only been running his boat for two seasons, but he and his friends have taken a great deal of pleasure out of it. Mr. Talbot also likes speed, and nothing pleases him more than to open the engine full and "let her out." The best he can do, however, is only nine or ten miles an hour and that is not nearly fast enough.

Next year this energetic boatman will put a craft on the Otonabee River, which will run rings around the fastest. He will make the other boats look like miniature toys. He is now negotiating with Mr. J. R. Golden & Co., of Galt, for one of their fast models. If the deal goes through, Mr. Talbot will have a boat that will make 23 miles an hour. Such speed was never heard of on the Otonabee or the Kawartha Lakes and no doubt great interest will be taken in it. The speedy launch will be made by the Bay City Boat Manufacturing Co., who have held the world's speed record for the past three or four years. Mr. Golden, the Canadian sales agent, is in the city now, and Mr. Talbot is very seriously considering the proposition, and will in all probability, make a deal.

FAIR CROP OF OATS UP NORTH

New oats have been received at the mill, a good sample bringing 40c a bushel, a higher price than was paid last year. The crop locally is reported to be a fair one. The first barley was received on Thursday and 50c a bushel was paid. Barley and peas are reported better than last year. The mill is doing an active business, and is increasing its output largely. The King Edward brand is being well received throughout the district, as a reliable, strong baking flour. Owing to increased price of wheat, all brands of flour have been advanced 10c. per bag.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

Thomas Clark, farmer, of Brantford township, was crushed to death by a traction engine on which he was standing, and which fell through a bridge.

TOBACCONIST WAS FINED HEAVILY

For Selling Tobacco to a Minor —M. Pappas Faced the Magistrate To-day

M. Pappas, proprietor of a George street tobacco store, was to-day fined twenty-five dollars to be paid in ten days or twenty days in gaol, by His Worship Magistrate Dumble, for selling tobacco to a minor. Jas. Reynolds, who is under 18 years of age, made the purchase on Tuesday, September 3rd. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for Pappas.

Jas. Reynolds was sworn. He stated that he bought a package of Old Chum for Fred Worboy on Tuesday night.

Mrs. Reynolds was called and stated that her son was only seventeen years of age.

Fred Worboy stated that he gave Reynolds the money to buy him tobacco, but he couldn't say where he got it.

For the defence, several of the Greek employees of Pappas' were called, but Reynold's identified none of them as the one who sold the tobacco. Mr. Pappas said that he had been out of the city for several days and was not able to investigate the matter.

His Worship then gave the above judgment.

The counsel for Pappas expressed his intention to appeal the Magistrate's judgment.

BIG POTATOES FROM OTONABEE

Mr. Wm. Leahy Backs His Native Township Agaist British Columbia

A couple of nights ago the Review published an interview with Mr. Benj. Shortly and reference was made to the large potatoes grown in British Columbia. Mr. Wm. Leahy, a farmer of Otonabee, who is an enthusiastic advocate and admirer of Ontario, and Peterborough county particularly, does not like the general public to go away with the impression that good large potatoes can only be grown in British Columbia. When he read Mr. Shortley's interview he made up his mind that the people should know what Otonabee can do. He went into his field and dug up a couple of hills of potatoes and brought a dozen samples into the Review sanctum. They were beauties. Each potato was large enough for a whole family, as the editor took some home and knows whereof he speaks. The largest one measured 16 inches in circumference and weighed over a pound, while the smallest one was very nearly as large. They were solid right through and when cooked turned out as white and fluffy as flour. The Review thanks Mr. Leahy, not only for the potatoes, but for backing Otonabee against the fertile soil of British Columbia.

Mr. Leahy has about half an acre of these large potatoes, from which he expects to get fully two hundred bushels. One of the "Murphies," when weighed today, tipped the beam at 1 pound 7 ounces, and another weighed 1 pound 4 ounces, and these are only fair samples of the average size.

Deputation Obtained Much Data Concerning Libraries

Report Presented at Meeting of Property Committee Last Night—Other Matters Dealt With—The Powder Magazine

Among the important matters that came up at the meeting of the Property Committee, was the report of the deputation who visited the public libraries in several other cities. The deputation consisted of Architect Wm. Blackwell, Ald. McIntyre and Morgan, and Mr. Pringle of the Board of Education. They visited Toronto, Guelph, Berlin, Galt, Paris, Brantford, Hamilton and St. Catharines. Ald. McIntyre's report was very comprehensive. It gave the dimensions and chief features of the different libraries visited.

The Property Committee also secured the educational department report for 1906, which gives a plan of several of these libraries, and they hope the information obtained will be of service to the committee and the council.

Their observations of these libraries and the information obtained lead to the conclusion that a building for library purposes is better with the main or ground floor elevated at least six feet above the ground level, and so situated that light may be obtained from all sides. Some of the buildings, in addition to having light from all sides obtain light from the roof as well.

All the libraries with the exception of the one at Toronto, are Carnegie institutions, and cost in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by the Mayor that the deputation be complimented on their excellent report.

Considerable discussion on the Public Library question followed, but no definite steps were taken.

REQUEST GRANTED.

Mr. R. Sheehy's request to have that portion of city property, which is 54 by 66 feet on the north side of the C.P.R. and to the rear of Kinnear's wholesale grocery building, for the purpose of piling stone upon motion of Ald. Elliott, seconded by the Mayor, was granted, Mr. Sheehy having to pay a rental of $25 per annum. It is to be leased yearly and only provided that it does not interfere in any way with pedestrians.

Big Conservative Mass Meeting Will Be Held on Wednesday Next

Mr. R. L. Borden's Visit to Peterborough Will Be the Occasion of Great Demonstration—Grand Opera House Will Be Crowded To the Doors To Hear the Gifted and Popular Leader of the Great Conservative Party

Mr. R. L. Borden, the popular, talented and aggressive leader of the Liberal-Conservative party, will begin his triumphal tour through Ontario to-day.

Mr. Borden will visit many centres of the province, and one of the largest gatherings which he will address will be the one in the Grand Opera House, Peterborough on Wednesday evening, Sept. 11th.

The demonstration, in which it is expected, hundreds of citizens will take part is only a few days off, but the preparations are complete and it is expected that the opera will be filled to the doors.

Mr. James Kendry, president of the West Riding Liberal Conservative Association of West Peterborough, will preside. Ladies are especially invited to attend the gathering. Seats will be reserved for them and their escorts.

Among the leading members of the Conservative party who will speak here in company with Mr. Borden, are Messrs. A. Claude Macdonell, M. P., of Toronto; W. B. Northrup, M. P., of Belleville; A. Brodeur, M. P., Morrisburg; T. Chase Casgrain, ex-M.P., Montreal; and Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the popular local representative of the Ontario Legislature.

The Conservative leader has outlined a progressive policy of many and great reforms, a policy of good government; by the people and for the people; and it is not to be disputed that the platform which Mr. Borden has laid down, is well worthy of a hearty, earnest and practical welcome, by the free and independent electors of this Dominion.

It is expected that the people of the East and West Ridings of Peterborough, as well as from the adjoining counties will turn out en masse on Wednesday of next week, Sept. 11th, to hear the able, progressive and broad platform and policy of the great Liberal-Conservative party of Canada, outlined by the distinguished leader, Mr. Borden, and his able associates.

Packing House Inspection Has Been Established in This City

Dr. Ransome, a Specialist on Meat Inspection, Starts His New Duties at Geo. Matthews Co.—Inspection Will be Benefit to Canadian Produce.

The Government inspection of meats has been put in force in Peterborough, as well as in all other centres where there are packing houses. Dr. Ransome has been appointed inspector of the Geo. Matthews Co. here, and he started on his new duties this week. He inspects the hogs as they are received at the factory, also as they are killed, and every process the carcass goes through until it is loaded onto the cars. He is responsible for the purity of the meat and his chief duty is to see that the premises, workmen, machinery and the meat itself, are perfectly clean. The job is a heavy one, and especially in an establishment the size of the Matthews Co. But his work has been greatly simplified by the modern equipment and commodious quarters, as well as the many sanitary fixtures that have been installed.

Dr. Ransome is a specialist and recently took a special course along with a large number of others, to fit him for the position. The result of this inspection is of great value, or should be, to Canadian farmers, and packers, whose goods are sent to the British market. Local abattoir men are prepared to welcome the new regulations, and the expectation is that it will lead to a steady raising of the conditions under which meats are packed, until something like the aseptic conditions in which a surgeon's work is performed, are established.

HUM OF BINDERS HEARD IN WEST

Manitoba Harvesting Now General—Some Wheat Marketed

Winnipeg, Sept. 6.—Cutting is now well under way throughout Manitoba and it is estimated that at Deloraine and other points at the end of that line eighty per cent. is now in the stook. At Rosenfeld, Man., over 500 bushels of new grain have been marketed, and thrashing will be general the first part of next week. In the Edmonton district along the C. N. R., cutting is under way from Humboldt to Battleford, and some grain is expected to run forty bushels. The bulk in that district will be from twenty-five to thirty bushels to the acre. All reports received indicate ideal harvest weather, and no serious damage is reported by frost. In many districts the yield will run higher than was first anticipated.

NEW SETTLERS SUCCESSFUL.

Throughout Saskatchewan reports state that cutting will be general in a few days, and in a large number of points in Manitoba, 65 to 80 per cent. is in the stook. Latest reports from Battleford district state a heavy rainstorm has delayed wheat-cutting, but the barley is all cut and oats well under way, and the sale of binders double that of last year. In the country south of the the Saskatchewan, a large number of new settlers have an immense area of new breaking under wheat, and some splendid crops will be harvest-

LOST BOY HAS BEEN LOCATED

Freddy Buck, of Norwood, Who Left His Home Found in Douro

Freddy Buck, the 13-year-old lad, who left his home in Norwood a few days ago, has been located. He is at present stopping with a farmer, Mr. Joe McGarrity, who resides in Douro, near St. Joseph's church. His parents and aunt, who have been in a state of great anxiety since he left home, will no doubt be greatly relieved to know that he has been found. It will be remembered that the boy got on a train at Norwood station and it started to go before he could get off. He came to Peterborough where, it is said, he worked for a while. His aunt, who resides in this city, told the police of the lost boy yesterday, and they certainly were not long in finding him. The youngster evidently must not have cared whether he went back home or not, for he hired with Mr. McGarrity to work on his farm.

His friends are very grateful to the police who located him.

MUST ENLARGE.

In an interview, Hayter Reed, manager of C.P.R. hotels, stated that the increase in travel across Canada is necessitating the enlargement of the Canadian Pacific hotels. It is intended to double the capacity of the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec, where there are at present 255 rooms. The tourist travel has grown remarkably. All the western hotels are being improved too; but one obstacle the company has to contend with, in this direction, is the exhorbitant cost of labor in the mountains.

PRICE OF MILK.

It might be mentioned, just casually, you know, that the following paragraph from the Montreal Gazette may perhaps interest some people in this city and vicinity; "It has been decided that the price of milk to Montreal dealers during the coming winter will be four cents a gallon higher than it was last year. It may be necessary yet to send the milk producers' associations some copies of the Criminal Code, with the sections relating to combinations to unduly enhance prices specially marked."

BUTTER SCARCE; TO-DAY'S MARKET

Large Quantities of Blue and Green Plums Offered

Today's market was the largest that has been seen for some weeks. Both buyers and sellers were present in great numbers. The chief features of today's market were the exceedingly large quantity of plums and the scarcity of butter. There was a grat abundance of blue and green plums. The latter sold at 10c. per quart or three quarts for 25c.

There was not a pound of butter to be procured on the market today at eleven o'clock. What was offered was all gone before that hour, and many who came to market late, went home without their usual supply of butter. It was disposed of at 25c and 27c. per pound. Eggs sold at 17c and 18c per dozen. Fowl, chiefly chickens were very plentiful. Chickens ranged in price from 50c to 75c per pair. Ducks brought 70c to 90c, and there was one turkey, which sold at $1.50.

On the outside market there was the usual supply of vegetables. Potatoes sold at $1.25 per bag.

HEAVY SHIPMENT SENT TO BRAESIDE

The local branch of the Dominion Express Co. had one of the largest shipments of the year today, and a special express car had to be brought from Toronto to carry it. It was a heavy piece of machinery, weighing 20,000 pounds, made by the Wm. Hamilton Co., and consigned to the Gillies Bros. mills at Braeside. It took several men to get it into the car.

HELD A RECEPTION

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. F. Hewitson held her post-nuptial reception in her cosy new home on Victoria street. At the entrance to the drawing rooms, which were filled with an abundance of fregrant blossoms, Mrs. Hewitson received with her mother, Mrs. Rapsey. Mrs. Hewitson had donned for the occasion her wedding gown of ivory brocaded taffeta and lace. Mrs. Rapsey, was attired in black peau de soie, relieved with embroidered chiffon over white satin. Miss Rapsey, who also assisted in receiving the many visitors of the afternoon, wore a dainty gown of point d'esprit, with trimmings of val and tiny satin bows over taffeta. After offering felicitations to the winsome hostess, the guests were ushered to the tea room. Here Mrs. A. G. Smith, in a becoming gown of pearl silk and chiffon and Mrs. George Rapsey, wearing a handsome costume of white lace over satin, presided at the tea table, which was centred with a huge bowl of pink and green gladioli, on puffings of tulle. Mrs. Sherry, Miss Lottie Younghusband, Portage la Prairie; Miss Daniels, and Miss Read assisted here.—Winnipeg Free Press.—

Mrs. Hewitson is a sister of Mrs. Wm. Pringle, whom she has visited on several occasions.

The skin rids the system of more urea than the kidneys?

Nearly one fifth of the waste products of the body is eliminated by the skin. Suppose there is some unsuspected, unseen skin trouble—the pores are closed—the skin is unable to rid the system of its share of the waste.

Then the blood carries this waste product to the kidneys—immediately they are overworked—they strain to throw off the extra load. What the kidneys can't possibly eliminate, the blood takes up again and deposits on the nerves.

Then come the dull aches in back, hips and head—the nerves unstrung and irritated—the urine charged with impurities and highly colored—and you fear you have "Kidney Trouble."

Nonsense. Your kidneys are overworked—not diseased.

What you need is "FRUIT-A-TIVES" to act on the skin.

Fruit-a-tives

(or Fruit Liver Tablets)

open the clogged pores—start up healthy skin action—and let the skin perform its natural function. This instantly relieves the kidneys of overwork—the back-aches stop and the complexion is beautified. There is no excessive waste matter in the blood to bring dull headaches—the urine is cleared—the bowels are opened and regulated—and the kidneys strengthened.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" act directly on the three great eliminating organs—Skin, Kidneys and Bowels—make them well and keep them well. That is why "FRUIT-A-TIVES" cure so many cases of apparent kidney disease that are really skin troubles.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" are fruit juices—in which the natural medicinal action of fruit is many times increased by the secret process of making them. Valuable tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into tablets—the finest formula known to medicine. Buy them—try them—and cure yourself at home. 50c. a box—6 boxes for $2.50. At all druggists or sent on receipt of price. 106

Results of Latest Milk Tests Given To the Public

Very Few Samples Tested Were Below the 3.5 per cent. Standard—Report Presented To Property Committee

The Property Committee of the City Council met last evening and transacted considerable business. Those present were Ald. McIntyre, chairman; Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Stevenson, Morgan and Elliott, Sanitary Inspector Ball, W. J. Green and City Engineer Hay.

MILK TESTS.

The first business taken up was the receiving of Mr. P. Downham's report on the milk tests. Inspector Ball collected the samples for inspection last Tuesday morning from milk being delivered to the public, and Mr. P. Downham made the test. Twenty-three samples were tested and all were very satisfactory. 3.5 per cent. butter fat is a fair test, and 4 per cent. is exceptionally good. The testing of all gave a very satisfactory result. Many exceeded the 3.5 mark and a large number also went above 4 per cent., which is an excellent showing.

Upon motion of the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Elliott, the report of the test of the twenty-three samples, collected by Inspector Ball, and tested by Mr. P. Downham, is published as follows, the figures opposite the names of the milkmen being the percentage of butter fat in each sample,—

POWDER MAGAZINE QUESTION.

Mr. David Doidge's complaint about the powder magazine at the city council meeting on Tuesday night was taken up, and after some discussion on the matter, it was moved by the Mayor and seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that the City Clerk be authorized to write the parties holding keys, informing them to be more careful in locking the doors. According to Mr. Doidge those having keys, frequently forget to lock the place and thus makes it very dangerous.

JANITOR FOR CITY HALL.

After considerable discussion by the committee concerning the appointment of a janitor for the city buildings, it was moved by the Mayor, and seconded by Ald. Stevenson that the committee advertise for a caretaker and messenger for the town buildings, and receive applications for the position up till next Thursday, the salary to be $450 per year. This appointment has been made necessary by the resignation of the lady who has heretofore, looked after the buildings, and by combining the offices of caretaker and messenger, the committee, while not spending any more money, is offering a good salary.

CITY ENGINEER HAY.

City Engineer Hay was present and the plans for the repairs to the city buildings were again discussed by the committee, but it was decided to leave them as they are with the exception of cutting a door from the City Treasurer's office into the assessor's office. This will give access from one office to the other.

OUR FRUIT SUPPLY

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—One of the devices of fruit men to keep up the abnormal cost of fruit, is to get interviewed by a newspaper reporter, or else write direct to the press, when they take the opportunity of dilating upon the failure of the fruit crop, first one kind of fruit and then another. The latest that has come to my notice is a letter from a dealer lamenting the failure of the peach crop in the Niagara district. Being well acquainted with that district and having visited it this summer, the reports for a good crop were general. Anyone visiting our market this morning must have been struck with the abundant supply of the fruits of the season.

Yours, etc.,

Improvements At "The Beehive"

Alterations to the Mantle Department Make it Very Attractive

Many improvements have been made during the past week, to the mantle department of "The Beehive." Painters, paper hangers, and carpet layers have all been busy. The floors have been attractively covered, the walls done in cream, while the ceiling is resplendent in a gold scroll and cream. The border is in harmony with the other decorations being of gold and green. The interior effect is very pretty and "The Beehive" certainly presents an attractive and artistic appearance. The many visitors to the mantle department of this busy establishment will be pleased with the effective and inviting character of the decorations.

About 75 members of the Provincial Committees of Ontario and Quebec of the Young Men's Christian Association, were present at a meeting thereof yesterday, says the Toronto Mail and Empire. A session was held in the afternoon and the members were the guests of Mr. John Penman of Paris at a dinner in the Queen's hotel last night. Addresses, dwelling on the bright outlook for the association, especially in the inauguration of country work, were delivered by Messrs. E. M. Thompson and Mr. Archibald Cummins. The work of the militia camps was extolled. Six of these were held in the past summer, at which the attendance was large.

Reports were presented on the Summer Institute as a training school for association workers. Several new railway associations are being opened at divisional points, along the Canadian Pacific Railway and many centres are demanding new general associations.

AMUSEMENTS

KERRY GOW

"Kerry Gow" is old, but ever new. The sweet story of Irish love never becomes stale, especially to those who claim kinship with the green little isle of the ocean. The presentation of this old favorite at the Grand Opera House last night was the third time that it has been seen in Peterborough within a year but despite this, the spacious play house was nearly filled, and the play was enjoyed by everyone has if it was the first time it had been seen. One man was there who stated that he had seen the play four times "and I'd go to see it again tomorrow night, if it was here," he added.

The company which appeared last night was headed by Mr. Bernard Daly, an accomplished actor, with a sweet tenor voice that was heard to advantage last night in many old Irish songs. His singing of these was received with great applause. He was supported by a splendid cast, including several of those who appeared here with Allen Doone several months ago. Every part was splendidly portrayed and the scenic effects were excellent. The smithy scene was exceedingly realistic. The climax was thrilling in intensity of interest as the doves brought the messages from the race track. The birds possess marvellous intelligence and made a great hit with the audience.

AT GEORGE STREET

At the evening service in George Street Methodist Church tomorrow the pastor, Rev. E. A. Pearson, will be assisted by Mr. J. S. Potter, the sailor's missionary, who is well known in Peterborough. He will speak on the progress of the work in which he is engaged.

Visited Scene of Bridge Disaster

Mr. W. H. Robertson Returns From Holiday Trip to Quebec City

Mr. W. H. Robertson has returned from a holiday trip to Quebec. He visited the ancient capital and also the scene of the recent bridge disaster. He brought back with him samples of the twisted and dismantled steel structure, the fall of which carried nearly one hundred workmen down to death. Mr. Robertson says that the newspaper reports as given so far of this disaster, are not of the "yellow journal" style, but actually underestimate the destruction done.

Mr. Robertson has several bolts, nuts and other pieces, brought from the disrupted bridge. He said that his experience and researches in Quebec proved that the people at large are sad and greatly depressed by the recent accident.

New Telephone Company Formed

At a well attended meeting held at Burnt River on Saturday last, a telephone company, to be known as the Victoria Telephone Company, Limited, was formed, and, as soon as possible, the new company will commence the construction of a line from Burnt River, to Fenelon Falls by way of Bury's Green. A committee, with members at Burnt River, Bury's Green and Fenelon Falls, was appointed to solicit subscriptions, secure estimates of construction, draft constitution, and be ready to furnish all necessary details at the next meeting, which will be called by the committee at an early date.

Bartender or Hotel Keeper?

Who Should Be Punished for Violation of Liquor Law?

St. Catharines, Sept. 6.—Police Magistrate Comfort today heard evidence in the charge laid by Ed. McNulty, bartender of the Lincoln House, Port Dalhousie, against John Harrigan, proprietor of the Austin House at the same place, and on the evidence of McNulty, and one Joseph Robertson, made a summary conviction.

Defendant's counsel, G. F. Peterson claimed Harrigan was out of town when the offence occured, and asked that the bartender be found guilty instead of the proprietor, claiming that such should be done, in accordance with the Liquor Act.

The case was enlarged till Sept. 16 when Mr. Peterson promised to cite precedents in support of his argument. On that day Harrigan will be chargeo with having broken the law on Aug. 15.

BATHING BEACH AT BOBCAYGEON

Is Now Being Fixed up for Benefit of Tourists

Mr. Moore, president of the Board of Trade, is having the shore near his boat house cleaned of stones, and preparing it as a bathing beach for the tourists, says the Bobcaygeon Independent. The present low water gives a favorable opportunity for doing this work. Mr. Nelson, superintendent of the C.P.R. being in town on Wednesday, was interviewed by Mr. Moore, the railway owning the shore, and the gentleman entertained the idea most favorably, making suggestions for more improvements than were contemplated. Some of the holders of boat houses will likely be requested to move their houses so as to make room. The want of a bathing beach convenient to the village, has been an annual complaint.

MR. BORDEN'S VISIT

Mr R. L. Borden's addresses on public issues have so far been well received. He has, in the Maritime provinces, and in Quebec, met with most encouraging receptions. In fact, the welcome accorded him since the inauguration last month of his great transcontinental tour, has been of the most flattering character. The talented and honored leader of the Conservative party opens his series of meetings in Ontario today, and for the next two weeks will speak at various points in this province. He will visit Peterborough on Wednesday night next September 11th, and address a big gathering in the Grand Opera House. Mr. Borden is no stranger to Peterborough. In the fall of 1904 he paid a visit to this city and delivered a rousing speech in the Brock street rink, in support of the candidature of Mr. James Kendry. Mr Borden is of pleasing address, thoughtful, earnest and forceful. His remarks make a deep impression on all thinking serious-minded men. He resorts to no oratorical pyrotechnics, catch penny phrases, or charlatan methods to win applause or favor. His pronouncement on all leading issues is straight from the shoulder. He indulges in no equivocal terms; his discussion of any subject is marked by dignity, manliness and fairness. His visit to Peterborough on Wednesday next is evoking widespread interest.

Speaking of the address delivered by him in Canada's chief city a few days ago, the Montreal Gazette says;

"The meeting last night to hear Mr. Borden and his colleagues discuss the political situation, was good proof of the interest that the Conservative cause has for the people of the first city in Canada. The large hall was filled. The speakers were listened to with attention and sympathy There was approval of the declarations made, and especially of those which promised that under a Conservative administration there would be a cessation of the grafting that for years has been rotting some of the departments at Ottawa, and that laws would be passed which would work to better preserve the sanctity of the ballot and to ensure clean elections. Indeed, it would seem that here as elsewhere, events have created the impression that the present government is incapable or unwilling to choke the workers of political and administrative wrong and give the country a public service that it will not be ashamed of. What was said, not only by Mr. Borden, but by the other speakers, will have the effect of making men think, and thinking on the present situation, will make opposition voters."

THE HOLIDAY HABIT

In yielding to the request of 5,000 women operatives and shutting down the works for ten days in order that all employees might gratify the promptings of the vacation spirit, a great thread company in New Jersey has deferred to the growth of the vacation habit. It appears that the wage question did not enter into the transaction; the operatives were willing to take the vacation at their own expense, and asked only that the time might be granted to them. As the number bent on rest and recreation was sufficiently large to cripple the industry, it was decided that the easiest way out of the difficulty was to shut the works down altogether for the short space of time mentioned.

Not so many years ago the period of relief from regular toil was known only to school children and farmers. The dullness of the winter months enabled the farmer to stop for breath and look around him, and to take the opportunity afforded for such recreation as was absolutely denied in the busy season. "Vacations as they are now known" were sporadic and infrequent luxuries, indulged in only by those worn out by hard work or at the point of illness.

Employers recognised merely the fact that industries must be maintained as long as they are profitable and it was the general belief that a vacation was an ignoble prompting of an indolent spirit, and that only evil results could follow a period of idleness. But gradually employees came to the opinion that there is something else in life than the perpetual grind of toil, and that the ten days or so of absence from the treadmill are vastly beneficial for the recuperation of energy and ambition.

This belief has steadily grown, and notwithstanding the occasional outbursts of men who live only for work against the profligacy and folly of the waste of time, the toiler has come to insist that some short period of the year may be his for complete rest and diversion. Employers themselves have generally fallen into the spirit of this movement, and have acknowledged that a workman is not the less useful because he slips away once a year to build up his physical system and obtain relief from the pressure of his business.

It is not likely that the thread industry will suffer from the ten days' vacation of the 5,000 operatives, or that it will be necessary to raise the price of thread in order to recover from the effects of the temporary shutting down. It is more reasonable to believe that better and faster work will be accomplished by the workers rested and refreshed by their breathing spell, and that the advantage will be gained by the employer in the long run. The vacation habit is not the outgrowth of indolence, but the perception of the joys of living and the appreciation of the effect of all work and no play on the historic Jack. It is also an indication of the increasing prosperity of the community. It can afford to take a vacation.

PEN POINTS

The question of the hour—how to finance your coal supply for the winter.

Peterborough will accord Canada's next premier—Mr. R. L. Borden—an enthusiastic welcome on Wednesday night next.

September bids fair to be the loveliest month in the year. And come to think this is fair month and the date of Peterborough's big fair is Sept. 26, 27, and 28.

Mr. Borden stands for all that is clean and pure and honest in public life. Hear him at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday night. He takes a bold firm and far-seeing stand on many matters which the Laurierites have deemed it advisable to neglect or overlook, although appearing in their famous platform of 1893.

How would it do if the postal authorities at Ottawa hurried along the free street delivery system of mail matter in Peterborough. Surely there is no excuse for further delay. Patience has long since ceased to be a virtue. Mr. Hall, the representative in the Commons from West Peterborough, should get a move on. A little more energy in securing the early commencement of mail delivery from door to door would not hurt him.

The Hon. G. P. Graham, the new Minister of Railways and Canals in the Dominion Cabinet, will now have the supreme pleasure of providing his constituency, the town of Brockville, with the new wharf and harbor they have so long tried to squeeze out of the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways. No doubt this will be the sop that he will offer. His home has its drill shed, post office and customs house, so he cannot promise that. Who will print the ballots? No doubt the Recorder! If the returning officer, George A. Dana, Esq., has any voice in the matter, the Recorder will do it. If it does, we hope that the incident of a few years will not be repeated, when a few hundred more ballots than needed were used and the boxes stuffed.

Peterborough needs a little more public spirit and appreciation of men who devote their time and talents to the welfare and well being of the community. Several examples of the lack of public spirit have been brought painfully to light during the past few weeks. For instance, a lifelong resident of Peterborough left the city this week. He was one of the founders and most staunch supporters of the Board of Trade. He was also the father, life-long supporter and president of that commendable charity, the Children's Aid Society. Yet, at a farewell gathering tendered him, there was not a single official representative of either institution present, neither were any members from these public bodies at the station to see him off. Surely we are growing too negligent of public duty and public service when we cannot, or rather do not, spare time from the pursuit of wealth, the chase after the dollar, and the effort to outrival others, to devote attention to the higher and better things that interest a community, the uplifting, the elevating movements, that make for greater happiness, both individually and collectively. We all owe a certain duty to others and to the place in which we dwell. Man is not an entity that he can live by himself and devote his energies only to that which directly concerns him. Too often what is everybody's business is nobody's business and men who step aside to devote time and money, talent and thought, to the upholding and upbuilding of charities and institutions that tend to improve and advance the condition of those less favorably situated, should be accorded the heartfelt thanks and deep gratitude of all. Any place with a keen, lively public spirit, is bound to forge ahead. Such a spirit is too often lacking. We want more outspoken, high-minded citizens, whose influence, example and attitude, are in the right direction.

Edmonton Leads in Building Line

Surpasses All Canadian Cities of its Size, Says Mr. J. A. Fife

Mr. J. A. Fife, of Edmonton, formerly on the staff of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, in a letter to the Review, speaks of the rapid growth of the capital city of Alberta. Mr. Fife says:—With the closing of the month of August Edmonton's building permits for 1907 have passed the $2,000,000 mark far exceeding the building record of any other Canadian city of its size. The permits for the eight months ending today are $2,030,700. The average for all buildings being erected in Edmonton this year is about $2,900, showing that the people of this city are generally taking pride in their places of residence and by building structures that will be a credit to Edmonton and to themselves. The total of the permits is $162,630 more than the total of the entire year of 1905. For August permits issued are not as great as in the preceding months, reaching only about one hundred thousand. Permits for a large number of public buildings and stores are to be taken out soon, and these will go to swell the receipts of next month.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Lindsay Boy was Badly Injured

Dropped About Thirty Feet from a Belt Elevator

An accident occurred at about ten o'clock yesterday morning at the Flavelle Milling Company's mills. A young son of Mr. Thomas Teevins was playing around the mill with a companion, who induced the lad to climb on a belt elevator, which is used to carry bags of grain from one floor to another.

Young Teevins had never been on the elevator before, and instead of getting off as he should, at the top floor, clung on and went around the pulley. He was thrown off and alighted a couple of floors down. In his descent he struck a step of the elevator, which greatly broke his fall. He sustained a broken arm and a few minor scratches and bruises.

His Waistcoat Gave Him Away

Alleged Forger's Dressy Apparel Afforded Clue to Police

The Toronto World says:—A vest of motley color scheme worked the undoing of Stephen Oliver, over whose head is hanging a forgery charge. The police authorities at Lindsay had sent out a description of Oliver, who was wanted there, and the waistcoat with its garish stripe was as a beacon to Detective Wallace, who narrowly missed corralling his man on Wednesday. He was run to earth in the poultry building yesterday morning, and though he protested his innocence, he was placed under arrest.

DYNAMITE IN THE HILL

Beverly Halcomb, North Pelham Found a Stick of the Explosive Among His Potatoes

Welland, Sept. 6.—The discovery of a stick of dynamite in a hill of potatoes by Mr. Beverly Holcomb of North Pelham, a member of Pelham Township Council, has created quite a sensation in that township. Mr. Holcomb, who is a young and popular farmer, owned what he considered a fine field of potatoes. He took a neighbor, Coon by name, out to the field to show them to him.

On examining one of the hills Mr. Holcomb found some fine samples of potatoes and a solid cylindrical object which he did not recognize. He showed it to his friends, who, to the surprise of the owner of the field, pronounced it to be about two-thirds of a stick of dynamite. No sign remained to explain how it came to be in such a place.

As far as is known no dynamite was being or had been recently used in the locality.

An investigation is quietly going on and in the meantime the affair remains a mystery.

EXCITEMENT AT HAVELOCK

Report of Women's Death in Toronto—Pretty Wedding Celebrated

Havelock, Sept. 6.—A very pretty wedding of much interest to the residents of Havelock, took place at the residence of Mr. W. M. Spurr, Madoc, on Thursday, Sept. 5th, when his daughter, Miss Katie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. C. A. Ghent, of Havelock, the nuptial knot being tied by Rev. H. Caplan, pastor of St. John's church, Havelock.

Both of the contracting parties are well known in Havelock. Mr. Ghent has for a number of years practised as a barrister in Havelock, where he has made a great success of his profession and where he has contracted many friends by generousness and kindness. He is a member of St. John's church and took a deep interest in all religious matters and has for several years tendered his nevertiring services in the choir.

Miss Spurr spent several years in Havelock where she formed many acquaintances and friends.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ghent will join in wishing them every success and happiness during their future life.

The young couple will spend a few weeks on a honeymoon at Coney Island, New York, and will return to Havelock where they will take up their residence.

Dr. Brown, of Lakefield, visited friends in town on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Christie and family, of Toronto, who have been spending the summer at their cottage at Trent River, have returned to their homes.

Quite an amount of excitement was caused in town on Wednesday by the report that two Havelock women were asphyxiated by gas in a Toronto hotel. The women's name were Shannon and McEwen, and as no one of these names reside in this vicinity, the report was not considered true, but today a report was received that the women were from Harlock, Huron county.

CRESCENTS RUGBY TEAM ORGANIZED

Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Evening—Officers Elected.

Enthusiasm was the chief feature of the meeting for reorganization for the season of the Crescent Rugby club held last evening at the Y.M.C.A. hall. There were about fifteen enthusiasts present and the prospects for the team were interestingly discussed. The Crescents will be a strong aggregation this year and it is their intention to enter a city league if one is formed. They have plenty of good material and their chances are good for winning everything they run up against.

Mr. Harry Theobald occupied the chair and the election of officers was proceeded with. They are as follows:

President.—Geo. McDonald.
Vice-President.—Jas. Lang.
Sec.-Treas.—Harry Theobald.
Executive.—Messrs. H. Staunton, D. Stone, and C. Ray.
Manager.—H. Staunton.

The Crescents are holding their first practice this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Nicholls oval.

RUGBY

Dundas will have one of the strongest teams in the intermediate series of the O. R. F. U. this year, and will just about land the championship. Burt Cameron, Alex. Gillespie, and Ross Craig of last year's Peterborough team will be seen on the Dundas line-up, and will be a host of strength to their wing line.

The Peterborough team will have out all the old players, Hurtubise and Bill Crowley having changed their decision not to play, the former expressing his willingness to have a crack at the new game. Gene never was fond of the game as played the last couple of years and always had yearning for the old scrimmage, or at least as near an approach to it as possible. Last year's play was too mild for the big champion wrestler.

The Peterborough team will be weak on the half-back line again this year, Doc Shaw and Gillespie both being missing. Shaw expressed a desire to return to Peterborough, but it is hardly probable that he play with the old blue and white again. As the back division now stands, Mulhern and Quinlan are the only ones left of last year's line-up, and Mulhern will not be in any shape to play, as he is laid up at present with water on the knee. If Crowley plays, he will in all probability take a shy at the back division. The Petes will be stronger than ever on the wing line, having several promising comers developed in the City League last year.

Manager Bill Slee of the Victorias, has little to say on the new senior series, but is quietly watching developments. Bill says that he will have little to say, until the next meeting of the O. R. F. U., when he will come strong.—Toronto News.

Easton, last year with Peterborough, will line-up with Montreal this year.

WILL HOLD DANCE

The social event of the season takes place next Thursday evening when the Baseball Club holds its annual dance. The dances given by the local club the last two years have met with great success, and this year everything will be done to make it surpass all previous ones.—Port Hope Guide.

TO STOP FENCE JUMPERS.

The Port Hope Guide of yesterday says: There has been an exceptionally large number of fence-jumpers at the games this season, and an effort will be made tomorrow to stop this. The baseball club is badly in need of funds and surely any enthusiast can afford to invest a quarter of a dollar. The tickets tomorrow are diamond-shaped, with a coupon attached. The gate-keeper will remove this coupon and the holder of the ticket is requested to place the string, which he will find on the ticket, through his button-hole and display the cardboard in a conspicuous place. Several officers will be on the grounds, and if your ticket is not displayed you will be removed from the grounds. This is the plan at the Woodbine, and the management is adopting it in the hope of doing away with the fence-jumpers.

STAMPING OUT TYPHOID FEVER

Board of Health Should Get Best Advice Possible on Question

The Board of Health will meet next week to investigate the cause of certain cases of typhoid fever and, if possible, remove the cause or causes of the disease. A well known citizen, discussing the matter, today, said; "What does the average Board of Health know about typhoid, its cause or cure? Why do not the members call in a medical man, who is thoroughly familiar with the malady. I am acquainted with a medical practitioner in this city, who has been practicing for thirty-six years and he knows how to stamp out the disease at once. In 29 years he has never lost a single patient from typhoid and persons who have contracted the disease have never been ill longer than two weeks when under his care. He knows the exact cause to which typhoid is generally traceable and says the disease can be effectually banished on short notice. The Board of Health should engage and reimburse a competent medical man for his advice on this question and go at the matter in a practical, business-like manner."

OFFERED GOOD JOB AND EASY TIME

First-Class Green Goods Expert Who Got Caught

A Toronto despatch says;

The efforts of Abraham Collander to solve the labor problem by offering to send unemployed Torontonians to a comfortable position in Alexandria, Egypt, with a salary of £200 per year, a free house, two servants and free transportation thither to the lucky parties and their families, resulted in his being arrested and charged with attempted fraud. Last Saturday Collander inserted an ad in a local paper offering a good position in Europe, good climate, no winter, small security required.

To the applicants, as they came, in turn Collander explained that it was to go to Alexandria and offered the aforesaid inducements. None of the applicants objected to his terms and to each he proceeded to draw up an agreement embodying all that he promised them. Before the agreement was signed he would remind them that a small sum of money was necessary, according to his advertisement, for the purpose of insuring the observance of its clauses. A sum of fifty pounds was asked for, or "Two hundred and fifty dollars in your Canadian money," as Collander grandeloquently phrased it.

But when detectives arrested the man at the home of a Toronto gentleman at Hanlan's Point, the sum of thirty cents was found on him, also a seaman's discharge, showing that Collander had worked his passage over from England in the steamer Montrose, as a cook to the Jewish emigrants, and had arrived in Montreal on July 8th last.

The Excelsior Company is shipping eleven plants to the West, where they will be installed in Portland, and other large cities. The company has been very busy of late and has placed its fruit cleaning devices and dipping devices in Windsor, London, Brooklyn, Montreal and other places. A large number of orders remain still to be filled.

PROPOSED AFTER SHORT COURTSHIP

E. A. Jones Knew His Wife Only Half an Hour Before He "Popped"

The most extraordinary case of vagrancy which has appeared in the police court for many months was tried by Colonel Denison yesterday. Edward A. Jones came up as defendant to answer a charge made by Mrs. Jones (nee Miss Pearl Rosie Gage).

Miss Gage was brought up on a farm near Hamilton, and came to Toronto recently. On Aug. 1st she went into a store on Yonge street to buy a dish of ice cream. When she went to pay for it, Jones, whom she had never seen before, offered to do so and treated her again. Then they visited a 5-cent theatre, and after leaving, Jones desired to get a marriage license. The pair were satisfied with a courtship of an hour's duration and started off to find a clergyman. It rained before they could locate one, so Pearl Rosie Gage went home, and they were not united until Aug. 2nd. Jones allowed his wife to remain with his mother and visited her occasionally.

Mrs. Jones gave evidence against her husband. Her particular type of beauty is seldom seen, and the costume worn by her in court was equally unforgettable. After telling the officials that they must not make her nervous, she described her husband's wooing. Since their marriage, he had contributed nothing towards her support, but she had loaned him various sums amounting to $1.15. She asserted that he had also assaulted her.

The defendant claimed that he was stupid from the effects of drink when he got married. "When I sobered up, I was so disgusted with myself that I fled to Montreal," he declared, "but I thought that I had better return and face the music."

It is also alleged that Jones had a habit of calling up women on the telephone and saying improper things to them, so Colonel Denison gave a remand to allow the doctors to see if he is mentally unbalanced.—Mail and Empire.

Celebrated Their Silver Wedding

Enjoyable Time Spent at Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver

Mr. and Mrs. David Oliver, of Westcott street, celebrated their silver wedding yesterday. About fifty relatives and friends gathered to rejoice with them. Prof. Cooper, the English entertainer, charmed the gathering with music, song and story. He can boast of being born in Buckingham Palace and of being married to a princess. Supper was announced at 9.30. Tables were tastefully laid in the large dining room. The bride and groom of 25 years were supported at the head of the table by their pastor, and wife, Rev. A. H. and Mrs. Brace. The congratulations were profuse and hearty. The years sit lightly upon their brow, and Providence has dealt kindly with the happy pair. The presents were numerous and pretty. Among the gifts were five silver pickle cruets. The prevailing wish of the happy crowd was that Mr. and Mrs. Oliver may live to celebrate their golden wedding under as happy circumstances.

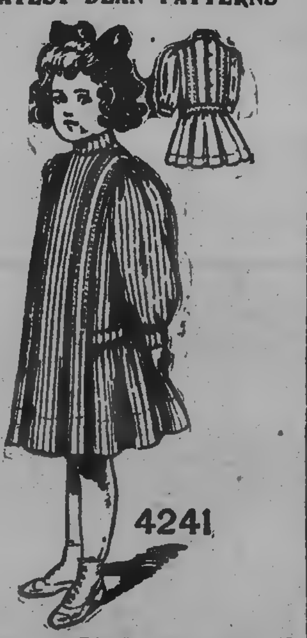
LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



4241.—A PRETTY PLAY FROCK.

The time has fortunately gone by when the utility garment was invariably as unlovely as it was useful. In children's wear, especially, fashion has made many advances, and the pretty and the practical are now combined in a way that our grandmothers never dreamed of. An example of this is the little play frock here pictured, the novel shaping of which will commend it to the tasteful mother, while its easy adjustment is another point in its favor. The skirt is attached to the sides and back of the dress under a belt, while it is joined to the straight front under the tuck plaits. It is here modelled in blue and white striped gingham, but can be developed in any pretty wash material. For the medium size three yards of 27 inch goods will be needed.

Husband Sends Wife Away and Then Sells Furniture

Reported That he has Eloped with Another Woman—Father of Deserted Wife Tells Sad Story—Police Court Case May be Result.

There is a rumor flying around the street today that a well known baker of Peterborough has eloped with a young lady who resides in in this city. The father of the woman who has been deserted by her husband, told a rather pitiful story to a Review representative this afternoon. He said that his son-in-law, who, until a few days ago, was employed here, sent his wife and her three children up to Toronto to visit him. They spent several days in the Queen City, and little thought anything was wrong at home.

The deserted wife and children returned home yesterday, only to find that their furniture had been sold, and also many articles of attire. The deserted spouse learned of a rumor that her husband had left Peterborough with another woman and that they had gone to Orillia.

The father of the deserted woman came to the city from Toronto today and interviewed the police. He said that his daughter would like to get back her clothes.

A police court case is likely to be the outcome of the affair.

MAN CHARGED WITH ANNOYING FEMALES

E. T. Perry, a Welshman employed at the cement works, was arrested twice yesterday, for the same offence. It seems that shortly after noon, Perry was jugged, as he had been apparently annoying a woman on Pinnacle street, and was also full of tanglefoot, at the time. Later, as he appeared to be inoffensive, and was described as such by an acquaintance, he was turned loose and told to go home. Last night he was again arrested near the upper bridge, again charged with annoying females. His jag was bigger than that in the afternoon. This morning Perry was remanded for a week.—Belleville Intelligencer.

MEETING TO-NIGHT

The executive of the Young Conservative Club and the West Riding Liberal-Conservative Association will meet at the Young Conservative Club rooms this evening to complete certain arrangements in connection with the visit of Mr. R. L. Borden, Conservative leader, who will address a big mass meeting in the Grand Opera House, Peterborough, on Wednesday night next, Sept. 11th.

AN INTERESTING NUMBER

The usually quiet and pleasant month of September is favorable for reading and this month's issue of Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., provides a veritable budget for the sportsman. Contributions from east and west and north and south, together with that variety which is bound to suit all nature lovers, constitute a number certain to receive a welcome in every place to which it may penetrate. Naturally, fishing matters receive prominence and fishing incidents from Newfoundland, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia are recorded. The Goose Hunter's Song is wonderfully reminiscent of the prairie provinces and the summary of the new laws of Alberta show how much in earnest the legislators of the new Provinces are in the attention given to their new and responsible duties. Duck shooting topics afford an indication that indulgence in that form of sport is not far off; while Mr. Jenner's paper on Nova Scotian Woodcock includes all the charms that writer usually gives to his contributions.

Capt D. S. MacInnes, D.S.O., Royal Engineers, has been appointed Chief Staff Officer of the Maritime Provinces.

Will Get Good Price for Timber

Lessees of Berths to Contribute Generously to Province

An exceptionally good price will be received by the Province for the right to cut pine on certain Crown timber berths, says the Mail and Empire. The Department of Lands, Forests and Mines has accepted offers received in response to advertisements. McGibbon and Company, of Penetanguishene, were awarded the right to cut pine, 12 inches in diameter at a distance of two feet above the ground, on Franklin Island, which is situated in Georgian Bay, near Parry Sound. The location of the island, which contains three square miles of territory, will be of great advantage to the timber licensees. Consequently the latter will pay a record price—$12.26 per thousand feet, board measure of wood cut, and in addition $2 a thousand feet in stumpage dues.

Booth and Shannon, of Biscotasing, secured the right to cut pine on berth W.D. 2, located on the Woman River, in the district of Algoma. The price to be paid is $4.25 a thousand feet, board measure and $2 a thousand in dues. The berth, which is four sq. miles in extent, is so situated that the logs will have to be transported by rail to the mills.

A number of scattered lots in the townships of Beauchamp and Henwood, in the Tamiskaming district, go to J. R. Booth, of Ottawa. For white pine he will pay $9.25 a thousand feet, board measure, and for red pine, $7.25 a thousand feet. In each case, of course, the regulation dues of $2 will be charged.

Wheat is being cut in the Brandon district.

Seabrook Mines Will Be Re-opened

Indications point to the opening of the copper mines near Havelock, known as the Seabrook mines. Mr. Rodgers, an Australian prospector, has been there and according to his statements, the Seabrook mines are valuable. Three weeks ago he secured a sample of the ore, which appeared to contain copper and a small percentage of gold, and sent it to experts in Toronto to be assayed. The piece of ore was found near the surface of the mine and Mr. Rodgers believes that there is copper to the distance of 300 feet below the surface. It is reported that one of the Seabrook Bros. has disposed of his property. Mr. J. Sexsmith is an interested owner of property in the copper circle and he also is waiting for further developments in the opening of the mines.—Norwood Register.

Don't Sell Your Apples Early

The Farming World asks the following sensible question; "Why do apple growers persist in selling the product of their orchards several months in advance?"

Already contracts are being made for orchards at so much per barrel, and in nine cases out of ten the grower will lose by the transaction. It is better business to wait till the fruit is ripe and take the best price going. And a better plan still is for neighbors to co-operate and do the picking and packing themselves rather than let the buyer do it.

London's bank clearings for August were $5,631,007, an increase of $938,641 over August, 1906.

SERIOUS LOSSES FARMING INTERESTS

An Off Year in Crops Throughout the World

In the partial crop failure which faces the province of Ontario this year, and the Canadian West, Canadian farmers are not alone in not obtaining the usual returns for their arduous labors. The best indication would indicate that this is an off year, almost throughout the world, in crops. Throughout Europe, the conditions are anything but favorable, and Russian reports are tinged in the most pessimistic strain.

There is this satisfaction, that lower yields will be partly recompensed for by a higher range of prices. In Ontario, for instance, wheat is now selling at 15c. a bushel higher than it was at this time last year. Oats are easily 10 cents higher and barley will bring nearly the same advance.

The prevailing opinion is that the incoming winter will be one of exceedingly high prices for nearly all the commodities that enter into home consumption. That Ontario farmers will suffer a distinct loss from that of last year and several previous years is now a foregone conclusion. President McEwing of the Ontario Farmers' Association, estimates that this will run into as high as $80,000,000. This amount may possibly be overdrawn, but if his estimates is anyway near the correct figure, it represents a stupendous loss to the whole community, which can only be made good by curtailment in all branches of business.

The advance in the prices of all the cereals is a total denial of the opinion which some would advocate that an average crop is to be reaped. Wheat, corn and oats have advanced and are advancing by leaps and bounds in the speculative markets.

At Chicago yesterday, on top of the recent advance, wheat rose 2 cents a bushel, corn over 1 cent a bushel, and oats nearly 2 cents a bushel. For the latter two cereals, these are nearly record prices, on this market for this time of the year.

When it is considered that the tightness of the money market compels forced selling on the part of many farmers, it must be admitted that there is a substantial foundation for the present range of high prices for these commodities.

Splendid Results From Cow Testing

Each Succeeding Test Shows a Marked Improvement

Mr. C. F. Whitley, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, branch of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, writes on Cow Testing Associations.

The interest taken by the dairy farmers in the work of the cow testing associations, organized by the Branch of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, Ottawa, is steadily increasing. Evidence of this is seen in two or three ways. The milk record sheets being tabulated daily show a larger number of cows whose milk is being weighed and sampled six times a month and better still there is an increase in the yield. That is to say that the second and third tests in the various localities showed a marked improvement on the first. This will have been noticed in the summaries of the tests, published from time to time. The Dominion officials are doing valuable educational work on their rounds, for the custom is increasing of farmers dropping in while the testing is in progress to ask many questions about the test, the work of the associations, improving herds, feeding, churning at home, and in fact, every phase of dairy work.

The importance of succulent feed is well illustrated by the yield of a herd in the St. Prosper, Que., association. On June 5 the yield of 11 cows was 286 pounds of milk, they had been on dry feed and pastures were backward. On June 25, the same 11 cows gave 371 pounds of milk. At a moderate estimate that herd could easily have given 1200 pounds more milk during the month if succulent feeding had been available. What applies here, applies to hundreds of other herds. There would be an enormous increase in the general flow of milk, and a vast improvement in our dairy herds, if provision were made for green or soiling crops, ensilage and succulent feed generally to tide over backward seasons and dry, hot spells. Have you built a silo yet? There is still time this season. Feeding ensilage almost invariably means making more money from the same number of cows.

The happy couple left on a trip to Peterborough, and on their return they will reside in Rochester.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

Col. Sam Hughes On Trent Canal

Worthy M. P. for Victoria Gives a Few Facts About the Low Water

The following is from the Lindsay Watchman-Warder.;

Editor of Watchman-Warder.

Re the low water in the Scugog River and Sturgeon Lake. Your very timely article in last week's issue upon the low water in Sturgeon Lake has been carefully perused by me. It meets with the endorsation of every right-minded Victorian. That the public may know the facts, the following is submitted, but first I presume permission to speak on such a subject should be obtained from the gentleman controlling the Dominion Government patronage in the county, namely, the "wily senator" and the "astute" defeated Liberal candidate. Perhaps, too, some blame rests upon myself and other citizens for keeping too close a watch on the expenditure of the people's money, for it is whispered that no moneys will be sent unless a graft of at least twenty per cent. is given up. However, the facts are;

1. A year ago investigation revealed a great leakage of water at Bobcaygeon, through the layers of rock, and at the dams.

2. A plan was then proposed by the writer to cut a cross section ditch through the layers, to solid rock, and fill it up with concrete. This plan met with the approval of the chief engineer of the canal.

3. The locks and dams were to be rebuilt of concrete also cut down to bed solid rock.

4. Before this work could be accomplished the Liberal party came into power. In all fairness to both Messrs. Blair and Emmerson, the two ministers of Railways and Canals since 1896, up to the present, each seemed heartily in favor of carrying out the plans.

5. A few years ago I had the honor to submit to Mr. W. Read, the clerk of Bobcaygeon, reports upon this work with an outline of my plans. The change from Mr. Blair to Mr. Emmerson, and the departure of the latter minister, have delayed the work. But I believe it is intended to carry out Mr. Emmerson's promise of last year to me to go on with the work "this year."

6. As early as 1891 I had the honor of submitting a plan for the storage of water in the Haliburton lakes for canal purposes. The Federal Government in pursuance of that plan have in recent years taken over by agreement from the Ontario Government all these waters, guaranteeing to erect the necessary dams to maintain a steady and sufficient flow of water. Thus far, nothing has been done by the Federal authorities. Perhaps they are awaiting the elections. It need not be detailed here how, owing to the clearing up of the country the water is no longer held by leaves and brush, but runs off in spring and after rainfalls in a few days, where months were formerly required to drain it away.

I do not think the Liberal patronage vendors of Victoria are so much responsible for the delays, because the Department pays very little attention to them. The delay, I believe, is largely due to the frequent changes in the position of Minister of Railways and Canals.

I have recently as well as for some years back, been active in getting something done to remove the logs from the navigable waters. It is a difficult problem to evolve a plan fair alike to the owners of logs and the public; but I have the assurance of the Railway Department, only a few weeks, ago, in answer to my further protests over the accidents to the Kathleen and other craft, that a solution satisfactory to all parties was hoped for. The same was said to me on other occasions in the House. And I have faith in the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, Mr. Butler, as well as in other officers, that they are honestly striving at a fair solution of the vexed question.

I am not apologizing for either Messrs. McLaughlin or McHugh in the premises; for both are usually asleep when the public interest is at stake. I merely wish to be fair to my opponents, the two ex-Ministers of Railways and Canals, and their efficient subordinates.

POPULAR NURSES

Campbellford people generally will be glad to learn that Miss Leah Frederick has been accepted as nurse-in-training in St. Luke's Hospital, one of the leading hospitals in New York City. Generally speaking, the percentage of those accepted is small in comparison to the number who enter as probationers. This fact makes Miss Frederick's success all the more creditable, and her friends have all the greater reason for being pleased at her success. Miss Frederick is the third young lady from Campbellford who has been accepted in St. Luke's Hospital within the last eighteen months, the others being Miss Lena Armstrong and Miss Alice Vosper. The hospital authorities must like Campbellford girls as they accept all who come their way.—Campbellford Herald.

BY LAWRENCE L. LYNCH,

Author of "A Woman's Crime," "John Arthur's Ward," "The Diamond Coterie," "Against Odds," Etc.

CHAPTER I.

It was a May morning in Glenville. Pretty, picturesque Glenville, low lying by the lake shore, with the waters of the lake surging to meet it, or coyly receding from it, on the one side, and the green-clad hills rising gradually and gently on the other, ending in a belt of trees at the very horizon's edge.

There is little movement in the quiet streets of the town at half-past eight o'clock in the morning, save for the youngsters who, walking, running, leaping, sauntering or waiting idly, one for another, are, or should be, on their way to the school house which stands upon the very southernmost outskirts of the town, and a little way up the hilly slope, at a reasonably safe remove from the willow-fringed lake shore.

The Glenville school house was one of the earliest public buildings erected in the village, and it had been "located" in what was confidently expected to be the centre of the place. But the new and late-coming impetus, which had changed the hamlet of half a hundred dwellings to one of twenty times that number, and made of it a quiet and not too fashionable little summer resort, had carried the business of the place northward, and its residences still farther north, thus leaving this seat of learning aloof from, and quite above the newer town, in isolated and lofty dignity, surrounded by trees; in the outskirts, in fact, of a second belt of wood, which girdled the lake shore, even as the further and loftier fringe of timber outlined the hilltops to the edge of the eastern horizon and far away.

"Les call 'er the 'cademy?" suggested Elias Robbins, one of the builders of the school house, and an early settler of Glenville. "What's to hinder?"

"Nothin'," declared John Rote, the village oracle. "'Twill sound first rate."

They were standing outside the building, just completed and resplendent in two coats of yellow paint, and they were just from the labor of putting in, "hangin'" the new bell.

All of masculine Glenville was present, and the other sex was not without representation.

"Suits me down ter the ground!" commented a third citizen; and no doubt it would have suited the majority, but when Parson Ryder was consulted, he smiled genially and shook his head.

"It won't do, I'm afraid, Elias," he said. "We're only a village as yet, you see, and we can't even dub it the High School, except from a geographical point of view. However, we are bound to grow, and our titles will come with the growth."

The growth, after a time, began; but it was only a summer growth; and the school house was still a village school hous with its master and one under, or primary, teacher; and to-day there was a frisking group of the smaller youngsters rushing about the school yard, while the first bell rang out, and half a dozen of the older pupils clustered about the girlish under-teacher, full of questions and wonder; for Johnny Robbins, whose turn it was to ring the bell this week, after watching the clock, and the path up the hill, alternately, until the time for the first bell had come, and was actually twenty seconds past, had reluctantly but firmly seized the rope and began to pull.

"'Taint no use, Miss Grant; I'll have to do it. He told me not to wait for nothin', never, when 'twas half past eight, and so"—cling, clang, cling—"I'm bound"—cling—"ter do it!" Clang "yo see," cling, "even if he aint here—" Clang, clang, clang.

The boy pulled lustily at the rope for about half as long as usual, and then he stopped.

"You don't s'pose that clock c'ud be wrong, do yo', Miss Grant? Mr. Brierly's never been later'n quarter past before."

Miss Grant turned her wistful and somewhat anxious eyes toward the eastern horizon and rested a hand upon the shoulder of a tall girl at her side.

"He may be ill, Johnny," she said, reluctantly, "or his watch may be wrong. He's sure to come in time for morning song service. Come, Meta, let us go in and look at those fractions."

Five — ten — fifteen minutes passed and the two heads bent still over book and slate. Twenty minutes, and Johnny's head appeared at the door, half a dozen others behind it.

"Has he come, Johnny?"

"No'm, shan't I go an' see—"

But Miss Grant arose, stopping him with a gesture. "He would laugh at us, Johnny." Then, with another look at the anxious faces, "wait until nine o'clock, at least."

Johnny and his followers went sullenly back to the porch and Meta's lip began to quiver.

"Somethin's happened to him, Miss Grant," she whimpered; "I know somethin' has happened!"

"Nonsense," said Miss Grant. But she went to the window and called to a little girl at play upon the green.

"Nellie Fry! Come here, dear."

Nellie Fry, an a, b, c student, came running in, her yellow locks flying straight behind her.

"What is it, Miss Grant?"

"Nellie, did you see Mr. Brierly at breakfast?"

"Yes'm!"

"And — quite well?"

"Why — I guess so. He talked just like he does always, and asked the blessin'. He — he ate a lot, too — for him. I 'member ma speakin' of it."

"You remember, Nellie."

Miss Grant kissed the child and walked to her desk, bending over her roll call, and seeming busy over it until the clock upon the opposite wall struck the hour of nine, and Johnny's face appeared at the door, simultaneously, with the last stroke.

"Sh'll I ring, Miss Grant?"

"Yes." The girl spoke with sudden decision. "Ring the bell, and then go at once to Mrs. Fry's house and ask if anything has happened to detain Mr. Brierly. Don't loiter, Johnny."

There was an unwonted flush upon the girl's usually pale cheeks, and sudden energy in her step and voice.

The school building contained but two rooms, beside the large hall, and the cloak rooms upon either side; and as the scholars trooped in, taking their respective places with more than their usual readiness, but with unusual bustle and exchange of whispers and inquiring looks, the slender girl went once more to the entrance and looked up and down the path from the village.

There was no one in sight, and she turned and put her hand upon the swaying bell rope.

"Stop it, Johnny! There's surely something wrong! Go, now, and ask after Mr. Brierly. He must be ill!"

"He'd 'a sent word, sure," said the boy with conviction, as he snatched his hat from its nail. But Miss Grant only waved him away and entered the south room, where the elder pupils were now, for the most part, assembled.

"Girls and boys," she said, the color still burning in her cheeks, "something has delayed Mr. Brierly. I hope it will be for a short time only. In the meantime, until we know—know what to expect, you will, of course, keep your places and take up your studies. I am sure I can trust you to be as quiet and studious as if your teacher were here; and while we wait, and I begin my lessons, I shall set no monitor over you. I am sure you will not need one."

The pupils of Charles Brierly were ruled by gentleness and love, and they were loyal to so mild a ruler. With low whispers, and words of acquiescence, they took up their books, and Miss Grant went back to her more restless small people, leaving the connecting door between the north and south rooms open.

Mrs. Fry's cottage was in the heart of the village, and upon the hillside, but Johnny stayed for nothing, running hither, hat in hand, and returning panting, and with a troubled face.

"Miss Grant," he panted, bursting into her presence with scant ceremony, "he aint there! Mrs. Fry says he came to school before eight o'clock. He went out while she was combin' Nellie's hair, an' she aint seen him since!"

Hilda Grant walked slowly down from her little platform and advanced, with a waving movement, until she stood in the doorway between the two rooms. The color had all faded from her face, and she put a hand against the door pane as if to steady herself, and seemed to control or compose herself with an effort.

"Boys—children—have any of you seen Mr. Brierly this morning?"

For a moment there was utter silence in the school room. Then, slowly, and with a sheepish shuffling movement, a stolid-faced boy made his way out from one of the side seats in Miss Grant's room, and came toward her without speaking. He was meanly dressed in garments ill-matched and worse fitting; his arms were abnormally long, his shoulders rounded and stooping, and his eyes were at once dull and furtive. He was the largest pupil, and the dullest, in Miss Grant's charge, and as he came toward her, still silent but with his mouth half open, some of the little ones tittered audibly.

"Silence!" said the teacher, sternly. "Peter, come here." Her tone grew suddenly gentle. "Have you seen Mr. Brierly this morning?"

"Uh hum!" The boy stopped short and hung his head.

"That's good news, Peter. Tell me where you saw him."

"Down there," nodding toward the lake.

"At the—lake?"

"Yep!"

"How long ago, Peter?"

"'Fore school—hour, maybe."

"How far away, Peter?"

"Big ways. Most by Injun Hill."

"Ah! and what was he doing?"

"Set on ground—lookin'."

"Miss Grant!" broke in the boy Johnny. "He was goin' to shoot at a mark; I guess he'd got a new target down there, an' some of the boys shoots there, you know.—Gracious!" his eyes suddenly widening, "Dy'u s'pose he's got hurt, anyway?"

Miss Grant turned quickly toward the simpleton.

"Peter, you are sure it was this morning that you saw Mr. Brierly?"

"Uh hum."

"And, was he alone?"

"Uh hum."

"Who else did you see down there, Peter?"

The boy lifted his arm, shielding his eyes with it as if he expected a blow.

"I bet some one's tried ter hit him!" commented Johnny.

"Hush, Johnny! Peter, what is it? Did some one frighten you?"

The boy wagged his head.

"Who was it?"

"N—Nothin'—" Peter began to whimper.

"You must answer me, Peter; was anyone else by the lake? Whom else did you see?"

"A—a—ghost?" blubbered the boy, and this as all she could gain from him.

And now the children began to whisper, and some of the elder to suggest possibilities.

"Maybe he's met a tramp."

"P'r'aps he's sprained his ankle!"

"P'r'aps he's falled into the lake, teacher," piped a six-year-old.

"Poh!" retorted a small boy. "He kin swim like—anything."

"Children, be silent!" A look of annoyance had suddenly relaxed the strained, set look of the under teacher's white face as she recalled, at the moment, how she had heard Mr. Samuel Doran—president of the board of school directors—ask Mr. Brierly to drop in at his office that morning to look at some specimen school books. That was the evening before, and, doubtless, he was there now.

Miss Grant bit her lip, vexed at her folly and fright. But after a moment's reflection she turned again to Johnny Robbins, saying:

"Johnny, will you go back as far as Mr. Doran's house? Go to the office door, and if Mr. Brierly is there, as I think he will be, ask him if he would like me to hear his classes until he is at liberty."

Again the ready messenger caught up his flapping straw hat, while a little flutter of relief ran through the school, and Miss Grant went back to her desk, the look of vexation still upon her face.

Five minutes' brisk trotting brought the boy to Mr. Doran's door, which was much nearer than the Fry homestead, and less than five minutes found him again at the school house door.

"Miss Grant," he cried, excitedly, "he wa'n't there, nor haint been; an' Mr. Doran's startin' right out, with two or three other men, to hunt him. He says there's somethin' wrong about it."

CHAPTER II.

"I suppose it's all right," said Samuel Doran, as he walked toward the school house, followed by three or four of the villagers, "called" because of their nearness, rather than "chosen;" "but Brierly's certainly the last man to let any ordinary matter keep him from his post. We'll hear what Miss Grant has to say."

Miss Grant met the group at the gate, and when she had told them all she had to tell, ending with the testimony of the boy Peter, and the suggestion concerning the target-shooting.

"Sho!" broke in one of the men, as she was about to express her personal opinion and her fears, "that's the top an' bottom of the hull business! Brierly's regularly took with ashootin' at a mark. I've been out with him two or three evenings of late. He's just got int'rusted, and forgot ter look at his watch. We'll find him safe enough som'e'res along the bank; let's cut across the woods."

"He must have heard the bell," objected Mr. Doran, "but, of course, if Peter Kramer saw him down there, that's our way. Don't be anxious, Miss Grant; probably Hopkins is right."

The road which they followed for some distance ran a somewhat devious course through the wood, which one entered very soon after leaving the school house. It ran along the hillside, near its base, but still somewhat above the stretch of ground, fully a hundred yards in width, between it and the lake shore.

Above the road, to eastward, the wooded growth climbed the gentle upward slope, growing, as it seemed, more and more dense and shadowy as it mounted. But between the road and the river the trees grew less densely, with numerous sunny openings, but with much undergrowth, here and there, of hazel and sumach, wild vines, and along the border of the lake the low overhanging scrub willow.

For more than a fourth of a mile the four men followed the road, walking in couples, and not far apart, and contenting themselves with an occasional "hallo, Brierly," and with peering into the openings through which they could see the lake shore as they passed along.

A little further on, however, a bit of rising ground cut off all sight of the lake for a short distance. It was an oblong mound, so shapely, so evenly proportioned that it had become known as the Indian Mound, and was believed to have been the work of the aboriginese, a prehistoric fortification, or burial place.

As they came opposite this mound the man Hopkins stopped, saying:

"Hadn't a couple of us fellers better go round the mound on t'other side? Course, if he's on the bank, an' all right, he'd ort to hear us — but—"

"Yes," broke in the leader, who had been silent and very grave for some moments. "Go that way, Hopkins, and we'll keep to the road and meet you at the further end of the mound."

They separated silently and for some moments Mr. Doran and his companions walked on, still silent, then—

"We ought to have brought that simpleton along," Doran said, as if meditating. "The Kramers live only a quarter of a mile beyond the mound, and it must have been near here—Stop!"

He drew his companions back from the track, as a pony's head appeared around a curve in the road; and then, as a black shetland and low phaeton came in sight, he stepped forward again, and took off his hat.

He was squarely in the middle of the road, and the lady in the little phaeton pulled up her pony and met his gaze with a look of mute inquiry. She was a small, fair woman, with pale, regular features and large blue eyes. She was dressed in mourning, and, beyond a doubt, was not a native of Glenville.

"Excuse my haste, ma'am," said Doran, coming to the side of the phaeton. "I'm James Doran, owner of the stable where this horse belongs, and we are out in search of our schoolmaster. Have you seen a tall, young man along this road anywere?"

The lady was silent a moment, then—"Was he a fair young man?" she asked, slowly.

"Yes, tall and fair."

The lady gathered up her reins.

"I passed such a person," she said, "when I drove out of town shortly after breakfast. He was going south, as I was. It must have been somewhere not far from this place."

"And — did you see his face?"

"No; the pony was fresh then, and I was intent upon him."

She lifted the reins, and then turned as if to speak again when the man who had been a silent witness of the little dialogue came a step nearer.

"I s-pose you hav'n't heard any noise — a pistol shot — nor anythin' like that, have ye, ma'am?"

"Mercy! No, indeed! Why what has happened?"

Before either could answer, there came a shout from the direction of the lake shore.

"Doran, come—quick!"

They were directly opposite the mound, at its central or highest point, and, turning swiftly, James Doran saw the man Hopkins at the top of it, waving his arms frantically.

"Is he found?" called Doran, moving toward him.

"Yes. He's hurt!"

With the words Hopkins disappeared behind the knoll, but Doran was near enough to see that the man's face was scared and pale. He turned and called sharply to the lady, who had taken up her whip and was driving on.

"Madam, stop! There's a man hurt. Wait there a moment; we may need your horse." The last words were uttered as he ran up the mound, his companions close at his heels. And the lady checked the willing pony once more with a look half reluctant, wholly troubled.

"What a position," she said to herself, impatiently. "These villagers are not diffident, upon my word."

A few moments only had passed when approaching footsteps and the sound of quick panting breaths caused her to turn her head, and she saw James Doran running swiftly toward her, pale faced, and too full of anxiety to be observant of the courtesies.

"You must let me drive back to town with you, madam," he panted, springing into the little vehicle with a force that tried its springs and wrought havoc with the voluminous folds of the lady's gown. "We must have the doctor, and the coroner, too, I fear — at once!"

He put out his hands for the reins, but she anticipated the movement and struck the pony a sharp and sudden blow that sent him galloping townward at the top of his speed, the reins still in her two small, perfectly-gloved hands.

For a few moments no word was spoken; then, without turning her eyes from the road, she asked:

"What is it?"

"Death, I'm afraid!"

"What! Not suicide?"

"Never. An accident, of course."

"How horrible!" The small hands tightened their grasp upon the reins, and no other word was spoken until they were passing the school house, when she asked,

"Who was it?"

"Charles Brierly, our head teacher, and a good man."

Miss Grant was standing at one of the front windows and she leaned anxiously out as the little trap darted past.

"We can't stop," said Doran, as much to himself as to his companion. "I must have the pony, ma'am. Where can I leave you?"

"Anywhere here. Is there anything—any message I can deliver? I am a stranger, but I understand the need of haste. Ought not those pupils be sent home?"

He put his hands upon the reins. "Stop him," he said. "You are quick to think, madam. Will you take a message to the school house — to Miss Grant?"

"Surely."

They had passed the school house and as the pony stopped, Doran sprang out and offered his hand, which she scarcely touched in alighting.

"What shall I say?" she asked as she sprang down.

"See Miss Grant. Tell her privately that Mr. Brierly has met with an accident, and that the children must be sent home quietly and at once. At once, mind."

"I understand." She turned away with a quick, nervous movement, but he stopped her.

"One moment. Your name, please? Your evidence may be wanted."

"By whom?"

"By the coroner; to corroborate our story."

"I see. I am Mrs. Jamieson; at the Glenville House."

She turned from him with the last word, and walked swiftly back toward the school house.

Hilda Grant was still at the window. She had made no attempt to listen to recitations, or even to call the roll; and she hastened out, at sight of the slight black robed figure entering the school yard, her big grey eyes full of the question her lips refused to frame.

They met at the foot of the steps, and Mrs. Jamieson spoke at once, as if in reply to the wordless inquiry in the other's face.

"I am Mrs. Jamieson," she said, speaking low, mindful of the curious faces peering out from two windows, on either side of the open door. "I was stopped by Mr.—"

"Mr. Doran?"

"Yes. He wished me to tell you that the teacher, Mr. —"

"Brierly?"

"Yes; that he has met with an accident; and that you had better close the school, and send the children home quietly, and at once."

"Oh!" Suddenly the woman's small figure swayed; she threw out a hand as if for support and, before the half-dazed girl before her could reach her, she sank weakly upon the lowest step. "Oh!" she sighed again. "I did not realize — I — I believe I am frightened!" And then, as Miss Grant bent over her, she added weakly: "Don't mind me. I—I'll rest here a moment. Send away your pupils; I only need rest."

When the wondering children had passed out from the school rooms, and were scattering, in slow-moving, eagerly-talking groups, Hilda Grant stood for a moment beside her desk, rigid, and with all the anguish of her soul revealed, in this instant of solitude, upon her face.

"He is dead!" she murmured. "I know it, I feel it! He is dead." Her voice, even to herself, sounded hard and strange. She lifted a cold hand to her eyes, but there were no tears there; and then suddenly, she remembered her guest.

A moment later, Mrs. Jamieson, walking weakly up the steps, met her coming from the school room with a glass of water in her hand, which she proffered silently.

The stranger drank it eagerly. "Thank you," she said. It is what I need. May I come inside for a little?"

Hilda led the way in silence, and, when her visitor was seated, came and sat down opposite her. "Will you tell me what you can?" she asked hesitatingly.

"Willingly. Only it is so little. I have been for some time a guest at the Glenville House, seeking to recover, here in your pure air and country quiet, from the effects of sorrow and long illness. I have driven about these hills and along the lake shore almost daily."

"I have seen you," said Hilda, "as you drove past more than once."

"And did you see me this morning?"

"No."

"Still I passed this spot at eight o'clock; I think, perhaps, earlier. My physician has cautioned me against long drives and this morning I did not go quite so far as usual, because on yesterday I went too far. I had turned my pony toward home just beyond that pretty mill where the little streams join the lake, and was driving slowly homeward when this Mr. Doran—is not that right?—this Mr. Doran stopped me to ask if I had seen a man, a tall, fair man—"

"And had you?"

"I told him yes, and in a moment someone appeared at the top of the Indian Mound, and called out that the man was found."

"How—tell me how?"

Mrs. Jamieson drew back a little and looked into the girl's face with strange intentness.

"I—I fear he was a friend of yours," she said in a strangely hesitating manner, her eyes swiftly scanning the pale face.

"You fear! Why do you fear? Tell me. You say he is injured. Tell me all—the worst!"

Still the smart, erect, black-clad figure drew back, a sudden understanding and apprehension dawning in her face. She moved her lips, but no sound came from them.

"Tell me!" cried the girl again. "In mercy—Oh, don't you understand?"

"Yes, I understand now." The lady drew weakly back in the seat and seemed to be compelling her own eyes and lips to steadiness.

"Listen! We must be calm—both of us. I—I am not strong; I dare not give way. Yes, yes; this is all I can tell you. The man, Mr. Doran asked me to wait in the road with the pony. He came back soon, and said that we must find the doctor and the coroner at once; there had been an accident and the man—the one for whom they searched—was dead, he feared."

She sprang suddenly to her feet.

"You must not faint. If you do, I—I cannot help you; I am not strong enough."

"I shall not faint," replied Hilda Grant, in a hard strange voice, and she, too, arose quickly, and went with straight swift steps through the open door between the rooms and out of sight.

Mrs. Jamieson stood looking after her for a moment, as if in doubt and wonder; then she put up an unsteady hand and drew down the gauze veil folded back from her close-fitting mourning bonnet.

"How strange!" she whispered. "She turns from me as if—and yet I had to tell her! Ugh! I cannot stay here alone. I shall break down too, and I must not. I must not. Here, and alone!"

A moment she stood irresolute, then walking slowly she went out of the school room, down the stone steps, and through the gate, townward, slowly at first, and then her pace increasing, and a look of apprehension growing in her eyes.

"Oh," she murmured as she hurried on, "what a horrible morning!" And then she started hysterically as the shriek of the incoming fast mail train struck her ears. "Oh, how nervous this has made me," she murmured, and drew a sigh of relief as she paused unsteadily at the door of her hotel.

For fully fifteen minutes after Hilda Grant had reached the empty solitude of her own schoolroom she stood crouched against the near wall—her hands clinched and hanging straight at her side, her eyes fixed on space. Then, with eyes still tearless, but with dry sobs breaking from her throat, she tottered to her seat before the desk, and let her face fall forward upon her arms, moaning from time to time like some hurt animal, and so heedless of all about her that she did not hear a light step in the hall without, nor the approach of the man who paused in the doorway to gaze at her in troubled surprise.

He was a tall and slender young fellow, with a handsome face, an eye clear, frank and keen, and a mouth which, but for the moustache which shadowed it, might have been pronounced too strong for beauty.

A moment he stood looking with growing pity upon the grieving woman, and then he turned and silently tip-toed across the room and to the outer door. Standing there he seemed to ponder, and then, softly stepping back to the vacant platform, he seated himself in the teacher's chair and idly opened the first of the volumes scattered over the desk, smiling as he read the name, Charles Brierly, written across the fly-leaf.

"Poor old Charley," he said to himself as he closed the book. "I wonder how he enjoys his pedagogic venture, the absurd fellow," and then by some strange instinct he lifted his eyes to the clock on the opposite wall, and the strangeness of the situation seemed to strike him with sudden force and brought him to his feet.

What did it mean? This silent school room! These empty desks and scattered books! Where were the pupils? the teacher? And why was that brown-tressed head with its hidden face bowed down in that other room in an agony of sorrow?

Half a dozen quick strides brought him again to the door of communication, and this time his strong, firm footsteps were heard, and the bowed head lifted itself wearily, and the eyes of the two met, each questioning the other.

"I beg your pardon," spoke a rich strong voice. "May I ask where I shall find Mr. Brierly?"

Slowly, as if fascinated, the girl came toward him, a look almost of terror in her face.

"Who are you?" she faltered.

"I am Robert Brierly. I had hoped to find my brother here at his post. Will you tell me—"

But the sudden cry from her lips checked him, and the pent-up tears burst forth as Hilda Grant, her heart wrung with pity, flung herself down upon the low platform, and sitting there with her face bent upon her sleeves, sobbed out her own sorrow in her heart-break of sympathy for the grief that must soon overwhelm him and strike the happy light from his face.

Sobs choked her utterance, and the young man stood near her uncertain, anxious, and troubled, until from the direction of the town the sound of flying wheels smote their ears, and Hilda sprang to her feet with a sharp cry.

"I must tell you; you must bear it as well as I. Hark! they are going to him; you must go too!" She turned toward the window, swayed heavily, and was caught in his arms.

It was a brief swoon, but when she opened her eyes, and looked about her, the sound of the flying wheels was dying away in the distance, southward.

He had found the pail of pure spring water, and applied some of it to her hands and temples with the quickness and ease of a woman, and he now held a glass to her lips.

She drank feverishly, put a hand before her eyes, raised herself with an effort and seemed to struggle mutely for self-control. Then she turned toward him.

"I am Hilda Grant," she said brok

"I am Hilda Grant," she said brokenly.

"My brother's friend! My sister that is to be!"

"No, no; not now. Something has happened. You should have gone with those men—with the doctor. They are going to bring him back."

"Miss Grant, sister!" His hands had closed firmly upon her wrists, and his voice was firm. "You must tell me the worst, quick. Don't seek to spare me; think of him! What is it?"

"He—he went from home early, with his pistol, they say, to shoot at a target. He is dead!"

"Dead! Charley dead! Quick! Where is he? I must see, I must. Oh! there must be some horrible mistake."

He sprang toward the door, but she was before him.

"Go this way. Here is his wheel. Take it. Go south—the lake shore—the Indian Mound."

A moment later a young man with pallid face, set mouth and tragi eyes was flying toward the India

Mound upon a swift wheel, and in the school room, prone upon the floor a girl lay in a death-like swoon.

CHAPTER III.

"Mr. Brierly, are you strong enough to bear a second shock? I must confer with you before — before we remove the body."

It was Doctor Barnes who thus addressed Robert Brierly, who, after the first sight of the outstretched figure upon the lake shore, and the first shock of horror and anguish, had turned away from the group hovering about the doctor, as he knelt beside the dead, to face his grief alone.

Doctor Barnes, besides being a skilled physician, possessed three other qualities necessary to a successful career in medicine — he was prompt to act, practical and human?.

Robert Brierly was leaning against a tall tree, his back toward the group by the water's edge, and his face pressed against the trees rugged trunk. He lifted his head as the doctor spoke, and turned a white, set face toward him. The look in his dark eyes was assurance sufficient that he was ready to listen and still able to manfully endure another blow.

The two men moved a few steps away, and then the doctor said:

"I must be brief. You know, do you not, the theory, that of these men, as to the cause of this calamity?"

"It was an accident, of course."

"They make it that, or suicide."

"Never! Impossible! My brother was a God-fearing man, a happy man."

"Still, there is a bullet hole just where self-inflicted wounds are oftenest made."

Brierly groaned aloud. "Still," he persisted, "I will never believe it."

"You need not." Doctor Barnes sank his voice to a yet lower pitch. "Mr. Brierly, there is a second bullet-wound in the back!"

"The back! And that means—"

"It means murder, without a doubt. No huntsman could so mistake his mark in this open woodland, along the lake. Besides, hunting is not allowed so near the village. Wait," as the young man was about to speak, "we have no time to discuss motives now, or the possible assassin. What I wish to know is, do you want this fact known now—at once?"

"I—I fear I don't understand. Would you have my brother's name—"

"Stop, man! Knowing that these men have already jumped at a theory, the thought occurred to me that the work of the officers might be made easier if we let the theory of accident stand."

He broke off, looking keenly at the other. He was a good judge of faces, and in that of Robert Brierly he had not been deceived.

The young man's form grew suddenly erect and tense, his eye keen and resolute.

"You are right!" he said, with sudden energy, as he caught at the other's hand. "They must not be enlightened yet."

"Then, the sooner we are back where we can guard this secret, the safer it will be. Come. This is hard for you, Mr. Brierly, I know, and I could say much. But words, no matter how sincerely sympathetic cannot lighten such a blow as this. I admire your strength, your fortitude, under such a shock. Will you let me add that any service I can render as physician, as man or as friend is yours for the asking?"

The doctor hesitated a moment, then held out his hand, and the four watchers beside the body exchanged quick glances of surprise upon seeing the two men grasp hands, silently and with solemn faces, and then turn, still silently, back to the place where the body lay.

"Don't touch that pistol, Doran," the doctor spoke, in his capacity of coroner.

"Certainly not, Doc. I wanted to feel, if I could, whether those side chambers had been discharged or not. You see," he added, rising to his feet, "when we saw this, we knew what we had to do, and it has been 'hands off.' We've only used our eyes so far forth."

"And that I wish to do now with more calmness," said Robert Brierly, coming close to the body and kneeling beside it.

It lay less than six feet from the very water's edge, the body of a tall, slender young man, with a delicate, high-bred face that had been fair when living, and was now marble-white, save for the blood-stains upon the right temple, where the bullet had entered. The hair, of that soft blonde color, seen oftenest upon the heads of children, and rarely upon adults, was thick and fine, and long enough to frame the handsome face in close half rings that no barber's skill could ever subdue or make straight. The hands were long, slender, and soft as a woman's; the feet small and arched, and the form beneath the loose outlines of the blue flannel fatigue suit in which it was clad, while slender and full of grace, was well built and not lacking in muscle.

It lay as it had fallen, upon its side, and with one arm thrown out and one limb, the left, drawn up. Not far from the outstretched right arm and hand lay the pistol, a six-shooter, which the brother at once recognized, with two of the six chambers empty, a fact which Mr. Doran had just discovered, and was now holding in reserve.

The doctor, upon his discovery of the second wound, had at once flung his own handkerchief over the prostrate head, and called for the carriage robe from his own phaeton, which, fortunately for the wind and legs of the black pony, had stood ready at his office door, and was now in waiting, the horse tethered to a tree at the edge of the wood not far away.

This lap robe Robert Brierly reverently drew away as he knelt beside the still form, and thus, for some moments remained, turning his gaze from right to left, from the great tree which grew close at the motionless feet, and between the group and the water's edge, its branches spreading out above them and forming a canopy over the body to a dead stump some distance away, where a small target leaned, its rings of white and black and red showing how often a steady hand had sent the ball, close and closer, until the bull's eye was pierced at last.

No word was uttered as he knelt there, and before he arose he placed a hand upon the dead man's shoulder with an impulsive caressing motion, and bending down, kissed the cold temple just above the crimson death mark. Then, slowly, reverently, he drew the covering once more over the body and arose.

"That was a vow," he said to the doctor, who stood close beside him. "Where is—ah!" He turned toward the group of men who, when he knelt, had withdrawn to a respectable distance.

"Which of you suggested that he had fallen—tripped?"

Doran came forward and silently pointed to the foot of the tree, where, trailing across the grass, and past the dead man's feet, was a tendril of wild ivy entangled and broken.

"Oh!" exclaimed Brierly. "You saw that, too?"

"It was the first thing I did see," said the other, coming to his side, "when I looked about me. It's a very clear case, Mr. Brierly. Target - shooting has been quite a pastime here lately. And see! There couldn't be a better place to stand and shoot at that target, than right against that tree, braced against it. It's the right distance and all. He must have stood there, and when he hit the bull's eye, he made a quick forward step, caught his foot in that vine and tripped. A man will naturally throw out his arm in falling so, especially the right one, and in doing that, somehow, as he lunged forward, it happened."

"Yes," murmured Brierly, "it is a very simple theory. It—it might have happened so."

"There wasn't any other way it could happen," muttered one of Doran's companions. And at that moment the wheels of an approaching vehicle were heard, and all turned to look toward the long black hearse, divested of its plumes, and with two or three thick blankets upon its velvet floor.

It was the doctor who superintended the lifting of the body, keeping the head covered, and when the hearse drove slowly away with its pathetic burden, he turned to Doran.

"I'll drive Mr. Brierly back to town, Doran," he said, "if you don't mind taking his wheel in charge;" and scarcely waiting for Doran's willing assent, he took Richard Brierly's arm and led him toward his phaeton.

The young man had picked up his brother's hat, as they lifted the body from the ground, and he now carried it in his hand, laying it gently upon his knees as he took his seat.

When the doctor had taken his place and picked up the reins he leaned out and looked about him. Two or three horsemen were riding into the wood toward them, and a carriage had halted at the side of the road, while a group of school boys, headed by Johnny, the bell ringer, were hurrying down the slope toward the water's edge.

"They're beginning to gather," the physician said grimly. "Well, it's human nature, and your brother had a host of friends, Mr. Brierly."

Robert Brierly set his lips and averted his face for a moment.

"Doran," called the doctor. "Come here, will you."

Doran, who had begun to push the shining wheel up the slope, placed it carefully against a tree and came toward them. The doctor meanwhile turning to Brierly.

"Mr. Brierly, you are a stranger here. Will you let me arrange for you?"

The other nodded, and then said huskily: "But it hurts to take him to an undertaker's!"

"He shall not be taken there," and the doctor turned to Doran now standing at the wheel.

"Mr. Doran, will you take my keys and ride ahead as fast as possible? Tell the undertaker, as you pass, to drive to my house. Then go on and open it. We will put the body in the private office. Do not remonstrate, Mr. Brierly. It is only what I would wish another to do for me, and mine in a like affliction." And this was the rule by which this man lived his life, and because of which death had no terrors.

"I am a bachelor, you must know," the doctor said, as they drove slowly in the wake of the hearse. "And I have made my home and established my office in a cosy cottage near the village proper. It will save you the ordeal of strange eyes, and many questions, perhaps, if you will be my guest, for a day or two, at least."

Robert Brierly turned and looked this friend in need full in the face for a moment; then he lifted his hand to brush a sudden moisture from his eye.

"I accept all your kindness," he said huskily, "for I see that you are as sincere as you are kind."

When the body of Charles Brierly had been carried in, and placed as it must remain until the inquest was at an end, and when the crowd of sorrowing, anxious and curious people had dispersed, the doctor, who was masterful at need, making Doran his lieutenant, arranged for the securing of a jury; and after giving some quiet instructions, sent him away, saying:

"Tell the people it is not yet determined how or when we shall hold the inquiry. Miss Grant, who must be a witness, will hardly be able to appear at once, I fear," for, after looking at his guest's bodily comfort, the doctor had left him to be alone with his grief for a little while, and had paid a flying visit to Hilda Grant, who lived nearly three blocks away.

When at length the little house was quiet, and when the doctor and his heavy-hearted companions had made a pretense of partaking of a luncheon, the former, having shut and locked the door upon the elderly African who served him, drew his chair close to that of his guest and said:

"Are you willing to take counsel with me, Mr. Brierly? And are you quite fit and ready to talk about what is most important?"

"I am most anxious for your advice, and for information."

"Then, let us lose no time; there is much to be done."

"Doctor," Robert Brierly bent toward the other and placed a hand upon his knee. "There are emergencies which bring men together and reveal them, each to each, in a flash, as it were. I cannot feel that you know me really, but I know you, and would trust you with my dearest possession, or my most dangerous secret. You will be frank with me, I know, if you speak at all; and I want you to tell me something."

"What is it?"

"You have told me how, in your opinion, my poor brother really met his death. Will you put yourself in my place, and tell me how you would act in this horrible emergency? What is the first thing you would do?"

The doctor's answer came after a moment's grave thought.

"I am, I think, a Christian," he said, gravely, "but I think—bah! I know that I would make my life's work to find out the truth about that murder, for that it was a murder I solemnly believe."

CHAPTER IV.

Robert Brierly caught his breath.

"And your reason," he gasped, "for you have a reason other than the mere fact of the bullet-wound in the neck."

"I have seen just such deeds in the wild west and I know how they are done. But this is also professional knowledge. Besides, man, call reason to your aid! Oh, I expect too much. The hurt is too fresh, you can only feel now, but the man shot by accident, be it by his own hand, or that of another, is not shot twice."

"Good heavens, no!"

"But when one who creeps upon his victim, unawares, shoots him from behind, and, as he falls, fearing the work is not completed, shoots again, the victim, as you must see, receives the wound further to the front as the body falls forward and partially turns in falling. Do you see? Do you comprehend?"

"Yes." Brierly shuddered.

"Brierly, this talk is hurting you cruelly. Let us drop details, or postpone them?"

"Not the essential ones. I must bear what I must. Go on, doctor. I quite agree with you. It looks like a murder, and we must—I must know the truth—must find the one who did the deed. Doctor, advise me."

"About—"

"How to begin, no time should be lost."

"That meabs a good detective, as soon as possible. Do you chance to know any of these gentry?"

"I—. No, indeed! I suppose a telegram to the chief of police—"

"Allow me," broke in Doctor Barnes. "May I make a suggestion?"

"Anything. I seem unable to think."

"And no wonder! I know the right man for you if he is in Chicago. You see, I was in hospital practice for several years, and have also had my share of prison experience. While thus employed I met a man named Ferrars, an Englishman, who for some years has spent the greater part of his time in this country, in Chicago, in fact. There's a mystery and a romance attached to the man, or his history. He's not connected with any of the city offices, but he is one of three retired detectives — retired, that is, from regular work— who work together at need when they feel a case to be worth their efforts. I think a case like this will be certain to attract Ferrars."

"And he is your choice of the three?"

The doctor smiled. "The others are married," he said, "and not so ready to go far afield as is Ferrars."

"You think him skillful?"

"None better."

"Then, do you know his address?"

Brierly got up and began to walk about, his eyes beginning to glow with the excitement so long suppressed. "Because we can't get him here too soon."

"I agree with you. And now one thing more. To give him every advantage he should not be known, and the inquest should not begin until he is here."

"Can that be managed?"

"I think so."

Brierly was now nervously eager. He seemed to have shaken off the stupor which had first seemed to seize upon and hold him, and his questions and suggestions came thick and fast. It ended, of course, in his putting himself into the doctor's hands, and accepting his plans and suggestions entirely. And very soon, Doctor Barnes, having given his factotum distinct instructions as regarded visitors, and inquiries, had set off, his medicine case carried ostentatiously in his hand, not for the telegraph office, but for the cottage, close by, where Hilda Grant found a home.

It was a small, neatly-kept cottage, and Mrs. Marcy, a gentle, kindly widow, and the young teacher were its only occupants.

The widow met him at the door, her face anxious, her voice the merest whisper.

"Doctor, tell me; do you think she will really be ill?"

"Why no, Mrs. Marcy; at least not for long. It has been a shock, of course; a great shock. But she—"

"Ah, Doctor, she is heart-broken. I—I think I surely may tell you. It will help you understand. They were engaged, and for a little while, such a pitiful little while it seems now, they have been so happy."

The doctor was silent a moment, his eyes turned away.

"And now," went on the good woman, "she will be lonelier than ever. You know she was very lonely here at first. She has no relatives nearer than a cousin anywhere in the world, to her knowledge. And he has never been to see her. He lives in Chicago, too, not so far away."

"Yes, surely he ought to visit her now, really. Just ask her if I may come up, Mrs. Marcy. I—I'm glad you told me of this. Thank you. It will help me."

Ten minutes later Doctor Barnes was hastening toward the telegraph office, where he sent away this singular and wordy message:

"Frank Ferrars, No. .... Street, Chicago—

"Your cousin, Miss Hilda Grant, is ill, and in trouble. It is a case in which you are needed as much as I. Come, if possible, by first evening train.

"Walter Barnes."

"That will fetch him," he mused, as he hastened homeward. "Ferrars never breaks a promise, though I little expected to have to remind him of it within the year."

"Well," began Brierly, when he entered his own door. "Have you seen her? Was she willing?"

"Willing and anxious. She is a brave and sensible little woman. She will do her part, and she has never for one moment believed in the theory of an accident."

"And she will receive me?"

"This evening. She insists that we hold our council there, in her presence. At first I objected, on account of her weakness, but she is right in her belief that we should be most secure there, and Ferrars should not be seen abroad to-night. We will have to take Mrs. Marcy into our confidence, in part at least, but she can be trusted. We will all be observed, more or less, for a few days. But, of course, I shall put Ferrars up for the night. That will be the thing to do after he has spent a short evening with his cousin."

Brierly once more began his restless pacing to and fro turning presently to compare his watch with the doctor's Dutch clock.

"It will be the longest three hours I ever passed," he said, and a great sigh broke from his lips.

But, before the first hour had passed, a boy from the telegraph office handed in a blue envelope, and the doctor hastily broke the seal and read—

"Be with you at 6.20.

"Ferrars."

When the first suburban train for the evening halted, puffing, at the village station, Doctor Barnes waiting upon the platform, saw a man of medium height and square English build, step down from the smoking car and look indifferently about him.

There was the usual throng of gaping and curious villagers, and some of them heard the stranger say, as he advanced toward the doctor, who waited with his small medicine case in his hand—

"Pardon me; is this doctor—doctor Barnes?" And when the doctor nodded he asked quickly, "How is she?"

"Still unnerved and weak. We have had a terrible shock, for all of us."

When the two men had left the crowd of curious loungers behind them the doctor said—

"It is awfully good of you, Ferrars, to come so promptly at my call. Of course, I could not explain over the wires. But, you understand."

"I understand that you needed me, and as I'm good for very little, save in one capacity, I, of course, supposed there was a case for me. The evening paper, however, gave me— or so I fancy—a hint of the business. Is it the young schoolmaster?"

The doctor started. It seemed impossible that the news had already found its way into print.

"Someone has made haste," he said, scornfully.

"Someone always does in these cases, and the Journal has a 'special correspondent' in every town and village in the country almost. It was only a few lines." He glanced askance at his companion as he spoke. "And it was reported an accident or suicide."

"It was a murder!"

"I thought so."

"You—why?"

"'The victim was found,' so says the paper, 'face downward, or nearly so.' 'Fallen forward,' those were the words. Was that the case?"

"Yes."

"Well, did you ever see or hear of a suicide who had fallen directly forward and face downward, supposing him to have shot himself?"

"No, no."

"On the other hand, have you ever noted that a man taken unawares, shot from the side, or rear, falls forward? If shot standing, that is. It is only when he receives a face charge that he falls backward."

"I had not thought of that, and yet it looks simple and rational enough," and then, while they walked down the quiet street running parallel with Main, and upon which Mrs. Marcy's cottage stood, the doctor told the story of the morning, briefly but clearly, adding, at the end, "In telling this much, I am telling you actually all that I know."

"All — concerning Miss Grant, too?"

"Everything."

The doctor did not lift his eyes from the path before them, and again the detective shot a side glance from the corner of his eye, and the shadow of a smile crossed his face.

"How does it happen that this brother is here so—I was about to say—opportunely?"

"He told me that he came by appointment, but on an earlier train than he had at first intended to take, to pass Sunday with his brother."

"Now see," mused Ferrars, "what little things! done or left undone, shape or shorten our lives! If he had telegraphed to his brother announcing his earlier arrival, there would have been no target practice, but a walk to the station instead."

To be continued.

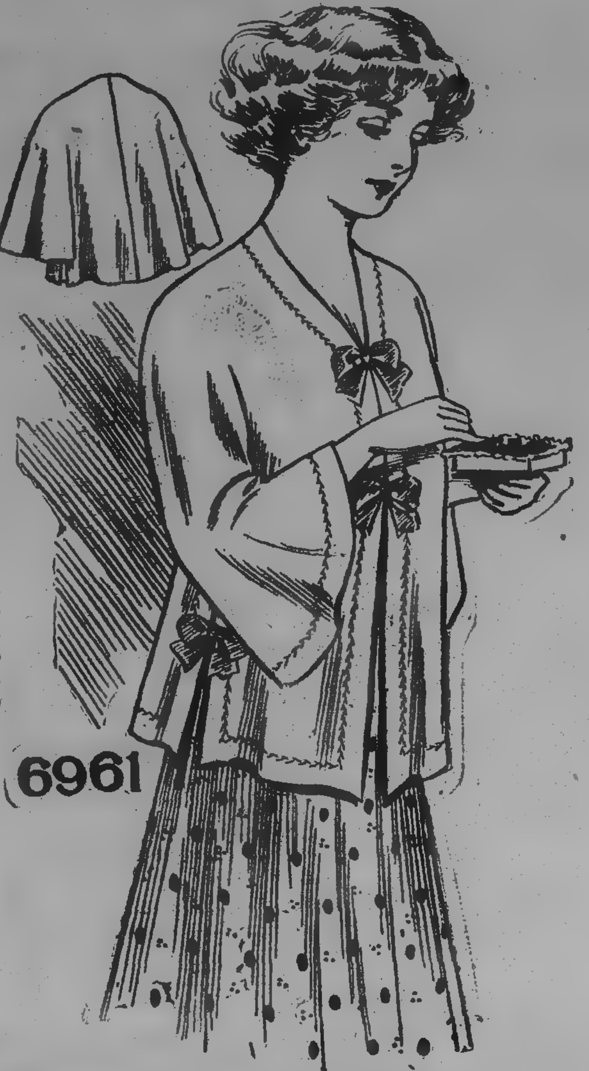
Of Special Interest In Realm of Women



A PRETTY ONE-PIECE NEGLIGEE

The modern American woman can never be too well supplied with dainty dressing sacques, and when a model presents itself which is both pretty in effect and easy of development the temptation to add one more to her store is irrestible. The accompanying sketch charmingly illustrates a sacque which answers both descriptions. To fashion it is simplicity itself, for since it is made in one piece it is well within the capabilities of the least experianced of home dressmakers. As portrayed in the illustration it is made of white Japanese cotton crepe, and ornamented with bows of pale rose satin ribbon; while a featherstitching of pale rose silkk supplies the garniture for the edges. The same mdeol may be made up quite without trimming, as shown in the outline sketch and utilized as a bed jackket for an invalid. In this case French flannel of fine flannelette would be an appropriate fabric for its development. For the medium size 3 1-8 yards of 36 inch material will be needed.

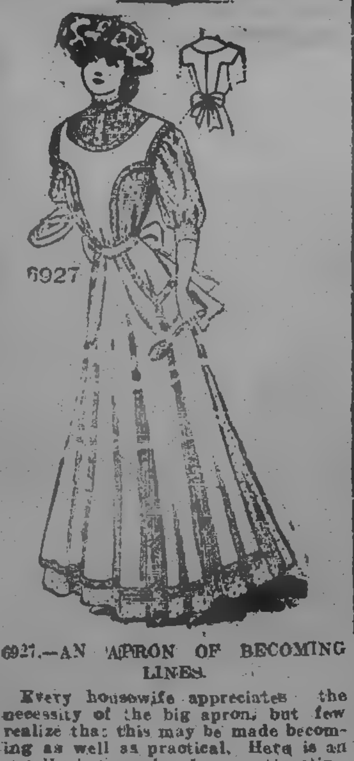
6961.—In three sizes, small, medium and large.

The price of this pattern is 10 cents.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Gown for General Wear

Particular women appreciate the trimness of a costume perhaps more than any other feature. It is the effect of the whole which counts in one's appearance and the artist in dress recognizes good taste here before anything else. The gown shown is especially attractive for afternoon or morning wear, for paying calls or wearing to church. The waist has its tucks becomingly placed in front and back and sleeve. A chimisette of lace or contrasting material lends a pretty touch at the neck.



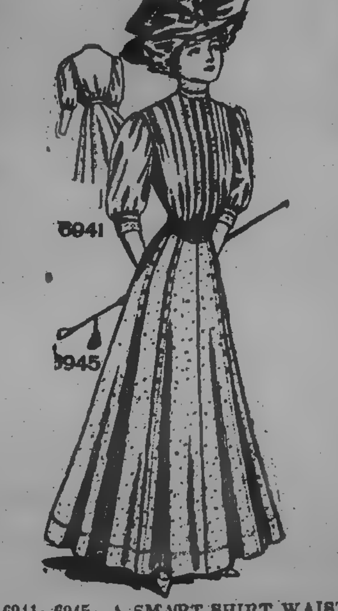
6927.—AN APRON OF BECOMING LINES.

Every housewife appreciates the necessity of the big apron, but few realize that this may be made becoming as well as practical. Here is an excellent example of an attractive work apron, having a bib in one piece and long skirt portion with unique pockets at the sides which look as though they might be a continuation of the bib. Broad ties form a bow in back which are always becoming. A lawn percale or other apron material may serve. 2 3-4 yards 36 inches wide being needed for the medium size.

6927.—Sizes, small, medium and large.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will will be sent you by mail.



6941—6945.—A SMART SHIRT WAIST GOWN.

For rough and ready wear there is nothing that can compare, so far as comfort, neatness and serviceability are concerned, with the shirt waist frock, provided only it be of correct style and shaping. In the accompanying illustration is shown a modish combination of the popular tucked blouse, which is becoming to almost every type of figure, and the new 6 gored skirt, the most distinctive features of which are the circular shaping of the front and back gores and the overlapping side seams, ornamented in this design with small fancy buttons. The waist, which may be made with either full length or shorter sleeve, is modelled in polka dotted brown-and-white foulard, while the skirt is made of golden brown panama. This gown, however, may be prettily developed in pongee, shantung or rajah, or in linen, canvas, or any of the mercerized cottons. For the medium size 3 1-2 yards of 27 inch material will be needed to make the waist, and 7 yards of material of the same width to model the skirt.

Two Patterns.—6941.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6945.—5 sizes. 22 to 28 inches waist measure.

The price of these patterns is 20c. but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.

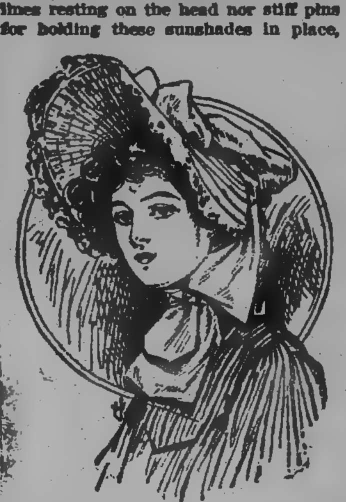
FORECAST OF FASHION

Sunbonnets Are the Latest Fad of the Summer Girl.

RULES FOR THEIR SELECTION

Poke Shape For the Round Faced Girl. Baby Faced Maiden Can Wear the Lingerie Model—Featherbone Cap Style For Edna May Type.

Sunbonnets are the rage this summer. It is undoubtedly a pretty fashion and, it may be said, a comfortable one too. The materials responsible for these bonnets are so light and airy that their weight is not noticed, and, while affording more protection than the average street hat, they do not disarrange the coiffure. There are no hard lines resting on the head nor stiff pins for holding these sunshades in place, and then they have the additional merit of being universally becoming. Not that these sunbonnets can be placed on the head at random—not at all. The careless grace with which they are worn is the result of real effort, notwithstanding all their careless effect. But, then, as there is no true conventional way of setting the bonnet upon the head, it can be tried over and over again at every angle until it suits the contour of the head and the desired coquettish touch is accomplished.



LINGERIE MODEL POKE BONNET.

A few general rules in regard to their selection are, however, necessary, as there are quite a number of models to select from, and one may not be quite confident as to their own judgment in such matters.

The pretty poke bonnet in the illustration will become the round or short faced maiden, whether she be fair or dark. The poke will add length to the face, and the broad bow formed by the ties will provide a pretty background for a plump chin. Then the soft frill of lace outlining the brim is really one of the most fascinating features of the whole bonnet.

The baby faced girl may wear the lingerie model and look more girlish still in it. This is built from batiste, embroidery, lace and finest lawn, trimmed on the ends with embroidery and lace. As a rule, I think these should fall straight rather than be tied. Some faces may be able to stand the bow under the chin, but what might be picturesque in one case may become grotesque in another, so the safer plan for the average maiden will be to use the strings in a toying fashion for holding the bonnet down to the head rather than tying it so. You see, the shape of the bonnet being round, the effect of a large bow directly under the chin and tied on one side will destroy the lines of the bonnet on a grownup. Only real babies should attempt it.

The featherbone style of lingerie cap will become the girl with the demure face of the Edna May type. Supposing the wearer lays claim to a certain amount of beauty as well, she can use this Quakerish looking model, set squarely on the head, with fetching effect, the curtain, a special feature, giving a Priscilla-like effect that will be very fascinating. If, however, she doubts her own charms, then let her tilt it upon the head, the crown of the bonnet set upon the crown of the head and the brim falling over the face, concealing part of it and protecting the eyes at the same time. The thin, long faced girls with high foreheads and narrow cheeks will find this style exceedingly kind, while the half shadows will be more than a charity to the complexion that usually goes with this type. Generally speaking, the thin faced girl has a slender figure, so that she may have no hesitation about donning such a youthful bit of headwear, even though she may not be a beauty or particularly young.

Sunday Dyspepsia.

"Sunday dyspepsia—that is what you have," said the doctor, smiling.

"Sunday dyspepsia?"

"Yes, and it is not a rare complaint either. It is due to this bad habit of eating foolishly and gluttonously on Sunday. Through the week you eat like a sensible man—a moderate breakfast early, a light luncheon and a good, substantial dinner at the end of the day. But on Sunday you eat a heavy breakfast at 10 or 11. At 1 you sit down to an enormous dinner, stuffing yourself without appetite, and at 6:30, when you are really hungry, you eat light, unsatisfactory food, like Saratoga chips and lettuce sandwiches—in a word, a Sunday supper. The result of this change for the worse, made once a week by millions of men, is Sunday dyspepsia, an ailment for which I always prescribe a 6 o'clock Sunday dinner."—New York Press.

HOT WEATHER RECIPES.

Ice Creams That Can Be Made From Reliable Formulas.

A Good Everyday Ice Cream.—Bring a quart of sweet milk to the boiling point, using a double boiler to avoid scorching. Stir in one tablespoonful of cornstarch dissolved in a little cold milk and cook fifteen minutes. Beat two eggs until lemon colored and thick, add to them one-half cup of sugar and stir into the thickened milk. Cook a moment, no longer, take from the fire, flavor with a teaspoonful of vanilla or lemon, cool and freeze.

If you wish to make brick ice cream use two tablespoonfuls of dissolved gelatin to a quart of milk.

Maple Sauce For Ice Cream.—Cook without stirring until it "threads" a pint of maple sirup and a half cup of cream. When a little of the sirup cooled in cold water can be rolled into a soft ball between the fingers take from the fire and stand in a pan of hot water until ready to serve with the cream.

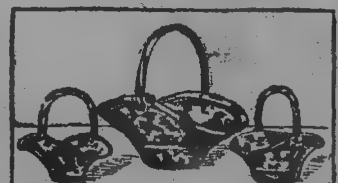
Chocolate Sauce.—For the chocolate sauce put four squares of unsweetened chocolate into a saucepan and stand in a larger dish of hot water. Stir until the mixture is smooth, then cool without stirring until it reaches the "ball" stage. Add to either the maple or chocolate sauce a half cupful of English walnuts or butternuts chopped fine when you wish a superlatively fine dessert. Keep the sauce hot without further cooking until ready to serve with the cream.

Catskill Vanilla Cream.—Beat the yolks of two eggs until lemon colored and thick. Add one cup of powdered sugar and a pint of milk that has been brought just to the boiling point and cook two minutes in a double boiler, no longer. Stir in the whites of the two eggs, beaten stiff; a teaspoonful of vanilla and a quarter of a teaspoonful of almond. When cool add a pint or half pint of cream, freeze and pack.—Emma Paddock Telford.

CRYSTAL BASKETS.

Unique Table Ornaments For Holding Flowers and Fruit.

Crystal handle baskets, both large and small, which must surely commend themselves to the hostess who has an eye for beautiful table furnishings, were seen recently at one of the avenue shops. The large baskets are twelve or fifteen inches in height and are used for flowers. They are ideal receptacles for roses, as was demonstrated by a hostess at a recent fashionable dinner, who provided them, filled with these flowers, as favors for her guests. The smaller baskets are decidedly new and lined with green leaves make charming receptacles for berries. For a dinner where one of the large handle baskets filled with flowers is used as a centerpiece the smaller ones can be used effectively for a dessert course of ice cream, surrounded by fresh berries with a few of their leaves.

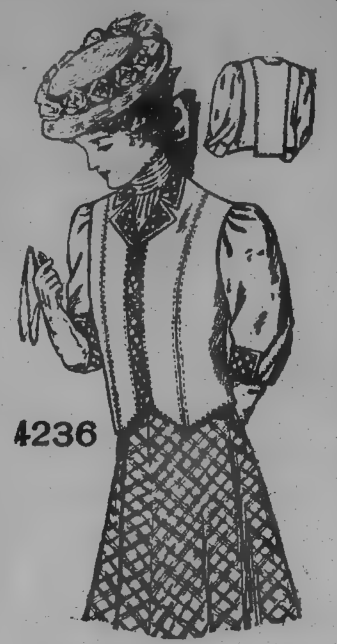


INDIVIDUAL DISHES FOR BERRIES MADE IN SHAPE OF BASKETS.

Even smaller still are the little baskets intended as individual dishes for salted nuts. They are not more than three or four inches in diameter and are exceedingly graceful in shape. Some of the baskets are of clear crystal, with a hair line of gold or green twisted about the handle. Others are green with rich floral designs in gold.

Washing Lace.

One girl who boards and does not like to send fine pieces of lace to the laundry has solved the problem by washing the pieces in her room and placing them on top of a marble table to dry. It is the same as stretching them on a window pane, and they dry as nicely and look as well as when ironed. The pieces are then placed in a book, a weight put on them, and there they are, fresh and clean, ready for use when wanted.



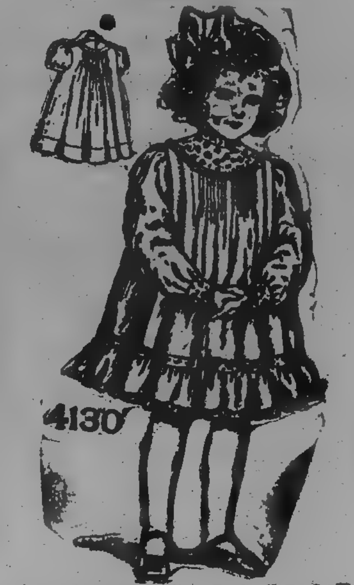
4236.—A SMART LITTLE COAT FOR A MISS.

Separate jackets are very modish this year and those who count the dollars and cents find them very economical. A chic little coat of unusual style and not difficult for home making is sketched. It may be made of cloth, linen or pongee, as well as taffetas and serve for wear with the odd skirt or it may serve as a suit coat and be of the material of the skirt. The front closes with a trig vest and the sleeves are of three quarter length, having tucks at the lower edge and natty turn-back cuffs. For the medium size 1 3-8 yards of 54 inch material are needed for the coat.

4326.—Sizes, 14, 15, 16, 17 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



4130. A PRETTY WASHABLE FROCK.

The frocks for the little people do not tend so much to elaboration of design as in times past but to fineness of fabric and exquisite development. Here is a simple dress for every day of "best" which is easily constructed and very pleasing. The lingerie fabrics are most used for such frocks, but a light weight cloth might serve as well. The simple round yoke and cuffs are of embroidery edged with a narrow frill of Valenciennes while the latter finishes the edge of the skirt. Tucks in front and gathers in front regulate the fulness and provide sufficient adornment for the body of the dress. If a party dress is desired, the sleeves may be in short puff and finished with a narrow band of insertion. For a cloth dress braid would be the best adornment. The skirt may be finished with a ruffle or hem. For the medium size 2 yards of 36 inch material are needed.

4130.—Sizes, 1-2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 years.

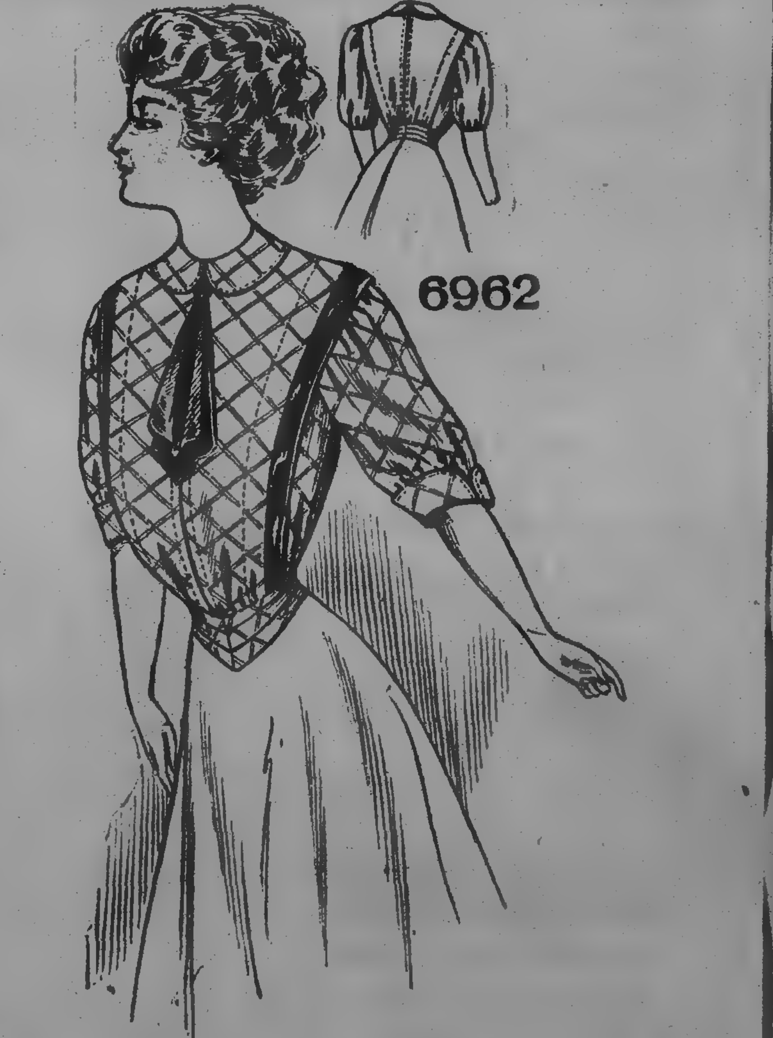
The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

A Serviceable Coat

The separate coat, suitable for wearing with any skirt, presents a problem which many women find difficult of solution, since it must not be too elaborate to harmonize with a simple gown nor too plain to wear in conjunction with a dressy one.

Cornelius J. Ryan, a stevedore at Halifax, fell, striking his chin on the edge of the wharf and breaking his neck.



A JAUNTY EFFECT IN PLAID SILK

The three essential factors in the success of the separate waist are good style fine quality of material and general adaptability to any odd skirt that one may happen to have. In the pretty blouse here illustrated, which is attractively developed in one of the tartan silks that are to be so much in vogue for the next few months, these important characteristics are pleasingly combined. Owing to the neck adjustment, with the rakish turn down collar, the waist will prove especially becoming to the wearer of the plump and youthful type. The tie is not included in the pattern, but a pretty finishing touch to the ensemble. The broad tuck, outlined with velvet ribbon, which extends from shoulder to belt on either side of the waist, lends it unique distinction. The narrower tuck each side of the centre front and back, the latter concealing the closing, add apparent slenderness to the figure. The sleeves may be made in either full or elbow length. Any of the modish silks, or any supple wool or tub fabric, may be chosen for developing this design. For the medium size 3 5-8 yards of 27 inch goods will be needed, with 1 3-4 yards of velvet ribbon for trimming.

6962.—Six sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. [illegible]

The price of this pattern is ten cents. [illegible]

DRESS GOODS

"I always go to Fair's first," says a woman who has been buying Dress Goods all her life, and that a long one. "I can depend on the qualities there. I know if they say a thing is all-wool or fast-black there is not an iota of cotton nor a speck of fadeable dye to be found in it."

The above was overheard on the street the other day, and we must say it pleases us. If she had added that the newest weaves and best selections are always to be found there, it would have been a perfect testimonial. It is easy to see how the stir of the new Autumn Goods is being felt in town.

Among the leading cloths we show may be found the following

SCREAM OF YOUNG GIRL AROUSED THE RESIDENTS

Last night between 8 and 9 o'clock the residents of the west end of Gilmour street were startled by hearing a piercing scream accompanied by the shout "I'll tell my mother!" The next moment a girl ran down the street at a rapid rate apparently in a state of terror.

A young man who had heard the scream noticed the young lady dashing along the pavement and asked her what was the matter. She either did not hear him or else was too badly frightened to stop, for she continued in her flight without heeding him.

It is presumed that the young lady was walking with an escort in whom she had every confidence, but who, instead of acting the part of a protector, acted like a ruffian.

Comparatively Few Cases of Contagion in the City

"There is not a town or city in the Dominion more free from contagion at the present time than Peterborough," remarked Medical Health Officer Bingham to-day. The doctor's statement was made in refutation of an article in a local contemporary to the effect that an epidemic of typhoid fever existed in the city. The medical health officer states that such is not the case and that the publication of such matter is likely to give the city a black eye.

"Any cases of typhoid in the city" continued Dr. Bingham, "have been brought down from Stony Lake and there are not twenty cases in all. A few cases like that certainly do not make an epidemic. With the exception of these cases of typhoid there is scarcely another case of a contagious nature in the city. Everything is being done to stamp out the typhoid fever and there is little doubt but that the effort will be successful.

No Cause for Alarm as to The Crops in the Northwest

Mr. B. F. Ackerman is Optimistic Regarding the Outlook—Has Returned From Annual Trip.

This year will be a good one in the Canadian Northwest, and there is no cause for any alarm whatever. This is the opinion of Mr. B. F. Ackerman, who returned Friday night from a two months' trip through the great west. Mr. Ackerman, in conversation with the Review today, stated that the crops this season, while not up to the high standard of last year, would be a splendid yield. Harvesting is now general throughout the southern part of Manitoba, and in the northern portion the farmers intended starting this week. The yield of wheat this year is estimated at ninety-three and a half million bushels, which, although not so large as last year, is better than two years ago.

About a month ago Mr. Ackerman stated things looked rather blue and the crops appeared as though they would be a failure. But rains came and the wheat showed up wonderfully in a short time. There was a heavy white frost on the night of August 20th, but it did no serious injury.

Mr. Ackerman left Peterborough on June 29th and visited twenty-seven places, going as far west as Edmonton. He has made trips to the west now for nineteen years and the present one was most successful.

Mr. Ackerman does a large business throughout the west, which necessitates him going there annually. From here the goods are shipped to Winnipeg, and from there they are reshipped throughout the country. In Mr. Ackerman's travels he met several Peterborough old boys, who are all doing exceedingly well. Mr Walter Brisbin, a former employee of Mr. Ackerman, has now a flourishing harness business at Pilot Mound. Mr. Walter Turnbull, son of Mr. J. C. Turnbull, has land near Binscarth and is engaged in farming. Mr. Ackerman states that he said he would not give it up for mercantile life, in which he previously was engaged.

In speaking of real estate in the Northwest, Mr. Ackerman stated that it was not so brisk and it has taken a slump during the past year, especially in the cities. This is probably due to the lack of money in the country. The banks have stopped loaning money and this, to a great extent has hindered speculation.

The western people are preparing for the winter and are getting in their fuel. The hard times they experienced last winter will not be repeated, as they are taking all precautions against it.

Wood fuel is exceedingly scarce in the west and tamarac, and the poorest kind of wood in Winnipeg, sells at eight dollars a cord.

Mr. Ackerman is greatly pleased with his trip and, combining business with pleasure, had a very enjoyable time.

An Anti-Japanese Riot; Lively Time at the Coast

Revolvers, Knives and Stones Used in the Affray.

Vancouver In an Uproar — Mob of Seven Thousand In Attack — Disorder Continues for Five Hours — Japs Give Them Battle — Crowd Began by Burning Effigy of Lieutenant-Governor

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 9.—For five hours during Saturday night Vancouver was riot-ruled by a mob. It was daylight yesterday morning before the crowds were dispersed.

Police records show that the Chinese and Japanese parts of the city were wrecked and great damage done.

Seven men only were placed under arrest, while a dozen persons, stabbed and bruised, became subjects for the hospital.

The Japanese, attacked, were so fierce in their self-defence that they were entreated by the police not to take the offensive but to merely resist attacks on themselves and their property, and not to take to the streets and fight openly.

In one case, when they did begin a determined fight, they forced the rioters to flee.

Armed with sticks and bottles, and even knives, they charged the mob. "Banzais" filled the air. In five minutes the Japanese had cleared the street.

The rioting followed an anti-Japanese demonstration. Hundreds of whites had formed a procession, which ended at the City Hall, where a meeting was to be held to bring to the attention of the Federal Government the need of stopping altogether Oriental immigration.

Long before the parade reached the meeting place the auditorium was crowded to overflowing. To find entertainment for itself the overflow of the crowd, seven or eight thousand strong, then sought diversion by cleaning out "Chinatown."

But before this occurred there took place a disgraceful incident, the burning of the effigy of Hon. James Dunsmuir, Lieutenant-Governor of the province. None too popular at any time with the labor people, the representative of King Edward in British Columbia brought himself into particular disfavor with the working men at the last session of the Legislature by declining to assent to the anti-Japanese legislation.

Their blood enflamed and taking courage in their numbers, the mob then headed for the Japanese and Chinese quarter. Probably the rioting in Washington territory last week, when hundreds of Hindoos were mobbed, suggested the attack.

Hundreds of the Mikado's subjects had, however, come to town early in the day to witness the parade and demonstration of the evening, and their passions were aroused. They were itching for a battle in the streets. If it had occurred it would probably have resulted in many fatalities.

But responding to the appeals of the police, who were powerless, in only one case did they make a determined fight. Then they put the rioters to flight.

It was early Sunday morning that this battle occurred, at the corner of Westminster avenue and Powell street. Four blocks along the latter thoroughfare are lined with Japanese stores.

Profiting by their experience in Chinatown during the evening, the police had stretched ropes across the street and made one effort to defend the entrance against all comers.

At this corner are three handsome Japanese general stores, and when two thousand men surged around this point there suddenly, from away up the street, came the sound of the smashing of glass, as a plate glass front was stove in.

Instantly a hundred bricks flew from all directions at the corner stores, and in 15 seconds a thousand dollars of damage was done.

The Japs then could stand it no longer. From the stores, from hallways, and from roofs they hurried into the street.

Up Powell street a volley of pistol shots were heard, and the crowd, alarmed, turned its attention to this new scene of fighting.

The Japanese pursued, and the white men fled, but only to take up the fight in another place where the little brown enemy were not nearly so well organized.

The Japanese, however, had been well prepared for this street-corner attack. They used broken bottles to perfection. Grasping in his hand the neck of a broken bottle, the Jap would jab it into the face or body of the nearest rioter, and many nasty wounds were inflicted. Knives, too, were used.

Two white men were so badly injured that they had to be carried away by the crowd.

By 2 a. m. the crowd had begun to become thinner in places, and one by one seven rioters were gathered in. But even then the police had literally to fight for every step of the way to the station, which stands only two blocks away from the Japanese district.

As often as the rioter was laid hold of for heaving a brick through a window, or assaulting a Chinaman, three or four dozen of his comrades would rush forward and snatch the arrested man from the police.

To-day there is a distinctly nervous feeling.

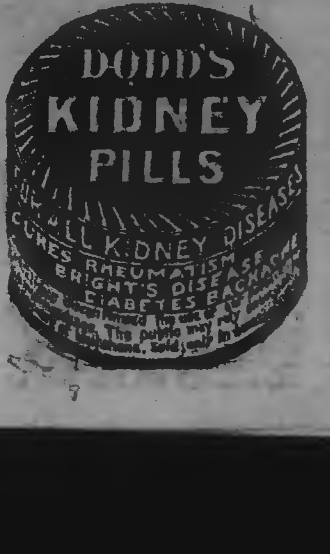
Thrown Into Water.

At the C. P. R. wharves a dozen Japs were thrown into the water, but were rescued. Three white men were stabbed by Japs, and two others cut with broken bottles.

A newspaper man going home was held up by a Jap, and when the latter was taken to the police station a search revealed a murderous-looking knife. All night bands of armed Japs walked the streets, keyed to a high pitch by the excitement and bent on revenge. They were restrained, however.

It was a coincidence that Mr. Ishii, the imperial envoy of the Japanese Government, sent to investigate the whole question of immigration, arrived Saturday night on his mission.

His worship the mayor expressed keen regret that such a riot should have taken place, and the morning paper, The News Advertiser, editorially points out that this occurrence will do more to harm the cause of exclusion than anything else.



TWO ENGINES DERAILED.

Minor Accidents on C. P. R.—Tie-Up Traffic at Several Points.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The C. P. R. was blocked between Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning by two engines running off the rails.

The first was where the electric car service from Hull parallels the track coming into Ottawa Central depot.

Shortly before 4 o'clock the eastbound trans-continental No. 2, coming slowly over, ran the switch, which had not been turned.

The engineer put on the brakes, but collided with an empty street car, behind which was a car full of passengers.

Backing out the engine left the rails, the cars stayed on. Many hours' work ensued to get back the locomotive; but little damage was done. It might have been very serious if the impact were stronger.

Shortly after midnight, too, at Franktown, the Toronto express, which left Ottawa at 11 o'clock, was in trouble. The engine jolted off and partly toppled over. It pulled off three cars, but the passengers, were unhurt. The engine was considerably damaged and some telegraph poles knocked down.

An auxiliary from Smith's Falls pulled the cars out after four hours' delay.

Early Sunday morning an outbound freight got stuck on the Stittsville grade, a draw casting was broken in trying to get away and the Soo, Pacific and Toronto trains were held up for hours at Carlton Junction.

ATTACKED BY RUFFIANS.

Hamilton Policeman Victim of Murderous Assault by a Gang.

Hamilton, Sept. 9.—Constable May was the victim of a murderous assault yesterday afternoon at the hands of a number of ruffians, who attacked him at Brown's Wharf. The officer was relieved of his baton and rendered unconscious for half an hour. He is confined to his home under the doctor's care. May was doing plain clothes' duty looking for crap-shooters. He went to the wharf, where a game was said to have been in progress, and found there about a dozen men. They were evidently engaged in a crap game, and the officer pounced on them single-handed in an attempt to arrest some of them. When the crowd saw that the officer was alone, they set upon him and abused him in a frightful manner. May drew his baton to defend himself, but the gang took this away from him and broke it over his head. He was rendered unconscious by the blows and left lying on the ground. The officer's assailants then ran away and about half an hour afterwards a passer-by found May. He took him to the police station, from where he was removed to his home. After he regained consciousness, May said that he thought he could recognize some of his assailants. There is considerable indignation among the members of the police force over the fact that May was sent out alone on such an errand.

Fire destroyed the plant of the Standard Brick and Tile Company at New Glasgow, N.S., with $300,000 damage.

SHOOT FOR THE PALMA

Centennial Trophy Captured by United States Marksmen.

Exciting Competition Closed on Saturday—World's Record Made for High Scoring at Long Distance Ranges—Canadian Team Show Unexpected Form—History of Shield—Final Scores.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The Palma trophy was regained on Saturday by the team of riflemen representing the United States, after the most wonderful of competitions. The final scores were:

United States	1,712
Canada	1,671
Australia	1,653
Great Britain	1,584

The Centennial trophy, known as the Palma, inaugurated in the United States in 1876, when the people of the States subscribed to present a massive shield for competition, open to the riflemen of the world, was shot for the sixth time.

In 1876, at Creedmoor, Long Island, the United States won by 22 points over the Irish team, Scotland, Australia and Canada also competing—1877 the United States again won it, and in 1878 they claimed it by default, as no foreign teams entered.

No further competition was held until 1901, when the Canadians competed at Sea Girt, and brought the valuable $5,000 prize to Ottawa.

In 1902, at Rockliffe, the British team came over and beat the Americans by 12 points, and the following year at Bisley, when teams from Great Britain, Australia, United States, Canada, Natal, Norway and France competed, the States, with a margin of 15 points, were declared the winners. A misunderstanding, however, as regards the conditions resulted in the match being declared off and the trophy was returned to England by the United States.

That is, briefly, the history of the shield and the competitions.

The conditions for firing are that the men must use the national military arm of the country they represent, fitted with their service regulation sights.

There was hardly a breath of wind, and the sun came out and cleared the sky, showing that the conditions for shooting would be ideal.

At 800 yards the United States had a clear lead of 20 points from Australia.

At the 1,000 yards the Canadians made a great effort, and here it was that Sergt. Russell of Ottawa made the wonderful score of 73, 16 bull's-eyes, a magpie, one bull for a sighter. This score was only beaten by one man, Sergt. Bryant of the United States, who made one point more. Capt. McHaag made 71, and Sergt. Graham 70. Shot by shot the Canadians drew up, heading the Australians when the fifth man got down to fire.

A World's Record.

Every man was shooting magnificently, and there was not an outer on the board, whereas the Australians had two.

The crowd around the Canadian targets became so thick that it was impossible to see the men, and the more increased when it was discovered that the Canadians were actually holding the Americans at that range. When the last two men got down to fire there was only a difference of a point.

Sergt. Richardson put the matter at rest, with 69, making the total 551, 4 points ahead of the Americans, a world's record for any team at the distance.

DOUBT LOYALTY OF POLICE.

Strenuous Efforts Being Made to Recruit Royal Irish Constabulary.

Dublin, Sept. 9.—That the Government is apprehensive with regard to the coming winter in Ireland, and is doubtful regarding the loyalty of the constabulary since the Belfast agitation, is revealed in the present strenuous efforts to recruit the force.

The number of the constabulary has been steadily decreasing for the past four years. The authorities have set aside a part of the public Military Barracks as additional quarters for the men, and to the constables and officers throughout the country there has been sent a circular instructing them to make haste to secure suitable candidates.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF.

Chicago Broker's Awful Deed—Was in Poor Health.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Fred M. Fish, the wife of a wealthy retired broker, was found murdered in her home at 423 Davis street, Evanston, on Saturday.

Her husband, with his throat cut, was found unconscious on the floor of the bedroom in which the body of Mrs. Fish was lying. He will die.

It is the opinion of the police that Fish murdered his wife and then attempted to commit suicide.

Fish was in poor health, and for some time he suffered periodical attacks of despondency.

Enquiry Opens To-Day.

Quebec, Sept. 9.—The Government commission appointed to investigate the recent disaster to the Quebec bridge has decided to begin its labors this morning. The first session will be held at the Court House at 10 a.m.

The Government commission consists of Mr. Holgate, consulting engineer, Montreal; Prof. Kerry of McGill University, Montreal, and Prof. Galbraith of Toronto University.

Troops Disbanded.

San Salvador, Sept. 9.—The Salvadorean Government is making retrenchments in all departments in order to balance the revenues and the expenses.

The troops who were called to the colors at the time of the threatened invasion of the republic by the Nicaraguan forces, are being disbanded, after having been paid in full.

The cost of constructing a water system for Winnipeg with a 12,000,000 gallon supply is estimated at $3,962,000.

CAPTAIN CENSURED.

Severe Report on Collision in the St. Lawrence.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—Considerable surprise has been evinced in marine circles at the severity of the judgment handed out by Wreck Commissioner Spain in the case of the sinking of the sailing barge Germaine by the steamer Imperial, belonging to the St. Lawrence Navigation Co.

The steamer was leaving port when it suddenly swerved from the centre of the river and rammed the barge which was tied to her dock, sinking her at once. Capt. Spain found that the accident was due entirely to the careless handling of the Imperial and the master, William Paul, was severely censured and warned that he must be more careful.

In his judgment Capt. Spain sharply criticized the haphazard manner in which the Imperial was run and also recommended that the Department of Marine should deal with the inspector of hulls for neglect of duty in not seeing that the boat was properly equipped.

The damage caused by the collision will probably amount to three or four thousand dollars.

THEFT ON BRITISH WARSHIP.

Pay of Officers and Men, Aggregating $10,000, Missing.

Plymouth, Sept. 9.—A sum of $10,000, intended for the payment of the officers and crew of the warship Assistance, of the Channel Fleet, is reported to be missing.

As the result of this discovery, a warrant has been issued for the arrest of an officer, who has, however, not yet been apprehended.

The Assistance is the steam repair ship of the fleet, and has been stationed here lately.

The news of the disappearance of the naval funds — an event without precedent in modern times in the senior service—has caused consternation throughout the fleet.

The missing money will be made good by the Admiralty, and the seamen who has been inconvenienced temporarily by the loss will receive their arrears of wages in full.

Ask Pardon for Student.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—An application has been made to Emperor William through the Foreign Office for a pardon in the case of Emil Simon of New York, the student who in July last accidentally killed a woman near Luckenwalde while driving an automobile, for which he was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Explorers Safe.

London, Sept. 9.—The Evening News announces that a cable despatch was received in London on Saturday from Gibbon, Alaska, saying that Capt. Mikelsen of the Arctic exploration steamer Duchess of Bedford, and his companions are safe, having traversed the ice to a place of safety after the wreck of the ship.

Arabs Ask for Armistice; The Hostilities May Cease

Tribesmen Are Now Ready to Negotiate For Peace.

Proposal to Send Franco-Spanish Army of 50,000 Troops to Occupy Moroccan Ports—Question of Indemnity—Captive Caid Is Ill-Treated—Kept In Wretched Hovel—Has Scarcely Any Water.

Paris, Sept. 9.—The Echo de Paris' Madrid correspondent says it is rumored in military circles that France has proposed to Spain to send a Franco-Spanish army of 50,000 men to occupy the Moroccan ports and to go as far as Fez, if necessary. The correspondent says it is stated that Premier Maura and Gen. Martitegui, chief of the headquarters' staff, are opposed to this plan, but that the Minister of War, Gen. Primo-Rivera, supports it.

The Eclair's Madrid correspondent says that Great Britain's influence contributed to a modification of Spain's attitude toward Morocco, Britain persuading her to co-operate effectively with French action and to conform to her rights and obligations as recognized by the treaty of Algeciras.

The correspondent at Madrid of The Matin says it is believed Spain will decide to send 5,000 infantry and 500 cavalry to occupy Tangier, Tetuan and Larache, and establish a police force there.

Ready to Arbitrate.

A ray of hope for a possible solution of the vexing Moroccan problem came from the Moorish empire Saturday night in the shape of an announcement that the tribesmen were ready to negotiate for peace. Vice-Admiral Philbert confirms this news in an official cablegram stating that a delegation from the warring Arabs had asked Gen. Drude for an armistice pending a settlement of peace terms.

No great expectations are based upon this announcement for there is some suspicions that the move may be a trick of the Moors to gain time to bring in reinforcements.

At home the new features in the Moroccan question, from the French standpoint, are found in the opinions of the German press on the question of indemnification for German losses that grew out of the bombardment of Casablanca, and the efforts of the project to police Morocco by France and Spain.

In an editorial article accepted as inspired, The Temps suggests that the question of damages be submitted to an international committee similar to that which was summoned after the bombardment of Alexandria, and that the action of this committee should be based upon the recognition of the principle that a local Government is responsible for disorders.

Such a solution of this question, The Temps says, should be accepted by Germany just as she did in the case of Egypt.

Premier Clemenceau announced last night that he had summoned a Cabinet meeting for to-day to consider the Moroccan question in all its phases.

"The situation is as good as possible," remarked the Premier.

Tangier, Sept. 9.—Recent letters received here from Caid Sir Harry MacLean, who for many years has been in the service of the Sultan of Morocco and who was captured early in July by the bandit, Raisuli, complains that the Caid is suffering from chills as a result of sleeping on the floor with only a carpet for covering.

Raisuli refused to supply him with a mattress, but the Caid adds pathetically:

"The chief is very kind in sending me milk, as I am afraid to eat anything."

Continuing, Sir Harry says he is in a tumble-down room, the roof of which on one side is completely lacking. He is guarded by four of Raisuli's men, and the five have only one small kettle for water. It is, consequently, impossible for Sir Harry to wash.

Another letter from the Caid says that Raisuli's men declare that all the sailors and soldiers who landed at Casablanca from the French warships have been killed and that the Sultan has turned all Frenchmen out of the country.

DISCORD IN CABINET.

Alfonso and Premier Maura at Odds Over Morocco.

Madrid, Sept. 9.—The Globe reiterates that discord exists between King Alfonso and Premier Maura regarding Spain's Moroccan policy, and adds:

"Senor Maura intends to ask the king whether he has confidence in the Ministry, which involves the possibility of a Ministerial crisis, which would put the Liberals in power.

"If the sentiment in favor of intervention in Morocco was stronger in Spain the Government would despatch 4,000 men and a number of warships to Morocco."

Boy Accidentally Shot.

Wiarton, Sept. 9.—Ray Corry, the 16-year-old son of Dan Corry, wagonmaker, was accidentally shot Saturday morning and is at the point of death.

He was camping with another boy, Eddie Field, at Gravelly Point, 10 miles from here, and while in the act of pulling the gun towards him from under the tent, the trigger caught and discharged the contents into his breast. He was hurried to town in a launch.

Stolen Papers Recovered.

Brantford, Sept. 9.—Friday evening in the removal of a pile of old ties at the gravel pit on the old Benedict farm in the Township of Brantford, near the track of the G. T. R., Chas. Johnston and R. Cole discovered in a hole about three feet deep a quantity of papers stolen from the safe of the postmaster at Brantford on the morning of June 14.

Ira H. Schell, of Kingston, aged 69, died suddenly yesterday at Rochester.

ONTARIO LICENSE SYSTEM.

Suggestions Resulting From the Recent Enquiry In Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The long-awaited report of J. R. L. Starr, who, acting as commissioner for the Ontario Government, early this year investigated the situation as it existed in Toronto concerning the trafficking in licenses, was made public yesterday.

After dealing with the specific charges submitted for enquiry the commissioner suggests:

That the administration of the whole license system of Ontario should be through an independent salaried board of license commissioners, with chief inspectors for various provincial districts and makes the following recommendations:

That a percentage system be adopted in determining the amount of license fees, based on the value of the license put up at public tender at stated periods.

That four-fifths of the proceeds of license sales should go to the province and one-fifth to the licensee, the Government's share to be used for educative purposes.

That the license board should be able to promise a license to a man who could promise a suitable building.

That if solicitors were prevented from appearing before the board the appearance of evil would be prevented.

'Frisco Hotel Burned.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—The Cliff House, San Francisco's first attraction for tourists, was burned to the ground on Saturday. It was a porticoed wooden structure that overhung the Pacific Ocean, just outside the Golden Gate.

The Cliff House had been closed for some time for repairs. Workmen left that place at noon and how the fire started it is not known. This is the second Cliff House to be destroyed by fire.

The hotel was owned by the Sutro estate and was valued at $50,000. John Tait, the lessee, estimates his loss at $80,000, minus $35,000 insurance. The magnificent Sutro baths nearby were not damaged.
